Canada May Enlarge Plan To Train Airmen

Tension Slackens - Pearson

By EDWIN S. JOHNSON

LONDON, Aug. 1. (CP)—L. B. Pearson, Canada's External Affairs Minister, said today East-West tension is slackening and that prospects of improved world relations are perceptibly brighter. But, he warned, the Western countries must never relax their determination to establish lasting world peace and international undersanding. Pearson made the remarks at a press conference concluding his six-week diplomatic mission to England and the continent. The brighter outlook, he said, is chiefly the result of developments in Korea—a situation which has been recognized "by the people on the other side."

He said the new Russian tactics are a tribute to the collective effort of the United Nations. It was essential, however, for the democracies to guard against the danger of being lured into a state of complacency.

"We must never allow any slackening or abandonment of our own efforts to bring about enduring peace," Pearson said.

Use Strength Carefully

"We can do so much when we are strong but we must also know how to use that strength when we get it. Above all we must avoid the temptation of using it too assertively."

Pearson, who leaves by air tonight for Ottawa, has disposed of a crowded agenda since he arrived in London June 18. While here he has been in almost daily conference with government officials on Atlantic treaty and other matters.

After conferring with government officials of the Netherlands, Belgium, Denmark, Norway and Sweden, Pearson returned to London for further talks. He delayed by a week original plans for his homeward journey.

Pearson said his trip to the continent was something in the nature of a foreign office "Cooks' tour." He had gathered frank, on-the-spot viewpoints on the major problems of the day and had left with a fund of valuable information.

In the Scandinavian countries particularly, he had found the people far fram panicky about the world situation.

Pearson said he was greatly impressed by the physical and economic recovery of Germany. The secret was that the German people were willing to face up to facts and were working enthusiastically to get their country back on its feet.

"We would be well advised to recognize this as a basic concept in our future relations with Germany . . . spurred by that spirit she will be a great power again," he said.

Allies, Reds Stand Firm On Buffer

Both Sides Refuse To Alter Demands For Zone Position

By ROBERT B. TUCKMAN

UN ADVANCE HEADQUARTERS, Korea, Aug. 1.—(AP)—United Nations and Communist truce teams again today refused to budge from their opposing stands on where to establish a buffer zone across Korea. Vice-Admiral C. Turner Joy, Chief UN delegate, talked for an hour and 13 minutes telling the Reds what was wrong with their demand.

It was the longest speech that has been made in the 16 Kaesong cease-fire talks. The Communists want a buffer zone back along the 38th Parallel, the old political boundary line between North and South Korea. That is inferior terrain for military defences.

"Since this is a military armistice," Joy told the five Red generals, "we are interested only in military realities."

The UN insists that the cease-fire zone be established along present battle lines, where both armies would be in good defensive positions.

Brig.-Gen. William P. Nuckols, deputy UN public information officer, told a press conference:

"Lt.-Gen. Nam Il, chief Red delegate, seemed to understand the United Nations position but couldn't appreciate the logic that we used to arrive at that position."

Joy quoted a definition from the Hague convention to emphasize the logic of the UN position. The Hague agreement says:

"A military armistice is a suspension of military operation by mutual agreement between the belligerent parties."

No Stalemate

An official communique said delegates "failed to make progress toward an agreement" in their two-hour and 25-minute session Wednesday. Nuckols said he wouldn't call the talks stalemated.

Negotiators agreed to meet again Thursday. That will be the seventh session at which creation of a buffer zone was the paramount issue. The meeting was set to start at 11 a.m. (9 p.m. Wednesday EDT.)

UN spokesmen say that the old political boundary between North and South Korea is militarily indefensible. The allies want, in the words of Wednesday's UN com-

Acheson Says No To Red Zone Position

38th Indefensible, Reds Trying Politics—Secretary

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1. (AP)—State Secretary Dean Acheson rejected flatly today the Communist proposal that a buffer zone be set up in Korea along the 38th Parallel.

Acheson told a press conference the Reds want to go back to a line over which they launched an unprovoked attack—to start the Korean war—and he said that is not acceptable.

He added that Defence Secretary George C. Marshall has made it entirely clear that any demarcation line must be a defensible line.

Events will show, Acheson said, that this is not true of the 38th Parallel.

Military Talks

He said that the talks now under way at Kaesong are essentially military talks but that the Communists have been trying to use them for a political purpose.

By this he apparently meant that instead of being willing to stop the fighting where the armies now are and where both sides would have strong defence positions, the Reds have tried to get all of North Korea again in Communist control while leaving the south to the Allied forces. This would be a return to the situation which existed before the Communist assault last summer.

At the moment, Acheson said, truce talks seem to be stalled.

Acheson did not express optimism or pessimism on the talks but neither would he say that they were deadlocked.

He declined to state precisely what the UN negotiations were seeking in the way of a buffer-zone location. Other officials have made clear that the UN proposal for an armistice line is based on the present battle line.

Europe Wants Fliers Trained Here, Top Brass Ponder

By DOUGLAS HOW

OTTAWA, Aug. 1. (CP)—An even bigger and broader Canadian air training scheme, with more schools opening on the Prairies, is in the wind. Western European Allies are clamoring to get Canada to train more and more of their fledgling fliers, to expand the scheme—nicely getting started—beyond present plans to train 3,000 Canadian and Allied airmen annually. That possibility is under consideration at high levels here because it is recognized as one way Canada could make a fairly early and important contribution to Gen. Eisenhower's drive to close the gap between what strength Western Europe has and what she needs to deter Russian aggression.

The Canadian government is under pressure from the Eisenhower headquarters and elsewhere to do more just as the other 11 Atlantic Pact powers are under pressure to do more.

Mostly RAF

Present plans call for the RCAF to train 1,700 Canadian and 1,300 Pact fliers here annually and so far the RAF has most of the 1,300 NATO places for the year ahead. About 100 RAF men are here now. About the same number of Europeans have received pilot and navigator training and gone home.

Qualified opinion here is that an expansion of the training scheme—a modest parallel of the wartime Commonwealth scheme that trained 131,000 airmen — is one of the more likely methods for Canada to boost her Pact contribution.

This is so even though it will be a year yet before the RCAF really is in the advanced training business and currently is mainly giving only basic training.

The bulk of the advanced training program will have to wait until the Canadian aircraft factory at Montreal starts producing 500 T-33 two-seater jet trainer planes which will be used to school men for the shift from basic-training, propellor-driven Harvards to jet fighters such as the F86E Sabre and the CF100 Canuck.

But the European countries, trying to build their air forces anew, are quite willing just to get basic training for their men and by this fall Canada is expected to be in a good position to do more in that field.

There are two main reasons. One is that war veteran airmen have reacted in considerable num-

Truman Expected To Cut Off Czech Tariffs

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1 (AP).—President Truman is expected to cut off all American tariff concessions to Communist Czechoslovakia shortly. The State Department yesterday announced the decision to take such action.

It would be the second time the United States has slapped out at Czechoslovakia since the arrest there last April of Associated Press correspondent William N. Oatis. Oatis recently was sentenced to 10 years in prison after a spy trial denounced here as a farce.

On June 2, the State Department announced a ban on travel by American citizens to Czechoslovakia.

The decision to cut off trade concessions was announced in a statement circulated among countries belonging to the general agreement on tariffs and trade. They are scheduled to meet at Geneva Sept. 17.

Works Both Ways

Under the proposed move, the Czechs would lose competitive advantages in American markets and American merchants would lose similar advantages in Czechoslovakia.

The State Department proposed: (a) withdrawal from Czechoslovakia of "the benefits of trade-agreement tariff concessions," and (b) termination of "all of the obligations existing" between the United States and Czechoslovakia through the general agreement of tariffs and trade.

Whereas the ending of tariff concessions required only a presidential proclamation, the ending of obligations under the general agreement on tariffs and trade—mainly fair-trade commitments—will require approval by the GATT members. State Department officials expressed confidence this approval would be given.

Soldiers May Get Clothes Armor

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1 (AP)—Military personnel in battle zones soon may be wearing body armor that will deflect a 45-calibre bullet fired at point-blank range.

Progress in developing the armor was outlined by navy spokesmen to the Appropriations Committee of the House of Representatives during hearing of the 1952 military budget. The estimony was made public today.

Two types of armor are being developed. One consists of laminated plastic—known as doron—panels in the lining of regular military uniforms.

The other type consists of thick nylon cloth jackets. Experiments have disclosed that 28 thicknesses of the cloth will stop a 45-calibre bullet at muzzle velocity.

The naval testimony also showed that the United States navy plans to start arming its own cargo vessels, and ships now operated by the Coast Guard, for the first time since the end of the Second World War.

UK Producing First Atom Bomb

LONDON, Aug. 1 (AP).Informed sources said today that Britain is going ahead with the manufacture of her first atom bombs.

A spokesman for the supply ministry would not comment on newspaper reports that a test explosion will be made soon in the Australian desert. The supply ministry is in charge of atomic research.

But a source close to the ministry said it is going ahead "with the production of all weapons."

He added that while no official announcement of atom bomb manufacture has yet been made, suggestions that the bombs are being made could be regarded as true.

Stock Dabbling Pastor Dies, Leaves $60,000

NEW YORK, Aug. 1—(AP)—A Luzerne County, Pa., official leaves for Britain today to find the beneficiaries to a $60,000 fortune left by a coal-country pastor who dabbled in stocks on a $200-a-month income during the depression.

Olin W. Evans, Luzerne County chief clerk, is the executor of the estate of his friend, Rev. John Daniel Thomas, of Warrior Run, Pa.

Evans, alcompanied by his wife, said yesterday he will seek a dozen sisters, nephews and nieces of Mr. Thomas in England and Wales.

Mr. Thomas, a Presbyterian minister, died recently at the age of 79, unaware of the full extent of his fortune, Evans said.

Make A Difference

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 1 (AP)—Clothes make the man—that is, if you've never seen the man before. This addition to the old bromide has been proved somewhat scientificially at the University of Southern California.

Doing research for his Ph.D. degree in sociology, Thomas F. Hoult showed photographs of college men to more than 300 students o nthe campus. His results showed: If the judges knew the man in the photo, it made no difference if he wore old work clothes or a double-breasted suit—the votes were the same for "best looking," "man I would vote for as class president," or, by the girls, "man I'd most like to date." But when the judges didn't know the men, those wearing the best clothes got the most votes.

Farmer Charged Set Explosion

CLIFFORD, Ont., Aug. 1—(CP)—George McMillan, 38-year-old farmer, has been charged with setting off an explosion which ripped through the rear of a garage here Tuesday.

McMillan was arrested by provincial police at his farm home in Minton township and taken to county jail at Guelph. He is charged with endangering human life.

The purchase of a quantity of dynamite led to McMillan's arrest, police said. McMillan, a bachelor, said he had bought the explosive to blast tree stumps.

C. G. McPhail, 51, owner of the garage, was thrown from his bed by the force of the explosion. He was asleep in the sun porch of his 13-room apartment over the garage at the time. A clock with its pendulum blown off fixed the hour at 2:27 a.m.

President Truman

Wants New Price Law

By STERLING F. GREEN

WASHINGTON, Aug 1 (AP).—President Truman prepared today to hammer again on Congress' door for a "good, strong price-control law" to replace what he called the "deficient" act he signed last night.

Truman emphasized that he accepted the new, one-year defence production act—"the worst I ever had to sign"—only because he could not risk the lapse of its rent ceiling and strong priority control clauses.

But the bitterly-disputed law was on the books, and its Republican and Democratic backers defended it against the angry White House blasts.

Meanwhile, Michael V. DiSalle's office of price stabilization hastily explored techniques for lifting price ceilings to the levels now required.

DiSalle ordered thousands of price cuts—and a goodly number of increases—into effect last night in the final hours before Truman signed the new measure.

New ceilings, held back for a month during the congressional debate, were applied to consumer items, such as radios, television sets, refrigerator and other home appliances, shoes, apparel, cotton textiles, wool yarns and fabrics, machinery, chemicals and many building materials.

By rushing the orders out last night, OPS avoided the immediate necessity of rewriting the ceilings to conform to the new act, which entitles each manufacturer to pass on to buyers his full business cost increases up to July 26.

Individual price adjustments now must be made. A month ago OPS said the orders would bring consumers more cuts than increases. Today it said the impact on family budgets is "uncertain."

Police Crack Narcotics Ring

NEW YORK, Aug. 1—(AP)—Police cracked a new, country-wide narcotics ring last night that did business of nearly $500,000 a week. Three men were arrested.

What connection, if any, this outfit had with the $10,000,000-a-year international dope-counterfeiting combine smashed during the weekend by federal agents was not known.

One name in common to both was that of Charles (Lucky) Luciano, deported king of vice.

Luciano allegedly headed the Italian end of the world-wide ring in which US agents have arrested 12 persons.

Last night police said the new gang, which operated in all major cities in the United States, was believed linked to the dope traffic reputed to be headed by Luciano.

Woman Backing Boast To Have 24 Children

ANSONVILLE, Ont., Aug. 1—(CP) — Thirty years ago Mrs. Robert Page told her friends she wanted to have 24 children. She wasn't kidding.

Today, the 44-year-old woman is recovering after giving birth for the 23rd time. The latest was a boy who died shortly after birth.

At present 19 of the Page children are alive. The oldest is 28. Mrs. Page has twice given birth to twins.

She still wants to reach her objective.

"Why should I quit when I'm only one away?" she asked.

Timmins Mayor Says Strike May Bankrupt City

TIMMINS, Ont., Aug. 1 (CP)—Mayor William Fay said yesterday that Timmins will face financial ruin if the strike of 1,500 workers at Hollinger Gold Mines continues much longer.

The exodus of Hollinger miners is increasing at an alarming rate, the mayor said. Town debentures could not be sold despite greatly discounted values.

The miners, represented by the United Steelworkers of America (CIO-CCL), went on strike three weeks ago when mine management refused an across-the-board wage increase of 13 cents an hour and institution of the check-off under which the company would collect union dues from pay cheques.

Withdrawal Of Check

Jules Timmins, president of Hollinger Mines, in a telegram to Mayor Fay made public yesterday, said he could only suggest withdrawal of the check-off demand as a solution to the strike.

Mr. Timmins, a former miner himself and whose father, Noah Timmins, founded Hollinger, was replying to a request from the mayor that he intervene in the strike.

In a telegram to Mr. Timmins, Mayor Fay said company policy was "jeopardizing the welfare of the community. I am surprised you would encourage the management stand in opposition to the board of conciliation recommendation and the Ontario government's compromise suggestions."

Money Blamed Triple Murder

ORMSTOWN, Que., Aug. 1 (CP) Provincial police last night told a coroner's jury the motive for the brutal slaying of three persons at nearby Anderson's Corner was a cache of money the slayer believed was hidden in the house.

Det. Lieut. Ubald Legault gave the evidence at a brief hearing into the slayings of Anthime Allen, 67; Mrs. Anthime Allen, 74; and Nelson Cusson, their neighbor. Police are holding Alcide Martin, 31-year-old grandson of Mrs. Allen, pending outcome of the inquest tonight.

Martin was arrested yesterday when he surrendered to Detective Anatole Roche saying, "I have killed two persons—and I don't know if the third one is dead."

Police said Martin went to his grandmother's farm after a 24-hour drinking bout in search of money.

Mr. Allen was beaten and stabbed to death first and, when his wife came to his aid, she also was stabbed with a three-inch knife found in the automobile Martin drove when he surrendered to police.

Girl, 12, Not Afraid To Die, Wants Mail

BISMARCK, N.D., Aug. 1 (AP)—"I'm not afraid to die if that's what God wants," Julia Meier, 12, said with a smile. She is facing death from cancer.

Hospital authorities say that nothing short of a miracle can save her but they haven't given up hope. Neither has Julia.

She talks freely about her condition and she is in high spirits.

"I'd like to thank all those who have donated blood for me," Julia said. "There's sure a lot of nice people in this world."

"One thing I would like to get," she admitted, "is a card or letter from those who have time. It would be fun to get some mail."

Storm Fool Mountain

Soldiers Drive Reds From Key Positions

By JOHN RANDOLPH

EASTERN KOREAN FRONT, July 31 (Delayed)—(AP)—"Fool Mountain" was stormed by Allied infantrymen who knew they could be sacrificing their lives in the last days of the Korean war.

Some died, but the high ridges, from which the Reds had been able to watch every Allied move, were taken.

Capture of this towering hill mass in East Korea Monday can be reported as one of the war's most savage actions—a five-day assault while truce talks droned on at Kaesong.

It was by far the largest action since the armistice conference began—in fact, the only bit of "real war" since the delegates first met July 10.

Why Assault

Why did the Allies take it?

From its heights, the reorganized and retrained North Korean army watched every move in the Allied lines and on the main supply route to them.

The hill had to be taken or life in Allied lines would be unbearable—and lives can be frittered away in bad positions as easily as in assault.

From their observation posts in the rocky cragg, the Korean Reds continually called in mortar and artillery fire against the Allies, forcing all road traffic to run the gauntlet on its way to the front.

Worse, "Fool Mountain" had three guardian hills—placed as strategically as the bastion of a scientifically-planned fortress.

Pillboxes

Each hill was covered with pillboxes. For five nights in a row before the jump-off date July 26 the air force bombed and blasted the hill positions.

At dawn the infantry started up the guardian hills. They made 2,000 yards and then were stopped cold. Then began a see-saw fight that went on for five days and parts of five nights.

Monday, preceded by a withering artillery barrage, they advanced against "Fool Mountain" under cover of fire from one of the guardian hills.

The tough infantry men moved slowly up the rocky slopes.

They had close support from tanks. Some of the enemy bunkers had only one entrance—their firing slit—and were defended to the death by North Koreans.

The infantry used grenades and flame throwers against some defenders. Finally the last assault position was reached late Monday.

Once again artillery blasted the craggy slopes and—as it suddenly stopped—the infantry stormed upwards.

Allied guns laced the top of the crest. That did it. The attack by the crack troops swept up, broke the last of the resistance in 45 minutes and finally secured the [illegible]

US Navy Wants Plane Money

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1 (AP)—The United States navy wants $4,497,869,000 for the next big phase of its aviation build-up. Of the total, $3,572,476,000 would go for new planes.

But even if Congress votes every cent asked, the navy doesn't expect ot have a "completely-modern" air force.

The head of the naval air force, Vice-Admiral John H. Cassady, explained why in testimony, made public today, before an appropriations sub-committee of the House of Representatives:

1. The aviation industry can't produce all the new planes the navy would like by the end of 1953.

2. Before ordering large numbers of some kinds of planes, the navy wants to make much more complete tests.

Four Small Boys Ram Each Other In New Cars

HAMILTON, Aug. 1 (CP) — What would you do if you were a small boy and discovered 30 cars in a fence-enclosed lot—all with keys in the ignition locks?

Four small Hamilton boys, finding that situation, crawled under an eight-foot-high fence of a lot at the Maris Transportation Company and drove the cars about. Then they started ramming one another.

They appeared in police court yesterday and were remanded until Friday. The charge—causing $1,500 damage to 30 new cars.

The cars were left with dented fenders, bumpers, grills, head-lights.

Hint Of Request For Marshall Aid, NoComment-UK

LONDON, Aug. 1 (Reuters.)—British officials today refused comment on Washington press speculation that the drain on Britain's dollar reserves may lead her to ask for resumption of Marshall Aid and a waiver of the interest due in December on the $3,750,000,000 loan of 1946.

It was explained that even if Britain contemplated asking for renewed Marshall Aid she would certainly not announce it in advance. But all indications were that no decision had been taken on either matter.

Replying to a question in the House of Commons yesterday, Hugh Gaitskell, Chancellor of the Exchequer, said he could not say whether circumstances would justify a request for waiving the loan interest. Provision had been made for payment in this year's budget.

Deficit

Gaitskell stated last week Britain and the sterling area in general might have a substantial dollar deficit during this quarter but that the last quarter of the year would be better, though there would probably not be a dollar surplus.

If Britain is heading into a new balance of payments crisis, it is at this stage a sterling rather than a dollar crisis. Her overall external deficit for the rest of this year may be at an even worse rate in sterling than that of 1948.

Since overseas supplying countries cannot let Britain have unlimited credit (by unlimited accumulation of sterling balance), dollars may be needed to bolster the sterling situation. As banker for the sterling area, Britain is running up big liabilities and she needs big reserves of hard cash against them.

Church Expells Italian Priest, Now Will Marry

MILAN, Italy, Aug. 1—(AP)—Luciano Negrine said today he has been expelled from priesthood in the Roman Catholic church and that he is racing with time to get legal permission to marry American-born Claire Young.

Miss Young, 21, is held in jail here awaiting deportation Aug. 6.

From her jail cell she asked the United States Consulate for clearance to marry the former missionary she followed here from Chicago after they fell in love.

A police official said Mrs. Eileen Young, the girl's mother, has asked American authorities to refuse clearance — required by Italian law—on the grounds she is not rational.

A terse official notice from his church superiors said he was "expelled," said Negrini, 43.

He said "this means now I can freely do what I want" and added his first act would be to marry the young girl who loved him so much she tried to throw herself from a police station window July 28 when she was refused permission to remain in Italy any longer.

Negrini, former Catholic missionary to China who met Claire during a fund-raising visit to the US, said he will apply today for the official papers required for marriage in Italy.

Rochette, 46, who lists himself as a broker, is charged in connection with financial operations of La Traverse de Levis, a company operating a ferry on the St. Lawrence river between Quebec City and Levis.

The charge is that between last Dec. 15 and Jan. 15 Rochette defrauded shareholders of $375,000 and between Dec. 15 and July 20 stole $291,000 in company money and securities.

Judge Alexandre Michaud, before whom Rochette appeared, fixed preliminary hearing for Aug. 15.

Piece Of Dress Spurs Search For Woman

KILLARNEY, Ont., A piece of dress, snagged on a huge rock, today spurred the search for Kate Tyson, 64, lost Monday while berry-picking.

Searchers said the missing woman must have torn her dress while climbing over the rock.

Miss Tyson left here Monday morning to pick blueberries. When she failed to return in the evening a search was started.

Yesterday two blueberry pails and a cup were found in the berry patch where Miss Tyson said she was going.

Today 50 residents of this area, aided by provincial police, combed the woods for the missing woman.

RCMP Catch Two Seize US Money In Race Payoff

TORONTO, Aug. 1 (CP)—The Telegram in a newspage story today from Fort Erie, Ont., says RCMP officers have picked up two men who turned up at the Fort Erie track to collect $5,800 in United States money, "won by Toronto gamblers on what authorities believe was a fixed race."

Alleged race fixing at the track is being investigated by the Ontario Racing Commission and the provincial police and the Telegram story says the RCMP acted only on the foreign exchange issue. They seized the money.

(Under Canadian law, it is illegal for anyone but a hotelkeeper to have more than $100 in American currency without a permit. A hotelkeeper is allowed $250 for making change.)

Because the track is near the border, there is a pari-mutuel window there for payoffs in US funds but it is illegal for a Canadian to bet more than $100 there.

"In this case, the largest bet made was $1,500 in American money," the story quotes Inspector John Cruickshanks of the RCMP as saying. "The stooges (for the gamblers) didn't turn up to collect winnings until two days after the race.

"One man had 14 tickets that he brought in for another person."

Police stationed at the pari-mutuel window grabbed the men when they collected the winnings in US funds, the dispatch adds. One said he had bet the money for a woman "who had been saving it up for a number of years."

Inspector Cruickshanks said some of the gamblers, known to police, may be arrested this week, the story says. Their "collectors" have been released but they may also be charged.

Court Considers Jungle Girl

SINGAPORE, Aug. 1 (AP) — The Supreme Court of Appeals today reserved judgment on who should have custody of "Jungle Girl" Maria Bertha Hertogh.

Chief Justice Sir Stafford Foster Sutton said counsel involved in the battle over the 14-year-old Moslem-reared Netherlands girl will be notified later of the court's decision. The girl is in the Netherlands with her mother.

The three-day hearing ended with counsel for a young Malay, Inche Mansoor Adabi, asking that Maria Bertha be restored to him as his legal wife.

Counsel for the girl's mother, Mrs. Adeline Hertogh, contended that the child could never have legally married Adabi. He urged the appellate tribunal to uphold the lower court's action in giving the girl to her mother.

The child was reared by a Malay nurse after the Japanese interned her parents during the Second World War. Before her parents regained custody, she was married to a young Moslem teacher. Later a court ordered her restored to her mother who took her to the Netherlands.

Marshall Mistake

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1 (AP)—Senator Owen Brewster (Rep.-Me.) Tuesday quoted Gen. J. Lawton Collins, army chief of staff, as saying the United States will have 340,000 troops in Europe by the end of 1952, rather than 400,000 as Defence Secretary George C. Marshall said last week. "General Marshall made a very serious error," Brewster told reporters outside of a closed-door session of the Senate Foreign Relations and Armed Services Committee.

Minor Leagues In Danger From Majors

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1 (AP)—George C. Trautman, boss of the minor leagues, said today the minors will die if baseball drops the rule that now makes it almost impossible for one club to move into another team's territory.

And thus, without even mentioning the Pacific Coast League by name, he jumped smack in the middle of a Congressional argument over whether the major leagues should expand to the west coast.

Even before Trautman took the stand to testify before the House of Representatives judiciary subcommittee studying baseball's complicated set-up, its chairman, Representative Emanuel Celler (Dem. NY), told reporters:

The present major league alignment, with all teams in the east, is "intolerable."

Must Be Changes

"There must be changes," he said. "And I'm going to insist on it. We can't have this iron-clad system forever."

Trautman contended in a statement to the sub-committee that baseball is a losing business in the minors, and if its territorial rights are not protected, it will fold up altogether.

He said a survey of 18 leagues last year showed that 65 per cent of the clubs were losing money.

The reserve clause, another spot which has attracted considerable Congressional probaing, also got a strong defence from Trautman.

He noted that less than 10 players now in the majors had no minor-league experience. But, he said, the minors are a dead duck if the reserve clause ever is taken away from them.

"If these clubs do not have the protection of the reserve clause to give them continuity of players for their teams the incentive of maintaining the clubs would be lost," he said.

Under the reserve clause, a player is, in effect, bound to stay with the team which first signs him until he is sold, traded or released.

The expansion, or change, of the major leagues has been discussed repeatedly during the three-day hearing. The committee is trying to determine whether baseball should be exempt from anti-trust laws.

Only Base Metals Active Stocks

TORONTO, Aug. 1 (CP).—Base metals pulled ahead from an otherwise mixed market today in early afternoon dealings. Volume for the first three hours was 924,000 shares.

Industrials showed little trend but tended to advance. Changes ranged from fractions to more than a point. Steels and retail stores were higher and utilities and refining oils firm. Agricultures, construction, banks and textiles were mixed. Papers and manufacturing companies weakened.

Heavy trading in United Asbestos, and Yukeno bolstered base metal issues. Steep Rock, East Sullivan, Estella, Pend Oreille, International Nickel, Mackeno, New Calumet and Torbrit gained pennies. Noranda eased.

Western oils gains and losses were about even.

Senior golds slipped fractionally as Lake Shore, Malartic, Teck Hughes and Wright-Hargreaves declined fractions. Secondary golds were mixed.

Search For 5 Bodies Dropped After Week

BARRIE, Ont., Aug. 1 (CP).—Search was abandoned last night for the bodies of five Drayton, Ont., men drowned in Lake Simcoe July 22.

Wes Fletcher, his three sons and a son-in-law lost their lives when their boat overturned during a family reunion. Last night the Fletcher family—more than 20 of them were on hand each day during the search—returned home.

munique, "a realistic demilitarized zone, equitable to both belligerents."

At Tuesday's session, Joy had explained how the Communists would benefit from the allied plan of creating a buffer zone along present lines.

The battlefront now extends across Korea from a point in the west just south of the 38th parallel, northeasterly along the Imjin river between Kaesong and this un advance camp into North Korea and thence eastward across mountain ridges to the east coast about 25 miles north of the parallel.

At the end of Wednesday's session, the UN communique announced: "The basic views of both the United Nations Command and the Communist delegation remained unchanged."

Communist propagandists outside the conference hall told UN correspondents they thought a two- or three-day recess might be proposed to break the deadlock.

An American spokesman at Kaesong said he had heard nothing of such a possibility.

Red propagandists who suggested a recess might be profitable were trying to create the impression that the "victorious North Koreans" agreed to cease-fire talks only because of their generous nature.

They handed out propaganda leaflets and posted placards. It was the first time they had used literature. One poster, printed in Korean, read:

"Though the North Korean Republic army has emerged victorious against the American aggressors, our government and our great leader, Kim Il Sung, desires, and therefore our government has agreed to talks about peace in this conference with the American aggressors."

The Chinese Communist Peiping radio broadcast speeches of two Red generals who touched on the possibility that cease-fire talks may break down.

Airline Hostess Fined Tried To Smuggle Gold

CAIRO, Egypt, Aug. 1 (AP).—A Trans World Airlines hostess today was fined £500 ($1,435) and given a suspended six-month sentence for attempting to smuggle gold out of Egypt.

The hostess, Cynthia Blyth, 26, a British subject who lives in Bombay, pleaded guilty. She was arrested July 18 while boarding a Bombay-bound plane with $3,000 worth of gold bars concealed under her coat.

A former TWA steward and his wife yesterday were sentenced for gold smuggling.

Cost Of Living Expected To Jump Again

OTTAWA, Aug. 1 — (CP). — Riddle: When is shrinkage called inflation? Answer: When it is referred to living costs.

A Bureau of Statistics official estimates that the purchasing value of the Canadian dollar has shrunk to less than 55 cents since 1939. He blamed the shrinkage on price inflation.

Call it what you will, soaring prices have had a tremendous impact on living costs.

Consumer prices, almost doubling since 1939, have shot the cost-of-living index up from 1011.5 in 1939 to a record 184.1 in May, 1951. The index is based on 1935-1939 prices equalling 100.

Tomorrow, when the Bureau of Statistics issues its index compilations for June, heaviest attention will be concentrated on the food sub-group.

Highest Climb

For climbing food prices have been the main propelling force in the big index climb. In May food prices were almost 2½ times as high as in 1939. The sub-group had climbed to 239.8 from a prewar 100.6.

The end is not in sight. Indications are that when tomorrow's index is issued, it will show another boost in food prices.

An official pointed out that the summer, contrary to popular belief, does not always bring food price relief.

Last year, for example, the food sub-group in June jumped to 214.3 from 209.0, climbed to 216.7 in July, rose to 218.8 in August, and jumped again to 220.2 in September.

Neither is there encouragement to anticipate food price drops in the wholesale line. The Bureau's wholesale price index for June, based on 1935-1939 prices equalling 100, climbed to 242.7 from 241.9 in May.

OPP Investigates Two Accidents

Two minor highway accidents were investigated Tuesday by district No. 8 Provincial Police. There was property damage, but no injuries.

Two cars ran into each other on the brow of a hill while going in opposite directions on a Harvey Township road, two-and-a-half miles southeast of Lakehurst.

Driver of one car was Leslie Hall, RR 1, Lakefield, and the other driver was Kenneth Smith, East Palestine, Ohio. The township road is 12 feet wide and both drivers were reportedly well over on their own side, but did not see each other because of the hill.

The two left fenders of the cars collided doing about $100 to each vehicle.

OPP Constable T. H. Armstrong investigated.

Arm Bruised

William Weatherup, 27, of RR 3, Norwood, received a scraped and bruised arm and his two small children were shaken up Tuesday night when their car rolled over in the ditch near Bailieboro.

Weatherup was going north on Highway 28 in his 1937 model car. He and another driver proceeding ahead of him—Mrs. Norman Thompson, Bailieboro—pulled out onto the left-hand side of the highway to pass a combine, driven by Joe Bradshaw, North Monaghan.

According to Weatherup, Mrs. Thompson cut back into line too sharply and he was unable to sandwich in between her car and the combine. He slammed on his brakes, skidded for some 25 feet on the right side of the highway and then continued another 190 feet in the right ditch.

The car did a half roll and stopped upside down.

The two children were taken home by neighbors.

Neither Mrs. Thompson's car nor the combine was struck or damaged in the accident. OPP Constable Tom Armitage investigated.

Eden Urges Britain, UK Joint East Policy

MONTREAL, Aug. 1 —(CP)— Anthony Eden, deputy leader of the British Conservative party, today advocated a meeting of British and United States leaders soon "to carry the future form of our Far East policies a stage further."

Mr. Eden put forward this view in an article written for the Montreal Herald. He passed through Montreal en route to Denver, San Francisco and Chicago for speaking engagements. He is stopping over briefly in Port Hope today.

"Fortunately Anglo-American official policies in the Near and Far East are today closer than they have been for some time," wrote Mr. Eden.

Steel Plant Reopens In NS

SYDNEY, N.S., Aug. 1 (CP)— Operations resumed yesterday at three blast furnaces of the Dominion Steel and Coal Corporation's Sydney plant following a work stoppage in line with slowdown tactics to enforce union wage demands.

Employees of the wire, nail and barb-fence mills walked off the job during the week-end. Earlier other departments experienced stoppages.

President Ed Corbett of the Sydney local of the United Steelworkers of America (CIO-CCL) said the moves were "spontaneous" protests over an alleged wage differential between Sydney and Ontario steelworkers.

The 4,500-man local holds that a 10-cent hourly wage increase, offered by the company, would not bring their wages to par with those paid in Ontario steel plants. The basic rate here is $1.27.

Iran Awaits UK Delegates

TEHRAN, Iran, Aug. 1 (Reuters)—The Iranian government today awaited final word from London on whether Britain is ready to open negotiations over nationalization of the Anglo-Iranian Oil Company.

Presidential Envoy Averell Harriman has advised London further on the Iranians' proposals for such talks. Presumably he clarified the points which Foreign Secretary Herbert Morrison said would have to be settled before a British mission left for Tehran.

(It was learned in London that 10 seats have been reserved for a British mission on a plane leaving London for Tehran Friday. Morrison has announced that the mission will be headed by Richard Stokes, Lord Privy Seal.)

Harriman entertained Prime Minister Mohammed Mosadegh at dinner last night, and earlier in the day conferred with the Shah and members of the Iranian Oil Commission.

The British .280 Rifle

Standardization of armaments among N.A.T.O. countries is a delusion if the basic military weapon, the rifle, is not standardized. The Americans have their .300; Britain and the Commonwealth have a .303. Britain has decided to replace the Boer War .303 Lee-Enfield, which was first used in 1895 and would have been replaced forty years ago had not two world wars intervened. A committee of military experts in Britain has decided that the .280 semi-automatic rifle is the best in the world today, and the War Office has approved it.

* * *

The Americans are apparently quite satisfied with their .300 Garand. Their military smallarms experts have advised that the new .280's performance does not warrant the expense and delay which a switch in American production would entail. Thus Canada is caught between the .280 and the .300; for certainly she would be foolish to continue with the .303 Lee-Enfield if Britain abandons it. Without British and American standardization on the one or the other, Canada is in a dilemma. For that matter, all other North Atlantic Treaty Organigation countries are in a similar quandary. Standardization is necessary.

* * *

Mr. Shinwell, British Defence Minister arrives in Washington today to discuss with Mr. Frank Page, the U.S. Secretary for the Army, the possibility of having the new British .280 rifle accepted as standard equipment for N.A.T.O. Civilian officials of N.A.T.O. who constantly urge standardization, are worried lest Britain be forced to develop and use a rifle which no one else will have. It may be argued: Let Britain adopt the American .300. Why should she, if, in going to the expense of new production, she can get a better one? The N.A.T.O. standardization committee has recommended general use of the .280 as the best semi-automatic rifle in the world. Will the U.S.A. budge from the .300? Will she, indeed, provide the machine tools which Britain needs from her to go into production of the .280? Mr. Shinwell may get the answer this week.

* * *

Meanwhile, Canada's Defence Minister, Mr. Brooke Claxton, has told other Atlantic Treaty countries that she will send no further arms to them until the wrangle is settled; nor will she continue to take .300 Garand rifles from the U.S.A. The Minister's strong statement yesterday indicates how deeply concerned the smaller Atlantic powers are. Canadian forces are now equipped in part with Garands, in larger part with Lee-Enfields. The .280 is a third possibility. This country needs standardization in her roles as both a fighting power and an arsenal of the Allies.

Are Canadians Sissy About The North?

In an article in the current issue of Maclean's Magazine, Vilhjalmur Stefansson says that Canadians have lost the pioneering spirit. Mr. Stefansson knows quite a bit about pionering. Before 1930 he had made three expeditions into Canada's Arctic and spent ten winters and thirteen summers within the Arctic Circle. The famed explorer may, however, be a little out of date about the spirit of younger Canadians. He says:

"When I was a boy in North Dakota in the 1880's (he was born in neighbouring Manitoba) every youth dreamed of going beyond the frontier. Today nearly every boy in Dakota dreams of going to Fargo and living a city life; once there, he longs for Minneapolis, which is much larger; and his ultimate goals are Chicago and finally New York or Los Angeles. Colonization, the greatest adventure of the last few centuries, has lost out to steam heat, automatic gearshifts and television."

By inference, the explorer's description of the life-cycle of a young man today applies to Canadians moving from farm to provincial centres, from them to Montreal or Toronto.

We believe that the spirit of adventure still fires young Canadians to deeds of derring-do. It is the frontier of excitement which has changed. The lures of unexplored possibilities are no longer in the North and West; they are in laboratories in Toronto and Chalk River; in great industrial centres where world-shaking industrial techniques are developed; in large financial houses where money is manipulated to float empires, change the face of nature and wage wars. The North has become too tame. Its rewards of high adventure are too few. Soldiers and their equipment are flown into the north, together with prerabricated huts and steam heaters. Manning lonely radar outposts on the edge of the Arctic is a routine job for service men; so dull that extra pay is given them to compensate for the boredom of living in the north. Men like the illustrious explorer Stefansson and other adventurers in science and engineering who have built radios and planes and discovered penicillin, have brought the North up-to-date, thereby taming it.

Vilhjalmur Stefansson's article can most help the cause dear to his heart—the exploitation of Canada's north, which is two-thirds of the whole country—by reviving again the romance that is to be encountered in the Arctic frontiers (a romance he himself feels) and by proclaiming, as he does, the importance of this vast area to Canada and the western world. His reference to Wrangel Island kindles the excitement and emphasizes the importance.

This island of 90 square miles in the Chukolsk Sea, 90 miles north of the Eastern Siberian coast, was uninhabited until after the Great War. During the Stefansson expedition of 1913-18, weather conditions forced some of his men to winter on Wrangel Island. Afterwards, Stefansson tried to convince the Canadian Government of the importance of the island in strategy and communication, and urged Canada to establish claim to Wrangle by an occupation force. The Government did not furnish an expedition, so Stefansson sent out a small one himself. The four white men perished; the Eskimo seamstress sent with them, survived comfortably because she followed Eskimo techniques of living and did not panic. Such an expedition should challenge any Canadian man today: it had excitement and romance—the romance of establishing claim to new territory. After the expedition, four countries revived their half-hearted assertions to sovereignty over Wrangel. The Soviet Union did most. It sent a gunboat, and in 1926 a first group of settlers. Today Wrangel is inhabited by several hundred Russians, and is an important weather post and listening base. Canada could have had it, had she made the effort, the explorer says.

Truly, the Canadian North stands in need of development and men and women to do it: to explore, to prospect for minerals, and to settle—great areas of the land can be successfully farmed, experts believe. Canada and this continent today have no city of 50,000 more northerly than Edmonton (53' .30 N) yet the Soviet Union has at least fifty cities of 50,000 beyond that latitude. Moscow, for instance, is 150 miles farther north than Edmonton, and five million people live in Moscow.

We think that the reason for Canada's largely unexplored, uninhabited North is not that Canadians now lack the spirit to pioneer. There are too many other outlets for this spirit, too much country and opportunity farther south. The rewards and excitement to be had out of the North may not be as alluring as those to be found in the bull mining market of Toronto or the cockpit of an R.C.A.F. jet plane.

Anglo-Iranian In Canada

In Northern Alberta in the Athabascan area there are tar sands estimated to contain more than 150 billion barrels of oil—the largest known oil reserve in the world. Nobody has been excited about these deposits, because reclaiming the oil from the sands would be expensive, require a huge capital outlay, and involve expensive shipping charges. However, if the flow of oil from Persia dries up permanently investors and oil-hungry nations will be eager to exploit the long-neglected Athabasca tar sands. There is a rumour that the Anglo-Iranian Oil Company is interested in them, and that Company has the technical and financial resources to develop the property.

The Montreal Star cites the Alberta tar sands as a notorious example of national neglect. They have been known for a century and were first surveyed forty years ago. "In spite of the indefatigable efforts of S. C. Ells, a Department of Mines geologist who gave his working life to the deposits, and in spite of the solution of most of the mining and extraction problems, the field has been no more than scratched by experimental ventures. As long as oil bubbles up of its own accord there are few who will attempt to win it in harder ways." The Anglo-Iranian Oil Company may make the attempt. Transport is no longer the obstacle it was; oil is now piped a thousand miles. The Company, raped of its Persian resources, may turn to Alberta.

Walking Local Postmen

Our postmen have enough walking to do without having to tramp between the Post Office and the beginning or end of their routes. A month ago the Postmaster General's franchise with the Peterborough Bus Company ran out. It has not been renewed, and bus tickets are being given the postmen on a hand-to-mouth basis. We do not know what the trouble is, but presume that the Department in Ottawa is unwilling to pay the price the bus company asks for a new franchise to let postment ride whenever they are in uniform. This ridiculous situation must end. If the Department is being too niggardly, let the City Council on behalf of the citizens find out and tell it so. If the bus company is being exorbitant in its demands—well, it is the City Council which gives the Peterborough Bus Company its franchise and monopoly to operate on our streets.

Ile. St. Louis Of Paris

By ALBERT MOUSSET
(French Information Office)

DIFFERENT ceremonies and attractions will be held on the occasion of the Two Thousandth Anniversary of Paris, in the setting of the Ile St. Louis.

It is useless to look for some memory of the king in this island; one is reminded of him only by the church which bears his name and in which Saint Francois de Sales and Flechier preached.

* * *

THIS site was created all at once by Parisian urbanism. It occupies what was once two islands and a marshy area which served as pasturage and sometimes as a meeting place for duellists. Louis XIII handed it over to a Roads and Bridges engineer, Marie (who left his name to one of the bridges in the Capital), with the task of making it into a single whole by linking the islands together and of constructing buildings while paying rent to the chapter of Notre dame, owner of the land. A series of events delayed the carrying out of these works, which were not completed until 1664.

The outstanding thing about this new district of Paris is that, during the seventeenh and eighteenth centuries, it was the favourite place for magistrates to live. There were as many as a hundred of them in the time of Louis XIV, and among them was the President of the Chamber of Accounts.

* * *

THE Marais district already contained the finest houses in the Capital. The Ile, which bore the name of Notre Dame until 1725 (when it became and has remained the Ile St. Louis), was a sort of annex to it. It became covered with superb dwellings, getting the fullest advantage from the magnificent views of the banks of the Seine. One can imagine what it looked like as a whole, built in some thirty years, in the harmonious and measured tones of the architecture of the time. The President of the Chamber of Accounts, Bretonvilliers, spent the sum, an enormous hundred thousand pounds for the building of a quayside and a terrace on the point of the land. "You would think", said a contemporary historian, "that the river has been led to the foot of his house so as to act as a canal for him. Though his house is large and beautiful and a fitting place for a great lord to live, it is in such a lovely situation that one forgets almost everything so as to concentrate on the view".

* * *

THANKS to its isolation, the Island was for a long time a city within a city. An atmosphere of quiet dignity reigned there, thanks to the rank and professional quality of those who lived there. "It seems", said Sebastien Mercier in his "Tableau de Paris", "to have escaped the corruption of the town which has not penetrated it in the slightest. No loose-living women have managed to settle there. As soon as they are discovered, they are driven off and sent away. The inhabitants keep an eye on each other; everyone's morals are known; any girl who makes a false step becomes an object of censure and will never be able to get married to someone in the district. There is nothing more like a provincial town than this island. It has been well said that—

"The person who lives in the Marais is a foreigner on the island."

* * *

TWO houses have kept their past splendour: the Hotel Lambert and the Hotel Lauzun. They are masterpieces of domestic architecture in the century of Louis XIV. The first is like a sort of first example of classical decorative art. In its gallery, on the vaulting of which the painter Le Brun depicted the apotheosis of Hercules, are forecast the ceilings of the Hall of Mirrors at Versailles and the Apollo Gallery in the Louvre. As for the Hotel Lauzun, it expresses, down to its smallest details, the magnificence and the exquisite grace of a sumptuous Paris dwelling of that time. It was bought by the City Council of Paris in 1928, and it is used for receptions of an intimate character which the municipality offers to its distinguished guests. Queen Juliana of Holland and Princess Elizabeth of England were welcomed there when they were staying in Paris.

* * *

THESE Hotels are linked with memories which are dear to the literary world. In the first of them the Marquis of Chatelet received Voltaire. Prince Czartoryski, who became the owner in 1824, gathered together there the elite of Polish society. In the second lived Baudelaire and Theophile Gautier. The latter wrote the "Artificial Paradises", which the famous "Hashish Club" used to offer to its members.

These Hotels on the Island have an air of family intimacy. They are impregnated with a secret poetry and a provincial atmosphere, which is recalled in one of her books by Princess Bibesco, who stayed there for a short time. Several of them, by means of a plate placed beside their doors, remind the passer-by of the pageantry of their past history, or of the personalities who shed their brilliance over them. They tell us that the painter and caricaturist, Honore Daumier, lived on the Quai d'Anjou and that on the Quai d'Orleans was born the poet Felix d'Arvers, who was given a place in the Pantheon of immortality, thanks to a single sonnet—

"My soul has its secret and my life its mystery".

For the Poles, the Island is sacred ground and a place of pilgrimage. On the Quai d'Orleans they can visit the library and the museum, of which the curator at one time was their great poet, Adam Mickiewicz, who taught at the College de France and sang of the Polish epic.

* * *

WITH its gable roofs, its attics, its arched portals, its balconies, its staircases with their wrought iron balustrades, and its cafes which have kept their eighteenth century grills or their old signs, the Ile Saint Louis is today a sort of oasis of recollection, a domain of the past, of which men of letters are still the rulers. And a reminder of its far off past still exists in the meeting place of watermen and fishermen on the Quai Bourbon.

It is not very long ago that a tradesman on the Island replied to a purchaser who asked him for an article which he had not got in stock, "You will find that in Paris".

It is from the Quai d'Orleans that one can enjoy, when there is a fine sunset, a magnificent view of the apse of Notre Dame, which gives the impression of a huge ship towing the island in its wake.

500,000 Missing Men

(MONTREAL STAR)

IT is almost six years since the last shot was fired in World War II, but half a million prisoners of war have never been returned. Most of them are Japanese and Germans, and all of them were last heard of as inmates of Russian prison camps.

It is many years now since most of the nations of the world signed international conventions governing the conditions of prison camps and of the return of prisoners. International inspection has been a condition of the conditions. It is enough to read the two words "international inspection" to know that the Soviet Union has never signed the convention. The Kremlin is firm on many points, but one of the most important is that there shall never be adequate international inspection of anything inside its borders. This can be understood in view of the discovery made during the war, that Russia had butchered thousands of Polish officers in cold blood and buried the bodies in vast pits.

The half million missing men may, for all the world knows, have met a similar fate. More probably they have been put to forced labour, and the more rugged among them are still at it, working without hope for the future, lost but not dead.

A United Nations Commission has been set up to find the facts. It will get no help from the Russians, who concentrate not upon giving them up but upon getting more slaves to work for them. But the Commission, by piecing together a fact here, a fact there, examining ex-prisoners, patiently following up tiny clues that may be found almost anywhere in the world, may get at the truth.

They will not, however get at the men.

Unconsidered Trifles

Father: "When I was a boy, I thought nothing of a ten-mile walk."

Son, a little tired of hearing about the good old days: "Well, I don't think so much of it myself."

"Now, frankly," the Surgeon warned, "I must inform you that this is a very serious operation. Four out of five patients die under it. Is there anything I can do for you before I begin?"

"Yes," said the patient, "help me on with my shoes and pants."

Aunt Jerusha—"Bildad, do you know that tomorrow will be the twenty-fifth anniversary of our wedding?"

Uncle Bildad—"Ye don't say so. What about it?"

Jerusha—"I thought maybe we ought to kill them two Rhode Island Red chickens."

Bildad—"How in tunket can you blame them two chickens for what happened twenty-five years ago?"

A well-known American author met an old man called Uncle Joe, who was always cheerful in spite of having had more than his share of life's troubles.

"How have you managed to retain your calmness and cheerfulness in spite of them all?" asked the author.

"Well, sah, Ah'll tell you," replied Uncle Joe. "Ah'se jest learned to co-operate wid de inevitable."

Bells In Belfries

(Windsor Star)

One of Ontario's finest towns, in the interests of progress Blenheim has torn down its old town hall. A new municipal building will grace the community.

In the meantime, the old brass bell, weighing over a ton, is gathering dust outside the town barns. The issue is whether it will be hung in the new municipal building, or whether a siren will suffice for fire alarms.

The issue, of course, is far wider than that of sounding alarms, and is of interest far beyond the confines of Blenheim. Those who respect the historical features of Ontario towns, and their charms, will wish the bell replaced. Down through the years, town bells have been a part of the life of our lovely towns, tolling off their announcements of the hours and, on less happy occasions, ringing the alarm of fires or some other tragedy.

The shrill shriek of the siren can never replace the pleasant peals of the bell. Even if sirens are deemed necessary, they should never be allowed to oust the bells.

The old Ontario town halls, with their belfries, have been distinctive of this province in the past. When new municipal buildings are erected, the dictates of architecture and of artistic interests call for bells and belfries. The toll of the town bell is something we would not want to lose, and we hope Blenheim does not lose it. Our Ontario towns would seem drab and commonplace without their bells.

"Harold is awfully obstinate."

"In what way?"

"It's the hardest thing in the world to make him admit I'm right when he knows I'm wrong."

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

And, behold, there cometh one of the rulers of the synagogue. Jairus by name: and when he saw him, he fell at his feet, and besought him greatly, saying, My little daughter lieth at the point of death: I pray thee, come and lay thy hands on her, that she may be healed, and she shall live.

And Jesus went with him; and much people followed him, and thronged him....while he yet spake, there came from the ruler of the synagogue's house certain which said, Thy daughter is dead: why troublest thou the Master any further?

As soon as Jesus heard the word that was spoken, he saith unto the ruler of the synagogue, Be not afraid, only believe. And he suffered no man to follow him, save Peter, and James, and John the brother of James. And he cometh to the house of the ruler of the synagogue, and seeth the tumult, and them that wept and wailed greatly.

And when he was come in, he saith unto them, Why make ye this ado, and weep? the damsel is not dead, but sleepeth. And they laughed him to scorn. But when he had put them all out, he taketh the father and the mother of the damsel, and them that were with him, and entereth in where the damsel was lying.

And he took the damsel by the hand, and said unto her, Talitha cumi; which is, being interpreted, Damsel, I say unto thee, arise. And straightway the damsel arose, and walked: for she was of the age of twelve years. And they were astonished with a great astonishment. (Mark 5: 22-24, 35-42.)

Beloved, let us love one another: for love is of God; and every one that loveth is born of God, and knoweth God. He that loveth not knoweth not God; for God is love....

No man hath seen God at any time. If we love one another, God dwelleth in us, and his love is perfected in us. (I John 4: 7, 8, 12.)

Earth Worms' Burden

(Winnipeg Free Press)

Anyone with the sort of speculative bent that leads to wonder about what happens to laundry studs after they are yanked out of shirts, or the millions of pencil stubs that are discarded each year will get an outsize thrill out of a big, throbbing answer provided in a recent issue of the Country Guide to a question that is undeniably a blood relation to these teasers.

"Who would have believed?" asks the Guide, "that the total weight of earthworms in any given pasture is, in a rough way, equal to the weight of livestock that can be supported by that pasture."

Who, indeed, would have believed this astonishing fact? But it is so. The authority quoted is the Ruakura Soil Fertility Research station in New Zealand. Why this earthworm census was carried out is not quite clear. The Guide, indeed, explains that "our soil scientists and plant nutritionists seem to pretty much ignore the earthworm as a factor in soil fertility."

But how can people go on ignoring the earthworm when it is set out in cold print that the number of worms per acre runs in some cases as high as five million? It may even be difficult from now on for some tender-hearted souls to tread the earth with the same carefree abandon as of yore.

"I remember it well—that year when England won the Middleweight Championship of the World—someone started negotiations for arrangements for talks on the possibility of a conference to decide an agenda for a basis for an agreement on a cease-fire."

Trial Of Nine Officers Begins; Charged As Spies

LONDON, Aug. 1—(AP)—The spy trial of four Polish generals and five other high-ranking officers opens in Warsaw today. The trial follows widespread reports in the West of dissension within the Polish Army.

The nine are accused of conspiring with Britain and the United States to overthrow the Communist Polish government. Warsaw reports said the British and American military attaches there were mentioned as being involved.

The Warsaw sadio identified the defendants as Lt.-Gen. Stefan Mossor, Maj-Gen. Stanislaw Tatar, Franciszek Herman and Jerzy Kirshmayer; Cols. Marian Utnik, Stanislaw Nowicki and Marion Jurecki; Maj. Wladyslaw Roman and Cmrd. Sccaepan Wacek.

Underground Army

Tatar served with the underground Polish-home army during the Second World War and also was on the London staff of the Polish army in exile. Colonels Utnik and Nowicki served with him there.

Col. Utnik continued after the war as chief of the Polish purchasing mission in London until he was called home last October.

The radio said the nine men sought to undermine the army and "make it possible for the Imperialists to tear away the Polish Western territories from the mother country and annex them to neo-Nazi Germany."

Thereference was to former German territory which Poland took over at the end of the Second World War.

The Polish trial coincides with reports of dissension within other Russian sattelites.

Czech Officers

Reports from Communist Czecoslovakia, this spring, told of the arrest of several high-ranking Czech army officers.

The Yugoslav

The Yugoslav newspaper Borba reported yesterday the arrest in Bulgaria of Maj.-Gen. Slavko Trinski on charges of spying. Other reports reaching Vienna from Bulgaria tell of almost open rebellion among farmers and Communist officials in the lower ranks.

Warsaw newspapers said the officers on trial were financed by a $10,000,000 fund from the United States and sent out information through the British and French embassies.

MuseumsBorrow Indian Relics

SASKATOON (CP)—A "Share The Relic" program is in full swing around Saskatchewan Indian camp sites.

Officials of the National Museum in Ottawa and the provincial museum branch of the natural resources department have begun a survey to find out how early western Indians lived. To ensure complete coverage, they're asking local collectors to lend them their relics to help piece out a comprehensive Indian history.

After compiling a photographic record of the relics lend by the local collectors, the archaeologists will do a little digging themselves around known Indian camp sites.

Then they will retire to their museums to study their trophies and prepare reports.

South Africa Plans To Extract Uranium

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1 (AP)—The Union of South Africa is building plants to extract uranium from gold ore, the Atomic Energy Commission told Congress today in its 10th semi-annual report.

While the uranium content of the ore is low, the AEC said, the ore is great in volume.

Under a three-country agreement, South African gold mining companies have agreed to process the ores and sell the uranium to the United States and Canada. Uranium is a key metal in producing atomic energy.

East City Nine Wins First From Northenders 9-6

Welch's East City bantams combined timely hitting Tuesday with a 19-strikeout chore by pitcher McIlmoyle to trim the Northenders 9-6 in the first game of the bantam city league baseball finals. The second game of the best-of-three will be Saturday at Riverside Park.

The Northend [illegible] started off with a three-run [illegible] in the first inning thanks to three walks and a single by Board, the catcher. But McIlmoyle retired the side with three strikeouts.

From there in the East City team didn't have too much trouble except in the fifth and the ninth. Board tripled in the fifth and later scored when McIlwain singled. Two walks and a hit by Beck the rightfielder sent two more runs across in the ninth.

East City opened with a run in the first when Towns walked and was sent home on a triple by D. Baptie. Brown, the Northend pitcher, who had seven strikeouts then retired the side.

Doubles by Rogers and Towns, mixed with singles by Garvey, Ayotte, A. Baptie and McIlmoyle pushed the easterners up in the second inning 6-3.

In the eighth Rogers singled, followed by Garvey and Ayotte with doubles. D. Baptie singled scoring Ayotte for the final run of a three-run drive.

Lineups:

East City—Garvey 2b, Towns 3b, Ayotte cf, D. Baptie 1b, Guerin c, A. Baptie rf, McIlmoyle p, Kane ss, Rogers lf.

Northend—Dubay 2b, Board c, McIlwain 3b, Simmons ss, Brady 1b, Brown p, Loescher lf, McClennan cf, Beck rf.

Canada, Cuba Start Davis Cup

MONTREAL, Aug. 1 (CP).—Canada and Cuba will name their starters for the three-day North American Davis Cup tie here at the stroke of midnight tonight and the Cubans are showing unconcern about the whole procedure.

The tennis matches start Friday afternoon with two singles matches.

Names of the starters of the Canadian team remained a guarded secret although captain Gordon MacNeil admitted the speculators were about right.

The consensus among observers was that the teams would line up this way:

Cuba—Singles: Dr. Juan Weiss, 28, and Jose Aguero, 30; doubles, Weiss and Aguero.

Canada — Singles: Brendan Masken, 28, and Lorne Main, 21; doubles: Macken and Henri Rochon, 28.

Bluntly, the attitude of captain Eric Williams of Cuba is that he will have to use his two best players, Weiss and Aguero, to "stand up to the Canadians."

Displaying remarkable fighting spirit, the underdog Cuban players have not said much except that they are confident of putting up a "good show."

Australia Has Edge For Davis Cup

SOUTH ORANGE, NJ, Aug. 1 (AP).—For an Australian tennis player, Don Candy is in a unique position.

He's touring with the Aussie Davis Cup team, but is not a member of it. He's just along for the ride. That would put him in a good position to judge the Anzac chances of winning the Davis Cup for the second straight year.

"We'll have a slight edge," he remarked today before starting his third-round match against Dick Savitt, Australian and Wimbledon champion, in the eastern US grass courts championships. "What gives us our advantage is that we'll be playing on our own courts. This always helps."

As for the Australian players, he is not willing to concede that there's anyone better.

A's Good As Any

"Frank Sedgman and Ken McGregor are as good as any players in the world at the moment," he said.

Candy's chances of remaining in the tournament appeared slim, for Savitt seems to be in top form. In yesterday's second round he eliminated Bill Tully of New Rochelle, NY, 6-2, 6-0.

As the tournament goes into the round of 16, there are at least two good chances for upsets. Budge Patty, who won at Wimbledon last year, tangles with young Mervyn Rose, the third member of the Australian team. Rose at his best could win this one.

McGregor takes on US junior champion Hamilton Richardson Richardson is a lad who might upset anyone.

Patty, Rose, McGregor and Richardson all won their second-round tests without the loss of a set. Patty whipped Tom Lewyn of Scarsdale, NY, 7-5, 6-4; Rose turned back Grant Golden of Wilmette, Ill., 6-3, 6-2; McGregor polished off John Hernandez of San Antonio, 6-1, 6-1, and Richardson took care of Ed Kauder of Los Angeles, 6-2, 6-2.

Hastings Juniors Eliminate Elgin

HASTINGS, Aug. 1—(ENS)—Hastings juniors advanced into the finals of the district league when they defeated Elgin 11-6 for the second win in their best of three series.

West hurled for juniors and after the second inning was ahead all the way. His support was good and Wilson in particular played a bang-up game on second base.

Scott pitched for Elgin and although he scattered 12 hits fairly well, his support was shaky at times.

Hastings juniors now will meet the winners of the Tanner-Legion series.

Elgin—P. Fife 2b, A. Wilson c, J. Richardson ss, E. Preston 1b, B. Scott, P. Kelly 3b, A Thistlewaite sf, Payne rf, C. Metcalfe lf.

Juniors—P. Stevenson ss, K. Oliver c, J. Morrow 3b, D. West p, Wilson 2b, T. Brown rf, D. Montgomery cf, K. Humphries lf, B. Orr 1b.

Royals Split With Leafs, Bankhead Loses

By The Associated Press.

Dan Bankhead, 30-year-old righthander of Montreal Royals, is having a rough time in his second stay in the International League.

Bankhead made his second start last night since arriving from Brooklyn Dodgers and suffered his second defeat as the Royals dropped the second game of a doubleheader to Toronto Maple Leafs 3-2.

The veteran Negro, who won 20 and lost six for the Royals in 1949 departed in the seventh inning after Les Fleming tagged him for a two-run homer that gave the Leafs a 3-0 lead.

Lefty Hal Hudson blanked the Royals until the ninth when Bob Morgan slammed a two-run homer. The victory was Hudson's 11th.

The Royals copped the seven-inning opener 1-0 behind the two-hit pitching of lefty Chris Van Cuyk, Morgan doubled home pinchrunner Johnny Welaj with the only run in the final inning.

Brilliant Pitching

Brilliant pitching by Ed Wright and George Bamberger enabled Ottawa Giants to take a doubleheader from Buffalo Bisons, 4-0 and 9-0. Wright blanked the Bisons on two safeties in the seven-inning opener and Bamberger shut Buffalo out on four hits in the nightcap.

The Giants sewed the nightcap up with seven runs in the seventh inning. Rudy Minarcin suffered his first loss after 10 straight victories in the nightcap.

The setbacks dumped the Bisons out of second into third place in favor of Syracuse Chiefs who dropped a 6-3 decision to Springfield Cubs. Vern Fear limited the Chiefs to six hits.

Baltimore Orioles turned back Rochester Red Wings 8-4. Blix Donnelly scattered eight Red Wing hits including first-inning home runs by Jay Van Noy and Steve Bilko.

Pari-Mutuel Record Set At Thorncliffe

TORONTO, Aug. 1 (CP). — A Canadian record for a pari-mutuel pay-off on harness racing was established at Thorncliffe raceway Tuesday when Exeter Lady won the fifth race and paid $283.60 for a $2 ticket.

Exeter Lady, owned by John Morrissey, of Crediton, Ont., paid $68.50 to place and $9.95 to show. Piloted by Lloyd Turvey, she was favored by good racing luck.

The previous highest price on a harness race was $257, paid by Daniel at Thorncliffe on July 3, last year.

Some Sport Views

By DON GRANT

Many Peterborough baseball, lacrosse and hockey fans are under the impression that when a player reaches an age from 27 to 32 years he is about ready to retire.

This is not so. For these players, according to proved statistics, are just reaching the peak of their playing careers, 27 to 30 year old. In many cases, varying with the game, the athlete still has from three to eight good years left.

+ + +

Admittedly some of the active players on Peterborough teams are over that age bracket but the majority have not yet reached it.

As an example, on the senior baseball team this year there are Six at the most in that group or one or two years over it. All the others have yet to reach their best time.

Statistics show that in the major baseball league the average player reaches his peak when about 28 years old; pitchers usually are at their best slightly earlier, sometimes two years.

Most of the big league batting champions have been in the age bracket from 25 to 30 while the pitching champions' peak period stretches as high as 31 years.

+ + +

Last year's Orfuns were about half and half over the statistics' age peak, 24 years. But in the last couple of years an effort has been made to encourage younger players, usually from PCVS and St. Peter's High teams, into the intermediate ranks.

Big Four and Western Canada football teams all have stars who are well above this peak.

+ + +

City and district hockey teams will likely thoroughly disagree with the estimated peak for professional players which is 24-25 years.

After the Second World War the two Peterborough teams were mostly composed of players over these ages. Since then, however, the senior players have been gradually giving way to junior players.

The district towns' teams are still loaded with veterans. In fact several teams last winter had players in the group from 16 years to 21 years and another group from 30 to 40 years.

There is still the odd hockey player from 45 to 55 years in the county who refuses to retire.

+ + +

Lacrosse players were forgotten entirely in the statistical report. But that sport's peak would be much the same as hockey's and the situation in Peterborough much the same as far as the senior Petes are concerned.

For the golfers and the tennis players the peaks are: golf, amateur (25-29 years), open champions (25-34 years), professional champions (30-34 years); tennis, 25-27 years.

+ + +

Best of luck to Don Wood, Ralph Wood, Jim Starr, John Boorman, Terry Reid, Ross Dobbin, Wilton Tranter and Alec Baptie in the international invitation swimming meet at Watertown, New York, this weekend. They have entered the meet which is sponsored by the United States Amateur Athletic Union and the Watertown Chamber of Commerce.

Last year Boorman won two championships competing with swimmers from Columbia University, London, Montreal, St. Petersburg, Detroit, Washington, New York and Toronto.

Women Drivers Put On Fine Show

TORONTO, Aug. 1 (CP).—The ladies stole the show at Thorncliffe raceway Tuesday when six women drivers put on a display of harness racing. Mrs. Alex. Williams, of Beamsville, out-finished five rivals and drove Maud Gratten to a fine win in a feature dash.

Nursing her mare along behind the pace of Bert Patch, Jr., driven by Mrs. Victor Lutman, of Toronto, Mrs. Williams didn't make her move until she reached the quarter-pole. Then she went to work, whipping left-handed, and drove to the front as the field straightened out for home. The crowd gave her an ovation as she sent her mare flying under the wire.

Male scoffers were silenced when the time of 2:10 2-5 was posted for the race. It was the second fastest dash of the afternoon and Maud Grattan raced within a second of her lifetime record.

US Hockey League To Decide Fate

OMAHA, Neb., Aug. 1 (AP)—Governors of the United States Hockey League are to meet here today to decide the fate of the circuit. There has been speculation it may suspend operations for a year.

The governors and president Ron Cook met here in June but put off any decision on the league's future. Since then, one of the members, Milwaukee, has applied for a franchise in the American Hockey League. Another, St. Paul, has announced it will enter a team in the Minnesota semi-pro circuit.

The remaining members are Denver, Kansas City, Tulsa and Omaha.

Today also is the last day in office for Cook under the one-year contract awarded him a year ago.

Win Over Mimico 13-10 Juniors Lengthen Lead

TORONTO, Aug. 1.—Peterborough's junior representatives in the Ontario Lacrosse Association are out to make sure their big brothers, the Timber Structures, don't hog all the publicity limelight.

Just to make sure of getting their share, Lou Vitarelli's juniors stepped into the Drummond St. bowl in Mimico Tuesday and handed the junior version of the Mounties a 13-10 trimming, thanks to the sharp shooting of "Rock" Batley.

This win lengthened the Peterborough juniors league in the OLA standing to five points ahead of the second-place Mimico entry. The Petes face rough opposition this week when they place the third-place Niagara Falls boxla team Thursday in Niagara and Saturday night in Peterborough.

Mimico managed to hold down the lighter visitors to a 5-5 deadlock until half time but the Petes gradually pulled away from that point. They lead 9-7 at the end of three-quarters and added four in the final quarter to finish going away.

Next to Batley in the scoring honors came Farley, O'Reilly, and Brian Robinson, each with two goals while Freddie Sandford and Joe Mihlison were the best for Mimico, each scoring two markers.

Police Called In To Help Find Horse Race Fixes

FORT ERIE, Ont., Aug. 1 (CP)—Police have been called in to help the Ontario Racing Commission in its investigation of suspected fixing of race horses at Fort Erie track.

Their appearance has accentuated the seriousness of a situation, which though shrouded in official secrecy, has been subject to a host of spectacular rumors.

Assigned to duty here are two senior criminal investigation officers of the Ontario Provincial Police. They are Staff Inspector W. G. Tomlinson of the anti-gambling squad and Inspector Charles Wood. Police operations are being directed by Chief Inspector Albert Ward of the criminal investigation branch who is in Toronto.

The only word from the commission thus far in the protracted investigation was last Friday when two jockeys were ruled off Ontario tracks for life "for conduct prejudicial to the best interests of racing."

But since then there have been stories about a widespread betting coup operated by gamblers and racketeers and involving other jockeys.

Longshots

Some bookies in Toronto, Hamilton, Buffalo, NY, and other cities in the district are reported to have dropped thousands of dollars to bettors who wagered heavily on longshots at Fort Erie.

A week ago, bookies in Buffalo, across the border from Fort Erie, refused to accept place and show wagers on horses running at the track.

This action suggested they suspected attempts were being made to fix second and third place rather than first.

Explaining this method of race fixing, a leading horseman said:

"Take an impossible horse who by his form has shown nothing. Bring him in for place. Wager place and show and you still do good."

Estimates of losses taken by Toronto bookies are about $75,000 and there are reports of refusal to pay off on some big Fort Erie bets.

Hear Jockeys

The commission, meanwhile, continued its investigation today, apparently intending to call before it every jockey who has raced at the Fort Erie meet.

Tupper Bigelow, chairman of the commission, indicated there will be no announcement for another week—until the investigation ends. He said the commission will move to Hamilton next week-end when racing switches from Fort Erie. The announcement would probably be made in Hamilton.

Yesterday the committee heard from jockey Joe Stanton. It was also reported that another jockey, Alfred Nash of Mimico, Ont., had been placed under police protection after disclosing that he had turned down a $200 offer to throw a race. He rode the race and won.

Just what has been going on at the commission meetings is not known, but at least one man who appeared before it came away dissatisfied.

He was trainer Frank Merrill, Jr., one of the most successful at the meet. Storming out of the meeting, he said he was going to sell most of his stable of horses at public auction here Thursday.

Merill said he appeared before the commission to volunteer what he thought was important information concerning alleged payment of $300 to one jockey by another. He said he was not pleased with the reception the commission gave him.

Sportsman Dies

MILWAUKEE, Aug. 1 (AP).—Bill Shaver of Richmond, Calif., 50-year-old tournament supervisor of the Professional Golfers Association, died yesterday of heart disease.

Shaver became the PGA tournament supervisor in June. During his career in sports he had served as a National Hockey League referee, as sports writer for the Seattle, Wash., Post Intelligencer and as an assistant golf pro at the Richmond Country Club.

Louis To Fight Cesar Brion

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 1 (AP)—Aging Joe Louis, whose great ambition is to become the first ever to win back the heavyweight championship, battles it out tonight with Argentina's best prospect of 25 years—Cesar Brion.

Their 10-round right at the Cow Palace, expected to return better than $50,000 in gate receipts is highly important to both.

Louis will be at the end of the road if defeated. The ex-champion must win this one or else his chances of getting a crack at the crown will be gone, probably forever.

At 37, Joe hasn't many years left for the ring. Louis beat Brion for a 10-round decision last November in Chicago but the 24-year-old contender from the Argentine has improved greatly since then.

Louis has been established a 4-1 favorite to defeat the South American champion in their second meeting.

Louis is expected to weigh 212 pounds. Brion is a 195-pounder.

Policemen Upset Bell Telephone With 11-8 Win

Shoving four runs across in the seventh inning the Policemen upset the Bell Telephone nine in the Civic League softball Tuesday night 11-8.

Sparked by Crough, Eadie, Menzies and Forestall, the Policemen tallied twice in the second only to have the Bell Telephone reply with two as Ackford, Gillespie, Davis and Scott connected at the plate.

The Bell crew went up to a run in the third as James was sent home when Jamieson and Ackford again applied pressure on the policemen's pitcher, Jack McKendry.

But the policemen began to pull away in the fourth and fifth. Forestall and Naismith started a rally in the fourth which netted two runs and in the fifth Eadie, Menzies and Forestall again led the policemen at the plate to a three-run drive to make the score 7-3.

The Bell, with Tushingham, James, Greatrix and Davis leading the way, pulled to within one run of the policemen to the sixth. But the policemen for a third time were rallied by Eadie, Forestall and Naismith in the seventh inning to preserve the win with four runs.

Gillespie, Scott and Donaldsn tried to ward off defeat with two runs in the Bell's half of the seventh.

Line-ups:

Bell Telephone— Tushingham, James, Greatrix, Jamieson, Ackford, Gillespie, Davis, Scott, Donaldson Gurein.

Policemen — Conlin, Rowe, Smith, McKendry, Crough, Eadie, Menzies, Forestall, Naismith.

Cleveland Looms As Threat To Yanks With Win Streak

By JOE REICHLER,
Associated Press Sports Writer.

Cleveland's onrushing Indians loomed today as the chief threat to New York's hopes of retaining its American League crown now that Boston's Red Sox are showing signs of losing their magic touch at Fenway Park.

Continuing to rebound from two straight lickings at Yankee Stadium, the Indians last night made it four victories in their last five games by conquering the Senators in Washington, 5-3.

The triumph gave the Tribe undisputed possession of second place, two games behind the Yankees and one in front of the third-place Red Sox.

The Red Sox, inabsorbing a shocking 8-6 setback at the hands of the lowly St. Louis Browns, now have lost four out of seven since returning to Fenway Park.

Chicago's plunging White Sox dropped a 4-2 decision to Philadelphia Athletics. The defeat, the 10th in their last 11 games, dropped the fourth place White Sox a discouraging 7½ behind the idle Yankees.

Dodgers Serene

The arrival of August finds the Brooklyn Dodgers sailing along serenely with a 9½-game advantage in what is laughingly called the National League pennant race. The runaway Dodgers ran their victory skein to 10 in a row with an 8-3 win in Pittsburgh.

New York's runner-up Giants kept pace with a 4-3 victory in Chicago. Philadelphia's defending champion Phillies swept past St. Louis into third place with a 7-5 triumph in Cincinnati while Boston Braves were shutting out the Cardinals 6-0.

Bob Feller, baseball's biggest winner, notched his 16th triumph as the Indians rallied for three runs in the top of the ninth to overcome a 3-2 Washington lead.

Two big innings—a three-run fifth and a four-run seventh — helped the Browns to victory over the Red Sox. Third baseman Fred Marsh singled to spark the fifth-inning uprising and singled again to drive in two mates in the seventh.

Forced Out

Ned Garver, Brownie ace, appeared on the way to his 14th victory but was forced to leave in the fifth inning after pulling a muscle in his left leg. He suffered the injury in the top of the fifth while diving back to first after driving in his second run with a single.

Although leading 4-2 when he left, Garver did not get credit for the win. The league rule, changed last year, states that a starter must work at least five innings to gain credit for the win. Satchel Paige, who took over, picked up the victory.

Hank Majeski, obtained from Chicago in a mid-season deal, paced the Athletics to their win over the White Sox. The slugging third baseman made three of Philadelphia's eight hits, scored three runs and homered against his former mates.

Don Newcombe hurled his 15th win for Brooklyn as the Dodgers hammered Howie Pollet and three successors for 16 hits. Newcombe starred at bat, too, with three hits. Duke Snider and Pee Wee Reese homered for the league leaders.

Bobby Thomson drove in all New York's runs with a pair of homers in the Giants' 4-3 victory over the Cubs. Jim Hearn was credited with his 10th victory although he heeded help from Sheldon Jones and Sal Maglie.

The Phils, still smarting from manager Eddie Sawyer's tongue-lashing on slacking, rallied for six runs in the ninth to overcome a 5-1 deficit and whip the Reds. Del Ennis' three-run homer off Howie Fo highlighted the assault.

Rookie Chet Nichols hurled the shutout for the Braves, limiting the Cards to four singles for his fifth victory.

Movie Column

Star Criticizes Control By Film Lots

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 1 (AP).—You can't accuse this film personality of seeking publicity. In fact, she wouldn't even allow her name to be used in this story.

The player, who name every movie goer knows, agreed to tell me about the wonders of studio contracts. But, lest she get into trouble with her bosses, she insisted on speaking anonymously. So we'll call her Miss X.

"Everything I do is theirs," Miss X began. "And I mean everything. If I write a book, coin a joke, paint a picture — they belong to the studio. Of course, this right is usually not exercised but it is their privilege.

"Furthermore, any use of my face or my name is strictly their property. I cannot appear in an ad testimonial without their permission."

Change Appearance

The actress added that her contract gives the studio the right to alter her appearance. She said this became almost humorous in her early days as a starlet.

"First, they didn't like my teeth," she recalled. "The teeth were supposed to be too short; they didn't show up when I smiled. So they got some caps to make them appear longer. The caps rattled around in my mouth, so I secretly got rid of them.

"Then the makeup head didn't like my nose. He wanted to make it bigger with a rubber piece. He started to make a plaster cast of my face, putting straws up my nose so I could breath through. But I got claustrophobia and couldn't stand the plaster on my face. So I got to keep my own nose."

4 British Destroyers Arrive In Middle East

BASRAH, Iraq, Aug. 1 (Reuters)—Four British destroyers arrived today in the Shatt-El-Arab River, which divides Iran and Iraq, brinigng British naval forces in the Persian Gulf area to their greatest strentgh since the end of the war.

One of the destroyers, Chevron, moored alongside the cruiser Euryalus, which is standing by off Abandan, Iranian oil centre whose big refinery closed today.

The other three — Chequers, Chivalrous and Chieftain—sailed up river to Basra.

In addition to the four destroyers and Euryalus, the British naval force in the Persian Gulf area includes the cruiser Mauritius at Kuwait, the tank landing ship Messina at Basra, and two frigates, Wold Goose and Wren.

Quebec Lifts Rent Freeze, Control Starts

QUEBEC, Aug. 1 (CP)—Landlords and tenants who haven't come to an agreement since the federal government abandoned rent controls will have to argue it out before rent administrators starting today.

This is the day a province-wide freeze on rents, provided for by Quebec legislation, is lifted and Quebec's rentals control system begins its official operation. The freeze on rents and evictions was imposed April 30.

The law does not prevent voluntary agreements.

Montreal and Quebec are the two centres of rental control operation and thousands of landlords and tenants already have applied for a hearing by rent administrators.

Hearings begin here tomorrow in a Quebec Superior Courtroom.

• Roughly, there is one rent administrator for every 100,000 of population in cities and towns. His decisions may be appealed to a three-man rent control board headed by Magistrate Andre Regnier and composed of tenants' and landlords' representatives. Boar rulings will be final.

System Set Up

The whole rent system organization has had to be set up in three months and much of the personnel appointed to date is operating in public schools, vacant because of the summer holidays.

The system will be effective until May 1, 1953, and other quarters will have to be found for rent personnel when schools open in September.

In Quebec City, 300 to 400 persons have been given advice by rent officials since headquarters opened in a downtown school.

A rent control hpokesman said tenants outnumber landlords 10 to 1 at rent headquarters with requests for rent cuts, extension of leases and various information.

Quebec's rent system is based on a law passed at the lat session of the Legislature. This law is supplemented by orders-in-council which have been passed from time to time by the provincial cabinet. Legal advisers are at the public's disposal to explain technicalities.

A rent official said "a very large number of people have reached agreements on their own, some of them after talking with us."

Deprived Of Ballet By "Police" Order

MOSCOW, Aug. 1(— (AP) — Russia's premier ballerina, Galina Ulanova, told Tuesday how she and other touring Soviet performers left Italy on 24 hours' notice from the Venice police to get out.

She related their experiences in an article in the English-language magazine News.

"Italian audiences which had displayed such great interest in our performances were deprived by this crude and inexplicable police move from attending concerts for which they already had bought tickets," the ballerina wrote.

Boy's 7th Pup Killed

CALEDON, Aug. 1 (CP)—Peter McArthur, 4, may not know what a speed trap is, but if he did he would probably be in sympathy with the one in this village. The lad lost his seventh pet to traffic speeding through Caledon when Rex, his hound pup, was killed by an automobile. The speed trap operating here since June 1 has led to summonsing of 391 drivers. Caledon is on No. 10 Highway, 30 miles northwest of Toronto.

Watch Lost 50 Years

DUNDALK, Aug. 1 (CP)—Fifty years ago, Charles Wale of Hopeville, Ont., lost his gold watch in a field here. Alex Richardson, 12, recently found it and returned it to Mr. Wale, now over 80. It was in fair condition, considering the length of time it lay in the field. The gold was tarnished and some of the wheels were rusty.

Editor Retires

HUNTSVILLE, Aug. 1 (CP) — Harmond Edmund Rice Tuesday announced his retirement after 52 years as editor of the weekly Huntsville Forester. He will be succeeded by his son, Paul Herbert Rice. H. E. Rice served 11 years as mayor of Huntsville, is a past president of the Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association, the Muskoka Tourist Development Association and the Muskoka Children's Aid Society.

Youth Caught in Chase

ORILLIA, Ont., Aug. 1 (CP) — Clifford Snoulton was taken to hospital Tuesday after an 85-mile-an-hour chase by police ended in the car he was driving crashing south of here. Snoulton received a broken nose and facial cuts. Police said they spotted the Snoulton car, without licence plates and which they said was stolen, and gave chase.

Chance Of India War Concerns Canada

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1 (AP)—Ambassador Hume Wrong voiced Canada's concern Tuesday over talk of war between India and Pakistan.

The ambassador called on George McGhee, Assistant Secretary of State, to exchange information about the troubles between the two Asiatic countries.

"My government," he told reporters after his conference with McGhee, "is very concerned over the tense situation. I can't imagine anything worse at this time than a private war between India and Pakistan."

Woman Missing

KILLARNEY, Ont., Aug. 1 (CP) —Provincial police, aided by 35 residents, Tuesday night searched for Mrs. Kate Tyson, 65. Mrs. Tyson left her home here Monday morning to pick berries; a search was started when she failed to return that night. Her berry pail and a cup have been found but no trace of the woman has been uncovered.

Import Horses

VANCOUVER, Aug. 1 (CP) — Horsemeat dealers in Vancouver said Tuesday that they have 10,000 customers and to meet the demand supplies are being imported from the United States. Sky-high beef and pork prices have brought buyers' resistance, packers reported. Retail prices for horsemeat are about 43 cents a pound for steaks and top quality roasts.

Catholic Centenary

CAP DE LA MADELEINE, Que., Aug. 1 (CP)—The national Roman Catholic shrine here will mark Aug. 15 the centenary of the first Canadian provincial synod when a formal request had been made to the Pope for the establishment of the Three Rivers diocese. Held in Quebec City, the synod brought together bishops from Quebec, Montreal, Ottawa, Kingston and Toronto.

Bonuses Allowed

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1 (AP)—The Wage Stabilization Board Tuesday extended indefinitely its allowance of cost-of-living wage increases hitched to the government price index. The cost-of-living allowances by which millions of workers are allowed pay advances beyond the 10-per-cent automatic boost permitted by the board, would have expired at midnight Tuesday night.

Freight Rate Costs Push Up Oil Price

Gasoline Price Stays Same In City; Fuel Oils Boosted

Imperial Oil, Ltd., today announced price increases to cover the 12-per-cent increase in freight rates which became effective July 26.

The increases are in prices for gasoline and light fuel oils at points where the increased rail charges apply, and are effective immediately.

In Peterborough, price changes will affect domestic fuel oil, stove oil, and diesel oil. It is expected that domestic fuel oil will sell for about 19 cents a gallon.

No Gas Increase

There wil be no increase in the price of gasoline here, R. B. Baker, Imperial's representative in Peterborough, said.

Lakeshore points that are supplied direct by lake tankers, such as Cobourg, Kingston, Belleville, will not be affected by price increases.

There are also increases in fuel oils where imports are a large factor in supply and this applies also to gasoline in British Columbia.

No Comment

Officials of three other major oil companies, queried in Toronto, had no comment to make on the Imperial oil increases.

Of the increases as a result of the import situation, Imperial comments:

"These increases reflect higher costs resulting from the very large import requirements. Light fuel oil demands in the east and gasoline and fuel oil demands on the west coast exceed Canadian refinery capacity and have been rising rapidly. The prairie area is not affected by the import problem because it has become self-sufficient."

In the case of gasoline the announced increases are at the wholesale level; that is, delivered to the service station. In the case of light fuel oils, the increases are at the retail level, or delivered to the householder.

The increases include:

Ontario—Light fuel oil up one cent a gallon with the exception of eastern part, where advance is 7/10ths, and northern areas where increases range up to 1 8/10ths. Gasoline up 8/10ths in northern areas, but southern areas not affected.

Housing Retreat

No $17,000 Houses Planned

Peterborough has apparently retreated this year from the $17,000 type of house that is indicated in the building permits issued at the city hall.

Comparative figures are: 16 dwellings last month of estimated value of $139,600; against permits for 19 houses in July last year valued at $326,050.

On the basis of those figures the houses that were begun last month are at the $8700 level, in contrast with $17,100 houses a year ago.

The July total of permits was $550,428 as compared with $355,863 a year ago, and the total for seven months is only a few dollars different — $2,492,810 since Jan. 1 this year, and $2,464,908 for seven months last year.

Details are: July 1951, 24 garages, $5,986; 16 houses, $139,600; 86 miscellaneous, $404,842; total, 126 permits, $550,428.

And for July last year—20 garages, $5,750; 19 houses, $326,050; 76 miscellaneous, $24,063; total, 115 permits, $355,863.

Lt.-Col. Bradburn Buried Tuesday At Little Lake

"Life is spoken of as a journey, but it should be a march—a march with a purpose to be achieved and a destination to be reached.' This man knew well the meaning of a march and he played a full part in life and played it well."

These words were part of the tribute paid by the Rev. Dr. D. Bruce Gordon of Trinity United church to Lt.-Col. F. L. Bradburn, MC, at the funeral service Tuesday afternoon.

The service was held from the Comstock funeral home.

To Larger Service

"The service this man gave," Dr. Gordon said, "continued through two world wars and to the end of his life. He marched well in all the functions of his life. This is partly shown by the wide circle of friendship that surrounded him. Now he marches into a larger service for which his service on earth prepared him."

Lt.-Col. Bradburn died Sunday morning at his home, 629 Charlotte St., after an illness of several months. He served in both World Wars and was awarded the Military Cross for gallantry in 1917 at Passchendaele.

He was one time secretary of the Peterborough Golf and Country Club, a member of the Canadian Legion, Corinthian Lodge of the Masonic Order, the Peterborough Club and also of the R. A. Morrow Trust.

Honorary pallbearers at the funeral were A. L. Killaly, Gordon Munro, W. C. Ackerman, Hamilton Munro, J. L. Welsh, O. A. DeGraw, Lt.-Col. E. V. Birdsall, Lt.-Col. D. Laurie, Lt.-Col. J. A. Harstone, MC, Heber Rogers, Gordon K. Fraser, MP, Peter Mulholland, R. A. Abbott, B. D. Hall, T. J. Carley, H. A. Morrow, Lt.-Col. George Melton.

Pallbearers were Hugh Wadell, Lt.-Col. V. M. Eastwood, MC, Fred Hills, David Rogers, Gerald Wood and John Baird. Burial was in Little Lake cemetery.

Wasting Away

A $10 bill has remained in safe keeping in the Peterborough branch of the Royal Bank of Canada for more than two weeks. The stay of this particular bill is significant because it was neither deposited nor claimed in that period. On July 16 some bank customer left the bill on one of the counters, and it was later picked up by one of the bank staff. The staff are still waiting for someone to come in and claim the bill. One suggested the owner should claim it before prices take another hop.

Lived On Candy 4 Days, Returns

BELLEVILLE, Aug. 1 (CP).—Robert Anderson, 12, returned Tuesday from Trenton, ending a four-day absence from his Thurlow Township home.

Robert, who disappeared Friday after being sent to weed a strawberry patch on his father's farm, said he spent most of his time in Cobourg.

He bought candy with money received for soft drink bottles he found beside the roads and had meals only one day when he was guest of a Pentecostal mission in Cobourg.

He later wandered into a garage and watched an Ontario Provincial Police officer fix his motorcycle.

Ray Fox of Trenton recognized the boy and brought him home. Robert said he didn't know why he went away.

Sought Three Weeks For Car Theft; Caught Near Lindsay

Flushed out of hiding by an 18-man posse of police and civilians, Douglas Johnson, 19, of Lindsay was captured Tuesday noon at Taylor's Corners, five miles west of Lindsay.

Today he appeared before Magistrate E. A. Gee in Lindsay police court, charged with the theft of a car from Norman Stewart, Lucknow, three weeks ago. He was remanded in custody for a week.

About 10 district farmers and businessmen joined town and provincial police in searching the vicinity of Taylor's Corners where Johnson was seen earlier Tuesday morning by OPP Constable W. E. Warner, Lindsay detachment.

Johnson was seen making a telephone call from a service station.

Asked Help

Constable Warner knew that a warrent had been issued for the Lindsay youth's arrest and he asked for help to run him down.

OPP Corporal Milton and three provincial officers set out and they were joined by Chief Webster and three other constables from the city force—Percy Mark, Gord McCartney and Gord Eberts.

They made a preliminary search of the area and then concentrated on a corn field. A half hour after the cornfield had been thoroughly searched Constable McCartney saw Johnston dart across Highway 7, from the north to the south side.

Constable McCartney took after his quarry and cornered him in an empty house. Johnson was unarmed and the constable captured him without further resistance.

Johnson had slept the night before in a farmer's barn.

$400,000 Hospital Opened At Bowmanville

BOWMANVILLE, Aug. 1.—One of the best equipped hospitals in Canada, the $400,000 Bowmanville Memorial Hospital was opened before nearly 3,000 persons here Tuesday night.

Miss Gertrude Dewell, hospital superintendent, cut the ribbon opening the doors of the 50-bed institution, which includes a 20-bed nursery. Cornerstone of the new structure was laid by Welfare Minister Goodfellow in July last year.

Patients from the old Bowmanville hospital, which was erected in 1913, are to be moved into the new building sometime next week.

Ontario Health Minister Phillips reminded the crowd that when the original hospital was opened, the Provincial Government contributed only $230 in maintenance grants.

This, he said, had risen to $1,030 in 1943, and last year the Provincial Government paid $2,401 in regular maintenance grants plus a special grant of $600.

"To this new hospital the Department of Health contributed $56,666 as a capital grant on the basis of $1,000 per bed and $1,000 for every three cubicles, and the Federal Government gave a similar amount," he said.

The health minister said no Government could function if it were not for the co-operation of individuals and voluntary organizations willing to give their time, efforts, talent and money to worthy causes.

He was introduced by Reform Institutions Minister J. W. Foote, VC. Other speakers included John M. James, MP for Durham County, and Melville S. Dale, chairman of the hospital board.

CUSTOMS RECEIPTS

Peterborough customs office, customs and excise, receipts for July totalled $724,146.81. The total for July, 1950, was $430,992.65—an increase of $293,154.16.

Thief Passes Up $3,000 In Grocery Stock; Breaks In, Swipes One Package Of Dog Food

Never mind the wife and kids. Just make sure that Fido, the pet pooch, gets his rations.

That seems to have been the attitude of a thief who broke into th E. S. Doxsee grocery store, 634 Chamberlain St., during the dark hours of early morning.

A preliminary check on inventory by the proprietor, Elwood Doxsee, indicates that the thief passed up some $3,000 to $4,000 worth of groceries, meats, and other stock and took off with only a package of dog food.

Even some of this was strewn around outside the back of the store.

The malefactor — who must be the town's number one lover of little bow-wows—got into the store by breaking a foot-square window at the rear. Then he reached in and unfastened two sliding bolts.

There was no vandalism. None of the stock was thrown around. And the upstairs door, leading to the cash register, wasn't even touched.

Possibly he was frightened off before he got properly organized for a looting job, police say. In any case it was a bit of a flop as far as breakins go.

A bit of a flop to all but the pup who is today eating stolen food.

World War II Veterans Make Sidelines Pay On VLA Lots

Approximately 100 veterans of World War II living in the Peterborough-Lindsay area have qualified for property holdings under the Veterans Land Act, Alan Macnab, regional supervisor, Kingston, informed The Examiner today. One of the veterans who is established on a small acreage made $400 in strawberries this year, in addition to his regular earnings. Another who took early advantage of this government assistance has 18 suburban acres for which he has already been offered $20,000 for realty subdivision.

Income from the property this season will net him between $700 and $800, apart from his employment returns.

Enterprising Vets

Still another veteran in Mr. Macnab's region, but beyond Peterborough, bought a new car and paid for a trip to Florida for himself, his wife and two children last winter, from the revenue of five acres, and he did not have to cut into his salary.

These are examples of what enterprising veterans are accomplishing from the VLA holdings.

Mr. Macnab said that a large percentage of the veterans who are settled in their homes and on their land are getting a supplementary income from their properties that enables to pay their VLA commitments, plus taxes and insurance.

Applicants for VLA assistance must be veterans and must be employed with prospects of reasonable continuity of employment. Provisions of the act are available until 1955 or for a period of 10 years from date of discharge. Veterans can enter into this scheme with ordinary assurance of developing a stake for their future. They have their earnings, and with industry they can acquire additional income, some of them may have service pensions, and they may wind up possibly with industrial pensions. In the meantime they are building up a sound personal establishment, including homes of their own planning.

What many veterans have done, others can do, and there is yet time to avail themselves of the advantages of the VLA. And as for extra income, the $400 crop of strawberries did not involve too much work.

CHAIR SMOULDERS

A smouldering chesterfield chair at the home of Harold Nicholls, 402 McDonnel St., brought firemen to his home shortly before 5 p.m. Tuesday. A cigaret butt slipped down behind a cushion and caused minor damage before it was extinguished with a hand-pump by firemen. An incorrect address caused the firemen to make two runs.

C of C Hands Out Safety Stickers

In an effort to lower the number of fatalities in the Kawartha district, the Peterborough Chamber of Commerce is distributing water safety stickers provided by the Ontario Red Cross Society.

The stickers are transfers which may be placed on a boat or outboard motor and read as follows: "If upset or swamped hang on. Don't leave the boat. Space passengers equally along sides."

"Many drownings this summer have resulted because people tried to swim to shore," Jim Fraser, manager of the Chamber of Commerce, said. "We are hoping these transfers will be heeded and people will stay with the boats, and either drift into shore or be picked up."

One Peterborough retailer is cooperating with the chamber by placing transfers on all his boats and also outboard motors brought into his store for repairs or to be serviced.

The chamber is sending transfers to all its tourist operator members and all boat liveries in the district. Transfers can be obtained at the chamber office.

Local 527, United Electrical Workers, have been certified as bargaining agent for 27 production employees at Tilco Ltd., manufacturers of plastic novelties. The company did not oppose the application.

Preliminaries to negotiations on the first contract will begin next Tuesday between the company and the union.

Application for certification was made early in June and the OLRB hearing was July 17. The UE filed membership cards together with the required initiation fees.

Local 527 is a composite local, the present bargaining agent for production workers in Peterborough Lock, Raybestos, Ontario Marble, Moldaver Bros., and Tilco. Applications for certification are now before the OLRB from Hobbs Glass and DeLaval.

He was rushed to hospital and is under observation. His condition is reported as fair.

Two Drivers Tangle In Midnight Crash

Two motorists, intent on going east on Lansdowne St. shortly after midnight today, wound up in a tangle at the Haggart St. intersection.

Robert H. Darling, 357 Grady Ave., was going north on Haggart and started east on Lansdowne. Harry E. Jordison, RR 7, Peterborough, was going south on Haggart and when he made a left turn onto Lansdowne he was in collision with the Darling car just south of the centre line of the highway.

The rear fender of the Jordison car was torn and the front bumper and left front fender of the Darling vehicle. Damage totalled $40.

PCs Jack Wilson and William G. Scott investigated.

US, Canada Determined To Add Carrying Charges

LONDON, Aug. 1 (Reuters) — Canada and the United States emerged today from a meeting on the International Wheat Council still clinging to their right to impose a carrying charge on wheat they sell to foreign countries.

Under the International Wheat Agreement, signed in 1949, they sell wheat to importing countries at a maximum of $1.80 a bushel. They have since imposed a "carrying charge" of six cents a bushel which has been hotly attacked by the importers.

The assault on the charge, led by Britain at the fifth session of the secret council session Monday and Tuesday, produced no decision. The matter now is in the hands of the executive committee, which will report back to the council either at the next session in October or earlier.

Said Justified

The US and Canada contend the charge is justified by the unforeseen rise in other prices since the agreement was negotiated. They say this general price rise is working against their wheat producers, forced to sell at the fixed price.

The importing countries argue that the carrying charge violates the principle of the agreement. They said that if they paid the charge they did so under duress and without prejudice to their eventual rights.

As far as the US is concerned, the charge doesn't help producers, but only reduces by six cents a bushel the subsidy which the government pays them to maintain a price floor, the importers said.

Own Business

The fact the subsidy is costing the US far more than anticipated is not their business, the importers added, since it arises from the high price at which the government supports the domestic price of wheat.

The Canadians were told that their insistence on the carrying charge raised the principle of sanctity of contract. The Canadian reply was that Britain paid carrying charges under the old Anglo-Canadian wheat agreement, and should not object to them now.

Under the International Wheat Agreement, which has been signed by 46 countries, the US and Canada and Australia are the main exporting countries.

Le Droit Reporters Get Wage Boost

OTTAWA, Aug. 1—(CP)—J. A. Gratton, general manager of the French-language newspaper Le Droit, announced Tuesday night that a new wage agreement has been reached with Le Syndicat Des Journalistes D'Ottawa, representing editorial employees of the newspaper.

Pierre De Bellefeuille, spokesman of the union, an affiliate of the Canadian Catholic Confederation of Labor, said that as a result of a settlement, plans for a strike were cancelled. A previous strike vote had favored a walkout if negotiations failed.

New wage scales, retroactive to Jan. 1, are $27.50 to a maximum of $70.20 weekly for reporters after eight years' service. This compared with last year's scale of $25 to $55 a week after six years' service.

Edmonton Plans Booming Growth

EDMONTON—(CP)—The District Planning Cammission set up the Alberta government to plan the future growth of the Edmonton area, is celebrating its first birthday.

The big job of regulating the future use of 3,000 square miles surrounding Edmonton is in the hands of 20 people—five planning technicians and 15 commission members.

The 15 members represent the Alberta government, the City of Edmonton and nearby towns and municipalities into some of which growing Edmonton is already overflowing.

Three Diversions

At present the commission is considering a broad plan which would divide rural Edmonton into three classifications, taking care of residential areas, parks and institutions, farms and industry.

Planning technician Louis Plotgin, author of the plan, said the commission wants to prevent loose "splashing" development in favor of an economical, compact growth.

School and park land must be preserved before it is too late.

"We want to prevent the breakdown of farms into smaller units," said Mr. Plotkin, "because once there rae too many landowners, an industry's hands are tied when it tries to buy property."

"It may have to pay a king's ransom under those circumstances."

He said the Edmonton District Planning Commission is a pilot study of techniques which may later be applied in other parts of Alberta.

Mr. Plotkin, 28, is a native of St. Boniface, Man., and was graduated from the University of Manitoba in both architecture and town planning.

Health Officers Of Ontario Check Ottawa

OTTAWA, Aug. 1. (CP)—The Ontario Health Department has started a survey of Ottawa's Health Department in the wake of criticism of the quality of milk delivered in the city, it was disclosed Tuesday.

The survey, launched at the request of Dr. J. J. Day, city medical officer, will determine whether there is a shortage of health and sanitary inspectors in the Ottawa department and whether existing inspection is competent.

Dr. C. K. Johns, bacteriologist in the federal Agriculture Department, recently expressed concern over the quality of Ottawa milk. A bacteriologist in the federal Health Department, who preferred to remain anonymous, also tested some of the city's milk supply and described it as "pretty awful."

No Standard

Both men said Ottawa has no standard bacteria count. The recognized standard bacteria count is 200,000 in a cubic centimeter of ray milk and 30,000 in pasteurized milk.

Dr. Johns reported that after laboratory pasteurization of some raw milk received by Ottawa dairies the bacteria count was more than 200,000.

The bacteriologists and Dr. Ray said the high bacteria count was no cause for panic. Dr. Day said he would like to see the standards of milk improved and has asked for an additional milk inspector.

Ottawa obtains its milk from nearly 1,000 farmers within a 50-mile radius of the city. Only one full-time inspector now visits the shippers.

Canada's Rugby Teams Scramble For US Players

By WILFRED GRUSON

TORONTO, Aug. 1 — (CP) — Fierce rivalry among the clubs in the Big Four and Western Canada football leagues is filling the pockets of American players with Canadian cash.

As a direct result of what has become a supercharged struggle to get into the East-West final for the Grey Cup and the Dominion championship, most of the eight teams this year have sought high-priced American stars with reckless abandon.

In the process they have antagonized American club owners who have gone to the courts in the United States in an effort to stop what they call "player raiding" tactics. The rift may be hard to heal.

The influx of imports this season is the greatest yet in Canadian football. The number of "name" players heading north of the border has emphasized that Canadian clubs are stepping into competition with the US club owners for the best football talent available.

It has indicated that Canadian clubs no longer are content with imports whose best football days are over or those with dinky knees or thick shoulders which may not hold together for a season.

However, many club officials fear that the keen competition for high-salaried imports will eventually harm the Canadian game since they say most teams barely make a profit. Some would like to see a salary limit for Americans or a decrease in the number allowed each team, if not a complete ban.

Again this year the import limit is seven but under a new rule any American who has played four seasons in Canada no longer is considered an import.

Here And There In Sports

Lieut. Gilbert Boa, 27, of Toronto, winner of the King's prize at Bisley, Eng., last week, will receive a civic welcome when he arrives at Toronto Friday.

Boa is the seventh to win the prize for marksmanship since the meet was organized in 1860. The last Canadian to win it was B. M. Blair of Vancouver in 1929.

A special RCAF plane will be waiting to transport Boa to Toronto Friday when he arrives at Rimouski, Que.

Celebrations in Toronto will include receptions at the airport, at City Hall and in the officers' mess of the 48th Highlanders of Canada—Boa's regiment. Boa will also receive a purse from the city and there will be a parade in his honor.

The prices recalled the lush spending for yearlings in the early post-war days as the two-day-old auctions soared to an average $8,027. The all-time high is $9,920 in 1946.

Monday at the opening of the yearling sales, E. P. Taylor of Toronto paid $18,000 for a chestnut colt of War Admiral-Our Page.

Peach Sundae, defeating Wilmington's Star by a half length in 2:06 3-5, returned $6.70, $5.20 and $4.50.

Vonian Chief, owned by the Milky Way stable of Rockeville Center, NY, and driven by Joe O'Brien, the New Glasgow, NS, reinsman, took a two-length victory over the favored Gander, with David Caudle third. The winner, who paced the mile in 2:06 2-5, paid $7.40, $3.80 and $3.00.

William Peebles, 38, former Ontario amateur wrestling champion died in hospital at Toronto Tuesday.

Four more countries—making a total of 14—have accepted invitations to participate in the winter Olympic games to be held at Oslo next February.

Norway's Olympic committee was notified Tuesday that Australia will send three skaters and seven skiers. The Netherlands, Belgium and Austria also will be represented.

MARY MOORE SAYS:

Special Purpose Menu Of Broiled Halibut Steak

As I write this it is a lovely cool evening and the dishes are done and I'm purring because one of Marianne's admirers is cutting our lawn. Marianne and I have been doing this chore for a month and every ounce of male strength we can muster is pathetically welcome. When Pete returns at the end of August it will take him a week to clear up the jobs that are piling up.

We ate under the apricot tree tonight and, besides a few uninvited green bus, this is what we had for dinner. (We may have been very hungry but thought it was so good I should give it column room.)

Broiled Halibut Steaks (see notes)
Creamed Mixed Cauliflower and Green Beans
Porto Rico Salad (see notes)
Chilled Raspberry Roll (see notes)
Iced Coffee

Directions

Since eggs were 90 cents per dozen I dipped the halibut steaks in a little skim milk and then in crumbs. I placed them under the hot broiler and as soon as the crumbs browned I turned them over. (If fish steaks or fillets are turned over within about 3 minutes of being first put under a very hot broiler they turn over more easily as they have not had time to cook through.) I brushed the uncooked side with melted butter, and dredged it with salt and paprika and returned it to the hot broiler to finish. Do not overcook fish. All that does is dry it out. Serve with generous wedges of lemon.

This Porto Rico Salad (stuffed tomato) is a favorite of mine during August and September because it decorates the table so prettily for your guests' first look.

PORTO RICO SALAD

Scald, skin and chill six choice tomatoes of the same size. Remove about half of the pulp with a pointed spoon or knife. Fill the centres with some of the removed pulp mixed with about ¾ cup finely shredded cabbage (or 1/3 cup shredded cabbage and 1/3 cup cottage cheese) about 2 tablespoons chopped green pepper and 1 tablespoon chopped green onion or chives. Season with salt and paprika. When tomatoes are filled top with a generous spoonful of mayonnaise and serve on watercress or lettuce leaves, very cold.

CHILLED RASPBERRY ROLL

This is original as far as I know. I hope you like it.

Soak 1 teaspoon gelatine in 1 tablespoon cold water 5 minutes. Press enough raspberries through a fine sieve to give you ¾ cup of fresh raspberry puree. Add the soaked gelatine to it and stir over hot water until gelatine dissolves. Chill. Whip ½ pint cream. Chop 1 cup nuts. Have ready 30 vanilla wafers. Fold the chilled slightly thickened raspberry puree into the whipped cream. Spread each wafer with the raspberry-cream mixture, placing one on top of the other as you spread them, until all wafers are used. Press the roll together gently but firmly and place it on its side. Cover the outside with the raspberry-cream mixture. Sprinkle generously with the chopped nuts. Chill for at least 4 hours or overnight. Cut in diagonal slices and serve with whipped cheam.

Note; That whipped topping I've been mentioning will do for the above "rolls". Sprinkle ½ cup skim milk powder over ½ cup cold water. Chill. Beat for about 10 minutes or until consistency of marshmallow cream.

Buyers Try To Guess Dresses Princess Picked

By MURIEL NARRAWAY

LONDON, Aug. 1 — (CP) — Canadian and United States buyers here for the fall fashoin displays showed keen interest in designs by Norman Hartnell and Hardy Amies, the couture houses chosen by Princess Elizabeth to supply clothes for her Canadian tour.

Buyers hope to pick styles similar to those chosen by the Princess. This would mean big sales for the lucky few who guess correctly when the Royal wardrobe goes on view.

Hartnell—described by a fashion writer in the Glasgow Herald as "master of the well-bred styles that rarely date"—sticks to the classic, tailored lines and beautiful embroidered ball gowns that are associated with his name.

Brocades

Ball gowns vary from sheath-tight styles in glittering brocades with built-up necklines to net and tulle crinolines of tremendous width.

Browns and greens in tweed checks, smooth velours, velvets and worsteds are this year's choice for tailored suits and dresses topped by voluminous tent coats in long-haired velours with big sleeves and often lined with fur.

Hardy Amies presented one of the most spectacular models in this season's collections. A mannequin wearing pearl-tipped tiara made a regal entrance in a coat of pewter grey street velvet, narrow at the shoulder and flaring at the hem. The coat is trimmed at neck and cuffs with mink, opened to reveal a ballgown in grey and silver lace over grey net.

An outstanding day-time ensemble is a huge topcoat in black wool lined with copper silk taffeta worn over a dress of the same taffeta which has a swathed bodice, the swathing encircling the waist and forming a large bow on one side.

DOROTHY DIX

Daughter Married No-Good, Mother Crazy With Worry

DEAR MISS DIX: At the age of 15 my daughter decided to marry a boy 18, from a distant state. She threatened to run away, and as she could get a "quickie marriage near us, we finally gave our consent. She's been married 8 months and is 7 months pregnant. Her husband's conduct as a man and husband has violated every rule in the book. Now she's home and getting an allotment from the government as he's in the air force, but he comes around and makes up with her just in time to get the allotment. He tells her he has changed, and she believes him. I'm about crazy with worry and don't know what to do.

A WORRIED MOTHER

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: From your letter, here greatly condensed, I can see that you fought a hard but losing battle with your daughter. When a youngster gets obstinate as she did, the seeds of disaster are sown thickly. The advice of a good lawyer who might have a friendly interest in the case will help a lot.

He Must Support Her

In the meantime, I can only suggest that you make every effort to keep the allotment money out of this boy's hands, and make him assume all costs in the care of the wife and child. If he is made to realize that a family means the end of a carefree life for him, he may become so obnoxious that your daughter will see the light and consent to an annulment.

There is also the possibility that he might come to his senses and assume the role of parenthood as an adult, and your daughter may yet find happiness in this marriage. You will just have to stand by for a while, offering your prayers, love, and the security of your home—at least until your grandchild is born. Things will then undoubtedly take a definite turn—for the better I hope.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: A year ago I was married at the age of 18. Now I find myself becoming increasingly unhappy. My husband and I have absolutely nothing in common. We don't like the same kind of movies, books, music and we don't share the same opinions on any subject. He is a fine man, thoughtful and considerate. He is five years older than I. I find myself falling out of love and longing for the freedom of dates and good times with younger boys. Should I divorce my husband and look for a person more like myself or should I stay with the bargain I made in such haste?

ANSWER: Living in the past is supposed to be a pastime of oldsters; you're beginning it at 19! Come back to the present and face your current problems with a little sense. Stop yearning over the dates and good times you think you might have had if you were single—chances are they never would have been as romantic as your dreams make them.

Remember back to your marriage vows—until death, not until you and your husband has a disagreement about a movie! I don't wonder your thoughts seem childish to him; you have a very immature mind but there's no reason to keep in that way. Your husband seems to be a fine person, with infinite patience. You can learn a great deal from him, so instead of disagreeing with all his opinions, learn to share them and to discuss current topics on an equal basis. By raising your own mental level you'll get over the futile day-dreaming that now seems to occupy most of your time. If you can't work out this problem alone, consult the pastor of your church who will be happy to help you achieve a better balanced attitude towards life.

DEAR MISS DIX: I have been engaged for fifteen months; my fiance is 33, I am 27. However, marriage is fast receding into the background. He says he will not get married until he pays off some of his debts and if I want to get married soon I'll have to continue working. My people think he is a bad matrimonial risk and want me to break the engagement. I think he is using these obligations (which are, incidentally, gambling debts) as an excuse to delay marriage.

EMMA

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: Your summing up of the case seems to be essentially correct. The surest sign of love a man can manifest is the willingness — even eagerness— to provide a home for the girl he loves, and cherish her in the fullest sense of the vow he takes at the altar. The good intentions of a man who refuses this consideration to his fiancee are certainly open to doubt.

Of course you want to get married, but there is no prospect of security or happiness for you in this set-up.

6—In Memoriam

ATCHISON—In memory of Lyla Ilene Gallagher, who passed away Aug. 1st, 1949.
She was a flower too sweet for earth,
Sent here but for awhile,
God marked her when He gave her birth,
And took her with a smile.
The depth of sorrow we cannot tell
Of the loss of one we loved so well,
And while she lies in peaceful sleep,
Her memory we shall always keep.
—Ever remembered by father, mother, brothers and sister.

McKAY—In loving memory of our dear father, John McKay, who passed away July 29th, 1950.
In depths of sorrow, we cannot tell,
Of the loss of one we loved so well.
And while he sleeps a peaceful sleep,
His memory we shall always keep.
—Ever remembered by his family
Herb, Bertha, Arthur, Annie and Olive.

McLEOD—In loving memory of Donald J. McLeod, who passed away one year ago, August 1, 1950.
Gone, dear father, gone forever,
How we miss your smiling face,
But you left us to remember,
None on earth can take your place.
A happy home we once enjoyed,
How sweet the memory still.
But death has left a loneliness
The world can never fill.
—Ever lovingly remembered by his son, Hector, daughter-in-law Margaret and Hector and Kathie.

Ben-Gurion May Call 2nd Vote

TEL AVIV, Israel, Aug. 1 (AP) —Prime Minister David Ben-Gurion indicated today that new parliamentary elections may be called if he fails to form a stable new government for Israel.

The leader of the Mapai (Labor) party, which won 46 of the 120 seats in the Knesset (Parliament) in Monday's election, reiterated his belief that an absolute Labor party majority is necessary for Israel.

Writing in the party newspaper Davar, Ben-Gurion said the Mapai has been and will remain the pillar of the Israeli government "until elections for the third Israel parliament."

The Mapai will have to form a coalition with some other party to get the parliamentary majority needed for support of a new cabinet.

Ben-Gurion's dilemma is where to find the needed support without compromising his party's program of strong government direction of the country's economy. Failure to obtain it could make new elections necessary.

The Conservative General Zionists won 20 seats making it Israel's second-strongest party.

Ottawa City To Float $10 Million Loan

OTTAWA, Aug. 1 — (CP) — The city of Ottawa plan to float a $10,054,000 loan, the largest in its history.

Finance commissioner Percy Gordon told the board of control yesterday that a total of $8,561,000 will be obtained in the United States through the Dominion Securities Corporation and a syndicate of six American bond houses.

The debentures will bear interest at 3¾ per cent and will mature from 1955 to 1975.

The money will be used for new water and sewer facilities, purchase of new road equipment, additions to the Ottawa Civic hospital, public schools and collegiates and improvement of transportation facilities.

Morrison Article Printed In Pravda Urges Peace Red Newspaper Lashes Back

By CHARLES E. WHITING

LONDON, Aug. 1 — (AP) — Russia opened the Iron Curtain a crack today to let the Communist faithful read a "let's be friends" appeal from Britain's Foreign Secretary, Herbert Morrison.

The party newspaper, Pravda, published the Morrison statement and, in the same issue, lashed back with a bitter reply denouncing all he said as lies or distortions.

The unprecedented east-west exchange resulted from a challenge by Morrison last June daring Pravda to print his views. Pravda agreed, provided the British press would give equal prominenece to its reply. Six London newspapers published the full text o fthe exchange today.

Peaceful People

Said Morrison:

"We are a peaceful people who want to feel secure" but can't while Russia maintains "vast armed forces and military establishments."

Why not, he asked, topple the barriers set up by Russia across Europe and allow a free exchange of news, broadcasts, and even tourists?

Oh, no, Pravda answered, the British and Americans are warmongers and, we cannot allow freedom to "thieves, subversive agents, terrorists and assasins."

Morrison pegged his appeal to the Russian people on the argument that ignorance breeds fear and fear leads to violence. He said the possibility of third world war would be lessened if Russia lifted restriction and permitted Western views and visitors to circulate freely.

Offer Space

Meanwhile, Russia's new English language propaganada magazine, News, offered to open its columns to American writers for the purpose of promoting "friendly relations." The offer was directed specifically to the New York Times.

(In New York, the Times said it had no comment.)

In his 1,500-word statement, Morrison called untrue the Soviet propaganda line that Britain, in alliance with other European countries and the United States, is "arming to the teeth to attack the Soviet Union."

He said the main purpose of the Atlantic Pact is to avoid war and preserve the peace.

The foreign secretary said his government had intended to devote its energies to the economic recovery of Britain, but was forced to switch to rearming when it realized that Russia had adopted a post-war policy "whose only purpose seems to be to stir up trouble and international hatred."

Pravda, which has a circulation of more than 2,000,000, rejected Morrison's charge that there is no freedom in Russia.

No Freedom

"In no country is there such freedom of speech, and freedom of organization for workers, farmers, and intellectuals as in the Soviet Union," it said in a 2,600-word rebuttal. But the paper added:

"In the USSR freedom of speech, freedom of the press and freedom of organization does not exist for the enemies of the people, for the landlords and capitalists overthrown by the revolution. Nor does it exist for incorrigible thieves, for subversive agents, terrorists and assassins sent in by foreign secret services."

It said the prisons and labor camps of Russia exist "for all these criminals."

As for allowing BBC broadcasts to reach Russian tears untortured by jamming, Pravda argued:

"They are known to be aimed primarily at encouraging the enemies of the Soviet people in their efforts to restore capitalistic exploitation."

Most London newspapers ran editorials welcoming the Morrison-Pravda exchange as perhaps opening a chink in Russia's propaganda armor.

But the Daily Express, which devoted only half a column to the story, commented editorially:

"Only the cable companies benefited from the exchange."

The Times (independent) regretted that "to minds long prepared against it, an exposition such as Mr. Morrison's may not have much chance of acceptance as a complete chain of argument." But, the newspaper added:

"Many Soviet citizens, passionately interested in world events, have developed a talent for reading between the lines of their own newspaper, and they are eager to read and hear foreign opinions. . . on the whole it (the exchange) has been worth while."

The Daily Telegraph (Conservative) saw "one very solid advantage" in that "the Russian people will have had the satisfaction of reading for once something about the outside world which normally is presented to them only through the distorting lens of Soviet propaganda."

Disappointing

The News Chronicle (Liberal) called the exchange "disappointing" in the Morrison's simple statement of "the British way and purpose has produced an unbending restatement of the Communist party line."

The foreign office spokesman told a press conference:

"The Feebleness of iths (Pravda's) refrences to the liberty of the individual in the U.S.S.R. seems to suggest that the Soviet government is extremely sensitive on this score."

The spokesman said Pravda's reply contained "admissions there are forced labor camps; that other freedoms are very qualified, both freedom of speech and of the press, and of jamming of BBC broadcasts to Russia."

As for Russia's claims to demobilization and disarmament, the spokesman said that in June 1945, Russia had over 10,000,000 men under arms, and the British armed forces totalled 5,120,000.

In June, 1950, Britain's armed forces numbered 690,000; Russia's 4,600,000, he added. Since then, spokesman said, Britain's armed forces have been increased slightly.

Dick Huffman Refuses Return

WINNIPEG, Aug. 1 (CP). — Tackle Dick Huffman said last night that under no circumstances would he return to play football with Los Angeles Rams.

Yesterday, Huffman was restarined by court action at Charleston, W. Va., from playing with Winnipeg Blue Bombers of the Western Football Union.

At his Winnipeg home Huffman said he's "very sorry but I don't think I can make it. I've already spent four years with the Rams."

Asked if he would definitely play for Bombers — he's been working out nightly — Huffman said:

"I've got a house rented here, and I understand there's good fishing and duck hunting around these parts. That's all right with me."

UK Atom Bomb Tests In Australia Denied

SYDNEY, Australia, Aug. 1— (Reuters). — Supply Minister Howard Beale who is in charge of the Woomera rocket range in Central Australia, today denied reports from London that Britain's first atomic bomb might be exploded at the range soon. He said he knew "nothing at all" about such plans.

The London report said Britain's experiments in atomic bomb production had reached a point where a test explosion was necessary.

Prominent KC Dies In Orillia

ORILLIA, Ont., Aug. 1—(CP) —Earl Carman Awrey, KC, prominent Windsor barrister and former crown attorney of Essex County, died at his summer home on nearby Carthew Bay, last night.

Mr. Awrey, 62, suffered a heart attack. Funeral will be Friday at Orillia.

A native of Fruitland, near Hamilton, Mr. Awrey spent most of his active law career in the Windsor area. Following his graduation from Osgoode Hall in 1914, he joined with his lifelong friend, W. H. Furlong, KC, in a two-office practice—one in Leamington, one in Windsor. Mr. Awrey took charge of the Leamington office in 1915, while Mr. Furlong opened the Windsor office.

The partnership was dissolved in 1919, with Mr. Awrey remaining in Leamington until 1926, when he again joined the Furlong firm in Windsor.

Mr. Awrey also took a deep interest in the affairs of the Conservative party. At one time he was president of the Essex East Progressive Conservative Association.

Mr. Awrey was named a King's counsel in 1929, and was appointed to succeed James S. Allan, KC, as crown attorney for Essex County late in 1943. He remained in his post until September of last year when he returned to private practice.

Hong Kong Slashes Exports To China

HONG KONG, Aug. 1 (Reuters). — This British Crown colony has drastically slashed the volume of her exports to Communist China in recent months though soaring prices have caused the value of exports to fall only fractionally.

Official figures for June show that exports to China fell to $24,675,000 compared to $25,550,000 in May.

The decrease in volume was approximately 31 per cent.

19 Youngsters On Trip Of 4,500 Miles

By JACK GRAY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

TORONTO, Aug. 1— (CP) — Nineteen tanned and excited youngsters set off today on another leg of a glorified camping trip—a 25-day, 4,500-mile tour of northern states and Eastern Canada that ultimately will take them as far as the Maritime Provinces.

It's the first trip to Canada for the boys, ranging from 10 to 16 years old. They'll visit most major Eastern Canadian cities before returning to their homes in and around Wheeling, W.Va., on Aug. 23.

They'll also get a good taste of camping out. Wherever possible they'll sleep on the ground.

"We've spread our tent everywhere — on picnic grounds, in forests and even city parks," said 23-year-old Rod Hibner, boys' work secretary of the Wheeling YMCA and one of three YMCA officials on the tour.

"This is our travel camp," he said, slapping the side of the bus that brought them here from Erie, Pa., the previous stop. "We have an electric refrigerator, our own four-burner cook stove, run by butane gas—and even our own drinking water, 55 gallons of it."

Purpose of the trip is to further the YMCA camping program, encourage the boys' self-sufficiency and give them a first-hand knowledge of parts of North America. It's the third year of the two-a-summer tours. Last year one group of Wheeling boys went to Florida while another visited the Western United States and Mexico.

Hibner shares the driving with Jimmy Burdette, 26-year-old physical director of the Wheeling YMCA.

"You Canadians are really co-operative," said Charles E. Petty, 45, the other official on the tour. "A truck driver we spoke to today learned we were heading for the YMCA and told us to follow him. He took us through the Canadian National Exhibition grounds and by less heavily travelled roads to where we wanted to go."

They'll sleep in parks where possible — at Kingston, in Lake Ontario park, before going on to the Thousand Islands. At Ottawa it's be in Britannia park on Aug. 3 before travelling to Montreal and Quebec City.

On their schedule are some of the beauty spots of Eastern Canada, including Laurentides National Park and Acadia National Park in the Maritimes. They're scheduled to swing back into the States, to Portland, Me., Aug. 16.

The kids pay their own way, each putting up $150 for the tour.

Pair Run Farm, Town, Restaurant

TORONTO, Aug. 1 (CP) — Royalty waits on table in a West Toronto restaurant. It also runs a farm at suburban Beamsville where blond Prine Victor Hohenlohe of the Hapsburgs is a peach farmer with a white house and 22 acres of land.

"I never knew how a peach-tree looked before," says Prince Victor whose father's sister, Zita, married Emperior Charles, last emperior of Austria. He came to Canada three years ago and later married the Countess Luettichau who was in New York.

Meanwhile few persons know that the pretty, dark-haired waitress in Fran's Restaurant in West Toronto is Lika Bicaku whose husband, Richard, is a cousin of Albania's exiled King Zog.

Two years ago the couple came here, fleeing the Communists by escaping through Yugoslavia. Their year of domestic work over, they now are saving money to build a home. That's why Lika is waiting on table and Richard is working in a factory.

Both prince and princess appear happy in their new country.

"There we didn't have enough food, we didn't have shoes," said Lika. "Now I can buy a dress. I can go to the movies."

Engine Christened As Plant Starts

KINGSTON, Aug. 1 (CP) — A 113-foot diesel-electric locomotive was displayed to the public today, to launch this city on a new era of locomotive manufacture.

The occasion was celebrated as "diesel day" and hundreds of special-guest visitors joined in the ceremonies.

Canadian Locomotive Co. Ltd., which has built locomotives here since 1856, presented the new giant; Trade Minister Howe swung the bottle of champagne and named it "City of Kingston"; and he and Premier Frost of Ontario and Mayor C. A. Curtis of Kingston spoke in congratulation.

The locomotive, which generates enough electricity for the neds of a town of 5,000 people, goes to the Canadian Pacific Railway, and is painted in Canadian Pacific's colors of grey, maroon and gold.

Also celebrated today was the production here in 1928 of the world's first diesel-electric road locomotive, the Canadian National Railway's No. 9,000, herald of an era which was interrupted by depression and war.

Consolidated Line

The new "City of Kingston" is the first of a line known as the "consolidation," so named because the parts can be consolidated or interchanged so that 78 different types of locomotives can be made out of them.

The maker, Canadian Locomotive, took its present name in 1900, successor to a line of companies which started in 1850. Fairbanks, Morse and Company of Chicago acquired controlling interest last year and the locomotives use Fairbanks-Morse opposed-piston engines, wihch were widely used in submarines in the Second World War.

The engines, as well as the completed locomotives, will shortly be made here, and Canadian Locomotive has already spent $1,000,000 in plant expansion, and plans to spend another $2,000,000.

Two Unites

The "City of Kingston" consists of two complete diesel-electric units, mounted on wheels and joined together tandem-style under their stream-lined locomotive housing. Each unit develops 1,600 horsepower, providing enough power to haul smoothly a fully-loaded freight train at 65 miles an hour; or, in another version, to pull a pasenger train at 110 miles an hour. By linking enough units, further versions can have up to 3,600 horsepower.

Harking back to the first diesel locomotive built here in 1928—CNR's No. 9,000—after a variety of service its two units were used separately, with the second numbered No. 9,001. The latter was retired in 1939, but No. 9,000 was rebuilt and during the Second World War pulled an armored train on the Pacific coast. After the war, its armor plate was removed and it operated between Quebec and Edmunston, NB, for 15 months, until it, too, was retired.

Canadian With UN Explains Sanitation to Korean People

By BILL BOSS

SUWON, Korea, Aug. 1 (CP)—The lecture could have been for Canadian troops, as well as Korean civilians.

Soldiers who would have heard Rex Bowering of Victoria and Winnipeg talk on sanitation might not have learned anything new about hygiene. But they would have learned worlds about the problems of Korea.

A world health oganization expert, on loan from the British Columbia Department of Health and Welfare, Bowering now is public health engineer for the United Nations Civil Assistance command team in Seoul city and Seoul province.

Interpretor

With his interpretor, a 24-year-old Seoul University philsophy student named Pak Kun, standing beside him, Bowering addressed more than 100 civilian police and government officials in Suwon's bomb-blasted meeting hall.

In their late 20s and early 30s, his listeners sat on DDT boxes up-ended in the puddles formed within the wind-blown hall by the previous night5s driving rain. Some had walked or hitch-hiked 10 and 15 miles to hear him.

"We believe," he told them, "That if the police and local officials use basic principles of sanitation they can check and prevent disease . . . . .

"We used to have typus in Canada and the United States .Now no doctor who has never been out of Canada has ever seen a case of typhus.

"In 50 years our typhoid rate has dropped to 1/40th of what it was."

"Improved sanitation has increased our life-span by 20 years.

"I give you these figures, not to boast, but to show what can happen when proper sanitation techniques are followed."

How Spreads

He told them how typhoid is spread by contaminated water, dysentry by flies, typhus by lice and malaria by mosquitoes.

He then demonstrated how Korean customs favor the conditions which breed the diseases.

Water was polluted by the way wells were built and handled, by the dirty buckets lowered into them, by ox dung blown in from the road by the wind.

He suggested concrete rims around the well tops to prevent germs trickling down the outside walls, ledges for the buckets so that they would not be put down onto the ground when not in use, covers against the wind fly-control methods against dysentry.

He praised the oriental custom of removing shoes on entering the home.

"Koreans must have known for centuries about the danger of carrying disease into their homes from the streets," he said. "Your practice of removing your shoes before entering the house is one we could well adopt ourselves."

It was a practical lecture, revealing an understanding of the Korean pattern.

Native of Winnipeg

Bowering, 38, is a native of Winnipeg, where he graduated in engineering, and a public health postgraduate of the University of Toronto. He has been director of sanitation in British Columbia since 1940. He reached Korea last November.

Besides giving lectures in the province's main centres, his big job is the restoration of Seoul's waterworks.

"The city's five water plants, all damaged, compare favorably in quality with any in Europe or North America," he says.

"The better-class homes had water piped in, for the rest there was a system of street hydrants. Lack of money, trained personnel and essential parts is really all that is keeping us from getting the system working again.

"Meanwhile the city's 8,000 wells supply the population with water . . . "

"Koreans are more susceptible to reason, once things are explained to them, than our people."

"Take the taste of chlorination —once the reason is explained to them they put up with it without a murmur."

Who Stole Dam Logs? Beaver First Suspects

ROUYN, Quebec, Aug. 1 (CP)—Residents of this northwestern Quebec town are speculating on who stole the logs from their dam.

Five logs have been removed recently from the Dufault Lake dam owned by Noranda Mines. At the moment, suspicion rests on beavers.

The lake, which supplies 25,000 residents of Rouyn and Noranda with water, has dropped almost two feet during the last few days. While the drop has had little effect so far, a serious water-supply situation could develop if the level were to go much lower.

To date weekly sales for the past Saturdays have been in the neighborhood of $60 per market day. The ladies intend to continue for the summer months.

Highway Act Does Not Apply On Reserve

LONDON, Ont., Aug. 1—(CP).—Ontario Highway Traffic Act does not apply to Indians driving cars on Indian reserves, Magistrate A. F. Cook ruled here Tuesday—but he said he would like to see an appeal against his judgment.

In county magistrate's court he dismissed a charge against Donald Doxtator, 22-year-old Oneida Indian.

Doxtator was accused of driving a car bearing 1950 markers on a road at the Muncey reserve July 10.

Defence Lawyer W. R. Poole, of London, claimed jurisdiction of Indian reserves is the exclusive right of the Federal government and consequently provincial laws such as the Highway Traffic Act are invalid.

Bean Balling Not Policy Of Top Managers

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1 (AP)—Baseball's stormy Leo Durocher and the bean ball today displaced monoply in discussion before a House of Representatives judiciary committee's hearing on organized baseball.

Representative Emmanual Celler (Dem. NY) chairman of the investigating group and a Brooklyn Dodger fan, injected the New York manager's name into the testimony.

He asked Ford Frick, National League president, about reports that Durocher had been guilty of telling his pitchers to use the bean ball against opponents.

The bean ball—a pitch around the batter's head—is designed to make the batter apprehensive and keep him from getting set to make his best swing at a later pitch.

Fined Durocher

Frick, in reply to a question, said he had fined Durocher for telling his pitcher to use the bean ball. However, he had fined Durocher so often he did not remember exactly when he had done so for bean-balling.

Asked whether he now has Durocher under control, Frick smiled and replied: "If this statement is to stand for posterity," I shouldn't have to answer that."

In a serious vein, Frick told the committee:

"I don't believe any manager in baseball has a deliberate policy of throwing bean balls as part of his strategy."

Frick had insisted that organized baseball has fully met its obligations to players. Both major leagues, he said, pay average salaries "far above the average American wage for skilled workers on a year-around basis."

Eden Says Controls On Emigration Here "A Calamity"

By T. J. ALLEN

It is "a calamity" that currency restrictions have hindered post-war emigration from England to Canada, the Rt. Hon. Anthony Eden told this Examiner representative in an interview today noon at the country home of the Rt. Hon. Vincent Massey, near Port Hope. Mr. Eden is paying a private visit, en route to the United States to make two important public addresses there.

"It is certain," Mr. Eden said with emphasis, "that we in Canada and Britain have a message to give the world; and the closer and more intimate is our friendship, the better the job we can do."

"If you have faith in the British Commonwealth family, you must want to see that family grow. If our people want to come here, and you want to have them here, we should not allow currency obstacles to stand in the way."

The dollar problem is still with Britain. It is a barrier to British investment in Canada and to British emigration to this country is not possible on a scale comparable with that to Australia and South Africa since the war.

"This is a calamity," the successor-designate to Mr. Churchill said, and he fervently wishes that statesmanship can find some sane solution for it.

He is glad that the British government has made some relaxation in the exchange to permit British people to come here and bring some capital with them.

Mr. Eden reiterated his belief stated in an important north London speech before he sailed for Canada that "men are more important than money." He believes that there is neither sanity nor safety in maintaining an overcrowded Britain with under-populated Dominions.

Charming Speaker

Mr. Eden is still a youthful figure, despite his gray hair and his 54 years. In the brilliant warm sun of today he was bronzed and cheerful, relaxing on the patio of "Batterwood," Mr. Massey's home, and dressed informally in white sports shirt and grey flannel trousers. He wore neither tie nor socks, and was shod in slippers. The former British foreign secretary and one of the architects of the wartime Grand Alliance, army captain at the age of 18 during the Great War, is a fluent and charming speaker, an amateur painter and art critic of distinction and an Oriental scholar.

He still reads Persian, both modern and ancient, with ease, and is conversant with the present situation in Iran. However, he withheld comment on both this and the political situation in Britain. He laughed aside this interviewer's question about Aneuran Bevan and the split in the Labor party. He was non-committal about the date of the next general election, saying it was in the hands of the government. He recalled that two by-elections were pending whose results might have a bearing on it.

Do the British people fear a third world war? Mr. Eden will not accept for a moment the idea that a third world war is inevit-

British Cars Escape Dumping Laws

OTTAWA, Aug. 2 (CP).—British motor car manufacturers have met the requirements of Canada's anti-dumping laws and none are affected by these regulations.

Government officials said today that imported British cars are free of duty under the anti-dumping laws, which were put back into force May 31 last after a two-year suspension designed to alleviate Britain's dollar shortage.

Manufacturers of the one or two higher-priced British cars which might have been liable for dumping duties have readjusted their export prices and thus avoided the additional levy.

Protect Canada

Dumping duties are a fiscal device to protect the domestic market against unfair competition from abroad. They prevent the "dumping" of cheap foreign goods which might under-sell domestic products.

The yardstick used to determine whether goods are being "dumped" is the comparison between the price the exporter is asking in the Canadian market and the price he is charging for the same goods at home. If his export price is lower than the home price, he is dumping and an additional duty is applied on his exports to bring the two price ranges into line.

Two years ago, Canada suspended her anti-dumping duties on a list of British commodities in an effort to increase British imports and help ease Britain's dollar position. As the British trading position improved, the suspension gradually was lifted until only motor cars remained dumpduty free.

Dairymen Urge Butter Imports

OTTAWA, Aug. 2 — (CP) — Canada's dairy industry has urged the government to make sure imports of butter are made soon to avert the possibility of a shortage next winter, accompanied by climbing prices and hoarding.

In a letter to Agriculture Minister Gardiner, the National Dairy Council of Canada said production of creamery butter is below that of a year ago and the outlook is that Canada will be unable to build up sufficient stockpiles to care for next winter's needs.

Council president J. S. Turnbull said "that unless assurance is forthcoming at an early date that the domestic suply will be augmented to the extent nevessary to meet all consumption and pipeline requirements, abnormally high consumer prices are inevitable in the immediate future."

Fear Hoarding

This development, said the council, would spark hoarding and react "most unfavorably on the anti-inflationary policies of the government."

The government has not yet made any announcement as to what it plans to do about butter imports, though it was learned yesterday that the cabinet has given the Agriculture Department's dairy products division authority to negotiate with New Zealand for about 10,000,000 pounds.

A report from Wellington today said Canada will buy 5,000 tons, or 10,000,000 pounds, from New Zealand, at a price still to be negotiated.

MotherWritesPrincess Baby Gets Specialist

BREDBURY, England, Aug. 2 (Reuters). — An 11-months-old baby, dangerously ill with bronchial pneumonia, will be treated by a London specialist, thanks to a princess' response to a "heartbroken" mother's plea.

The infant's mother, Mrs. Winifred Ball, told nothing could be done by local doctors for the child, related today how she wrote in desperation to Princess Elizabeth, whose daughter, Princess Anne, is the same age as her own girl.

A letter from the Princess' lady-in-waiting expressed the Princess' regret at the mother's plight and said arrangements were being made for the stricken child to be seen by a London physician

Truman May Hamper Russian Trade

President Expected To Withdraw Trade Concessions

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2. (AP) —A series of steps by which President Truman is expected to withdraw trade concessions to Russia and its European satellites was described today by informed state department officials.

Step One: A presidential proclamation issued yesterday to establish the basic authority for carrying out a recent congressional order. The order instructed the president to cancel concessions to the Reds.

Yesterday's proclamation was accompanied by a letter from Truman to Treasury Secretary John Snyder. Snyder was ordered to deny trade benefits to 13 Communist-controlled areas in Eastern Europe and Asia, including Red China. The effective date is Aug. 31.

Embargo Imports

Truman also instructed Snyder to embargo imports from China of ermine, fox, kolinsky, marten, mink, muskrat, and weasel furs.

Other areas covered by the ban on trade benefits are Albania, Estonia, East Germany, Communist-controlled parts of Indo-China, North Korea, the Kurile Islands, Latvia, Lithuania, Outer Mongolia, Romania, Southern Sakhalin and Tanha Tuva.

With the exception of Romania these are areas which had no firm trade agreements or treaties with the United States. State Department officials said action against Moscow-bloc countries with which the US has tighter trade treaties will take longer.

Romania had a trade agreement subject to cancellation on 30 days' notice. Notice was given a month ago.

Notices of intent to end existing trade compacts also have been given by the United States to Russia, Bulgaria, Hungary, and Poland. However, in each of these cases a longer period of time must elapse until the cancellations can become effective. For example, the commercial agreement with Russia will not be considered terminated until Dec. 23. Termina-

US, Canada, UK Agree On Bombs

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2 (AP). —The United States, Canada and Britain have agreed in general upon the specifications of a "new family" of four basic-sized bombs.

Col. V. F. Fairfax of the US Air Force Supply Division told a military appropriations sub-committee of the House of of Representatives that the bombs were of the same general type and sizes so as to be interchangeable among the three countries.

His testimony, made public yesterday, said the four basic bombs are: (1) The 10,000-pound high-performance bomb, (2) the 3,000-pound high - performance bomb, (3) 750-pound general-purpose fomb, and (b) 1,000-pound special low-drag bomb, to be carried externally by high-speed jet fighter bombers.

Sailor Hitches Ride To UK To Propose

LONDON, Aug. 2 (CP) — Love found a way for AB Robert Betters of the Royal Canadian Navy, who hitch-hiked a two-way air passage to propose to an English girl he met four years ago.

The 23-year-old Toronto sailor, carrying with him a "half-promise" from the girl he wants to marry, thumbed a lift last night on the plane taking Governor-General Viscount [illegible] and L. B. Pearson, external affairs minister, to Canada.

Betters, born in Briercrest, Sask., also reached England by the flying hitch-hike route to see Olive Harvey, 22, of London.

Olive met Betters in 1947 when he was stationed in England.

Western Europe Expected Double Production In Year

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2 (AP)— The Economic Co-operation Administration said today that Western Europe is expected to double its production of military goods in the year ahead.

It's already been doubled once "in the two years since the North Atlantic Treaty was signed," ECA added in its quarterly report for the January-March 1951 period. President Truman sent the report to Congress' today.

More For Defence

ECA said most Western European countries now are spending far more for defence and far less for non-military purposes than before the Korean outbreak.

But it warned that raw materials shortages and rising prices threaten both military output and the area's economy.

ECA authorizations for the quarter amounted to $430,100,000 bringing to $10,700,000,000 the authorizations approved since the start of the Marshall Plan program three years ago.

Germany Largest

Western Germany received the largest amount, or $105,100,000. France received $77,900,000, Italy $48,100,000, and Austria $35,800,000.

Britain and the Republic of Ireland already are operating without Marshall Plan Aid, and ECA administrator William C. Foster said in Paris yesterday that Sweden and Portugal have decided to get along without further dollar help.

Canadian Navy Getting 1st Helicopters

OTTAWA, Aug. 2 (CP).—Canada's Navy is getting a new set of wings—helicopter wings—which could prove an anti-sub weapon in time of war.

The Navy announced that it will take delilvery soon of three HTL-4 Bell helicopters, the first in its history. It is expected these will be the nucleus for a new branch in the air arm of the sea service.

The copters, now being given acceptance trials by naval officers at the Bell Aircraft Corporation plant at Niagara Falls, NY, are primarily for use aboard the Navy's new Arctic patrol ship. The vessel, now under construction at Sorel, Que., is expected to be delivered early next year.

Meantime, the helicopters will be based at the naval air station, HMCS Shearwater, at Dartmouth, NS, as the "RCN Helicopter Flight."

Used In Korea

The helicopters are of a type which have proved invaluable in naval work from carriers in Korea. Naval spokesmen here said it was planned to use them to train helicopter pilots and maintenance crews for the navy. In the event of an emergency it was conceivable that more would be acquired and that some probably would be placed aboard Canada's aircraft carrier, HMCS Magnificent.

It was pointed out that helicopters, besides being invaluable in northern patrol and search and rescue work, also would fit in closely with the main operational task of Canada's Navy, that of hunting submarines.

UK Ends Ban On Plant Strikes

LONDON, Aug. 2 —(AP)—The British government ordered an end today to its ban on industrial strikes and lockouts—a wartime measure carried over for the last six years.

Voluntary bargaining between unions and employers federations will continue with a new industrial disputes tribunal to settle the issue if the bargainers cannot agree.

The new order becomes effective Aug. 14.

Conservatives in parliament supported the change.

Under the old order strikes could not legally take place and unofficial strikers could be brought into court.

Two or three recent prosecutions had led to unrest among the unions and they have been pressing for several months to have the order set aside.

The new system is meant to "develop and strengthen voluntary systems of negotiation," to prevent violation agreements, and to provide ways of settling disputes, said Labor Minister Alfred Robens.

Appeals To French Parties To Settle Differences

PARIS, Aug. 2. (AP)—Maurice Petsche pleaded today with France's quarreling political parties to bury their differences so that France could get a government to co-operate with the United States and Britain in building up the defence of the West. "France has been without a government for six weeks, and it is already very late," Petsche told the National Assembly. Petsche, an Independent, appeared before the legislature to seek a vote of confirmation as premier.

Europe is "hesitant, uncertain on how to unite, and worried about the particularism of Britain," Petsche said. "Europe can only be rebuilt if France takes the leadership."

Parliamentary predictions were that Petsche would get the formal vote of confirmation, but might fail to get pledges of support from the parties to enable him actually to form a cabinet.

"Is it conceivable that France, which initiated the move for European economic community, may be the last to take up the coal-steel-pool?" asked Petsche, referring to the fact the parliament hasn't even begun steps to ratify the pool.

Petsche insisted that unless France shows a strong leadership "our British friends will be tempted to separate themselves from the continent."

Alliance Gives West Confidence

OTTAWA, Aug. 2 (CP)—External Affairs Minister Pearson said today the defensive preparations of the North Atlantic Security Alliance have given the countries of northwestern Europe "a certain confidence."

Because of that, there was all the more reason for further strengthening the alliance, he told reporters as he arrived from a six-week diplomatic tour of the United Kingdom and northwest European capitals.

He said he found conditions in Europe "a little more satisfactory" than when he was last there a year ago.

Mr. Pearson flew home with Viscount Alexander, who was returning from a holiday in the United Kingdom.

The External Affairs Minister said an announcement is expected tomorrow on the possibility that the Atlantic Pact Council will meet here in September.

Greek King Intervenes Release Crete Romeo

ATHENS, Aug. 2. (AP).—A court source said today that Crete's imprisoned modern Romeo may be reunited with his Juliet within a few days through the intercession of King Paul.

The source said the king has instructed the ministry of justice to prepare papers commuting the two-year sentence of dashing Costa Kephaloyannis. Costa was sentenced in February on charges of illegal possession of weapons after he carried off 19-year-old Tassoula—daughter of a rival family—and married her in the rugged Cretan mountains. He has been in jail since last August and his dark-eyed wife has had a miscarriage because of worry over the case.

Fire In Truck Latest In Bad Luck Series

COBALT, Aug. 2 (CP)—Tough luck seems to dog the footsteps of Thomas Adshead, 30-year-old Cobalt truck-driver.

Late Wednesday night a fire almost destroyed his two-ton truck at Gillies, five miles south of here.

Three months ago a gas-powered generator exploded in the basement of his home, ruined the house and injured four persons, his wife and son seriously.

Finally—18 months ago another truck owned by Mr. Adshead broke through the ice on a district lake. It later was hauled out, considerably damaged.

United Nations Source Says Evidence Seen; Reds Want Line On 38th

Peiping Radio Reports Red Chinese Repudiate UN Proposal; Building Up Home People For Letdown

By ROBERT B. TUCKMAN

UN ADVANCE HEADQUARTERS, Korea, Aug. 3. (Friday) —(AP)—Beneath the surface deadlock on where to draw a cease-fire line in Korea, a high United Nations source today saw a hint that the Reds might be preparing the way for conceding the Allied demand. The Allies want the fighting to stop on the present line, generally north of the 38th Parallel. The Reds have been holding out for a buffer zone centred on the Parallel.

Possibly nudging the Communists towards a more conciliatory attitude, the US Eighth Army reported attacking UN troops gained more than two miles on the central Korean front Thursday against only small groups of the enemy.

The Peiping radio Thursday night quoted Lt.-Gen. Nam Il, North Korean chief of the Red armistice delegation at Kaesong, as saying he "repudiated the buffer zone" proposed by the Allies "deep across the 38th Parallel."

What Nam meant by "deep" was not explained, but the North Korean radio at Pyongyang declared the Allies were demanding a "top-shooting line" approximately between the 38th and 39th Parallels.

This, said a high UN source, is "a lot of malarkey."

Letdown

"It appears they (the Reds) are building up the folks at home for a letdown," the UN source commented. "If they accept the buffer zone below where they say we are asking for it, then it will look like a Communist 'victory'."

As they negotiations now stand, Vice-Admiral C. Turner Joy, chief Allied negotiator, told the Reds at the most recent meeting that the Allies must hold a defensible line because of the possibility of "an armistice violation by the other side."

That was at Thursday's seventh deadlocked meeting of the two parties.

They will try again today at a meeting scheduled for 11 a.m. (9 p.m. EDT, Thursday).

Silver Aircraft Sighted Alaska Mountain

EDMONTON, Aug. 2 —(CP)— Two RCAF Dakota aircraft left Whitehorse in the Yukon today to investigate reports of a "large silver aircraft" lying on the side of a mountain near the Alaska Highway.

Air force officials in Edmonton declined to speculate on the possible identity of the craft. They emphasized that at this point they are invesigating whether the objec sighted is in fact an aircraft.

A Canadian Pacific Airlines transport has been missing off Alaska with 38 persons aboard since July 21.

Two transport drivers and a party of tourists last night reported seeing the "silver plane" on a mountainside at mile 1,179 off the Alaska Highway about five miles west of the highway.

The position of the plane was reported about 35 or 40 miles south and east of Snag, near the Alaska border and about 160 miles from the Pacific coast.

One of the Datokas carried an RCMP officer who—if the object turns out to be a plane—will land at Snag and make his way overland to the site.

The position of the sighting is near the junction of the Koidern and Wolf Rivers. Snag is 206 miles northwest of Whitehorse.

Trail Of Tears

LONDON, Aug. 2. (Reuters)—Truck driver Albert Benn left a trail of tears behind him as he drove through London last night. A 40-gallon drum of the drug formalin in the truck had frozen. The liquid poured onto the street and gave off tear gas.

$100,000 Leopard Rug Turned In To Customs

PUEBLO, Cool., Aug. 2 (AP). — A rug of 48 matched leopard skins sent home from Korea by a soldier and which may be worth as much as $100,000, was turned over yesterday to a United States customs agent.

Mrs. Hugh V. Giltner, who had possession of the rug, reported she gave it to the Colorado highway patrol to be taken to the United States Customs House in Denver.

"It's certainly a relief to get this off the family's chest," she later told a reporter.

The rug was sent to the Giltners by their son, Sgt. Elvern Giltner, who said he bought it from a Korean for the equivalent of $61.

Three Canadian Soldiers To Be Tried For Murder

OTTAWA, Aug. 2 —(CP)—The army today announced that general courts-martial have been ordered for three Canadian soldiers charged with murder in Korea.

The soldiers, members of the 2nd Battalion, Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry, will be tried separately this month in Korea.

The accused were not identified, though the army said next-of-kin have been notified.

The charges arise out of the murder of a Korean man named Ee Chong Sun on the night of March 17 in the village of Chung Woon Myon, 35 miles south of the 38th parallel.

The army said each has also been charged with criminal assault and common assult. Normally these are civilian offences, but the army act gives the army power to try troops on such charges where civil courts under Canadian judges are not available.

Lt.-Col. John A. Hutchins, former Montreal lawyer and now assistant adjutant and quartermaster-general at Regina, has been assigned to conduct the defence. He will leave by air for Korea within the next few days.

Prosecutor will be Capt. Lawrence M. Hanway of Amherst, N.S., former lawyer and the Patricia's legal officer.

Three senior officers will be sent to Korea from Canada to preside in turn as presidents of the courts. They are Col. W. Clement Dick, formerly of Toronto, now chief of staff at headquarters, Quebec Command, Montreal; Col. C. B. Ware, formerly of London, now commandant at Calgary, and Col. A. G. Chubb, formerly of Rossland, B.C., now director of the Royal Canadian Armored Corps stationed at army headquarters, Ottawa.

A general court-martial is composed of five officers. Aside from the three colonels being dispatched from Canada, the other members will be provided by the 25th Canadian Infantry Brigade group in Korea.

Pakistan PM Refuses To Talk

KARACHI, Pakistan, Aug. 2 — (Reuters)—Prime Minister Liaquat Ali Khan today turned down an invitation from India's Pandit Nehru to visit Delhi for talks about the Kashmir dispute.

Nehru earlier declined an invitation to visit Karachi.

In his message Liaquat again urged the Indian prime minister to accept his five-point "peace plan" for restoring good relations.

In addition to withdrawal of Indian troops from along Pakistan's border, the peace plan includes these points:

1. After troops withdraw both nations should reaffirm their agreement to let United Nations-supervised plebiscites in the states of Jammu and Kashmir decide whether they will join India or Pakistan.

2. Both governments should renounce the use of forceful methods of settling any other disputes, referring to arbitration if they are not resolved by negotiation or mediation.

3. Both should reaffirm their obligations under the Delhi agreement, especially the clause to prevent propaganda in either country to incite war between them.

4. India and Pakistan should declare they will not, on any account, attack or invade territory of the other.

Polish Crew Mutinies Ship Taken To Sweden

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, Aug. 2 — (Reuters)— A Polish minesweeper was brought into the South Swedish port of Ystad today by a Swedish cutter after some of its crew had mutinied.

Eleven of the ship's crew of 30 locked up their officers and tried to sail the ship themselves.

The Swedish defence staff said the minesweeper was sighted off Ystad last night. As her movements were erratic she was kept under observation and then escorted into port.

Series Of Blasts Blamed On 'Aliens' Railroad Tied Up

By REGINALD WOOD

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina, Aug. 2. (AP)—The government called in emergency crews today to run Argentina's strike-bound railways, crippled earlier by a series of blasts which President Juan D. Peron's regime blamed on "alien" forces. The anti-Peron Brotherhood of Engineers and Firemen refused for the second day to report for work. Mounted police were sent to provincial railway stations to keep order. Although section gangs, heavily guarded by police, repaired yesterday's bomb damage to four main lines, only two of them are operating. The others—main lines to the south and west—were closed by the refusal of engineers and firemen to work.

The government charged the explosions which ripped tracks and damaged railroad shops early yesterday were set off by criminals inspired by "forces alien to the country."

Two Centres Paralyzed

Private reports reaching here said the strike had paralyzed the two big rail centres of Junin to the west and Ingeniero White to the south. It apparently had not spread to Buenos Aires and Rosario, largest cities in Argentina.

The lines were blown up following the strike call by the engineers and firemen who man the state-owned railways.

The government, in its communique on the bombing, did not mention the strike which the union said was called because the regime had refused to let the union elect its own officers. The union, controlling about 8,000 of Argentina's 160,000 railworkers, said officers were hand-picked by the government.

Railroad shops at Tolosa, near La Plata, were said to have been damaged by explosions.

Peron broke Argentina's last railway strike January 25 by using his wartime emergency powers to draft strikers. About 300 rail workers were arrested and some were tried for "crimes against the state."

(The newspaper La Prensa was closed and taken over by the government after it printed the strikers' side of the argument.)

The president still has these emergency powers and may invoke them again.

Woman Denies Treason Talks

TORONTO, Aug. 2 (CP)—Mrs. Norah K. Rodd, Windsor grandmother who recently visited Korea and Russia, last night denied making the broadcasts from Korea for which Canadian members of parliament wanted her tried for treason.

Her speech, given under the auspices of the Communist Toronto Peace Council, was the first in a cross-country series.

Mrs. Rodd, a worker in left-wing groups for many years, said last night she had seen Koreans tortured with fire, and the bodies of others who had been systematically murdered by UN soldiers. In an interview later, she admitted that the atrocities seen by her party had not been attributed to any specific group of soldiers.

Several members of parliament, speaking in the House of Commons recently, said that Mrs. Rodd had broadcast a similar speech from Korea and that the remarks she had made there were treasonous.

Fresh News For Can. Cabinet

OTTAWA, Aug. 2 (CP)—Canada's cabinet will get authoritative up-to-the-minute opinions on the world situation fresh from both London and Washington today.

External Affairs Minister Pearson, just home after six weeks touring the capitals of Western Europe, will report on the situation he found there.

Gen. Omar Bradley, chairman of the U.S. joint chiefs of staff, later will tell Prime Minister St. Laurent and other ministers about the present situation as Washington sees it.

There have been reports here that Canada, along with other Atlantic Pact powers, is being urged to do more to build up Europe's defences and Gen. Bradley may raise that point.

Servicemen Allowed For Gratuities Paid

OTTAWA, Aug. 2 (CP) — The Defence Department recognizes the need—and the cost—of tipping, at least for tipping sleeping car or parlor car attendants aboard trains.

The navy magazine Crowsnest said today "officers and men travelling by rail at government expense are entitled to claim reimbursement for actual and reasonable expenses in respect of gratuities paid to sleeping car or parlor car attendants."

The rates are 25 cents a night and 25 cents a day for each day or half day in a sleeping car; 25 cents for each complete 24 hours in a tourist class sleeping car and a parlor car.

The Crowsnest said, too, that servicemen now are entitled to spend up to $1.65 for breakfast, $2 for lunch and $2.35 for dinner aboard trains, from 15 to 25 cents higher than the old rates.

Baby Shot In Accident By 6-Year-Old Brother

YORKTON, Sask., Aug. 2 (CP) — Twenty-month-old Lawrence Balog was accidentally shot to death last night by his six-year-old brother, Leonard.

Police said Leonard took a .22 calibre rifle from a neighbor's truck and, pointing it playfully at his young brother, pulled the trigger as his father and two other persons stood on the opposite side of the truck.

The owner of the rifle told police he had been hunting gophers and crows earlier and did not know the rifle was loaded.

No Increase In Gas Prices

TORONTO, Aug. 2 (CP)—Increased Imperial Oil Company prices, announced yesterday, will mean little change in gasoline prices but an increase in fuel oil prices in most key Canadian centres.

The price of gasoline is unchanged in Halifax, Toronto, Winnipeg, Regina and Edmonton and up .5 cents in Vancouver.

Fuel oil prices are unchanged in Edmonton, Regina and Winnipeg but are up one cent in Toronto and Vancouver to 18.1 and 16.2 cents, respectively, in Toronto and Vancouver, .7 cents to 17.8 in Montreal and .7 cents to 17.3 cents in Halifax.

(The Canadian Press yesterday reported erroneously that fuel oil prices in Winnipeg would rise .7 cent.)

The increases are blamed partly on the 12-per-cent increase in freight rates which became effective July 26 and partly on an increased tendency to import into Canada.

The part played by increased freight rates is seen in new gasoline prices in Noranda, Que., Timmins, Ont., and Brandon, Man.—points far removed from key distributing centres. Prices are up .8 cents in Noranda and Timmins and .5 cents in Brandon to 30.7, 30.4 and 26.9 cents respectively.

Imperial Oil officials said fuel oil prices were unchanged in Edmonton, Winnipeg and Regina because these cities are self-sufficient in oil supply.

Base Metals Up As Market Brisk

TORONTO, Aug. 2. (CP)—Base Metals surged ahead in brisk early afternoon dealings today to take the lead in a generally firmer market.

Volume for the first three hours was 1,320,000 shares.

Steels, foods, refining oils, banks and textiles showed a majority of gains in a firm industrial section. Utilities were firmer and liquors and manufacturing companies turned mixed. Agricultures weakened and papers dipped a little lower.

In base metals, heavy trading in Yukeno, Head of Lakes, East Rim, Callinan, Flin Flon and Base Metal mining produced penny gains. Also ahead were Anacon Lead, Chromium, Consolidated Smelters, International Nickel, Noranda, Quebec Manitou and Yukeno. East Sullivan and Sherritt-Gordon slipped pennies. Silanco, United Asbestos and Ankeno also traded heavily but showed little change.

Giant Yellowknife in the senior gold section advanced in heavy trading while other issues showed little change. Secondary golds were mixed.

Western oils were about even.

Two Disciplined 1,800 Stop Work

TORONTO, Aug. 2 (CP)—Disciplinary action taken against two workers at the suburban New Toronto Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company plant has resulted in a work stoppage for 1,800 employees, a company official said today.

The action was taken yesterday against two employees in the tire room, the official said. The two refused to work, claiming that the room was too hot.

One hundred and fifty workers in the tire room walked off the job in protest and set in motion a work stoppage which backed up production so that 1,800 employees are idle.

able, but believes that the majority of the British people are prepared to make sacrifices, however reluctantly to build up defensive strength, if they are convinced, as he himself is convinced, that this is necessary "to negotiate successfully with a Communist power which appears to respect nothing except strength".

"I am sure that they are prepared to do it if they are convinced, as I believe they are, that this is the best way to preserve the peace. Many feel, and it has happened before in history, that the free nations disarmed too quickly. We are paying the price for that now".

Mr. Eden, swaying on his heels in a characteristic movement when he is speaking with conviction about matters dear to his heart, payed warm tribute to Canada.

"There is at home a deep and wide affection for Canada which I sincerely think is stronger than it has ever been. We are delighted to see you growing in strength and authority with every month that passes. We know that you have a special contribution to make to world affairs and are grateful for the consistent understanding you have always shown to our problems."

His younger colleague, Mr. Carr, the Conservative party's expert in labor relations and a man who himself has come up through industry, spoke of the emigration of British workers to Canada. He feels that this country has an astounding future in which British workers can play a useful, expanding part. He does not share some of the Englishmen's fear that the country cannot afford to let its youth emigrate.

"My hope is that among the new workers coming to Canada to share in is expansion, a large enough percentage of them will be people coming out from England."

Mr. Eden and Mr. Carr are leaving Canada on Saturday. Mr. Eden's first public address will be given at Denver, for the University of Colorado. He then goes to California, but hopes to have enough time left for a return visit to Canada—to Ottawa—before sailing home for England at the end of the month.

Senate Scores 'Complete Fraud'

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2 (AP)—A Senate sub-committee today denounced pudgy Sam Mason as "a complete fraud" who worked a confidence racket "to swindle approximately a quarter million dollars from his victims," on promises to obtain cheap leases of government property.

Chairman Clyde Hoey (Dem. N.C.), of the Senate's sub-committee on investigations, announced a federal grand jury is starting an inquiry into Mason's activities. Witnesses told the sub-committee that Mason said the government, in fear of atomic attack, was planning a vast underground construction program, and many buildings would become "surplus."

Hoey said in a speech prepared for the Senate that he was filing a formal report covering the "fantastic machinations" of Mason, a New Yorker who has said his real name is Samuel D. Mussman.

Testifying before the Hoey group, Mason said he has paid no income tax since 1929. He said he had a scheme to bribe public officials, and asked the Senators:

"What's wrong with that?"

Bruce Townships Mark Centennial

MEAFORD, Ont., Aug. 2 (CP) —The townships of Collingwood, Euphrasia and St. Vincent in Bruce Peninsula celebrated their centennial yesterday.

The Rev. Norman Dawson, of Hamilton, urged citizens to "recapture the pioneers' appreciation of the value of annual labor, their ability to make friends, their love of their homes, and their appreciation of spiritual values."

"The voice of the past can guide us to a glorious future," he said.

Other speakers at the celebrations were: Dr. McKinnon Phillips, Ontario Minister of Health; Colin E. Bennett, MP for Grey North; and J. A. Carroll, Ontario Deputy Mnster of Agriculture..

A telegram of congratulations to the three townships from Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent was read.

A parade, picnics and a street dance were included in the program.

Whole Village Hunts Woman

KILLARNEY, Ont., Aug. 2 — (CP)—For the second successive day, every able-bodied man in this Georgian Bay village combed surrounding woodlands as the hunt continued for Kate Tyson, 64, missing since Monday.

Miss Tyson left her home Monday morning to pick blueberries. When she failed to return that evening, a search was started and every day it has increased in intensity.

Today a posse of 47, led by the missing woman's nephew, Andy Tyson, Northern Ontario wolf trapper, fanned out from the blueberry patch where Miss Tyson said she was going.

Searchers have found traces of the woman's wanderings through this heavily-timbered area. Tuesday they found two berry pails and a cup and yesterday a piece of material torn from her dress.

Last night dogs were set on tracks believed left by the missing woman but they lost the scent during a heavy rain.

Red Chinese Army Marching To Nationals

TAIPEH, Formosa, Aug. 2 — (AP). — The Nationalist Defence Ministry today said elements of four Red Chinese armies (corps) are moving toward Yunnan Province, recently invaded from Burma by Nationalist General Li Mi.

The armies' total strength is estimated here at 100,000 men, but how many men are being sent to Yunnan is not known.

China Union Press, a small Nationalist news agency, said the Reds' 13th, 14th and 15th Armies had been transferred suddenly from the Yunnan-Indo-China border area. The 16th, it said, was en route from Kweichow Province, which flanks Yunnan on the north-east.

You Can't Miss It

CHICAGO, Aug. 2. (AP) Orville F. Andrews reported his automobile missing yesterday and told police they should have no trouble recognizing it. Andrews gave police this detailed description of the car: A 1949 Chevrolet convertible body, mounted on a 1939 Studebaker chassis, with a 1949 Kaiser front bumper and a 1949 Oldsmobile rear bumper plus a 1949 modified Chevrolet grill, with a 1950 Studebaker six-cylinder engine. Andrews said the car has no top and is metallic blue. He said he sold the car to a stranger for $1,200, but got only $25 before the stranger disappeared with the automobile.

However, the case of Czechoslovakia is more complicated. US trade commitments to that country are part of a general agreement on tariffs and trade to which about 30 other countries also belong.

These countries are scheduled to meet at Geneva in September. The United States has proposed that they then approve the cancellation of obligations existing between it and Czechoslovakia.

Clergymen Told All Who Eat Are Farmers

GUELPH, Aug. 2 (CP)—"Every person who eats food is a farmer," Dr. W. M. Landess of the Tennessee valley authority, said in a speech Wednesday at a special course for rural clergymen at the Ontario Agricultural College.

The course is designed to acquaint the clergymen with agriculture and its effect on the national economy.

Mr. Landess said:

"Eating is the final act in the process of obtaining food from the land. Any person who tries to keep the farmer from getting a just price for his produce is actually starving his own children. If the farmer can't afford to put back into the soil all the minerals taken out in foodstuffs, the land and al lwho consume the food will suffer."

Need Position Of Defence Joy Argues

Truce Negotiators Still Split Wide On Buffer Zone

By ROBERT B. TUCKMAN

UN ADVANCE HEADQUARTERS, Korea, Aug. 2.—(AP)—United Nations negotiators told the Reds today that a truce in Korea must leave Allied troops in positions they can defend "in the event of an armistice violation by the other side."

Vice-Admiral C. Turner Joy made that unequivocal statement in again rejecting the Communist demand that a cease-fire buffer zone be created along the 38th Parallel.

It was the seventh successive session in which negotiators remained deadlocked on where to draw the armistice line.

They will try again tomorrow despite unswerving positions expressed in Washington and Pyongyang, the North Korean capital. The next meeting is scheduled for 11 a.m. Friday (9 p.m. EDT Thursday).

Brig.-Gen. William P. Nuckols, UN spokesman, quoted Admiral Joy as telling Red negotiators at Kaesong:

"The United Nations command has no intention of violating the military armistice agreed upon, but neither will the UN command place itself in an indefensible position in the event of an armistice violation by the other side."

Prepared Statement

Nuckols said Joy read this prepared statement in responsibe to "a final question" by North Korean Lt.-Gen. Nam Il, head of the Red delegation.

Nuckols did not disclose the nature of this final question. But it was presumed here that the North Korean had asked something like the following question:

If you sincerely desire peace, and intend to observe the armistice, why are you talking about defensible positions?

Nuckols said the uqestion had been anticipated, and the answer prepared in advance.

After making his statement Joy asked:

"Do you or do you not agree that the security of his forces is a responsibility of each commander during a military armistice?"

Nam Il evaded a direct answer Joy repeated his question twice. Each time Gen. Nam avoided a direct answer.

For his part, Nam asked Joy five times during the day whether he had anything further to say. The first time he asked it somewhat hopefully, Nuckols said. Each time the admiral said no.

All evidence indicated that Nam's mission at the moment is to keep the conference going while he awaits instructions from higher authorities.

No Instructions

It was believed here that the Russian-trained 38-year-old Korean has received no instructions to change his demand for a buffer zone along the 38th Parallel.

The Pyongyang radio gave no indication that North Koreans would compromise. It said the UN demand for a cease-fire along present battle lines, most of which run through North Korea, was totally unacceptable.

OTTAWA, Aug .2 — (CP) — Connaugh Park is being closely scrutinized by provincial racing officials as part of the investigation of suspected race-fixing on Ontario tracks, it was reported here today.

While none of the horses or jockeys here are believed under suspicion, a number of horses and one or two jockeys came here for the meet which opened July 21 from Fort Erie, where current investigations have set down six riders in the last week.

Blonde Allowed To Marry Unfrocked Priest

MILAN, Italy, Aug. 2 (AP) — Italian authorities said today Claire Young of Chicago will be permitted to marry Luciano Negrini, an unfrocked and excommunicated priest, if psychiatrists declare her rational.

A Vatican spokesman said if Miss Young, a Roman Catholic, marries Negrini, she too will be excommunicated.

The 20-year-old American girl has been held in jail here since Saturday when she slapped a policeman after being refused an extension of her visitor's permit.

She had followed Negrini to Italy, declaring her love, after she met him in Chicago where he was soliciting funds for Roman Catholic missions in China.

Last night Negrini revealed that the Vatican had stripped him of his priestly functions. He declared he now is free to wed the American girl.

A police official said the girl's mother, Mrs. Eileen Brady Young, had asked American authorities to refuse clearance for the marriage on the grounds Claire is irrational.

Police Chief Gabriel Mundo of Milan said he didn't think the mother could prove her case.

He told reporters today that "if the psychiatrist finds Claire rational, the girl is free to do what she likes. She will be immediately released from jail. Her permission to stay in Italy will be renewed and she could marry without further delay."

Miss Young had been scheduled to be deported to the United States Aug. 6.

ERIC SMITH, sitting in his car, was minding his own business while waiting for a traffic signal to turn in Los Angeles when something really gave him a nudge from behind. The nudger was a big trailer truck which had gotten out of control and careened over on top of Smith's car. The rear half was flattened but neither Smith nor the driver of the truck was injured.

Kremlin Picks An Expert Handle Peace Propaganda

By WILLIAM L. RYAN

NEW YORK, Aug. 2 — (AP) — The Kremlin chose one of its most skillful propagandists to launch its newest propaganda drive, an effort to convince the West that the Soviet Union wants peace and the Capitalism and Communism can be bedfellows.

The Western foreign offices were quick to stamp the drive as a phony peace offensive. By choosing the brilliant historian, Eugene Tarle, to spearhead it, the Politburo slapped a big, red "danger" label on its sugar-coated weapon.

The latest peace offensive manoeuvre unfolded with Moscow publication of "News", a magazine in the English language, announcing itself to be devoted to the cause of friendship between the Soviet peoples and those of Britain and the United States.

One of these apparently-friendly articles was reprinted in the Soviet Government newspaper Izvestia.

Deplores Stalin

The article appeared in "News" a week ago under Tarle's name. Deplored the "highly-strained relations which have arisen between the two great Anglo-Saxon powers and the Soviet Union."

Tarble is an expert at this sort of thing. He belongs to that school of the Soviet intelligentisia whose stock in trade is complete cynicism.

Tarle occupies the chair of history in the Soviet Academy of Sciences and is one of the top men in the Leningrad State University.

His writings often have been looked upon as forerunners of shifts in Soviet policy, and he often has devoted himself to attempts to split the alliance between the United States and Britain.

In April, 1947, before the birth of the Marshall Plan, Tarle played on frayed British nerves by insisting that President Truman's program in Greece and Turkey was really aimed against Britain, to end her influence in the Middle East and seize her oil.

At about the same time Tarle was accusing the United States of preparing for a new war.

The printing of Tarle's article in Izvestia may be calculated to soothe the Russian people—to whom the mere mention of war, after what they have been through, is a dreadful thing.

At the same time, the Tarle article in Russian becomes a counter - propaganda barrage against the American Government's recent expression of friendship for the Russian people.

Israel Reds Demand Gov't

TEL AVIV, Israel, Aug. 2 (AP) —Israel's Communist party today demanded a popular front government made up of all labor parties.

It said such a coalition would include the 46 deputies representing Prime Minister David Ben-Gurion's Mapai (Labor) party, the 15 from the left-wing Mapam, eight from the Religious Workers party—Napoel Hamisrachi, five Arab deputies close to Ben-Gurion and five Communists. This would give it 79 deputies for a majority in the 120-seat Knesset (parliament).

Ben-Gurion is reliably reported to be opposed to any such grouping as are the Religious Workers.

Meanwhile, Ben-Gurion is still leading a caretaker cabinet until a new one, reflecting Monday's election results, can be formed and submitted to parliament for a vote of confidence.

President Chaim Weizmann has not yet asked Ben-Gurion to form such a new cabinet.

"I Will Never Change, Others Will"

The American decision to get air and naval bases in Spain in return for military and economic aid is part of a large-scale diplomatic manoeuvre to complete the United States' security system in Europe and the Pacific. In this pattern is the rearmament of Germany, the move to include Greece and Turkey in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, and transforming Japan into an ally. The States is concluding new alliances with Australia and New Zealand. Logical as may be the shepherding of Spain into the American hegemony, the disregard of moral principles is odious. The move may alienate more friends of the U.S.A. than Spanish bases are worth.

* * *

Spain is still Franco's Spain; a fascist dictatorship established by civil war. Can the Allies who went to war to wipe out Nazism and Fascism now condone Franco's fascism and give that regime their economic help and friendship? The exigencies of the last war forced the Allies to tolerate Spain; are present international matters so dire that they must befriend it in exchange for defensive bases? Must international politics engulf principles which the western democracies profess to defend? The cost of an alliance with Franco may be altogether too high. His new cabinet is not more liberal than the old. His new Minister for War is a general who fought against Russia when Russia was an ally of the West; this General Munoz Grande was highly decorated by Hitler. His new Minister of Information—at a time when the "liberalization of the Press" is being touted for American ears—was the right-hand man of the German Press attache in Madrid during the war.

* * *

The Franco regime is still dictatorial and repressive of freedom. Most of the national income is still going into a few hundreds of thousands of pockets while the majority of the people are near starvation. Franco is still emphasizing his own dictum: "I will never change, the others will". The United States' placation of General Franco is helping to prove it.

Civic Hospital Costs

A correspondent whose letter is printed on this page today is critical of Civic Hospital costs. His figures are right; in the first six months of this year there was a difference of $10,964 between the estimated expenses and the actual operating costs. In addition the Council has provided monthly monies to a total of $56,416.20 in the first six months of the year. It has further provided $6,871.05 as required by provincial statute towards the cost of indigent city patients hospitalized at the Civic. This is a total of $72,251.25 in the first half of this year.

Persons who refer to the details of the city budget and rates struck last winter will not be overly astonished by this total figure of $72,251.25. At the time it was striking the mill rate, the City Council examined the budget of the Civic Hospital which, by Ontario legislation its Governors are required to provide on or before the first of February each year. It accepted as a city responsibility expenses of $150,000 for the year, and levied a mill rate of 3.91 mills on property assessment to raise this sum of money. The $150,000 figure includes the city's share of the expense of maintaining indigent patients. It will be seen that the $72,251.25 paid out by the City to the Civic Hospital during the first half of this year is less than half the $150,000 provided for in the city's budget.

In addition to these expenses the city is of course paying annually interest and capital on the new buildings—a large item.

The Peterborough Civic Hospital is a public hospital, maintained by the public for the public welfare. Hospitals are expensive to staff and maintain. Perhaps our correspondent believes that the new Civic is too good for Peterborough people. It may be possible that it is better than Peterborough can afford. However, our citizens, proud of their hospital, are making a valiant and successful effort to maintain it, one of the finest institutions in the Province which the injured and ill can have to succour them. Criticism such as our correspondent directs at it has this value: it recalls the cost and reminds hospital authorities of the trust the citizenry have placed in them to operate the hospital efficiently, economically and well.

Incidentally, the hospital cafeteria continues to agitate some people. The Governors are attempting to operate it as a service to patients, their visitors and the hospital employees without loss; on a cost-plus basis. The prices of food in the cafeteria are carefully set for this purpose. A small chicken casserole sells at 30 cents, but a full chicken dinner from soup to dessert can by no means be had by two people for a dollar.

Churchill's Iceberg Aircraft Carrier

One of the most fantastic stories to come out of the late World War has been told by Sir Charles Goodeve, F.R.S., in The London Evening Standard; it is now going the newspaper rounds of the world and The New York Times has editorialized on it. The story deals with the Habakkuk, an unsinkable aircraft carrier that was to have been made out of reinforced ice. An experimental model was tested in secrecy on a northern lake in the Canadian Rockies.

Engineers, generals and admirals thought that the Habakkuk proposal had possibilities and it reached the ears of the Chiefs of Staff when Lord Mountbatten passed it on to them. They sent it to the War Cabinet and that is how Mr. Churchill became interested. Incredible as it may seem, Sir Charles declares that Churchill wrote: "Let us cut a large chunk of ice from the Arctic ice-cap and tow it down past Cornwall, fly on our aircraft and tow it up to the point of attack."

The lake in the Canadian Rockies was chosen to test the experimental model. Spring came, and with it the startling discovery that ice melts. A 40,000-ton ship with a hull of ice would need elaborate refrigerating machines to keep it intact. It was also discovered that if paper pulp were added to water and the whole frozen, a block was formed that had remarkable properties. A bullet fired through this "pykerete," as it was appropriately called, made a hole that healed spontaneously. So the bombproof and torpedo-proof ship of ice was announced.

The next development came when a team armed with revolvers appeared at the Quebec Conference to demonstrate the properties of pykerete. It made such an impression that the construction of a Habakkuk under the supervision of an Anglo-American-Canadian committee of naval experts was recommended. The committee never met. A little calculation showed that a Habakkuk could never make more than six knots and that the tremendous quantities of steel required for pipes for the circulation of brine and for the construction of four power plants and auxiliary machinery could be put to better use in a conventional twenty-six-knot aircraft carrier.

A zany project? Other fantastic proposals were adopted and actually carried out to help win the war: the great floating harbour constructed for D-Day; the wall of underwater fire along the English coast; the "frog-men" whose story has already been told in print and on the screen; other wonderful projects have never reached the public eye. If imagination is dizzy at times, its whirligig throws off fantasies which take practical form. The Habakkuk project melted, but men in exalted positions thought it was worth a fling.

Habakkuk was the prophet who said: "I will work a work in your days which ye will not believe, though it be told you."

A Distinguished Visitor

The Right Honourable Anthony Eden is again visiting Canada. He arrived in Montreal on Tuesday and is now a guest of Mr. Vincent Massey at the latter's home near Port Hope. The Examiner joins with other Canadian papers in welcoming this distinguished statesman and deputy-leader of the British Conservative Party, on whom the mantle of Mr. Churchill and probably the Premiership is destined to fall. Mr. Eden moves, as The Montreal Star remarks, with sure feet on ground many men find both strange and uncertain. He has a firm and liberal grasp of principles and of international polity. He is a good friend to Canada, believing in her expanding future and urging Britain to facilitate emigration to the Dominion. We welcome him among us en route to Colorado there to make an important public address.

NOTE AND COMMENT

A mocking-bird is said to be able to change its tune 13 times in a minute. Just the pet for a politician.

"Imagination Replaces Shortage of Materials", says a headline. A girl clothed wholly in imagination should cause some turning of heads.

A Frenchman says that our women are no more than dolls. He should take one out for dinner and try stuffing her with sawdust!

One of the strange things about life is that there is never a shortage of people to turn that grindstone to which your nose is applied.

Holland's Assault From The Sea

By
HENRI SCHOUP
At The Hague

(Ed. Note: This special article copyrighted to the Peterborough Examiner and the London (England) Observer tells how tongues of salt are moving inland over Holland, and the ways the Dutch are attempting to cope with this devastating situation.)

HOLLAND is waging a new battle against the sea. Nearly the whole of West Holland lies below sea-level, and this fertile polderland is kept dry by an ingenious system of dykes and drainage. The sea, driven out in a struggle lasting centuries, never admitted defeat, and now threatens to ruin the land by salt pollution.

Sea-flooding of the low country is prevented by a broad ridge of dunes, maintained with the utmost care, and solid dykes—the indispensability of which was proved when the Allies bombed the dykes of Walcheren and the island was nearly lost for ever. Having been conquered in face-to-face battle, the sea is now gradually creeping inland through estuaries and rivers.

The Ministry of Waterstaat—the government department responsible for the maintenance of Holland's complicated canal and dyke system—explained to me how this happens.

GEOLOGICALLY, Holland is one of the most unstable parts of Europe. The base on which the country rests is slowly sinking. In fifty years Amsterdam has sunk 1¾ inches and the northern provinces of Groningen and Friesland five inches. In addition, the constant draining of the polderland, which lies five to six feet below sea-level, has led to the contraction of the tightly-packed layers of peat beneath the top soil. Thus the general level of the land is falling. The steadily increasing difference between land and sea level encourages salt water to penetrate the land at points where land and sea are connected by canals and rivers.

THE two main danger points are the New Waterway, an artificial prolongation of the Lower Rhine, which connects Rotterdam harbour with the North Sea; and the North Sea Canal, leading to Amsterdam. Through these waterways, big enough for ships of any size, salt sea water rushes in at high tide. At low tide the current of sea water, being much heavier than fresh water, flows back very slowly, leaving behind a salty residue.

Water containing more than .03 per cent. chloride is harmful to crops. Sea-water, which contains 1.8 per cent chloride, is now continually polluting the fresh polder water, and in dry summers the water in the polder canals round The Hague and Rotterdam contains up to .2 per cent. chloride. This means that farmers have to fetch their fresh water in trucks and barges from as far away as Leyden.

FIFTY years ago it was still possible to water the polders [lands reclaimed from the sea] from sluices near the mouth of the New Waterway. Now even the sluices in Rotterdam, twelve miles from the sea, cannot be used for this purpose, while the "salt-line" moves inland about 250 yards a year. Deepening of the New Waterway, and the canals and rivers connected with it, has doubled the force of the tide; and the sea water presses more and more vigorously inland. In the North Sea canal, another "tongue of salt" is creeping in. Through the huge locks at Ijmuiden (the biggest in the world with room for ships of over 80,000 tons) 5,000 tons of salt a day seep into the land. Each time the locks are opened for an incoming or outgoing ship between three and four thousand tons of salt enter the North Sea canal. So the waterways, indispensable to the prosperity of Holland's harbours, are now turning into a menace.

✧ ✧ ✧

AGAINST this assault from the sea, the Dutch have two allies: the river Rhine and the Ijsel Lake. The Rhine brings huge quantities of fresh water from the glaciers in Switzerland, and the Ijsel Lake (the former Zuyder Zee) has been a fresh-water basin since 1937. Both allies are inadequate: the water of the Rhine is polluted by the industries in Germany, and the Ijsel Lake has too little water to balance the salt invasion.

✧ ✧ ✧

THE Waterstaat engineers do not hide their concern, and are working hard to find a solution. A huge plan is under way. There is, of course, no question of blocking up the waterways leading to Rotterdam and Amsterdam. But south of The Hague and Rotterdam, where Holland is divided by canals and rivers into five islands, the complex of inland waterways is to be converted into a fresh-water basin with no outlet to the sea. The first estuary there was closed in July last year by a dam one and a quarter miles long.

✧ ✧ ✧

THE problem of the North Sea canal is even more difficult. An attempt has been made, so far with little success, to force a fresh water current downstream at low tide in order to sweep the salt undercurrent back into the sea.

The second part of the overall project is to increase the fresh water supply of the Ijsel Lake by diverting water from the Rhine. This plan is as yet in the blue-print stage.

✧ ✧ ✧

THE only entirely satisfactory solution would be a gigantic project whereby all estuaries from Zeeland in the south to Groningen in the north were closed, leaving only a few waterways open for shipping. This enormous task would dwarf the famous drainage of the Zuyder Zee, and would require all the money and skill the Dutch can provide. But far-sighted engineers consider it the only answer. Holland, they say, will have to curl up like a hedgehog to defend itself against the sea.

Get U.S. Television

(Brandon Sun)

Sales of television receivers were up sharply in April and there was a small gain in sales of radios. Producers' sales of television receivers in the month totalled 4,407, almost four times as large as last year's April sales of 1,117, and the value at list prices advanced to $2,527,673 from $467,696. Radio sales in the month totalled 57,476 units valued at $4,843,401 compared with 56,190 at $4,384,924. Sales of television sets in the Toronto-Hamilton area in April totalled 1,960 valued at $1,159,095, and in the Windsor area numbered 1,584 at $901,161. In the Niagara area 560 sets were sold for a total of $308,496, and sales in all other sections of Canada totalled 303 units at $158,921.

Letter To The Editor

HOSPITAL COSTS, ETC., ETC.

Sir: I see by the Examiner that the Civic Hospital deficit for six months is only $10,964.00. Amounts passed by City Council for the first six months, which I presume have been paid, amount to $56,416.20. This amount plus $10,964.00 amounts to $67,380.20 which is the actual deficit, or $2,591.53 per week. With the increased rates charged, what is wrong? Is it poor management somewhere? A lady informed me a few weeks ago that her husband was sick in the hospital, so she and a friend went direct from church and got their dinner in the hospital cafeteria, and told me "we got a chicken dinner and it cost us less than $1.00 for the two of us"?

In a former letter I drew the attention to a ruling of the solicitors of the Board of Education in Toronto on the question of paying premiums on school children against accidents on school premises and I questioned why we pay the Blue Cross for the doctors. A well-known lawyer informs me it is illegal to do so.

I also note in the Welfare report by Alderman H. Rehill that the total for indigent and relief patients for the first six months at the Civic Hospital is $6,871.05. Is that a separate amount we pay the hospital besides the $56,461.20?

The ratepayers turned down the hospital bylaw last December, yet our Council is spending $10,000 on landscaping this year and intends, I presume, expending the same amount for the next four years. Besides it will cost the taxpayers around another $10,000 per year to look after the grounds when done.

About ten days ago I asked the Mayor what was done on my suggestion re insuring firemen and policemen to be paid only in case of death while in performance of duty. He told me we have a committee working on it? I asked two Aldermen the same question: They answered, "To my knowledge, it has not come up in the Council yet." I asked another alderman, and from his conversation he gave me the impression he thought the Workmen's Compensation Act covered these. The amount he told me he thought the widows of our firemen killed would get was away out. I since learned what they will get exactly, and if it wasn't for the fund collected for them they could hardly exist. Practically everyone I have spoken to is strongly in favour of this insurance, so I trust our Council will take some action at once.

I also asked the Mayor about the meter money. He told me it was set aside to buy parking space. Since then, I see another letter asking the same question. I note the Editor's note: It all went into general revenue and the $110,000 has already been spent.

Surely the Mayor knew all this when I asked him—what's the use of trying to bluff? I have been told by others they get the same kind of answers and find out differently afterwards.

I was glad to see our Council grant our outside city employees one half day off for their picnic even if one of our aldermen strongly objected.

Now in regard to our new collegiate. The issue as I see it—will there be a "gymnasium?" A meeting has been called for August 2. What we should know is what will the gymnasium alone cost? If this $65,000 is practically all for the gymnasium, then I say leave it out and build it when the auditorium is built.

We must not forget the cost of additions to the Grove School, the new school in the East Ward and I note possible additions to Prince of Wales School as I believe it is crowded already. Also our new outfall sewer, several sidewalks in all our districts, so at the least it means at least a 60 mill rate in 1952 and possibly more in 1953.

Before concluding, I am giving our Board of Education credit that they will not buy a $140 table for the principal of our new collegiate to put his telephone on, something no bank manager or manager of any of our industries has or needs.

A Ghost Walks Again

(Wall Street Journal)

President Vargas has asked the Brazilian Congress to create a national coffee institute and to impose an export tax on Brazil's chief contribution to the world's joy of living. Proceeds of the tax would be available to the institute, the president's message suggests, for the work of improving cultivation methods, increasing production and assuring growers a just price.

This recalls to mind the elaborate "coffee valorization" program initiated by the government of Brazil about the turn of the century. It involved the issuance by the government of collateral trust bonds secured by impounded stocks of coffee. Its later results included the burning of unmanageable accumulations of coffee and some financial difficulties for the government.

Two world wars have intervened since then; quite possibly President Vargas has a different plan in mind for improving the coffee planter's lot hereafter. But from the point of view of Brazil's best customer for coffee, it does not look like good long-term merchandising to add an export tax to the price on a commodity which is already high enough to discourage its free use by many consumers.

Perhaps President Vargas has studied the many valorization schemes which the government of the United States has applied to cotton, pigs, wheat, potatoes and so on. And perhaps it would be proper for us in this country not to become too critical about another valorization of Brazilian coffee—if that is what it is.

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

And, behold, a certain lawyer stood up, and tempted him, saying, Master, what shall I do to inherit eternal life? He said: unto him, What is written in the law? how readest thou? And he answering said: Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy strength, and with all thy mind; and thy neighbour as thyself.

And he said unto him, Thou hast answered right; this do, and thou shalt live. But he, willing to justify himself, said unto Jesus, And who is my neighbour?

And Jesus answering said, A certain man went down from Jerusalem to Jericho, and fell among thieves, which stripped him of his raiment, and wounded him, and departed, leaving him half dead. And by chance there came down a certain priest that way: and when he saw him, he passed by on the other side. And likewise a Levite, when he was at the place, came and looked on him, and passed by on the other side.

But a certain Samaritan, as he journeyed, came where he was: and when he saw him, he had compassion on him, and went to him, and bound up his wounds, pouring in oil and wine, and set him on his own beast, and brought him to an inn, and took care of him. And on the morrow when he departed," he took out two pence, and gave them to the host, and said unto him, Take care of him; and whatsoever thou spendest more, when I come again, I will repay thee.

Which now of these three, thinkest thou, was neighbour unto him that fell among the thieves? And he said, He that shewed mercy on him, Then said Jesus unto him, Go, and do thou likewise. (Luke 10: 25-37.)

In a month harvest of the 1951 grain crop will have commenced, and farmers will be wanting to haul grain to country elevators. In anticipation of that time, the elevators should be cleaned out of all old-crop grain well in advance. But in many shipping points across the Prairies they are still plugged full.

What's going to be done about it? There isn't much time to do anything.

Speeding On Water

(Niagara Falls Review)

A man at Orillia has been fined $100 for driving his motorboat at a dangerous speed. It is said he circled a small boat several times at high speed, causing near panic on board. There is no reason why a reckless motorboat driver should not be penalized for dangerous speeding when car drivers are caught and punished for the same thing on land. This case was handled by the Provincial Police and it is to be expected that reckless speeders on the lakes in our vicinity also will be checked.

Group Of MP's Approve New-Type British Rifle

LONDON,—(CP)—A group of Conservative and Socialist members of Parliament has approved the new .280 semi-automatic, self-loading rifle the War Department proposes to adopt for the British Forces.

The much-discussed rifle which will supplant the famous .303 Lee Enfield as standard equipment for the British Army, passed its test at a private demonstration arranged by Defence Minister Emanuel Shinwell.

The demonstration was staged to show the comparative merits of the new rifle and the .300 semi-automatic, used by United States forces and adopted by Canada earlier in the year. Several of the members fired the two rifles themselves.

Capt. R. E. D. Ryder, Conservative member for Merton and Morden, who won the Victoria Cross at St. Nazaire in March, 1942, described the .280 rifle as "An excellent weapon."

It was not only revolutionary in design but was lighter and with a "kick" less pronounced that the .303 rifle which has been the British Army's standard bore since 1888.

U.S. Rifle Heavier

"The American rifle with its heavier bullet has greater penetration but it weighs more than the .280. If I were buying a rifle for myself I would choose the new one," Capt. Ryder said.

The two rifles are shortly to be the subject of ministerial talks between Britain, the United States and Canada in an effort to reach an agreement on standardization.

Critics of the plan to re-equip to British Forces argue that the present time is not appropriate for a major change which would clash with standard weapons of friendly countries.

They add that while some United States authorities concede advantages of the new weapon over the Garand rifle, it would be well to move cautiously and consider the change-over when other demands in armaments are less pressing.

Will Need Help To Attend Oxford

LONDON (CP).—Lord Kilmaine, chairman of the Oxford Society Executive, says that if present economic trends continue the time will come when "scarcely anyone" in Britain will be able to send his son to Oxford without financial help.

He said in a speech here there is "much anxiety and even hardship" among the student body at Oxford. At the moment, fewer than 20 per cent of the undergraduates at Oxford were supported wholly from their parents' own resources.

Lord Kilmaine said one Oxford man maintained himself during a post-graduate course by selling his stamp collection, his encyclopaedia, and other possessions.

The Society's Awards Committee was "deeply impressed by the actual poverty" shown by some applications for financial aid. In nine months, 82 applications for grants were received asking a total of £3,400. Grants were awarded in 34 cases totalling £988.

Lord Kilmaine said he would like to see the societ in a position to give grants on a scale that would enable all deserving students to be aided.

Lay Groundwork for Developing Capital

By D'ARCY O'DONNELL

OTTAWA (CP)—Little by little the groundwork is being laid for the development of Ottawa and district into a modern, picturesque national capital area.

A number of projects have been started, but it may be 75 to 100 years before work is completed on the development of a 900-square-mile capital area. The area will include Ottawa, Hull, Que., and 28 other neighboring municipalities.

The development probably will cost billions of dollars before it is completed, but many of the projects are expected to be self-liquidating. The plans were drafted by Jacques Greber, famous French town-planning expert. His final report was placed before parliament at the recent session.

Mr. Greber was brought here by the Canadian government in 1937 to plan the location of a national war memorial to the fallen of the First World War. He also was asked to draft plans for other government projects. His work was interrupted by the outbreak of the Second World War.

Start Again

Following the war, the government decided that instead of erecting another monument to Canadian war casualties it would develop the national capital as a memorial. Mr. Greber again was engaged to do the planning, but the idea of dedicating the development of the capital as a memorial was dropped.

Specifically, Mr. Greber's plans call for a drastic relocation of railway tracks and industrial areas; a system of express highways and numerous street improvements; a zoning of areas for housing developments; a revision and enlargement of park areas and facilities for recreation; the selection of sites, architectural control of design and erection of important buildings.

The Green Belt

Provision is made for a "green belt" open spaces and parkways around the area.

The green belt, three to five miles wide, will mark the limits of the national capital area. Anyone building outside the belt will not receive any of the services supplied by municipalities within the capital area.

Within the green belt there will be room for 500,000 people. The area's population now is estimated at close to 300,000.

The belt was devised as a means of discouraging people from building homes along provincial highways and then forcing neighboring municipalities to extend water, sewage and other services. Establishment of the belt is expected to mean that farms and market gardens will remain within easy reach of the capital to supply the area with food.

Work has already started on the relocation of railways tracks which now wind through the city to union station, a short distance from the parliament buildings. Eventually the station will be moved to the outskirts, about four miles south of its present location.

Freight sheds and industrial plants also will be moved to the suburbs.

Plan Bridge

Another project underway is the construction of a bridge across the Rideau Canal in the centre of the city. It is expected the bridge will relieve traffic congestion around the National War Memorial where three streets merge into one, almost directly in front of the parliament buildings.

Commercial traffic will be barred from Wellington St., directly in front of the parliament buildings.

The bridge, named for the late Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, former prime minister, is expected to be ready for use late this year or early next year. Work recently was suspended because of a shortage of steel.

The federal district commission, the agency carrying out the development program, is buying up property in various parts of the district for use later. Some of the property will be used in the relocation of the railways and industrial plants; some will be set aside as sites for new public buildings.

The land now used by the railways and by industrial plants will be reclaimed and used for public buildings, apartments or parks.

The plans call for decentralization of new government and departmental buildings to avoid adding to the present downtown congestions and to enable civil servants to live close to their work.

A new printing bureau will be established in Hull, across the river from Ottawa, where there is room for housing developments. The bureau of statistics and Central Housing and Mortgage and Housing Corporation are erecting new buildings on the outskirts of Ottawa where there are plenty of open spaces. National Defence headquarters also will build on the outskirts.

Mr. Greber's plans provide for the establishment of a new national art gallery, a national theatre with a seating capacity of 10,000, a national library, a national stadium and sports centre, botanical and zoological gardens, and a 70,000 acre park in the Gatineau hills.

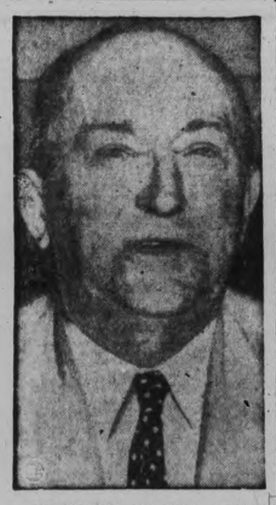
Dadson Hits, Pitches Petes To 4-2 Win Over Merchants

Bill Dadson took over the hero's mantle last night at Riverside as Peterborough handed Oshawa Merchants a 4-2 defeat in a regular Viaduct Major League baseball fixture, before a large crowd of happy fans. The Bowmanville boy not only twirled a masterful game against the now highly-touted Motor City crew, but hit safely twice to drive in three of his team's runs. His triple to deep left-centre in the sixth with the score tied 2-2, two away and two aboard, virtually won the ball game.



COBB UP—Ty Cobb, one of the all-time greats of baseball, testifies as the first witness before a House Subcommittee on Monopoly conducting a "friendly" investigation of the sport. Cobb said baseball, to survive, needs the "reserve clause," which binds a player to a club for life, or until he is sold.

It was a close, hard battle to the finish against the two top rivals for senior honors in the viaduct loop; an important win for Ed Whitehill's boys, to increase their lead to three games over the lately fast-creping Merchants.

Oshawa took a two-run lead in the first as Vic Napolitano and Roger Wood tripled successively, Jim Rogers was safe on an error ar ! Charlie Walsh hit safely; but as Morales forced Rogers at third Dadson fanned Dick Berning and Rowland skied to Bunny Maeson, to squelch any further damage.

Little Trouble

Dadson had little trouble for the balance of the game, aided by good support, save in the ninth, when Berning hit and Rowland doubled, with one away; but Lefty fanned pinch-hitter Don Rope and Maeson pulled a remarkable shoestring catch in right of Tony Delaurantis' low liner, to end the thrilling struggle.

Dadson and Delaurantis shared pitching honors fairly evenly from the standpoint of cold statistics. Each allowed seven hits; each walked three men. The Merchants' hurler fanned nine; Dadson struck out eight. Delaurantis hit two batsmen, accidentally.

Big Sixth

Petes scored one run in the second as Lowrey and Maeson singled, the former scoring on Dadson's rap through second, but the first of two double plays, Wood to Rowland, on Garvey's grounder to third, nipped any further damage until the big sixth.

George Brabin opened that frame with a hard single, advanced on a wild pitch by methodical Tony, and Stewart skied to Morales. Wood stopped Lowrey's rap cleanly but attempted with Morales to trap Brabin between second and third on the play; both runners were safe when the ball hit Brabin as he returned safely to the keystone. Milne singled in the tying run scoring Brabin. Maeson went out at first to bring up Dadson and set the stage for the payoff rap. Oshawa left seven stranded, Petes five. It was the finest ball game of the season to date.

Scottish Pence Favorite Pacer In $50,000 Race

WESTBURY, NY, Aug. 2 (AP) —Scottish Pence, world record holder at 1½ miles, tries tonight to win the $50,000 Nassau two-mile pace at Roosevelt Raceway for the second successive year — something no other horse has been able to do.

The six-year-old horse from the Castleton farm of Lexington, Ky., has been made 4-5 favorite to whip 11 of the fastest sidewheelers in the sport.

Only last week Scottish Pence lowered the 1½-mile mark for half-mile tracks to 3:06. A year ago he won the rich pacing stake in 4:17 1-5, and, if the track is right, he is expected to endanger the international two-mile standard of 4:16 4-5 Grattan McKlyo in winnin Nassau two years ago.

Scottish Pence, who will be driven by Wayne (Curly) Smart, has been out of the money only once this year.

Hayes Hanover, owned by W. O. Wright of Federalsburg, Md., will race coupled in the wagering with Cleo A. Young's Ferman Hanover of Timmonsville, SC.

Other fast stepping pacers in the field include, White Mountain Boy, holder of the track record for a mile; Dudley Hanover, second choice at 6-1; Stormyway, Dale Brewer, Rolla, Highland Ellen, and the veteran Dr. Stanton, owned and driven by W. L. (Lindy) Fraser of Forest, Ont.

Quakers Defeat Mutuals 16-10 With Early Lead

Opening with a burst of runs in the first three innings Quakers overpowered the Mutuals in an Industrial League game Wednesday night at the Quaker park 16-10.

Heafield went the route for the Quakers, striking out nine and walking only four. Meanwhile B. O'Toole and M. Guerin shared the mound chore for the Mutuals with Guerin credited with three strikeouts and O'Toole six. They issued only one walk.

Heafield helped his cause in the first by leading off with a single and before Mutuals could stamp out the early rally the Quakers had scored four runs. But the Mutuals came back with three runs in their half of the first with White, Thorburn and Huard setting the pace.

But before the Mutuals could rest the Quakers slipped four more across in the second and two in the third to make the score 10-3. Both teams added to the score in the fifth with the Quakers still pulling away 13-4.

Led by Heafield and Jenson the Quakers pushed two runs across in the sixth and then added the final in the seventh when Montgomery homered.

The Mutuals faced with defeat rallied for five runs in the seventh when they combined three errors with two hits, one a homer by M. Guerin. Heafield had to stop the flow with three strikeouts.

In the top of the ninth M. Guerin again started a rally with a single and was sent across when Thorburn connected.

Canada Direct Beats Hanover

TORONTO, Aug. 2 (CP). — Malcolm Hanover, the speedy stallion owned by Ken MacKinnon of Owen Sound, suffered his second defeat of the year Wednesday when he was beaten by Canada Direct, owned by Ed Birtch, of Smiths Falls, Ontario.

Canada Direct paced the mile in 2.06 4-5 and established a new record for himself in the feature race.

Canada Direct paid $16.90 in beating Malcolm Hanover which had been backed to less than even money.

Dr Holman, the steady pacer owned by Wells and Hess of Aultsville, Ont., won two thrilling dashes. In both races, he came from fifth place at the stretch turn and finished fully 80 feet outside the rail horse.

Doug Loucks Pitches Lindsay To 4-2 Win

COBOURG, Aug. 2 — Doug Loucks spun a four-hit, 12-strikeout effort here Wednesday night as Lindsay Merchants whipped Cobourg Legionnaires, 4-2, in a Lakeshore intermediate baseball game.

Loucks, using a blazing fastball, bested youthful Byran Hart, Cobourg hurler, who was touched for nine blows. Junior West's double in the fifth with one on gave Lindsay the edge and Wickett's single in the seventh scoring Tompkins made it official.

Wicket, veteran rightfielder of the winners, led both clubs at bat, getting three for three, including a double.

The win strengthens Lindsay's hold on first place.

Small high schools like St. Peter's High, Port Hope, Bowmanville, Whitby, Tweed and others will have a better opportunity to win a COSSA championship this year. G. B. (Bev) Goulding, coach at PCVS, said today that the COSSA district will operate "A" and "B" leagues in both senior and junior football.

For a number of years junior football in the Lakeshore district has been divided into two sections. At the end of the schedule they would meet for the area honors.

Other areas in the COSSA such as the Bay of Quinte and the Niagara have in recent years made a distinction between the large and small schools but also have played off for area championships.

The move to have two separate divisions is to encourage the small schools to compete. Previously the larger schools have swamped the smaller, thereby discouraging them. Gradually fotoball teams have been disappearing.

This coming season the collegiates will be divided into the two division according to the number of boys attending. The division line is 250.

For the first time in the history of the COSSA there will be four football championships, one for each of the sections.

At PCVS the change will make little difference but for St. Peter's High team it may mean a championship for they will be entered in "B" grouping.

✦ ✦ ✦

Coach Goulding expects that the Lakeshore senior grouping will be much the same as last year. The Oshawa collegiates are expected to combine with one senior team. Lindsay is the other collegiate which is on the border line of the new division. It usually had a junior team.

Mr. Goulding earlier this year suggested an Orillia-Belleville-Oshawa-PCVS senior league. No action has yet been taken along that line, but the schedule meeting will be held early in September.

✦ ✦ ✦

Exhibition games will in all probability be featured again this year although the usual East York Goliath-PCVS is off. The St. Catharines collegiate COSSA champions have been assigned that Friday night this year.

Coach Goulding said that although nothing definite has been arranged he expects to have Riverdale of Toronto in Peterborough early in the season, followed later by other Toronto teams.

This year Trinity College School of Port Hope will be in Peterborough for their annual clash with PCVS. That game has become one of the top encounters on the PCVS menu.

✦ ✦ ✦

This year the PCVS juniors will be handled by Al MacQuarrie, Alex Londry who coached them to three straight COSSA championships announcing his retirement after the 1950 season.

MacQuarrie who coached the junior "B" team last year will be starting with practically green material. He will have likely eight back from the championship team and others from his 1950 group.

Qwing to the lack of a third coach a second "A" team at PCVS is not possible.

✦ ✦ ✦

Many Peterborough sports fans may not realize that several times just after the turn of the century local fans applauded Bev Goulding's father, G. H. Goulding, now of Toronto, one of the world's greatest heel and toe walkers.

Several appearances were made at the Brock St. arena by Mr. Goulding when he was at his peak from 1910 to 1912. During that time he held most of the records for the one to 10-mile distances and in 1912 was the Olympic champion, winning at the games in Stockholm, Sweden.

Kesselring, Westlock Enter Kawartha Open Trophy

"Where are all the golfers coming from?" moans the Kawartha Open entry committee as Ontario and United States golfers apply to contest in the annual Kawartha Lakes 54-hole amateur golf tournament on August 4-5-6, Civic Holiday weekend.

The sixth annual event is billed by tournament officials as "the largest and richest amateur golf tournament in Canada."

The entry committee will agree with the largest. Up to Tuesday night 319 entries had been made for the three flights. A quick decision to make up the daily draw was made and the tournament had to be closed at only 290 golfers.

Besides those turned down on Tuesday another 50 entries were turned down during Wednesday.

$1500 In Prizes

This year the prizes' value was raised to $1500 from the $1000 which it has been for the past several years. Besides the low gross trophy for the three-day 54-hole chore the top prize will be luggage, valued at $100. To the second low gross golfer will go a similar prize.

Besides these there will be prizes for: the four low gross and five low net in the first flight (0 to nine handicap); four low gross and six low net in the second flight (10 to 20); three low gross and three low net in the third flight (21 to 36); team prizes for first and second; daily prizes for low gross; nine prizes for the Dawn Patrol; five prizes for the Sunset Serenaders; best-dressed golfer.

New Team Trophy

A new team trophy has been presented this year. The Hamilton Chedoke club swept the Schneider trophy last year for the third straight year, winning it for all time.

Already the various clubs have shown interest in the club trophy for team play throughout the 54 holes. Clubs from Sarnia, Kitchener, Hamilton and other centres have entered about 15 golfers each to compete for the new prize.

Moe Norman of Kitchener will have trouble defending his championship won last year as this year's Ontario's top golfers have entered competition.

Jerry Kesselring, Kitchener Westmount, the Ontario amateur champion, and runnerup, Nick Weslock, Essex, have entered this year. They will be competing with golfers such as Bobby Fair and Doug McKellar, Toronto, Ernie Bentley, Ottawa, and Mike Cassidy of Toronto St. Georges.

Records Already

Before the tournament even opens several records have been set.

This year the tournament will begin daily at 5.43 a.m., 19 minutes earlier than last year. The group from then until 8 a.m. will be referred to as the Dawn Patrol. Last year this group was starting out in semi-darkness, the cars still using headlights along Highway 28.

Another group, the Sunset Serenaders, golfers leaving the first tee from 4 p.m. until 5.05 p.m. will receive special recognition. This is the latest time for players to tee off.

From 5.43 a.m. until 5.05 p.m. golfers will be leaving at the rate of three every seven minutes.

Lindsay got their first run in the 5th inning and in the same frame shortstop Baker connected with one of Parsons' "slow" balls and went the circuit bringing in four more.

Harold Crawford led at bat for Carruthers with three for four.

For Omemee, "Bones' 'Eggleton, who also did a neat catching chore, walloped four safeties in five trips, one of them being a homer. Hickson hit three for five and batted in three runs and Tom Pogue batted two for five with runs batted in.

First For Petes Need Two Games

Victories over Toronto Yorks in the next two games, Friday night and next week, will give the Peterborough Timber Structures first place definitely in the senior OLA standing. At the same time it will give Peterborough its first Ontario senior lacrosse championship.

At present there is a mathematical chance of the Hamilton Tigers, St. Catharines and Mimico finishing on top.

Hamilton's chances faded Wednesday night when the St. Catharines Athletics, on a goal by Ted Howe at 8.30 of the overtime period, won 10-9. The win moved St. Catharines back into a second-place tie with the Tigers.

Leading the scoring for the Athletics were Max Wolley, Tony D'Amico and Ted Howe with two goals each. Mel Nelson, Doug Smith, Pat Smith and Steve Oneschuk each had one. Tommy Love got four for Hamilton and Jack Gair scored three.

At Weston, meanwhile, the Brampton Excelsiors consolidated their hold on fifth place by turning back the Toronto West Yorks 9-7, also in overtime. Nick Ferri and Al Garbutt scored in the overtime session to provide the winning margin. Toronto missed a chance to pull out of the last-place tie with Fergus.

Hastings Legion Team Eliminates Tanners

HASTINGS, Aug. 2 (ENS). — Legion eliminated Tanners in the Hastings league in two straight games and now meets Hastings Juniors in finals. The Legion boys captured the first game 7-2 and took the second on Wednesday night 17-4.

Crawley went all the way for Legion, giving up but four hits and taking out 16 via strike-outs.

Blackbourne started for Tanners, but was hit freely and with poor support. Stevens relieved in the eighth and finished the game. Legion now meets Juniors in the finals and it promises to be a good series. Crowley of Legion and West of Juniors, former teammates, with the Campbellford Trent Valley entry will be the opposing moundsmen.

Port Hope Wallops Cobourg Legion 12-1

COBOURG, Aug. 2—Mathews, of Port Hope, walloped Cobourg Legion Juniors, 12-1, here in a Cobourg and district intermediate baseball league game.

Pitcher Barney Mills had an easy time of it, coasting along on a 5-1 lead after the second inning when Mathews batted around at the expense of Chub Jones, Legion hurler.

Most important hit was a triple by Mills with the bases loaded which stopped the Legion completely.

Petes Lace Mimico 17-11 Slater-Wootton Shine

Peterborough Timbermen proved conclusively why they are the current leaders of the senior OLA as they stepped Wednesday into Mimico's Drummond St. bowl and handed the Mounties a resounding 17-11 lacing. Russ Slater continued on his goal scoring spree which has featured his play of the past two weeks by scoring seven times on Red Hartley who looked bad in the Mimico nets.

While Hartley was having an off night, Wootton in the Timber structure nets literally defeated Mimico single-handedly with a sensational performance especially in the first quarter as he stopped no less than eight dead-on drives in the first three minutes of the game.

The visitors managed to grab a 3-1 lead at the end of the first quarter and managed to hold part of that margin as they led 7-6 at the half but a determined drive by Mimico gave them a 10-8 lead going into the final period.

The Petes scored no less than nine times in the final frame to clinch the victory, most of the goals coming from long, shoulder-high shots as the Timbermen, quick to realize that Hartley was having trouble with that type of shot, winged almost every shot from 20 yards out.

Gerry Fitzgerald and Harry Wipper scored three times while Arn Dugan got a pair for the victors. Kenny Dixon, Denny Peterson and Ken Lytle each scored twice in Mimico's losing cause.

The game was cleanly played as Referees Joe Murphy and Lou Vipond kept iron control and only three minor penalties were issued, all to Mimico.

The Petes are now in the happy position of only needing two more victories in their remaining games to assure themselves at least a tie at the top of the loop providing Mimico and St. Kitts should win the balance of their games.

Lineups:

Travelling Costs To Drown New Hockey Loop

EDMONTON, Aug. 2—(CP) — Coach Neil Colville of the National Hockey League's New York Rangers saiad Wednesday he sees little chance of the newly formed Western Professional Hockey League surviving more than a year.

The Pacific Coast Professional League was enlarged two weeks ago when Calgary Stampeders, Edmonton Flyers and Saskatoon Quakers, formerly of the Western Canada Major League, were admitted.

Other teams in the new Western Canada-Pacific Coast League are: Vancouver Canucks, New Westminster Royals, Victoria Cougars, Seattle Ironmen and Tacoma Rockets. Colville said that financial strain in the new circuit will be too much to cope with. Travelling expenses would far exceed estimates.

"Edmonton and Calgary will be lucky to break even," Colville said. "But I'm sure Saskatoon will go in the red due to the extra travelling distance. At any rate I can't see how the prairie teams can operate more than one year."

Pitchers Pounded Plenty Yanks Lose, Indians Win

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

Pity the poor pitchers, caught in the steaming heat and double-header jam of the four-club American League race. Even the best are crumbling under the strain.

Allie Reynolds, no-hit ace of the Yankees surge, lasted only one inning yesterday against Detroit as New York lost a 9-8 first game. Things were so tough that Casey Stengel brought him back to rescue Tom Morgan and save the Yanks' two-game lead with a 10-6 edge in the second.

Cleveland's Bob Lemon was bombed in the sixth at Washington where overworked Mike Garcia, a 13-game winner, had to help save on 8-6 first game. Early Wynn failed to last in the second game, fading for a pinch hitter in Washington's 4-3 victory.

Only one Boston Red Sox pitcher has come the route in the last seven games with the club home at Fenway Park. The Sox have dropped 2½ behind the Yanks.

Fifth In Week

Ellis Kinder made his fifth appearance in a week yesterday after Willard Nixon pulled a tendon in his thigh sliding into a base. Nixon was pitching two-hit ball for seven innings when hurt. Walt Masterson and Kinder nailed down his 5-1 edge over St. Louis.

For a change Chicago White Sox got a full nine-inning job as Billy Pierce whipped Philadelphia 4-3 to remain seven games off the pace.

Brooklyn's pitching also had a rough time at Pittsburgh where the Pirates knocked out Ralph Branca and roughed up loser Clyde King to win 12-9. Ralph Kiner hit his 27th homer for the Bucs and Gil Hodges No. 31 for Brooklyn.

The loss cut the Brooks' lead to nine games because New York split a pair with Chicago, losing 3-2 to Cal McLish and winning 2-0 on rookie Al Corwin's seven-hit shutout for his first big league victory.

Despite a 1-0 blanking at the hands of Cincinnati's Ken Raffensberger, the Phillies held tight to third place because St. Louis lost.

The Cardinals were edged by Boston 2-1, dropping into a fourth-place tie with the Braves. Warren Spahn won his 12th on a five-hitter.

Five Hits

George Kell, who had a five-hit day, slashed a single in the eighth inning to beat the Yankees in the first game. Kell's hit was off Spec Shea but Jack Kramer was the loser. Two homers by Gene Woodling and one by Yogi Berra went to waste. Hank Bauer drove in three runs and Joe DiMaggio two in the second game victory.

Cleveland came up with three in the ninth to win the first game at Washington but succumbed to Julio Moreno's seven-hit pitching in the second half of the twilight-night double.

Ted Williams and Vern Stephens slugged successive first-inning homers for all the runs the Red Sox needed to numb the Brownies.

Nelson Fox's ninth - inning double scoring Pierce was the winning blow for the White Sox at Philadelphia.

Larry Jansen was beaten by the Cubs in the Giants' first game at Chicago, marred by a rhubarb in the eighth when manager Leo Durocher insisted that Sal Yvars bat out of turn. He fanned anyhow, but the Cubs were ready to protest to the umpires if he got the base. Later Durocher admitted he was wrong.

Corwin retired 15 men in order until Frank Baumholtz beat out a bunt in the second game. Only three runners reached second base on the Ottawa grad.

Cincy's run off Russ Meyers of the Phils came in the sixth on Wyrostek's single and Ted Kluszewski's double.

Louis Batters Brion In Decisive Win

By RUSS NEWLAND

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 2 (AP) —Old Joe Louis, decisive winner over Cesar Brion of the Argentine in a furious 10-round battle last night, expressed keen disapointment today over circumstances which may keep him from a title fight for po[illegible] a year.

The form[illegible]n, informed of the agreement between titleholder Joe Walcott and Ezzard Charles to postpone this championship rematch until next year, said he had not given up hope of regaining the crown.

"As long as Walcott or Charles has got it, we still have hope," he said.

Louis and Marshall Miles, his manager, will confer with Jim Norris, president of the International Boxing Club in New York, tomorrow.

A crowd of approximately 12,000 paid $66,525 to see Louis batter the game South American all over the ring in the closing rounds.

Brion stood up under punishment that would have flattened many a fighter. He was groggy from the seventh through the tenth. His face was puffed and blood flowed from cuts on the side of each eye.

More Decisive

It was Louis' second 10-round win over Brion. This one was far more decisive than their melee in Chicago last November.

The 24-year-old gamester from the Argentine carried the battle to Louis from the opening bell and was ahead on points for five rounds.

He crowded his 37-year-old rival, scoring with left jabs and flurries of body blows to hold his narrow margin for the first half of the bout.

Louis, slow-footed but still packing much of the wallop that enabled him to rule the heavyweight ranks for 11 years, landed an occasional shocker in the early rounds and his punches carried more authority than Brion's.

In the seventh round, Louis caught up with his man. He battered Brion with lefts and rights to the head and drove in body blows that had the latter groggy.

He pounded steadily in the eighth, ninth and tenth. But he couldn't connect for the knockout smash.

Louis weighed in at 207 pounds. Brion weighed 196.

US Yacht Wins International Meet

COWES, Isle of Wight, Aug. 2 (AP).—The United States completed a brilliant recovery yesterday to defeat Great Britain; four races to three, and win the British-American cup for six-metre international class yachts.

Trailing three races to one in the best-of-seven series, the American entries swept to victory Monday and Tuesday to even the contest and then scored a decisive 14 ¼-to-7 point triumph yesterday to carry off the trophy presented by the Seawanhaka Corinthian Yacht Club of New York.

The American yacht Llanoria won three of the seven races.

Alex Wilson of Montreal forced Tom Hampson, the British school teacher, to set a record of one minute 49.8 seconds in the 800 metres at the Los Angles Olympics 19 years ago today. Wilson in second place was just a foot behind Hampson in the closing burst with Phil Edwards of Hamilton finishing third.

Here And There In Sports

By The Canadian Press

The Rideau Canal at Ottawa built more than a century ago for military purposes, will carry units of the RCN here Sept. 1-3 for the Navy's third annual Great Lakes annual regatta, it was announced Wednesday.

HMCS Carleton, the Ottawa naval division, will play host to 10 naval divisions from Quebec City to Winnipeg on Dow's Lake, a part of the Rideau Canal in Ottawa.

Events in the regatta include whale pulling races, whaler and dinghy sailing, war canoe races, tug-of-war, and rifle and pistol shooting.

Units entering this year's regatta are from Toronto, Kingston, London, Montreal, Hamilton, Quebec, Windsor, Port Arthur, and Winnipeg.

At Pasadena, Calif., radio and television rights for Rose Bowl football games for the next three years were sold Wednesday to the National Broadcasting Corporation for $1,510,000.

At Lexington, Ky., a bay daughter of Bull Lea brought a fabulous $60,000 Wednesday to become the highest priced yearling filly ever sold at public auction in the United States.

C. S. Jones, of Long Beach, Calif., bought her. The previous high for an American yearling filly sold at auction was $54,000.

The Pennsylvania Athletic Commission slapped a $500 fine Wednesday on Jake Mintz, co-manager of former heavyweight champion Ezzard Charles, for the row he raised just before the Charles-Joe Walcott fight.

Mintz was suspended by the commission after the fight in which Charles lost his title to Jersey Joe on a seventh-round knockout. The suspension was lifted Wednesday when the fine was fixed after a hearing.

Harness racing veterans predict a world record may be set tonight if track conditions at Roosevelt Raceway, Westbury, NY, are favorable for the $50,000 Nassau two-mile race.

A dozen of the fastest side-wheelers in the sport are scheduled to start, with Scottish Pence a heavy favorite.

The world mark of 4:16 4-5 for two miles on a half-mile track was set by Grattan McKlyo in winning the Nassau race two years ago.

Also entered in the race is Dr. Stanton, aged gelding owned by W. L. (Lindy) Fraser of Forest, Ont.

Baseball's executive committee has been called into a special meeting Tuesday Aug. 7 at New York to discuss the naming of a baseball commissioner to succeed A. B. Chandler.

Eighteen players were named Wednesday to compete in a 36-hole test Sunday leading towards the make-up of Quebec province's Willingdon Cup team.

The cup competition for four-man teams from the various provinces, will be held Aug. 25 at the Royal Ottawa course, preceding the Canadian amateur championship tournament.

Walter (Babe) Pratt said Wednesday he has asked for and received his unconditional release as playing coach of New Westminster Royals of the Pacific Coast Hockey League.

The Babe, former National Hockey Leaguer, said he had asked for his release after being asked by co-owner Ken McKenzie to take a cut in salary.

Three Jockeys, Apprentice Suspended

FORT ERIE, Ont., Aug. 2 (CP) —Three more jockeys and an apprentice rider have been suspended in the snowballing investigation of suspected race-fixing on Ontario tracks.

The Ontario Racing Commission yesterday barred from racing pending further investigation: Jockeys George Thompson of Hamilton, Charlie Bright of Muncie, Ind., Robert Merchant of Toronto and apprentice jockey John Bromby, also of Toronto.

Their suspension brought to six the number of riders set down since the investigation began last week amid widespread rumors of a major betting coup pulled at Fort Erie track by gamblers and racketeers.

Previously Bobby Keane, widely-known Toronto jockey, and Phil Marchese, a newcomer to Ontario from Pawtucket, Rhode Island, were ruled off tracks in the province for life "for conduct prejudicial to the best interests of racing."

Criminal Charges

Along with yesterday's suspensions came a hint that criminal charges might be laid after completion of the investigation.

S. Tuper Bigelow, chairman of the commission, said there was a possibility of some jockeys being arrested after the probe is finished. It would depend on the commission findings.

Chairman Bigelow's remarks were emphasized by the appearance here of the Mounties and the Ontario Provincial Police. They are helping the commission in its investigation and will have the final say on whether criminal charges will be laid.

The commission's announcement of the latest suspensions gave no reasons, but there have been reports of money offered to jockeys to fix races here. And other reports of the loss of thousands of dollars by bookies to heavy long-shot bettors in recent weeks added weight to the belief that some attempts at bribing riders have been successful.

Hamilton Pair Win Junior Championship

TORONTO, Aug. 2 (CP). — A one-stroke margin over their closest opponents Wednesday gave a pair of young golfers from the Hamilton Glendale Club the Ontario junior best ball championship at the Summit Golf and Country Club.

Ramsay McDonald and Donald Bailey shot a par 71, to beat Bob Pezzack and Jack McLaughlin of suburban Scarborough.

The sixth annual 18-hole competition for the Summit Trophy drew a field of 37 pairs.

Tied for third place were P. J. Neale and P. J. Drynan of Dunnville, Ont.; Jerry Knechtel, Ontario junior champion and 1947-48 best ball winner, and Don Ziegler, Kitchener Rockway; and W. Bowen and D. Jeffery, Cobourg. Each pair shot 73.

Cubs Quit Cellar With Twin Win

By The Associated Press.

It took them a long time, but Springfield Cubs found themselves breathing the fresh air of seventh place in the International League today.

The Cubs, who have been in last place practically all season, whipped Syracuse Chiefs in a doubleheader last night, 3-1 and 4-2, and combined with 8-0 and 5-2 pastings Buffalo handed Ottawa, wound up half a game ahead of the Giants.

Bob Schultz went all the way in the seven-inning opener and held the Chiefs to six hits. Al Ihde won the second game for the Cubs, his seventh triumph, but needed help from Tony Jacobs in the seventh.

The Bisons had no trouble in the opener behind the two-hit hurling of Lynn Lovenguth, but Ottawa made a fight of it in the nightcap. The teams were tied 2-2 until Wally Post broke it up with a two-run triple in the ninth.

In single games, the league-leading Montreal Royals toppled Toronto Maple Leafs 10-4 with righthander Hamp Coleman doing the honors on the mound, and Rochester Red Wings hung a 3-1 defeat on Baltimore Orioles. Kenney Wild went the distance for the Rochester victory. He was helped

Jack Hutchins Sets New Record

VANCOUVER, Aug. 2—(CP)— Jack Hutchins, of Vancouver, last night cracked the Canadian 1,500-metre record, covering the distance in three minutes, 54.7 seconds.

Racing at the Vancouver Olympic Club's third annual invitation twilight track and field meet, Hutchins broke the record of three minutes, 58.5 seconds set by Bill Parnell of North Vancouver during the Canadian championships in 1948.

Hutchins' time was one second off the time he set in the 1948 Olympic Games, when he turned in Canada's best performance by placing third.

Whale Meat On Sale In Winnipeg

WINNIPEG — (CP) — You can buy whale meat in Winnipeg stores now. And its put up in cellophane-wrapped, one-pound steaks.

W. J. Ward, Liberal member of parliament for Dauphin and president of a Churchill whale and fish products company, said Winnipeg is the first large city in Canada where stores have whale meat for sale.

The company started selling the meat for general consumption last year to the northern Manitoba towns fo Flin Flon, The Pas and Dauphin.

The company was set up in 1948 to process Belugas, which are small white whales, about 12 feet long. From each whale the plant processes an average of 100 pounds of steak and 400 pounds of oil.

Nothing is wasted, since the rest of the whale is ground to sausage-meat consistency and sold to fur farms. Fifteen Eskimos and Indians are employed in catching the mammals in Hudson Bay during the June to September season. They are paid a dollar a foot for each of their catch.

Mr. Ward said the Churchill plant is the only one where three processes are combined in one factory to dispose of each whale. The refined oil finds its way chiefly to makers of shortening and butter substitutes.

The company expects to find a big market for whale steaks because they are boneless, sinewless and take only 10 minutes to cook. "They have no fishy flavor," Mr. Ward said. "If anything, they taste something like liver."

He said the company is still in the experimental stage, but "If we find a market the venture will be a success because the supply of the Belugas seems inexhaustible as far as our plant is concerned."

Ottawa City To Save $492,000 On Loan

OTTAWA, Aug. 2 — (CP). — The City of Ottawa will save at least $492,000 by floating the largest part of a $10,054,000 loan in New York instead of in Canada, Finance Commissioner G. P. Gordon, said Wednesday. More than $8,000,000 of the loan will be floated on the New York market. The saving will be made in interest charges. The interest cost to the city will be 3.468 on the New York issue, one-half per cent less than what the cost would have been in Canada. The coupon interest on the New York issue will be 3¼ per cent.

(The Canadian Press erroneously reported Wednesday that the coupon interest would be 3¾ per cent.)

Forego Interest On Loan To UK Canada Decides

OTTAWA, Aug. 2 (CP).—The government announced Wednesday night it will recommend to Parliament this fall that Canada forego for another three years the interest on the balance outstanding from a $700,000,000 wartime loan to the United Kingdom.

The balance now is $250,000,000.

This decision, a Finance Department statement said resulted from discussions between the governments of Canada and the United Kingdom. Legislation to implement it will be introduced at the fall session of Parliament.

The $700,000,000 loan was extended in 1942 as a funding of advances made to the British Government in the period preceding wartime arrangement for mutual aid. The loan was to be interest free until after the war, and in 1946 Parliament extended this provision until Jan. 1, 1951. The government will ask parliament to continue the extension to Jan. 1, 1954.

Reduce Amount

It also had been arranged that the principal of the loan would be reduced by crediting against it the dollars accruing to the United Kingdom from sales or redemptions of Canadian market securities held by British residents. This was to be offset by the amount of approved classes of certain new direct investments made in Canada by United Kingdom residents.

The net effect of these repayment provisions had been to reduce the amount of the loan outstanding to approximately $250,000,000 at March 31 last.

Parliament will also be asked to continue the repayment provisions.

Before the end of 1953, Wednesday night's announcement said, the two governments will enter into discussions on the question of interest and repayment of the balance of the loan then outstanding.

Cool Reception For Minister In Defense Talk

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2 (CP)—The Defence Ministers of Britain and France came to Washington Wednesday for a conference with US and Canadian officials on standardization of arms. Their arrival was made notable by the failure of top officials of the American Defence Department to welcome them.

Britain's Emmanuel Shinwell and France's Jules Moch landed at Washington Airport. They came to talk over standardizing the calibre of rifles and other small arms used by the major North Atlantic Treaty powers.

Canadian Minister Brooke Claxton, due to leave Canada late Wednesday night, is expected to press in the arms talk for machinery to prevent a recurrence of a dispute between Britain and the United States over adopting a common rifle for the Pact forces.

Canada's stand is expected to be that everything possible should be done to prevent the split over the rifle from spreading to other small arms. Claxton said Tuesday that the rifle argument is preventing Canada from sending further shipments of arms to Pact countries.

Two army department officials were at Washington Airport to greet the British and French ministers— Under-Secretary Archibald Alexander and Gen. John E. Hull, Vice Chief of Staff.

A Defence Department press release, issued earlier, had said that Army Secretary Frank Pace, in the absence of Secretary of Defence Marshall, will head the American delegation at the two-day arms standardization conference, which begins today.

Alberta Coal Claimed 100 Times Oil Energy

By FORBES RHUDE
Canadian Press Business Editor

The Western Coal Federation of Canada says that Alberta has, in terms of energy, 100 times as much known coal as it has known oil.

In a release on "coal research and industrialization of the west," the Federation comments:

"Among long-term experiments progressing in the laboratories are those aimed at producing oil from coal. Canada's oil industry is in a healthy condition and its prospects are excellent. It is, however, expected that demands made on it will continue to grow.

"At the present time, known oil and natural gas reserves of Canada are small compared with known reserves of coal. It is reckoned that in Alberta present natural oil reserves amount to 1,400,000,000 barrels. The energy in the province's coal reserves is equivalent to 140,000,000,000 barrels...

"To the layman, coal may lack the lustre of 'gold in them thar hills' or the excitement of oil bursting from the earth. To the fuel expert, it is treasure stored for millions of years and essential to the solid growth of diversified industry."

Push Button Coal

Incidentally, and still on the subject of coal, the Wall Street Journal reports that coal is being sold by "slot machine" in seven states, with 45 vending machines in use. You put in your coins, and out comes a sack of coal.

The Canadian Pulp and Paper Association has published a beautifully-illustrated booklet describing the trees principally used in the manufacture of pulp and paper. It is illustrated with reproductions of paintings by six Canadian artists—scenes of typical timber stands in various parts of Canada. The artists are Thoreau, MacDonald, Charles F. Comfort, A. Y. Jackson, Albert Cloutier, Franklin, Arbuckle and A. J. Casson.

Union Threatens Strike Of 9,000

TORONTO, Aug. 2 — (CP) — A strike of 9,000 men in Ontario's pulpwood logging industry was threatened Wednesday by an official of the new left-wing Canadian Union of Woodworkers.

Behind the threat is a struggle for labor control of the logging camps by two unions—the Woodworkers and the Conservative AFL Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners.

Bruce Magnuson, who leads the Woodworkers' Union, said that if operators bypass his group and attempt to negotiate with the Carpenters' and Joiners' Union, 9,000 bush workers employed by 24 firms would go on strike.

The appointments include those of judges to several of the higher courts of other provinces.

Shorts Banned Students Banned

IRONSIDES, Que., Aug. 2 (CP) —Students from 16 countries, some of them accustomed to wearing shorts as part of their regular attire, are slightly peeved about a Quebec municipal bylaw banning the use of shorts.

Here to attend a five-week seminar aimed at bringing about better understanding between the east and west, some of the students have termed the bylaw a source of irritation.

They find that when they want to go from St. Alexander's College, where the seminar is being held, to the Gatineau river, for a swim they must go fully clothed as far as the river bank.

Dr. L. E. Lynch, of the University of Toronto, director of the seminar, is seeking a temporary relaxation of the ban from municipal authorities in this town eight miles northwest of Ottawa.

Chrysler To Ask For Price Increase

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2 (AP)—An Office of Price Stabilization spokesman said Wednesday the Chrysler Corporation unofficially has given notice it will seek a 9½ per cent price increase on passenger cars.

The spokesman, revising an earlier report that Chrysler had filed an application for the increase under the new control law, said Chrysler and OPS officials had an exploratory meeting Wednesday.

The auto men were sounding out the agency on a method of applying for a higher ceiling and brought a proposal which OPS neither approved nor disapproved, the spokesman added.

URGES PASSAGE — ECA Administrator William C Foster tells the Senate Foreign Relations Committee he favors passage of the $8,500,000,000 foreign arms and economic aid-bill. He said the measure would help defeat the Communist drive for world conquest and build better living conditions abroad at the same time.

Timmins Refuses To Reopen Strike Talks

TIMMINS, Aug. 2 (CP)—Jules Timmins, president of Hollinger Consolidated Mines, has rejected a second plea by Mayor Philip Fay to reopen negotiations in the miners' strike here, it was learned Wednesday.

Some 1,500 members of the United Steelworkers of America (CIO-CCL) have been on strike since July 9. They are demanding a 13-cent hourly wage increase and a checkoff, under which the company would collect union dues from pay checks.

Mayor Fay, who telegraphed the mine president Tuesday, did not make Mr. Timmins' reply public, but it was learned from Mr. Timmins in Montreal that his company would not agree to the union demands. Mr. Timmins said rising production costs and the fixed price of gold ruled out higher wage rates.

Meanwhile, the former bargaining agents for Hollinger miners entered the strike picture today.

Support Strike

Local 241, Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers Union (Ind.) announced in a paid newspaper advertisement that it would "mobilize full and complete support for the Hollinger workers' strike . . ."

The Steelworkers Union last year wrested bargaining rights from the Mine-Mill group, expelled from the Canadian Congress of Labor for Communist leadership.

There was no immediate Steelworkers comment on the rival group's offer. But their statement at the start of the strike said: "We want to make it abundantly clear that we make no organization has any authority to make any appeals for assistance on our behalf, since various front organizations of the Communist Party—which includes Local 241—may offer some sort of support."

15% More Poultry

OTTAWA, Aug. 2 (CP)—Estimates by the Bureau of Statistics Wednesday placed the poultry population at June 1 at 15 per cent higher than a year ago. Number of domestic fowl rose 16 per cent to 71,116,000 from 61,469,000. Turkeys increased five per cent to 2,698,000 from 2,559,000, and geese four per cent to 384,000 from 368,900.

Spain Could Be Asset-Bradley

OTTAWA, Aug. 2 — (CP) — General Omar Bradley said Wednesday Spain could be made an asset to Western military strength.

The chairman of the United States Joint Chiefs of Staff, in Canada for four days of talks and fishing, told reporters he wasn't prepared to talk about Spain from the political point of view.

But from a military point of view a friendly Spain would mean another 300,000 to 4000,000 soldiers who are willing to fight Communism.

Today he meets the chiefs of staff and members of the cabinet and sees an old wartime friend, the Governor-General. Friday he goes fishing at a club in the Gatineau hills 31 miles north of here.

Gen. Bradley didn't have much to say about the rifle issue except that the US wants as much arms standardization as possible but still has three different calibres in its own infantry company.

Family Gets $14,500

TORONTO, Aug. 2 (CP)—The Ontario Supreme Court Wednesday awarded $14,500 to the family of Paul Chaput, Lambton county farmer killed in an automobile accident in November, 1950. The judgment was against Verne Christiana, owner of the car which struck Mr. Chaput, and Matthew Derooy, driver. The widow, Madeleine Chaput, 22, was awarded $8,497 and the two children $3,000 each.

To Try For Insurance Against Arms Split

OTTAWA, Aug. 2—(CP)—Defence Minister Claxton is expected to press in Washington today for establishment of machinery to prevent a recurrence of the British-American split on a common rifle.

He left late Wednesday night after a dinner for Gen. Omar Bradley, chairman of the US Joint Chiefs of Staff, who met him Wednesday afternoon for a talk on the rifle question and other matters.

Canada's stand at the talks with the United States, United Kingdom and France is expected to be that all possible that can be done to prevent the split over the rifle from enveloping other small arms should be done.

Seaway Certain

KINGSTON, Aug. 2 (CP) — Premier Frost said here Wednesday that construction of the St. Lawrence seaway "is as certain as the rising of the sun." Mr. Frost said in an interview that the seaway is a necessity. Canadians will "build it ourselves if we have to."

Colored Tickets

TORONTO, Aug. 2 (CP) — Toronto parking tickets soon may be colored. Mayor Hiram McCallum said Wednesday new tags may be introduced as part of a reorganization of the system of paying parking fines. Different colors would be used to distinguish the different standards of misdemeanors—$2 for a regular parking fine, $5 for illegal parking on rush hour routes.

New UK Jets Faster Than US, Reds

LONDON, Aug. 2 (AP)—Britain now has a jet fighter in production faster than the American F-86 Sabre or the Russian MIG-15, Air Secretary Arthur Henderson told the House of Commons Wednesday.

The plane is the Hawker P1067. Speed in excess of the F-86 would need to approach at least 700 miles an hour. The authoritative publication, Jane's Aircraft, puts the top speed of the Sabre at 650 miles an hour.

Henderson said the Hawker fighter will "deal with any bomber likely to be in service for some time to come."

The air secretary also said a new four-jet bomber, the Vickers Valiant, is in production. The Valiant is bigger, faster, capable of higher altitudes and able to carry bigger bomb loads than the successful British twin-jet Canberra.

He claimed the Valiant "will give this country the lead in the field of heavy jet bombers."

Both the Hawker and the Valiant were ordered straight from the drawing board. Neither is yet in operation.

The air secretary rated the Russian MIG-15 fighter as faster than either the MK-VII or the twin-tailed Vampire, the jet fighters with which the RAF now is largely equipped.

TALKS STILL DEADLOCKED — Eyes straight ahead, Gen. Nam Il, the chief Communist delegate to the cease-fire talks at Kaesong, Korea, walks out of the session of the meetings. There was no progress in ironing out the stalemate that has developed over the location of a cease-fire buffer zone.

No Yodelling

DIXIE, Aug. 2 (CP).—There'll be no yodelling next Monday when 400 members of the Toronto Swiss Club gather here to celebrate the 660th anniversary of Switzerland's establishment as a republic. It was the fifth body recovered since the tug sank mysteriously last December 18 off the mouth of the Cattaraugus Creek in Lake Erie with 12 men aboard.

U.S. EIGHTH ARMY HEADQUARTERS, Aug. 1 — (AP) — Allied patrols met only light resistance today at widely-scattered points along the Korean battlefront.

U.N. forces consolidated their positions on a dominating hill mass on the Eastern front, taken Monday after a hard five-day fight.

An Eighth Army communique reported "no significant enemy activity" on that front Wednesday.

Youth Found Guilty Of Receiving

Crown Witness Tells Of Transmission Theft At Lakefield

A 21-year-old Lakefield youth was given a suspended sentence today when he was found guilty of receiving a stolen car transmission, valued at $35.

Joseph Corby, Lakefield truck driver, pleaded not guilty to the offence and elected summary trial in front of Magistrate E. A. Gee of Lindsay.

Gordon Jessup, 16, who had previously pleaded guilty to theft of the transmission and was free on suspended sentence, was key witness for the Crown.

He said he knew Corby wanted a transmission for his car and made a tentative agreement with him to do business if a transmission was obtained.

Jessup testified that he went to Nick Peconi's used car lot in Lakefield on July 20 and stole a transmission that Corby had seen there and wanted. But he said Corby didn't tell him to go there, nor later ask where the transmission came from.

The stolen transmission was left in a ditch on Strickland St., near the used car lot, and later picked up by the two of them. Jessup's price was $8. The transmission was then taken out to a quarry about a mile from Lakefield and left under a tree.

Corby could give no reason for this manoeuvre.

Crown Attorney John Bradshaw KC, suggested it was because Corby didn't want Chief Garnet Samis to see the stolen transmission at Corby's home. The accused denied it.

"Wasn't the quarry rather a strange place to leave it?" queried Mr. Bradshaw.

"Yes," said Corby, who said he didn't know whose idea it was to take the transmission out there.

W. B. Gordon represented Corby.

One fan remarked that it was the best game he had seen here in 10 years.

Unemployed Claims Drop To Record Low; Say Factories Hiring More

566 Claims Lowest Recorded For Summer Months During Past Two Years; Construction Jobs Help Work Situation

Unemployment insurance claims at the Peterborough office set a record low of 566 for this year at the end of July, William Mellis, manager of the National Employment office, said today. The 566-claim figure also set a record low for the number of claims during a summer month for the past two years. In May this year the employment situation began to improve reducing the claim load at the Peterborough office to the 600-mark. In June the number of people drawing money continued to decrease to 591.

A year ago the office registered low figure for the year as employment opened up in the city. Yet the claim load was still quite high in July, 1,039, and in June, 1,005. A number of fairly large construction jobs were under way in the city.

This year without the construction of last year (only one large building now being erected, St. Peter's school) the employment situation has been helped by better conditions in Peterborough's industries.

Mr. Mellis said that the factories this year are hiring instead of laying off their help temporarily as last year. Several factories then were working either a short-day week or a short-hour day.

The manager added that the factories seem to have more orders this year.

More Applications

During July this year there was a total of 576 applications made by people looking for employment, most of these in the labor class. This is compared with July 1950 when 403 men and 317 women were job hunting.

But the number of jobs open at the end of July decreased slightly and were mostly for skilled people such as tool makers, machinists, draftsmen, stenographers and typists. Vacancies were 110 for men and nine for women as compared with 135 men and 17 for women in July 1950.

Men from the city drawing insurance money decreased in number from 360 last year to 263 at the end of July. In the remainder of the district the same number of men as last year in July, 65, were receiving funds through the mail.

The largest decline in claimants was in the women's section where only 180 in the city this year were drawing unemployment insurance. At the same time in 1950 in the city 573 women, mostly working only half time, were on short time or regular claims.

The only increase in claimants this July is in the women's postal claims, 17 more than last year's 41.

Seed Catalogue Realized In Salad Bowls

That picture of the cornucopia, the horn of plenty, figuratively applies these days to the greengrocer shops and counters. They are spilling over with a profusion of fruits and vegetables, and as an indication of the progress of the season first picking of Ontario peach orchards arrived to elbow space for their display.

Raspberries are nearing the end of their heavy crop, blueberries are plentiful, melons have been familiar for weeks, and the yellow harvest apples are here for cookery attention.

This is the conclusion of salad week, as it was designated, but the ingredients will remain into early fall.

There is abundance in the stores, and the stuff of the domestic salad bowl, lettuce, peppers, celery, onions, tomatoes, and so on.

The peach crop is reported almost as heavy as last year, with weeks of supply through August as the different vareities ripen.

Whatever is to be said for the dietary virtues of all these products of orchard and garden, obviously there is plenty for everybody, without mentioning the garden contributions of carrots, beets, peas, corn, potatoes, spinach, cucumbers and the rest of the seed catalogues as their inviting pages open toward the end of winter. They are here these days in their reality.

First Polio Case Confirmed In City

Elderly Man Hit By Car, Suffers Fractured Knee

James Marchan, 72, of 108 Stewart St., was knocked down late Wednesday afternoon by a Toronto car on Water St. and he received a broken right knee.

Mr. Marchan, proprietor of a tarpaulin and awning business at 348 Water St., started across the road from east to west, about 4.30 p.m. He stepped out from behind a parking meter, glancing south to see if any northbound motor traffic was coming, and was struck by a car backing into the east curb.

Police were informed that the driver of the car got out and spoke to Mr. Marchan and then drove away. His license number, Marchen said, was 13C81.

The owner of this car is listed as Paul Lalonde, Delaware Ave., Toronto.

Dr. H. G. Carleton took the injured man to Civic hospital, where it was found he suffered a broken right knee.

PC Douglas Farthing investigated.

Baffled Muskie

A Hamilton lad came close to taking two fish on one hook Wednesday night. Trailing a worm on a single hook the lad was fishing near Camp Kamanao on Stony lake. A sunfish took the worm and Peter Rumpel, 12, started to pull in the small fish. When he felt a heavier pull, he brought his line close to the boat and saw a small muskie with his jaws clamped firmly on the sunfish. When the pair were lifted clear of the water, the muskie let go, but waited for a few moments before swimming off. With Peter in the boat was H. F. Ketchum of the Grove School, Lakefield.

UK Government Reported Ready To Open Oil Talks

By JAMES M .LONG

TEHRAN, Iran, Aug. 2 (AP)—The British government was reported today to have agreed to open oil talks with Iran immediately.

Sources close to W. Averill Harriman, American troubleshooter, said Richard Stokes, Lord Privy Seal, probably would arrive in Tehran within 24 hours to work out details. These sources said negotiations on Iran's nationalization of the Anglo-Iranian Oil Company's $1,400,000,000 properties would begin Sunday or Monday.

Harriman received the British reply last night, and although its contents were not disclosed, it is understood Britain said the conditions for the talks, as explained by Harriman, were satsifactory.

It is not known whether Stokes will be accompanied by British Ambassador Sir Francis Shepherd who flew to London with Harriman last week to explain the current Iranian position to the British government.

The Tehran press, meanwhile, commented bitterly on the arrival of four British destroyers off the closed refinery at Abadan.

"It is amazing," one paper said, "that the British on one hand ask for the creation of a more friendly atmosphere at Abadan as a condition for renewed oil talks, and at the same time send more warships there. This can hardly be construed as a gesture of good will."

Skimmers March By Town Clock

The town clock looked down on more skimmers last night than it has seen in many a day.

The skimmer was a familiar name acquired by the staw sailor that men and youths used to wear against the sun before this hatless generation took up the vogue of the bare head.

Two young men in blue blazers and sailors turned the Charlotte St. corner in an open Ohio car, and shortly afterward four youths afoot turned off George St. into Charlotte in the once required straws.

Sartorial phillistines are today trying to wean men from the last of their customary summer attire, persuading them that they should cut off their pants above the knees and parade the hair and knobs of their legs in the scantiness that has just about reached the irreducible minimum.

Depends On Jobs

Probably this taking off depends on the job. You are never going to bamboozle the lawyer into his office in a T shirt and shorts, and sockless sandals. Imagine the doctor meeting a patient in that raiment, or the business man, especially the haberdasher with a store of apparel to dispose of.

Away go the last shreds of the appearance of distinction, at least in the areas of the paved streets, if men ever fare forth in next to nudity.

Jailed 10 Days, May Face Car Theft Charge

William David Waslew, 35, originally from Winnipeg but now no fixed address, was sentenced today in police court to 10 days in jail for drunken driving. He pleaded guilty to the charge.

When he gets out of the county jail he will probably face a charge of car theft laid by Pembroke police.

Waslew was taken into custody shortly after midnight Monday after the car he was driving knocked off a safety sign on the brow of the Westclox hill, leading down to the Lift Lock.

The car, a 1949 sedan, received an estimated $400 damage after sliding 150 feet down the south side of the hill. At the time he told police and witnesses that he was a hitchhiker, not the driver of the car.

Crown Attorney John Bradshaw KC, asked for a sentence heavier than usual because he thought this was a more serious case of drunken driving.

"Do you very often drive like that?" queried Magistrate E. A. Gee of Lindsay.

"No, your worship, it was drink that did it," said Waslew.

The magistrate ordered Waslew's driver's licence suspended for six months. Disposition of the car will likely rest with Pembroke police.

Two Russian Papers Use Morrison Article

MOSCOW, Aug. 2 (AP)—Three more Soviet newspapers—Izvestia, Red Star and Trud—today published Pravda's full text of British Foreign Secretary Herbert Morrison's statement telling the Russian people that if they were free they would know the west wants peace. They also published Pravda's full answer to Morrison.

The four papers have the largest circulation of any in the Soviet Union and are read by millions.

Two Plead Guilty Fined $100 Each

Geoffrey (Gip) Feeley, 35, of 261 Lake St, and Norman Fry, 32, of 6 Park St. N., pleaded guilty to two of five liquor charges laid against them by the Crown today.

Each pleaded guilty to having possession of liquor not listed on the permit. They were fined $100 each and costs.

Charges of keeping liquor for sale—laid against them individually as well as jointly—were dismissed when Crown Attorney John Bradshaw, KC, said he would offer no evidence.

A dozen bottles of whisky were confiscated.

Feeley also pleaded guilty to selling a revolver to a person not having a permit. He was fined another $50. Fry had previously paid a $50 fine for having an unregistered revolver.

Speaking on Feeley's behalf Gordon H. T. Farquharson said: "Selling of revolvers is a very common occurrence these days. There must be hundreds of them in the district, many of them souvenirs from the war."

"This practice will have to be discouraged," was the comment of Magistrate Gee.

Purse Invented For Women With Crutches

VANCOUVER—(CP)—A man on crutches has one big advantage over a woman in the same predicament—pockets.

And Claire Wallace, although she's known as a radio commentator—not an inventor—knows well the dilemma faced by women who can't carry a purse because they must use both hands to keep themselves vertical.

That cluttered purse is a necessity to women. That's where Miss Wallace comes in. She said in an interview she is going to see that women like herself, those who must depend on crutches, don't have to do without.

Her solution is a "crutch purse"—a handbag that tags along on the crutches, which doesn't impede motion and yet leaves both hands free.

The story of the purse starts with the misfortune which struck her two years ago in Australia.

She fractured her hip in a fall from an automobile, fractured it so badly that she still cannot get along without the aid of crutches.

Real Handicap

About her long convalesence she said: "One of the most infuriating things about using crutches is being unable to carry things a woman generally carries with her."

Fans who had experienced similar difficulties wrote her. So Miss Wallace went obstacle-toppling.

Toronto's Miss Wallace started experimenting more than a year ago to perfect her crutch purse. The first obstacles to be overcome were construction of a counter-balance and allowance for freedom of motion.

"About six months ago I found I had the perfect design in cotton", she reminisced, "but when I had it made up in leather I found there were all kinds of new difficulties and I had to start experimenting all over again."

But by "trial and error" she finally smoothed out the snags—she's not giving too many details yet—and patents were acquired recently.

"The bag can be used for everything from carrying books to a glass of water" she said.

"I'm positive this will be a boon to other persons like myself and I shall certainly try to have a few thousand manufactured to send to the many people who have written me."

Learn Geography On Motor Trip

CALGARY—(CP)—A busload of teen-agers from the Florida summer school are earning their classroom credits the easy way—they're spending five weeks travelling in western United States and Canada.

The students, who reminded residents of their visit here by flying the "Battle Flag" of the Confederate States of America over their high school dormitory, started their tour June 16.

The trip, under the care of three chaperons, will earn them two school credits. W. L. Roney, owner of the summer school, has been sending out the excursions for 14 years. His aim is to show the students what the places they study about are really like.

In addition to visiting the historical and scenic sites in cities they visit, the youthful travellers are able to stock up on souvenirs.

Armed with several ukeleles and lusty voices, they make their own entertainment while on the road.

As but driver V. N. Blalock commented: "They're noisy, but nice."

Fashion Vignettes

ARTICLE 12

Five thoughts for you about wedding frocks: sheer, fine silk organdie, its collar high and round, the bodice smooth and snug, great lantern sleeves and a skirt whose bouffancy is formed by all-round unpressed pleats, worn over a full, ruffled taffeta slip; pique, in a long, slim, shirtwaist style, the skirt either a slim sheath or cartridge pleated at the hips; old-fashioned dotted Swiss in pure Victorian style, complete with a dust ruffle and fichu neckline; pique with bodice made entirely or organdie petals; satin with square neckline bordered with a pearl-encrusted band.

You'll read and hear of the word hedge in a frock's bodice. It means the neckline of a low-cut frock that has flowers or fabric tucked in, pleated, etc., to form actually a hedge along that neckline. Few years back a similar idea, that of a fold of contrasting fabric on a low neckline, was called a modesty. Like the modesty, the hedge softens the effect of a rather low bodice line.

If you're wearing the violet or mauve colors seen everywhere now, you're warned to avoid red, red lipstick. Lipstick should tend toward rosy or vintage tones, and your whole make-up should have a pinkish cast, rather than any hint of yellow or tans in it.

Shantung, cut on the bias, is the news in three-cornered kerchiefs which roll into a fluted shape most becoming to a short neck.

And just for a different air, they're carrying man-sized hankies with summer togs, mostly in bright pastels, or in a combination of pastel-colored blocks.

Summer ornament for your suit's lapel are daisies or dogwood. These are porcelain glazed, marvelously realistic, and in summery pastels. The daisy nods by itself with a couple leaves while the dogwood is usually, a small graceful twig or spray affair.

Now what have we . . . tiny jewelled ornaments to clamp on nylons. Glamour toujours glamour.

Slick trick this, the triple-puff, very large sleeves which are detachable from an evening dress of heavy slipper satin. This same frock sweeps into a sumptuous back bustle . . . sumptuous because the bustle is made entirely of a shower of wistaria blossoms! A Paris design, of course!

Perhaps you have a perfectly good coolie hat, the kind fashionable years back, which you tucked away, just in case? Well, they're in again, in wide, medium, or narrow-brimmed numbers. Very, very new and scheduled for summer are the coolie hats made of black velvet. You just might be able to slipcover yours!

Suits Double Up For Formal, Casual Wear

By GAILE DUGAS

NEW YORK—(NEA)—The suit that functions as something more than a suit is a worthy addition to the wardrobe of any woman who owns a practical side to her nature. Since this discription happens to fit a great many women, designers have readied such costumes for autumn.

They look like suits, they behave like suits, they match suits for performance. But they do even more. They may double as suit and dress. Or they may, with slight manipulation, move from an office desk to the gaiety of an after-five party. It depends. On the costume and the woman.

A dress-and-jacket ensemble in red-and-green flecked wool (left) by Eisenberg has the look of a suit. But under that jacket there's a collarless dress with green crepe top, flecked buttons and long, tight sleeves. Jacket has stand-up wing collar, tailored green leather buttons and narrow belt. Wool skirt is straight.

Black-and-white tweed by this same designer (right) can convert to two complete costumes. First, there's the collarless long jacket with square neckline and three-quarter push-up sleeves. There are jet buttons and a red taffeta lining. This red taffeta is seen again in a brilliant blouse that has a wide collar and jester ties. Once more, it appears in a full, pleated skirt that's not shown here. Suit skirt is straight with peg-like top and double slit back. Jacket blouse and skirt make daytime trio; blouse and red taffeta skirt make after-five costume.

Penicillin Is Working New Wonders, these days—in a tooth powder called DENTOCILLIN. And it can help save your family's teeth as never before possible. Over a million people have already been introduced to Dentocillin by their dentists. Start your family using it, today. Tastes wonderful. And really cleans teeth shining bright. 75c for 3 months' supply.

"Hay Fever Favourite" — That's the verdict of many druggists who have for years been recommending FACE-ELLE to their customers suffering from hay fever ... And, after talking to actual hay fever victims, I can easily see why! They tell me it's the happy combination of extra softness and extra absorbency that makes the difference ... a really gentle softness that's kind to tender, inflamed noses ... and extra absorbency so essential on 'sneezy' days. And here's a tip worth remembering: Face-Elle makes the only big 3-ply man-size tissues sold at drug stores ... or, if buying at your grocers, ask for Man-Size Gibson's. They're both good!

Mary Northey Wears Satin For Wedding At Lakefield

A wedding of wide interest and attended by many friends from a distance was that of Miss Mary Selina Northey to Mr. George Elmer Johnston of Brampton which took place in the Lakefield United Church Wednesday afternoon, August 1st, the Rev. Walton Tonge, minister, officiating.

Miss Northey is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Havlin Northey of Lakefield and was given in marriage by her father. The groom is son of Mr. and Mrs. George Elmer Johnston of Brockville.

Setting for the wedding was of white gladioli with ferns and palms banking the altar. Traditional wedding music was played by Mr. John T. Grylls and Miss Marjorie Kelly of Courtland, Ontario, sang "The Lord's Prayer" and "Still as the Night."

The bride chose a gown of gleaming white satin with a sweetheart neckline and a panel and yoke of French lace. The long full skirt and cathedral train were gathered to a slim bodice with long sheath sleeves. Her long veil of tulle illusion was gathered to a poke bonnet of matching lace and her flowers were white gladioli, gardenias and stephanotis in a crescent shape.

Maid of honor was her sister Miss Joan Northey and the bridesmaids were Miss Paula Mounce of Newburg, Miss Dorothy Curtin of Hamilton, and Miss Joan Gardiner of Peterborough. They were frocked alike in frost green nylon marquisette with matching capes and their headpieces were of the same material in a Dutch design with flowers on each side. The maid of honor carried a cascade of orchid gladioli and the bridesmaids cascades of yellow gladioli.

Flower girl Ann Delanney of Lakefield was in a crisp white organdy dress, floor length, and she had a nosegay of sweet peas and headdress to match.

Mr. Fred Peel of Galt attended the groom. The ushers were Wilfred Parry of Toronto, Alan Drew of Toronto and Peter Johnston of Brockville.

The reception was held at the Kawartha Golf and Country Club, Peterborough. Mrs. Northey was gowned in powder blue crepe with French lace panels and wore a matching hat with baby pink and navy osprey feathers and a corsage of pink gladioli with red throats. Mrs. Johnston, mother of the groom, chose for the occasion a gown of beige crepe and French lace, matching picture hat and corsage of firey red gladioli.

Starting on their wedding trip to the Atlantic coast and USA the bride was wearing an ice blue suit and hat with navy accessories and carried a navy coat and grip. Her corsage was of white gardenias and stephanotis.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnston will live at 1 Chappelle Street, Brampton.

The groom is sales manager and secretary-treasurer of the Williams Shoe Co. Ltd.

S. Hetherington Bride Of T. H. McMurray

At St. Peter's Cathedral on Monday morning, the Rev. J. Weis performed the marriage of Shirley Patricia, daughter of Mr. W. R. Hetherington and the late Mrs. Hetherington, to Mr. Francis H. McMurray, son of Mr. T. J. McMurray and the late Mrs. Mcurray, all of Peterborough.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Geo. Hetherington. Her gown was of nylon tulle with tunic of Chantilly lace and the round neckline was edged with tear-drop pearls. Her veil of tulle illusion was edged with lace and caught to a lace cap edged with pearls. She carried a white ivory ostrich tipped fan with white gladioli and centred with a mauve orchid.

Attending was her sister, Mrs. G. de Laplante, wearing Swiss violet taffeta with a matching color floral headdress and shoulder veil. She carried mauve and yellow gladioli fashioned in the form of a fan.

Mr. J. G. Crowley was groomsman for his cousin and the ushers were D. Moscrop and A. Foster.

A reception was held at the Kawartha Golf and Country Club where the bride's sister, Miss Pauline Hetherington, of Toronto, received, dressed in black with a hat of black chiffon velevet and corsage of pink roses. Guests were present from Montreal, Oshawa and Toronto.

When leaving on a trip to Montreal and Quebec, the bride wore a dress of mauve chiffon with matching accessories and an orchid corsage. On return the couple will live in Peterborough.

In Riviera Cover Up Seen On Some Beaches

CANNES, Aug. 2 (Reuters). — A gay, carefree atmosphere has descended on the Riviera coast from the Pyrenees to the Italian frontier. Small cafes with open-air terraces and pavement restaurants offer tempting menus.

Clothes reflect the casual mood of the Cote d'Azur for the six-week season from mid-July to the end of August.

In spite of the trend toward one-piece bathing suits which Parisian couturiers have tried to launch, the Bikini or two-piece suit is much in evidence.

At the smarter beaches, however, at Cannes and Antibes, the pendulum is swinging toward a more covered effect represented by one-piece lastex or dressmaker suits. At the less-expensive beaches, semi-nudism remains in vogue.

Bright island prints, polka dots and stripes are seen in a variety of bloomer or sarong styles with adjustable straps that let down for sun bathing. Black and white remain the most popular colors.

At Cannes, the fashion scene is equally dicided between classic tailored shorts and full peasant skirts. Many women favor separate blouse, skirt and shorts ensembles.

Jeanne Lanvin has one four-piece white linen outfit which includes a skirt, shorts, bra, and blouse. Any may be combined with prints or solid colors.

Short evening dresses are predominant at the casinos. Slim or full-skirted dancing dresses, low cut at the back, are seen in lisan shantung and sheers.

Ex-Railwayman Noted As Historian

EDMONTON—(CP)—There are two sides to the life of Frank Gilbert Roe.

On the one hand he is a retired railway engineer, on the other a scholar recognized by historical societies in Canada and the US as an expert on historical research.

Though he stopped formal schooling at the age of 11, his knowledge of Western Canadian history is so great that the University of Alberta will award him an honorary degree of Doctor of Laws this fall.

Mr. Roe came to Alberta in 1894 with his parents from Sheffield, England, where he was born more than 70 years ago.

He farmed until 1909 when he joined the old Grand Trunk Pacific Railway at Edmonton as a coal man and engineer wiper. In 1918 he was promoted to engineer.

In his spare time, and since his retirement to Victoria in 1943, he studied history.

Notable Book

A review of his book on North American Buffalo, soon to be published by the University of Toronto press, says he "displayed an enthusiasm and aptitude for scholarly research rarely found outside professional scientific circles."

His book is a 950-page historic and scientific volume on buffalo which took 15 years of work.

The fruits of his Western Canadian research have appeared since 1934 in such scholarly publication at The Canadian Historical Review, Transactions of the Royal Society of Canada, and reports of The Canadian Historical Association and Antiquity.

He was one of five Canadians at a cultural conference, sponsored by the Rockerfeller Foundation at Lincoln, Nebraska, in 1942, studying the history of the northwestern plains of the U.S. and Canada.

He was a member of the Lexington Group on Railway Historical Research, a member of the English Place Name Society and a Fellow of the American Geographical Society of New York.

Four Generations Fete Mrs. Babcook

Four generations were assembled Wednesday evening to honor Mrs. Eunice Babcook of Harrowsmith on the occasion of her 83rd birthday.

The party was held at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Elleda Alton, 448 Mark St., with granddaughters Mrs. Clarence Logan, Mrs. George Harding and Mrs. George Craft and grandchildren Eleanor Logan, Ruth and Raymond Harding and Roy Craft representing the later generations. Also present were her grandson's wives, Mrs. Donald Alton and Mrs. Keith Alton, Miss Doreen Beavis and the Rev. and Mrs. E. W. Rowland.

Mrs. Babcook was presented with a corsage of pink carnations and a lovely toast was proposed to her by Mr. Rowland. Miss Eleanor Logan favored with two beautiful piano selections.

The tea table was centred with a pretty birthday cake lighted with candles and decorations were pink and white, designed by Mrs. Logan, and vari-colored gladioli. Tea was poured by Mrs. Rowland.

Tenants Help To Test Flats

ABBOTS LANGLEY, HERTS., ENGLAND, — (CP)—The long search for housing accommodation has ended for 24 local families who have agreed to act at tenant "guinea pigs" in brand-new, modern flats at a rental of about $4 a week.

The families, on the housing waiting list for months, eagerly accepted the bargain, although there is a catch in it.

Their part of the deal is to assist the government's department of scientific and industrial research in its experimental program of devising sound-proof apartments.

The team of architects responsible for the construction of the building are trying to find out how to eliminate sounds made by stampeding kids upstairs, slamming doors, whining noises of the vacuum cleaner and the distractions of the next-door radio. The new tenants are expected to turn in reports on what they hear—if anything.

In the search for the noiseless flat the architects have arranged the 24 apartments in six groups of four exactly alike but built with different materials and concealed anti-noise gadgets.

To aid the experiment, which will be continued over a period of several years, some of the families will exchange flats once, others twice. This will permit a comparison of their experiences in the differently-treated apartments.

MR. AND MRS. HAROLD M. SKALING whose marriage took place recently at Kingston, Nova Scotia. The bride is native of Havelock, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Menzies, and was member of the teaching staff of the Kingston Bible College. At present the bride and groom are visiting her parents and other relatives in Havelock and district.

More Women Wear Fur Coats Today

MONTREAL, Aug. 2 (CP). — Ten times more women wear fur coats today than 25 years ago, a leading Montreal furrier said yesterday.

Felix Alexander, addressing a service club, said the reason why more women wear fur coats is they are a lot cheaper than in grandma's time.

"Twenty years ago mink coats were in the $10,000-and-up bracket," he said.

Modern production methods, improved breeding and modern merchandising have ended the fantastic prices on furs, he added.

FUNNY BUSINESS -- By Hershberger

"These cross-country cancers hit a heap big dry spell!"

MARY MOORE SAYS:

Supplement Liquid Milk With Powder At Half Cost

Children need one quart of liquid milk per day; adults a pint. Mothers who are cutting down on liquid milk should know that there is a way around today's high cost.

When even farmers' wives use dried milk powder, then it is high time that something was said in praise of it in this column.

Etta B. wrote to me and said she like my recipe for whole wheat bread, and that she used a duck egg too instead of hens' and that she added dried milk powder to make the loaf taste richer and be more nutritious.

She goes on to say that she keeps a few cans of dried milk powder on hand because on occasion she does not hold out enough milk after milking time for the family's use before all the surplus is taken by the milk truck or given to the pigs.

Now I have three other cooks who know a good nutritional measure when they hear of it, and couple this with the eye for efficiency and economy that two of them have and you have two people to respect. I refer to my friends Barb and Kathryn. They both use powdered skim milk in their baking and cooking and flavoured milk drinks. The VON girls use it in their afternoon tea and some of them still ask "Is it or isn't it?" when they pour the milk into their cups.

Last night we did what we considered was a successful little operation with skim milk powder: we whipped together equal quantities of water and skim milk powder until it was thick as marshmallow cream and used a scoopful on fresh gooseberry pie. Umm.

This pseudo-whipped cream does not add anything like the number of calories the real thing would.

Reliquified powdered skim milk costs half the price of liquid whole milk. One 1-lb. can costs 35 cents and may be reliquified to full skim milk strength to make 4 imperial quarts.

I feel strongly that since so many buyers are cutting down on their meat purchases that they should bolster other foods with a rich low-cost protein like milk powder—but do they know about it?

The health of four family will not suffer if you keep up the other protein foods (cheese, eggs, fish, fowl and milk) and enrich your baking and desserts and milk drinks with the most economical form of protein—milk powder.

Whipped Topping

One-half cup water less 1 tablespoon, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, ½ cup skim milk powder, 1 tablespoon sugar, ¼ teaspoon vanilla. Put all but sugar and vanilla in bowl and chill. Beat 10 minutes with rotary beater. Add sugar and vanilla. This makes 1½ cups.

Lemon Sponge Layer Pudding

One-quarter cup sifted flour, ¼ cup skim milk powder, ¼ teaspoon salt, 3 tablespoons butter, 1 cup sugar, 2 egg yolks, 1 tablespoon grated lemon rind, ¼ cup lemon juice, 1 cup water, 2 beaten egg whites, stiffly beaten. Mix and sift together flour, milk powder and salt. Cream the butter, add ½ cup of the sugar and beaten yolks, and mix. Add lemon rind and juice to water and add alternately with the dry ingredients to the butter-sugar mix. Beat whites stiff, gradually beat into them the remaining ½ cup sugar. Fold into butter-flour mixture. Turn into buttered baking dish and stand in pan of hot water (or bake in individual custard cups). Bake at 350 degrees Fahr. for about 35 minutes. Chill. Serve with whipped topping (see above).

Write to me if you would like to see more milk powder recipes.

THIS IS THE YEAR that rabbit is king. These fur fashions are high style but budget-priced. A bat-wing coat (left) simulates sheared beaver, is lined in turquoise wool jersey. Suit (centre) has creamy beige rabbit fur jacket lined with taupe suede-cloth that makes it reversible. Coat in smoke-grey rabbit fur (right) has cardigan neckline and front bound in black braid, is closed with black frogs.

From Rabbits, Fur Pants, Skating Skirts and Shirts

By GAILE DUGAS

New York—(NEA)—There was a time when rabbit, that king of budget furs, was known as lapin. Things are different this fall; rabbit is a rabbit.

Furs for fall, as done in rabbit and called by the name of rabbit, are spectacular. They are fireman red, forest green, honey blonde, turquoise blue, golden mustard, Oxford gray, white, and more. Rabbit, because it takes to the dye pot with ease, has been coordinated with color-matched fabrics in suits, coats, separates, evening clothes.

There are, by way of a partial listing, red fur pants, a blue fur skating skirt, fur weskits, a black fur skirt worn with a white shirt, a young lumberjacket of black rabbit lined in quilted red taffeta, a full-length ermine white rabbit coat for evening.

Creamy beige rabbit fur, for instance, is worked by designer Dan Millstein into a travel suit. The fur jacket is made reversible through the use of taupe suede-cloth. Both jacket and the slim, straight skirt can be worn with other separates.

Rabbit is versatile. When it's dyed to simulate sheared beaver, not even a beaver could tell the difference. This simulated beaver appears in a bat-wing coat by Cadenas that is let-out and worked with full lines. Coat lining is deep turquoise wool jersey.

A coat in smoke gray rabbit fur is given cardigan neckline and front by William Siefert. Both neckline and front are bound in black braid and closed with black frogs. Sleeves of this pyramid coat are worn pushed up or down. There's an accent lining in chamois-colored taffeta.

DOROTHY DIX

Girl Older? Wed Anyway Not Most Important Factor

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: Does age make so much difference in marriage? I am 30, and have been going with a man 26. He knew my age and said it made no difference to him. We have everything in common, and he seems much older than I. However, I was afraid I couldn't hold him, so I picked a quarrel and we broke up. He never knew the reason. I am wondering if I was too hasty in my decision.

ROSE

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: You are very foolish to break up as you did. A frank talk with your beau would have convinced you that the difference in age was unimportant to him.

First Things First

Age is not a vital factor for marital bliss. The things that make up a happy marriage—love, consideration, loyalty, kindness, generosity, mutual interests and a common love for God—are above a matter of years, and should come first. As the years go by, the gap between birthdays lessens, and in another decade it won't be noticed at all.

It won't be easy to convince your sweetheart of the cause of your quarrel, but it is worth the effort and you'd better try to patch things up.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: I have been married for ten years and have a little girl 8 years old. For the last three years I have been working to support the family. For no reason at all, my husband left his position and refused to look for work, saying he wasn't well. He has had several physical check-ups, and talks with mental doctors. All agree he is mentally and physically capable of holding a job. He is a good father and loves us both. If he'd only work everything would be perfect. I don't want to turn into a nagging wife but my patience is running out.

H. W.

ANSWER: Since doctors have failed to give your husband the impetus to go back to work, you might seek legal aid. Perhaps a lawyer could convince him of his responsibilities as a husband and father.

Occasionally one runs across a man who suddenly turns against outside work but is willing to take over all the care of the household and children while the wife becomes the breadwinner. Such a situation may be what you are facing. Divorce certainly is not a solution for you. Your child would be deprived of a father's love and care and you'd have to do the supporting anyway.

Have a lawyer talk to your husband, and if that doesn't change matters, I'm afraid there isn't much I can tell you to do except bide your time. This quirk of your husband's will probably straighten itself out unexpectedly and he'll go back to work as suddenly as he left.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: What advice can you give me about my next-door neighbor borrowing, and never, never bringing back a thing? Now it has come to borrowing money. I want to be a good neighbor but I feel I'm being imposed upon.

C. L.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: The only way to stop a perennial borrower is to stop giving. When she comes in for a cup of sugar, tell her the canister is empty. If she wants money, have an empty purse. When you have a friendly nature it may be hard to say no, but it's absolutely necessary.

Wants Women To Look Like Giraffes

PARIS, Aug. 1 — (CP).—The high fashion vogue for making woman's silhouette resemble birds or animals seems to be growing.

First there was Desses' "bluebird" line, and now Madame Carven wants to make women look like giraffes.

To be sure, Carven's mannequins did not look much like giraffes, and nobody expected Desses' models to take flight. The resemblance was in the outline—chiefly in bird-tail fluted skirts at Desses'. In the case of Carven the effect was obtained by high choker necks, sharply sloped shoulders, and sleeves shaped vaguely like a giraffe's leg.

IF BABY IS CROSS FIND OUT WHY

HEALTHY BABIES are not cross. Your baby should not be cross. If he is, then something in his little system is "out of order." Probably Baby's Own Tablets can promptly "put it right." One Quebec Mother had the experience. She writes: "My little girl was irritable, feverish and sometimes sick at her stomach—what a relief it was, after giving her Baby's Own Tablets, to see how much better she was." Sweet-tasting—no "sleepy" stuff—no dulling effect. Promptly effective in simple fevers, constipation, teething troubles, upset stomach and other minor ills. Never be without a full box of Baby's Own Tablets. Sickness so often strikes in the night. Get a package today at your druggist. Only 30c. Money back if you are not satisfied.

6—In Memoriam

JAMES—In loving memory of Melville James, who passed away Aug. 2, 1950.

Gone is the face we loved so dear,
Silent is the voice we loved to hear.
Too far away for sight or speech.
But not too far for thought to reach.
Sweet to remember him who once was here,
And who, though absent, is just as dear.

—Ever remembered by wife and family.

JAMES—In loving memory of a dear brother, Mel James, who passed away one year ago today, August 2nd, 1950.

He suffered on earth
He will suffer no more
In the loved land of the blessed
Pain fled as he trod heaven's bright shore
It left him at peace and rest
God knew that he was suffering
And the hill was hard to climb
So he quietly closed his eyelids
And whispered "peace be thine."

—Ever remembered by his sister, Mrs. W. Wilson.

Hunt For 2 Reds Surprises Gov't

MONTREAL, Aug. 2 (CP). — The Herald says in a newspage story today the Attorney-General's Department is conducting an investigation into the Quebec Mines Department "to ferret out at least two known Communists."

The story says high provincial government officials refused to discuss the matter or to reveal the names of the persons involved.

"The Herald, however, was able to confirm that the investigation was under way and that developments could be expected shortly if Premier Maurice Duplessis decides to make public the details of the probe."

The Herald says if Premier Duplessis makes any public reference to the investigation, he also will warn private industry that extra precautions should be taken against Communists in key jobs where means of checking their backgrounds aren't available.

The Herald says a shortage of trained personnel for the Mines Department, the result of wide expansion of the industry in the last few years, left the door open for Communists to enter government jobs.

In Quebec, Mines Minister French, commenting on the Montreal newspaper report of an inquiry into the activity of "at least two known Communists" in his department," said he knew nothing about it.

"I don't think we have any Communists in our department," said Mr. French who thought the report might have arisen from a possible check of Communist activity in Quebec province mines.

An official of the Attorney-General's department expressed astonishment over the report which said there is "subversive activity among government personnel."

Britain Opposes World Criminal Court

GENEVA, Switzerland, Aug. 2 (Reuters) — Britain opposes setting up an international criminal court, Sir Frank Soskice, British Attorney-General, told a United Nations group here today.

He declared to the 16-country committee for founding such a court that it would become merely an arena of political turmoil and passion instead of a forum of justice.

"The considered view of the United Kingdom is that the nations of the world are not yet ready for what is a most important and ultimately highly desirable development in world affairs," he stated.

Auto Careens Through Garage

LINDSAY, Aug. 2 — A car driven by Allan Glover, Oshawa, met in collision with another car, went off the road and passed through both walls of the garage owned by Jim Claydon, Wednesday.

Glover was proceeding west on Wellington St. through the William St. intersection when he met in collision with a southbound car. It is reported that after losing control of the car, Glover missed the brake and hit the accelerator with his foot. Glover does not confirm this report.

The car passed between the hydro post on the boulevard and a house owned by Percy Skitch. It raced across the lawn and passed through the east side of Jim Claydon's garage and out the west side. I tcame to rest midway through the hedge on the front lawn of the home immediately to the west of the Skitch house.

Adorning the hood was the street sign bearing the names of the streets at the intersection.

Glover was uninjured. Damage to the garage was total demolition of both side walls. Damage to the cars has not been estimated.

Terrorists Arrested In Indo-China

SAIGON, Indo-China, Aug. 2 (AP).—Forty alleged terrorists of the Communist-led Nationalist movement have been arrested following the assassinations of French Brig.-Gen. Charles Chanson and Governor-Genreal Thai Lap Thanh of South Viet Nam, it was announced today.

Funeral services were held today for the two victims, killed by a "human bomb" who was wiped out by his own grenade.

Nguyen Van Tam, minister of public security, said the killings two days ago may signal a new outbreak of terrorist activity.

Police identified the assassin as Trinh Van Minh 25, member of a volunteer "sucide battalion" supposed to number 10,000 youths. The group claims it is anti-French but is not Communist.

Truman Chooses W. M. Fechteler To Head US Navy

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2 (AP)— Admiral William M. Fechteler is President Truman's choice for the top United States Navy command.

The President sent to the Senate yesterday the nomination of Fechteler, now commander of the Atlantic fleet, to be chief of naval operations, succeeding the late Admiral Forrest P. Sherman who died Aug. 19 while on a military-diplomatic mission to Europe.

Fechteler, 55, and with 35 years of navy service, has had wide experience in virtually every type of warship—except submarines and aircraft carriers.

Feud May Boil

That appeared to be one of the reasons why Truman chose him, because he was not an airman and thus not touched by the zeal with which navy airmen plunged into the controversy with the defence department and the air force three years ago. There have been strong indications in recent weeks that the feud between the air force and navy—long-range, land-based bombers vs. carrier-borne air power—might boil up again.

In choosing Fechteler, the President passed by Admiral Arthur W. Radford, chief of the Pacific fleet, senior admiral on active duty. Radford is a navy airman who played a part in the old navy-air force controversy.

To fill the vacancy which will be created by the expected Senate confirmation of Fechteler's nomination, Truman nominated Admiral Lynde D. McCormick, now the acting chief of naval operations, to be commander of the Atlantic fleet. McCormick was vice-chief of naval operations.

26 Air Cadets Arrive In UK For 3-Week Tour

LONDON, Aug. 2 (CP). — A group of 26 Canadian air cadets arrived by air today for a three-week tour of the United Kingdom.

The boys, representing every province, were chosen for the trip after a test of proficiency, character and leadership, among more than 20,000 members of the Air Cadet League of Canada.

They were greeted at the airport by Air Marshal Sir Robert Foster of the RAF home command and Air Commodore Martin Costello, senior RCAF representative in the United Kingdom.

The cadets were taken to Uxbridge in Middlesex where they met a party of British boys who will fly to Canada Saturday for an exchange tour.

A highlight of the tour will be a visit to Balmoral Castle Aug. 19, where the Canadians will be received by the King and Queen. Later they attend a military tattoo at Edinburgh Castle.

The program also includes visits to Northern Wales, Stratford-on-Avon, Oxford, Cambridge, and the Festival of Britain exhibition in London. The boys will also lunch at the Commons and attend an international rally at White Waltham RAF station.

WO2 Roy S. Swanson of Port Arthur, Ont., has been selected to represent the Air Cadet League on a special tour of Sweden. He leaves for Stockholm early next week.

East, West To Meet In Trade Conference

GENEVA, Switzerland, Aug. 2 (Reuters) — Representatives of Britain, France and Denmark will meet those of Russia, Poland and Hungary here Aug. 20 for preliminary talks on the possibility of an east-west trade conference this autumn, it was announced today.

The United Nations Economic Commission for Europe said the main topic of the autumn talks would be grain and forest products.

The six countries invited to the preliminary discussions this month have all accepted. Other countries have been invited to attend if they wish.

Seek Vital Materials

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2 (AP)— President Truman yesterday announced plans to set up a new and independent agency to obtain and increase the supply of critical and strategic materials in the United States and abroad. Canada Fights World Inflation

GENEVA, Aug. 2 (CP).—The Canadian delegate today told the United Nations Economic and Social Council what his Government is doing to boost domestic production, distribute scarce commodities and fight world inflation.

Jean Lesage said Canada believes problems such as world inflation can only be solved by co-ordinated action by all Governments.

He said Canada reached a high degree of economic stability in June, 1950. But panic buying and stockpiling for the Korean war had brought inflationary pressure.

Lesage said industries essential to Canada and vital to the free world — among them newsprint production—are receiving special Government attention.

Canada also had plans for pushing up her production of iron ore, petroleum and aluminum.

"We have high standards of living," Lesage said. "We would like to increase them.

"But there is one thing we like more than physical comfort — freedom."

Newspaperman Jailed

HONG KONG, Aug. 2 (AP)— Chan Wen Hu, former manager of Shanghai's largest newspaper, has been sentenced to life imprisonment by the Chinese Communists, it was learned here today. Chan remained in Shanghai when the Reds entered in 1949. He tried to flee but was arrested as a Chinese Nationalist agent. He was sentenced to prison for "counter-revolutionary activities."

Fields Tried To Reform Drinking Dog

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 2 (AP)— A comic sidelight in the W. C. Fields' will trial yesterday was the sad story of Wino, the canine alcoholic of Skid Row.

Magda Michael, Fields' secretary for 12 years, recounted the poignant story of the little dog. The animal served as a lookout for winos in an alley where they congregated and in time became a slave to the bottle, too.

Fields learned of the poor dog's thralldom and proposed to enroll him in Alcoholics Anonymous.

"The poor beast is sodden with wine," Miss Michael quoted Fields. "I shall wean him on dry martinis, then I'll taper him off on beer. Eventually I'll make him a teetotaller."

Miss Michael explained that Fields died, however, before he could effect the reformation.

Mrs. Harriet V. Fields, 72, the comedian's acknowledged widow, is resisting a suit by Mrs. Edith William of Chicago who seeks a share of the comedian's estate, claiming she married Fields in 1893. Fields died in 1946.

Is Bingo Legal With Quiz Added

ROCK ISLAND, Ill., Aug. 2—(AP).—State's Attorney Bernard J. Moran was trying to figure out today whether addition of an ultra-simple quiz game makes bingo legal.

The Playmore Club, where Moran recently stopped a version of the game called "fish bingo," has come up with a new twist involving a dish of ice cream and a quiz.

Moran said club patrons pay $1 for a small cup of ice cream and a set of bingo cards. The $1 charge is for the ice cream; the bingo is free entertainment, he said the club holds.

After each bingo game the winner receives a slip authorizing him to compete in the quiz contest embracing such brain beaters as:

"Name an animal that has four legs."

"Who is President of the United States?"

"They take no chances on a wrong answer," Moran stated. "If anyone in the group of winners shouts the right answer, everybody with a slip gets a prize."

"Fish bingo" was slightly different. Patrons paid $1 for a plate of fish. Each plate entitled them to a set of cards for free bingo.

"That was fishy so we stopped it," Moran said.

Jimmy Durante Likes TV But Hard Work

By BOB THOMAS.

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 2 (AP).—Leave it to Jimmy Durante to make an entrance.

When I arrived at his Beverly Hills home, the great schnoz was not home. He would be back soon, said his two writers. While I sat and waited, they pounded on the piano and sang a mad tune designed for Durante and Helen Traubel on his first TV show this fall.

A half-hour later, Jimmy Durante—in person—arrived amid a din. He takes off his coat, he takes off his pants, he takes off his shirt. He sits on his patio in his shorts and undershirt, unaware of the possible stares of neighbors. Jimmy, the well-undressed man.

"I just been over to the univoisity," he explained.

What—is Durante going to summer school?

Changed the Name

"No," he corrected. "I been over to Loyola, making a short for them to play on TV before their football games. A woithy cause. They had a lot of trouble wit me because I couldn't pronounce the name of the school. They kept tellin' me it's 'Loyola' but I kept sayin' "Lyola.' How about that?—I changed the name of the univoisity."

What does I think of TV?

"It's the most amazin' thing that ever happened to me," he said. "You know, when you're in radio or the movies, you get the usual kind of fan mail—'you're my favorite? Will you send me an autographed pichuh?'—and that's all. But the mail I get from TV is different. The people treat you like you was one of their family. I guess it makes a lot of difference when you're comin' right into their livin' rooms."

He admitted that TV was a lot of work. Memorizing is a painful chore for him; he takes a week to put an hour's script to memory. "And I'm on most of the time," he added.

New Red Magazine Stirs Interest Among British

By ALAN HARVEY

LONDON, Aug. 2 (CP).—A new Russian magazine with a slick, eggshell-blue cover and a disarmingly-friendly approach towards the decadent democracies has separated political pundits here into two warring camps.

Some critics regard the periodical as a tremendously-significant new gambit in the cold war. Every sentence has been sifted in search of hidden nuances. Others coldly spurn it as just a slick paper version of the same old party line.

Reviews News

The publication is a fortnightly review of foreign affairs, printed in English, and called "News." The 36 pages of the first issue contain 12 articles, all but one or two of which appear to demonstrate a greater amiability towards the Western World than usual.

In one article, entitled "Why I Believe in Soviet - American Friendship," a Russian commentator named A. Troyanovsky contributes a passage in sharp contrast with the usual talk about hyenas and jack-asses. "The Russians," he says, "have always admired American efficiency, the ebullient creative energy of the American people."

The first reaction of the critics was to tie in the silky language of "News" with Communist-sponsored peace overtures in Korea, and to present the two developments as strong evidence that the Russians are finally becoming convinced they have to live with the West.

Edward Crankshaw of The Observer, recognized as a genuine expert on Russia, hailed the magazine as possibly indicating a "complete reorientation" of Soviet policy. A. J. Cummings, veteran political correspondent of The News-Chronicle, said "It torpedoes by implication Soviet propaganda and action since the cold war began . . . Almost daringly friendly."

Elsewhere, "News" had a more cautious reception.

Foreign expert W. N. Ewer of The Daily Herald was skeptical.

"Having read 'News' from cover to cover," he wrote, "I can only report that there is not the slightest indication of a new tone. There is no change of line . . . It is the mixture as before." For instance, says Ewer, an article by a Soviet academician refers to "savage and grossly-provocative utterances we are every now and again hearing from labor ministers today."

US Storing Vital Material

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2 (AP)—The munitions board reported today the United States stockpile of strategic materials which would be needed if war closed off imports has been built up to more than one-third of the planned total.

In a semi-annual report on Congress, the board said the value of material now on hand is $3,000,000,000 while the total objective is $8,300,000,000. It noted, however, that the objective may be revised from time to time to fit strategic and mobilization plans. It added, without explanation, that the current objective compares with a figure of $8,590,000,000 six months previously.

South Korea Calls For All-Out War

PUSAN, Korea, Aug. 2 (Reuters) — Pyong Yong-Tse, South Korean Minister, said today there is no chance of a peaceful settlement at the Kaesong truce talks and called for all-out war against the Communists.

He sent correspondents a written statement saying:

"Limited war cannot stop unlimited aggression. It is ineffectual. It incurs loss and waste without ever having a chance of winning.

Chiang Confirms Fight Against Reds In South

TAIPEH, Formosa, Aug. 2 — (AP)—Chinese Nationalist military quarters today confirmed for the first time that Nationalist Gen. Li Mi is campaigning against Communists in southwest China.

They had been silent for several days on a Rangoon report that Li's forces from northern Burma had crossed into Yunnan province on a 100-mile front. But they said his main job was to develop, expand and encourage guerrillas fighting Communists there.

Reds Charge UN Wants More War

TOKYO, Aug. 2 (Thursday) — (AP)—The Pyongyang radio today said the United Nations truce team had "orders from above" to set a cease-fire line in North Korea and charged "the Americans are making every effort to avert the arrival of peace to Korea."

It said the line proposed by Vice-Admiral C. Turner Joy, chief UN delegate, would run from Kosong on the east coast to the tip of Ongjin peninsula on the west coast.

Kosong is 27 miles north of the 38th parallel. Ongjin peninsula juts out along both sides of the 38th parallel. The communists are demanding that the line be drawn along the 38th parallel.

"Thus the Americans try to rob a large territory inside North Korea," the broadcast concluded from Pyongyang, North Korean capital. "The Americans are making every effort to avert the arrival of peace to Korea."

Passenger Planes Few Comforts

MONTREAL (CP) — Aircraft designers neglect human comfort when building their airliners, said Sir William Hildred, head of International Air Transport Association, in a recent interview.

Sir William, who flies 100,000 miles a year, said that present-day aricraft are wonders of safety, speed and durability. But inside, where passengers live and form their opinions of flying, things aren't too good.

The average passenger wants to sit, read, sleep, eat and clean-up. None of these things can be performed adequately in any aircraft in the western world, he said.

The seats, he claimed, cut off the circulation in the thighs, and there is not enough leg room to allow the passenger to lie back and catch a nap.

Eating is still an unsolved problem with trays that are inadequate for average use.

The light switch is directly over the passenger on the roof. To reach it the passenger must lift himself from the seat and paw overhead.

If he can't reach the switch and decides to ring for the stewardess, he can't—the bell button is beside the light switch.

12 Atlantic Pact Nations To Hold Meeting In Ottawa

Living Cost Jumps 3.5 Points, New Record High

OTTAWA, Aug. 3. (CP)—The rising cost of staple foodstuffs—mainly meat, eggs and fresh vegetables—is mainly responsible for shooting Canada's cost of living to a new high. That was the word of the Bureau of Statistics yesterday as it reported a 3.5 rise in the cost-of-living index in June, sending it up to 187.6 from 184.1. The index is based on 1935-39 prices equalling 100, so that the rise since the base period has been 87.6 points.

The food sub-index climbed 9.9 points in June to 249.7 compared with 214.3 points a year ago. There were other small increases in such items as drugs, hospital care, tobacco, newspapers, coal and coke.

Normal Increases

The bureau said that with the exception of meats, the advances in most food prices were normal for the month of June. But it found that the price increase in meat, particularly pork, was larger than just seasonal.

The fuel and light sub-index went up 1.0 points to 147.2 from 146.2 mainly because of higher prices for coal and coke in Ontario and Quebec. This sub-index has risen 10 points in the last 12 months.

The clothing index advanced to 202.9 from 202.5 on small, scattered gains. It is up a total of 22 points from 180.7 ayear ago.

The home furnishing and services sub-index is up 30 points in the last 12 months, including a 0.3 gain to 197.4 in June.

The miscellaneous group rose 1.2 points to 142.2 and has gained about 10 points in the last year. Increases in the cost of such items as drugs, personal care, hospital costs, tobacco and newspapers were responsible for the June rise in the miscellaneous index.

Rents are surveyed only on a quarterly basis so that the rent index remained unchanged at 139.8, an increase of only about five points since last year.

Possible Split Between Korea, Chinese Reds

UN ADVANCE HEADQUARTERS, Korea, Aug. 3 (AP)—The deadlocked course of the Kaesong armistice talks brought speculation today of a possible split between the North Koreans and Chinese.

This speculation, however, should be tempered by the fact that the North Korean and Chinese delegates have shown no outward sign of disagreement.

Basis for the talk of a Communist rift is vague evidence that the Chinese are more willing than the North Koreans to deal with the Allies.

Stalemate

It appeared to stem in part from the stalemate over where to establish a neutral zone between United Nations and Communist forces.

Many observers expressed the belief the Chinese are not interested in pressing the Red delegation's demand for a dividing line along Parallel 38. Instead they are more interested in getting their armies out of Korea where they have been badly mauled.

The official spokesman for the UN delegation, Brig.-Gen. William P. Nuckols, told correspondents that during the last few days the senior Red negotiator, North Korean Gen. Nam Il, seldom consults two Chinese conferees. He talks mostly to two other North Korean delegates.

Nuckols also reported that the Chinese appear somewhat more cordial than their Communist companions.

Hull Bus Strike Ends After Week

HULL, Que., Aug. 3 (CP)—A new, two-year wage agreement between Hull bus drivers and the Hull Transportation Company was signed early today, formally ending a driver's strike which has tied up bus transportation for a week.

Some buses may be back in operation today but officials said it will take until Saturday to get the system back in operation.

The drivers voted early yesterday to end the strike by accepting a company offer of increases of from 10 to 14 cents an hour, a cost-of-living bonus and other concessions. The drivers had originally asked for increases of from 10 to 15 cents an hour.

Resumption of bus service was delayed pending formal signing of the agreement.

Atlantic Pact Nations To Meet In Ottawa

OTTAWA, Aug. 3 — (CP). — The Atlantic Pact Ministerial Council has decided to meet here in mid-September. The official announcement will be made today, it was learned.

The meeting will bring up to 36 cabinet ministers from Atlantic Pact countries to Ottawa.

The council includes the foreign, defence, and finance ministers of all 12 Pact powers.

New Discipline Code For Canadian Service

CALGARY, Aug. 3—(CP)—A new code of service discipline for Canada's army, navy and air force, based on Canadian rather than British law, will go into effect Sept. 1, Brig. W. J. Lawson, of Ottawa, Judge Advocate General for the Canadian Army, said yesterday.

He arrived here yesterday from Winnipeg while on a cross-country tour to lecture army officers on the new code.

Pulled From River Goes Back, Drowns

SARNIA, Ont., Aug. 3. (CP)—Police today dragged the St. Clair River for the body of a man who, rescued once, jumped in again and was drowned.

They said John Joseph McNeil, 28, of New Waterford, NS, was pulled from the river yesterday by his brother and a third man when he complained of a cramp. Then, police said, McNeil dived in again.

$300,000 Given For Fire Hoses

TORONTO, Aug. 3 — (CP) — Ontario will receive up to $300,000 in federal grants toward the cost of standardizing firehose couplings throughout the province, Col. Col. Arthur Welsh, Provincial Defence Co-ordinator, announced today.

Announcement of the grants, aimed at contributing to civil defence preparedness, was made jointly with Health Minister Martin, Federal Defence Administrator.

The federal government has set up a fund of $900,000 to aid the standardization program across the country. Ontario's grant of $300,000, based on population, is the largest.

Standardization will be on the basis of five threads to the inch on couplings.

"At present there are now over 100 non-interchangeable fire departments in the province," said Col. Welsh.

Municipalities will receive the new couplings free of charge but will be expected to have their own fire departments make the necessary installation in the hydrants.

Elevator Operator Slugged In Hotel

TORONTO, Aug. 3. (CP) — Police today sought a man who slugged a 30-year-old woman elevator operator in a downtown hotel.

The woman, Greta McFarland, was treated at hospital for head injuries. She told police she took a passenger up to the hotel's fourth floor Thursday night. There, she said, he hit her several times with a tire iron. A tire iron later was found in a corridor.

UN Asks No New Troops In Armistice

No Progress Again Reported, No Red Answers

By ROBERT B. TUCKMAN

UN ADVANCE HEADQUARTERS, Korea, Aug. 3.—(AP) — Allied delegates at deadlocked Korean truce talks demanded today that the Communists guarantee they will bring in no troops, planes or ships during any armistice.

Vice-Admiral C. Turner Joy chief United Nations delegate, opened the day's session on this point. There was no indication that the Reds gave a direct reply during the session which lasted two hours and 35 minutes.

No Progress

It was the eighth meeting devoted to trying to agree on a cease-fire line. It ended the same as the rest: no progress.

A Communist reply to Joy's demand that the present balance of power be maintained could be expected at Saturday's session, scheduled to start at 11 a.m. (9 p.m. EDT Friday).

Brig-Gen. William P. Nuckols, UN spokesman, reported that Joy emphasized ground forces alone do not constitute complete balance of power. Naval and air power must be taken into consideration.

Allied warships shelled targets on both coasts Friday and UN panes flew nearly 900 sorties. Only three Red planes were sighted.

Admiral Joy, a UN communique said, also "emphasized that the United Nations command would not relinquish its present military defensive position to satisfy political desires to subdivide Korea."

The Communists are insisting on a buffer zone along the 38th Parallel, old political boundary between North and South Korea. The UN demands a cease-fire line along the present front, which follows terrain that can be defended.

Joy closed Friday's session, the communique said, by posing "several searching questions in an effort to establish the general attitude of the Communist delegation toward a purely military armistice and the resultant cease-fire."

Red replies were not disclosed.

The communique said North Korean Lt.-Gen. Nam Il, chief Communist delegate, "spoke for nearly two hours attempting to justify his previously-expressed view that the military demarcation should be fixed along a parallel of latitude rather than following significant terrain features which are militarily important to the security of the United Nations forces."

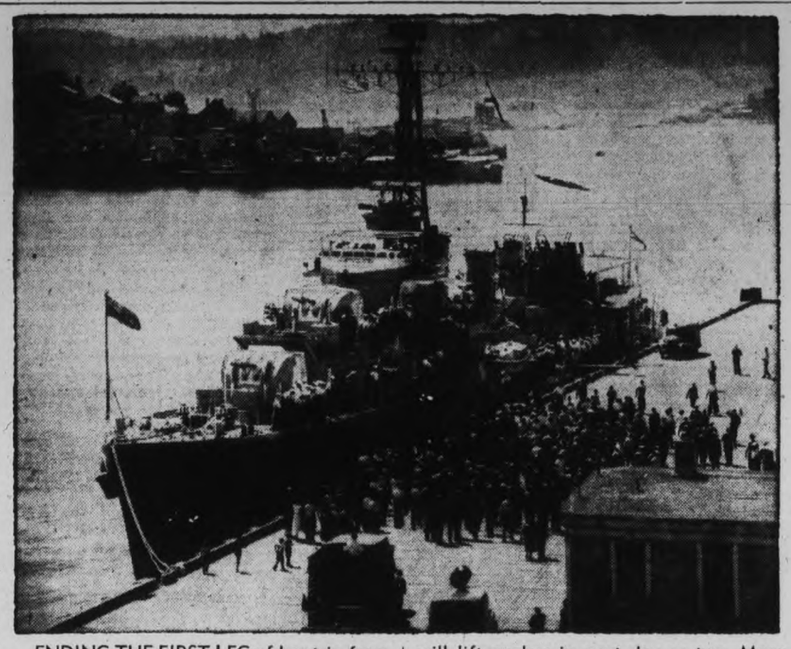
Two Girls Injured By Hit-Run Driver

WASAGA BEACH, Ont., Aug. 3. (CP) — Police today sought the driver of an automobile which earlier ran down two Weston, Ont., girls and left them lying injured on the rain-swept highway.

The girls, Edna Lorens, 17, and Barbara Kring, 16, are at hospital at nearby Collingwood. The former suffered lacerations to face and head, the latter an injured back and possible rib fractures.

Police said the girls were struck from behind as they walked along the highway.



ENDING THE FIRST LEG of her trip from Korean waters to her base at Halifax, HMCS Nootka is shown at Esquimalt, B.C., where hundreds of persons turned out to welcome her. Commanded by Commander A. B. Fraser-Harris, DSC, Halifax, the ship will lift anchor in next day or two. Meanwhile, crew and officers are being feted by residents of Esquimalt and Victoria. Just before the vessel tied up, the destroyer hit a log which damaged the propellor slightly.

New Berlin Airlift Started

BERLIN, Aug. 3. (AP)—Commercial planes lifted 90 tons of Berlin export products to West Germany in the last 24 hours in an expanding effort to defeat Russian controls which have curbed overland shipments. This more than doubled the tonnage of two days ago, and the three participating airlines said they were awaiting the arrival of more freight planes to increase it still further. Allied transport officials here would not speculate how big the "baby airlift" might grow. Unofficial quarters talked of a goal of 200 tons daily but everybody hoped the Russians soon would back down.

East Berlin's Communist press took first notice of the commercial airlift with an editorial in the Berliner Zeitung.

The Zeitung said it was all "a profiteering scheme" which would be unnecessary, if West Berlin firms met Soviet demands to present certificates of origin for their products. The Communists claim that such certificates would show that most West Berlin products are manufactured from materials "smuggled out of (Soviet) East Germany."

The west has refused to deliver such certificates and, in an attempt to make the Russians retreat on the issue, has stopped trade between West and East Germany.

That trade stopped last midnight and as yet there was no immediate Russian reaction here.

Truck freight service between Berlin and West Germany — though thinned by the Soviet hold-up of shipping permits which forced resort to air freight —continued this morning.

Rail and barge traffic was idle.

Slight Error

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3.—(AP)—Jay Beisser, 18-year-old Rockville, Md., high school student, asked the government for a tax refund of $21.88. He got a government cheque for $508,666.26! Yesterday Biesser was told it was all a mistake. A treasury department spokesman said a cheque-writing machine operator probably punched the serial number instead of the correct amount.

Police Arrest Chicago Man On Charge Of Race Fixing

FORT ERIE, Ont., Aug. 3. (CP)—A retired Chicago business man is the first person to face criminal charges as a result of investigations of suspected fixing of horse races on Ontario tracks. Henry Dunn, 48, was arrested at Fort Erie track yesterday and charged with conspiracy to defraud the public.

A Mountie and two members of the Ontario Provincial Police picked him up as he presented 15 $10 tickets at the track wicket which pays off in United States currency.

He appeared before a magistrate at Fort Erie yesterday and was remanded to next Wednesday. He is in jail, so far unable to put up $20,000 property or $10,000 cash bail.

Police declined to say just how Dunn enters the racing picture which has been marked by reports of gamblers bribing jockeys and racketeers taking bookies for thousands of dollars on fixed races.

Previous to the arrest, six jockeys had been suspended or barred from racing in Ontario for life as a result of investigations by the Ontario Racing Commission.

Checking Jockeys

The commission, which has been interviewing a steady stream of jockeys, adjourned its hearing last night. Racing ends at Fort Erie today and the next Ontario meet is in Hamilton where the hearing will resume next Wednesday.

Child Eats Pills, Dies

MORRISBURG, Ont., Aug. 3—(CP). — Judith Bawer, 2, died Thursday night despite medical treatment after eating a large quantity of what are believed to have been iron pills. She was rushed to hospital from her home in nearby Maria Town and given serum and drugs, but died several hours later.

Not So Near

LEWISBURG, Pa., Aug. 3. (AP)—Dr. Sabahat Tuluy, of Ankara, Turkey, learned rather expensively yesterday that the English word "near" doesn't always mean "close, not far distant." Arriving in New York, she inquired for directions to Lewisburg, where she is enrolled in Bucknell University's Institute for Foreign Students. Dr. Tuluy was told Lewisburg was near Harrisburg and bought a plane ticket to the state capitol. She hailed a taxi from the Harrisburg airport for the ride to "nearby" Lewisburg. The cab fare was $35. Lewisburg is 60 miles from Harrisburg.

Princess, Duke To Visit Truman

LONDON, Aug. 3 (Reuters) — Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh have accepted the invitation of President Truman to visit him in Washington from Oct. 24-26, it was announced today.

It is not known whether the Princess and Duke will also visit any other cities in the United States. They will arrive at Quebec City Sept. 30 for a tour of Canada.

The announcement accept President Truman's invitation came from Clarence House, the London home of the Princess.

It said:

"Their Royal Highnesses the Princess Elizabeth, Duchess of Edinburgh, and the Duke of Edinburgh, have accepted with great pleasure the invitation of the President of the United States to visit him in Washington from Oct. 24 until Oct. 26. Their Royal Highnesses will stay at Blair House as guests of the President."

Blair House is Truman's residence while the White House is under reconstruction.

The 25-year-old heir presumptive to the British throne and her husband will sail from England Sept. 25 on the Canadian Pacific liner Empress of France.

Will Discuss Membership Of Greece, Turkey; Build Economic Strength

Top Western Delegates Will Be Here May Seek Plan To Rearm Germany Determined To Muster Military Strength

OTTAWA, Aug. 3. (CP)—The council of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization—consisting of the foreign, defence and finance ministers of 12 nations—will meet in Ottawa Sept. 15, the External Affairs Department announced today. The meeting will underline the determination of the pact countries to reach "shortly" a point of military strength which would deter aggression, the statement said. It will be followed in October by a second meeting of the council in Rome.

The Ottawa announcement coincided with one by Paul Van Zeeland, Belgian foreign minister and chairman of the council.

The major issues expected to be discussed are reported to be the inclusion of Turkey and Greece in the pact framework, the welding of a rearmed Germany to the western military coalition, and the economic aspects of building up Europe's strength.

The meeting will bring here many world-renowned figures including Foreign Secretary Acheson of the US and Foreign Minister Morrison of the United Kingdom.

To Last Week

The meetings will be held in the parliament buildings and are expected to last a week. Between 250 and 300 official delegates are expected.

Canada's top delegates will be External Affairs Minister Pearson, Defence Minister Claxton and Finance Minister Abbott. The other countries are the US, UK, France, Belgium, Holland, Netherlands, Luxembourg, Norway, Iceland, Portugal and Italy.

Ottawa has been awaiting final word on the meeting for three weeks and only two days ago senior officials were half-convinced it wouldn't be held at all.

Today's announcement had this official comment:

"The present meeting will serve to emphasize the determination of all the NATO countries to maintain the momentum already created in order that the strength of the North Atlantic area may shortly reach the point where it can hold at bay the forces of any potential aggressor."

Left $60,000 Year Ago Passes Bad Cheques

TORONTO, Aug. 3 — (CP). — James McCausland, whose wife left him $60,000 a year ago, yesterday was fined $100, or 30 days, for passing two worthless cheques.

The court was told that McCausland had less than $3 in his bank account when cheques for $31 and $21 were cashed in May and June by a Toronto hotel.

McCausland, member of the Ontario Legislature for a Toronto constituency in the 1920s, did not indicate what happened to his inheritance except that some had been given to a relative in Montreal. McCausland was given a month to raise the money for the fine.

Prohibition King Arrested On Dope Charge

NEW YORK, Aug. 3 (AP)—An international dope racket charge was lodged today against Waxey Gordon, the prohibition era beer baron whom racket - busting Thomas E. Dewey sent to prison as an income tax dodger in 1933.

The 63-year-old mobster, who has a police record dating back to 1905, was held with three other men in a total of $500,000 bail.

United States attorney Irving H. Saypol said that if Gordon is tried and convicted in federal court in New York State he could be sent to prison for life as a fourth offender under state law.

Saypol said the four prisoners had pure heroin worth $180,000 when diluted and sold in the underworld market.

All four were charged with violation of the federal narcotics laws at an arraignment early today.

Gordon—born Irving Wexler—was named by Saypol as "the source for the west coast" of dope arriving here on ships from Europe and the Near East.

Gordon and his three co-defendants all New Yorkers were seized on Manhattan's east side last night by federal agents and city detectives.

The bail set by US Commissioner Edward W. McDonald:

Gordon—$250,000; Samuel Kass, 39, $100,000; Benjamin Katz, alias Benjamin Kassop, 35, $100,000; and Arthur Repola, 23, $50,000.

Saypol told the commissioner that Gordon received narcotics from the other three men after it arrived on ships.

Gordon had been operating in the dope racket for "several years," Saypol said.

Plevan To Try For French Gov't

PARIS, Aug. 3 (AP—Former Premier Rene Pleven, a member of the small Union of Democratic and Socialist Resistance Party, today accepted an invitation to try to form a new French cabinet.

Pleven was called by President Vincent Auriol to the task after Socialist Guy Mollet had declined. Party leaders have been trying for 25 days to for a government to replace that of Henri Queuille Pleven's party is slightly right of centre.

Mollet was the seventh man since July 10 either to refuse to try to form a cabinet or fail to get parliamentary confirmation as premier.

One of the seven was former Finance Minister Maurice Petsche who tried twice. Early today Petsche was refused confirmation by the National Assembly, failing to get the 315 votes required.

Albanian Churches Cut Off From Vatican

LONDON, Aug. 3 (AP)—Communist Albania announced today it has adopted a law cutting off the Roman Catholic Church in that country from all relations with the Vatican.

A Tirana radio broadcast said that under the new law the church in Albania will be subsidized by the government. It will be permitted to follow "the established world Catholic code, so long as this does not conflict with the laws of the Albanian people's Republic, public order and good customs."

The Statesman's Year Book estimates the total population of Albania as 1,150,000 with 104,184 Roman Catholics. Moslems predominate with 688,260.

Senator Proposes

Exchange Of Red, US Official Visitors

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3 (AP)—Senator Brien McMahon (Dem. Conn.) has proposed an exchange of visitors between Russia and the United States: A congressional delegation for the 14 members of the Soviet politburo.

The congressmen, McMahon told the Senate yesterday, could tell the Russia people "about the peaceful and friendly desires" of the American people.

And the Soviet leaders "could . . . decide for themselves whether the American people want peace or war."

McMahon said he would like to see Congress approve resolutions endorsing both of the trips he proposed.

Will Discuss Idea

The Connecticut senator told a reporter today he wants to discuss the matter with some of his colleagues before deciding whether to sponsor such legislation.

"I tossed out an idea," he said. "Let's wait a bit and see what happens."

McMahon indicated, however, that he would be surprised if Stalin and company said come ahead and we'll be over to see you, too.

His lack of optimism was pointed up by sharp criticism he fired at Soviet leaders for failing to publish in Russia a resolution, already approved by Congress, expressing American friendship for the people of Russia.

Crime Against Peace

"By failing to publish this expression of friendship by the American Congress, the Soviet government has committed a crime against peace," declared McMahon, chief sponsor of the resolution. "The Kremlin crowd are now self-confessed war mongers."

McMahon said one of the resolutions he has in mind would "formally ask the Soviet government for permission for (50 Congress members) to visit Russia while we are in recess to tell the Russian people about the peaceful and friendly desires of the American people." He added:

"I'd ask . . . for permission for these members to visit every city and town within a thousand-mile radius of Moscow—and let that government refuse such permission if it dared."

A turn-down, McMahon said, would label "the spurious Soviet peace claims meaningless from now on."

Canada Indifferent

Ontario Celebrates Civic

By The Canadian Press

On the first Monday in August every Englishman can throw his lunchpail out the window and take the first train to Blackpool.

"Bank holiday" in the United Kingdom is nationally observed. But "Civic Holiday"—Aug. 6 this year—in Canada is not.

It's pretty much an Ontario show. Some cities on the prairies —Winnipeg, Brandon, Man., and Edmonton—are celebrating it but in British Columbia, the Maritimes and Quebec, workers can only glance wearily at the thermometer and trudge off to their jobs.

Little Planned

Even in centres where the holiday is being celebrated, few persons planned to do anything more strenuous than get out of the city.

In Ottawa, Toronto, Cornwall and Timmins, even sports promoters and civic planners seemed to be taking it easy. There will be few athletic events and no civic celebrations.

However, here and there are flashes of activity.

Some Owen Sound residents planned to travel to nearby Port Elgin to watch a day of water sports and stunt flying.

In Sudbury the Canadian Legion got set for a gala day with movies at the Legion hall and a bicycle parade for children.

Traffic Warning

The Ontario Department of Highways warned motorists to exercise caution on the highways.

Twelve persons were killed in Ontario last year during the three days of the August Civic Holiday weekend and 11 the year before.

Most strenuous weekend seemed in store for Winnipeggers.

They have a choice of lolling on Grand or Winnipeg beaches or taking a special train to Gimli—all are Lake Winnipeg resort towns—where annual Icelandic celebrations are planned.

Committee Sees Red Conspiracy Throughout Asia

By JOHN CHADWICK

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3. (AP) —Senator Pat McCarran (Dem. Nev.) said today that the hearings being conducted by his internal security sub-committee are designed to bring to light "a Communist conspiracy to take all of Asia."

He told reporters that such a conspiracy not only has operated in the past but "still exists today."

McCarran said the sub-committee's hearings, to be resumed next Tuesday, will show later "how this conspiracy is operating today."

McCarran said he expects to announce the name of the next witness shortly.

At yesterday's hearings, Hede Massing testified that as a pre-war Soviet espionage agent she recruited Noel Field and Lawrence Duggan into her "apparatus."

Disappeared

That was in 1933 and 1934 when both Field and Duggan were state department officials. Field since has disappeared behind the Iron Curtain while Duggan plunged to his death from a New York office building in 1948.

The Vienna-born Mrs. Massing, former wife of Gerhardt Eisler, also testified that she and Alger Hiss, another former state department official and a convicted perjurer, had competed for Field's services.

Mrs. Massing was a witness at the second trial of Hiss, who was convicted of having lied in denying that he gave state department documents to a pre-war Soviet spy courier.

In her testimony before the Senate committee, Mrs. Massing said that she became a Communist after she had married Eisler in 1917 and remained one until 1938.

UK Oil Mission Starts For Iran

LONDON, Aug. 3 (AP)—Britain announced today that her cabinet mission to Iran will leave at 4 p.m. (11 a.m. EDT) to discuss the Anglo-Iranian oil crisis.

The mission will be led by Richard R. Stokes, the Lord Privy Seal.

The dispute over the future of the $1,400,000,000 Anglo-Iranian Oil Company was deadlocked when President Truman stepped in about two weeks ago, and sent his personal envoy, W. Averell Harriman, to Tehran.

After talking with Iranian officials, Harriman flew here last week-end and conferred with Prime Minister Attlee, Foreign Secretary Herbert Morrison, Stokes and other top government officials.

Princess Margaret Told To Tone Down?

LONDON, Aug. 3 (Reuters).—The Daily Mirror suggests today that Princess Margaret may have received royal instructions to "soft-pedal" the 'Leader of Fashion' business and keep out of the limelight for a while."

The Mirror says in a newspage story that the Princess has appeared three days in succession at the fashionable Goodwood races "in the same yellow dress, and hasn't done any of the old spectacular things she used to do at Goodwood."

"She hasn't danced down to the paddock after almost every race," the Mirror says:

"She hasn't been done with her escorts to any of the little bars for a glass of champagne and has taken such a back seat in the royal box that a lot of racegoers haven't even realized she was present."

Seaway Bill Introduced In US

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3 (AP)—Two Senators introduced new legislation yesterday calling for development of the controversial St. Lawrence seaway project.

The House of Representative public works committee has just refused to approve a bill to develop the waterway between Canada and the United States.

Senators Blair Moody (Dem.-Mich.) and George Aiken (Rep.-Vt.), however, revived the question with the argument that the project would be important to national defence. The Moody-Aiken bill was referred to the Senate Armed Services and Foreign Relations Committees.

Brand Tourist Rumor Unfounded By Winter

OTTAWA, Aug. 3 (CP) — Resources Minister Winters today described as "absolutely unfounded" reports that United States tourists are required to present birth certificates to Canadian immigration officers before entering Canada.

"These reports have been widely circulated in the United States, and some newspapers there have carried them," said Mr. Winters who has jurisdiction over the Canadian Travel Bureau.

"There has been no change in the custom of accepting any normal form of identification from United States citizens crossing the Canadian border.

"Birth certificates, while quite acceptable as proof of identity, are not required by Canadian immigration officers."

MORE ABOUT—

UN Asks

This was the first time that an Allied communique had specified the exact nature of the deadlock. the Red "political desire to subdivide Korea....along a parallel of latitude" versus the UN demand for "security of United Nations forces" along the "militarily-important" line they hold along the Imjin River in west Korea and across the high hills of central and east Korea.

Fake Victory

Red radios at Peiping and Pyongyang have claimed the Allies are demanding a cease-fire line far to the north of the actual battle line. This led to speculation here that the Communists may be preparing themselves to accept the Allied demand, since in their propaganda they could try to make it appear as a "Red victory" or a logical compromise.

However, Nuckols said he could observe no change in the basic Red position during Nam's talks today.

He said the North Korean general again insisted the demarcation line should be along the parallel instead of along terrain features.

Poles Escape To Sweden Made Own Plane

STOCKHOLM, Aug. 3. (CP)—A bullet-riddled Polish training aircraft carrying four Poles, one of them a woman, landed at the Bulltofta airport, near Malmoe, southern Sweden, today.

The Poles made their dramatic escape from Communist Poland in a home-made plane less than 24 hours after 12 sailors of the Polish navy staged a mutiny aboard a minesweeper and escaped to this country.

Preliminary reports from Malmoe said the takeoff of the four Poles was preceded by a gunfight.

The three men and a woman were whisked away from Bulltofta airport in Swedish police cars.

They were taken to a camp for political refugees.

Reports from the airport said the four Poles escaped from an airport near Poznan at 3 a.m. after an exchange of fire with Polish army guards.

Their plane was described as a makeshift affair with a Polish engine, wheels from a German Messerschmitt, several parts of Swiss origin and an American carburetor.

One report said a hatch in the bottom of the plane was blown open during the flight across the Baltic and the passengers were almost thrown into the sea.

On arriving at Malmoe they still carried firearms. But they told authorities a sub-machine-gun they had used in the fight at Poznan was dropped into the Baltic.

Market Prices Mixed, Slow

TORONTO, Aug. 3 — (CP) — Stock market prices continued mixed today in slow early afternoon trading.

Steel were the only industrial group to make any headway, the majority of issues climbing fractions. Utilities, foods, liquors, refining oils, banks and manufacturing companies balanced gains and losses while papers, agricultures, textiles and retail stores weakened. Constructions and miscellaneous industrials slipped a little lower.

Base metals dipped mildly as Consolidated Smelters, Golden Manitou, Mackeno, Mindamar, Sherritt-Gordon and United Asbestos met profit-taking. Estella, Hudson Bay, Steep Rock and Silver Miller ended higher.

Senior golds were mostly inactive. However, Hollinger edged slightly higher and Dome and Kerr-Addison slipped fractions. Secondary golds were mixed.

Forged Cheque Gets 10 Days In Jail

Edgar Weaver, 38, no fixed address, has been given 10 days in jail after pleading guilty to forging a government of Canada cheque, the property of Mrs. Shirley Hindman.

As Weaver was taken into custody July 23 and the sentence was retroactive he walked from the court a free man.

A character witness said Weaver was a good steady worker and did not drink on the job.

Lloyd Peacock, 30, Armstrong Dr., paid $12.50 after pleading guilty to being drunk on Water St. Tuesday. Albert Moore, 34, Madoc, was fined $17.50 for having liquor illegally in his car.

John Cahill, 54, now working in Kingston, was given 14 days in jail for vagrancy. Police said they found him sleeping in Victoria Park with two partially-consumed bottles of wine a few feet away from him.

Police still are seeking the killers of two other girls—Christine Butcher, 7, raped and strangled near Windsor July 10, and Brenda Goddard, 6, found strangled near Bath five days later.

KINGSTON, Aug. 3 —(CP)—Kingston township is one of the few municipalities in Ontario to reduce its 1951 tax rate. The rate has been set at 20 mills, a decrease of 13 from last year. Reeve Harvey Hawley said the reduction resulted from $49,000 in cash assets which the township possesses.

CAMPBELLFORD, Aug. 3 — (ENS)—Melville G. Petherick, 50, of Rear Street was injured on Wednesday when he fell from a load of hay to the cement floor at the plant of the Trent Dehydrated Products Limited on Second St.

Mr. Bird was badly bruised but was able to return to his work the following day. Mr. Petherick suffered a concussion and multiple bruises to his left side, an injured left foot and sprained neck, and shoulder.

The injured man is reported to be progressing favorably. He was attended by Dr. W. W. Baker.

Rookie Officer Responsible Woman's Death

MONTREAL, Aug. 3 — (CP — Bertrand Bergeron, 23-year-old rookie constable in suburban Outremont, today was held criminally responsible for the slaying of Anne Czechowski, 21-year-old married woman with whom he had been living for a week.

The blonde woman was shot to death last night in an apartment she and Bergeron had rented in the east-end.

Bergeron had telephoned Montreal police immediately after the shooting, saying it happened while he was playing with his .38-calibre service revolver. He claimed he fired the revolver, thinking the next chamber of the cylinder was empty.

During the coroner's inquest, Bergeron was flanked by a city policeman and by Chief Joseph Griffith.

The attractive housewife's husband told police after identifying her body that she left him a week ago without saying where she was going. They have a seven-month-old baby.

The constable and blonde moved into the apartment a week ago and lived as husband and wife since.

When police arrived at the scene of the shooting. Bergeron explained a torn shirt he wore and a number of scattered hairpins as the result of a quarrel, but claimed "he had made up" when the shooting occurred.

Settlement Talks Postponed In NS

SYDNEY, NS, Aug. 3. (CP)—Resumption of wage talks between Steel Company officials and representatives of local 1064, United Steelworkers of America (CIO-CCL), will not get underway until next week, it was learned here today.

General Manager C. M. Anson of Dominion Steel and Coal Corporation said today previous business engagements will prevent him from meeting the union delegation until next week.

The negotiations follow a week of slowdown tactics by steel workers at the Sydney plant. Local union president Ed Corbett described the stoppages as "spontaneous" acts by the employees to protest their wage scale.

The company has offered a 10-cent hourly wage hoist, which would bring their basic rate to $1.27. The 4,500-man local said this was not par with wages paid in Ontario steel plants.

Timmins Asks For Increase In Gold Price

TIMMINS, Aug. 3 (CP)—L. A. Behie, international representative, United Steelworkers of America (CIO-CCL), said today that more than 9,000 Timmins residents have signed a petition backing the union's request that the federal government peg the price of gold at a higher level.

The union, of which 1,500 striking miners at Hollinger Consolidated Gold Mines are members, want the present $35 an ounce paid for gold increased in an attempt to settle the deadlocked strike.

The miners walked off their jobs July 9. They seek a 13-cents hourly wage increase and a union dues check-off. The union has said that the basic wage rate now is 90 cents an hour.

Industry Council

The petition also requests that an industry council composed of labor, management and government be set up and that Mayor Philip Fay conduct a vote among Hollinger employees on union security.

Behie said within two days the town will have been entirely canvassed. He estimated 10,000 signatures will be obtained altogether. He stressed that only adults are being asked to sign. Population of Timmins residents between the ages of 20 and 70 was about 13,500 before the strike started.

At the meeting of the council in committee Thursday night it was reported that the family of the late Earl Spencley is receiving the same benefits under Workmen's Compensation that are provided for the families of the three firemen who were employees of the city. Mrs. Spencley and children are to receive $74 a month from May 19, and the council's grant of $200 toward funeral expenses.

Player's Signature Forged On Certificate Team Says

GALT, Aug. 3 — (CP). — Charges that a player's name was forged to a Brantford Red Sox certificate were heard here on Thursday night at a stormy senior meeting of the Intercounty Baseball Association executive and senior team representatives.

Ernie Goman of Waterloo Tigers, who refused to waive on John Bain following that player's release by Galt and subsequent alleged signing by the Red Sox, charged that Bain's signature on the Brantford certificate was a forgery.

The Waterloo club signed Bain to a certificate after being given 24 hours to waive on him to Branford or claim him for tht Tigers. The meeting Thursday night refused to allow Bain to play for Waterloo because he was signed by Waterloo after the July 15 deadline for signing the players released by intercounty clubs.

Unconstitutional

At a previous meeting all clubs represented had signified their intentions of waiving on 11 players in the "pool." Goman, who wasn't present at that meeting, said the procedure was unconstitutional. It was after this that Waterloo refused to waive on Bain.

Mike King, president of the Brantford club, admitted that Bain's signature on the Red Sox certificate was forged. He claimed to have signed their certificate and submitted it to the league secretary before the July 15 deadline and after Bain was said to have agreed to a financial agreement with Brantford. Bain appeared in a Brantford uniform the following night and his name appeared on the batting card presented to the umpires before each game.

Accusations flew thick and fast between the Brantford and Waterloo representatives as they charged each other with "underhanded" dealings.

The meetings decided that Bain will be asked to appear before a special meeting of the league next week to help clear up the matter of the Brantford certificate.

The meeting also went on record as having full confidence in Secretary Jack Blakney.

Bomb In Bags May Be Cause Of Plane Crash

VANCOUVER, Aug. 3 — (CP) —The Vancouver Sun said Thursday that sabotage loms as a possible explanation for the crash of a Tokyo airlift plane 13 days ago.

The plane, with 38 aboard, disappeared off Cape Spencer, Alaska, while en route from Vancouver to Tokyo. It was operated by the Canadian Pacific Air Lines.

The Sun said officials of the air lines had ruled out the possibility of mechanical failure as responsible for its disappearance.

"RCMP and FBI agents are standing by to inspect the wreckage, if, as and when it is found," said the newspaper report.

Spokesmen for the CPA said there has never been a crash of a DC-4—the type of plane used on the oirlift—as a result of mechanical failure.

The Sun said it had learned baggage of US airmen aboard the plane had not been inspected.

"With this in view, officials are considering the possibility a bomb or some other infernal device might have been concealed in the uninspected baggage."

RCMP headquarters here and in Ottawa declined to comment on the sabotage report.

Aboard the plane were seven Vancouver crew members, two Canadian Navy men, three American civilians, three US Army officers, and 23 American airmen.

Thursday it was reported a silver plane was sighted on a mountain side in Alaska. But a search plane radioed back that the plane turned out to be a glacier reflection.

Thieves Get $1,600 In Two Safe Jobs

WINDSOR, Ont., Aug. 3 (CP)—Thieves netted $1,600 in cash in two overnight robberies but drew a blank in a third try at Windsor business premises.

At least $1,100 was taken from a strongroom in premises occupied by the National Painting and Decorating Company, Limited. Another $500 was picked up in the Essex county sanatorium office but a thorough search of the board of education offices was fruitless.

Fire Sweeps Brickyard

ESSEX, Aug. 3 (CP). — Fire swept the Hill Tile and Brick Yard here Thursday night, wiping out the drying room building where an estimated $8,000 worth of tile were stored.

Aaron Hill, owner of the yard, said he is unable to estimate his loss. The building, all its machinery, and the $8,000 worth of tile were a complete loss, he said.

The fire is believed to have broken out near an oil furnace. The tile yard's machine shop and other buildings were undamaged.

Newsmen Give Kids Party Thousands Turned Away

By BILL BOSS
Canadian Press Staff Writer

SEOUL, Korea, Aug. 3 (CP)—For many were called but few had been chosen . . .

A thousand disappointed children melted itno the blackness of the night, the insistent clamor for admission they had waged for two hours transformed into a wail of disappointment.

They'd been invited to a party. There had been one, too. They had seen it—from the outside.

Peering through the windows of the big dining-room they had been the tables, set for 90 guests.

Hungrily they had watched the room empty and fill again twice, and the white-jacketed waiters bring on the meal.

Hosts were the war correspondents in Seoul. A European reporter had passed the hat: $125, a fortune in this country. It was decided to entertain 250 youngsters to a meal. Prizes and souvenirs would be distributed afterward.

First snag was in getting food.

Refused Supplies

The United States Eighth Army in Korea turned down their request to buy supplies.

But the British NAAFI (Navy, Army and Air Force Institutes) threw open its stores. Fresh bread was obtained unofficially from the correspondents' own mess steward.

It could have been an excellent party—for 250—which it was.

But many, many more undernourished kids, feasting on the sight of good things apparently in store beyond the windows, had inevitably to be disappointed.

The invitation was by word of mouth throughout the neighborhood: "Children's party at the correspondents' billets at eight o'clock. They want 250 children.

By eight o'clock 500 were jammed at the gateway. A scant 150 were peeled off and formed up in the courtyard—ranging from tiny barefoot three-year-olds to 15-year-old boys and girls with little brothers and sisters on their backs.

The waiters had them served in minutes once the first 95 were allowed inside. A big plate of ham, sweet potatoes, buttered peas and a slice of bread like cake. As much iced cocoa and fruit squashes as they could drink. And cake for dessert.

By the time the first sitting was over the crowd at the gate had grown to more than 1,000.

The second lot filed in as the first, clutching bags of candies, went out.

Correspondents - turned - waiter went around cutting up the ham into little pieces for them.

Wolf Food

"You can't tell me these kids aren't hungry," commented one as the youngster whose food he was chopping up wolfed it down as quickly as it slivered off his knife.

Flash-bulbs flared as photographers snapped shots of "Korean children going to a party." Broadcasters trotted out their microphones and tape records and said what a wonderful time the kids were having.

The waiting youngsters formed up for a final assault on the door, the front arranged around it in a semicircle.

The pause gave the reinforced guards the moment they needed to reassert control.

Slowly the pressure was reversed, a roar of anticipation became a giant wail of disappointment. As imperceptibly almost as the invasion's advance had been, it went into retreat. Soon the mass was back outside the gates.

There the gigantic cluster waited, raising childish shouts for attention.

Finally the last 70 were peeled off the rim closet the entrance.

Some of the prizes were taken out into the street in consolation and, used as bait, were not distributed by the bearers until they had spread out through the surrounding area.

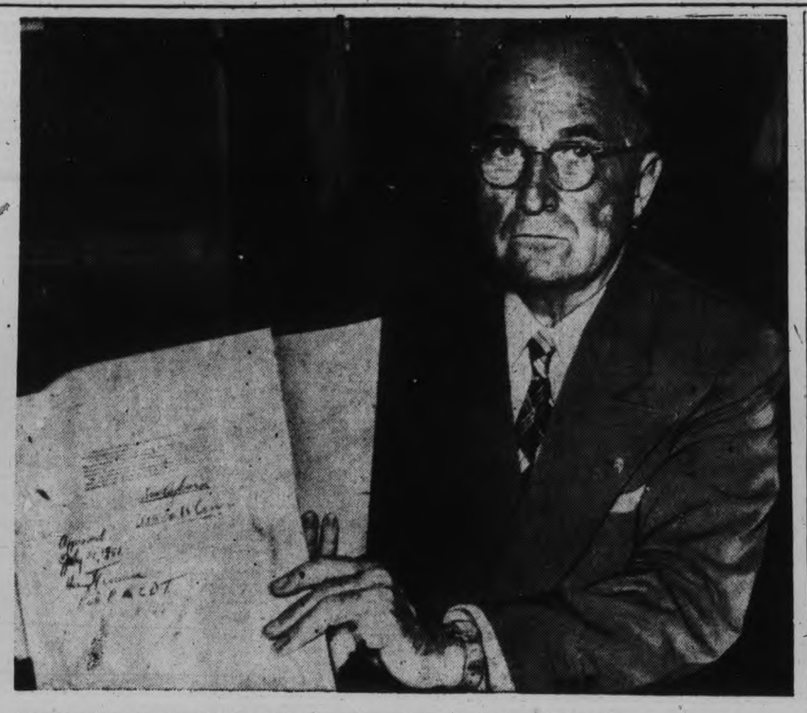
The noise was dying in the distance as inside the stuffy hall a little four-year-old got a round of applause and a prize (a pad of writing paper) for the song she sang from a table-top, a microphone close by.

Youth Penned Hour In Elevator Shaft

TORONTO, Aug. 3 (CP). — George Huncar, 19, was pinned for an hour Thursday between an elevator cage and the wall of the shaft in a downtown printing plant.

Freed by firemen working with acetylene cutting torches and saws, Huncar was taken to hospital in a semi-conscious condition.

Hospital authorities said he will be kept under observation until the extent of his injuries is determined.



PRESIDENT TRUMAN'S FACE, usually smiling, plainly shows disappointment and disgust as he "reluctantly" signs the new economic control bill. The dour-looking president, condemned the bill as being "gravely deficient" and said it would push up prices "toheights that we cannot yet foresee." The president blasted the measure for wiping out slaughter quotas on beef and "encouraging the return of black markets."

Hope US Plan To Ease Oil Shortage

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3. (AP) —The government Thursday approved a plan whereby American oil companies operating abroad may act jointly to offset worldwide petroleum shortages. Nineteen oil companies with overseas operations have been invited to take part.

The plan authorizes co-operative action for increasing the manufacture of refined petroleum products in several countries, including Canada.

The voluntary agreement provides immunity from prosecution under US anti-trust laws and the Federal Trade Commission Ast as long as participating companies stay within the scope of the plan.

The document says the stoppage of movements of crude oil and refined products from Iran has resulted in a loss to free world trade of about 460,000 barrels a day of refined products and 150,000 barrels a day of crude oil.

Maldistribution

"As a direct consequence, there is building up a serious shortage and maldistribution of petroleum supplies which is adversely affecting the interests of the United States, including the successful continuance of its mobilization program and mobilization programs of friendly foreign nations," it says.

"To overcome shortages of the magnitude involved, it will be necessary to make numerous alterations and adjustments in foreign petroleum operations with assitance to one area necessarily involving adjustments in other areas."

The plan said one objective will be to distribute to the fullest extent possible Persian Gulf-Middle East crude oil.

New Iron Lung To Cough For Patients

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE

NEW YORK, Aug. 3—(AP)—An iron lung that coughs is under design for the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

It will breathe in the usual way by change of air pressure and will also use a quick pressure pulse to cause a cough when the patient wishes or his doctor orders.

That will solve a sometimes-troublesome iron lung problem, due to excess fluid in air passages.

Another improvement is a push-pull lung, so-called because it uses excess air pressure to push down the chest to exhale, and a lowered pressure to let the chest expand.

Other types are better means of piping oxygen and other gases into the iron lung and more portholes for better care of the patient. Rocking beds are supplementing iron lungs and other respirators. These are teeter-totter beds. First they rock so that the head is higher than the feet and then lift feet high above the head. When the head is high, viscera pull down the ediaphragh, and what causes natural indrawing of breath. When feet are high, the viscera reverse their push and force breath out.

Replace Muscles

There is another kind of respirator, the electric current hooked to the phrenic nerve. Ordinary cases are unable to breath because their chest muscles are too weak. Iron lungs do well for them.

There are complications when the patient has the chest muscles to breathe, but the nerves are so damaged that the brain cannot send messages to make the muscles move. That is where the electric curent comes in. Lacking the messages, the chest muscles may fight against the breathing pressures of the iron lung. The electric curernt can be used only where an attendant is on 24-hour watch.

25 Convicts Steal From US

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Aug. 3 (AP) — Twenty-five convicts at the Florida State Prison have stolen approximately $2,000 from the US Bureau of Internal Revenue this year.

Although Treasury Department men haven't recovered a nickel, they are wise to the fraud.

Homer T. Jones, internal revenue intelligence agent, said the convicts received income tax refunds by mailing in false income tax returns for 1950 to which they attached fictitious withholding receipts.

The upshot was that the office of the collector mailed "refunds" back to the prisoners ranging from $50 to $125.

Jones said the convicts didn't mind risking another five or 10 years in a federal prison because "most of them were long termers who didn't have a thing to lose."

$1,000 Education

TORONTO, Aug. 3 (CP)—Joe Byrski, Toronto bread company driver, fell for an oldie Thursday. He drew $1,000 out of the bank just to prove to three fellows he met that he had as much money as they had. He put the money on the ground to be counted. They ran off with it.

Construction Up

TORONTO, Aug. 3 (CP)—Construction contracts in Canada in July totalled $326,822,900, an increase of $175,783,100 over the figures for July last year. The total for seven months, says MacLean Building Reports, Ltd., now is $1,505,128,700, compared with $768,005,300 for the same period of 1950.

Driving Impaired By Alcohol Tract Writer Pays $50 Fine

Convicted of driving a car while his ability to do so was impaired by alcohol, William Sims, 57, of 366 Water St. Thursday afternoon was fined $50 and $11 costs by Magistrate E. A. Gee of Lindsay.

Sims was charged with drunken driving but this was thrown out by Magistrate Gee who found there was only sufficient evidence to convict him on the lesser charge. It is the second time this week that the new liquor charge has been invoked after a drunken driving count was first laid.

A plea of not guilty was made by Sims.

A second charge of careless driving was dismissed when the Crown offered no evidence.

The drunken driving charge was laid after a chase late on the night of July 11. A city police cruiser and the "black maria" were unsuccessful in stopping Sims as he swung onto the highway at the Reid-Stewart St. intersection. They finally caught up with him five miles west of the city.

Smelled of Alcohol

PCs Jack Wilson and William A. Scott said Sims was unsteady on his feet, smelt of alcohol, and had to be assisted into the "black maria."

PC Scott said he tried to intercept Sims, who was driving north up Reid St. toward the highway, by partially blocking the road with a cruiser and by waving his arm out the window.

The constable testified that Sims drove around him and started up the highway toward Lindsay.

"The car was being driven erratically, causing southbound traffic to move well over on the west side of the highway," said the constable.

Swerve Slowed Police

Just past the Chemong road Constable Scott drew abreast of Sims' car, but another swerve to the left by the chased vehicle caused the constable to fall back to avoid a collision.

Constable Scott said he kept sounding his police horn and shining a light on Sims' car.

Less than a quarter of a mile further on, the constable stated, he again drew abreast of Sims and the latter pulled over to the side of the road. The slower "black maria," following the other two in the chase, also drove up.

Constable Scott said he and Constable Wilson had to "assist" Sims out of his own car and into the "black maria."

Constable Wlison corroborated this. He said he saw the Sims' car swing onto the side of the road and then swing back. It was travelling "erratically."

He described the accused as being shaky on his feet and speaking in a "thick" manner. In his opinion Sims was in a drunken condition.

Reported Staggering

Earlier in the evening Sims was reported "staggering" as he walked along Simcoe St. The witness was PC Cec. Bowyer. And about 10 p.m., half an hour before the police cars chased him, Sims backed into a gasoline pump at the service station of Alex Thompson, Lansdowne St. The car hit the cement island and scratched the pump.

Sims admitted taking three glasses of wine to steady his nerves earlier in the evening. But he said he was sure he was not drunk.

Cross-questioned by Crown Attorney John Bradshaw, KC, he also stated that he had written tracts condemning the use of alcohol as a drink, and he taught a men's bible class at a local church.

He testified that before coming to Peterborough he suffered a nervous breakdown; and the night he was arrested he felt as though he were on the verge of another.

Didn't Remember

"I don't recall anything from the time they pulled me out of the car," he said.

Defence Counsel Alex Elliott, KC, claimed it was excessive nervousness, not alcohol, that made Sims act as he did.

He called Dr. Bob Young who testified that Sims had the most advanced stage of varicose veins and that could account for the apparent weakness or unsteadiness of his legs when he got out of his car.

Dr. Young gave his medical verdict that Sims was "most unstable emotionally." And that the strains that Sims had described could affect his speech, walk, and general deportment.

The Rev. Walter S. Crone, a personal friend of Sims, said he noticed that the accused man's nerves were getting worse over the last six months, and Sims was unable to concentrate for very long.

New Drain, Walk Built In Marmora

MARMORA, Aug. 3—(ENS)—The Ontario Department of Highways is putting a deep tile drain along the south side of No. 7 Highway from the intersection at North Hastings Ave. to Forsythe St. A drain was previously built from Forsythe St. to Crowe River. When this work is completed a cement walk will be laid, an improvement that the village has been trying to get for years.

Borrow $1 Million

TORONTO, Aug. 3 (CP)—The University of Toronto has been authorized by the Ontario government to borrow $1,200,000 to erase a deficit in the pension fund for its 500 administrative employees. Permission to borrow the money was granted by an order-in-council. The deficit is blamed on inflation through higher costs of living and resulting higher salaries.

For Freer British Immigration

Mr. Anthony Eden's strong concern that emigration from Britain to Canada be maintained and facilitated will strike a responsive chord in most Canadian hearts. As Mr. Eden said yesterday in Port Hope to a representative of this newspaper, if we—British and Canadians—have faith in the British Commonwealth family then we must want to see it grow. "If our people want to come here, and you want to have them here, we should not allow currency restrictions to stand in the way."

• • •

That is the chief obstacle to emigration to Canada. Because Canada is in the dollar area, and Britain has a shortage of dollars, currency restrictions prevent emigrants from bringing more than a stop-gap sum with them. They cannot take enough to establish new homes here. A thousand pounds at the rate of £250 a year are not enough to allow an emigrating Briton to buy a house, a farm or establish a business or small industry. Australia and South Africa are getting more British emigrants because those Dominions are in the sterling bloc and such narrow currency restrictions do not apply. Recently the British Government has made some concessions to Britons already here and to those who will emigrate in the future. A British family in Canada may now transfer a maximum of £2,000 ($6,000) during their first four years in Canada. This relaxation will help tide them over their first years of adjustment and home-making, but it is still not enough to allow them to settle themselves firmly on Canadian soil.

• • •

Since a large part of the benefit of such emigration goes to Canada and her development, can the Canadian Government not do something to ease the flow of British emigration? Canada has the dollars—Canadian dollars. True, assistance is now given towards passage by repayable loans. Canada could do more. Each young Briton who comes here brings with him dollar-and-cent values. These are not only in his future contribution to Canadian production and culture, but also in what he himself is: a healthy, schooled adult of eighteen or twenty, bred in the same political tradition from which Canada stems. To raise, feed, clothe and educate a similar native-born Canadian is an enterprise costing this country directly and indirectly as much as $10,000. To put the lowest and grossest value on a British emigrant, this country is getting such a bargain human packet for nothing. Since Britain does not have the dollars and Canada has, some Canadian financial assistance towards establishing new British immigrants should be both possible and sound business.

• • •

The Government of Australia is making a strenuous bid for British immigrants. Passages all the way to Australia are provided at lower cost than passage to Canada; subsidies in land and monies are granted them and other financial attractions offered. Canada needs more people. What better and more natural to the country are there than Britons? Canada is spending large sums on British and foreign aid. Is it not logical that Britons should be encouraged to come here to raise their own food and produce the goods they want? Bring the people to the goods and machines, as well as send the goods and machines to them in another land.

Thank You, Mr. Childs

Since misinformation and misconception about Canada's physical and political characteristics are still prevalent in the United States, writers in that country who try to set the record straight do this country great service. An excellent example of such service was provided recently by Marquis Childs, widely read and authoritative columnist of The Washington Post, who discussed briefly the resources of Canada and certain aspects of this country's position in relation to Great Britain and the United States.

Mr. Childs saw the great United States investments in Canada since 1946 as broadening the common economic interest of the two countries. He regards this country's great basic resources, as yet untapped, as a source of supply to which the United States may be able to turn, now that some of its own basic resources are virtually exhausted. He left the impression that co-operation along these lines could be advantageous for both countries.

Discussing the political aspects of Canada's position, Mr. Childs went into greater detail. He referred to the determination of Canadian leaders to see this nation become a partner in the leadership of the West—a junior partner, but a partner nevertheless—and sketched its independence of both Great Britain and the United States. Admitting that certain sensitive points do exist between Canada and the United States (such as the recent increase in the price of newsprint), he concluded that such points are minor in the total picture.

Readers may recall that Canadian Minister of External Affairs Lester Pearson said in a speech not long ago that while Canada might be influenced by United States foreign policy in formulating its own, the final decision regarding the latter would remain with Canada. It was, in effect, a declaration of independence. The manner with which this was greeted by certain sections of the United States press would lead one to think they were referring to a forty-ninth State or a dependent. Mr. Childs makes it quite clear that the United States and Canada are two sovereign nations, bound together by ties of friendship and economic advantage. Canadians should be grateful to him for helping his readers to a clearer understanding of Canada's position, continentally and internationally.

Does the Post Office Department Need Some Business Men?

Post Office service has gone to rack and ruin in the last six months. Mail deliveries are slow and have been reduced in most districts to one a day. Clearance of mail at central distributing depots (e.g. Toronto) is laggardly. The service even at local post office wickets is languid and the clearance of mail through local depots is retarded. (We give one instance: a letter addressed to the Civic Hospital at the west end of the city was posted at 11:30 a.m. at the Peterborough Post Office itself, at the inside letter-box. It was delivered to the addressee in the Hospital the afternoon of the next day. In this instance, the person posting the letter was assured by a postal employee at the wicket that the letter was in ample time to catch that same afternoon's delivery.) In addition to the annoyances and delays to which the public are being subjected, post office employees throughout the country seem to be discontented.

There must be trouble at the top of the whole organization. We know that Postmaster General Rinfret is not a postman trained to the business; his job is to be political head of the Department and to see that service is maintained efficiently at the lowest cost to taxpayers and all people who buy postal service with stamps. Underneath the Postmaster-General there must be confusion, misdirection and gross fumbling; in other words, poor management. Perhaps the Post Office department stands in need of a fresh point of view from new managers. Put a few expert business men and men used to operating large industries into senior jobs in the Post Office department for a while. Let them teach the routine civil servant experts a few lessons on how to serve the public and make it pay. Get in some good new blood which has not been thinned by departmental career climbing and years of Civil Service blanching. Mr. W. J. Turnbull, Deputy Postmaster-General, may welcome such colleagues.

Europe Hit By Inflation

People on this continent sorely know how the cost of living has risen during the year since the Korean War began. Due to re-armament, stock-piling of basic goods, competitive buying on an international scale, and the threat of inflation itself, the cost of living in western Europe has leapt ahead, in most countries more rapidly than in Canada and the United States. Even the United Kingdom, with its closely controlled economy and its vast system of bulk buying and subsidies has felt the sharpest increases since the World War's end.

The Office for European Economic Co-Operation (the offshoot of Marshall Aid and E.R.P.) has published comparative statistics to show by how much the cost of living has risen in the principal western countries since June 1950. Taking the figure 100 to represent the cost of living in June, 1950, it finds that the cost in June of this year stood as follows:

Switzerland	105	Belgium	113
Ireland	105	Holland	113
U.K.	109	Norway	116
U.S.A.	109	Sweden	117
Canada	109	Austria	118
W. Germany	110	France	120
Italy	110

France, it will be noted, has suffered the worst inflation. That is one of the chief reasons for the difficulty in forming a new French Government; there is no agreement on how to meet this inflation or on adjusting wage rates to it.

Notes And Queries

By ALPHA

Questions are solicited for this column particularly those relating to local lore and tradition.

DEAR ALPHA: During the last year or so you have hinted about the name Clonsilla, as a street name, but you never got around to saying where the name came from. Do you know?

ANSWER: I didn't until lately, then I picked a lead off another person's cuff. As all readers know, who have read my disparaging remarks about Charlotte being Clonsilla, Clonsilla is the Port Hope Highway after Charlotte Street leaves it to go on up to the hospital. It skirts the base of the Sherbrooke Street hill. That hill, north of Sherbrooke, and from Clonsilla to Monaghan Road, was once all the property of Mr. Herbert Morrow, father of the present Harold A. Morrow who gave Morrow Park (the Exhibition Ground) to the citizens as a fair ground. The Morrow home at the top of the hill, (the house still stands and it is still the Morrow home) is called Clonsilla.

The city took the name "Clonsilla Avenue" over with the district when it annexed it from North Monaghan in 1945. When the street was originally subdivided, the registered plan included the name "Clonsilla". This plan was registered in 1908; therefore Clonsilla Avenue is not a new street at all—but 43 years old. However, I never heard anybody before 1945 use anything else but "on the Gravel Road" or "Port Hope Highway" or "at the head of Charlotte Street' to designate houses built on the highway.

Usually when the city takes over subdivided sections, it accepts also the street names already allotted. Sometimes a change in name is made to avoid confusion. For instance, in the same annexed area as Clonsilla is "Hastings Street". Before 1945, and on the same 1908 registered plan, the street was named "Crescent Avenue", probably because it is crescent shaped. But Peterberough already had a Crescent Street, so the name was changed to Hastings.

ALPHA: As an Englishman now resident in Canada, I wonder if Mr. Anthony Eden is disconcerted when Canadians and Americans refer to him as "Anthony", pronouncing the th, and not, as he is called, "Antony?"

ANSWER: The Christian name "Anthony" is pronounced as "Antony" in England, and sometimes so spelt. I am sure Mr. Eden seldom hears his name with the "th", for Canadian and American friends intimate enough with him to call him by his first name will also know that it is said, in England, with a "t" and not "th" sound.

The name, by the way, is peculiarly appropriate, for in Latin, Antonius means "worthy of praise". As a Christian name it has long been in use in England. It is the equivalent of the French, Antoine, the Italian and Spanish Antonio, and the German Antonius or Anton.

SIR: What is the name of the bright star in the west now, very clear just after sunset and low on the horizon?

ANSWER: I presume you mean Venus, which is best seen in the evenings in July; by mid-August, Venus will be very close to the setting sun, and her place taken as the evening star by Mercury. Mercury can now be glimpsed very low in the west just after sunset.

Venus is the star of poets and lovers, of song and romance. It is both Evening Star and Morning Star. Last summer (May to September) it was a bright morning star; this year (May to August) it is the evening star. The ancients called it Hesperus when it was seen in the western sky in the evening (i.e. at its eastern elongations), and Phosphorus when it was low and bright in the eastern sky before dawn.

Venus is the Roman goddess representing beauty and growth in nature.

The planet Venus is the second in order of distance from the sun. Like the Earth, Venus is enveloped in an atmosphere. Venus makes a complete revolution around the sun in 225 days; the earth in 365. It varies in distance from the Earth between 26,000,000 and 160,000,000 miles. Venus, in volume and mass, is slightly smaller than the Earth.

A great deal of mystery surrounds Venus, chiefly because it is its atmosphere which astronomers see, not the actual planet. This atmosphere is heavily cloud-laden and shines with a dazzling lustre.

There is a possibility that life may exist on Venus; this is suggested by its resemblance to the earth in size and mass, together with its possession of a dense atmosphere. If there is life, what kind of life is also a mystery. Venus is, in fact, one of the greatest and most fascinating mysteries that man's eyes see, his telescopes observe, and his mathematics conjure with.

Venus and Mercury are closely related in the sky and in men's vision. When one is a morning star, the other is usually the evening star. When Venus departs from the sky, Mercury takes her place. Alexander Pope, a keen observer of nature and exact poetic describer, says, in paraphrasing Chaucer, also a man who viewed natural phenomena with precision and humanity with clarity:

Love seldom haunts the breast where learning lies,
And Venus sets ere Mercury can rise.

Mercury is the smallest of the major planets, with a diameter of only 3,000 miles; the earth's is about 8,000 miles. It is the nearest planet to the sun. If it has an atmosphere, it is very scanty. Mercury has none of the characteristics which would make life possible on it. Mercury is the Greek God Hermes, and a patron of merchants.

SIR: Here is yet another curious property of the number 9. Try it on your friends! Arrange in a row the cardinal numbers from 1 to 9, with the single omission of 8. Multiply the sum so represented (12345679) by any one of the figures multiplied by 9, and the answer will be a succession of figures identical with the one that was multiplied by 9. For instance, multiply 12345679 by 5 times 9—45, and the answer is 555555555. Another example:

63 (7 times 9)

37037037
4074074

RESPONSE: I've tried it with 3 times 9 (27) and it works: I got: 333333333. Hurrah for 9!

JACKSON PARK QUARRY: Several people have asked where exactly this old quarry is, and Mrs. Edward McDonnel of Jackson Park Lane has told me exactly. It is on her father's former farm, her father being the late James Fraser. The farm is now the Hefernan property. The quarry, long closed and disused since the days it supplied the stone for St. John's Church and the Court House, (both buildings now more than a century old) is at the lower part of the hill just north of the Park, beyond the wire fence. It is on the east side of the railway track. The last time Mrs. McDonnel visited the quarry an old kiln was still there. Mrs. McDonnel never remembers seeing it in operation, and her memory goes back a good many years.

✧ ✧ ✧

FOR THE RECORD: Peterborough newspapers of August 1, 1910 remarked that hair cuts have gone up to 25 cents each. "This is one of the effects of the high cost of living". Haircuts are now 75 cents; but in 1910, a sack of potatoes fetched only 25 cents and thus paid for only one hair cut. Now a bag of potatoes is worth a couple of dollars. Therefore, relatively the farmer is better off: he can get three hair cuts at the present price for the price of one in 1910. Industrial workers are also better off; in 1910 they earned 20-25 cents an hour. Barbers are better off, too, for now the job takes less time and manual effort (due to electric clippers) and customers are less fastidious. In 1910 the hair cut included singing, special parting, a moustache trim and probably a dob of wax to it. So everybody is better off. As the late Dr. Coue probably remarked a hundred thousand times: In every way things are getting better and better. Wonderful, wonderful world!

WE KNOW NOT WHO WON, BUT WE KNOW WHO LOST

Howe-Howe

(By H. B. in Ottawa Citizen)

KO-KO, a government employe in the town of Titipu whose duties were concerned with axemanship, was about to be married, and wished to consult a very important person as to the amount he might spend with propriety upon the festivities.

"In which of my capacities?" enquired Pooh-Bah. "As First Lord of the Treasury, Lord Chamberlain, Attorney-General, Chancellor of the Exchequer, Privy Purse, or Private Secretary?"

"Suppose we say as Private Secretary."

"Speaking as your Private Secretary, I should say that as the city will have to pay for it, don't stint yourself, do it well."

Ko-Ko was pleased with the advice, until Pooh-Bah added: "Of course you will understand that, as Chancellor of the Exchequer, I am bound to see that due economy is observed."

Pooh-Bah then proceeded to examine Ko-Ko's problem in the light of his other official capacities, but the difficulties persisted. For example: "As Paymaster-General, I could so cook the accounts that as Lord High Auditor I should never discover the fraud. But then, as Archbishop of Titipu, it would be my duty to denounce my dishonesty and give myself into my own custody as First Commissioner of Police."

"That's extremely awkward," said his colleague, glumly.

"I don't say that all these distinguished people," Pooh-Bah hastened to assure him, "couldn't be squared; but it is right to tell you that they wouldn't be sufficiently degraded in their own estimation unless they were insulted with a very considerable bribe."

✧ ✧ ✧

For a day or so recently, Mr. C. D. Howe occupied nearly as many posts as the Lord High Everything Else at Titipu. It wasn't much of a trick for him. He had about a dozen portfolios, a few more than usual, that is all. In addition to his regular duties, he was Acting Prime Minister, and also temporarily in charge of the departments of Finance, External Affairs, National Defence, Health and Welfare, Justice, Veterans Affairs, Citizenship and Immigration, and of the Secretary of State's department.

In holiday time, this sort of thing has happened to other ministers on occasion — and even to a greater extent. But somehow they don't look natural in the part of boss of everything in sight. Mr. Howe does.

For a day or two, then, Mr. Howe could write letters addressed to himself as "my dear colleague," offer constructive suggestions—and carry them out. He has done so before, albeit on a lesser scale.

Once some officials operating close to the Department of Trade and Commerce came to see their minister about a ticklish little problem which affected another department as well. They offered a solution, and begged Mr. Howe to present it to the Minister of Transport.

Mr. Howe liked the proposal. He would certainly place it before the Minister of Transport, who he was sure would be most co-operative. "By the way," Mr. Howe added, "I happen to be the Minister of Transport." (It was true; Mr. Chevrier was out of town.) The business was settled on the spot.

The resemblance to Pooh-Bah, it need scarcely be pointed out, has its limitations. The "squaring" of any one of the distinguished people represented by Mr. Howe would be quite an undertaking. It would be easier to square a circle.

Work And Production

(Lethbridge Herald)

Within a few weeks South Alberta will get visual evidence of the production which puts products behind the value of our dollar. The big wheat harvest will be on and men who work will be busy from daylight to dark.

Too many of us forget in these days of "gimme" that money in itself is nothing. It's the goods and services behind the money that make it of some value, even though it has dropped to 54 cents of its prewar value in purchasing power. Nothing we know provides quite such realistic evidence of production as a big field of wheat going under the sickle. When harvest starts a month hence, look around you.

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

Owe no man any thing, but to love one another: for he that loveth another hath fulfilled the law. (Rom. 13: 8.)

✧ ✧ ✧

For, brethren, ye have been called unto liberty; only use not liberty for an occasion to the flesh, but by love serve one another. For all the law is fulfilled in one word, even in this; Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself. (Gal. 5: 13, 14.)

✧ ✧ ✧

For this is the message that ye heard from the beginning, that we should love one another....My little children, let us not love in word, neither in tongue: but in deed and in truth. (I John 3: 11, 18.)

✧ ✧ ✧

And we have known and believed the love that God hath to us. God is love and he that dwelleth in love dwelleth in God, and God in him. (I John 4: 16.)

Canada's Roads

Canada's roads, says the American magazine 'Time' (attributing the opinion to "U.S. tourists") are "appallingly bad." Most are "narrow, with sharp turns, ill-graded curves, poor surfaces." "One of the most common signs is 'Bump Ahead'."

Then the story gets down to cases. One Californian is alleged to have "limped" into Edmonton in a 1950 convertible after traversing the Windermere and (presumably) Banff-Jasper highways, and to have complained that while his car was "a beauty" when he left the States, it now rode "like an old-fashioned brass bedstead." Another Californian said he broke an oil pan on the Windermere and a spring on the Edmonton-Jasper highway.

A Calgarian who has driven 20,000 miles across the border in the last four or five years called us after reading this item in Time. Several things struck him about it, he said. One was the thin disguise which Time had put over what was essentially an attack on Canada; another was the many things which Time did not say.

For example, the worst stretch of road that a Californian driving to Edmonton through the national parks is likely to strike is not in Canada at all, but across the border in Idaho; this stretch, our informant says, is much worse than the worst stretches of the Windermere (which, incidentally is being rebuilt).

Between Calgary and Glacier Park (which is across the border from Waterton Lakes) the worst stretch of highway to be encountered is the eight miles on the south side of the border. The highway from Calgary to Great Falls is fine until you hit the border; then you encounter a truly shocking stretch between Coutts and Conrad. Our caller broke a trailer hitch when travelling northwards on the Windermere route; he broke it on the American side, not the Canadian.

We admit freely that Canadian roads are not all they might be, nor all we hope they will be, in a few years. But the implication of this piece in Time was that American tourists travel on eight-lane concrete autobahns at 80 or 90 miles an hour until they cross the border into Canada, whereupon they start travelling on cow-paths. This was presented as "news." It is not only not news; it is not even fair comment.

"Then later on, perhaps . . . who knows?"

PRESIDENT TRUMAN has laid before the U.S. Senate the nomination of Admiral W. H. Fechteler (left) as Chief of Naval Operations to succeed the late Admiral Forrest P. Sherman, who died last month. The President also nominated Admiral Lynde McCormick, now acting chief of Naval Operations, to succeed Admiral Fechteler as Commander of the Atlantic Fleet.

Prices Gobble Wages-Union

OTTAWA, Aug. 3 (CP)—The Canadian Congress of Labor said Thursday continued price increases are steadily eating into the "real earnings" of Canada's industrial workers.

Reporting a study made by its research department, it said living standards have dropped during the last eight months despite higher dollar earnings and predicted "a further deterioration."

It added:

"In August, 1950, three out of 10 workers were getting less in real weekly earnings than shortly after the war ended (April, 1946). Now, because prices have been permitted to go still higher, four out of 10 wage earners receive less each week.

British MPs Start Summer Vacation

LONDON, Aug. 3—(Reuters)—British members of parliament went off on summer vacation Thursday, uncertain whether they will be plunged into an election soon after parliament meets again Oct. 16.

Prime Minister Attlee has given no hint when he will go to the country again. Provided he can cling to his effective majority of five—it could be cut through by-elections necessitated by the death or resignation of present MPs—and suffers no voting upset in the Commons, he could put off a vote until 1955.

40 School Boys Start Out For Canada

LIVERPOOL, Aug. 3 (Reuters)—Forty high-school boys from English and Scottish cities sailed Thursday on the liner Ascania for a 30-day tour of Canada.

They make up the first post-war party to travel under the Rhodes Canada Educational Trust, founded by Walter H. Rhodes, textile industrialist.

The party will visit Toronto, Niagara Falls, Ottawa, Montreal, and Quebec, and will spend four days at a Canadian boys' camp at North Bay.

Milk In Stores Set At 20 Cents By Board

TORONTO, Aug. 3 — (CP) — Although the price of milk purchased in Toronto was supposed to be reduced from 20 cents to 19 cents a quart on Sept. 1, an official order of the Ontario Milk Control Board, published Thursday in the Ontario Gazette, sets the store price of the existing 20 cents, the price at which it was frozen last March 15.

The published order for the Toronto area lists delivered milk prices at 21 cents a quart, the price made effective July 11.

The order was signed by three of the board's four original members, Judge A. B. Currey, chairman; K. M. Betzner, producer representative, and Mayor Hiram McCallum of Toronto, consumer representative.

Maurice Hart, Oshawa dairy operator and distributor representative, resigned from the board after the July 11 decision.

Jose Ferrer Given Life Membership

MONTREAL, Aug. 3 — (CP) — Jose Ferrer, academy award winner, today will receive an honorary life membership in the Montreal Repertory Theatre—by long distance telephone.

This somewhat unusual arrangement is nothing new to Ferrer who this year accepted his Oscar, for his portrayal of Cyrano De Bergerac, in a similar manner.

Ferrer spoke in Montreal last fall under the auspices of the MRT and at that time he said he would like to come here when Cyrano opens this week.

Active engagements made this impossible and sinstead, Ferrer will telephone Mayor Camillien Houde from Hollywood. He will chat with the mayor and then receive his honorary membership from Ranulph Hudston, a director of the MRT.

Production Resumed At Goodyear Plant

TORONTO, Aug. 3 — (CP) — Production was resumed Thursday night at the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company plant in suburban New Toronto when 400 tire room workers agreed to return to work after a two-day walkout.

Cause of the walkout—suspension of two workers who refused to work because the plant was too hot—will be subject to a grievance claim by the the United Rubber Workers. The tire room walkout brought about a production stoppage throughout the plant.

Danny Thomas Comedian, Gets Character Roles

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 3—(AP)—Danny Thomas is the modern version of the old time spellbinder.

When Danny speaks, no one can compete. So Doris Day, his leading lady in "I'll See You In My Dreams," and I mostly listened at lunch as he told of his hectic film career. It went something like this:

"It all started when Joe Pasternak, the MGM producer, caught my wailing Syrian act at the Chez Paree in Chicago. 'That face!' he said. 'I've got to have that face'!"

"So he brought me out to Hollywood to appear in 'The Unfinished Dance' with Margaret O'Brien. I played a Greek cobbler, and for my efforts I received $120,000, which is no small potatoes.

"Pasternak brought me back to play a Jewish cantor in 'The Big City,' again with Margaret O'Brien. I went to his office and he said, 'If only you would fix that big nose.' I said, 'This nose is all right to play the Greek cobbler, but not to play the Jewish cantor?!'"

"Anyway, I keep the nose and play the part. I am a comedian and I have played two character roles!"

Face His Fortune

"Next Darryl Zanuck caught my act at Ciro's. Again I hear, 'That face! I've got to have that face!' So he signed me up to play a Greek soldier in 'Call Me Mister.'"

"Now I am playing a Jewish song writer in 'I'll See You In My Dreams.' I don't know what my next role will be, but I'm bound to be a Greek!"

Thomas is actually a Syrian, is naturally elated over his current role at Tunesmith Gus Kahn.

"This is really off-beat casting," he declared. "This is a case in which an ugly bum (himself) gets the girl (Doris Day). I hope it comes off. It all depends on whether the audience wants the ugly bum to win her."

CAIRO, Aug. 2 (AP). — A spokesman for the Egyptian Press Syndicate said today the governing Wafdist party has withdrawn proposed legislation which the syndicate said would have restricted freedom of the press. Hindu Radio Named Voice Of Heaven

By ADRIENNE FADRELL

NEW DEHLI—(Reuters)—Indian radio listeners tuning in to Hindu broadcasts will in future be listening to "The Voice of Heaven."

A parliamentary committe after long deliberation chose the name "Akash Vani," meaning voice of heaven or of the Gods, oracle on ancient Sanskrit mythology, as the Hindu title for the nation's broadcasting system.

For the past 15 years the network has been generally known by its English name, The All-India Radio, and the English title will continue in some programs and for general business purposes.

Some have criticized the new title as too fanciful but for many Indian the radio certainly has the task of being the voice, in not of the gods, at least of the demi-gods of wisdom and learning. It is one of the main sources of education for the millions of illiterates.

The number of radio sets in India at present is only about 600,000, or one to every 600 persons, compared to a world average of about one set to every 14 persons, and the United States estimate of one for every two persons.

But India is developing a widespread network of community-owned radio sets, purchased by the local governments to be shared by villagers or used in schools.

Community Service

It is a common sight in the evening, particularly in Southern India, to see groups of villagers squatting intent below a leafy tree, listening to the day's news broadcasts from the village loudspeaker set in te tree's branches.

There are also daily programs on rural subjects, on new ways of growing wheat, rice or potatoes, on irriigation, drainage or farm co-operatives.

Broadcasting in India is a government monopoly. All commercial broadcastin is banned. News broadcasting is necessarily a complicated item in a network catering for a multi-langual audience. All-India radio news service is one of the largest in the world, putting out news daily in India's 15 main languages, as well as in eight foreign languages.

ANCIENT TEMPLE

The great Hindu temple of Juggernaut is located at Puri in Orissa, one of the Indian Republic States.

Foxes Starving Ravage Sheep

SYDNEY, Australia (CP). — Starving foxes in southwestern New South Wales have killed thousands of lambs and hundreds of fully grown sheep

They are also eating fish from shallow creeks; stealing meat from dog kennels on station homesteads; and eating kitchen refuse from rubbish heaps.

Epidemic disease has killed so many rabbits in the district that the foxes have little natural food.

At Dunvegan station, on the Darling River foxes have killed 1,000 of 1,400 new-born lambs.

Don Hill, of Roo Roo station, poisoned with strychnine the carcass of a sheep and a lamb which foxes had killed. That night he found 40 poisoned foxes on the property.

Who said You can't Afford a Fine Car?

MANY'S the man who has paid far more for a fine car than the price of this beauty—and got less than this gay and gallant traveller offers. Sweeping proudly past you, it has a distinction that few cars can equal.

Stepping nimbly away from a stop light, it has the willing surge of power that the very exclusive combination of a Fireball engine and Dynaflow Drive* delivers.

It rides the road with majestic smoothness, and comes to a smooth and gentle halt, in response to the finest brakes that Buick engineers ever developed.

Inside, it has spacious room, from side to side and front to back and seat to roof—plus a softness of cushions and a richness of fabrics which bespeak the custom standards to which it is built.

All you could want in a fine car is here in abundance.

But don't let that fool you into deciding "It's too rich for me."

If you've looked into 1951 car prices generally, you'll discover this:

You can own a BUICK for little more than an ordinary car will cost—and for several hundred dollars less than the price tags usually found in "the fine-car field."

Why not look into this today?

Petes Trip Kingsways 6-2 To Pull Away From Oshawa

Bill Edger twirled six-hit ball Thursday night at Millen Stadium in Toronto to defeat Kingsway Lumbermen 6-2 in the curtain-raiser of a scheduled doubleheader in the Viaduct league. The curfew ended the nightcap billing between the clubs with the score tied one-all.

The win placed the senior Petes once more two and a half games up on the Oshawa Merchants who until defeated at Riverside Wednesday had crept to within a half a game. Thursday's victory was Peterborough's 22nd in 26 starts. The Merchants have a record of 21 wins and seven losses. Kingsway Lumber is in third, well behind Oshawa.

Lefty Bob Verner opposed Edger on the rival mound, was hit freely in spots, particularly in the third and sixth, when the Whitehill wrecking-crew bunched seven hits in all, for six tallies, but he weathered the storm, allowing 10 hits and walking seven. Edger's control showed much better with only one free ticket to first in the abbreviated seven-inning contest.

Gunner Whitehill's boys opened the scoring in the third inning as Edger singled to left; Huntley followed suit and Garvey flew to McKillop; Golden walked to saturate the runways and Brabin smacked a single to left to score Edger; but Wallace nailed Huntley at the plate as he also tried to register. Stewart rapped through short to score Golden and that was all as Malloy snared Lowery's high-sky in brilliant style.

Kingsway tallied in their half as Steve McLellan singled, Verner walked, Kelleher forced Verner on a fielder's choice and Malloy singled scoring McLelan. Duke McLoughlin's boys tied it up in the fifht as Hall got a life on a fumbled drive to short; McLellan doubled for his second safety; Verner was out on an infield tap, but Kelleher singled to score Hall.

Petes made base-hits and speed afoot count for victory in the sixth as Milne doubled; Edger poked his second hit, stole second and Milne scored on Huntley's out, third to first. Garvey skied to Malloy, but Golden walked and Brabin hit safely to score Edger. Brabin and Golden their attempted a double-steal, the later scoring from second finally while the alert Brabin regained first safely as the dust settled; Stewrat walked but Bill was nipped off third to end the all-sufficient payoff rally.

It was a good live ball game with several fielding gems, including fine catches by Malloy, Huntley and Garvey. Peterborough play host to Croftons here at Riverside on Monday evening under the arcs.

Majestic Brooke Wins Divisions

TORONTO, Aug. 3 (CP). — Majestic Brooke, owned by Stanley Love of Milton, Ont., and driven by Keith Waples, won both divisions of the featured pacing stake at Thorncliffe track Thursday.

Majestic Brooke just jogged to win the first dash in 2.13. In the second dash he was pressed by Turnabout, owned by J. S. McIntyre of Peterborough, but won by a good length.

In another divided stake, both divisions were won by Laurel Axworthy, owned by Emerson Letty of Meadowvale, Ont., and driven by Wilfred Guise. Laurel Axworthy was forced to travel the final half mile on the outside in order to beat Symbol Majesty, which held stubbornly until the final 70 yards.

The Thorncliffe raceway meeting will continue through Saturday afternoon, and then will suspend operations at the request of the Ontario Racing Commission during the meeting of the runners at Hamilton Jockey Club. It is expected that Thorncliffe will reopen on Aug. 11 and run through Labor Day.

Eight Innings No Hits Bisons Lose 1-0

By The Associated Press.

Imagine pitching a no-hitter for eight innings, then losing the game 1-0 in the ninth.

That's what happened to Tom Acker of Buffalo Bisons last night. The only consoling part of the defeat in that he had no one to blame but himself.

Adouble by Bill Gardner, two singles and a walk produced the run that gave the seventh-place Ottawa Giants the triumph, and in the process pulled them out of the International League cellar.

Harry Nicholas scattered five hits for his second triumph against against three defeats.

Springfield Cubs, after getting out of the basement for one day, hit the bottom again by dropping a 6-2 decision to Syracuse Chiefs. Bog Keegan went all the way for the winners aided by an inside-the-park home run by Carden Gillenwater.

Royals Win

In the other two contests, the league-leading Montreal Royals crushed Toronto 7-2 and Baltimore Orioles shaded Rochester Red Wings 4-3.

Ross Grimsley had no trouble going the distance for the Royals. Primarily a relief pitcher, he was making his third start of the season. Irv Medlinger was charged with the loss.

Medlinger was lifted for a pinch-hitter in the sixth inning. Sonny Day, formerly of Winnipeg's Mandak League entry, relieved for the second straight night and gave up three hits in three innings. Third baseman Charlie White, another Winnipeg import, stood out in the Toronto infield and led Leaf hitters with two singles, one scoring the first Toronto run.

Karl Drews of the Orioles had a close tussle with Jack Faszholz even though he struck out eight Red Wings to pull his league-leading total to 104. Faszholz only allowed five hits, but three were for extra bases including a home run by Mike Goliat.

Canada Favored Against Cuba

By VIC MORRIS, JR.

MONTREAL, Aug. 3 (CP) — Canada's favored Davis cuppers today meet the Cubans in second-round singles matches of the North American zone tie. The Canadians are confident—and are odds-on favorites to win the best-of-five series in four matches.

The Canadians also bid fair to take honors as the best dressed team. They are to wear the new look in tennis togs—all white—including tailor-made shirts and shorts, the latter two inches above the knee.

But it will take more than style in clothes to defeat the Cubans, who pit experience against youth. Assigned starters yesterday for Canada were Vancouver's Lorne Main and Brendan Macken of Montreal, veterans of bitter defeats at the hands of the Australian squad last year.

Veteran Cuban

Main meets 39-year-old Jose (Pepe) Aguero, a veteran of 18 Davis Cup teams, in the first match, while Macken goes against Dr. Juan Weiss, Cuba's singles champion, in the second.

Henri Rochon of Montreal, Canada's third team member, and Cuba's other players, the youthful Orlando and Reynaldo Garrido, will view the matches from the sidelines. Rochon is expected to see action in the Saturday doubles match.

Last night, the Cuban duo were 7-5 underdogs in light betting.

Cuba and Canada drew byes in the first-round draw.

Captain Eric Williams of the Cubans said late last night his doubles selections for Saturday would be Weiss and Aguero. The Canadian captain, Gordon MacNeil, said he will not name his team until after today's matches. Macken and Rochon remain a strong choice to oppose the Cubans.

Congressman Says Hands Off Baseball

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3 (AP)— Representative Kenneth B. Keating (Rep.-NY) said Thursday that "Congerss had better be darned careful before it starts tampering with baseball."

Keating is a member of a judiciary sub-committee studying whether baseball violates anti-trust laws.

The committee goes back into action today with George Trautman, boss of the minors, again on the stand. Trautman will finish reading a 31-page statement he started Wednesday.

Keating told a reporter:

"If you don't want to destroy baseball, you had better leave it pretty much alone."

Keating said he doesn't think the committee had any business looking into baseball in the first place "when the world is on fire" and with more important things for it to do.

A small group of amateur swimmers has brought Peterborough more publicity in Canada and the United States than any of the hockey, lacrosse and baseball teams in recent years

✦ ✦ ✦

Looked upon lightly by most Peterborough fans, the Peterborough Ornamental Swimming Club is now away again, upon invitation.

On Augus 11 a group of 12 swimmers under Coach Pansy Forbes will entertain at the Niagara Falls, New York, Amateur Athletic Union swimming meet. They will be sponsored by the department of parks and recreation and the Uniformed Fire Fighters' Association, Local 714, New York State.

Regulations will not permit the girls to receive remuneration, for if they do, they're immediately considered professionals.

During the past five years these girls, Jean Millard, Norma Gant, Iris Rielly and June Storey and many others have paid all and in only a few cases they received part of their expenses to various meets in Canada and United States.

✦ ✦ ✦

Through these meets such as at Detroit, Toronto, Montreal and Des Moines, the swimming club is now recognized as "the" synchonized swimming club in Canada and one of the best teams in North America. This recognition has resulted in various special appearances, most in the United States where synchronized swimming is rapidly becoming popular with the girls.

✦ ✦ ✦

On July 21 Mrs. Forbes was forced to refuse an invitation from Detroit where they were asked to compete in an exhibition display with the International team champions from Detroit. Insufficient funds forced the cancellation.

The girls have a date with the Gananoque Yacht Club on Aug. 18 in Gananoque when the club will present an evening's entertainment. At the same time they will be helping out fellow athletes, the club's oarsmen who are attempting to raise funds to attend the Olympics next year.

"We plan to take as many girls as we can for this show," said Mrs. Forbes.

✦ ✦ ✦

The Peterborough club is popular not only for its colorful, unique displays but for its endeavour to increase the number in a swimming team. The various rountines have to be practised more with a larger group than with four to six swimmers.

In the international meets, Peterborough has been represented b ya nine-girl team. Their closest rivals have been the Detroit club and the Des Moines, Iowa, club, each having only six-member teams. The smaller aggregations have won each year, working slightly smoother than the larger Canadian group.

The showing in the international meet in South Bend, Indiana, this year made the club popular in the United States. They copped a fourth in the team, fifth in the solo, sixth in the duet and eighth in the solo They competed against clubs representing 32 states and three from Canada.

✦ ✦ ✦

Performing in Niagara Falls will be Jean Millard, Norma Grant, Isobel Crary, Irjs Rielly, Shirley Moldaver, Betty Welch, Mary Rutherford, Bev Rumary and June Storey. They will be accompanied by Mrs. Forbes J,oan Lynch, Mary Dorsett and Joan Monk, the last three girls may also see action.

The Peterborough club will perform much of the entertainment at the swimming meet. They will open with a routine to the musical theme of Sentimental Journey and follow later with routines to Teddy Bears' Picnic, Pitycatto on the Happy Four and In a Persian Market.

Every Team's Winning Jammed American League

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

Talk about traffic jams. The American League standing is a jumbled mess of Sunday drivers with everybody honking the horn to go by. Only one game separates the speeding Yanks, Red Sox and Indians with eight weeks to go.

Yesterday Boston won two, Cleveland won and the leading New York Yanks were shut out by Detroit, 6-0. Even Chicago picked up ground and now trails the Yanks by six games in fourth place.

It's just the opposite in the National where Brooklyn opened up a 10-game gap on New York by bombing Pittsburgh 10-5 while the Giants took it on the chin at Chicago, 6-3. The Phillies, in third place 15½ games out, edged Cincinnati 7-5, and Boston and St. Louis played one of those "suspended games", called to let the Braves catch a train to Chicago, with Boston leading 7-3 in the last of the ninth. They'll complete it Sept. 13.

Sparkling Relief

Probably the top thrill of the day was Bob Cain's remarkable relief job for Detroit at Yankee Stadium. The curve-balling lefty saved Hal White's shutout with a brilliant performance.

Detroit led 2-0 in the seventh. The Yanks had three men on, nobody out and the count was two balls-no strikes on pinch-hitter Johnny Hopp. Then Cain replaced White.

Cain's first pitch was a ball. He followed with three curves to nip Hopp on a called third strike. Billy Martin and Gene Woodling fanned on sweeping hooks to retire the side. The slim lefty blew down the next six men in order in the eighth and ninth.

Boston popped up with a new slugger—Charlie Maxwell—to hit a pinch homer with the bases full assuring the Red Sox of their second-game sweep over St. Louis, 11-6. They manhandled the Brownies in the opener 12-1 behind Ray Scarborough's eight-hit pitching.

Two Homers

Maxwell, recently recalled from the Louisville farm, had hit two pinch homers before yesterday. This one came off Satchell Paige in the seventh to change a slim 7-6 lead intoa solid 11-6 margin.

Larry Doby hit the longest homer seen at Washington since Babe Ruth hit one over the centrefield fence in 1923. Doby's cleared the 35-foot wall, 408 feet from the plate in centre in the fifth inning with Dale Mitchell on base to help nail down a 5-2 Cleveland triumph. Steve Gromek went all the way with a four-hitter.

Jim Busby hit a 10th inning homer for Chicago's 4-3 victory over Philadelphia's A's. Gus Zernial smashed his 24th homer for the A's off winner Randy Gumpert in the fifth.

Andy Pafko led the Dodgers at Pittsburgh with a double and two singles that knocked in four runs. Pee Wee Reese hit his ninth homer and two singles and Duke Snider added three singles to the 14-hit attack. Carl Erskine went the route for his 11th victory.

Bob Rush got into the win column for the first time since June 19 by stopping the Giants with four hits. Randy Jackson's 13th homer with Hal Jeffcoat on base gave the Cubs an early lead off loser Sheldon Jones.

In the suspended St. Louis game, Bob Elliott was the big gun for the Tribe with two homers. Sam Jethroe and sid Gordon also hit for the circuit.

The Phils hopped on Herm Wehmeier and Ken Raffensberger to come from behind with five runs in the eighth inning. Del Ennis' 13th homer assured the 7-5 victory. Connie Ryan hit a home run for Cincy.

Younger Golfers Crowd Leaders In Dom. Meet

By W. R. WHEATLEY,
Canadian Press Staff Writer.

LAVAL-SUR-LE-LAC, Que., Aug. 3 (CP).—The doubleheader championships being waged simultaneously by Canadian lady golfers moved toward the two-third mark in one section today and the final in the other with a veteran showing the way.

But crowding Mrs. A. B. Darling of Montreal Whitlock were more than half-a-dozen younger golfers, including her niece, from one to five strokes off the veteran's first 18-hole round pace.

In yesterday's opening round of the Canadian ladies close 54-hole championship, Mrs. Darling shot a one-over-par 78.

It was the closest anyone could come to Laval's par 77 in the field of 87.

Pressing her aunt for the lead was Miss Daintry Chilsholm of Royal Montreal, 1951 Quebec ladies champion, with 79.

These family combination scores had a lot to do with Quebec's five-stroke lead in the inter-provincial team competition which ends today.

The aggregate score for Quebec's four-player team was 332.

Ontario Follows

Ontario, winners last year, scored 337. Leading the defending team was Mrs. Nelson J. Carlson of Toronto Rosedale with 80, followed by an 83 scored by 17-year-old Marlene Stewart from the Lookout Point Club, Fonthill.

British Columbia's team remained within striking distance with 339. Other provinces in the seven-team competition were far behind.

Only two strokes away from Mrs. Darling's 78 were Mrs. Carlson and Mrs. Peter Patch of Montreal Whitlock.

Mrs. J. H. Todd of Victoria, at 82, was low for the BC team.

With Miss Stewart at 83 were Miss Rae Milligan of Jasper, Alta. another 17-year-old junior golfer, and Miss Babs Davies of Vancouver Marine Drive. The Alberta girl was low scorer for her team by five strokes.

One of the biggest disappointments yesterday was the 15-over-par 92 shot by Mrs. Graeme Pyke of Montreal Whitlock, winner in 1950, with a 54-hole score of 246.

No Limit In Maritimes To Number Of Imports

HALIFAX, Aug. 3 (CP). — Judge J. E. Hudson, president of the Maritime Major Hockey League, said here Thursday night there will be no limit on the number of imported players major series clubs may use next season.

Judge Hudson had returned from Montreal where he attended a CAHA meeting last week. Last season all clubs with the exception of Charlottetown Islanders of the MMHL were limited to six imports. The new entry was permitted 12 imports.

Netminding By Falls' Howe Helps Defeat Juniors 11-8

A sensational fourth-quarter netminding chore by Niagara Falls twine-guardian, Justin Howe, kept the Niagara Falls Cataracts in the running for a Junior "A" lacrosse play-off berth at the Memorial Arena Thursday in the Falls as the homesters gained an 11-8 triumph over the leading Peterborough Petes. With his team trailing 8-7 entering the final stanza, Howe blocked the invaders completely while kicking out 13 shots. Norm Corcoran with a pair and Moore and Baldwin were the Falls triggermen in the final session.

Saturday's games — Niagara Falls at Peterborough.

The opening quarter saw a close-checking pattern prevail with the Cataracts having the offensive edge to take a 2-0 lead. In the first 10 minutes there was a scoreless duel with Bill Nichols in the Peterborough net playing up to his usual brilliant form. Baldwin of the Fallsers scored first blood when he drove home a skip shot from well out and a fine three-way passing play with Cox on the snipink end completed the low-scoring first period.

The invading Petes wasted little time in pulling up on even terms early in the second period as they struck for three quick counters to take a short-liver 3-2 edge. O'Reilly, Morrison and a speedy Batley tallied in rapid succession but Davies and Corcoran came back with two goals apiece for Cataracts to give the host squad a 6-3 advantage at the end of the half.

Batley was the spark plug for the visitors as they moved into an 8-7 margin at the conclusion of the third session. Holding a wide edge in territorial play in this heat, Petes garnered five markers while the locals were held to a single counter by Frick. Batley wented the twine twice on brilliant solo excursions while other Pete snipers were Heffernan, Brioux and Nichol.

Meeting May Pick Ball Commissioner

NEW YORK, Aug. 3 (AP). — Will the 16 major league owners pick a new commissioner of baseball when they meet here next Tuesday?

"I doubt it very much," said president Bob Carpenter of Philadelphia Phillies Thursday.

However, the Chicago Herald-American reported that George J. Schoenman, retired United States Internal Revenue Commissioner "probably will" be named.

In Washington, Governor Frank J. Lausche of Ohio hinted that he had been approached for the job.

US Takes On Mexico Tennis

RYE, NY, Aug. 3 (AP).—The United States makes it second stop in a campaign to win back the Davis Cup today when the US tennis team takes on Mexico in the second round of the American zone competition.

The winner of the best-of-seven match tests will qualify to meet the victor of the Canada-Cuba affair, which also gets under way today at Montreal.

The next step for the American zone championship will be Sweden in the inter-zone final. The winner goes to Australia in December to challenge the Anzacs.

National champion Art Larsen of San Leandro, Calif., who does not figure in Shields' Planes against Sweden or Australia, goes up against Armando Vega in the first singles match. In the second, Herbie Flam of Beverly Hills, Calif., plays Mario Llamas, champion of Mexico.

Leading scorer for the Thistles was Don Campbell with three goals. Jim Halls, Don Smith, Bill Pearson, John Lumley and Harry Kazarian each scored one goal. For Hamilton, Don McFarland, Bill Howell, Jack Dorney and Arnold Smith scored a goal apiece.

Kiwanis Sad As Five Sink Holes-in-One

Oshawa Farmer Freed Slave 90 Years Ago

WHITBY, Ont. — (CP) — "My will therefore is that she be released and thereby accordingly release-manumit (set free) and discharge the said Dorinda and all and every of her said children both male and female from slavery and declare them and every of theirs to be free."

In those words with their "Uncle Tom's Cabin" flavor one Robert Isaac Gray, a farmer in Ontario county, recognized the faithful services of his slaves and set them free.

The record of this act, that seems more like an event from the history of the southern United States than from the background of Oshawa, Ont., is contained in one of the oldest and most unique wills on file in the Ontario county registry office at Whitby.

Not All Free

It recalls the days of Upper Canada when the organization and boundaries of the country were not as they are today—and when freedom was not for all persons.

Farmer Gray died 90 years ago leaving a large acreage of land and bequeathing freedom to his slaves. His will remains in a fair state of preservation and contains the following clauses:

"In consequence of the long and faithful services of Dorinda my blackwoman servant rendered to my family and to release, Manumit and discharge her from the state of slavery in which she now is and to give her and all her children their freedom. My will therefore is that she be released."

" . . . In order that provision may be made for the support of the said Dorinda and her children, and that she may not want after my decease, my will is that I hereby empower my executor out of my real estate to raise the sum of £1,200 and place the same in some solvent and secure fund and the interest arising from the same I give and bequeath to the said Dorinda and heirs and assigns forever to be paid annually."

"I also give and devise to John, my other black servant, and his heirs forever two hundred acres of land . . . I also give Simon and John £50 each."

The land referred to by the testator is now incorporated in the city of Oshawa.

Tom Gard's Note Book

August — the month of picnics! Each weekend we try to have something special planned for the whole family — an overnight, if we are at the cottage and weather will permit, or a trip to some picnic area if we are home. Such excursions should be enjoyed by all young Canadians with such excellent beauty spots so close at hand.

It becomes the duty of every adult to learn and to teach safety measures with camp fires if this heritage is to be protected. Each year careless people cause serious losses through forest fires. At this time of year, when our forests are often tinder dry, cooking fires or camp fires should be built on solid rock or right out in the open on packed earth. Embers have been known to smoulder for days and travel many feet underground before they break to the surface if the earth is laden with decaying roots and bits of wood. If a large flat rock is not handy, the Gards use rolls of sod to form the sides of the fireplace and carry the weight of the cooking utensils.

Silhouettes

My teen-aged daughter is painting interesting silhouettes on glass and framing them with cardboard and black binding tape. She does a good job of it, too.

Son Jimmy, not to be outdone by his sister, brought home a set of "tin-can" jardinieres he had made during the craft period at his boys' camp. They were painted and ready for immediate use in his mother's "window" garden.

Foot Rest

When I sit down to relax and put my feet up this winter, it will be with the aid of a new hassock made from a butter box. Just the finishing touches remain. The top has been carefully padded and covered with bright durable plastic. (All that remains to be done is complete the pattern being made with decorative tacks.)

1,100 In City Get Pension Applications

697 On Pension Roll Before New Act; 3,000 Forms Received

A total of 1,100 people have picked up applications for old age pension at Peterborough post office since July 31.

These applications are for old age pensions provided by the Government of Canada under the Old Age Security Act which will come into effect January 1, 1952.

The new act allows old age pensions for everyone over 70 no matter what annual income. The means test incorporated in the Old Age Pensions Act has been eliminated.

Automatic Effect

The application forms are specifically for people 69½ years and over, who are not receiving old age pensions. For those who are already receiving pensions the act will go into effect automatically.

In general under the new act, everyone 70 years and over and a resident of Canada for 20 years who apply will receive $480 a year — $40 a month without a means test or any other restriction. The pension is only taxable if an applicant's income is over $2,000 a year — the income tax exemption given to all persons over 65.

The two main stipulations made to the applicant are that he prove his age and years of residence in Canada.

697 On Roll

In addition to the 1,100 who have already applied and those who will apply under the new act, there are 697 on the old age pension roll in the city already. Applicants during 1950 totalled 141.

The post office is prepared for any further applicants. A total of 3,000 application forms were received last week for distribution.

Bargain Boomerangs

LINDSAY, Aug. 3—It was just like a pyramid club in reverse.

A 20-year-old Lindsay man said he had bought a wire waste basket from a boy for 10 cents.

In short order: the man was arrested and charged with theft, he was given suspended sentence and ordered to pay $24 court costs, the town took back its waste basket, which belonged td Victoria Park.

Fire Marshall Investigating Blazes In Store

Dense smoke early today hampered firemen from finding two small fires that broke out in the basement of Greenfield Cycles and Sport Shop, 217 Hunter St. W.

Damage of $150 was caused to bicycles, children's kiddycars and other stock.

A police guard was placed on the building today to prevent any unauthorized person from entering the basement. An official from the fire marshall's office is expected to arrive later today.

Fire Chief George Smith's only explanation of cause of the fire was: "It's under investigation."

Smelled Smoke

Shortly after 2 a.m. a passerby informed PC Ed Patterson that he smelled smoke coming from the sports store, owned by Don Smedmor.

Constable Patterson confirmed this and at 2:16 a.m. the alarm went into the fire station.

Because of the dense smoke firemen were at first unable to determine the source. Smoke had seeped into stores on both sides of 217 Hunter.

Finally they forced a basement door of the sports shop and found two smouldering fires, widely separated in the basement. Cartons were reported burning. Smoke was so thick that the firemen had to use air packs to get down the stairs.

Once they were discovered the two fires were quickly snuffed out. Damage was comparatively light.

Objections Few At Meeting To Discuss Extra Costs Of New High School

Tax Levy For Retiring School Debentures Lowest In More Than 20 Years; Bylaw Passes With Three Voting Against

The city's tax levy for the retirement of secondary school debentures is .43 mills this year, the lowest it has been in more than 20 years. That statement by G. Wilson Craw of the Board of Education was included in information relating to the proposed borrowing of $65,000 to provide a gymnasium in the new Collegiate Institute that is planned for Monaghan Road south, in that expansive new section of Peterborough. Accompanying Dr. Ralph Honey, chairman of the Board, Mr. Craw was speaking briefly in reply to comments relating to Collegiate costs, at the public meeting prior to the special session of the council.

This meeting was called to hear any objections from ratepayers to the bylaw authorizing the borrowing of the $65,000. This bylaw was given first and second reading, and is being submitted to the Ontario Municipal Board, together with a synopsis of remarks by the three citizens who accepted Mayor Swanston's advertised invitation.

Twelve men and women were present, some of whom were known to be in favor of the bylaw, and would have declared their support if the opportunity offered.

The vote on the two readings of the bylaw indicated all the members of the council approving its submission to the Municipal Board except Aldermen Gillespie, Anglesey and Graham.

Reviewed Particulars

Mayor Swanston reviewed the explanatory particulars of the Board of Education's planning of the new collegiate to the stage of calling for tenders.

"If there are any objections now," His Worship said, "they will be forwarded to the Municipal Board with the bylaw."

N. H. McFadden, 565 Weller St., said he was not a ratepayer, but was administering his fathers' estate. His objection was that no extra money should be spent on the new school unless voted on by the taxpayers. In recent years the municipal taxes had been increasing to the point at which they were approaching parity with rents.

He also enquired whether anything could be accomplished by the meeting.

Mayor Swanston replied that if there were sufficient objections, the Municipal Board would be governed by them, as indicating local sentiment.

Asked Why Extra

W. H. Holmes, Dufferin St., Ashburnham, asked why there was an extra cost item of $30,000 for footings of the new school building on the Monaghan Road property. "Why were soil tests not made previously, and not thrown at us after the estimates were made? I understand that the extra footing is about the

Girl, 4, Infected In Right Arm By Cat's Scratch

Four-year-old Linda Shadgett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. Shadgett, 190 Stewart St., was badly scratched on the right arm by a stray cat early Thursday night.

Today she is running a slight fever, the result of infection setting in. A child specialist visited her this morning and gave her some anti-tetanus shots to be on the safe side.

Her condition is not serious but the doctor explained that the results were a little more severe than would normally be expected from a scratching.

The little girl was playing with some friends near her home, about 8 p.m. It is believed the cat scratched her when she tried to pet it.

$100,000 Bequest Left To Church By Lindsay Man

Education of young men for the priesthood, and care of orphans, both within the diocese of Peterborough, are the ultimate bequests of the late J. S. O'Halloran of Lindsay, in disposing of his estate which is estimated at close to $100,000.

Mr. O'Halloran was a member of an old Lindsay family which had for many years carried on a retail meat business. Probate of his will shows the bulk of the estate is left to a sister, Miss Annie O'Halloran, until her death, when it is to be converted into cash for the purposes mentioned.

It is a bequest to the diocese of Peterborough through its Bishop, Most Reverend Joseph Gerald Berry, D.D., and the Roman Catholic Episcopal Corporation.

Specific bequests include $500 to the trustees of the cemetery of St. Mary's parish, Lindsay, for a new gate, and $1,500 to the parish church for a marble pulpit in memory of Mr. O'Halloran's parents, Michael and Rose O'Halloran, and their children. The probate of the will is reported in the Lindsay Post.

Gang Blow Safe At Havelock, Flee With $400

HAVELOCK, Aug. 3.—A gang of safecrackers, believed to be professionals, blew the Havelock Co-operative warehouse safe late Thursday night and escaped with $400 in cash.

Early this morning, the same gang broke into the village's post office, but nothing was taken.

Three unidentified men were seen getting off the Havelock train early today in Peterborough. Police expect they were section hands just getting home but they are checking on the lead just the same.

It is thought the gang may be the same one that cracked the post office safe at Frankford July 23 and escaped with an undetermined amount of money and stamps.

A Havelock insurance agent, E. J. Leeson, heard the men as they broke glass in a post office window. From his home nearby he saw one man climb in the window, while others waited outside, and a look-out was posted in the shadow beneath a tree.

Might Identify

Havelock police chief Robert W. Hall said Mr. Lee might be able to identify one or two members of the gang.

In the co-operative warehouse, the thieves rolled the safe on a hand-cart to the rear of the building, packed it with bags of grain and blew the whole front of the safe off.

They broke into the warehouse by smashing glass in a door and unlocking it from the inside. Provincial police inspected the two buildings today for fingerprints and traces of the gang.

Near the post office, a wrecking bar and a sledge hammer stolen from a CPR toolshed were found, as well as a pinch bar with no identifying marks.

"It looks like a professional job all right," said Chief Hall, "but I wouldn't say for sure it's the same bunch that did the Frankford job."

Permission Granted For Parking Lot

Permission to use for parking cars the federal property on Charlotte St. has come to the council from the Department of Public Works.

Property committee Thursday night asked the board of works to go ahead at once with levelling the ground and improving it with a gravel surface. City Clerk Outram was authorized to explore the possibility of renting the area for parking on a fee basis. It is not the intention of the council to pave and meter the parking space.

MAIN ST. TOPICS

LOOT METERS

Forty parking meters in Lindsay were robbed of two days' collection Thursday. Thieves took $40 in dimes and nickels by using a key to open the meters. The meters weren't damaged.

FUNERAL SERVICE

The funeral service for Stanley Chan Bong, 295 George St., who died Tuesday was held Thursday from the Belleghem funeral home. The Rev. Arnold A. Mathews of George St. United conducted the service. Burial was in Mount Pleasant cemetery, Toronto.

BOX FACTORY

The Club Valdora on the Bobcaygeon highway near Lindsay has been leased for two years to a firm manufacturing paper boxes. Work at the plant is expected to start shortly. Manager of the new industry will be F. S. Emmerson, who for some time has been associated with a St. Thomas firm.

CITY'S ROCK GARDEN

The city's rock garden at Riverside Park is blooming these days with pansies and pink petunias. Although it lacks variety it is a flower show in itself, and is a credit to the parks department and its superintendent Armar Butcher. It is a fine display, greatly enhancing the appearance of the park, and daily receives the appreciation of the public.

WRONG CHARGE

Thursday it was stated that Geoffrey (Gip) Feeley, 35, of 261 Lake St. pleaded guilty to a liquor charge and was fined $100. This was incorrect. Three liquor charges were originally laid against Feeley but the Crown offered no evidence on them and they were dismissed. Norman Fry, 32, of 6 Park St. N., was the man who was fined. Feeley pleaded guilty to selling an unregistered revolver.

County Farm Notes

By HARRY THEOBALD

Belleville Aug. 13-16 Opens Season of Fall Fairs — Stewart Bowman Reports District Grain Crop Showing Good Yields — Del Merrill, Northumberland Junior, Seriously Ill — Norwood Fair Fertilizer Demonstration — Poultry Losses Continue.

Fall fairs come into the calendar with the turning of the August page. Belleville is first, 13 to 16; and Peterborough and Ottawa occupy the same week, 20 to 25.

The junior farmers' day here is Thursday, Aug. 23, boys at Morrow Park, girls in the market hall.

The young men of seven counties register at 9 a.m. and begin the competitions in judging beef and dairy cattle, horses, sheep and swine at 9.30.

The afternoon program begins at 1 p.m. with an agricultural quiz; followed by identification of weeds, hay and pasture plants, seeds fo agricultural crops, and so on.

There is also a class for testing a tractor for defects, and finally a forestry and conservation quiz. Dinner is at 6 o'clock at the Empress. All the juniors, boys and girls, will be guests of Canada Packers, and after announcement of prize winners the young company will have grandstand seats at the Exhibition.

Fifty cents covers the cost of the entire day. If one of the boys could finish first in the series of competitions his take for the day would be close to $40.

Frank Peterson is hoping for a big attendance of the young people of this county and district.

The junior department invites contestants from the following counties—Ontario, Durham, Victoria, Northumberland, Hastings, Prince Edward and Peterborough.

Junior farmers of the Exhibition board have been active in helping prepare arrangements. Don Milburn is chairman of the committee with John Edmison, Burritt Mann, Keith McIntyre, Reg Ferguson, Allan Drummond, Glen Stark.

Representatives of both the federal and provincial Departments of Agriculture will be here to help in conducting the day's events.

✦ ✦ ✦

ON LIST OF JUDGES

Roy Ferren of Cavan will be in charge of the competition in judging horses on Junior Farmers Day at the Exhibition. He is taking the place of the late Sam S. Staples.

THE 1951 NORWOOD FAIR FERTILIZER COMPETITION

Last year through the Norwood Fair Beaver Oat Project 550 acres on 66 farms of this district were sown to Registered, smut treated Beaver oats. Through this project conservative estimates place the added value to the oat crop on above acreage at well over $11,000 on quantity alone.

This year the Norwood Fair to further encourage the growing of better crops in this area is sponsoring a field, sheaf and grain competition to demonstrate the economical value of supplementing the use of ordinary farm manure with that of commercial fertilizers.

Each year millions are spent through the press, radio and government bulletins "telling" the Canadian farmer "How to grow better crops and maintain his soil fertility."

Such information is valuable only when "used.". Through the assistance of the Ontario Department of Agriculture, some fertilizer companies and other interested agencies, the 1951 Norwood Fair is offering in this contest alone to the farmers of this area over $400 in "free" fertilizer and prizes (regular and special), to encourage them to put to practical use, on their own farms, more of this valuable information coming to them from sources mentioned.

The Stakes Are High

Each entrant in this year's Norwood fair fertilizer competition receives free 250 lbs. (enough for one acre) of commercial fertilizer best suited to his field. The four highest scoring in field, sheaf and bushel lot will each receive $10. the next five get $8 each, the following eight $5 each and an additional $3 each will go to all further entrants completing this three-way contest.

Specials

In addition the man with the highest scoring field will receive an extra $10 cash special, the owner (or his wife) of the highest scoring sheaf will get another $5 cash and the entrant with the best bushel also receives an extra $5.

Grand special—Canada Packers Ltd., Peterborough, are presenting a beautiful 21-jewel Bulova gold watch (suitably engraved) to the winner of the highest total score on Field, Shief and Grain.

Special Notice — To the man with the will to win: In this contest highest scores count. The man who tries hardest and intelligently to present his field, sheaf and bushel to the judges in the most attractive manner will get the highest score and "take home the Bulova."

✦ ✦ ✦

SOME WESTERN JUNIORS

Junior farmers of Speers, Sask. won top honors in the agricultural competitions at Saskatoon Exhibition last week. They were awarded the Quaker Oats Co. trophy.

Twenty teams, each of five boys, took part in judging grain, poultry and hog carcasses, identification of weed and grain seeds and also cream grading.

Some of the names of the 100 young Canadians at Saskatoon were: Paul Romancyia, Fred Konkin, Walter Zawyrucha, Nich Boyanchuk, Paul Gonda.

TESTING BRANT HENS

More than 10,000 Brant county hens are being tested by the Animal Diseases Research Institute, Ottawa, to determinate efficacy of a new vaccine to combat Newcastle disease, which has already taken a heavy toll of poultry in western Ontario. Dr. Walter Moynihan, veterinarian with the health of animals branch of the Federal Department of Agriculture, and five assistants, have completed vaccination of 7,500 birds. Another 2,500 will be kept under observation to determine how they fare without benefit of vaccine.

✦ ✦ ✦

DEL MERRILL STRICKEN

Ralph Banbury of Brighton, agricultural representative in Northumberland, reports the serious illness of Delmore Merrill, popular junior farmer, and supervisor this summer of the county her improvement association.

"While testing Greer brothers' herd near Cobourg he was taken iill with what was first thought to be meningitis, and later cerebral hemorrhage. His parents have been with him at Toronto General Hospital. His condition is causing grave concern to all his friends."

✦ ✦ ✦

FIRST FORUM PICNIC

Farmers of Asphodel, Smith and Otonabee were most largely in attendance at the Farm Forum picnic last week at Wallace Point. These are the most active sectors of the county in Forum affairs.

Peterborough used to have few locating pins on the Forum map that used to be shown at the annual meeting of the Ontario Federation of Agriculture. Some of the counties used to be plentifully studded with them, especially in western Ontario, as compared with too many bare spaces east of Toronto. However, local interest has been quickening, and the promotional work of Harold Lewis has borne Forum fruit, developing in the first annual picnic. It was a pleasant and sociable sign of progress, and a promise for the new season opening in the fall.

TO JUDGE AT OTTAWA

Norman McConkey has been engaged to judge Guernsey cattle at the Ottawa Winter Fair. He has also accepted the judging assignment of Prince Edward Holstein Association at their Black and White Day.

✦ ✦ ✦

POULTRY COMPENSATION

During the week ending July 21, the federal government granted $6,390 compensation for the destruction in Ontario of three flocks of chickens comprising 13,391 birds, and 399 egs, in the continuing campaign against Newcastle disease.

The indemnity in British Columbia amounted to $17,128 for five flocks of 13,330 birds, and 1,818 eggs; Manitoba $4,771 for 13 flocks of 3,818 birds, and 726 eggs. Payment to producers in Alberta were $252 for 380 birds in four flocks; and $1,048 for six flocks of 1,024 birds in Saskatchewan. There were no reported cases of the disease in Quebec and the Maritimes.

ADVICE TO DAIRY MEN

Gilbert McMillan in the Ottawa Farm Journal advises farmers with good dairy herds "to stop allowing good heifer calves going for veal, particularly if they show distinct breed markings and are from good cows".

He acknowledged that giving advice "is always risky business", that milk producers are discouraged by the lack of help and the general uncertainty hanging over their affairs.

"However, I think the old maxim about the time to go into a business when the other fellow is going out, may be sound."

"If you are satisfied that beef production is what you want, you better make the switch complete at the start, but remember that in beef producion you have to meet the competition from land neither as highly taxed or valued as your dary farms. If the going became a little tough you would be the first to feel the pinch, and switching back might not be too easy."

Mr. MacMillan says there is no present indication of beef prices "going to pieces."

"If grade dairy heifers of the larger dairy breeds are well grown and in good flesh they will command just about as much money as those of beef breeds. And you have an advantage of a double outlet, milk or beef."

✦ ✦ ✦

NORTHUMBERLAND EVENTS

Quinte district farmers are holding a fruit and vegetable day Thurs. Aug. 9 at Smithfield experimental station.

M. B. Davis, head of the horticultural division, Ottawa, will give a talk on the co-relating of experimental farm work across Canada. Specialists William Ferguson, Ottawa, and A. N. L. Butler, Vineland, are also listed in the program.

Northumberland Junior Farmers are arranging to take full advantage of the program offered at Belleville fair Tues. Aug. 14.

✦ ✦ ✦

"THE LITTLE MORE—AND HOW MUCH IT IS"

A prominent salesman, now retired, summed up his success in three simple words: "And then some."

"I discovered at an early age," he said, "that most of the differences between average people and top people could be explained in three words. The top people did what was expected of them and then some."

✦ ✦ ✦

GRAIN CROPS GOOD

First flow of wheat from present threshing in the district appears to be of excellent quality, Stuart Bowman, inspector for the Federal Department of Agriculture, said yesterday.

The grain is well filled, and the volume is about equal to last year, although there have been some early estimates that the crop may not be quite up to expectations.

Oats and barley are also yielding well, probably a little better than average. Mr. Bowman said he had seen some leaf rust in stands of Beaver oats in the Peterborough-Durham district.

ROBERT ARMSTRONG OF CAVAN expects about 500 bushels of Cornell wheat from the 22 acres he threshed at the barn this week. This will be the first available crop from the governments distribution of registered seed of this variety of fall wheat. With this supply in prospect, Frank C. Paterson said it would encourage the renewal of the 50 bushels an acre field crop competition conducted by the Peterborough Crop Improvement Association. The senior wheat producers suspended their activity last year to let the junior wheat club have the comparatively small quantity of registered Cornell that was obtainable from Mr. Armstrong a year ago.

Herefords Of Alamogordo Were First A-Bomb Victims

"How to Survive A-Bomb Attack, Grim Advice of 10-Cent Booklet", was the heading of a Canadian Press story from Ottawa in a Toronto newspaper this week.

And in a months-old farm magazine was a relatively ominous heading: "Atomic Ranch At Oak Ridge".

"Ranch" is the key word in that account of one hundred Hereford cattle that were overlooked in the clearing of a vast sweep of land near Alamogordo, New Mexico, in the summer of 1945 for the explosion of the first atomic bomb. These are ominous and evil straws pointing the menace of science to humanity in these desperate days of 20th century civilization.

Six weeks after the detonation of the experimental bomb that was repeated at Hiroshima, the Herefords were found on the wind-swept mesa deathly ill from a mysterious ailment that left large open sores and blisters, and caused large patches of hair to fall out. Ranchers of the area put two and two together for the obvious four. Enquiry informed them that through an oversight their cattle had not been driven from the test area.

Beginning of Experiment

The owners were indemnified by purchase of the animals by "Manhattan Project" (Army Engineers code name for the atomic plants at Oak Ridge). A 3,000-acre ranch was staked out of Oak Ridge's 60,000 acres for observation and study of the radiation-stricken Herefords.

Six months after their accidental exposure to the bomb's effects, the cattle began to react favorably to their new environment. A few calves were born, and up to the present have turned out to be normal.

"However, they are only one generation removed from their radiation afflicted parents. It may take as many as three or four bovine generations to ascertain damage to genes from atomic radiation."

Large patches of Hereford red hair were replaced by "whitish" growth, which accounted for the cattle being referred to as "The Ghost Herd of Alamogordo". That, however, was an exaggeration. When seen by first visitors to the place, there was just a trace of grayish-white streak down the backs of the cattle, and in patches near the rump on others.

May Continue 40 Years

The Oak Ridge accident has developed into a broad experimental project beyond the first conception of the purposes it might serve. There is the study of radio-activity on animal tissue, but that is only a part of its scope. Other animals are being bought into the new experimental station, and its investigations may continue for 30 or 40 years. One of the questions to be probed is "What happens to various nutritionally important elements once inside the animal's digestive system"?

Another project is to determine the behavior of calcium in cattle, the effect of atomic radiation on bull semen, particularly in regard to sterility. These are only a few variants of the experimental program.

The story in "The Cattleman" says: "Much will be learned for a possible "breeding program" as a result of many of these experiments applying radiation to reproductive organs. The danger of mutations will be studied. Mutations are freak species: calves born with five legs, no eyes or lack of eye sockets, fused ribs, etc., (horrible aberations to contemplate). Equally distastrous would be the onset of complete sterility as a result of atomic exposure. To date nothing like this has happened with the "bombed" cattle, many of which are already grandparents."

"However, it may take still another generation or two before any damage to genes would show its effects. And, with the shadow of an atomic attack, the obtaining of facts such as these gives pause to think again before possibly tampering with the future development of the entire human race by entering into large-scale atomic warfare."

Test-Tube Cow Testing An Approaching Chore

The dairy farmers who have adopted the comparatively new system of artificial breeding were reminded by George Clemons at the twilight meeting at the McConkey farm that they have a new responsibility that should not be neglected.

They owe it to themselves collectively and individually to ascertain the value of the service they are getting. They can see and guage the quality of the young cattle that are being produced in their herds from distant sires which have replaced their own. That is a visible physical factor which they can determine from their experience as breeders. They are in a position to observe by comparison with the stock which they had previously developed in their former plan of breeding the physique, conformation, type and other details which they desire and expect to find in continuing their herd development.

To Confirm Hopes

The dairy farmer will have to go further than these objective results of the new system which he has accepted. It is going to be up to him to find out whether the yield of milk confirms the promises and records of the females in the maternity of the sires in which he has now placed a highly important dependence.

That was the pith of the advice Mr. Clemons stressed in his recommendation for more farmers to take advantage of the R.O.P. service that is provided by the Dominion Department of Agriculture.

It will be recalled that Mr. Clemons said there are only 16 per cent. of the Holstein Association membership whose cattle are on Canadian Record of Performance. In other words 84 of every 100 farmers owning that breed are assuming that the milk flow of their cattle is at least satisfactory, or are depending on returns from their dairy as some kind of guide to them, or they may have their own method of testing and grading.

Soon Milking

The first local cattle of Maple breeding will probably be coming into milk production this fall, and it is then, to paraphrase Mr. Clemons' suggestion, that their owners should take steps to know definitely what the newcomers are contributing to the yield from their herds. Under individual management in the past, he said, it did not matter a great deal if results from a herd sire were unsatisfactory. Generally, those results were related only to the one herd, but with artificial breeding the effects of the sire's contribution extend through many herds.

So, the dairy farmers who are resolved to continue in the industry are vitally concerned in knowing positively whether the new system is serving their breed and economic purposes to the extent that they hoped and expected when they signed membership applications and forwarded their cheques.

They got rid of their own bulls, in most cases, and were relieved of cost and care and all the rest of the accustomed job. Soon they have to know what they have to show for their money their decision and their confidence. That was the substance of Mr. Clemons' message to them, and to the Holstein breeders who heard him as he spoke as one who is keenly interested in their breeding and financial investment. To that end, he recommended ROP.

Presumably, farmers had no intention in switching to artificial breeding to go along more or less in the dark about the merits of the change they entered into.

It might be inferred that if they fail to apply checks and tests, the alternative would be to leave that responsibility to Maple headquarters. Obviously that transfer would involve costs which would have to be passed on to the membership.

Should Know Exactly

Dairy farmers, and the beef men, too, will naturally want to assure themselves that they are on the right breeding track, and that the herd sires in the Maple barns are really proving themselves and their pedigrees right here in Peterborough, as elsewhere in Simcoe, Grey, Victoria, and in the other areas represented in the Maple association.

Granted that good sires have been purchased and assembled at Maple, and that this system of breeding has been thoroughly demonstrated in the United States and Great Britain. Local herd owners will have to ask themselves whether they are satisfied with that general recommendation and approval, or are they going to apply their own tests, that is in the dairy division, to determine the productive qualities of their test tube cows.

Field Fancies

"The old black and white cow pushed aside the fence post with the dignity and disdain of a duchess, as she led her followers into the garden party.

"Show me a boy or a girl who has a calf to exhibit, and I'll show you one who is too busy to attend juvenile court . . . .(Bligh A. Dodds, president of NY Association of Fairs).

"But, I tell you I would rather have a chucklin' summer morn, when you see the sun out strollin', arm in arm with fields of corn.

"Cattle are pathmakers, plodding along in single file, hoof to heel, bell-cow first; and, in the home-going, they move slowly that they may nip a special blade of grass or bush in passing."

20% Damage By Hessi an Fly In York Wheat

Although they are short of help, Ontario farmers are getting along with this season's big harvest crop.

In Grey county all the wheat is cut, as reported in the weekly review of the Department of Agriculture. The Hessian Fly has caused serious damage in some counties. Its inroad into York fields has left a disappointing sample of wheat in many instances. M. Cockburn, agricultural representative, says: "On a recent survey we found Hessian Fly in 90% of the fields, with overall infestation of about 5 to 8 per cent. Maximum damage was about 20% in some of the worst fields."

Farmers are cutting oats, and generally the spring grains are a good crop. The qualifying word in Dundas is "bumper." Hot weather this week "has made the corn jump."

Brant pullets are beginning to lay. This is from Lambton: "In addition to losses from Hessian Fly in the fall wheat, some areas have found stinking smut. Forty per cent of the new wheat at one elevator last week graded smutty."

Grenville: "There is quite a keen demand for Yorkshire gilts and weenling sows. Corn is growing rapidly; the apple crop gives good promise; and the potato crop looks excellent."

Leeds: "Dairy cattle continue to leave for the US markets in large numbers and at high prices. The dairy cattle population has become much depleted."

Wentworth: "Damaged by Hessian Fly, the fall wheat yield is only 50%" . . . Northumberland: "Considerable sickness has developed in growing chicks. Percentage of really good hay is small, and some are cutting second growth before they have finished the first crop. Canning peas have seldom given a better yield."

Businesses Start Arranging For Conventions

By FORBES RHUDE
Canadian Press Business Editor

Already notices are going out for the fall and winter list of business conventions.

The Federation of Automobile Dealer Associations of Canada keeps within the summer deadline with its 10th anniversary convention at Banff, Alta., Sept. 13-14. Speakers will include Rhys M. Sale, president of Ford Motor Co. of Canada, Ltd., and Harry G. Moock, Detroit sales executive. George W. Hogan, of Toronto, is the association's president.

The Canadian Retail Federation announces its annual conference for Feb. 11-13 in Toronto.

Incidentally, the federation has been looking into suggestions that it should add its support to the idea that holidays, other than those of a religious nature, should fall on Mondays. About this, its current bulletin says:

Majority In Favor

"An inquiry among 1950 directors indicated that an overwhelming majority approved of such a step. A recent survey among affiliates of the federation has also revealed that a very high percentage would favor such a course. Unless further objections come in, it is highly probable that the federation will approach the Dominion government on this matter."

A release from headquarters for the World Metallurgical Congress, sponsored by the American Society for Metals, which will be held in Detroit Oct. 14-19, says that some 40,000 American and Canadian metal engineers and experts will attend.

In addition, about 300 key metal scientists from 21 other countries will be there, and will be taken on conducted tours of industries in more than 60 cities in 13 states.

Motorists Reminded Take Care Civic Day

TORONTO, Aug. 3 (CP)—With the approach of the Civic Holiday weekend, the Ontario Highways Department Thursday reminded motorists that early August is one of the worst periods for highway accidents.

In a pre-holiday warning the department said:

"In holiday periods, starting out in a hurry and confusion leads to many bad accidents. Driving too long is another accident-maker. Your chances of an accident are much greater over a holiday weekend."

Dirty Swans Get Shampoo

LONDON, Aug. 3 (AP).—The swans in the River Thames, under terms of ancient law, belong to the King—and lately they looked a mess.

The untidy appearance was due to the fact that a ship which should have known better discharged a lot of bilge and oil into the river. The swans became sticky and the color of field mice.

It was all set right today in a spectacular roundup of swans. Men on boats crowded them up against a dock. They were fished out, and despite outraged squawking their feet were tied. Then they were hauled in vans to the Royal Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals where experts gave them shampoos.

It wasn't easy, oil and bilge being what they are. The renovators used brushes, combs, fingernail files, sponges, soap, cleaning fluid detergents, sandpaper and a vacuum cleaner.

Checkers counted 66 swans as having been purified. Tonight they were back on the Thames, majestic and immaculately white in the twilight.

UnionDecertified As Agent In BC Shipyards

VANCOUVER, Aug. 3 (CP).—The British Columbia Labor Relations Board Thursday decertified the Marine Workers and Boilermakers, Local 1 (CCL), in five Vancouver shipyards because union members refused to work overtime.

The men are employed in Sterling Shipyards, McKenzie Barge and Derrick Co., Ltd., Beach Avenue Shipyards Ltdd., Vancouver Shipyards Ltd., and Burrard Shipyards and Engineering Works Ltd.

The board found the men's action constituted an illegal strike under the Industrial Conciliation Act. The yards employ several hundred men.

The board will hold decertification hearings next week for about 500 members of the union in seven other shipyards here on the same issue.

Refused Overtime

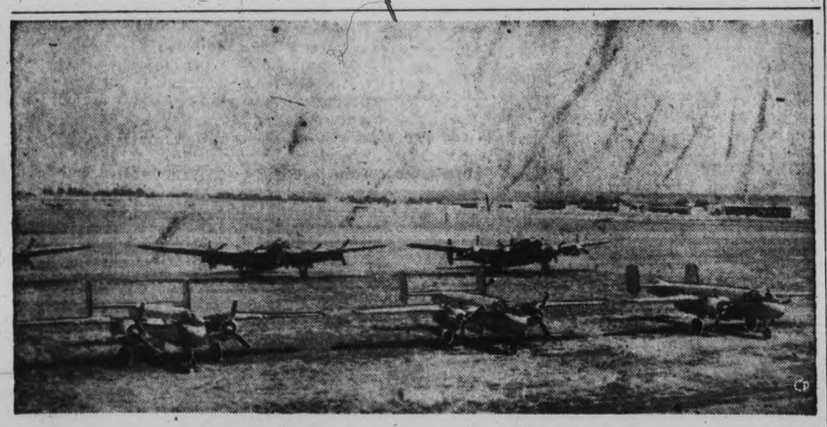
The men refused to work overtime following a refusal of the shipyard owners to grant an interim pay boost to meet the high cost of living.

Union members then decided to adhre to the letter of their contract, which provides for a 40-hour week. Only emergency overtime has been worked.

Union officials may challenge the ruling in the courts. They said if the decision is allowed to stand the board could order decertification of other unions.

Charting Wilderness

VANCOUVER—(CP)—A scientific party surveying the mountains of the western Chilcotin range this summer includes three members of the Royal Canadian Air Force search and rescue unit and civilian mountaineers. They hope to chart many square miles of wilderness.



RCAF MITCHELLS—The RCAF has purchased about 100 of these U.S. surplus Mitchell bombers for training purposes. First delivery of the planes is shown here at Trenton Repair Depot, with Lancaster Bombers in the background. The aircraft, costing a total of $25,000,000, will be used for armament, bombing, navigation and advanced-flying training.

Unknown Leads In 2nd Round Of All-American

By JERRY LISKA.

CHICAGO, Aug. 3 (AP). — Little-known John Barnum today led a well-jumbled field into the second round of the $15,000 all-American pro golf tournament.

Barnum, 39-year-old 220-pounder, yesterday swiped the all-American spotlight from police-guarded Lloyd Mangrum with a sizzling 35-29—64 round, eight under par, for a three-stroke lead in the quest for a $2,250 top prize. Deadlocked for the runner-up spot were Jimmy Demaret and youthful Fred Hawkins, each posting 67s.

Barnum, from Edinburg, Tex., zoomed over the back nine yesterday one stroke better than the previous course mark of 30, set by Byron Nelson in 1945.

Hot Putter

Barnum used only 25 putts for his scorching tour of Tam's 6-915-yard layout.

In all 36 shooters bettered Tam's 36-36—72 par yesterday. Among them was defending champion Bobby Locke of South Africa, who was one of 17 pros scoring 71s.

Bracketed four strokes off the pace at 68 were Chick Harbert, Skee Riegel, E. J. Harrison, Tommy Bolt and Fred Haas, Jr. Mangrum had a 70.

In the all-American amateur, defending champion Frank Stranahan, of Toledo, Ohio, was six strokes in front after an opening 66, one stroke over Tam's Simon-Pure record.

The all-American women's open produced defending champion Didrickson Zaharias and Beverly Hanson, of Pasadena, Calif., as the first-round leaders, tied at a feminine par-matching 76. Both are pros.

Here and There In Sport

By The Canadian Press

George S. Dudley, secretary-manager of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association, told Thursday how Canada's hockey representative to the 1952 Olympic Games was selected.

Edmonton Waterloo Mercurys were picked at a meeting of the association in Toronto July 28 to go to Oslo, Norway, next February.

In a press release, Dudley said the deciding factor for the Edmonton club was its showing in the 1950 world championship games.

Said Dudley: "The (association) officers feel that the Edmonton club knows just the kind of competition in which it will be engaged and that it will be able to select the players of a calibre sufficient to meet such competitions."

He said applications had been received from St. Francis Xavier University, Antigonish, NS; the Buffalo Club, Winnipeg; Trail Smoke Eaters; Noranda Copper Kings; Cornwall Falcons; Smiths Falls Rideaus, and the Edmonton team.

At Seattle, Danny Foster drove Such Crust to a Gold Cup race qualifying record of 93.34 miles an hour Thursday on Lake Washington.

The old mark of 92.402 miles an hour was racked up in 1949 in Detroit by Wild Bill Cantrell in My Sweetie. Cantrell is here this year driving Horace Dodge's Hornet.

Prior to Thursday, the defending champion Slo-Mo-Shun IV and her sister craft Slo-Mo-Shun I had the best time of 91.37 miles an hour before Foster gave the Such Crust its head.

At Lexington, Ky., western gold jingled freely on the $3,195,900 thoroughbred yearling market which closed at Keeneland Thursday with its second highest all-time average.

Louis B. Mayer, the Hollywood movie-maker who purchased 13 yearlings, set a fast pace for the free-spending westerners who poured out upward of $775,000 on the four-day market.

Mayer gave $265,000 for eight colts and five fillies.

Miss Elna Andersen, 39, Danish school-teacher, gave up her fifth Britain-to-France Channel swim attempt Thursday within five or six miles of the French coast.

She had been swimming a little more than 12 hours.

At Folkestone Miss Andersen said she would have another try at the Channel this summer.

A spokesman for Montreal Alouettes, Big-Four football team, Thursday night announced the club has cut two United States imports from its roster. This brings the number of imports still with the squad to eight, one over the maximum allowed.

Players released are Jim Thomas from Ohio State and George Roman from the New York Giants. Both are 240-pound linemen.

Residents of Shawinigan Falls, Que., may have to go without senior hockey this year.

Theo Racette, manager of the arena and member of a syndicate that operates the municipal auditorium, home of the Shawinigan Cataracts of the Quebec Senior Hockey League, said Thursday that if a heating system is not installed in the arena, there will be no hockey there this winter.

At Rochester, NY, Bobby Hallman, 11, Thursday was credited with being the youngest local golfer to score a hole-in-one.

Bobby's ace was scored freakishly on the 125-yard 15th at Oak Hill Country Club. Driven by a spoon, the ball landed in a trap, hopped to the green and rolled in the cup.

Toronto Selects For Pope, Booth

By C. H. IRESON.

Peterborough "A" cricketers are scheduled to play a council match against their old-time opponents in Oshawa Saturday.

The Oshawa - Peterborough clubs have already met twice this season. On May 19 they met in a "friendly" match at Nicholls Oval, the Peterborough team winning 126 to 27. Then on June 2 they met again at Nicholls Oval in a district cricket match, Oshawa winning 67 to 40.

So there is a prospect of a keen struggle between the old rivals.

Also on Saturday the "B" team is scheduled to play a return match in Toronto with the Avroe Club. In the first match played in Peterborough the Toronto cricketers edged out a 58 to 53 win.

There will be no council matches on August 11 when the English MCC team, now touring Canada, will visit Toronto. The English club will play against a team selected from clubs in Toronto and the district council which includes Peterborough and Oshawa. It is known as the "Toronto and District Selects."

This match is causing much local interest as the Selects will include two Peterborough players, A. V. Pope and Frank Booth. A large Peterborough following plans to see the match.

Guerrilla Force Camps On China Border

By FRED HAMPSON.

HONG KONG, Aug. 3 (AP).—Two of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek's old Nationalist armies have formed a powerful 30,000-man guerrilla force along the border of Burma and Communist China.

Recept reports to Chinese newspapers here indicate the Chiang's old eighth and 26th armies, fully armed, are based in the southwest Chinese province of Yunnan.

The force is said to control a sizable area where additional fighters are being trained. Presumably ammunition and supplies come through Burma.

Last to Leave

The eighth was the last Nationalist army to leave China after the 1949-50 debacle. During the collpase of Chiang's forces, it retreated slowly along with the 26th unutil it was back in Yunnan.

The 26th was ordered to Hainan Island at that time. But before the airlift could start, the Nationalist Governor of Yunnan, Lu Han, defected to the Communists.

The two Nationalist armies refused to surrender and retreated to the border. A large part of the 26th went into Indo-China where the French disarmed them. The remainder went into Burma with the eighth.

In May, 1950, the Burmese demanded disarmament of these soldiers but negotiations broke down and small-scale fighting broke out. Eventually the Nationalist force re-entered Yunnan and established control of a border area where it remains.

During the last year they have been joined by thousands of refugees from Communist-held territory.

Observers think the Communists will not delay much longer a full-scale campaign against these holdouts.

Mayor Refuses To Quash Spy's Sentence

BERLIN, Aug. 3 (Reuters). — Mayor Ernst Reuter of West Berlin Thursday refused to carry out a US order quashing the sentence of a German court which found mystery man Hans Kemritz guilty on a kidnapping charge.

Kemritz had been fined $2,800 for his part in the disappearance of a German named von Haake. Kemritz is reported to be held in protective custody by the Americans, who have tried to have all charges against him dropped.

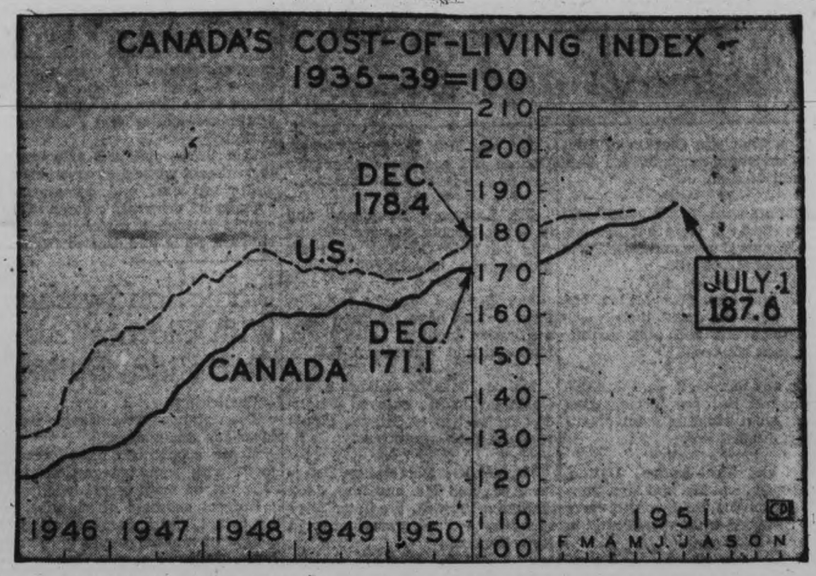
No Orders

Reuter said he could not give orders to the court. He could only pass to it the American request.

The German prosecution claimed after the war that Kemritz invited to his law offices in East Berlin at least 17 former German intelligence workers, including three women, who were then arrested by Communist East German security police.

Kemritz fled to West Germany in 1947 as a political refugee. He was arrested by West German police, but the Americans, who said he had worked for them, took over his case and released him on bail.

Reuter said Thursday the American order had seriously shaken US-German relations.



COST OF LIVING UP AGAIN—Sharp increases in the price of food helped boost the cost-of-living index 3.5 points to a high of 187.6 at July 1. The index is based on 1935-39 prices equalling 100. Smaller increases were recorded for drugs, newspapers, personal care, clothing and home furnishings. The dotted line is the U.S. Consumers' Price Index. It is not directly comparable to the Canadian index, but indicates price changes.

Met In Prison

They met in a prison camp in the Russian sector of Berlin nine years ago, they said, and swore to escape and make their way to Canada.

Some months ago they slipped beneath barbed wire at the camp and, under cover of darkness, crawled to a wooded area while Russian guards stood 100 yards away. They walked 500 miles by night to Munich, eventually making their way to England.

Beside getting good jobs and building homes, the immigrants said they plan to marry some nice Canadian girls.

With the Ukrainians, the liner carried 200 Germans coming here to work under a Dominion Government employment scheme, 500 British and 75 French immigrants.

AFL Disregards Left-Wing Efforts

PORT ARTHUR, Aug. 3 (CP). —Attempts by a new left-wing union to disrupt negotiations in the Ontario pulpwood logging industry will be ignored by the negotiating committee of the established union.

Andrew Cooper of Toronto, Canadian representative of the AFL Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners, said today his union would completely disregard efforts by the Canadian Union of Woodworkers to prevent wage negotiations with operators.

Cooper was commenting on a statement made in Toronto by Bruce Magnuson, head of the new union, who said a strike of 9,000 men would result if his group was left out of negotiations for a new contract.

Claims 90 Per Cent

Magnuson claimed his union had signed 90 per cent of the bush workers and asked that a vote be taken to determine bargaining rights.

Cooper disagreed, claiming that the negotiating committee would meet operators in Toronto next Thursday represents by far the majority of bushworkers in Northern Ontario.

He added that his AFL union holds bargaining rights for employees of the 24 companies involved in negotiations and that any strike action by the Woodworkers' Union would be illegal.

Beauty Parlors Attack Housewife Hands

LONDON (CP)—London beauty parlors are doing good business with new courses designed to cure what they call "house-wife's hand."

A leading beauty parlor in Bond Street gives expert guidance on how to combat "Washing-up Dryness" and avoid work-broken nails. "Nearly all women do houswork nowadays," says Bridget Rowland, chief assistant at this parlor, "And many women are worried about the effect on their hands."

"Housewife's hand" is attacked by a cream, instead of soap and water. The cream gradually eases the dirt from cracks in the fingers. Nails are strengthened by the non-use of nail varnish for, at least six months and special preparations are used to guard against splitting.

No. 1 priority in the treatment is the use of rubber gloves whenever the hands are placed in water. "I know it needs a lot of will-power," said Miss Rowlands, "But it's the only way to keep hands decent."

Ferguson-Sucee

The wedding of Miss Dorothy Phyllis Sucee to John Gordan Ferguson took place in Trinity United church last Saturday afternoon. The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. D. B. Gordon.

The bride is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Sucee of Orono, the groom son of Mrs. Ferguson and the late Fred Ferguson of Glenarm.

The church was decorated with mixed bouquets of gladioli, snapdragon and ferns. Traditional wedding music was played by Mr. Bruce Cooper of Fenelon Falls. Mr. Angus Ferguson, brother of the groom, sang "O Perfect Love" and "I'll Walk Beside You" during the signing of the register.

The bride wore a three-quarter length gown of pale blue sheer over taffeta, mittens to match and a headdress of blue rose buds and lily of the valley, with shoulder length veil. She carried a bouquet of deep pink roses. Her only attendant Miss Florence Ferguson, sister of the groom, wore pale pink sheer over taffeta, mittens and headdress of pink rose buds and carried a nosegay of carnations and roses.

The groom was attended by Mr. Melville Sucee, brother of the bride. Ushers were Ronald Sucee and Bill Ferguson, brothers of the bride and groom.

A buffet luncheon was served at the Club Aragon. The bride's mother received in a dress of navy crepe, draped with lace, grey accessories and wore a cortage of pink carnations. The groom's mother wore navy with white accessories and pink carnations.

The bride changed afterward to a dress of white and navy sheer, white top coat and accessories, corsage of deep pink roses. The couple left on a motor trip to Niagara Falls and United States.

Picnic Sandwiches With Glamor On Holiday Outing

Picnicking? . . . . . .

Then you may want some new ideas for sandwiches.

Home economists have come forth with some suggestions on "the art of making sandwiches."

Correct estimate of supplies is important, particularly when it's a case of making sandwiches for large groups of people. One small sandwich loaf cuts into 30 to 40 slices—each slightly less than one-quarter inch thick.

Quantities

One loaf needs one-quarter pound of butter, say the Home Economists. Enough moist meat filling for 2½ cups (1¼ pounds) spreads one loaf of bread.

One dozen hard-cooked eggs chopped and mixed with onion and salad-dressing spreads one loaf.

If crusts are to be cut from sandwiches save butter and filling by removing crusts before spreading bread. Crusts can be used for crumbs, bread puddings and so on.

Butter will go farther if creamed until light and fluffy.

Garnishes for Glamor

Fancy sandwiches always need color. Here are garnishes to remember: red — beets, cherries, cranberries, pimento, radishes; green — asparagus, celery, green pepper, pepper grass, watercress; yellow — cheese, pears, orange—pimento cheese, apricots; black—prunes, pickled walnuts, ripe olives; brown—dates, figs, potato chips.

Peanut butter mixed with salad dressing, fruit juice or honey; chili sauce and crisp bacon; honey and grated carrot; mashed or sliced banana and salad dressing or marmalade or honey.

Artsy-Craftsy

Individual rolled sandwiches—use fresh bread sliced thinly. Be certain crusts are removed. Spread with salad dressing or butter, then with filling. Roll like a jelly-roll. Seal edge of each roll with salad dressing, butter or filling. Wrap rolled sandwiches in slightly dampened tea-towel or waxed paper. Chill until set before toasting or serving plain. Tooth-picks may be used to keep the sandwich rolled.

Pinwheels

Pinwheel sandwich — use fresh bread, slice loaf lengthwise and make certain all crusts are removed. Spread filling on slices. Beginning at the end, roll like jelly-roll. For a contrasting centre place one of the following across one end of each slice and begin rolling from this end—a peeled banana, a dill pickle whole or with centre removed and stuffed with cream cheese); halves or quarters of hard-cooked eggs; a row of maraschino cherries or stuffed olives. Wrap roll in wax paper and chill. Slice before serving. Each roll will cut into from six to eight pinwheels.

Spanish Cream Parfait Made From Baby Foods

Strained baby foods, the kind you buy in drug and grocery store baby food departments, can be used to make a variety of delightfully cool summer treats. One of the most tempting is Spanish Cream Parfait, an attractive dessert which will make all the family ask for more.

2 cups milk
2 eggs, separated

⅛ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon vanilla

1 tablespoon sugar

Soak gelatin in ⅓ cup of the milk. Scald remainder of the milk, then add gelatin, stirring until gelatin is dissolved. Combine slightly beaten egg yolks with sugar, salt, and vanilla, then add slowly to milk and gelatin. Chill until mixture hardens. Chill with a rotary beater until soft. Beat egg whites until stiff and fold into custard mixture. Combine strained peaches and appple sauce, lemon juice, sugar, blending thoroughly. Place gelatin mixture and peach-apple sauce alternately into tall glasses. Chill. yield: 6 parfait glasses.

Vacation Schools Held In Belmont

HAVELOCK, Aug. 3 (ENS)—Vacation schools have been in progress for the past two weeks at South Lake and Rush Point, in the Belmont Lake Area Mission. These, the first of their kind to be conducted in Belmont, were brought to a close with a "parents night" at White Church.

Four young ladies comprising a Christian Youth Caravan of the United Church of Canada conducted the schools. James W. Davies, student minister welcomed the parents after which the caravan team led the children through a typical day's program. Miss Margaret Baker led the children in their singing exercises. Miss Ruth Morrow followed with a recitation and the primary children presented two finger plays and a song. The junior children gave a choral speaking of psalm 100. An explanation of Christian Youth Caravans was given by Miss Betty Hopper. The presentation of certificates was folowed by a flannelgraph story "Daniel" illustrated by Miss Baker. A short worship service was conducted by Miss Joan Seeney with the boys and girls participating. The Rev R. G. Newman of Havelock United Church pronounced the benediction after which the parents examined the handicraft work of their children. A vote of thanks to the caravaners for their splendid work with the children was moved by Earl Pollock, superintendent of the White Church Sunday School and seconded by all present with hearty applause.

FUNNY BUSINESS -- By Hershberger

"He has a novel way of attracting the waiter's attention!"

MARY MOORE SAYS:

One Method Of Preserving Own Maraschino Cherries

QUESTION: I tried Elsie's fluffy icing twice again. First time it failed again and I was very strict—did exactly what you said. The second time it dawned on me that I was using margarine instead of butter, so I tried butter and 3 tablespoons milk. It was thick but not quite thick enough, but there were lumps of the melted chocolate in the icing. What I want to know is do you beat the whole mixture first before you put the bowl in another bowl with the ice water in it?

I would like to preserve some maraschino cherries. Could you give me a recipe?—Mrs. W. S. E.

ANSWER: I suppose such a temperamental mixture as Elsie's fluffy frosting has no place in a food column where it cannot be demonstrated firsthand, and I should toss the thing out of my files and resort to just plain icing, but this thing will work and Elsie claims she never has a failure. I can't say that. However, between typing Mrs. W. E.'s letter and starting to type this answer I made the silly stuff again—and had to make a cake to go under it—and this time I reduced the milk to 2 tablespoons.

To answer your specific question: yes, you do stir the mixture with a spoon before you stand the bowl containing it in a larger bowl containing ice, where it is beaten with a rotary beater. Are you game to keep trying? Let me know.

Maraschino Cherries (Homemade)

(This is such a popular recipe I hope readers who intend to make it will clip this copy of it now).

Use the best quality of sweet cherries you can buy—being sure they are ripe—3 pounds are needed when they are weighed after pitting; 3 pounds granulated sugar, 1 ounce liquid red coloring, 1 ounce almond flavoring, 1 cup water. Soak the cherries in cold water for 2 hours, then pit them, keeping them whole. Weigh. Put sugar and water in kettle and boil until sugar is dissolved. Do not scorch. Add the coloring, then the cherries and cook slowly until cherries are red and syrup is fairly thick. Cook as slowly as possible. Remove from heat, cool a little, add flavouring, let stand until cool, then pour into sterile bottles and seal. Store in cool place.

Note: White or Royal Anne cherries are best for maraschino treatment, but since their season is over will have to settle for red varieties, which do not take on the colouring as satisfactorily as white cherries unless they are bleached. Bleaching is too complicated to manage with most home equipment.

✧ ✧ ✧

QUESTION: I have an old yellowed clipping from one of your pages from years ago containing "Garny's Blackberry Cobbler". Would you reprint this recipe if you have it. Grammy Storm.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: I sure would. It is the dessert I had at the first meal I ever ate at Garny's house.

GARNY'S COBBLER (for blackberries, blueberries, cherries, etc)

Make a rich shortcake dough: 2 cups sifted cake flour sifted with 5 teaspoons baking powder and ½ teaspoon salt; cut into this 1/3 cup butter, then stir in 2/3 cup milk. Roll out to about 10-inch round. Line a small square or oval baking dish with this having the edges come up roughly on the sides. Fill with about 2½ cups ripe fresh berries into which you have stirred from 2/3 to 1 cup lemon juice. Dot with butter or minute tapioca and 1 tablespoon sugar mixed with 1 tablespoon sour cream. In England this is often served with Devonshire cream.

WORLD OF BEAUTY — Kerstin ("Kicki" Hakansson, centre, of Sweden, waves in triumph after winning the beauty title, "Miss World," in a London contest. DOROTHY DIX

Woman Not Old Maid At 28 Not Worst Fate Possible

DEAR MISS DIX: I have a great opportunity that a number of old maids desiring a husband would like. This is my problem. I have been going with two men, both 29, and both have asked to marry me. I have reached the point where I long for a home and husband but how can I choose between them? Sam is very nice, has an important position and is active in social and religious affairs. However, judging from his past, I don't think he would ever be willing to settle down to just me. Ted has a good job, is a good dancer, and although we have frequent quarrels they usually end up with me getting my own way. Shoud I try to prove if one loves me more than the other, or should I forget the whole thing until I'm sure I'm in love? I am now 28. MAE

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: Shame on you, Mae, for thinking you're an old maid at 28. "Career Girl" is the accepted designation for modern maidens, and nothing to apologize for. There are worse fates, indeed, than being an unmarried woman with your independence and your own pay check.

Marriage Has Its Drawbacks

On the other hand, there is no fate worse than being a miserable wife. Consider carefully before you decide to leap into matrimony to avoid single blessedness. Both your beaux have their good points judging from your letter, but since you can't decide which you love, I'd say you don't love either, and the best course to take is wait for Mr. Positively Right!

You wouldn't want your marriage to be a constant worry over a philanderer, or a constant squabble—which won't always end up in your favor! Why not give yourself the abstract treatment. Take a vacation and see if that doesn't resolve your problem!

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I am 23 years old, have been married seven years and have two lovely children. My husband is in the air force. One of my girl friends came to stay with me and every time we go to the movie my next door neighbor circulates a rumor that we're going to meet some boys. I love my husband very much and wouldn't think of going with other men. Do you think I should just stay home and never go out or should I go ahead to the movies and let my neighbor talk?

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: There is no menace worse than a snoopy neighbor who gloats in tearing reputations to shreds, you can't even outwit them by staying home with locked doors, for even then they'll make up horrendous tales of what goes on behind your drawn blinds. As long as you have a competent person to look after your youngsters their is certainly no harm in going out with girl friends. If your neighbor's gossip becomes slanderous, you might have a court case aganst her. Otherwise, just ignore it.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: I am 15 years old and going with a man 22. His mother is against any girl he goes with and is trying to separate us. Now even my father has turned against my boy friend. B. H.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: You are much too young to marry anyone, especially a man twice your age. Go out to dances and movies with boys from school and have a few years fun before you settle down.

Lady Lawson Makes Invitation

TORONTO (CP)—Every Canadian woman in civic office and many in agriculture are getting an invitation to meet Lady Lawson, wife of the Lord Mayor of London, when she and her husband visit the Canadian National Exhibition here.

Women mayors, reeves, councillors and wardens are being invited to meet Lady Lowson at the CNE luncheon for women on Sept. 8, which is citizens and cadet day at the big fair.

Women widely known in farm circles for successful operation of their own farms are also being invited as guests of theCNE women's division at the agricultural and livestock day luncheon on Sept. 5.

Among the farm women who will be honored are: Mrs. G. Telford of Shawville, Que.; Mrs. Ernest Bradley of Masonville, Que.; Mrs. Ted L. Townshend of Rockwood Farm, St. Norbert, Man.; Mrs. O. G. Anderson of Wingham, Ont.; Mrs. Jim Ignatieff of Richmond, Que.; and Thelma Graig, former Toronto newspaper woman now operating a farm near Athens, Ont.

Girl Traveller Wants To Wander

ESTEVAN, Sask—(CP)—Yvonne LaCoste is back home for a spell after travels that began in a munitions plant at Toronto and ended in a Venezuela town where the natives are chocolate-colored with green eyes and reddish hair.

Yvonne began her travels some years ago when she left with several other girls from this town to work in the munitions plant. After the war she got work in a mental hospital at Toronto. Seven months of that was followed by a year's work in a New York factory.

Then she heard of Punto Fijo, the boom town of Venezuela's great seashore oil industry. She went down there and got a position catering to tourists. Her hotel position allowed lots of spare time during which she went sightseeing, swimming in the Carribbean and collecting oil paintings.

Miss LaCoste said she was amazed at first at the natives and the climate in the Venezuela oil town. "They are beautiful people with the oddest coloring," she said. "They have chocolate-colorer skins, green eyes and brown hair with red glints in it."

She liked the climate there too. It goes over 100 degrees in summer and stays in the 80s in winter. But "It isn't uncomfortably hot throughout," she explained. "The breezes are always delightfully cool."

Yvonne shortly is leaving for Miami to discuss plans for a dress shop in Venezuelas. But even if the plan works out, she doesn't think she would settle down for long. She has a hankering to see Africa and China.

Your Feet Need Special Care During Summer

By KAY REX
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Aug 3— Warm weather means most women are doffing high-heeled pumps for flat play-shoes. Foot specialists frown on this.

One Toronto chiropodist says high-heeled pumps cause the muscles in the calf of the legs to shorten. Hence, a sudden drop to flat-heeled shoes may result in "leg pains." He recommends a gradual "stepping down." First medium heels, then flat ones.

Leather-soled shoes are the most comfortable on city pavements. Incidentally, the foot experts thinks platform soles are a good idea. He says they're easy on the fet, providing added protection against uneven ground and pebbles.

Afternoon is regarded by most foot experts as the best time of the day to fit shoes. If your foot tends to swell in hot weather it will be at its largest in the afternoon.

Finally, different makes of shoes and different lasts mean you never know what sizeshoe you take until you have your foot measured. A good shoe salesman will measure the foot both when you are sitting and when you stand.

"When the weight is on the feet they elongate one-sixth of an inch," said the expert. "Weak arches may cause the foot to elongate even more than that."

Barefoot For Health

Go barefoot if you're spending a country or sea-side holiday. The experts say this is fine summer foot treatment, if you're in a position to do it.

The Canadian shoe information bureau reports from Montreal that heels will be lower this fall. Certainly in dressy shoes, the three-inch heel will remain, but for every-day wear, there is a trend toward the 1¾-inch.

Closed toes and closed heels will push last season's sandals right out of the picture. Pumps with circular or rounded throats will be popular.

Platforms for the most part are lower although in dressy shoes they will return to their old heights. While there will be fewer &ankle-straps nevertheless straps remain a style factor.

Calf, suede and kid, together with nylon mesh and even flannel will be the popular fall materials for shoes. At the same time reptiles will be shown even more than last year. Natural snakeskin has been combined with black suede, green or brown suede with multicolor trims.

Black is the most popular color for fall. There also will be green shoes, red shoes and some grey.

Health department officials at Ottawa also have something to say about shoes. "Wear shoes that suit the occasion," they urge. "For hiking, be sure that your shoes are comfortable, with low heels and firm soles. Keep your high heels for dress occasions."

ART FROM THE CAMEROONS—Exotic wooden stools, painstakingly hand-carved from one piece of wood, are among the pieces of African art on display in the missionary exhibition at the Westminster Cathedral Hall in London. The stools were done by natives of the Cameroons.

Village Renews Hunt For Woman

KILLARNEY, Aug. 3 (CP)—For the fourth consecutive day, search parties fanned out into the rugged bush seven miles north of here to look for Kate Tyson, 64, missing since she left on a blueberry picking trip last Monday morning.

Fears were expressed for her safety as the elderly woman was only lightly dressed. The weather is fairly cool here, following heavy thundershowers on Thursday. It is raining intermittently again today.

No further trace of the woman has been found since searchers located her tracks near Rat Lake, about a mile north of the spot where she was picking berries. Earlier two pails and a cup were found.

Search parties combed the soggy bush until late Thursday night and were out again early today. Miss Tyson was living at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Burke, seven miles northeast of Killarney, toward Collins Inlet.

Objections Few

additional amount now asked for."

W. J. Whibbs, 178 Aylmer St., expanded that question. His point was to the effect that estimates should be known when a money bylaw was submitted to the ratepayers, "and not increased at this time of day." He said there were other instances of getting into things, beginning undertakings, and then discovering later that more money was needed. Mr. Whibbs said the line should be drawn somewhere. Contractors were taking a lot of money out of this town.

Dr. Honey expressed his sympathy with the citizens and the questions they presented, "because we are all taxpayers, and none of us wants to see any increase in the rate. The Board of Education has been very frugal in its attempts to provide accommodation for secondary education; so frugal in fact that instead of building a collegiate institute we plan to buld only half a collegate.

Cut Plans To Bone

"So, instead of asking the ratepayers last December for one million dollars or a million and a half, we cut the plans to the bone, and asked for $585,000. There is no other collegiate in the province that is being constructed in that way. Other boards are building the whole thing. We are building only for our needs, and the other half will be completed for 1,000 students when it is needed."

To Mr. Holmes, Dr. Honey recalled that the architect was evicted from the school property when he entered on it to make soundings for the foundations.

Subsoil in that part of the city was described as an old river bed, he said, and at seven or eight feet there was water.

Mr. Holmes said he wondered why, if that condition existed, the council had bought land in the neighborhood for industrial purposes.

Not Private Corporation

As to the extra cost, Mr. Craw emphasized that the Board of Education was not a private corporation. "The Board can only go so far in determining what moneys are wanted for porjects. The Board went as far as it could go last October in drafting plans for the collegiate, before putting the expenditure question to the taxpayers. They had to get assent of the people before they could proceed with calling for tenders."

Mr. Craw said a private corporation on the other hand, had no time restrictions on them. They could get their final plans and immediately call for contract bids.

The Board of Education had to wait between the time of getting plans prepared and getting approval of the people. That was one cause. Then when the architect wished to go on the property to get soundings, he was attacked by the owner and his machine was smashed.

Mr. Craw said the Board of Education had studiously tried to keep the tax rate down as much as possible. That was why the policy of building six rooms here and another extension there according to the debentures which the Board knew to be retiring had been followed.

Withdraws Objection

One of the women who attended the meeting questioned the need of a gymnasium. She and others chatted afterwards with the Board's deputation, and this morning she told the Examiner that she wished to withdraw any objection that might be quoted of her in the clerical report of the meeting to the Municipal Board.

It was a friendly discussion of about half an hour. Mr. McFadden was frankly opposed to spending any money without reference to the people. Mr. Whibbs said he had come to listen rather than to make a speech.

Mayor Swanston called the council to order and opened its session. The $65,000 bylaw was just a routine borrowing instrument, but City Clerk Outram read the whole works. Mr. Holmes interjected some question from the gallery while Ald. E. C. Braund was presiding as chairman of the committee of the whole.

Mayor Swanston told him he could not then interrupt the council's proceedings. Mr. Holmes replied that he did not realize the council was about to begin its sitting when Mayor Swanston had asked whether there were any more questions.

After the second reading of the bylaw, Mayor Swanston said he had waited for any more comments or questions. It was the desire of the council that everybody should have opportunity to express themselves. He said the bylaw should be returned by the Municipal Board within two weeks. Next council meeting would be Aug. 13, and if any citizens had objections to the bylaw they would be heard then.

Britons Drink More Milk

LONDON, Aug. 3 (Reuters).—Britain is drinking more milk and eating more potatoes than any other European country inside the Marshall Plan, Food Minister Maurice Webb said today.

But Britain has less meat than all the rest, except for West Germany, Austria and Greece, he told the House of Commons. Britain's milk consumption was 160 per cent of pre-war and her potato consumption 139.

Meat consumption was placed at 81 per cent of pre-war compared with France 102 per cent, Normay 97, Sweden 96, Italy 95, Belgium-Luxembourg 93, West Germany 75, Austria 63, and Greece 60.

Britain was taking only 76 per cent of her pre-war sugar compared with Sweden's 111 and the low countries' 112.

Navigation Aid Built For Ships

OTTAWA, Aug. 3 (CP). — The National Research Council has developed a new navigational aid for small vessels, it was announced today.

The aid consists of electronically-operated shore beacons and inexpensive, direction-finding receivers on board ships. The device will be particularly useful on ships too small to warrant installation of regular radar sets.

With aid of the new device, a navigator will be able to maintain accurately a fixed path, or to take bearings from any position.

A spokesman for the National Research Council said it has simply recommended use of the equipment. It will be up to the Federal Transport Department to install the shore beacons.

He believed the beacons might be installed along the Great Lakes and the St. Lawrence river. They would be particularly useful in river navigation. However it might be a year or two before any shore beacons are installed.

Church Scores Try To Oust Dean

LONDON, Aug. 3 (Reuters) — The Church of England newspaper today criticizes an attempt by six Conservative members of parliament who tried to have Dr. Hewlett Johnson, "Red" Dean of Canterbury, removed from office.

The MPs tried to have the House of Commons sanction the pro-Russian dean's removal on the ground that he has been "guilty of preaching subversive and heretical doctrines." But the government never allowed the matter to come up.

The Church of England newspaper says the dean cannot be fired for heresy and gross immorality. Dr. Johnson had been convicted of neither, it says.

"Independent minds find themselves in considerable difficulties in these days when everybody who differs from the general line is at once classed as a fellow-traveller and regarded with suspicion," the newspaper says.

Woman Wounded Tells False Story

KITCHENER, Aug. 3 — (CP) — Investigation of a mishap in a suburban Kingsdale home in which a woman was shot in the right leg has revealed the first explanation given officers was untrue, Waterloo township police said today.

Vera Yenssen was taken to hospital Thursday for treatment of a leg wound.

The woman told police that in cleaning a clothes closet she removed a gun from a corner. In replacing the gun it discharged, wounding her, she said.

Police said today it has been established the mishap occurred early Thursday in a Kingsdale home where Miss Yenssen and two couples wre present.

They had been drinking previously and one of the men suggested to another that he knew something about marksmanship.

The latter fired a few shots in a range in the basement and while carrying the rifle to an adjoining room, it discharged wounding Miss Yenssen.

Police investigation is continuing.

Governor-General, 2 Sons To Try Fishing In BC

OTTAWA, Aug 3— (CP) —Canada's Governor-General and his two sons arrived here Thursday by plane after a six-week stay in England, and paused only briefly before hitting the western trail.

While Viscountess Alexander follows from England by boat, the men-folk of the viceregal family are bound for Indian pow-wows in Canada's West and fishing on British Columbia's Pacific coast. They leave by train tomorrow night.

The Governor - General, with Brain, 16, and Shane, 12, are off on what may be His Excellency's last trip West before his term of office expires next spring.

For Viscount Alexander, it's the 116th official tour of his tenure of office. Usually, he goes alone or with his wife, leaving the boys at home. This time it's a stag affair including the sons.

In a recent interview, Viscount Alexander was reported as saying he believed the sons will make their careers in Canada, and that if he were a young man, he would do so himself. For the boys, this trip will be something special.

Attend Pow-Wow

At Lethbridge, on Aug. 8, they will attend an Indian pow-wow at which their father will be admitted to the Crazy Dog Society, an honor up to now reserved for blood braves.

At Vancouver, the trio, accompanied by a tutor and a vital, embark Aug. 10 on the private yacht of the Lieutenant-Governor of British Columbia Clarence Wallace.

A Government House spokesman said he doubted if plans have been made for the 11-day trip up the scenic Pacific coast. However, the yacht, Walithy, would undoubtedly visit the spots where the fishing's best.

After brief visits to Vancouver and Victoria, the Alexander will meet their mother at Victoria Aug. 24. Together, the family will head back for Ottawa by train, taking a three-day stop-over at Banff National Park.

Scottish Pence Sets Record In $50,000 Race

WESTBURY, N.Y., Aug. 3 (AP) —Scottish Pence set a world record of 4:13 2-5 for the two miles in the $50,000 Nassau race last night, easily winning over 11 opponents in a race marred by two accidents.

The six-year-old bay son of Scotland—Mine Worth, driven by Wayne (Curley) Smart, led for all but one lap in the four trips around Roosevelt Raceway's half-mile oval.

Six lengths behind in second place was Dudley Hanover, from the Hayes Fair Acres Stable, Du-Quoin, Ill. Another threequarters of a length away in third place came Highland Ellen, owned by Ralph H. Kroening, Milwaukee, Wis.

Scottish Pence, owned by the Castleton Farm, Lexington, Ky., was the odds-on-favorite of a crowd estimated at 23,000 for the rich harness racing classic.

The winner returned $3.20, $2.80 and $2.70. Dudley Hanover coupled with Highland Ellen in the betting field, paid $7.60 and $10.20.

Pile Up

The horses hardly got away when Thomas B. Scott, driven by Tom Carlock, stumbled and went down. Wayzoff, driven by Frank Safford, piled into the downed horse and sulky and rolled over in a heap. The reinsmen and horses, however, were uninjured and the tracks was cleared before the field came around again.

Coming in to the stretch the third time after almost 1½ miles, a wheel broke on the sulky of Stormyway, second choice at 6 to 1, and locked with a wheel on the bike of White Mountain Boy. Neither went down, but they were out of the race.

The old mark for two miles, 4:16 4-5, was made in this same race two years ago by Grattan McKlyo.

Red O'Brien was fourth, followed by Ferman Hanover, Dale Brewer, Buck and Cobb, Hayes Hanover and Dr. Stanton, driven by W. L. Fraser of Forest, Ont.

US May Offer New Rifle In Arms Talk

By SEAGHAN MAYNES

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3 (Reuters)— United States officials are believed ready to give British, French and Canadian defense ministers details of a new American lightweight .300-calibre automatic rifle at the four-power smallarms standardization talks here.

The ministers, Emmanuel Shinwell of Britain, Jules Moch of France and Brooke Claxton of Canada, and army secretary, Frank Pace of the United States —discussed Britain's intention to produce a new .280-calibre automatic rifle.

The United States has been seeking agreement among the Atlantic pact powers on a standard .300-calibre gun. The defense chiefs agreed a single standard calibre is the desired objective. The meeting considered methods of achieving it.

Shinwell was believed today to have argued that the new British fast-firing rifle using the lightweight ammunition is now needed to meet the modern infantryman's requirements, and is better than existing types.

Lighter

The United States delegation was expected to bring into the talks a new American automatic rifle which is two pounds lighter than the standard American army .300 Garand rifle and uses a special ammunition, 25 per cent lighter than the Garand type.

The new American gun which is reported to have a cyclic rate of fire of 700 rounds a minute and uses a 20-round magazine, was demonstrated before President Truman early this year.

At that time it was thought it would replace the existing Garand rifle, which can be fired only semi-automatically, and uses an eight-round magazine.

Some defense officials opposed the new automatic weapon on the grounds that it would encourage infantrymen to waste ammunition by firing in bursts and thus develop supply problems.

They also felt the automatic rifle was more likely to jam.

A communique after today's six-hour talks mere said the defense chiefs had presented their views on the problem of standardizing a rifle for the Allied forces, before adjourning until tomorrow.

Sailor Enjoys Hospitality Of Australia; Forced Home

OTTAWA, Aug. 3 — (CP) — A Canadian sailor who found Australian hospitality so terrific he couldn't resist it is being brought home against his wishes.

The Navy said yesterday, in four laudatory pages of the magazine Crowsnest, that Aussie hospitality to the RCN cruiser Ontario during a South Pacific cruise was overwhelming.

The magazine didn't mention the sailor's case but headquarters later confessed just how overwhelming it was for one 20-year-old sailor from British Columbia who deserted and stayed behind and wanted to make Australia his home.

His story was told by other Ontario men and confirmed by headquarters. Authorities asked that his name not be made public.

He is a reservist or part-time able seaman who went aboard the 8,000-ton cruiser just for her cruise to the South Pacific which lasted from Feb. 26 to June 4.

Some Married

Some other Ontario men, it is understood, went AWL in Australia for a time but were rounded up before sailing. Others got married during the short weeks at their disposal.

The hospitality, the returned sailors agree with the magazine, was tremendous. People said they had to repay Canada's wartime hopitality to Aussie airmen who trained here.

The BC youth, however, was the only one who stayed there. The Ontario discovered his absence after she sailed for home and messaged Australian authorities to ask them to try to round him up.

They picked him up recently in Hobart, Tasmania, one of 10 ports of call for the cruiser. They reported that he asked to be punished and discharged in Australia.

Headquarters in Ottawa reported that they have had to fuse the request. He is being brought home. The penalties, however, are not likely to be severe. He is liable to be charged for the cost of transportation home by sea or air and discharged from the reserve navy. Then he will be free to go back to Australia if he wishes.

Wedding Follows Fake Marriage, Drop Charges

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Aug. 3. — (AP)—The state dropped morals charges Thursday against three youths, who staged a fake double wedding after one of the teen-agers agreed to wed his 15-year-old bride legally.

District Attorney Gen. Hal Clements Jr. announced the decision following a conference with Pte. Thomas Carmon and Mrs. Bessie Mullins and her 15-year-old daughter, Betty Sue.

Clements said Mrs. Mullins forgave Carmon for duping her daughter into believing they were married last Sunday night by Roy Arnwine, 17, who posed as a preacher.

"They left here to see the boy's parents and they were talking about a wedding," Clements said.

Conditions

Mrs. Mullins had said she would permit her daughter to wed Carmon on condition they not live together and that the 19-year-old soldier sign over an army allotment to his bride before he sails for Korea, Aug. 10.

Carmon said the conditions were agreeable to him.

The other couple involved in the bogus marriage was Jerry Brite, 19, and a 17-year-old girl. Clements withheld her name.

The district attorney-general said charges of violating the age of consent (21) against Carmon and Brite had been dropped. A charge of abetting lodged against Arnwine also was dismissed.

The mock weddings occurred Sunday night a few hours after the young couples met at an amusement park.

Allies Ask For Buffer Zone North Of Battlefield Line

RCMP Cracks Ring Of Dope Peddlers, Montreal's Biggest

MONTREAL, Aug. 4. (CP)—A narcotics ring, said by police to be linked with the international dope ring allegedly headed by the notorious Lucky Luciano, today is smashed, RCMP said, with the arrests last night of five of the principals. Two other arrests are expected. Police identified those arrested as Diodato Mastracchio, alias Dulude, 35-year-old owner and operator of a restaurant here, and described as "the big shot we've been trying to get for a long time"; Jimmy Soccio, 35, co-owner of a cafe; Johnny Sullivan, 38, a barman at Mastracchio's restaurant; Cecil (Red) Chesso, 40, a carnival worker and Emile (Jack) Nadeau, 40, of Montreal.

All five are to be arraigned today on charges of possession, sale and conspiracy to obtain narcotics.

Making Delivery

Police said the break in the case came when Soccio was arrested while driving in a taxi in the east-end of the city. He was taken into custody, police said, while on his way to make a $20,000 delivery of heroin.

Superintendent James R. Lemieux, head of the criminal investigation branch, said identity of the ring members became known to police nearly two years ago when RCMP raided a rooming house and arrested Johnny Young, a Montreal wrestler. Young now is serving a life term as an habitual criminal.

An RCMP official said investigation had covered international smuggling activities between the United States and Canada. He gave credit to the close collaboration between Canadian and American agents.

Police said the drug seizure, although valued at only $5,000 on the wholesale market, was worth four times that amount on the illicit drug market.

Man Arrested Cashing Race Tickets

FORT ERIE, Ont., Aug. 4 (CP)—The mysterious "lady in black" has bobbed up again in the spreading investigation of allegedly rigged races at Fort Erie race track.

Police arrested a Buffalo, NY, resident yesterday and said he was trying to cash part of a $1,500 bet laid by the woman on a race last week. Seized were parimutuel tickets valued at $2,188.

They brought to almost $10,000 the amount held up by police on wining tickets of allegedly "fixed" races. Still outstanding are 33 tickets on one race on which the woman bet. She came into the news after winning a reported $5,000.

Police refused to give the name of the arrested man or the charge against him. They said he told them he came across the border to cash the tickets for a friend.

Second Arrest

It was the second arrest in the case as the police probed ramifications of betting rings reported to have mulcted bookmakers of thousands of dollars.

Henry Dunn, 48, of Chicago was arrested Wednesday on a charge of conspiracy to defraud and remanded in jail when he failed to provide property bail of $20,000 or cash bail of $10,000.

How widespread are the activities of the gambling syndicate reported to have engineered the "fix" may be disclosed Wednesday at Hamilton when the Ontario Racing Commission resumes its hearings in the matter.

One report yesterday said the gambling syndicate cleared more than $500,000 and that a Toronto stock dealer won some $115,000.

Cadet Criticizes West Point

WEST POINT, NY, Aug. 4 (AP).—Bob Blaik, star quarterback on the team and son of West Point's head football coach, bitterly criticized the United States military academy today for the manner in which it ousted 90 cadets for "cribbing" in examinations.

Young Blaik declined to say whether he was one of the cadets involved in the biggest academic scandal of West Point's 150 years. However, he used the pronoun "We" when discussing the ousted cadets.

Blaik is also a star of the West Point hockey team. He was a standout in last winter's annual game between West Point and the Royal Military College in Kingston, Ont.

Surrounded by admitted members of the 90-man ousted group, Blaik told reporters:

"We were not allowed to notify our parents all over the country in advance. First notice they got was from the newspapers and over the radio.

Elderly Woman Killed In Collision

WINDSOR, Aug. 4—(CP)—Mrs. Louisse Bully, 75, of nearby Tilbury was killed early today in a car-truck crash on No. 2 Highway near here.

Six others were injured.

Driver of the truck, John Watson, 55, Loise Street, Tilbury, was the only one of the eight people involved to escape injury. Mrs. Bully was an occupant of the truck.

According to witnesses who were travelling in a car behind the car, the truck came onto the highway without stopping.

General Ridgway Holds Late Conference

TOKYO, Auug. 4 — (AP). — Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, Supreme Allied Commander, tonight made a hurried trip from his quarters at the American Embassy to his office in the Dai Ichi Building in downtown Tokyo.

He entered his office building shortly after 9 p.m. (7 a.m. EDT) and was still there three hours later.

He was accompanied by his Chief-of-Staff, Lt.-Gen. Boyle Hickey.

The army offered no explanation immediately for the Supreme Commander's unuusual night visit to his office.

Scientist Kills Self With Venom

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Aug. 4 (AP)—A world renowned scientist killed himself with hypodermic dose of snake venom late Friday because he could not bear the disgrace of being fired from the University of Michigan faculty for mishandling funds.

Dr. Malcolm H. Soule, 54, was found dying by his wife, Alma, in the basement of their fashionable home here. The quick-acting venom, mixed with morphine, killed him in a matter of minutes.

The suicide occurred three hours after the university's board of regents informed him his resignation would not be accepted and he was fired and would be prosecuted.

Coroner Edwin C. Ganshorn gave a finding of suicide.

On the record, apparently only $487 was involved. The board said Dr. Soule had made restitution for that amount. University officials declined Friday night to amplify how funds were mishandled.

Premier Would Resign Before Sell Out Iran

TEHRAN, Iran, Aug. 4 (Reuters)—Prime Minister Mohammed Mossadegh told his senate today he would resign rather than sign any agreement with Britain that is "not to Iran's advantage."

He was speaking a few hours before Richard Stokes, Britain's raw materials minister was due to arrive here with a mission to talk peace in the oil dispute.

Senators crowded in the hall to hear Mossadegh explain the steps that had led up to yesterday's decision to receive the British government mission.

The premier said: "We will not take any steps which will damage Iran."

90 Cadets Fired From West Point

Cheated In Exams Many On Football Team

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4.—Ninety cadets of the United States Military Academy were discharged Friday in a precedent shattering order for cheating during examinations.

Many of the discharged soldiers-in-training were members of the Army's high-powered football team.

All of the West Point Cadets are to receive a discharge that; while not "dishonorable" was described as "neither black nor white but gray in tone."

Secretary of the Army Frank Pace Jr., was shocked by the disclosure that 90 cadets had broken the sacrosanct honor code of the academy.

President Concerned

President Truman said he was very much concerned at the disclosures, while some Senators immediately criticized the army for not being severe enough in dealing with the cadets.

Gen. J. Lawton Collins, chief of staff of the army, told a group of Senators the serious infractions of academy regulations and code had started with the football team and spread to other groups.

The 90 cadets, an army spokesman said, were members of the present upper class, the one below and possibly students in the second year. While the army contended that none of the graduating class of two months ago was involved in the charges as disclosed today, it was implied that some might have been.

Assigned Korea

The decision not to include any possible violators of the most recent graduating class in the severe disciplinary action grew out of the fact that many of that class may at the moment have combat assignments and that possibly some may even have been killed in Korea.

The army, pressed on this point, took the stand that a man upon being commissioned from West Point was considered to have started with a clean slate.

The "busting" of the approximately 90 cadets, whose names were not made public, followed a unanimous recommendation by a special board headed by Judge Learned Hand, who recently retired as chief judge of the Second United States Court of Appeals.

At West Point, Maj. Gen. Frederick A. Irving, superintendent of the academy, issued a statement declaring there had been a serious breach of the military school's code of ethics. He described the infractions as the "receiving of improper outside assistance in academic work."

Honor System

An authentic version available here on what might have happened described how various groups of a certain class of the academy take the same examination at different times. Supposedly no cadet would ever pass on the questions of an examination to a classmate yet to tackle it. The honor system is impressed on the West Pointer from the moment he passes through the academy's gates and each individual's moral rectitude in all ways is driven

Army Brands Korea War, Plot

By OLAN CLEMENTS

TOKYO, Aug. 4. (AP)—An Allied general headquarters statement today ripped into Russia, accusing the Soviet of starting the Korean war and of trying to weaken Red China by bleeding her on the battlefield. An hour later the general-headquarters information and education section, which issued the statement, tried to withhold publication; it said the release was intended as "background information" for editors and was not intended to be printed. By then the statement had been broadcast on radios overseas. It was in print in the United States. The withhold request was cancelled.

The release carried far more voltage than usual Allied utterances.

It declared the Communist system "cannot survive." It referred to the "calculating, twisted intellects of the Communist leaders."

It said the free world now was on guard and would not relax "when the Reds call off the tension."

Fear Srong China

It said the Kremin wanted China to weaken herself because the Soviets fear a strong China on "Russia's vulnerable southern frontier." It expressed doubt that the Peiping regime could last. It suggested Red China might break away from Russia as did Yugoslavia.

It was rumored at GHQ that the release had the approval of Lt.-Gen. Doyle O. Hickey, last of Gen MacArthur's top hands still on the job there. Hickey is chief of staff to Gen. Matthew B. Bidgway, supreme UN commander.

The GHQ statement today came at a time when there is speculation that Red China and the North Korean Communists are on the outs over the armistice and that Red China wants to get out of the Korean war because of heavy losses.

Hideous Pounding

"Letting China take a hideous pounding from the United Nations does Sino-Soviet relations no good at all," the statement said.

"It may mean that China eventually goes the way of Yugoslavia's Communist Marshal Tito—if her regime holds up, which is doubtful."

The statement said many of Chinese Communist eader Mao-Tung's best troops "are dead or crippled," and much of his equipment is lost.

"But Russia's strategy has made the Chinese Reds less sure that the Kremlin is a friend," the statement went on, "after all, China fought and bled while Russia looked on. To Mao Tze-Tung this could hardly look loke bosom comradeship."

Important Metal Finds Made In Quebec—Duplessis

QUEBEC, Aug. 4. (CP)—Premier Duplessis told his weekly press conference yesterday that important discoveries of iron, copper and gold have been made in Quebec's Ungava and Chibougamau areas. He said H. W. Darling, president of the Quebec Labrador Development Company, told him of plans for development of the iron ore deposits, 170 miles northwest of other iron deposits in Ungava. Estimated cost of development was placed at $80,000,000 by Mr. Darling.

Campbell Chibougamau mines has located 1,000,000 tons of copper and gold ore on Merrill Island, about a half mile from Chibougamau townsite, the premier said.

E. O. D. Campbell, president of that company, has made known plans to sink mine shafts to work the copper and fold finds, and the project will cost "several million dollars," the premier said.

One Of The Richest

Barvue Mines Limited, operating a zinc discovery in Barraute township, in northwestern Quebec, claims its zinc find is "one of the richest in the world," the premier said.

Premier Duplessis said previous Hollinger iron discoveries, and the more recent find by Quebec Labrador Company "prove there is iron everywhere in Ungava." Hollinger has a $200,000,000 development under way.

The premier said is government had opened up the Chibougamau area, northwest of Lake St. John on the St. Lawrence north shore, by building a winter road in 1937 and later spending $4,000,000 for a permanent road.

Charles Congratulates Queen Elizabeth

BALMORAL, Scotland, Aug. 4 (Reuters)—A little boy named Charles called on his grandmother here today and, on behalf of his baby sister Anne and himself, wished her a "happy birthday."

The boy, Prince Charles, now four, was speaking to Queen Elizabeth, 51 today.

From many parts of the world messages of congratulation have been pouring in for the Queen.

She spent the day quietly with other members of the Royal Family at their vacation home—Balmoral Castle. It was a refreshing change for her from a recent busy round of engagements at which she represented King George, who has been ill.

Drinkwine Did

VAN NUYS, Calif., Aug. 4. (AP)—Elmer V. Drinkwine—who did, to excess—yesterday drew five days in jail, where wine is not on the menu. Officers who arrested the 58-year-old transient said he had a record of 15 precious offences, all the same.

Yalu River Northern Limit Battleground South Where Armies "In Balance"

Statement Released As Background For Correspondents; Farther South If Truce Year Ago

By OLEN CLEMENTS

TOKYO, Aug. 4 (AP)—A Supreme Allied Command press release today said the United Nations wants a Korean buffer zone somewhere between the Yalu River and the present battle line. It was the first official statement that the UN Allies wanted the buffer line north of the present fighting line. Air Force Brig.-Gen. William P. Nuckols shortly before this told correspondents at the UN advance headquarters in Korea, in reply to a question that the Allies were reported to be asking a cease-fire line north of present battle lines:

"I believe it would be seriously in error and the wildest sort of speculation if you attempt to draw this line in the vast area between the present battle line and the Yalu river."

The statement was in a release issued by the civil information and education section of allied general headquarters under the title "Background material on the establishment of a demilitarized zone."

Early Statement

The section earlier issued a strongly-worded statement which accused Russia of starting the Korean war and of trying to weaken Red China by bleeding her on the battlefield.

The release on the buffer zone said that if an armistice had been proposed last year when allied troops were driven back to the Naktong river in South Korea, "the military demarcation line might have been near the Naktong river."

"On Sept. 12," it continued, "the forces of the ROK (Republic of Korea) and United Nations went on the offensive and the North Korean forces were driven northward to the region of the Yalu and Tumen rivers. Had an armistice been concluded at that time, the military demarcation line might have lain somewhere between the Sinanju-Hambung line and the northern boundaries of Korea.

CENTRALIA, Ont., Aug. 4 (CP)—A Centralia woman and her 10-months-old child were killed here Friday night when their automobile collided with a truck. Her husband and the truck driver were injured.

Dead is Mrs. Thomas Dobbs, RR 1, Centralia, and Gary Dobbs.

Thomas Dobbs, 22, received chest and right arm injuries. The truck driver, Lorne Haugh, 22, of Exeter, is in hospital with hip and possible head injuries.

An unidentified airman, believed a truck passenger, was taken to hospital in London.

Centralia is about 25 miles north of London.

Comedy Team Sued For $2 Million

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 4 (AP)—Being comedians, Dean Martin and Jerry Lewis may be able to laugh at this, but—

Screen Associates Incorporated has sued them for $2,000,000 damages, alleging they breached a contract under which they had agreed to make seven movies.

Also named as a defendant was Hal Wallis, film producer with whom the comics are alleged to have contracted to make seven pictures, and York Pictures Company.

The action asks $8,000,000 damages from York Pictures and Wallis.

Papers Link Princess With New Prospect

LONDON, Aug. 4 (Reuters)—London gossip writers veered toward the name of Billy Wallace as Princess Margaret's husband-to-be today with the announcement that he has been invited to her 21st birthday Aug. 24.

And they have been dating pretty steadily in recent weeks, newspapers pointed out.

Wallace, 24, is the son of the late Capt. E. Wallace, a government minister. His mother now is married to Herbert Agar, the United States author.

Royal romance rumors spring up each year as another birthday rolls round. This year the three most often mentioned are Wallace, the youthful Scottish Earl of Dalkeith and Lord Ogilvie.

But today's announcement put Wallace in the lead.

Common Rifle Not Settled In Washington

OTTAWA, Aug. 4—(CP)—The question of a common rifle for the Atlantic Treaty's Big Four was still unresolved today after a two days arms meeting on the ministerial level in Washington.

But, nevertheless, Defence Minister Claxton termed the Washington talks "in every way a satisfactory conference." He said views were "expressed on the difficult problem with great frankness and in a spirit of co-operation."

It was Mr. Claxton himself who suggested the Washington conference among Britain, France, the U.S. and Canada, thus pointing up this country's concern over lack of agreement on a common rifle and small arms ammunition.

Arrives Back

The minister arrived back in Ottawa late last night, looking tired and armed wit han official press release on the Washington proceedings. He takes off again this morning for Camp Shilo, Man., and later a rendenzvous with Prime Minister St. Laurent who headed west yesterday.

The press release on the Washington conference, the first such meeting on the ministerial level, salad that to permit the arming of Atlantic Pact countries as to and weapons should be continued accepted standard ammunition pidly as possible," the recently-in production for some time.

"At the same time it was unanimously agreed that as early as practicable, a new round of small arms ammunition should be adopted."

The statement also said that the conference decided to hand the problem over to the standing group of the N.A.T.O. organization. The group will study the matter and make recommendations "which will enable a decision to be reached within the next few months."

Ottawa Only Imports Butter

OTTAWA, Aug. 4 (CP) — The government Friday banned butter imports by private trade and appointed itself sole importing agent with power to buy up to 20,000,000 pounds to avert a posible butter shortage next winter.

It also held out the hope that it may indirectly and temporarily boost the 58-cent-a-pound floor price on butter to entice a few thousand pounds into empty government larders.

Agriculture Minister Gardiner told a press conference that a newly-created agricultural products board has been given authority to import 10,000,000 pounds of butter countries at prices to be negotiated within the next few days.

In addition, it has been given power to obtain options on another 10,000,000 pounds to be purchased in the event that butter production in Canada falls below current estimates.

$250,000 Fire Destroys Paint Plant

SASKATOON, Aug. 4—(CP)—A spectacular three-alarm fire yesterday caused estimated damage of $250,000 to premises of the Winnipeg Paint and Glass Co., and the Canada Egg Products Ltd.

Cause of the fire is not known. But it is believed to have started in an empty box car standing on a rail siding behind the glass plant.

About 70 firemen battled the blaze, which left the two premises gutted.

Long-Range Program

Defence Of Montreal Costs $363 Million

MONTREAL, Aug. 4 (CP) — The cost of living isn't the only thing that is high these days—so is the cost of preparedness. The Montreal civil defence organization has estimated that it will cost $363,000,000 to defend the city, No. 1 Canadian target for enemy attack, if war should break out.

In a report made public last night, the organization sets this figure for a large-scale, long-range public works program. The program emphasizes two aspects of public safety, easy mobility within the metropolitan area and speedy means of communication in and out of the area.

The report also estimates at $18,543,380 the cost of minimum stand-by emergency requirements.

Rail Tunnels

The long-range program envisages railway and highway tunnels under the St. Lawrence river, extra bridges across rivers surrounding the island, an elevated expressway in the city, a vehicular tunnel through Mount Royal, a mass transportation subway, underground parking areas and shelters, health centres and auxiliary police and fire stations, among other things.

The interim emergency budget covers such items as hospital services, first aid and emergency medical supplies, increased police and firefighting facilities as well as public relations and administration.

Last July 29, Health Minister Martin, federal minister responsible for civil defence who had received a copy of the report, informed Welfare Minister Sauve of Quebec that the federal budget envisaged many such matters as were involved in the short-term financial estimates for civil defence here. He said, however, it did not envisage such construction projects as are contained in the long-term list.

No Contribution

Last Thursday, a delegation of members of the metropolitan civil defence organization called on Mr. Martin in Ottawa. The delegation was told Montreal can expect no cash contribution toward what it considers its minimum budget. The long-range public works program was not discussed.

Mr. Martin is reported as saying that Maj.-Gen. F. F. Worthington, Canadian civil defence co-ordinator, was expected to submit a detailed analysis of the Montreal organization's budget within 10 days.

Lumber Worst

Drought Hits BC Economy

VANCOUVER, Aug. 4 (CP)—Drought's dusty hand is pinching British Columbia's economy.

Some 25,000 mtn, mostly loggers, are out of work. The forests were ordered closed July 12 in Southwestern BC because of the fire hazard.

The drought so far has cost an estimated $7,000,000— $4,000,000 in loggers' wages, $2,00 by lumber operators, and $1,000,000 by farmers.

No Rain In 52 Days

There has been no rain for 52 days, and the weatherman said today none is in sight. It is the longest dry spell on record on the West Coast.

Stocks of logs have run low for the 500 mills in the district, and lumbermen forecast a serious log famine for this winter. Some major mills have already closed—a few are on short time and nearly all the small ones have shut down.

Lumber exporters, holding the best batch of Commonwealth orders in years, are behind in loading schedules.

The $50,000,000 order for some 600,000,000 board feet for shipment to Britain before July, 1952, calls for loading of about 50,000,000 feet a month out of BC ports. These orders alone take up 25 per cent of the sawmill output.

Go To New Jobs

Labor supply is another worry for the operators. Many loggers have taken new jobs, particularly on the Aluminum Company of Canada's development in Northern BC.

Department store managers here indirectly attribute a 14 per cent drop in business in the first week of July, compared to the same week last year, to loggers' lost wages.

The full shock, however, will not be felt until winter. Shortages have been predicted for all kinds of lumber, including fuel, and for dairy products.

Butter produuction is down about 50 per cent and farmers are dipping into next winter's feed supplies because pastures have been burned brown.

Tenth Conference Ends Still Deadlocked; Reds Give Flat Answer

Joy Notes Communist Soldiers Violate Neutrality; March Near Conference Leaders Reds Promise To Investigate

By ROBERT B. TUCKMAN

UN ADVANCE HEADQUARTERS, Korea, Aug. 4. (AP)—Gen. Nam Il today told United Nations truce negotiators the Reds could not depart in any particular from their demands for a cease-fire buffer zone along Korea's 38th parallel. The senior Communist envoy made this flat statement in direct reply to a question by Vice-Admiral C. Turner Joy, chief of the United Nations delegation. Nam also rejected a suggestion by Joy that the Red delegation examine a map of the area in question, an official announcement said at the end of today's 64-minute session.

Negotiators will tackle the thorny problem again tomorrow. Their 20th session and the 10th devoted to this one item, is scheduled for 11 a.m. (9 p.m. Saturday EDT).

Neutrality Violated

In the brief seven-minute afternoon session Joy "noted for the record" that the neutrality of Kaesong was violated by an estimated company of armed Chinese soldiers who passed within a few hundred yards of the UN staff house and a quarter mile from the former restaurant where talks are being held.

The official UN communique said "an investigation was promised by the Communists."

The Chinese soldiers, armed with rifles, automatic weapons and hand grenades, were marched by just as the UN delegation and staff were returning to the conference building after a luncheon recess.

They marched toward an encampment less than a mile from the conference site.

The neutrality zone was laid down by Admiral Joy July 15 in an elaboration of armistice conditions set forth two days earlier by Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, supreme Allied commander.

The Reds agreed to the UN demands.

It was noted here that the presence of the soldiers in the area did not break up the conference, and that Joy merely noted their presence "for the records."

An army statement issued here said that in suggesting Nam Il examine the map, Joy was making "still another effort to establish a mutually acceptable viewpoint as a forerunner to a possible agreement for item two of the agenda."

May Bypass

If the Reds hold firm to the stand outlined by Nam today, the negotiators may be forced to bypass the issue for the time being and go on to item three of the agenda—supervision of the truce if and when an armistice is agreed upon.

It is not believed likely the talks will collapse, at least at this time.

At the end of the morning session today Nam Il gave a one-minute interview to this reporter.

He was asked: "General, do you think an agreement can be reached?"

Through an interpreter Nam replied: "I cannot give you an answer now."

He drove away before any other questions could be asked.

Communists press reports have led to speculation that the Reds would eventually agree to some sort of compromise on the buffer-zone problem. There was no indication of that in Nam's statement today.

The UN allies have firmly rejected the Red demands that the line be drawn along the 38th Parallel, pre-war boundary between North and South Korea.

The UN wants it along the present battle lines, which reach up to 35 miles into Red Korea in the east, but dip south of 38 in the west.

Won't Compromise

State Secretary Dean Acheson said earlier this week that the United States will not compromise on this question.

But officials in Washington believe that the United Nations truce team has some leeway in the matter of details, if the Reds agree to accept the present battle lines for negotiating purposes.

It is significant that Communist propaganda broadcasts have exaggerated the UN demands. The North Korean radio at Pyongyang today declared Admiral Joy "wants to rob North Korea of a strip of land 40 miles wide north of the 38th Parallel, and to occupy it with United Nations forces after withdrawal of Korean and Chinese forces . . ."

Possibly the Reds have painted this distorted picture of UN demands as a means of claiming a victory at Kaesong if they are forced to accept UN terms.

Market Action Irregular Through Week

By DICK BAIDEN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Irregularity was the keynote on stock markets this week.

Papers in Montreal, base metals in Toronto and steels and rubbers in New York led their markets alternately higher and lower. Only New York closed with an appreciable gain.

Three weeks ago a modest advance started on all markets and some observers thought last winter's bull market was starting again. Last week there was a fairly sharp upswing.

This week, however, Canadian markets levelled off and, with the exception of a brief flurry of interest in base metals in Toronto, made little headway. Toronto daily volume was well over the million mark and, on Thursday, climbed to more than 2,000,000. A large part of this volume, however, was due to selective buying in western oils and base metals.

Metals Rallied

Canadian markets opened Monday with little trend. Toward the close base metals and industrials rallied the Toronto market and papers headed a slight advance in Montreal.

Papers dropped moderately Tuesday in Montreal in an otherwise fairly mixed market. Industrials slipped more than a point in Toronto and base metals weakened.

Base metals came back strongly Wednesday in Toronto and pushed well ahead of a generally mixed mraket. Montreal trading was trendless.

Base metals continued their advance Thursday in Toronto and, combined with western oils, pushed volume to 2,124,000 shares. A considerable part of this, however, was centred in a relatively few stocks. In Montreal, papers were again active and, with industrials, led prices slightly higher.

Friday saw irregular trading in a mixed Toronto market. Papers led the Montreal market lower.

From Friday to Friday, the Toronto Stock Exchange indices showed industrials up 2.78 at 335.24, golds down .86 at 80.05, base metals up 5.37 at 181.41 and western oils up .24 at 106.52.

In the Montreal averages, papers were up 2.76 at 819.71, industrials up 2.3 at 230.4, banks off .01 at 29.35, utilities up 1.6 at 86.9, combined up 2.1 at 182.6 and golds off .92 at 61.98.

In New York The Associated Press average of 60 stocks climbed $1.10 to $96.70.

'Man To Dinner' To Take Stage

Next week the Peterborough Sumemr Theatre is presenting "The Man Who Came To Dinner," the farce by Moss Hart and George S. Kaufman.

It is a play based on one of the most acid-tongued personalities of the American stage, the late Alexander Wollcott. Under assumed names we also meet Noel Coward and Groucho Marx, as well as a Kansas actress who sounds very British until she loses her temper, an ant colony, three penguins and a boys' choir.

The story takes place in the home of the unsuspecting Stanley family, on whose doorstep Sheridan Whiteside, the famous author and critic, slipped and cracked his hip. Mr. Whiteside takes over the house, runs up tremendous telephone bills, entertains convicts at lunch, talks the two Stanley children into running away from home, allows ten thousand cockroaches to run rampant through the house, and a series of other things happen which make the Stanley's lives a living misery.

Whiteside's secretary falls in love with a local newspaperman, and the idea of having his madly ordered life disrupted is more than "The Master" can bear. The sceme he evolves to break up the romance throws everyone isto a state of hysteria, and what ensues is bedlam.

Gerry Sarracini will be starred as Sheridan Whiteside, Kate Reid plays his secretary, Maggie Cutler. Peter Mews plays both Beverley Carlton and Banjo, Ann Murray is the actress, Pat Atkinson plays the long-sufferisg nurse, Ron Bailey is the doctor and also the mad professor, Frank Perry plays the newspaperman. Also in the cast are Jean Robb, Michael Sadlier, Joyce Beggs, Bill Needles, with supporting stage people in quantities.

The Winnah!

BOONVILLE, NY, Aug. 4. (AP)—Joseph Pfeifer moved back into his home yesterday after winning a four-day battle with 500 bats. Pfeifer discovered a few bats living in a double roof on his house a year ago. He left them alone until two months ago when they became too numerous to tolerate. First he tried driving them out of the roof with chemicals. But they just invaded the rest of the dwelling. Then he and neighbors tried brooms with as little success. As a last resort Pfeiffer moved out his family and fumigated with sulphur candles. After four days of fumigation he estimated more than 500 dead or groggy bats had been removed.

Yalu River

"At that conjuncture, however, the aggressive forces of Communist China crossed the boundary line into Korea and so changed the balance of combat power that the forces of the ROK and the United Nations were forced to retire. . ."

Since then, the release added, the US Eighth Army has driven the Reds back to a line running from Kaesong on the west, Pyongyang in the centre, and the Yangin River in the east. In addition, UN air and naval units have "gained and continued to maintain control up to the line of the Yalu and Tumen Rivers."

"It is here in the zone between the present ground front and the air and sea fronts on and adjacent to the northern boundaries of Korea that the military situation is stabilized—that the military forces are in balance.

"The military demarcation line upon which we must reach agreement, therefore, lies somwhere between the air and sea front on the Yalu and the ground front in the area of Kaesong, Pyongyang, and the Yangin River. . . ."

Red delegates at the cease-fire talks in Kaesong have stood firm for the 38th Parallel as the truce line.

An hour after the section issued its statement on Russia, it tried to withhold publication. It said the release was intended as "background information" for editors and was not intended to be printed.

Plane Missing Two Weeks, Search Continues

VANCOUVER, Aug. 4 (CP). — The trail of a missing Korean airlift plane grew cold today.

But search officials said they have no intention of giving up the hunt yet. "We never actually give up hope," one said.

The Canadian Pacific Airlines plane with 38 aboard vanished two weeks ago today somewhere over the Alaska Panhandle, the jagged strip of mountain and fjord which hooks south from Alaska proper.

The latest two of six clues turned up yesterday when an Alaska coastal airlines pilot said he and his passengers saw a yellow life raft and a fisherman reported finding a case of army rations.

Fog prevented a US coast guard cutter from searching for the life raft last night. A plane was to pick up the army rations and take them to search headquarters at Juneau, Alaska, for inspection.

The other four possible leads were traced down and discarded.

Distress Signals

Weak distress signals stuttered out of the north the day after the plane's disappearance. But their source could not be determined and searchers said they doubted that the SOS came from survivors.

A little more than a week later, a shoe was found washed up on an Alaska beach, it turned out that it had been thrown overboard from a fishing vessel.

Early in the week, a trucker reported he had seen what looked like a plane's wreckage high on a mountainside. An air check showed it to be a glacier.

Some 30 planes have been searching every day since the plane disappeared. These include aircraft of the US Air Force from Alaska and Washington, RCAF planes from Whitehorse, Y.T., Prince Rupert, B.C., and Vancouver, an C.P.A. lanes.

Two U.S. Coast Guard cutters have probed inlets along the panhandle as wel.

Still nothing.

Ford Buys 140-Acre Farm For $150,000

OAKVILLE, Aug. 4—Purchase of a 140-acre poultry farm for $150,000 to make way for an automobile plant has been concluded by the Ford Motor Co.

The farm is part of a 427-acre tract between the Eighth and Ninth Lines in Trafalgar Township.

Wilfred S. Hall, owner of the poultry farm, announced today the sale of his property. Two houses on the land valued at $25,000, were not sold. They will be moved.

The Hall property was the second largest parcel bought by the Ford Motor Co. William W. King was the owner of 250 acres, sold at an undisclosed price. Eight other land owners sold holdings to the automobile company. The factory site is bordered by the Queen Elizabeth Way on the north and the CNR main Hamilton-Toronto line to the south.

"I will be able to take things easy now, but I am not going to give up work entirely," said Mr. Hall. He said he believed he would not have to vacate the land until next spring.

G. H. Hulbert who was paid $15,000 for the six and a half acres, said the price was better than any price on the open market. Those with crops said they would be able to harvest them before they move.

WINDSOR, Aug. 4—(CP)—Two men were slightly injured Friday when their light plane turned over during a takeoff at Windsor airport.

Donald McMurren, 25, and Clifford Bell, 27, both Greyhound bus drivers on a day off, were treated for deep head cuts.

Officials of Leavens Brothers, owners of the aircraft, said McMurren was a licensed pilot who had taken his training with the company. Bell was going along for his first trip aloft.

Caught By Gust

The plane was apparently caught in gusty winds as it moved down the runway. McMurren applied pressure to his brakes just as a gust of wind lifted the craft. As it touched the runway again it nosed over and settled on its back.

Both occupants were thrown heavily against the instrument panel and received deep forehead gashes.

The aircraft was damaged about the front end. Its wooden propeller was shattered as was the windscreen. One wing was slightly damaged.

Villages Share Fire Department

BRAMPTON, Aug. 4. — The villages of Churchville and Meadowvale have agreed to share one fire department. The two municipalities, located in the northern part of Toronto Township, are three miles apart. Already 23 men from the two communities have volunteered to serve in the new brigade.

Thomas Cattle of Churchville, who served 29 years on the Toronto Fire Department before retirement, will be deputy-chief in charge of the department.

Toronto Township Fire Chief Jack Braithwaite said the first problem will be to secure a hall as close as possible to the halfway mark between the two municipalities, where a fire truck can be located.

The township will provide a heating system for the fire hall and clothing for the volunteers. When the hall has been found a fire truck will be brought up from the Cooksville brigade.

Fire departments from Cooksville and Brampton at present answer calls in the area.

Student Likes Canada But Food Too Dear

TORONTO, Aug. 4 (CP). — Maurice Sharma, 19-year-old Fiji Island student who arrived here Friday, says that Canada is a wonderful country but the food is too epensive. Used to such family dishes as roast whole pig, he finds restaurant fare somewhat limited.

He plans to study medicine at the University of Western Ontario before returning to his own country as a missionary.

Wind Shift Saves Industrial District

NEW WESTMINSTER, BC, Aug. 4 (CP)—A shift in the wind Friday saved New Westminster's multi-million dollar industrial district from destruction by fire.

A shingle mill of the Capilano Timber Co. was destroyed with loss estimated at more than $60,000, and flames were heading for other big plants when the shift in wind came.

"It was pure luck," said Fire Chief Claude Highsted. "It looked for a moment as if the whole area would go."

The loss included two 125-foot kilns, containing $50,000 worth of shingles.

Towns, Route Of Visit By Princess, Duke Made Known Next Week

OTTAWA, Aug. 4 (CP)—What towns and cities are going to be lucky enough to get a look at Princess Elizabeth and her husband when they visit Canada during October?

And when?

Those questions will be answered when the itinerary for their tour, still being studied by governmest officials, is made public.

The best information today — and it may change tomorrow—is that it will be "some days" before the schedule is issued.

The hold-up apparently arises from the difficulty of keeping the tour as informal as possible, as the Princess and the Duke of Edinburgh have requested, and of allowing as many Canadians as possible to see her.

Beseiged

A committee of government officials who have been working out the schedule has been beseiged by requests from municipalities across the country for a place on the royal route.

A skeleton draft has been approved by the Princess. This must now be filled is.

It has been announced that the Princess and the Duke of Edinburgh sail from England Sept. 25 aboard the liner Empress of France, arriving at Quebec about Sept. 30. They hope to visit most of the principl Canadias centres.

From London Friday came official word that the royal couple have accepted the invitation of President Truman to visit him in Washington Oct. 24 to 26. It is not known whether they will visit other American cities.

It had been expected originally that the Princess and the Duke would remain in Canada about three weeks However, the fact they will be in Washington from Oct. 24 to 26 indicates their stay on this continent will last about a month.

The fact they now are scheduled to be in Washington toward the latter part of October also indicates their tour of Canada might follow this rough—and unofficial—pattern:

Unofficial Route

They would land at Quebec about Sept. 30, visit Montreal and Ottawa and then tour some Ontario centres. From there, they would go through the West, probably by aircraft, visiting major centres on their way to the Pacific coast.

It has been reported reliably that the Royal couple have expressed a wish to spend a week by themselves on a private holiday while in Canada. It is expected arrangements will be made for them to have that week together on one of the smaller islands off Vancouver Island.

They then would head back east, visiting Southwestern Ontario and crossing the border there for their trip to Washington. Their return to Canada would be at New Brunswick and they would visit the Maritime provinces, ending their tour in Newfoundland.

Parallel Royal Tour

This schedule would roughly parallel the Royal tour of 1939, when the King and Queen spent three weeks in Canada and made a side visit to Washington and New York.

However, officials here have emphasized that the visit of the Princess and the Duke, by their own wish, will be much more informal than the elaborate Royal visit of 1939.

For instance, Prime Minister St. Laurent does not plan to accompany the Princess and her husband across the country, though former prime minister Mackenzie King escorted the King and Queen throughout their 1939 visit.

Mr. St. Laurent likely will meet the Royal couple at Quebec and possibly come with them to Ottawa. From here, they probably will be attended by Canadian cabinet ministers at various stages of their tour.

INNOCENT SUFFER—A heavy toll on the young, innocent and aged is unavoidable in war-torn countries. The expression on the faces of these Canadian soldiers show their feeling of sympathy for this North Korean boy. Canada Chosen For Vatican If War Comes VATICAN CITY, Aug. 4 (CP)—Vatican sources have isdicated that Canada has been chosen as a Vatican haven in case of war but have ridiculed reports in an American magazine that the Pope might abdicate in case of an emergency.

They were commenting on a story in the magazine Look, which said Vatican plans provided that the Pope would abdicate but would remain in the Holy See of the Vatican were in danger of being overrun. The story said that in such acase, heads of Vatican departments would seek sanctuary probably in the western hemisphere.

The Vatican source said the Holy See had some time ago chosen Canada as a safe place to send things but not persons if the Vatican state were threatened.

"We have reasons to believe," these sources said, "that the Pope would never leave his territory. Not only that, but he would never become the simple Msgr. Eugenio Pacelli he was before election to supreme pontiff.

"The sensational journalists have forgotten one little detail. The Pope is also Bishop of Rome and a bishop can never leave his diocese even for the gravest reasons."

Potatoes, Tomatoes Grow On One Plant

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., Aug 4 — Eric McMane, who has a fine garden at Beaverdams and Beechwoods Road, in Stamford, seems to have soived the problem of gettng tiwo kinds of vegetables from one plant.

He has three potato plants, with potatoes growing underneath and tomatoes on top. There are about 25 tomatoes above ground and a normal crop of potatoes underground. It is believed the plants must have been cross-pollenized by bees.

R. W. Sheppard, Agriculture Department representative here, said he had never seen such plants though he had heard of them. He said potato and tomato plants are closely related. Interbreeding is possible, though extremely rare.

Peron Orders Strike Settled

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina, Aug. 4—(AP)—For the second time in eight months, President Juan D. Peron has invoked his wartime military powers over all Argentina's government-owned railway network in answer to a railway strike.

A presidential decree authorized army commanders to crack down on striking engineers and firemen, whose walkout was in its third day Friday, and take all measures to keep the trains rolling.

The original decree broke a railwaymen's strike last January. A government communique said the stoppage could hit food supplies seriously.

The decree puts railway men in the same class as soldiers and subject them to court martial if they do not follow orders.

The Brotherhood of Engineers and Firemen started the strike Wednesday avowedly "to protect our rights." The union protested the government would not let members pick their own officers. Explosions ripped up tracks on four main lines near Buenos Aires in the first outbreak Wednesday.

Dinghies On The Kawarthas

Peterborough has long been a centre for aquatic sports. Five generations of our people, their friends and visitors, summer cottagers and campers, have known the delights of Kawartha regattas—those social and sporting events which dot half a dozen of our lakes on summer week-ends. Not all the regattas in the Kawarthas are regional in scope. As early as 1883 the American Canoe Association held its regatta at Juniper Island. From that year forward the Kawarthas have known many national and international meets. One of these is scheduled to take place on Clear Lake in the middle of this month.

* * *

From August 15th to 18th the Canadian Dinghy Association will hold its meet on Clear Lake. Some fifty dinghies and their crews from many parts of Canada and the United States will compete in five classes. The host of the C.D.A. meet is the Stony Lake Yacht Club.

* * *

The continuance of a long tradition of aquatic sporting events in this important way will be greeted with satisfaction by our own people and all friends of the Kawarthas. It will be a major summer event and is sure to attract hosts of observers. Sailing has never been as commonplace on our lakes as canoeing, rowing and motor-boat racing. It is pleasant indeed to contemplate the prospect of fifty boats under sail on Clear Lake. But who can call sailing commonplace ever? A sailboat is the very poetry of motion, and a lyric to behold. What is lovelier than tall white sails against a puffy blue sky, the jaunty craft spanking through clear blue waters? Clear Lake will indeed provide a spectacle during the four days of the Canadian Dinghy Association races.

Plato and Canada

The pompous heading over these remarks is misleading. We do not pretend to be qualified to discuss the relationship. We merely wish to draw attention to the ancient Greek philosopher's strictures on democracy in his Republic (a book we acknowledge to having once read rather carefully) and to ask if the government we now have in Ottawa with its corps of learned, brilliant senior civil servants does not approximate the ideal of Plato's Republic?

Wise people have studied Plato's Republic (the book) over twenty centuries; idealists have sought the realization of his Republic (the state) for as long. These idealists have varied from outright fascists and communists to dyed-in-the-wool democrats and royalists. In Plato, as in the Bible and Shakespeare, justification can be found for almost any point of view. Dictators need not stick to Nietzche; they can find more sanctified support in Plato.

Since men cannot be trusted always to know their true interests, Plato says, the state must have the authority to force them into the ways of righteousness. But for the democratic state with its ideal of liberty and equality Plato had little regard. He says in the Republic.

> "No one who does not know would believe how much greater is the liberty which animals have who are under the dominion of men in a democracy than in any other state. For truly the dogs, as the proverb says, are as good as their she-mistresses, and the horses and asses come to have a way of marching along with all the rights and dignities of free men, and they will run at anybody whom they meet in the street if he does not get out of their way, and everything is just ready to burst with liberty."

Men are not equal, however, Plato says, and it is only a perversion that the worst should rule the best. People will be vastly better off if they cease bothering their heads about affairs of state, and turn over the conduct of their lives to those whose wisdom gives them the right to rule. Then only, with a philosopher-king who knows what is best, and a state that will submit itself to wise direction, shall we have a remedy for the ills of the world, and a chance for man to realize his highest good.

Our Government and senior civil service are now being examined with envy and approval by other nations. They say, thus Canada achieves stability (we have had variations of the same government for a quarter of a century), wise direction and progressive results. We have, in Ottawa, experts in finance, international relations and sociology, whose services other nations would buy at any price they cared to name. We have a political continuity which gives these experts scope and time to exercise their arts and achieve their alms. 'Turn over the conduct of your lives to those whose wisdom gives them the right to rule,' says Plato. Have we in Canada done this? Have we done it with rare success: securing what is the unresolved hazard of Plato's Republic—adequate political control over the experts who know what is best for us? These things may be. Canada may have achieved enlightened paternalism without despotism. Is Canada today the historic realization of Plato's Republic?

This all sounds very undemocratic. But the fact may be that pure democracy (which no country has ever had, least of all the United States, which contains the last and richest aristocracy) is an outmoded myth. So-called political democracies have had to shed most of their democratic trimmings in times of crises, and put on dictatorship by government and government heads. For instance, in the last war Britain had the despotic, benevolent, patriotic Churchill. The United States had the strong, authoritarian Roosevelt; Canada had King and Ilsey. All the western democracies had to come to partial conscription of wealth and human liberty, and their freedom was impaired of necessity.

Is Canada today a paternal autocracy of an entrenched Government and brilliant senior Civil Servants, ruling wisely and well, but with only token reference to Parliament and people; decreeing what taxes are good for them, what measures shall be taken for their defence, and even by what name they may call their country—Canada, not the Dominion of Canada?. Plato might be well pleased to have his Republic so complacently reproduced.

Turbulent Priest

Henry II is said to have incited the knights to kill Thomas a Becket by exclaiming, "Who will rid me of this turbulent priest " This is the feeling of many Englishmen when the name of Dr. Hewlett Johnson, Dean of Canterbury, is mentioned. The sayings of the Red Dean are noted with approval in the Kremlin, while the Western World wonders whether it is nourishing a traitor or a simpleton.

Chosen for his office by Ramsay Macdonald under the anomalous situation in which bishops and other high dignitaries of the Church of England are nominated by the King on advice from his Prime Minister, whether he be Presbyterian, Jew or Agnostic, Dean Hewlett Johnson has survived an attempt by a small group of Conservative M.P.'s to deprive him of his office. He was accused of preaching "subversive and heretical doctrines." This means that he has consistently advocated Soviet Communism and held that it is more Christian in actual fact than capitalism.

It is hard to see how a man of the undoubted intelligence and sincerity of Dr. Johnson can hold such opinions. They are not, however, heretical. Dr. Johnson's appointment to Canterbury was a mistake in the first place, but his unorthodox political opinions are not sufficient in themselves to have him removed from office. In these days we hear so much of witch-hunts on both sides of the iron curtain that it is refreshing to find an instance of toleration.

We hazard a guess that the Red Dean owes a good deal of his notoriety to a misunderstanding. His title is sufficiently similar to that of the Archbishop of Canterbury for the impression to be given that he is the foremost leader of the Anglican Church and speaks for that church as a whole, especially when he is quoted at length in Pravda. In actual fact his jurisdiction is confined to the cathedral and its precincts; he is, as it were, the rector of the mother church of the Anglican communion, no more, no less.

We Disclaim Liability For Misprint

So many people have 'phoned the Examiner about a misprint in a two-column heading in last Tuesday's issue that we herewith notify all and sundry that we utterly refuse to accept liability or responsibility for the misprint. Some genie in the ink or goblin in the press or a hovering spirit over all, perpetrated the misprint; not us. We were not attempting to prophesy; we were not making a Godlike promise; we were not intentionally exalting a leading Liberal into an everlasting Superman; nor do we quite believe that the Right Honourable C. D. Howe, despite his numerous and extraordinary capacities, is endowed with heaven-sent armour or a Jupiter-charmed life. The two-column heading over the story about the new Government booklet on how to meet atom attack was: "HOWE TO SURVIVE A-BOMB."

Controls In U.K. Vs. Efficiency

by PHILIP VERNON

THERE have been two items of news this week between which there is no apparent connection. One, the announcement by Mr. Gaitskell (Chancellor of the Exchequer) of his proposals to defeat inflation—which has captured all the front-page headlines. The other, the news that Sir John Woods, Permanent Secretary to the Board of Trade, is soon to retire from the public service and enter private industry—which was scarcely noticed. There is, as I have said, no aparent connection between these two events. But appearances are sometimes deceptive: there is a connection, and it is an instructive one.

✧ ✧ ✧

THERE are two ways of countering inflation. Either one can remove its underlying cause—in other words reduce the demands which are being made on the limited national resources. Or one can merely attack its symptoms. Mr. Gaitskell has chosen the latter course. The proposals which he announced in the House of Commons on Thursday—to reimpose price control over a wide range of goods, and to enforce a statutary limit on the gross amount which registered companies may distribute in dividends—are designed to restrain the symptoms of inflation. They leave its causes untouched.

✧ ✧ ✧

MR. GAITSKELL, who is an intelligent man with little party spite in his make-up, was clearly unhappy in announcing these new measures. He could find little to say for them. He admitted that "it would be wrong to supose that" the new price controls are "likely to bring a significant reduction in the retail price index." And as for the limitation of dividends, this new and controversial proposal was to be regarded primarily as a "psychological" measure. Workers who saw that dividends were increasing would, perhaps naturally, continue to demand wage increases for themselves: dividends must therefore be limited for the next three years at least in the hope that workers will thereby be encouraged to restrain their own demands for higher wages.

THERE is, of course, more politics than economics in this new policy. The increasing cost of living troubles the government more than any other issue today. As the resolutions to be discussed at the Labour Party conference in October show, (they were published earlier this week), the government's own supporters are growing increasingly impatient with what they regard as a shameful neglect of the workers' interests in this matter. It is in the tradition of the Labour Party to imagine that profits are the root of all evil and that prices can somehow be fixed by Act of Parliament — irrespective of the various factors which determine their rise and fall. It is to this sentiment that Mr. Aneurin Bevan appealed in his pamphlet "One Way Only"; and it is to this sentiment again that Mr. Gaitskell has made concessions in his new proposals.

But this is not the real reason why Mr. Gaitskell, as is already apparent from the press, can expect to be roundly condemned, not only by his political opponents but also by those who are politically disinterested. He has chosen (however much against his will) to return to a system of physical controls after four years of striving to rid the country of them. The inevitable result, as the economists have been quick to point out, can only be a return to inflexibility in administration and rigidity in the country's economy.

PROFESSOR Lionel Robbins, one of the economists who was recruited to the public service during the war, has described well the difficulties of operating a system of physical controls from Whitehall. It is only, he has said, if you have sat for hour after hour in the minister's anteroom waiting for him to make a score of decisions so that he may eventually turn to the problem which you wish to raise—it is only if you have experienced this frustration, that you know the absurdity of trying to control the nation's economy in detail and from the centre.

It is this consideration that makes the resignation of Sir John Woods from the Board of Trade relevant to the questions with which Mr. Gaitskell had to deal in his economic survey. Sir John Woods (the second senior Civil Servant to resign from the public service this year) is the permanent head of his department. He is a man of quite exceptional ability; one of the greatest of contemporary public servants whose services will be sorely missed—not least by his political chief. Why has he chosen to resign now, at the age of 57, after 31 years in the civil service?

The reason may partly be the smallness of his salary: £3,500 a year (£2,000 after deduction of tax) is a small sum to pay to the man on whom more than on any other single person the efficiency of a great public department rests.

✧ ✧ ✧

BUT I do not think that money is the only, or even the most important, reason for his resignation. The fact is that senior civil servants are today grossly overworked. This in itself would not matter—for they are used to overwork—if it were not that the Civil Service is being overloaded with problems of detailed administration and control which make the development of a coherent departmental policy all but impossible. The higher civil servants would take it as a matter of course if they tired themselves out in the creation of a positive and imaginative policy for their departments: but instead they exhaust themselves in working out a system of detailed regulations and controls which is not only mentally tormenting but is also negative in its aproach to the problems of their departments.

It is as much the futility of this work as the heaviness of its burden which accounts for the resignations of the two higher civil servants. The British Civil Service has always had a reputation for political impartiality, utter incorruptibility and remarkable efficiency. It is likely to remain politically impartial and incorruptible. The danger now is that it will cease to be efficient. And it is this aspect of Mr. Gaitskell's new policy of increased control from the centre which will increasingly draw attention during the next two years.

Penal Trouble In Britain

(KINGSTON WHIG-STANDARD)

THERE will be considerable interest, especially in communities near which penal institutions are located, in reports from the United Kingdom, of a recent change of attitude on the part of prison authorities there. A recent investigation of prison conditions in Britain, made by the Home Office, has resulted in two major criticisms of then existing conditions: one was that discipline needed tightening even at the risk of increasing the number of punishments, and the other was that the policy of leniency, appeasement or soft treatment "as at present interpreted is not having the success expected or desired".

It is not surprising that the reported change of policy has touched off a hot controversy among penal experts in Britain. Some approve the "tougher" policy, while others contend that it is only a step back toward the Middle Ages.

Those who support a more severe policy in dealing with prisoners will undoubtedly advance Britain's experiment in abolishing the death penalty as a significant point in their favour. It will be recalled that after a temporary period of abolition, the British Government felt compelled to reimpose the penalty. This was regarded as an admission that the Government had concluded that capital punishment was still a necessary deterrent for the protection of society, and it is altogether probable that conclusion had been reached.

We think that conclusion was sound, but to argue from it that there should be general reimposition of former and more severe policies governing the treatment of all prisoners committed for other offences would be unsound, in our opinion. The percentage of repeaters in Canadian prisons in the past provided more than sufficient evidence of the urgent need of penal reform in this country—and there was plenty of additional evidence to prove need of reform. Inevitably, there will be prisoners who will seek to take advantage of reforms, and we see no reason why severe punishment should not be provided in such cases. To condemn reform, however, because of such individuals would indeed be a backward step.

Clan Campbell-MacLeod

(Ottawa Citizen)

The Montreal papers carry pictures of the arrival of Mrs. Flora MacLeod, chief of Clan MacLeod. And prominent among the three pipers who greeted her, whom do we find? A MacKinnon and a Campbell. This is passing strange for a folk who, according to a prominent member of Ottawa, are possessed of "a stubborn independence" and other attributes which set them apart from run-of-the-mine mortals. Could they not muster, from all Montreal and the hinterland, three MacLeods to hail their chieftain?

It will not be good enough to plead that the MacKinnon was a MacLeod on his mither's side, or the Campbell either.

There may be an explanation, of course. Perchance the MacKinnons and Campbells are both septs of the Clan MacLeod, a sept meaning, as one dictionary defines the word, "a subdivision of a tribe." The thought of the Campbells being a subdivision of anything is an interesting one.

But failing any such plausible explanation, it must be agreed that the Ottawa MacLeod knew whereof he spoke when he wrote, in this newspaper, that "the MacLeods are adaptable to almost any circumstance in which they find themselves." Even to importing a pair of pipers.

"In The Shade of the Old Apple Tree"

(London Free Press)

Egbert Anson Van Alstyne is dead but he will live perennially in the hearts of millions of later generations who will without doubt continue to sing and enjoy "In the Shade of the Old Apple Tree," "Old Pal," "Your Eyes Have Told Me So," "Navajo" and "Drifting and Dreaming," to say nothing of the rest of his remarkable output.

The master songwriters are prolific yet their fame depends upon a mere handful of successful melodies. Van Alstyne wrote 500 songs but then Schubert wrote about 800 of which we may possibly recall a dozen.

A songwriter makes a happy contribution to his generation and enjoys himself at the same time because he is fulfilling his destiny. Van Alstyne was fortunate and successful, and those of us who respond to sentimental melody are the comforted recipients.

His Glamour Lives On

(New York Herald-Tribune)

——The heart-throbs created by Rudolph Valentino in the movies of the 1920's still live in memory, although he died in 1926. A crew of cold-hearted wreckers are now tearing down his mansion in Hollywood to make way for a new super-highway. But the wreckers don't have as much work as they expected.

Souvenir hunters swarmed all over the 12-room white stucco Italian villa. Gold-leaf wallpaper was stripped from the walls of the bedroom. Plumbing fixtures were torn out; also the medicine chest and even toothbrush holders from the luxurious bathroom.

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

And Jesus returned in the power of the Spirit into Galilee: and there went out a fame of him through all the region round about. And he taught in their synagogues, being glorified of all . . .

And in the synagogue there was a man, which had a spirit of an unclean devil, and cried with a loud voice, saying, Let us alone: what have we to do with thee, thou Jesus of Nazareth? are thou come to destroy us? I know thee who thou art; the Holy One of God.

And Jesus rebuked him, saying, Hold thy peace, and come out of him. And when the devil had thrown him in the midst, he came out of him, and hurt him not. And they were all amazed, and spake among themselves, saying, What a word is this! for with authority and power he commandeth the unclean spirits, and they come out. And the fame of him went out into every place of the country round about . . . .

Now when the sun was setting, all they that had any sick with divers diseases brought them unto him; and he laid his hands on every one of them, and healed them. (Luke 4:14,15,33-37,40.)

Suppose you get tired of me writing so often of the Kawarthas in the good old days. But I feel qualified to do so after spending many years in the district. It enables me to make comparisons.

This week I will rant about the disappearance of courtesy in the Kawarthas. Once upon a time everyone in the lakeland district was his brother's keeper. Now, it seems, he is his brother's keeper-out-er. And by show of arms.

In one case, a large group of picnickers who had enjoyed the privilege of using a friend's lakeshore property for a gala night bonfire, hied themselves forth about a week ago for an evening of fun. They had no more than started their well-guarded fire when some character came out of the dark carrying a gun and demanding in a loud voice and menacing actions to get off and stay off. In fact, one picnicker had to tell this madman to remove the gun barrel from his face, please. They left and went elsewhere to have their bonfire but the ardour of the occasion was more than considerably dampened. A rare tale indeed for some of the American members to tell their countrymen of roughing it in Ontario. As it turned out, the gun toter did not own the land the people were using and the owners, who were away at the time, were horrified to hear of the incident on their reurn.

A second case had to do with two ladies who landed on an island to eat a cold sandwich supper and scout for berries. A youth with a gun gave them the same treatment, although not so violent. The fact still remains that he was using firearms to threaten people.

For the information of any who have similar warlike ideas, and their victims who are too descent to raise a stink about it to the authorities, think well what Section 124 of the Criminal Code has to say:

Everyone, who without lawful excuse, points at any other person any firearm or airgun, whether loaded or unloaded, is guilty of an offense and liable on summary conviction before two justices to a penalty not exceeding $100 and not less than $10 or to imprisonment for any term not exceeding 30 days with or without hard labour.

The Canadian Red Cross Society are distributing decal transfers for all boat owners, IF UPSET OR SWAMPED, HANG ON. DON'T LEAVE BOAT. A thousand of these have been distributed this week to all resort members of the Chamber of Commerce, ten each. Boat liveries will be next on the mailing list. Seems as though there could be a far greater distribution of these timely reminders in Peterborough, the country's centre for the manufacture of all sorts of outdoor equipment. Every canoe, outboard and dinghy that comes off the assembly lines as well as each new outboard motor should display one. I would even suggest a further step with the same message in stencil form for application to tents, boat covers and similar gear.

To determine the advisibility of transferring bass from overcrowded areas to more suitable habitat, lands and forests biologists are making a preliminary survey of several Haliburton lakes. It is a large, but complete job. Mapping of a lake showing depths, type of shoreline, spawning areas, weedbeds, rocks, shoals, inlets, outlets, and so forth. Water temperatures and oxygen content also have to be noted to give the complete picture.

Is the lakeland country of Victoria, Haliburton and Peterborough counties popular with city dwellers? Yes. In the past four years the Department of Lands and Forests have sold more than 1,200 cottage sites in this large area. Together with pride of ownership, 1,200 owners, their families and friends have a personal stake in the great outdoors. Everyone of these people are now forest-fire conscious. And a right good thing, too.

The news story and picture of the monster Stony Lake carp published in The Examiner last Saturday raised two schools of thought. (a) Readers who were amazed that the devilfish had finally reached the gamefish waters of Stony and thought something should be done about exterminating them. (b) A few horrifed resort operators who thought the evil news should be suppressed instead of publicized. Why, American guests, who were not catching as many fish as they would like to, might attribute carp to a scarcity, or something. They would go elsewhere another season. Just keep quiet about the situation, said they.

Did you ever hear anything so foolish? It is hoped there will be more such items published that will make every Kawartha-minded citizen so mad that supervised hunts will automatically be arranged without delay, to drive the devilfish from our waters. I have been preaching in this column for some sort of action for many months. Perhaps some group will do something about it. But, play it down? Never.

KAWARTHA SCOREBOARD

Chalk marks across the scoreboard this week point to a general improvement in the district fishing picture. Nothing big but consistent stuff . . . Small green frogs have the black bass snapping these days and industrious small boys are making themselves a small killing by re-selling them to bait dealers . . . Howard Stebbins of Lockport, N.Y., landed a beautiful 5-pound 4-ounce black at Rice Lake; a frog did the trick . . . Best 'lunge report this season comes from Oak Orchard a 30¼-pounder from Pigeon Lake. W. J. Wilson of Pennsylvania was the lucky man and host Perry Alexander, pictured at the Right, posed with the fish specimen. Was the fish really that long, Perry, or, how far were you kneeling behind it? . . . Dr. Fred Pitz of Peterborough landed a 4-pound green bass in Buckhorn Lake with a 4½-inch pickerel in its tummy . . . Citizen Jesse Aires landed a nice pickerel at Young's Point, 7½ pounds . . . Dorothy McDonald of Canton, O., guest of Wes Doyle's Pine Tree Lodge, Pigeon Lake, landed one two pounds larger; she used a flat-fish . . . Fred Young of Young's Point says all his guests this year at his Red Cedar Lodge are catch-happy; Ted Chichon, Charles Peteric, Ralph Cook and Mike Fields, all of Youngstown, got their limits of everything in adjoining waters . . . Lots of district doings during the next little while. Juniper regatta on Monday, Canadian Dinghy Association sailing regatta—biggest even in Canada—Aug. 15-18. Canada's first Sea Scout Masters' School at Lakefield just before that and, according to the almanac, two weeks of wonderful weather coming up. And it's all mine. Holidays. Peterborough Court Sentenced Boy 10 To Hang For Murder Of 4-Year-Old Girl

At the Peterborough Spring Assizes in May, 1850, a ten year old boy, George Green, was sentenced to be hanged for the murder of a little girl aged four years, named Margaret O'Connor, his foster sister.

The circumstances of the case form a terrible story believed to be unique in the story of criminology in Canada, and were as follows: Thomas and Eliza Rowan were a well-known farmer and his wife farming in Emily, who had no children, so they adopted a four-year-old orphan, Margaret O'Connor, an attractive child who became much beloved in the community. Shortly afterwards, the Rowans thought that she should be provided with a companion and so adopted ten-year-old George Green. Margaret soon showed a strong liking for her foster-brother and followed him about the premises and did his various chores. For some unknown and mysterious reason, George did not reciprocate his foster-sister's affection, and in fact, developed a dislike which grew into hatred, though there were no visible signs of the vindictive violence that led to the ultimate tragedy.

"Eaten By Bear"

On October 26, 1849, Thomas Rowan attended a ploughing "bee" at the farm of a neighbour. Before leaving, he instructed George to get to work digging potatoes and told him Margaret would help him to pick them up. Shortly before sunset, Thomas Rowan, as he was ploughing, saw George running towards him and crying out "Margaret has just been eaten up by a bear."

Rowan and the other farmers went back with the boy to the potato field and the latter stopped at a point and said "This is where the bear grabbed her in his mouth." He then walked to the fence and said, "This is where he jumped the fence and carried her away" and, pointing to some marks on the fence, explained that the bear had made these with his claws.

But these pioneer farmers were familiar with the lore of nature and skilled in woodcraft and for obvious reasons, suspicions were aroused. They proceeded to the point where the boy said the bear had seized Margaret, and found no signs of any struggle, nor any signs of a bear's presence. At the fence, they noticed that the marks said to have been made by the bear were not of recent origin. With his suspicions aroused, Rowan accused the boy of having done something to Margaret. This, he definitely and loudly denied.

Night-Long Search

An all-night search took place which extended over the next morning, and in the afternoon of that day, one of the searchers came upon a mound of newly-turned earth under a big elm tree. He brushed away with his hands a few inches of the loosened earth and uncovered the blood-stained and battered body of Margaret O'Connor, her terrible injuries having been evidently inflicted by a hoe found in the vicinity covered with blood and human hair. An inquest was held and subsequent legal proceedings resulted in Green being brought to trial at the Peterborough Spring Assizes which began on May 2, 1850, before Justice Sullivan.

The Grand Jury at those assizes consisted of Thomas Benson (foreman), W. H. Wrighton, A. S. Fraser, W. Cluxton, J. B. Benson, C. Knowlson, T. Short, T. F. Allen, F. Ferguson, D. Griffith, W. Lundy, F. Ridley, W. Snyder, T. Bell and A. H. Peck, and includes the names of many well-known Peterborough men at the time of the incorporation in 1850.

At the trial Thomas Rowan gave evidence that he had known Green for six years and that the latter was bound to him until he was 21. He explained the happenings on the day of the tragedy and the long search, and Green had replied, "I hated her, She was following me around. She was a dirty little thing."

The most important witness for the Crown was Mrs. Eliza Rowan, his wife and the girl's foster-mother. She testified that George had confessed his guilt to her. He told her that soon after Margaret had arrived in the field, he had taken the notion of killing her. The boy admitted he had struck Margaret with the hoe, that she had cried out at the first blow, but that he had knocked her down and kept on hitting her about the face and body until she ceased crying. He had further stated that Margaret was still alive when he placed her body in the shallow grave.

Mr. Elias Burnham appeared for the defence. He was the first lawyer to practise the profession of the law in Peterborough, and was known as a sound lawyer and an eloquent advocate, but in this case, the proven facts were too strong for him and he could only plead to the jury for mercy and leniency on the ground of the accused's youth, irresponsibility and failure to realize the seriousness of his crime.

The jury found him guilty and he was called upon to stand to receive the dread death sentence. Though all present in a crowded court confessed their abhorrence at the crime, they were few who were not visibly affected when sentence was passed.

The little boy Green, standing in the dock, pale and tremulous, his face only just visible over the front of the dock, heard the judge deliver the dread death sentence "to be taken to the place of execution and there hanged by the neck until you are dead, and my the Lord have mercy upon your soul."

The date of execution was fixed for Jnue 26 but it was generally expected the "powers that be" taking all circumstances into consideration would commute the sentence, which they did. An Order in Council cancelled the death sentence and the boy was sentenced to life imprisonment in Kingston Penitentiary. After a very short term there, he fell ill and died a natural death. So finis was written to one of the most cruel and heartrending cases on record and one probably unique in the history of crime.—C. H. Ireson.

Progress of Peterborough: LXXXII

City Develops From Lumbering Town To Modern Industrial Centre In 80's

By HOWARD PAMMETT, M.A.

Between 1880 and 1900 Peterborough developed from a frontier lumbering town to a modern industrial city, and this process was well begun by 1890, accelerated by improved transportation and communication. In the 1880s the population increased 42½ per cent, from 6810 (1308 families in 1279 houses) to 9717 (1937 families in 1901 houses). New building rose from $110,000 to $350,000 yearly, and land values tripled. Assessment grew from 1881—$2,568,395, to 1890— $4,198,065. The tax-rate fluctuated from 12 mills for public school supporters and 13 1/10 mills for separate school supporters, up to 15½ mills and 16½ mills respectively in 1886, falling the next year to 12½ and 13 3/10 mills, then up to 15 and 16 mills respectively by 1890.

The mayors elected were: 1880: J. J. Lundy, 1881-2 and 1884: H. H. Smith, 1883 and 1885: Geo Cox, 1886-91: Jas. Stevenson. Jas. Macdonald succeeded Chas. Macdonald as town clerk in 1888. In 1883 Council paid $4,500 to Jas. Stevenson for the building at Water and Simcoe Sts. into which the town offices and jail were moved three years later. In 1884 Council set up a Parks Commission, prohibited grocery-stores from selling liquor, and banned slaughterhouses. In 1887 Central Park was beautified, the Agricultural Society sheds having burned in 1884. Next year Council set up a committe to study the sewage system, and numbered the streets (from the south end northward, from the river westward); they also forbade Sunday milk deliveries.

Town Clerk Moved

In 1889 the Board of Health was set up, led by Drs. Fife and Brennan; public drinking fountains were built at Water and Simcoe Sts., on Hunter St. at the creek, and at the northeast corner of Central Park. The same year the old town hall (built 1851) was dismantled, and a new market-building erected south of Bradburn Opera Block, the market-hall being upstairs with stores for rent below; the town clock was moved to the corner.

The fire brigade was reorganized 1881 with 20 men paid $15 a year each; more important, a waterworks company was formed by Jas. Gamble (of New York), Wm. Cluxton, John Burnham and R. P. Boucher, with $40,000 capita; a 400,000 gal. (daily) pumping-station was built at Blythe Mills opposite Auburn, and mains laid along George, Water, Aylmer and London Sts. delivering filtered water for domestic and public use. Twelve hydrants were constructed on George between London and Sherbrooks Sts. but fires both accidental and arsonist continued, including Fitzgerald's wagon-works burned in 1882 and again in 1883, Whyte's foundry burned in 1882 and in 1887, and Adam Scott's pioneer house on the riverbank in 1883. In the last year Chief Engineer T. Rutherford (1881-1908) was given $100 a year, the Assistant Chief $75, and 18 firemen $50 a year each. The same year, when Geo. Roszell began 23 years as Police Chief, he received $700 a year, with constables R. H. Adams, Jos. Stewart and Chas. McGinty at $450-550 (all providing their own uniforms).

An Ontario Act 1886 authorized the Council to make contracts for water, gas and electricity, renewable after ten years, and confirmed the purchase of the new town offices. Under an 1888 Act the town raised $20,000 to put cribbing along Crescent St. on Little Lake, to pay for permanent bridges over the creek at Brock, Simcoe, Charlotte and other streets, and to pay part of the cost of an iron bridge at the lock below Little Lake; these bridges were built the same year. An 1889 Act sanctioned debentures of $18,000 for public schools and the new market hall, and "to aid the promotion of manufactures . . . by paying the rent of any building or buildings, or erecting any building or buildings . . . . or acquiring any land or buildings . . . and granting the same or the use thereof . . .. for manufacturing."

Industrial Expansion.

The census statistics indicate rapid industrial expansion:

	1881	1891
No. Industrial Estab.	93	216
Cost of Mat. Used	$ 571,833	$1,435,178
Value of Products .	$1,011,266	$2,594,966
Number of Workers .	846	1,876
Wages paid .	$ 239,626	$ 596,301
Average ann. Wage	$ 283	$ 318

In 1884 Hazlitt, Hall and others established a company to produce electricity at Dickson raceway, and strung five miles of wire along main streets; 17 arc-lights were put along George St., and by 1888 the streets were lit by 39 electric and 57 gas lamps. In 1890 Council approved 29 more street lights to burn until midnight and 40 to burn all night, and an electric fire alarm system was begun. Electric lights were installed in many stores and houses. In the same year the gas and light companies merged into the Peterborough Light and Power Company, controlled by Cox and Bradburn. Cox's schemes to start a paper mill and a railway-car fell through, but he acquired much commercial and industrial property. His new Central Canada Loan and Savings Company in 1890 bought out the Real Estate Investment Company (organized 1882). Advertisements featuring "Cox's Insurance & General Agency" changed by 1887 to "Cox & Co. Stockbrokers".

Some other industries established in the decade were: Lundy's tannery, Hutton's tub & pail factory, Sperry's new shingle-mill, Matthews meat curing plant, Hall's biscuit factory, Central Iron Works, Meldrum & Davidson flour mill, Brodie's woolen mill, Forsyth's pump works, McKee furniture factory (later Kincaid and McWilliams) (these last four being on Dickson raceway), Peterborough Lock Company, Powell & Jones stove works, J. J. Turner canvas factory, and Porter wagon works (replacing Fitzgerald). Others expanded and rebuilt: Whyte foundry, Comstock Furniture & Undertaking, McFadden furniture, etc. There was talk of unionization among industrial workers, who worked a 10-12 hour day, although the only union on record was the Iron Moulders Union, local 191, organized 1874. The first Labour Day was celebrated Sept. 3, 1888, with sports and excursions. The Knights of Labour held their annual convention in town in 1889, advocating a nine-hour day, won the same year by the carpenters. The same year the Trades & Labour Council of Peterborough was organized, and the Lock Works moulders struck for five days to win a wage of $2 a day.

New Stores

The Board of Trade became dormant again about 1882, but was revived in 1889. The Building & Savings Society organized in 1889 to help its members finance home-building. There were four banks: Montreal, Toronto, Ontario and Commerce, and also several money-lenders. A few of the new stores were: Fair & Van-Every (formerly Bradburn & Mason 1885), later dividing into R. Fair—general store, and Van Every—flour & feed (bought from Flavelle in 1889); Turnbull—dry-goods, Begley—household goods, Parker—cleaner & dyer, Hickey-boots & shoes, Coughlin—monuments, Moore-monuments, Brown—flour & feed, Redner—locksmith, Routley—fancy goods, Goselin—butcher, Kemp — butcher, Peterborough Music Co. The Peterboroug Business College opened 1883 in the old roller rink on Water St. In 1889 most stores began closing early on summer evenings at 7.30 or 8 p.m.

A new post office was built at Water & Hunter Sts. in 1888 to serve both Peterborough and Ashburnham. There was no house delivery yet, but from 1881 on mail was collected twice daily from five street boxes, one in Ashburnham. The first telephone exchange was opened 1881 in a rear room on Sincoe St., with 15 subscribers renting telephones; next year the exchange was moved to a room over Flavelle's store, where the operators were Mr. Ernie and Miss. L. Moffat. By 1885 long distance lines were built to Campbellford, Port Hope, Lakefield, Lindsay and Toronto. By 1890 there were 201 Bell subscribers, mostly in stores and offices, and a local competitor was organized, the Ontario Telephone Co., bringing rates down to $10 a year. The Review published daily and weekly editions, and also the fortnightly Canadian Lumberman; the Times published a weekly paper, and also (from 1884) the monthly Canadian Agricultural & Home Magazine; the Examiner in 1885 began a daily edition as well as the weekly.

Growth In Schools, Churches

The Mechanics Institute membership declined from 290 to 251, and volumes issued fell 15 per cent, but volumes owned increased 80 per cent. Public school average attendance also fell from 1,006 to 798 (51 per cent of total attendance), while cost- per-pupil rose from $5.18 to $20.63. Collegiate average attendance rose from 128 to 142 (57 per cent of total) with cost-per-pupil up from $30.32 to 32.33. Separate school average attendance rose from 296 to 422 (being 60 per cent and 54 per cent of total attendance respectively) while cost-per-pupil rose from $1.85 to $4.92. In 1885 a wooden gymnasium was built north of Union School, and two years later Major Rundle was hired to give manual and physical training, being paid 50c a day, later $300 a year. In 1890 North Ward School (4 rooms) was opened, costing $5,600.

The religious denominations grew in numbers by 55 per cent, being by 1891 in the following order: Methodists, Roman Catholics, Anglicans, Presbyterians and Baptists; Methodist Church Union in 1884 took that group to the front. In 1882 Peterborough was made the seat of a Roman Catholic diocese covering the Kawarthas, Muskoka and Algoma areas, served by Bishop Jamot, who was followed in 1887 by Bishop Dowling, and in 1889 (to 1913) by Bishop O'Connor. The only new church was the Salvation Army Temple on Simcoe St. in 1888, after they had used the old Baptist Church on Aylmer St. (and downtown street corners) for three years. The Baptists bought the Bible Christain Church on Murray St. in 1884, and later set up a mission on Dalhousie St. St. Paul's started a Presbyterian mission in Auburn district, and St. John's started All Saints' mission. Most of the churches were enlarged and improved in various ways.

A VERY NICE ENTREE FROM COLD SUCKING PIG.

Remove the flesh from the bones, and also the skin; cut into convenient pieces. Melt a bit of butter, the size of an egg, and throw in six or eight button mushrooms, cleaned and sliced; shake them over the fire for three or four minutes; then stir to them a dessertspoonful of flour, and continue to shake or toss them gently; but do not allow them to burn. Add a small bunch of parsley, a bay-leaf, a middling sized blade of mace, some salt, a small quantity of cayenne or white pepper, half a pint of white stock, and from two to three glasses of light white wine. Let these boil gently until reduced nearly one-third; take out the parsley and mace, lay in the meat, and bring it slowly to the point of simmering; stir to it the beaten yolks of three fresh eggs, and the strained juice of half a lemon. Serve hot.

Whenever our neighbors' house is on fire, it cannot be amiss for the engines to play a little on our own. Better to be despised for too anxious apprehension, than ruined by too confident security.

Your Garden

Aphid-Spread Endangers Tomatoes

By HENRY PREE (NEA)

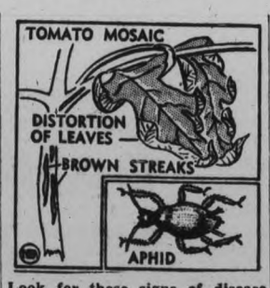
Tomatoes form the major portion of most home vegetable gardens and while final results are usually satisfactory there are many moments of worry during the summer. The way to get a crop from your vines is to give them the best possible care at this time.

That means cultivation of the soil to eliminate weeds, fertilizing when necessary, mulching to conserve soil moisture and last but most important — spraying or dusting to control insects and to prevent damaging diseases.

A virus disease is attacking the tomato crop again, reports indicated today. The disease is known as tomato mosaic and the increase of the disease is probably due to the recent mild winters. The mild winters allow the survival of larger numbers of the insects which carry the virus and the perennial weeds on which the virus live.

The main culprit in tomato mosaic is the aphid, which carries the virus from infected weeds to the tomato plant. The most obvious symptoms are mottling and distortion of leaves. Stunting of the infected plants many also occur. Many times brown streaks of dead tissue appear along the stews and peticles.

However, something can be done to get rid of the aphids, and the weeds that are infected. Scientists report that before killing the weeds they should be dusted or sprayed with an insecticide. Otherwise, the virus will move from the dying weeds on to the tomato plants.



Look for these signs of disease on your tomato plants.

Tests show that nicotine sultate, is one of the best agents to knock off the aphids, This spray, however, will not give permanent protection, and the battle must go on continually.

If a few diseased plants are noticed in a field of otherwise healthy plants, it is best that they be sprayed, pulled up, and destroyed.

Blossom drop, a physiological disease which occurs under certain growing conditions, is now disturbing many home gardeners. Spraying the flower clusters with a plant hormone⅛ sold under a variety of trade names, will help overcome this trouble.

The Boyce Thompson Institute for Plant Resarch has discovered that even under ideal fruit-setting weather only 82 per cent of tomato flowers produce fruit.

Since the recent weather has been unfavorable it might be a wise move on the part of the home gardener to take advantage of the above - mentioned plant hormone which, when sprayed on the flowers, more or less ensures it sting fruit.

Gardening Questions

Q.—Pardon this oft-repeated question, but how does one tell sucker growth on a hybrid tea rose?

A.—Sucker growth always starts starts below the bud graft or union. It is a shoot from the understock. Do not rely on the "old rule" that a shoot with seven leaflets is a sucker because there are canes of hybrid roses with three, five, seven and nine leaflets on one stem. Sucker growth arises from the understock, is invariably willow-like, with smaller leaflets and always a light green in color.

Q.—Peonies and delphiniims are crowding one another in the border. When may they be divided and replanted?—C. B.

A.—Peonies and delphiniims are best transplanted in September. In dividing perennials don't make the divisions too small, for small pieces take too long to come into flower. Take care to have an unbroken crown and roots with each pieoe. Wash the soil off, then see just how to make the divisions. Be sure to have but 1½ inches of soil over the crown of each peony.

Timbermen Victorious 19-6 As West Yorks Collapse

Mercilessly Don Crowe's Timbermen tore into the collapsed Toronto West Yorks in the second half of the regular Friday night senior OLA game in Miller Bowl. When they were finished 16 goals had been scored and a 19-6 win posted, the 20th for the Timbermen this season. This win gave the senior Petes a 12-point lead in the senior OLA standing and now they require only one game to make sporting history in Peterborough by winning the senior "A" championship for Ontario. This win could come Monday night when they meet the second-place St. Catharines Athletics in Miller Bowl.

A crowd of 1,200 sat yawning in chilly breezes throughout the first quarter as both teams ragged the ball with a poor showing of ball handling. They continued to play the slow, cautious game until early in the third.

East York then rallied briefly to take a slim one-goal for the second time in the game. But the Timbermen came back strongly to sweep the lead away and proceeded to severely shellack the West Yorks.

Toronto were completely stymied in the second half as Moon Wootton in the nets and Ross Powless dogged them on scoring chances. Gradually the fast-breaking Petes began to score at will as the West Yorks' defence collapsed also.

Bob Thorpe rose to take the scoring opportunity offered. Ever alert, he proceeded to set a season's scoring record at Miller Bowl, rapping in two in the first half and seven in the second for a total of nine.

Linemate Don Ashbee fell in close behind with three goals and three assists while Ike Hildebrand notched two and assisted on four.

Curly Mason slipped in a pair, one being the picture scoring play of the game. It came midway through the fourth quarter when the Timbermen had the West Yorks spinning. Mason grabbed a quick pass from Ike Hildebrand in the corner, and back-handed the ball over his shoulder into the corner of the net.

Former Peterborough players Leo Teatero, Jack Howes and Sid Wright threatened early in the game for the West Yorks by controlling the Toronto scoring. Teatero finally ended with three goals and an assist while Howes had a goal with Wright assisting.

Johnston between the pipes for West Yorks saved Toronto from a worse fate. In the first half he made a number of close-in saves on Ashbee and Thorpe and in the second half came through an equal number of times as he was left alone with the Timbermen marksmen.

Lineups:
Toronto West Yorks: Goal, Johnston; defence, Hewitt, Convery; rover, Facto; centre, Howes; wings, DePippo, Kapasky; alts., Wright, McNulty, Teatero, Harris, Hay, D. Chard.

Davis Cup Match Delayed By Rain Starts Again

By VIC MORRIS, JR.

MONTREAL, Aug. 4 (CP) — With cool, sunny weather predicted, Canada and Cuba today are set to tangle in the opening Davis Cup singles matches of the North American zine tie, washed out yesterday by rain.

The first two singles were postponed after a torrential rain drenched the grass courts at the Mount Royal Tennis Club where the three-day matches are being held.

Lorne Main, 21-year-old No. 2 man, will represent Canada in opening play against Jose (Pepe) Aguero, Cuba's 39-year-old veteran. Brendan Macken of Montreal will meet Dr. Juan Weiss of Havana in the other match. The first match is scheduled to start at 2 p.m., EDT.

Canada is favored 6 to 5 to defeat the Cuban squad in light pregame betting. The record shows Canada with three victories in five meetings against the Cubans, the last scored in 1933.

During the following 18 years, the Canadians have been winless in cup play.

Spiked Shoes

Possibility of slippery courts caused by yesterday's rain may result in Aguero wearing spiked shoes.

The two-fisted Main will wear woollen socks over his shoes in the event the courts are still wet. Macken and Weiss will do likewise because of the unfamiliarity with spiked shoes.

The suspense of waiting an extra day for the matches, it is believed by both Captain Eric Williams of the Cubans and Captain Gordon MacNeil of the Canadians, may possibly have some efect on the players' games.

However, MacNeil stuck to his earlier prediction that the Canadians will win, "possibly in four sets." He declined to name his Sunday's doubles pairing until after today's events, but hinted that Main and Henri Rochon "might see action together." Cuba named Aguero and Weiss as her doubles team.

Mimico Trounces Brampton 21-7

Mimico Mountaineers waltzed to a three-way tie for second place in the Ontario senior "A" lacrosse Friday night with a 21-7 win over Brampton Excelsiors in Brampton. They are now tied with St. Catharines and Hamilton, each with 14 wins.

Kenny Dixon led the Mounties with five goals while Pop Chard and Scoop Hayes fired four each. Don McPhail and Bill Horwood each scored two. Clark Lyons and Al Garbut netted three each for Brampton.

It was a repeat story of Peterborough's 19-6 win over Toronto, at half time the Mounties were leading by a slim 8-5 but in the third and fourth quarters they broke loose scoring five and eight respectively.

LAWN BOWLING
By HERB MARTIN

Comes Monday, and with it comes Civic Holiday. No doubt many of our bowlers will be out of town for the long week-end, but for those who are staying home and would like to bowl, there will be a mixed tournament on Monday at 1:30 o'clockk. Mr. C. Mowry will be in charge.

Tonight it's the Family Hour mixed rink tournament.

As far as we know, there has been "nothing doing" regarding the Mail and Globe doubles in either the men's or ladies' sections.

Although it was rather chilly up on the greens last evening, quite a few of the boys took advantage and played in the week-end doubles tournament.

Winners
First—H. Wilson and J. Wilson.
Second—R. Dyer and G. Snowden.
Third—G. Sorenson and J. Cullen.
oFurth—C. Mowry and F. Dearborn.

Ladies' Scores
Mrs. F. Dawe 7, Mrs. H. Northrop 13.
Mrs. R. Dyer 5, Mrs. P. Moore 14.
Mrs. S. Scott 14, Mrs. R. Miller 5.
Mrs. W. Hepburn 7, Mrs. G. Kingsbury 12.

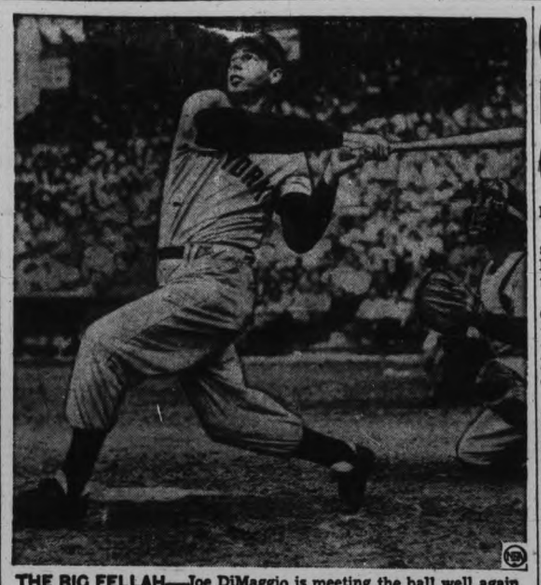
Lindsay Blasts Win Over Leginnaires

LINDSAY, Aug. 4—First-place Lindsay Merchants won their 17th straight game in 22 starts here Friday night by blasting out a 9-2 win over Cobourg Legionnaires in a Lakeshore intermediate baseball league game.

Chub McIvor and Dean Tompkins of Lindsay came to blows in the fourth inning when the Lindsay veteran stole second. Players from both benches stormed in but the rumpus was quelled without further damage.

Juniors Practise

Faced with a busy week Lou Vitarelli's Junior OLA team will practice August 5 at Miller Bowl. They have two games next week, Tuesday and Thursday, with Toronto Maitlands.



THE BIG FELLAH—Joe DiMaggio is meeting the ball well again with his gorgeous swing, and the Yankees are higher than a cat's back in their bid for a third consecutive pennant.

Some Sport Views

By DON GRANT

While the baseball, lacrosse, soccer and softball races are still raging the football team is preparing for the 1951 season. Tuesday night the new version of the Orfuns will parade for a light practice, the first of the season.

The team is keeping in tune with its competitors, Oshawa Red Raiders and Cobourg's Galloping Ghosts. The Motor City gridders began practices more than a week ago while the Ghosts are scheduled to start Tuesday.

No word has been received on the early practices of the Orillia, Toronto Ryerson and East York aggregations.

A former Toronto referee, Leo Deadey has succeeded Harv Bamforth as mentor of the Orfuns for this season. Football enthusiasts will remember Deadey as an all star in the senior ORFU in 1939 when he played end for the Orfuns, "the old Krug-Deadey forward passing plays."

A former player in recent years with Balmy Beach and Hamilton Tigers, Deadey will commute from Toronto for all practices and games.

The heat is on for the lacrosse seniors. Monday night's game at Miller Bowl with the Athletics may be a preview of the Mann Cup playoffs. Recently the Saints knocked off the Tigers in overtime in a desperate attempt to dislodge the Petes out of first place.

The Petes then spent the remainder of the week away, in Toronto on Wednesday with the Toronto West Yorks and in Mimico on Friday for a postponed game with the Mountaineers. They finish up at home on Wednesday, August 15, entertaining the Brampton Excelsiors.

Lou Vitarelli's juniors tonight are hosts to the Niagara Falls Cataracts. Presently riding atop the OLA standing. The Falls entry is last year's Dominion champion St. Catharines team which this year moved to Niagara.

They too have a busy week, first playing the winless Toronto Maitlands at Miller Bowl on Tuesday and then travelling to Toronto on Thursday.

Eddie Whitehill's senior baseball Petes will be trying to preserve their two-and-a-half game lead over the Oshawa Merchants when they meet Toronto Croftons Monday night at Riverside. The Merchants, also have two games, Saturday night in Toronto with the Staffords and Monday morning in Oshawa again with Staffords.

In softball the playoffs for the city league championship begin netx Tuesday with the first of two doubleheaders between Revoys and the Orfuns. A best-of-five affair the winner will advance on into the finals with the UEW in a best-of-seven series.

Next Saturday night will see the top Canadian fastball team, Toronto Levy's with Perc McCracken on the mound playing the Peterborough All-stars at the Bowl. As many local fans expect none other than Charles Justice will be hurling for the Petes.

After holidays caused an interruption, the Peterborough UE soccer team will be back in action Monday in Toronto for a holiday encounter with the Toronto Spartas. Kickoff will be at 7 p.m. in Greenwood Park.

Undefeated in the eastern section of the Ontario league, the UE club has been notified that the quarter finals, for the Dominion Cup will be played in Peterborough on August 11. Their opponents will be the winners of the CGE and Maple Leafs series which is being played in Toronto this week.

In the Eastern section play today O'Hallorans are off to Batawa for a league game. Last week, thanks to a second half goal by Eddie Lane, assisted by Bob Delahaye, O'Hallorans edged Belleville 1-0.

Car Headlights Still On Golfers Start At 5.43 A.M.

While most of Peterborough's citizens were sleeping soundly and while cars still had their headlights on while driving on Highway 28 past the Kawartha Golf and Country Club, the first golfers teed off in the sixth annual Kawartha Lakes open.

Three Peterborough golfers, J. Heffernan of Kawartha, F. Gray and B. Pearson, both of the Peterborough Club, started the three-day 54-hole tournament on its way at 5:43 a.m., 19 minutes earlier than last year. Since then every seven minutes three golfers have been teeing off.

The largest amateur tournament in Canadian golfing, the Kawartha Open this year includes 290 golfers, composed of 90 first flight (0 to nine handicap), 165 second flight (10 to 20 handicap) and 35 third flight (21 to 36 handicap).

Besides the numerous trophies the prize list is probably the richest of a Canadian tournament.

Early morning golfers, from 5:43 until 8 a.m. are called the Dawn Patrol. Last year the golfers started earlier than in the previous four years and the tournament officials decided to award special prizes to this group.

At the same time they had to consider another group, the golfers who leave the first tee from 4 p.m. until 5:05 p.m. This group, the Sunset Serenaders, will also receive special prizes.

Youthful Moe Norman from Kitchener Rockaway, who was Kawartha Open champion in 1950, with a gross for the 54 holes at 221, will have stiffer competition this year, this year's Ontario amateur champion, erry Kesselring from Westmount and the finalist, Nick Weslock, Essex.

Norman will tee off daily at 1:42 p.m. with other first flighters, B. Castator of Summerlea and R. Barber of Islington. Kesselring is scheduled to leave with D. McKellar of Scarboro and K. Kirkpatrick of London at 1:28 p.m.

Probably the strongest trio of golfers will be in the Weslock trio which leaves the first at 1:14 p.m. His competition for the three rounds will be Sonny Adams of Scarboro and Ernie Bentley of Weston, the 1949 Kawartha Open champion.

Giants Triumph Despite Lack Of Any Hitters

By The Associated Press

Managers usually cry, "give us some pitchers," but not Hugh Poland, pilot of Ottawa Giants of the International League.

Poland's plea is for hitters. The Giants, weakest hitting team in the league, probably would be up in the first division if they had some one who could hit for distance with regularity.

The Giants have collected only six hits in their last two games but have won both. However, Poland knows that his pitchers can't keep on winning with that kind of an attack.

The Giants beat Buffalo Bisons 1-0 Thursday night, collecting all three of their hits in the ninth inning. Last night Gerry (Red) Fahr turned back Toronto Maple Leafs 1-0. The Giants again collected only three hits. The Giants scored in the second inning on Stan Jok's triple and John Metkovich's ground out. Fahr permitted six hits in racking up his third victory without a loss.

Heavy Hitting

Heavy hitting featured the other two games which saw Buffalo edge Baltimore Orioles 7-6 and Rochester Red Wings trounce Springfield Cubs 9-3.

Montreal Royals and Syracuse Chiefs were idle.

The Bisons nipped the Orioles with a two run rally in the ninth. Marv Rickert poled his 23rd and 24th homers of the season for the Orioles.

Rochester scored seven runs in the third inning to beta the Cubs with ease. Johnny Blatnik climaxed the Wing's big rally with a three-run homer.

Browns Blast Yanks 10-2 Boston, Indians Close Up

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer.

Thanks to rookie Jim McDonald, a former Red Sox player now working for the last-place St. Louis Browns, Boston and Cleveland are only a half-ame behind New York Yankees in the American League pennant race.

McDonald manhandled the Yanks 10-2 yesterday in the second game of a double-header after Vic Raschi notched victory No. 16 in New York's 8-4 opening conquest.

Maury McDermott, lanky lefty, took full advantage of New York's lapse by driving home four runs while pitching the Red Sox to a 5-2 night triumph over Detroit. And Cleveland kept step in a second-place tie by rallying in the eighth to nip Philadelphia A's 3-2.

White Sox Win

Ed Stewart and Orestes Minoso with three hits each led the rebounding Chicago White Sox to a 7-4 victory at Washington. The result left the Sox 5½ games off the Yankee pace.

Brooklyn held its 10-game lead in the National although the Dodgers lost a 5-4 decision in 14 innings at Cincinnati to iron-man Willie Ramsdell. Following the pattern of the 1951 season, the second-place New York Giants also fell 5-4 at St. Louis.

The Phillies, 14½ games out of first place, closed a little ground by edging Pittsburgh 5-4 for Robin Roberts' 14th victory. Chicago's Paul Minner broke a month-long drought by shading Boston 2-1 for his first triumph since July 1.

McDermott, lanky lefty, smashed the first homer of his major league career with two on in the second inning. Later he added two singles off Dizzy Trout to take care of his own decision.

Sold By Boston

Young McDonald, sold to the Browns for the waiver price after Boston recalled him from the Louisville farm two weeks ago, had plenty of support in his first victory. The Brownies knocked out rookie Bob Wiesler, Yankee hot shot lefty, in a seven-run fourth inning.

Raschi's first-game triumph was made easy by a Yankee six-run second-inning blast that flattened Tommy Byrne.

Bob Kennedy's double off Sam Zoldak topped off Cleveland's winning surge in the eighth at Philadelphia. Mike Garcia needed help from Early Wynn in the eighth to nail down his 14th triumph.

Stewart hit two doubles and a triple and Minoso two singles and a double to bolster Saul Rogovin's steady pitching against Washington. Sid Hudson was the loser.

10 Strike-Outs

Brooklyn's power was checked by Ramsdell who struck out 10 in the three-hour and 44-minute contest. The Dodgers seemed to have won it in the 14th when Billy Cox tripled home Roy Campanella. But Cincy bounced back to tie on Hank Edwards' pinch double. Edwards went to third on a wild pitch by loser Ralph Branca and scored on Campanella's passed ball.

Stan Musial's three-run triple featured a Cardinal seventh inning spurt that produced all five runs and knocked out loser Sal Maglie.

Pittsburgh's Bill Werle wasted 5 2-3 innings of hitless relief work after the Phillies ripped into Vern Law for 10 hits and all their runs.

Minner scored the tie-breaking run off Vern Bickford in the eighth when he walked, moved to second on a sacrifice and scored on Hal Jeffcoat's single.

Cobourg Beats Off League Elimination

COBOURG, Aug. 4—A late rally in the sixth inning here saved Cobourg from elimination in the Lakeshore Baseball League juvenile playoffs when they scored twice to tie Port Hope 8-8. Darkness intervened in the seventh of the second game, and the game ended in the 8-8 stalemate.

Five errors by Cobourg gave the Ports four runs in the fourth and one in the fifth enabling them to nullify a 6-3 lead for Cobourg.

THE COMING OF THE RAILROADS to Bethany marked an era of great prosperity to the village and surrounding country. It opened up new markets for the farmers and increased the growth of the village. The above photo is a view of Bethany taken in 1914 showing the two railroads, the Grand Trunk in the foreground and the CPR in the background.

Pioneer Days in Manvers

Sailing Boat Took Six Weeks To Cross Atlantic Ocean With Pioneer Manvers Pair

(This is the second in a series of articles being written by Violet M. Carr, the Examiner's correspondent in the Bethany area.—Editor)

The township hall and council chambers was built in Bethany about 1877. Previously meetings were held at Lifford, Ballyduff, Newry and Lifford. Going over old records we find township minutes dating back to the year 1850 which lists William Hunter as reeve, Robert Touchburn as township clerk, William Graham as tax collector and Thomas Summerville, Joseph Porter and Aaron Sanderson as constables. English currency seems to have been used up to1860 and in some instances a few years later. At this time the township was divided into five wards. Each ward elected one representative then the five representatives appointed one of themselves to act as Reeve. The council consisted of the reeve and four councillors. The five wards are now replaced by seven polling divisions and we have a reeve, deputy reeve and three councillors. The year 1857 seems to be the first record we have of where the township meetings were held. It appears the council met at Bushell's Inn, Lifford; William Fallis' Tavern and Benson's Inn, Ballyduff, alternately. Later meetings were held at Hamson's and Campbell's hotels in Bethany; Sons' Hall, Ballyduff; John Porter's at the village of Newry (this village is now known as Yelverton). In 1865 the township hall was built at Lifford. There are no minute books covering the period of the next thirteen years. The first record of meetings in this hall are dated 1878, in which year the reeve was Samuel Grandy. Alfred Ryley was the clerk, holding office for a period of 45 years, 1853—1898. J. J. Preston was appointed as his successor and served in this capacity until 1917, when W. A. Jakeman's name appears, who held the position for 22 years. After his death in 1939 he was succeeded by the present clerk, J. C. Cummiskey. In 1911, during Bethany's great fire, the township hall was burned. The old building was a brick veneer structure with no basement and a low platform at the front. It had rows of seats similar to a church and was heated by stoves. The present hall was built in 1912, a little larger than the old one with a basement and furnace for heating purposes. It includes the office of the clerk. Quite modern in design, it has a hardwood floor, equipped with hydro and has recently been redecorated. Almost all the community gatherings are held in this building.

Built First Church

Early church services were held in the school, the Temperance Hall and the Orange Hall. It is also recorded that early joint services of Methodists and Presbyterians were held in Josiah Wilson's barn and some in Lang's hotel. The Presbyterian group are credited with building the first church in the village on Queen Street in 1870. This has since been torn down and remodelled into the present home of Miss Hannah Staples. An accurate date cannot be found for the building of the first Methodist Church. It was somewhere about 1870 according to older residents. The present structure is the original building remodelled, enlarged and moved to its present site in 1900.

St. Paul's Anglican Church was built in 1876.

Typical of the hardships of early settlers in the community, an account appears in an Examiner interview with the late Mrs. Robert Porteous on the occasion of her eighty-eighth birthday in December 1928. Mrs. Porteous who was the former Ann Jane Crozier, came to Canada at the age of three with her parents Mr. and Mrs. James Crozier, who immigrated from the county of Fermananagh, Ireland and settled near Bethany. There was scarcely the nucleus of the village in the vicinity then.

Pioneer Wife

We quote: "The voyage was made by sailing vessel and occupied six weeks and three days. A baby brother was born during the time at sea, so it was with two children that my parents began the heavy task of establishing their home in the virgin forest, building the first little one roomed log shanty that was our first home. Bears and wolves were quite commonly seen, and indeed at night would sometimes come into the clearing round the home, sometimes rubbing up against the door. I remember my father putting the 'back log' in place in the wide fireplace, other smaller logs in front of it. Coals would remain in the morning ready to start up a fresh hot fire for the new day's cooking and baking. I remember too, the big hook with the black iron pot in which soups and stews were cooked, suspended over the flames, and my mother drawing out the red coals on the flat stone which covered the hearth, putting the bake kettle thereon, placing more coals over the lid to bake the bread. Bunks were placed along the sides of the cabin for sleeping purposes and visitors and family alike had this accommodation. The nearest store was as Cavanville and only a trail blazed through the woods to reach it. Many a time I've walked for the groceries there. Often, too, we walked to Millbrook carrying cakes of maple sugar to exchange for groceries. Grain was cut with a scythe and we children were given a small hook and set to work to reap around the many stumps while father cut a wider swath in the open parts of the field. A flail did the threshing until one man started going about with an early edition of the modern threshing machine; a team of horses on a treadmill supplying the power; and though it was slow, at least it proved an advance on hand methods, and the man was generally employed. My father would cut 10 acres of wood during the winter with an axe the only tool employed. I remember helping him clean grain, tying it in bags and loading it on the sleigh ready for the long drive to Port Hope where it would be sold and needed groceries brought home. The start for town was made while it was still scarcely more than daylight. This was after my father had made a trip to Montreal that took over a week and had brought back his first team of horses."

Richard Johnston, who lived to the good age of 90 years, a gradson of one of the first settlers of the same name also told of wolves, bears and deer being numerous. Logging bees were popular. According to him, men gathered from miles around, felled trees, trimmed them, burned the brush, then piled the logs in one place and burned them. To us of the modern age it sounds like an awful waste, particularly now that wood is becoming scarce and prices are soaring, but as he explained "We wanted the land cleared so we could sow grain . . . there was a good market for it, but there wasn't a market for wood in those days." The local grain production so increased, that at one time Mr. Johnston stated, it was not unusual to see wating sleighs or wagons loaded with grain, stretching from the grain store to the village creek bridge, a good quarter of a mile. But with the introduction of stock raising, ascene such as this became history.

Another item of interest he recalled was "Mail Day". The mail was brought by courier, in uniform, rode horseback and could be heard riding along the road shouting "Make Way for Her Majesty's Mail." People knew the day he should come and listened eagerly for his arrival, running out to meet him. He listed the first store in the village as being owned by Frank Blakely.

Brick For House Cost $100

Mrs. Johnston Morton, who lived to the age of 88 repeated some of the facts above in an interview, telling of the building of the Midland Rwy. and the changes it wrought. The Morton home was built over 80 years ago and was one of the first brick buildings. The contractor was Frank Galbraith and in comparison with today's soaring prices the brick for it cost only $100.00.

Mrs. John Smith, who died at the age of 97 in 1940 was another of Bethany's grand old ladies who possessed a keen memory. Her maiden name was Hannah Fell, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Fell. She was born near Moorsom, Yorkshire County, England. At the age of six she left her native country and with her parents crossed the Atlantic to Canada. In those days steamships were but a dream, therefore, they made the crossing in a sailing vessel christened "Perseverance". For six months after their arrival in Canada and while her father searched for land on which to settle they stayed at the home of William Dawson in South Monaghan. Mr. Fell purchased 150 acres of partly cleared land, located between the concessions 7 and 8 of Manvers township, along the Cavan, Manvers boundary from William Evans. There was no village of Bethany then. Their first home was made in a log house situated on the boundary at the top of the hill, where the main road turns east to Cavan. The house is no longer there, but the barn remained standing until this summer. They lived in this house until Mr. Fell built another home where the dwelling of a grandson, Carl Smith now stands.

Another older resident, Mrs. John Staples, who died in 1938 at the age of 90 remembered much of the village history. She was the second eldest of a family of six, children of George Twigg and Margaret King and lived her entire life in the community. The Twigg family had much influence in the old land. The early Twiggs crossed to England from Holland with King William, an ancestral fact of which Mrs. Staples was very proud. For their loyal support the King presented a crest to the Twigg family. This crest is ahand holding a branch, and it is presumed the branch signifies the name Twigg. A daughter, Miss Hannah Staples, living in the village possesses a replica of the crest. Mr. Staples farmed on the sixth concession and also owned a butcher shop in Bethany, situated on the same corner as Reg. Edmunds store is today. While the Canadian Pacific Railway was being constructed between Smith Falls and Toronto John Staples supplied the work gangs with large quantities of meat at a time when a choice roast could be bought for eight cents a pound and three pounds of the best steak would cost tweny-five cents.

William Davis, who died April 10, 1950, was 96 years of age and from his store of memories we learned other facts of early life in Bethany. His grandfather, on his mother's side of the house, Arthur Graham, came to Canada from the county of Cavan in Ireland in the year 1818 at the age of 19. Like the other pioneers mentioned, he too, crossed the Atlantic aboard a sailing vessel. Without a doubt, he got his money's worth, for it took the vessel 16 weeks to reach Canada. Mr. Davis' father, who was also named William, lived to celebrate his 101st birthday. He came from Devonshire, England, landed at Quebec, later to Whitby and finally settled on the farm now owned by Thomas Morton (part sold for village lots). William Davis attended the first local school, situated on what is now Milton Weatherilt's farm. In 1870 he became a civil servant and for two years delivered "Her Majesty's Mail." Every day excepting Saturday, it was his duty to meet the train (Grand Trunk) arriving in Bethany at one o'clock, receive the mail and drive by horse and rig to Ballyduff, Frogpond (later named Lotus), Burton, Newry (later named Yelverton), Janetville and Lifford, a distance of 32 miles. Quite often during the winter when the snow was very deep, the train would not come puffing into Bethany until three o'clock in the afternoon. Leaving to deliver the mail at that hour, Mr. Davis very seldom arrived back in the village before 10:30 at night.

Fitted For Shoes.

Mrs. John Porteous who died in November, 1948, attained the age of 93. She too recalled early happenings. Her father, William Gardiner was a shoemaker by trade and with his family moved to Bethany about 1857. "There were no shoes bought ready made in those days. Everyone came to the local shoemaker to be measured and fitted and would have to wait several days until the shoes were finished, depending on how busy the shoemaker was. In the fall a man would usually come in and order shoes for his whole family. They were good shoes, made of first grade leather and substantial soles. She and her sister Serepta operated a dressmaking establishment in the village and Mrs. Porteous in comparing her young days with present day styles often remarked "In my young days there were no such things as ready-made dresses. Everyone who could not sew themselves employed a dressmaker. And they were not so easy to make then either. Each dress took many yards of material and many, many stitches to complete them. Their home and fitting rooms were in the house now occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Fallis, but at that time it was situated on the north end of the village. When the Canadian Pacific Railway was under construction this house had to be moved to its present location.

The family of Isaac Preston (their story was dealt with in an earlier article) played an important part in the township of Manvers and in the village of Bethany and from memoirs kept by his descendants, much of the information of this entire article has been gleaned.

Sailor Minister Has Parish Along Coast

VANCOUVER (CP). — Capt. Ray McColl, fair-haired young skipper and sky pilot for 4,000 logging and fishing folk along the Northern British Columbia coast, has added the big Alumiinum Company of Canada project to his huge parish.

After an annual overhaul here, his 70-foot mission ship MV Crosby IV set off on her mission of mercy route from Kitimat to Egg Island.

McColl, the man with the most water parish in the United Church of Canada, is a strapping six-footer from Manitoba who learned to love the seas with the navy in the Second World War.

A practical seaman with his skipper's papers, he pilots his floating church through rips and sandbars with the best of them.

As parson he has married 25 couples in the last year and baptized more than 100 young Canadians.

Stopped For Services

Some idea of what the mission ship means to isolated folk was given recently when she dropped in at Kemano village, near the big Alcan project.

When Capt. McColl learned that some of the men were at the Alcan project for the day and the remainder were busy fishing, he said he would make his visit short and possibly come back later.

But the Kemanos quit fishing and spread themselves about on the beach, prepared for the services. During the next couple of days Capt. McColl visited two big Alcan camps where road-building is under way. He was the first churchman to visit the 300-odd men there.

Besides ministry and navigation, he issues marriage licences, witnesses land transfer documents, run a lending library, puts on movie shows as North Coast representative of the Film Board, dispenses medicines and speeds sick people to the mission hospital at Bella Bella.

PETERBOROUGH EXAMINER

SATURDAY, AUGUST 4, 1951 VOL. CIII, No. 29

CANADA'S DECISION TO STAND PAT on the matter of further export of arms until firearm calibres are standardized is explained by well-known city gunsmith Dave Clement. He holds in his hand five different types of ammunition now being used by the United Nations in Korea: United State .306, British Commonwealth .303, 8 mm. Turkish, Dutch 7.65 and the new British .280 calibre. "It's a stupid muddle," says Mr. Clement.—(Examiner Staff Photo)

Gunsmith Backs Claxton Stand

Terms Rifle Argument Muddle; Need Quick Solution

Dave Clement, likable Scot gunsmith on the Chemong Road, is a walking encyclopedia on firearms. He repairs guns, improves models, makes custom jobs for the great and near-great riflemen of Canada. Dave also has a complete history of the make and national "deals" of firearms on military levels. He can trace transactions between governments as far back as the Boer War.

Asked his impressions of the current mix-up between Canada the United States and Great Britain on their manufacturing headaches, he says, "It's a muddle, if there ever was one."

Going through small trays in his neat gunshop, Dave was able to pick up shells of all calibres used by various world powers in many past wars. He demonstrated the ballistic qualities of each and explained their good and bad points.

Only Common Sense

Asked his opinion of the Hon. Brook Claxton's stand for Canada on his insistence that military gun calibres be standardized by Great Britain, the United States and Canada before Canada makes further arms exports, he said it was only common sense.

The secret British .280 army rifle that will soon be accepted by Commonwealth armies, is an excellent model, he says.

Mr. Clement explained the difficulties of arsenals tooling up for changes of this kind. He says that the standardizing question will have to be settled immediately if any production is to be attained.

A Canadian champion range shot who has attended national meets for many years, Mr. Clement does custom gun work for the famous Boa shooting family who have taken consistant trophies at Bisley. He is an expert's expert.

MR. AND MRS. JAMES DUTTON are celebrating today at their home, 239 Stewart St., the 50th anniversary of their wedding. They were married in Stockport, Lancashire, and have resided in Peterborough since 1911. They have both accepted during those years many opportunities of contributing, by their efforts and deep interest, to the well being of the community of Peterborough. Their golden wedding cake is a handsome product of confectioner's skill and art, and was designed in appreciation of the life work of a man who rose from the ranks of the baking industry to presidency of its national association.—(Parks Studio Photo)

Second Polio Case

Peterborough's second polio case—a woman—was admitted to Civic hospital Friday night at 8 o'clock. At 11 p.m., following diagnosis, she was taken to a Toronto hospital by ambulance. First confirmed case, also a woman, was taken to Civic hospital Wednesday night after diagnosis at St. Joseph's hospital.

Ladder Touches Hydro Wire, 3 Escape Injury

LINDSAY, Aug. 4. — Three Lindsay men had a close escape from electrocution Thursday afternoon.

Harold Bouch, tinsmith, Ronald Armstrong and Oscar Aldred were the lucky men who escaped serious injury or death when a metal ladder touched a high tension wire beside the Academy theatre to cause a three minute break in power.

Bouch was raising an aluminum ladder Thursday morning to allow workmen to reach the southern eaves of the theatre when the ladder came in contact with a cable carrying more than 200 volts. Because the ladder was well grounded, the line blew. The resulting flash of flame burned through the knee of Armstrong's trousers.

Aldred picked up the broken cable but on the advice of Bouch dropped it almost immediately. Had he hung onto it longer he would have been electrocuted when the power came back on.

The break in power only lasted three minutes.

TROOPS GO TO CAMP

A troop convoy of 25 officers and men of the Midland regiment of Port Hope will leave for Petawawa Sunday for training courses.

MT. PLEASANT NATIVE DOCTOR

Old friends in the district of Mount Pleasant regret the death at the residence of his son Arthur in Homes, New York, of Dr. Louis Thexton. Dr. Thexton, who was born in Mount Pleasant, died last Tuesday.

FUND PASSES $60,000

William A. Wallace reports the present total of $60,366 in the Mayor's Fire Fund for dependents of the four men who died in the Zacks building fire May 19. Recent contributions were: Quaker Oats Co. of Canada $500; Sudbury Fire Fighters Association $35; and Ottawa Fire Fighters Association $50.

Find Cottages In Demand, Fewer Fish

Transit Tourists Not As Numerous Resort Men Say

A survey of district resorts on Friday reveals that accommodation is generaly filled up. It is "steady", "fair" and "slack". Every operator agreed that the general picture was much better than last year. Though not as many fish are being caught this season, the general picture is improving.

Establishments with house-keeping cottages seem to be in a better position than lodges which offer room and board. They are filled up, some well on into September.

Light In North

It has been rumoured that tourist business has been quite light in sections north of Peterborough County. This was confirmed by a report from a Paudash Lake operator who said he was a little short on business this years in comparison to last season. He called the outlook for the month of August "slow".

Another general feeling of resort operators was that there was less transit tourist business this season. Tourists had learned to book for accommodation well in advance of their vacations.

Fishing Not As Good

As already mentioned at the first part of this roundup, not as many fish are being taken in the district this season. Figures compiled by the Chamber of Commerce in their order of Kawartha muskie contest, shown nine entries for the month of July against 18 for the same period last year. And the largest muskie this season, by their chart, is five pounds lighter than the largest in '50.

Motorcycle Hits Hydro Pole

Two Peterborough residents were injured Friday night when they were thrown from a motorcycle after crashing into a hydro pole, just outside the Lakefield limits on Highway 28.

Hazel Caldwell, 18, Rubidge St., was thown some 10 feet through the air. She received brush burns, scrapes on her face and shock. She is in St. Joseph's Hospital where her condition is good.

Driver and owner of the motorcycle was Fred Doraty, 22, Sophia St. He received a cut and bruised left leg.

The pair were riding tandem on Doraty's motorcycle as they entered Lakefield from the south.

The accident occurred when Doraty tried to pass the car of John Allen, Hunter St., Lakefield, as Allen started to turn left off the highway to enter Hunter St. Doraty said he didn't see Allen's signal and he struck the left rear fender of the car.

The cycle then crashed into a hydro pole on the left-hand side of the road. Miss Caldwell was taken to St. Joseph's hospital by ambulance.

A Toronto motorist who saw the accident said that Allen gave a proper signal before starting to turn.

British Car Sales Decline But Still Ahead of 1950

British car sales in Peterborough dropped from 25 to 30 per cent since new credit restrictions became effective April 11. City car salesmen reported that following a comparatively big market the first few months of the year, the sales started falling in mid-April and are still in a slump.

One salesman explained that for a comparatively low-priced car costing $1,438, the buyer has to make a down payment of $719 and monthly payments of $59.92 for a year. This follows the credit restriction regulations that a down payment of one-half the total price must be made and the remainder paid within a year.

Should the potential buyer want something just a little fancier—say a Rolls-Royce priced at $22,500 he would have to make a down payment of $11,250 and monthly payments of $937.50.

Monthly Payments

With these figures in mind, it isn't hard to understand why even the low-priced British cars are not going as well. "People who used to be interested in British cars, just can't afford to buy one now," one salesman moaned. "It isn't the down payment that stops them so much as trying to meet the monthly payments."

Despite the recent slump, the greater number of sales in the first few months were able to bring up the average sales so far this year to compare favourably with the same period in 1950.

"A lot of people jumped in to buy before the credit restrictions became effective," it was explained.

The Peterborough picture resembles the state of the British car market all over Canada. In a recent survey, salesmen reported that the rush at the beginning of the year offset the present slump. In fact in the general Dominion-wide picture sales for the first six months, of this year were higher than during the same period last year.

However Peterborough's sales during June didn't drop as much as the 80 per cent reported for the overall Canadian sales.

EXPECT RISE

The town of Port Hope expects census results to reveal the town's population as approximately 6,580—this is 1,525 more than the official 5,055 of the eighth census ten years ago.

Accountants' Institute Head Peterboro-Born, Schooled

A former Peterborough resident, now president of the Ontario Institute of Chartered Accountants, believes that the Institute is a force that can keep Canada economically and politically healthy. He is John Alexander Wilson, 43, now a partner in the Toronto firm of George A. Touche and Co., but formerly a Peterborough boy who got his educational grounding at PCVS and on his father's farm in Otonabee.

This summer he was elected president of the chartered accountants' provincial body. And he has publicly stated he believes that accountancy in Canada has matured to professional status and is now part of our economic life.

This week his views on the role of accountancy in country's life are reviewed in the Financial Post.

Proud Father

His father, Robert A. Wilson, 297 Boswell Ave., is proud of his son's achievements but he remembers his parting words of advice to the 18-year-old youth as he set out for Toronto: "Now be straight and fair with everybody; but if you have to fight stick up for yourself no matter what happens."

Now it's Mr. Wilson, Jr., who is making the speeches.

Recently he said that the accountants, through their institute, could perform a threefold national service: by making sure taxes are equally distributed; by checking public accounts closely; and safeguarding the ethics of the profession as well as supervising the training of tyro accountants.

Mr. Wilson was born here and received his senior matriculation at the collegiate while only 16. After matriculationg he spent the next two years on his father's Otonabee farm.

Since then he has often told his father he believes that the practical education he received then—running the tractor, threshing machine, and coping with the wide scope of farm problems—was invaluable to him in getting started on his career.

Youngest To Join

At 19 he joined the internationally-known Touche firm, the youngest man ever to join the organization in Toronto. He received his CA degree in 1933 and in 1943 he became a junior partner.

Three years later he was elected to the executive of the Institute of Chartered Accountants in Ontario. In 1948 he was elected treasurer and the following year vice-president.

Mr. Wilson is also a council member of the Canadian Institute of Chartered Accountants, a governor of the Canadian Tax Foundations, and treasurer of the Toronto Board of Trade.

His wife is the former Gertrude Norman of Toronto and he has two daughters and a son. Beside his parents in Peterborough, he has a brother E. Roland Wilson and a sister Mrs. Barry Seabroke, Rubidge St. Another brother Carl E. Wilson lives in Toronto.

Ex-Alderman James Dutton Celebrates Golden Wedding

By HARRY THEOBALD

It was a lovely evening in summer, and three of the Marshall girls had been shaking and sweeping rugs in front of their home. The young man, living just about opposite their place, noticed that two of the sisters had gone indoors, leaving the last of the dusting task to the third.

He had been increasingly aware of them of late (there were seven girls in the Marshall family, and one boy), but it was two of the other sisters who had seemed to appeal to him. It was just a tenuous interest, but seven of them! A young man was bound to observe all that feminine charm and loveliness. And they appeared to be such nice girls, and attractive.

On an impulse that probably was not so sudden and precipitate as he may have fancied afterward, the young man crossed to the seven sisters' side of the street. His feelings were a blend of diffidence and resolution.

"That's quite heavy work for a girl." (It wasn't that strenuous; she had often done it before, on a division of the housekeeping duties by the Marshall sorority.) "Won't you let me help you?"

"That would be very kind of you," the girl smiled.

Took His Time

It turned out that the young man took his time about that chore. They chatted between times, and there was no thought of the two sisters. They knew each other the next time they met, and so they became friends, and it was not long until they discovered that they loved each other.

Finally James Dutton and Ada Marshall were married 50 years ago today.... And they both lived happy ever after....

"Seeing that the Examiner is interested enough to ask me about our family and my work and other experience," said Mr. Dutton at his home, "I'd like to say this, I want to pay tribute to my wife. Through the years she has been a constant companion, wise in counsel, and self-sacrificing in having had to spend many hours alone on account of my activities, especially in various phases of public life."

Never Regretted

In that mood of gratefulness Mr. Dutton continued: "I have never regretted coming to Peterborough. I have been happy here. I found a warmth and generosity on the part of the people that provides an atmosphere for the healthy and fruitful development of life."

The marriage of James Dutton and Ada Marshall was solemnized by the Rev. Fleming Jones in St. Thomas Anglican Church, Stockport, Lancashire.

Stockport, seven miles from Manchester, was at that time a city of 125,000 people. Mr. Dutton had served seven years as an apprentice in the bakery trade.

"It was all manual work, and it

Eight-Day Course

Sea Scout Leaders Meet In Lakefield

The first Canadian "Woodbadge" training course for Canadian Sea Scout leaders will be held for eight days in Lakefield, commencing Aug. 13.

Lakefield, with its efficient headquarters at Sea Scout Ship "Fraser," under direction of its Master Kenneth Jakins, was chosen for several reasons. It is ideally located, having both land and bush facilities, accessible from the heart of the village and there is ample watercraft training equipment.

More than a dozen leaders are expected to attend the course from Hamilton, Toronto, Montreal, Ottawa, Galt and other centres. From the Lakefield Preparatory School two cutters, 12 canoes and four dinghies have been obtained as well as a whaler from the Peterborough Sea Cadet Corps by courtesy of Lieut. Stewart Gardiner.

Tent Colony

A tent colony will be erected on the short of Lake Katchewanooka at Newson's Point.

On Wednesday evening two scouting executives from Ottawa visited the location. Leslie Punchard, who will be in charge of the project, has had years of sea training experience.

He was Master of the Royal Research Ship "Discovery," of Capt. Robert Scott's South Pole fame, a training ship in England. He was eight years in the Royal Navy and following war service was appointed executive commissioner at Scout headquarters in Ottawa.

Ottawa Quartermaster

Field Commissioner Pat Evans, also of Ottawa, will act as quartermaster during the course. He, too, has had considerable scouting experience, eight years in Magog, P.Q., and three years in the RCAF. After the war he joined the executive Scout staff in Ottawa and has been posted to the Maritimes, Saskatchewan and Ottawa organizing and visiting scout groups and conducting training courses.

The course will consist of eight days of intensive demonstrations on campcraft, knots, manning of boats, canvas work, navigation, chart work and many other phases. Evenings will be devoted to lectures.

Keep Tradition St. Laurent Tells Ukranians

By AL VICKERY

GIMLI, Man., Aug. 4 (CP) — Prime Minister St. Laurent Friday said "Canadians of all backgrounds, while preserving everything that is good in their traditions, can work together to make this great free country a better and more interesting place for Canadians of all origins to live in."

He spoke to about 1,500 residents of the Pleasant Home Settlement district, 15 miles west of here, where Manitoba Ukrainian-Canadians were celebrating the 60th anniversary of their arrival in the Canadian West.

500 Gather

Mr. St. Laurent later addressed a gathering of about 500 residents and holidayers at Gimli Park, then left Gimli airport by air for Saskatoon.

"There is one power—you know which one—that uses human beings as building material for the state . . . here in Canada, the government serves the people."

The prime minister said he hoped the Korean war would be an example that aggression does not prosper.

He reviewed the signing of the United Nations charter at San Francisco and the later forming of the 12-nation North Atlantic pact.

Carleton Farmers Protest Immigrants

OTTAWA, Aug. 4—(CP)—A meeting of Carleton County farmers, protesting what they termed "inefficient" immigrant farm labor, decided Friday night to urge Federal authorities to tighten screening methods overseas.

The meeting, called by the Carleton County Federation of Agriculture, heard various farmer-speakers criticize immigrants, particularly Italians, as having no knowledge of Canada farming methods, a lack of knowledge of English and of refusing to stay on farm jobs.

W. W. Dawson, director of the Labor Department's Special Services Division, told the farmer the government had no legal contract—just a promise—that immigrants would stay on farms a year.

Czechs Attempting To Destroy Free Press

NEW YORK, Aug. 4 (AP)—Directors of the American Newspaper Publishers Association said Friday that the imprisonment in Czechoslovakia of Associated Press correspondent William N. Oates is "one more effort" by Communist countries "to destroy forever a free press."

In a resolution adopted by its board of directors, the ANPA termed the trial Oatis for espionage a "travesty of justice" and said it should "serve as a dire warning to all free people of the ruthless nature of Communist countries."

Oatis was sentenced to 10 years in prison.

Character Is Foundation Of All Welfare Endeavor

By WILLIAM E. GILROY, DD.

When St. Paul wrote to Timothy (II Timothy 2:15): "Study to show thyself approved unto God, a workman that needeth not to be ashamed," he was probably referring to Timothy's work as a Christian leader "rightly dividing the word of truth."

But Paul would undoubtedly have applied the same principle to all work in the business of earning a iving, or perhaps one should say more properly earning the right to live. Paul thought that everything should be done to the glory of God (I Corinthians 10:31) and he was very specific on the matter of earning the right to live.

Paul reminds the Christians that they were members one of another. He said that the strong should serve the weak, and that all Christians should by love serve one another. (Romans 15:1, Galatians 5:13.)

But when he saw certain unworthy ones taking advantage of the good will of others, and using these fine Christian principles of brotherly love, not to serve and do their part, but to infringe upon the work of others, he was blunt and decisive. If a man did not work, he said, neither should he eat. In the Christian economy every one should help his brother, but there was no place for loafers.

That was a sound principle; but what Paul did not foresee was the situation in a modern complex society when, in periods of deep depression, many who asked only for work and self-help, were unable to find it.

Back in my student days, in the wealthy city of Toronto, I saw men in a long line outside a downtown newspaper office, which was handing out bread.

Some years later, when I was a pastor in Brantford, Ont., "the telephone city," from which Bell conducted his early experiments, and which now contains an elaborate and beautiful memorial to him, I found a large group of recently-arrived Englishmen and Scotchmen, facing the winter without work, without food, and without clothing. I set up a second-hand clothing emporium in the basement of the church, and handed out clothing, while the YWCA across the road established a soup kitchen, and provided one meal a day.

Since those days, at the turn of the century, much has happened, most of it for the better. Nearly al the jobless men with whom I dealt years ago later found jobs, and became valuable citizens. But where others are not so worthy new forms of indigence have developed. Those who won't work now eat at the expense of the community's large-scale relief program.

What would Paul have had to say about this? I do not know; but I do not know all the problems associated with work, unemployment, and living, are moral and spiritual problems with which Christian teaching and principles have much to do. Those who, for various reasons find themselves dependent upon relief, are by no means either unworthy, dishonest, or indigent. Probably this is true of the great majority of the needy and the actually lazy and indigent bring unjust criticism upon measures inherently humane.

At the foundation of all welfare, individual and social, is character. The very conditions of life today are character-testing, and the only character that stands the test is the character built upon the ancient Judaic and Christian standards of integrity, regard for others, and devotion to the commonweal.

These things need emphasis in every local community and in our national life.

Services of An Architect Prove Wise Investment

Whether you plan to build a large or small house, the services of an architect will prove a sound and wise investment. His fee ranges from approximately 6 to 10 per cent of the cost of a house, depending on the extent of the work he does.

Basically, the architect designs your house according to the amount of money available and the needs and desires of the family. Should your ideas be too ambitious for your pocketbook, he can suggest savings by eliminating unnecessary features. The architect is essentially an artist and therefore he must be familiar with every detail of the lot on which you intend to build. If the house does not blend with its natural setting, it will tend to look unattractive no matter how well it has been designed.

When the architect has a clear picture of your requirements he makes rough sketches of the house. If these are satisfactory to you he proceeds with the working drawings and specifications. The specifications are the written details of construction which supplement the drawings.

If requested, the architect will arrange competitive bidding for construction and also draw up the building contract based on the plans and specifications. Generally, architects use standard contract documents approved by the Royal Architectural Institute of Canada.

The architect will check all the bills for materials and labor and approve them for payment and will also supervise construction if retained to do so. He will make a final inspection of the completed house and obtain the necessary guarantees from the contractor for the roof, heating system and other mechanical equipment.

Sturgeon Fishing Big Business In Albany River

PORT HOPE — (CP) — From this northern settlement on the banks of the Albany river scores of Indian fishermen have made their annual trip to the sturgeon fishing grounds.

From now until just before freeze-up they will live in tents and wikiups, with only occosional visits to the Hudson's Bay company post here or to Johnny Yesno's free-trading establishment across Lake Eabemet.

With sturgeon selling at nearly $1.50 a pound in New York, the Indians expect this season's busines smay be even more lucrative than usual.

The operations in this area are among the most interesting of all commercial fisheries.

Nets or Lines

The fish are caught in nets or by night lines, with diced pieces of pike or other coarse fish as bait. Each morning the Indians set out by canoe or outboard motor to bring in their catch. It isn't very thrilling from the sports fishing angle, for the sturgeon, including fish of 100 pounds or more, "Come in like a log."

Still alive, the fish are moored to stakes set in the muddy banks of the river or the lakes formed by its widening and are kept alvie until aircraft come in to pick them up. When the fishing and the weather are good, the planes make daily calls at all the camps along the river and, at the same time, deliver food, medicine, mail and other supplies to the various bands.

As soon as the plane is heard, the live fish are quickly hauled to the bank where they are cleaned and weighed by the pilot who sets up portable scales on a tripod and "pays off" immediately. The fish are partly processed at Nakina, rail and shipping centre, and then go on to New York.

OAC Seeks Beef Cattle To Cut Down Waste

GUELPH, Aug. 4—(CP)—A program aimed at cutting down waste in beef production and finding bloodlines which will turn out top quality meat economically is under way at the Ontario Agricultural College here.

Professor R. G. Knox, head of the Animal Husbandry Department and chairman of the Advanced Registry Board for Beef Cattle, is in charge of the tests. The program is intended to compare the effect of bloodlines and feeding on production of beef.

Professor Knox and his associates said it will be years before they have proof that bloodlines are as important as feeding in production of good beef. They hope to test a minimum of 100 sires through their progeny.

Ball Tycoon Of West Never Played

By GRAHAM TROTTER

EDMONTON, Aug. 4 (CP)—M. V. (Red) Nixon at 26 hasn't played an inning of baseball but today is one of the top baseball tycoons on the prairies.

Tomorrow he embarks on his biggest venture of a baseball executive career which started only this season. It is the $7,300 Edmonton baseball tournament.

The three-day event is believed the richest ever held on he North American continent for eight teams. The winner will pocket $2,500.

The six-foot redhead plans to use the tournament's proceeds to employ top American baseball instructors to teach the rudiments of the game to Edmonton youngsters.

Bad Heart

For one reason and another—including an eight-month siege in bed with heart sickness asd a hitch in the air force during the war—Nixon never played at his favorite sport.

The native of Abbey, Sask., now head of his own oil brokerage firm, decided recently that if he couldn't play baseball he'd promote the game.

He bought the Sceptre, Sask., club in mid-season and then took over the franchise of Swift Current Indians when the outfit went into the red.

Already the Sceptre Nixons have won between $8,000 and $9,000 on the prairie tournament trail this season. Last year the club, which hails from a Saskatchewan wistle-stop with a population of about 100, topped the tournament circuit with $117,500 in earnings.

On Its Feet

"I want to put baseball on its feet here and let it speak for itself to the fans," Nixon said. He plans to make the big Edmonston tournament an annual affair.

A showman patterned after the big league's Bill Veeck, Nixon will spice the tournament winners with firework displays, a hillibilly band asd a baseball clown.

All of the eight Alberta and Saskatchewan teams, except the host Edmonton Oilers, are tournament winners this season. They are Edmonton's Belmont Aces, Central Alberta All-Stars, Regisa Capitals, Medicine Hat Mohawks, Indian Head Rockets, Eston Ramblers and, of course, Nixon's Sceptre Club.

Most of the teams are made up of American imports.

Poet Carl Sandburg Tries Hand At Raising Goats

FLAT ROCK, NC. — (AP) — After the goats have been milked on Connemara Farm near here, there's a sound of singing in the twilight air.

Leading the singing and providing the accompaniment on his guitar is Carl Sandburg, two-time Pulitzer Prize winner and, at 73, one of America's best-loved poets and biographers.

The songs Sandburg sings with his wife, the former Lillian Steichen, daughter Helga Thoman and grandchildren are the folk tunes he has collected and helped bring back to popularity. In "An American Songbag" he served up a generous helping of the ballads and chants of the people.

Tried Everything

White-topped Sandburg in his busy lifetime has turned his hand to everything from writing poetry to washing dishes. Raising goats is an occupation he took up some years ago in Michigan.

Back in 1945, he moved goats, family and all down to the Hills of western North Sarolina. Here he lives with them in semi-isolation, close to nature.

In fine weather, almost every day finds Sandburg in his favorite spot on the farm, a place he calls simply "The Rock". There, undisturbed except perhaps by his grandchildren, he scribbles in longhand or just sits in the sun.

But when milking times comes in the afternoon, there are chores for every member of the household. In the dairy barn where some 200 goats are being milked, Sandburg walks about, speaking to his pets by name. The grandchildren take over the task of feeding the kids.

A Goat Expert

Mrs. Sandburg, a sister of the famous photographer Edward Steichen, is an expert on pedigreed goats.

It was because of the goats that the Sandburgs moved from their home at Harbert, Mich.

"The goats," the Whitmanesque poet said simply, "need more room to roam."

It was in his attic study at Harbert that Sandburg wrote his great works on Lincoln.

The farm also is a quiet life for the poet who sang the glory of bustling "Chicago," and industrial America. But the change is typical of the variety of Sandburg's literary works.

In addition to poetry, which ranges from the dynamic to the tender, he has written history and a novel. His biographies of Lincoln, "The Prairie Years" and "The War Years" in six volumes, are monuments to his regard for the Civil War President.

His mammoth novel, "Remembrance Rock," received wide acclaim when it was published several years ago.

Folk music caught Sandburg's attention early and he spent some time collecting and recording tunes sung by mountain folk, cowboys, railroad gangs, and all those "who sing because they must." With his guitar, he gave poetry reading-folk singing concerts across the countries.

Last year, his "Collected Poems," covering the whole range of his poetry, was awarded the Pulitzer Prize. In 1940 he won his first Pulitzer Prize for "Abraham Lincoln: The War Years."

Here And There In Sports

By The Canadian Press

Army apparently was headed for another glorious football season this fall until the announcement Friday that a majority of the squad had been dismissed from the military academy for "cribbing" in examinations.

Ninety unidentified cadets were expelled and Gen. J. Lawton Collins, army chief of staff, said no names would be announced.

However, Sen. Harry Byrd of Virginia, said Gen. Collins had told him and several other senators that most of the Army football team was involved. Army, however, indicated it would carry out its football schedule.

At Clinton, about 400 flight cadets from Aylmer, Clinton, Centralia, Trenton and the Royal Military College, Kingston, competed in the training command track and field championships at the RCAF station here Friday.

The Royal Military College was winner of the Air Vice Marshall Middleton Trophy by massing a total of 60 points. Clinton station was runner-up with 36 points.

Indications point to the largest and strongest field in the history of the Millar Trophy when play starts next Thursday in the 18-hole qualifying round of the professional match play event as Islington club.

Officials said Friday 51 entries have been received for the three-day golf tournament. Expected are all but two of the winners in 23 years that the trophy has been up for competition.

Thirteen young colts, reported the largest field of young standard breds to race on an Ontario harness racnig track, will compete at Stratford in the $3,500 feature trot Monday.

Besides the favored Dr. Riddell, entries include Joe Herbert, Castle Lee and Lee Van Volo.

The program also includes a $1,500 free-for-all and a $1,000 three-year-old race.

At Seattle, twin-engined Miss Pepsi of Detroit sped over Lake Washington waters to a record of 100.5 miles an hour Friday in qualifying for tomorrow's gold cup speedboat race.

The record she cracked was less than 24 hours old, set by Danny Foster in Such Crust—another Detroit craft. That was 93.34 miles an hour.

South Korea's amateur athletes have been invited to participate in the winter Olympic games at Oslo, Norway next winter. Acceptance depends on the war situation.

Veteran Leads Woman In Golf Meet

By W. R. WHEATLEY

LAVAL-SUR-LE-LAC, Que., Aug. 4 (CP)—The tough assignment of overtaking an elusive par and the pacesetting score of a doughty veteran was left to the field today is the final round of the Canadian ladies' close golf championships.

So far, neither task has been accomplished.

In two 18-hole rounds played in sunshine and rainstorm, Laval's par 77 hasn't been equalled.

In the same two rousds, Mrs. A. B .Darling, of Montreal Whitlock, has been the leader with consistent play. In Thursday's opening round she shot a 78 to go one stroke in the lead. Yesterday, in weather fit for almost anything but golf, she took 81.

Closest to her at 161 and rated the best chance to catch up, were Mrs. Peter Patch, a clubmate from Whitlock, and Marlene Stewart, of Lookout Point Club, near Niagara Falls.

Mrs. Patch, a tall, young golfer who now lives in California, shot an 81 yesterday in the worst of the day-long series of rainstorms. She had an 80 in the openisg round.

Threatening

Miss Stewart, 17-year-old Ontario champion, threatened yesterday to take over the leadership. She was out in 38, one under par, but took 40 coming in.

Her 78 was the lowest of the day and the only score usder 80. She took 83 Thursday.

The west coast made its strongest bid when Mrs. J. H. Todd, of Victoria, come through yesterday with an 81 to give her a 36-hole total of 163, four strokes behind the leader.

Another British Columbia golfer, hefty Babs Davies from Vancouver Marine Drive, also shot an 81. This gave her a two-round score of 164 and a tie with Daintry Chisholm of Royal Montreal.

Miss Chisholm, niece of Mrs. Darling, slipped from a second-place 79 of Thursday with a 41-44 for 85 yesterday.

The club is asking for a split of Friday and Saturday night dates and a better break on the Tuesday-Wednesday setup.

BALTIC STATES Estonia, Latvia and Lithuania, since forcible incorporation in USSR in 1940, have been rebellious, subject to frequent purges. In past weeks, anti-Moscow riots flared in Lithuania.

POLAND Has one of best organized anti-Russian undergrounds in Europe. Gives Moscow constant trouble. Recently Soviet Deputy Premier Molotov had to be sent in to threaten violent reprisals against resistance and any sign of "Titoism." Eight Polish military officers arrested, charged with plotting against the Red regime.

EAST GERMANY Popular resistance to Red rule reaches new high. Sabotage, anti-Communist demonstrations are rife. Moscow forced to pressure German Communist government to impose stricter control. New purge of German Reds removes some 2300 party leaders as "Trotskyists."

ROMANIA Farmers resist Moscow's demand for more production. Reds station armed guards in fields to oversee harvest.

YUGOSLAVIA is no Russian satellite, but the spearhead of satellite resistance of Kremlin domination. Tito's defiance of Stalin encourages other dissidents. Recently he made fiery speech inviting Poland to join his rebellion against Stalinism.

BULGARIA Angry farmers resist collection of heavy wheat quotas for Russia. In some cases, whole fields have been burned down.

ALBANIA Anti-Russian guerrillas battle government forces and Russian police in northern mountains.

USSR In Russia itself, grumbling grows as speed-up in arms production cuts down already scarce consumer goods, lowers living standard to near mere subsistence level.

STALIN HAS HIS WORRIES, TOO—As you can see, above, there's trouble all over the map in the Iron Curtain countries. Discontent, grumbling and even violent resistance to Communist oppression give the masters in the Kremlin plenty of headaches. They're in no danger of a revolutionary overthrow, of course. They still have all the guns. But there's enough serious unrest possibly to make Stalin & Co. do a little rejiggering of their timetable for world conquest.

British Open Winner Asks For Money To Play

By EDWIN S. JOHNSON

LONDON, Aug 4—(CP)—Maxie Faulkener, the first homebred since 1948 to win the British open golf title, has been too busy cashing in on his newly-won laurels to bother about current or future competitive tournaments.

In fact it may be some time before the 34-year-old champion returns to the professional circuit unless tournament promoters indicate a willingness to recognize his title status by granting him appearance money for playing.

Withdraws

To show he meant business, Faulkner withdrew from the 2,000-guineas Harrogate tournament, one of the richest events of the season, before hustling off to his home in the country. There he planned to rest up for a spell and sort out the tempting offers of stage, radio and television contracts as well as exhibition tours. He also plans to write a book on the finer points of the game.

Maxie made it clear he was not adopting a prima donna stand just because he held the open title. He said he had long felt that every top-flight British professional should receive some inducement apart from a crack at the prize money, for appearing in any major tournament.

He put the proposition to the Harrogate officials, but when they gave him the brush-off he withdrew from the field. His decision caused quite a flurry as it was the last tournament before the selectors nominated the team to represent Britain in the Ryder Cup match against the United States next November. Faulkner will be a member of the team.

But Maxie has one date he intends to keep without fail—the British match-play tourney at Maidenhead in September. He is gunning for the double title.

"Must Make Money"

"I am an unattached professional and must make money somehow," he said. "United States ranking golfers receive a fixed fee for competing in the more important events and I should think my appearance in a tournament is worth £100. I believe other British golf professionals would adopt the same attitude if they won the championship."

Faulkner indicated that United States promoters were willing to pay for his appearance in their tournaments but not enough to induce him to make the trip.

He said he had wired the Tam O'Shanter Club in Chicago his readiness to compete there for a payment of £1,000, plus expenses. They offered him $1,000.

"That just wasn't good enough," Faulkner said. "After I had paid my fare that would have left me with about $150 to meet the many other demands of tournament play."

In the United States, he said, the open title-holder, the PGA champion and the top money winner of the previous year received a nominal payment for entering any prize tournament.

"It's high time something was done about the matter in this country," Maxie said. "I may have to carry the battle to a showdown but I think all the British professionals will be behind me."

Ottawa Jockeys Told Take Care

OTTAWA, Aug. 4 — (CP) — Jockeys at nearby Connaught Park race track have been warned to be careful at all times of their contacts both on and off the track.

Harry Bradley, chief federal inspector of the Agriculture Department, gave the warning.

He talked Thursday with jockeys, trainers and race track owners at Connaught Park. He said, his warning in no way reflected on jockeys racing at the track.

His statement followed reports that Connaugh Park is being closely scrutinized by provincial racing officials as part of the investigation of suspected race-fixing on Ontario tracks.

RCMP and Quebec provincial police officials have denied rumors that they had joined in an investigation at Connaught.

Canoe Regatta Features 12 Championships

MOONEY'S BAY, Ont., Aug. 4 (CP).—Canada's 1951 paddling classic — the 51st Canadian Canoe Association championship regatta—is to be run off today on the quiet waters of Mooney's Bay course, four miles from the heart of Ottawa.

A total of 21 championship races are on the two-day card, with 17 scheduled for opening day. Sunday's program features four long distance races — the 10,000 metres events.

Some 400 paddlers, representing 18 canoe clubs, will be out to cop individual honors and to win the regatta championship for their own clubs.

The club that compiles the most points in Saturday's races is presented the association burgee, a red and white triangular pennant 10 feet long. Radisson Canoe Club of Three Rivers, Que., won it in 1950 and are out to defend it.

Clubs Compete

Five clubs have been entered from Montreal and three from Toronto. Ottawa has two clubs in the running and there is one each from Gananoque, Winnipeg, Carleton Place, Ont., Lachine, Que., Quebec City, Sudbury, Ont., Three Rivers, Que., and Dartmouth, NS.

The clubs can only compete in the events in which they placed at trials in Ontario and Quebec earlier this summer.

The course, little affected by water currents, is only a few hundred yards from Hog's Back falls and beach on the Rideau river. It is the home site of the Rideau Canoe Club and now permanent site of the CCA regatta.

Hillbilly Songs Increase In Popularity Across Nation

by RICHARD KLEINER
NEA Staff Correspondent

New York—(NEA)—Pull up a guitar and listen to the plaintive lament entitled "The City Slicker What Was Done Wrong By the Hill-Billy, or Those Tin Pan Alley Blues."

This ballad tells the story of the sophisticated songwriters who used to turn out hit tunes about love and moon and love and kisses.

Nowadays they are either (a) starving to death or (b) writing about little gals in calico and little boys in Levis and the wind whistling across the plains and such-like.

The last five years or so have found the hillbilly songs (now dignified with the name "country songs") growing increasingly popular. Even along the dusty trails of New York, you'll find the buckaroos singing "On Top of Old Smoky" and "Tennessee Waltz" as they herd their taxicabs through the macadam meadows.

✧ ✧ ✧

Actually, there are three types of country music. There is authentic folk music, like "Old Smoky", which are ballads that have been sung in the mountains for generations.

Then there are the songs turned out by contry composers, like "Tennessee Waltz," written by Pee Wee King and Redd Stewart. Most of these are popularized over the grand-pappy of coutry-music shows, Nashville's "Grand Ol' Opry."

Last and newest entrant in the country music field are the tunes written by Tin-Pan Alley composers who have gone back to the soil for warm inspiration and cold cash. Typical is "My Truly, Truly Fair," written by Bob Merrill.

But Tin-Pan Alley is having its troubles. The folksy music requires a knack, like anything else. And many of the successful city songwriters just don't have it. Their big flaw, apparently, is that they're too smart for themselves.

✧ ✧ ✧

Their creations are all slick, the phrases neatly turned, the music fits the mood and everything sticks together like flies to a mule. But, to a real country music fan, it lacks the simplicity and story-telling qualities that make a homespun hit.

And a country music hit is a big thing these days.

Just the thought of what such songs as "Good Night Irene" and "Tennessee Waltz" have done financially sets and New York publisher to drooling into his hominy grits and yogurt. "Tennessee Waltz," for example, is rolling along faster than "White Christmas," the all-time record champion.

What accounts for the sudden nation-wide love of country music? Nobody knows for sure, but there are plenty of theories.

Most authorities feel that the war had a lot to do with it.

During the war years, small towners came to big towns for wrok in defense industries. They craved some of their favorite music on the radio, and big town disc jockeys obliged. This spread the craze into the cities, by a process of nasal osmosis.

✧ ✧ ✧

Others say the city music lovers were getting fed up with the endless variations on the love theme dished out by Tin-Pan Alley. They welcomed country music as a long-needed relief.

Another group, more practical, feels that it came about because of the decline of dance bands in popularity. Since the war, the big recording names have all been vocalists. They needed many songs to sing, and searched around for ballads and novelty tunes with catchy lyrics. Their search led them to the country songs.

Whatever the reason, country music's popularity gives evidence of being permanent—at least for a while. From Grand Ol' Opry's stars like Red Foley and Ernest Tubb to New York night-culb favorites like the Weavers and Josh White, it's country music, 2 to 0.

And even Ezio Pinza has just recorded a ditty entitled "L'il Ol' State of Texas." Next year, the Met may present "Tristan Und Daisy June."

Planned Storage Essential Basement Space Declines

Emphasis on planned storage space is just as important as any other feature of the house. "A place for everything" is the ultimate desire, and f these spaces are properly shaped and located everythng will have a place. There has been a steady decline in the use of the attic and basement for storage space an and increase in the placing of storage space where it is more convenient to the family, with a big increae in the efficiency and attractiveness of this space.

Each room in the house should be analyzed for the kind of storage needed, then it is a matter of working out the most economical units of construction that will provide these needs. If the initial cost is too high to permit building the complete list, it is wise to plan for future additions of the units. The ordinary closet is a poor solution to most storage requirements.

Living-Dining

Take your radio out of its cabinet and install so that instrument panel and speaker are flush with the wall. Store sheet music and records in a built-in cabinet, as well as the movie projector and all the aparatus that goes with it. Make your desk a hinged affair that swings into the wall and out of sight. Desk drawers are practically useless—store the hundreds of things usually found in them in shallow drawers built into the wall. Store silver and linens in the same way. China is kept clean and safe in this space. Many new homes are being planned with a combined living-dining room. It is important to plan the storage space for this area carefully.

Bedroom

A wall-storage space is especially convenient in the bedroom. Keep shoes, clothes, books, bed linen and blankets out of the way in a built-in space, and you can rid yourself of the bureau and chiffonier. Even the dressing table, like the living room desk, can be built so as to swing into the wall when not in use. A comfortable bed can be constructed as a built-in unit as well, with a wali-radio near it. In today's house, the bedrooms are generally smaller but planned for better use. For a few dollars, and some good planning you can do away with unnecessary furniture and make the job of cleaning much easier.

Bath-Hall Storage

Some designers completely forget the necessity of storage space in the bathroom. A built-in closet for towels, toilet tissue, cleaning materials, and toilet articles is worth its weight in gold to a busy housewife. The idea of using the usually neglected wall space should be considered, too. Shelves, built-in when possible, provide valuable and useful storage space. In the hallway, a series of storage bins can be built to hold golf clubs and other sporting equipment, raincoats and rubbers, hats and packages, and a hundred other things that are normally propped up in a corner or stuffed away in a closet. Standing cabinets, while not as convenient or as efficient as the built-in ones, can be used in the hall, which otherwise might be two expanses of useless wall.

Work Centre Storage

One very serious feature to consider in planning the work centre is that of storage space. Too many home-planners fail to take advantage of available space in the area in providing organized storage. A common error is in the design of shelves. Shelves should not be so deep that items stored at the rear can not be reached easily. Practically everything stored on shelves in the work centre can be placed on shelves not more than 10 inches in depth. By using wall-storage methods, much of the space occupied by standing cabinets and overhanging shelf cabinets could be salvaged for more useful purposes. Canned goods, usually stored in the fruit cellar and requiring a trip down and up the basement steps, or stacked on a high, dark shelf in the pantry, can be placed on a narrow shelf where they are easily reached, and where the labels can be read, eliminating a lot of unnecessary fumbling. Well-ventilated bins should be included for the storage of fresh fruits and vegetables.

The problem of organized storage in the work centre is even greater in a small home. If you are planning a small home, the space beneath the sink and work counters should be completely utilized. This space has a good depth for all kinds of drawer units and hard-to-store items.

The typical Canadian housewife bemoans the fact that she has inadequate storage space in her work centre. Closets, of course, are not the solution to her problem. The solution is, however, a plan whereby as much wall storage space as possible is given to her for the storage of the countless pieces of equipment she requires to do her work efficiently.

Bulk Storage

For the storage of bulky things, closets cannot have too much room.

Clothing and blankets can be stored in closets with space-economy, but little else can. Who has not tried to take a card table, vacuum cleaner or some other bulky item out of a closet filled with clothes, dragging most of them off their hangers, without fervently wishing for a better storage place for such things?

One excellent spot for the storage of bulky items is the garage. Garden tools, the baby carriage, bicycples, skiis, the lawn mower, can all be stored there conveniently. Most of these items should be kept on the ground level anyway, and carrying them into the house is a useless expenditure of effort. Extra footage may be required when you plan your garage to accommodate compartments, for this bulk storage.

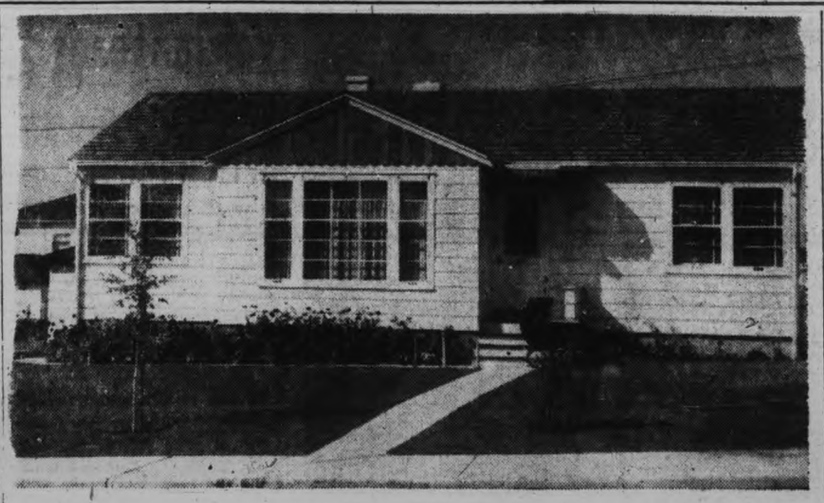
Home-planners would do well to consider the great expanses of wall-space in halls, as described previously, when attempting to find a solution to their bulk storage problem. Built-in cabinets in halls can hold large quantities of bulky things that can be kept nowhere else conveniently.

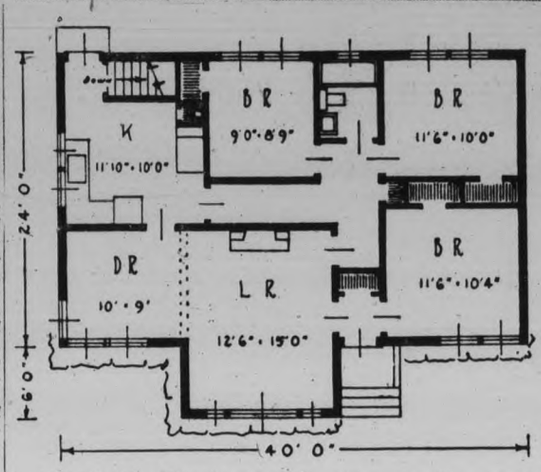
General Storage

There is no other possibility to consider in the question of storage space, and one which many people seem to have forgotten. This is the construction of a room attached to the house or built as a separate unit in the yard. A good architect or designer, with materials available, can show you how to build an attractive and efficient storage house where summer furniture, lawn swings and hammocks, tents, hunting and fishing equipment, trunks and other articles which are used only a few times each year can be stored safely and conveniently.

The house, planned for organized storage, with facilities in every area of the house, will give more space for the things nobody-knew-what-to-do-with before than has ever been thought possible. Because there will be plenty of space for everything, and because a lot of useless furniture and cabinets will be done away with, there will be a great deal more space for convenient, comfortable, pleasant living.

The problem of storage involves very intelligent planning . . . of what you want to store, where you want to store it, how big it is, and how often you will want to take it out of storage.





HOUSE NO. 613—Racing east on a street of new small homes, is this attractive six-room cottage. Exterior walls are white calpboards, with gable ends of vertical boards stained brown. The cedar shake roof is green. While the basic plan is a simple rectangle, the projection of the living room to the front has given the design pleasing character, which lifts it out of the ordinary. Notice that the roof extends out over the tiny front porch to provide protection at the door. Including basement, the house contains about 19,800 cubic feet. Touching Story Of Bass Loyalty

SAULT STE. MARIE, Ont, — (CP). — Bill is still guarding his home even though his wife and 5,000 sons and daughters have left.

Bill is a six-pound bass and his home is a few feet in front of the dock at the forest ranger station on Lady Evelyn Lake in the Temagami district north of here.

The rangers first noticed Bill when he set up housekeeping there recently. With a tail "as wide as a kitchen table" he swept a yard-wide area of water clear and built his nest. His mate arrived and soon Bill was guarding thousands of eggs.

He chased everything. The rangers say the supply plane now moors on the far side of the dock because Bill chewed chunks out of the floats. They caught Bill twice while fishing and twice they set him free to return to his vigil over the eggs. After he was caught the second time the rangers just gave up fishing.

The eggs all hatched around July 1 and his sons and daughters have all left Bill, but he is still guarding the deserted nest.

Must Give Careful Thought To Selecting Heating Plant

Careful thought should be given to the heating and air conditioning of a home now that the development of heating equipment has advanced to the point where families in all walks of life can enjoy the utmost in heating comfort and convenience.

One should plan on equipment which is capacious enough to maintain an equitable temperature throughout a many-partitioned, many-windowed house, regardless of how the temperature goes outside.

Direct radiation and convection are the two channels for the transmission of heat. The first is the transmission of heat through space by waves similar to the sun. The convection channel is heat transmission by circulation. This method nature provides through the difference in weight between warm and cold air.

Convection heating is the principle behind the familiar warm air heating system. The other methods, steam and hot water, combine both convection and direct radiation since radiators give off heat as the sun and also establish warm air currents which circulate throughout the room.

Air Conditioning

A vital part of heating is air conditioning which includes heating air, cleaning it, humidifying it, and cooling it. This means that air conditioning should be considered on a basis with heating a home.

Besides warming air to a livable temperature in the winter, winter air conditioning includes the washing, filtering and humidifying the air. These three operations have a bearing on the air in the home making it more invigorating and healthful and all are applicable whether convection plus direct radiation methods are used.

If a furnace is used, cleaning and humidifying equipment can be made an integral part of the warm air system. If steam or hot water is used, the cleaning and humidifying equipment may be installed as a separate unit. In this latter system the winter air conditioning can be limited to rooms where needed.

Cooling Air

Summer air conditioning calls for the refrigeration of the air in addition to the necessary humidification or de-humidification. This may become expensive so less expensive methods have been developed lately to increase comforts during the hot months. One of these is providing self-contained, small-size cooling units in certain rooms and another is adding a device to create greater circulation. A fan is not recommended for this purpose but a better method, installing an attic fan which will provide satisfactory circulation throughout the day and draw cool air in during the night.

Warm Air System

A warm air system is exactly what its name implies: an installation designed to heat your home by warming the air in a furnace and circulating it through the house. It consists of a furnace and a number of ducts to distribute heated air and collect cold air.

On the plus side, warm air, in its simplest form, often proves itself the least expensive kind of central heating. Moreover, it heats rapidly and makes for a neat room installation, leaving all the floor area free for the arrangement of furniture.

But there are certain other factors which must be taken into consideration. To get all the comforts warm air holds for you, such as filtering and humidifying, washing and forcing circulation, expenses are incurred which increase its cost to a point where it approximates that of steam or hot water heat.

Again, since with this type of system it is always advisable to locate registers on or against inside walls, no provisions are made to warm the cold sides of the house. Finally, the very speed and directness with which the system can be started and stopped may be the cause of undesirably sudden fluctuations in room temperature.

Steam, Hot Water

In these systems steam and hot water are piped from the boiler to room radiators. The only basic difference between the two is that in one, water is boiled until steam is formed—in the other, the warm water is circulated.

Steam and hot water offer advantages in common. Radiators once heated are slow to cool when the fire is checked, and a more even temperature in the room is thus assured. Radiators may be placed against outside walls and under windows to heat those sections of the room that are normally coldest. The cost of a radiation system is comparable to that of a good warm air system.

With steam heat, radiators remain cold until water in the boiler is heated to the boiling point to produce steam. The higher temperature of steam means hotter radiators. In a hot water system, water circulates as it is heated. Radiators start heating sooner—cool more gradually.

The objection that radiators occupy floor space is in a large measure overcome by modern slim tube radiators. They also may be recessed into walls or behind grilles, thus requiring no floor space. The great variety of heights, widths and types of Crane radiators available render such objections pointless.

Automatic Heating

Automatic heating with coal requires the installation of a stoker. These are made in two basic types: the hand-filled hopper type and the self-feeding bin type. The former is economical in first cost, practical, and widely used. The latter absolves its owner of the necessity of shoveling coal, but is usually more expensive and the extra work it saves should be carefully balanced against the extra cost. Both require very little other attention, they regulate temperatures automatically and burn cheaper grades of coal with a minimum of smoke, soot ash and clinkers.

Fully automatic heat with oil is obtained by installing an oil burner in connection with a boiler or furnace. A thermostat controlled from the living room maintains the temperature at the desired level. The only attention an oil-fired system requires is the occasional filling of the oil tank. For the most satisfactory results, choose a self-contained "packaged" unit: one in which the boiler and burner have been designed as a single unit. When this is not practical, a satisfactory compromise can be effected by using a good conversion type oil burner in connection with a boiler or furnace.

With gas heating, all the advantages of automatic heating are secured. Once a gas burner is installed, a room thermostat maintains the desired temperature. The only responsibility that rests on the owner of the plant is turning it off in the spring. A gas conversion burner can be used in connection with a boiler or furnace designed for other fuel. But if you are investing in a new system, it is usually more economical to pick a boiler especially designed to burn gas.

Racketeer Begs For Death Rather Than Jail

NEW YORK, Aug. 4 (AP). — Waxey Gordon, high-riding beer baron of the roaring 20's, begged for a police bullet to end his life when he was arrested to face charges as the czar of a million-dollar-a-year dope ring, police disclosed Friday.

The notorious prohibition-era racketeer, a one-time public enemy who once toured in an armored car with bodyguards, fell to his knees as federal agents and city police nabbed him on a dark street corner on Thursday night.

Grovelling before Sergt. John Cottone of the narcotics squad, the paunchy 63-year-old Gordon begged:

"Please kill me, John — shoot me. I'm an old man and I'm through. Don't take me in for junk (dope). How else can I live? Let me run, John, and then you shoot me...."

Three other men were seized with him. They and Gordon were charged with having $180,000 worth of pure heroin at underworld market value.

Attempted Bribe

In the drama-packed round-up, Cottone said one of the other prisoners, Samuel Kass, 39, made a wild attempt to bribe him.

The detective said that as Gordon begged for death, Kass pressed $2,500 in cash and two diamond rings worth $8,000 into Cottone's hands.

But police promptly carted Gordon off to jail, where he remains for lack of $250,000 bail.

Gordon could be imprisoned for life if he is tried and convicted in New York, according to US Attorney Irving H. Saypol. Having been imprisoned three times before in New York, one more conviction would make him a fourth offender, subject to a life sentence.

Gordon, born Irving Wexler, has a criminal record dating to 1905, starting his career as a pickpocket.

Science Takes a Look At Breakfasts And Discovers Bun Can Be Crucial

A cinnamon bun with raisins has reared its doughy head in scientific circles. The result may change breakfast habits from toast to toast.

The Journal published by the American Dietetic Association has published a caloric little piece called, Effects of Breakfasts of Different Size and Content on Physiologic Response of Men, or the adventures of Willie a cinnamon bun with raisins.

The article is the result of a research project at the University of Iowa, where they take their breakfasts cereally. The scientists decided to see if a big breakfast was more healthful and more productive than an average breakfast.

Before you lose your mind waiting for the decision, the answer is no, it isn't. In fact, there was some evidence that a normal breakfast gave you more energy than a big, sloppy breakfast.

The Experiment

The bill of fare for the students who guinea-pigged the experiment was pretty standard stuff. The average-breakfast battalion ate fruit, cereal, toast, and milk. Some had the equivalent amount of bacon and eggs instead of cereal, with a blob of grape jelly to make the two breakfasts equal in calories.

But the heavy breakfast boys had the cinnamon bun with raisins, plus a little more cereal (or bacon and eggs and grape jelly). Calorically speaking, the basic breakfast was 750 calories and the large economy-size breakfast was 1,200 calories.

All the guinea pigs went through four tests, to see which outfit did the best and, consequently, which breakfast was best. They were tested for neuromuscular tremor, choice reaction time, blood sugar level and maximum work output.

Neuromuscular tremor is a measurement of how much your muscles tremble after exercise. The scientists apparently feel there's nothing like a good tremble to tell if you've had a decent breakfast.

Choice reaction time means the time it takes you to make decisions and act on them. Somehow, the amount of toast and jam you've had at 7:30 in the morning affects your mental alertness at 11.

Blood sugar level is the level of sugar in the blood, or did you know? That, too, is affected by your breakfast egg intake. So is the amount of work you do during the day.

Get More Work

Statistically, the results are rather involved. But they softboil down to this: there was no significant difference in the first three tests. But in the work-output department, 75 per cent of the subjects did more work with a smaller breakfast.

With typical scientific reserve, no conclusions are reached. But they are pretty obvious. If you insist on wolfing down seven fried eggs, four strips of bacon, a bowl of mush, a loaf of toast and generous quantities of butter, jam, sugar, and cream—you might as well stay home. You'll be a total loss at the office.

While they were at the business of dishing out breakfasts, the Iowa scientists tried to figure out if the cereal-eaters were better off than the bacon-and-egg-eaters. They concluded that there was no difference whatsoever. Eat whatever you like, just not too much.

Remember all this tomorrow morning. Of course, if you oversleep, forget it. At a time like that, just grab a cup of coffee, and the devil with neuromuscular tremor.

Couple Visit Indian Village Find, Adopt Baby Girl

By NEA SERVICE

ELWOOD, Ind—(NEA)—Most people who visit native Indian villages come back with a few Indian trinkets. Mr. and Mrs. Carl Herkless came back with an Indian. But a very little Indian.

The Herklesses left their quiet home on a quiet street for a summer vacation out west. They adopted son, Gene, now a soldier. It was his being away that made their home a little too quiet.

One thing they wanted to do in Colorado was visit an Indian village. The three walked through like thousands of tourists, buying souvenirs and taking pictures. But their tour ended by being far from routine.

Mrs. Herkless heard a thin, crying noise.

"It was as though a hungry little kitten was complaining at supper time," she says.

✧ ✧ ✧

They followed the sound and found a baby girl, wrapped in a dirty blanket lying underneath a pine tree. Mrs. Herkless picked the infant up and they walked back to the centre of the village.

Local officials searched and decided that the six-month-old, brown-eyed, Cherokee girl had been abandoned. But they kept on looking for the parents. Gene Herkless had to report back to camp, as his furlough was up, but his parents stayed on.

The Indian couple was found, and it was quite plain they didn't want the child. When they learned the Herkless wanted to help, the mother and father acked, simply, why the strangers didn't take "Little White Flower" home with them.

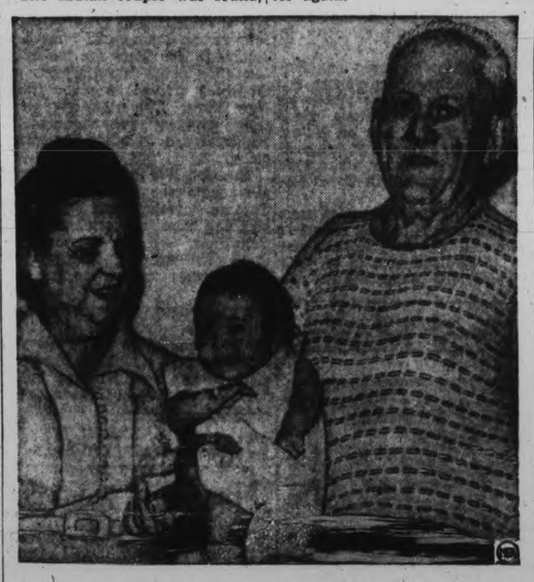
Until the actual request was made, the Herklesses hadn't said a word about taking the child. But each knew the other wanted to, very badly. They talked to local authorities and to an attorney. And Gene got a 24-hour pass to give the final OK.

Gene asked only one question: "Mother, do you want the baby?" She said she did, and Gene said, "Then, by all means, adopt her."

It didn't take long for the law to declare the baby was legally adopted by "the white people from Indiana." When they got ready for the long trip back home, not one Indian merchant would accept money for gasoline or food. They pressed gifts on the Herklesses, things for "Little White Flower" who is now Linda Mae Herkless.

In their home town, a doctor pronounced the child in normal health, although a bit undernourished. And the little Indian baby was officially christened at the Herkless' church.

"It seems a bit strange," says Mrs. Herkless, "to be buying baby furniture again, but it gives us a thrill. And Gene writes he can hardly wait to see his little sister again."



UNDER A PINE TREE Mr. and Mrs. Carl Herkless found "Little White Flower.' Now, in clean clothes and a quiet Indiana home, she's Linda Mae Herkless.

Fashion-Conscious But Budget-Wise Collect Sweaters

Most of us enjoy looking at fashion pictures — and even dreaming about them—but then cold logic sets in and we realize that changing styles every six months or year is for the few and not the many.

But whether or not we have the money, we all like to be appropriately dressed for every occasion. The life we lead is not that of a movie actress or cafe society and our taste may not be as extreme but we still enjoy looking well—whether it be at the neighborhood drug store, in the office or out for an evening.

Cast your eye over your wardrobe—over the items you wore five years ago. Very few of them are both serviceable and smart today. The dresses are too long or too short, the skirts too wide or too narrow and the sleeves too full or too tight. For most of us, the only thing we wore years ago that is up-to-date this year as when it was bought, is a sweater.

So it is little wonder that many smart women today are building up a wardrobe based on sweaters —for sport, office, afternoon and evening wear.

Of course new styles are put out every season—but actually, the designs never go out of style The classic cardigan and pullover is as popular today as it was a decade ago; the high-necked sport sweater has been, and always will be, a standby and interlock cotton T-shirts, in many styles, are not easily tossed aside by the whims of fashion. For evening wear, there are beautifully designed plunging neckline sweaters or casually smart styles with gaucho collars. The career girl has a collection of well-tailored, always right fashions from which to choose.

County Canuck Becomes Celebrity Signing As Clippie

LONDON, Aug. 4 (CP).—Margaret Thorne, 21, attractive brunette from The Pas, Man., has become an overnight celebrity in London.

Her picture appeared on front pages of metropolitan papers, accompanied by feature stories of her short but adventurous career and she made her bow on the air Thursday night with a group of distinguished London visitors in the BBC program "In Town Tonight."

The young Canadian miss came into the limelight when reporters discovered she had worked her way to England to sign on as a "slippie," the name for women conductors on London buses and trams.

"Breath-Taking"

Today, Margaret was out for a preliminary spin over a trial route and next week starts punching tickets on a tram serving a bustling section of old Kent road.

"It's all rather breath-taking but I'm enjoying it," Miss Thorne said in an interview: "I never imagined that signing on for this job could cause such a stir, for after all I understand they are going after 1,500 clippies in this latest recruiting drive."

Backwoods

Margaret grew up with her three brothers on a backwoods farm near The Pas but from early childhood she dreamed about traveling to great cities. After quitting the farm at 17 she worked as a nurse in a London, Ont., hospital before setting out on her overseas tour.

In London, Miss Thorne first accepted a job as a clerk but office life didn't appeal to her. She then decided to have a fling at the "clippie" job in the belief it would give her the best chance of meeting plenty of British people.

"It's been very interesting so far although the salary at around £6 a week doesn't allow for much leeway," she remarked. "But after all a gal has to eat."

Miss Thorne plans to return to Canada in about two years for more adventure.

French Girls Find Dominion Green And Clean

TORONTO, Aug. 4 (CP)—Canada's "green trees and grass" remind Genevieve Hochapfel of Sweden.

'You have such lovely green trees and grass and everything is so clean," said the French girl. enevieve and Hugette Lauversat, both from Paris, are two of 59 students from the United Kingdom and continental Europe now visiting this country. They are here as part of a special summer project sponsored by the friendly relations with overseas students, an organization co-operating with the international student service which is active in most universities.

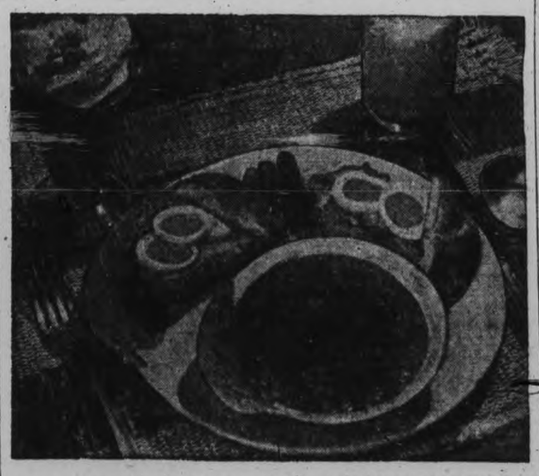
The FROS undertakes to look after students while here, helping them get jobs to pay their expenses, planning social and recreational activities, home hospitality and if possible a camp holiday.

In Paris, Genevieve and Huguette are students at the Haut Enseignement Commercial Pour Les Jeunes Filles. They are the only two girls in the Toronto party of 20 which arrived by plane from New York. The other six girls from overseas are visiting in Montreal and in other Canadian cities.

The girls live in an international students co-operative in central Toronto, together with an Indian girl, one from Hungary and three Canadians. All live according to their own customs, sharing national dishes and swapping recipes.

While here Genevieve and Huguette are doing clerical work, having landed jobs four days after their arrival. They hope to visit Ottawa and Niagara Falls during their stay in Canada.

Quick Kitchen-Cool Meals



First-rate meals, that keep you and your kitchen cool, are mighty important on summer days. Let condensed soup help you beat the heat.

Ready in less than five minutes, soup is a real summer treasure. You merely whisk it across the stove for a quick warm up. And you know how well a satisfying dish like this goes with the popular cold foods. A big bowl of tomato of vegetable-beef is the perfect contrast to a crunchy sandwich or a chilled salad. Follow up with a refrigerated dessert—like melon or ice cream—and a cold beverage to round out this pleasant lunch or supper.

Insure yourself for summer meals by stocking a complete soup shelf. Have several cans of all the kinds you like best. Mealtime then can be a calm, refreshing pause for you and everyone who gathers round the table at your house.

Picnics Are Plenty Of Fun

By NANCY CLEAVER

"What's more fun than a picnic party?
"Vittles" all over the ground,
Ants in the milk, flies in the butter,
And skeeters buzzin' around?"

Cynics may laugh at picnics—but who ever found a child who did not love outdoor meals? Some grown-ups just don't like the informality of food eaten in a different place in their home for dining. But boys and girls revel in the novelty, the change in monotony, which a picnic brings.

Many families discover that a picnic is one of the best ways of having a good time without spending too much money. Food is a necessity, and it costs no more to eat outside than indoors, and how much better it tastes! Very happy picnics can be held right in the backyard. Families living in the country, in most districts, have lovely picnic spots not far from home. Cities and towns have parks. If the family has no car, the bus, the street car and even the train can transport the picnickers on their outing. A boat trip which includes a picnic meal is a very special treat.

When there are small children in the family, it is usually wise not to mention plans for a picnic until the day arrives. The disappointment of a child over a postponed pleasure is very great —whereas adults can take a stormy day, unsuitable for picnicking, "in their stride." Children are always ready for a new adventure and they live each day as it comes along.

Children should be allowed to share both in the work of preparing the food for a picnic and in clearing up afterwards. So should the father of the family! If all the labor falls on mother with no assistance from anyone else, she is not likely to be enthusiastic about frequent picnics.

In many homes, the mother keeps the picnic basket, serviettes, dishes and silverware used for picnics in one convenient corner. This saves on time in meal preparation. One of the most attractive wedding gifts given to a young couple is a picnic basket fitted with plastic dishes and a thermos. The bright colored plastic cups and plates are both light and durable. Gay, individual trays for an outdoor meal at home are useful gifts too.

Every family has its own special tastes in picnic menus. Sandwiches are popular, and if the members of the family are past the pre-school age it is fun to take sliced bread, butter and fillings in two or three jars. Each person can then make his own sandwich. On hot days salads are particularly appetizing. Both cold dishes and hot dishes may be kept at the right temperatures by having them in a dish which retains heat or cold and by covering them carefully and wrapping in paper.

Small children like food they hold in their fingers. Mothers want to be sure that enough vegetables and fruit are eaten each day. A salad course using either vegetables or fruit helps to keep a balanced menu. Tasty surprises, laughter, relaxation and games all contribute to the fun of a picnic.

New Thermostat To Give Tenant Own Temp Control

TORONTO, Aug. 4—People who like to talk about the weather—and who doesn't — may have to find a new topic of conversation within the next few years.

Whether you're relaxing at home, working in an office, or even riding on a street car or bus, you'll soon be able to enjoy a comfortable indoor climate all day long.

That's the prediction of W. H. Evans, vice-president and general manager of the country's biggest manufacturer of automatic heating controls, Mr. Evans says you can now have year-round temperature and humidity with almost push-button ease.

One of the most important new heating developments is a thermostat system which allows each tenant in an apartment bock to regulate the heating for his own apartment. Gone soon will be the days when a tenant on the fourth floor must suffer because the tenant on the first floor opens all the windows when the apartment gets too hot. Soon each tenant will keep the home temperature he likes best without having to open the windows or bang on the pipes.

The official states you can live more comfortably if you divide your home into two or more heating zones, each with its own automatic controls. One reason for the trend toward zone heating is the growing popularity of one-storey, ranch type homes. These are just a few examples of present-day uses of automatic controls.

It's evident that life is rapidly becoming a lot more pleasant through the development of robot controls and automatic instruments. And most of them are becoming so automatic these days that they make even the famous push-button seem old-fashioned and unnecessary.

Modern Furniture Leads In Store Sales

TORONTO, Aug. 4 — Modern furniture was in greatest demand in the United States in 1950, accordisg to the Encyclopedia Britannica year book. It led traditional styles in total sales and accounted for more than half the industry's production.

Eighteenth century English furniture, particularly Chippendale, Hepplewhite and Sheraton, was second in popularity with furniture buyers, and French Provincial, Chinese, Regency and Empire designs were favored in the high-style decorative field.

With the trend toward dual-purpose furniture continuing to grow, sofas that open into beds, cabinets that serve both living and dining room purposes, double dressers and swivel-top tables outsold conventional types.

Major furniture markets recorded the highest attendance of store buyers in history, according to the Britannica annual, and buying was the heaviest ever recorded. A total dollar output of approximately $1,500,000,000, the largest in their history, was reported by the 4,000 factories in the United States making wooden furniture.

Tiny Washboard Worn Like Glove

WASHINGTON, DC.—Rub-a-dub and, at last, a miniature plastic washboard has been devised for washbowl laundering. It can be word like a glove. Its permanent molded back fits the hand comfortably so that it remains snug even in sudsy water.

Finger grips for short or long fingers help keep it in place, too. Its rubbing surface, though highly efficient, offers protection to fine fabrics, and presents a quick, easy way to spot and soil removal.

Women Waste Pep Seeking Bargains

CHAUTAUQUA, N.Y.—Women make themselves suceptible to nervousnessness because "they spend ten dollars' worth of energy on a ten-cent task," according to Dr. Walter C. Alvarez, professor of medicine emeritus and consultant of the Mayo Clinic in Rochester, Minn.

They shop too long "in order to save a quarter," he said before members and officers and the General Federation of Women's Clubs in his tri-state medical address.

"Then they come home so terribly tired," he continued, that their rail at their children and "fuss at a perfectly good husband."

"Women must learn to be more adult and more self-controlled," Dr. Alvarez maintained.

Evening Beret Of White Satin

PARIS — For evening, the Velasquez beret appears in white satin with a narrow line of garnet velvet just under the edge, or in silver lame with silver fringe at each side. The tilted silhouette includes small berets and calots revealing the hairline, and with a side movement, which may amount to a minute vizor over one ear. Far more important is the profile wing, rounded, convex, with a downward trend but well detached from the side of the head. On a grey wool jersey beret, the side wing is soft. Like a diminutive theatre curtain it is rolled back from the cheek just enough to show its lining of gold-braided garnet velvet hemmed in gold fringe. On a simpler yelolw beaver beret, the tilt downward on one side is merely accented by a heavy grey wool tassel.

Patching Up Sick Birds Lifetime Hobby

VANCOUVER, Aug. 4—(CP)—Mrs. M. W. Knight has made a lifetime hobby of patching up injured and sick birds and is widely known as "the bird doctor."

As spare time volunteer with the Society for Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, ailing birds are taken to the Knight home in Burnaby, Vancouver's eastern suburb, at all times of the day and niht.

One recent patient was a sawwhet owl, sore-eyed, starved and half dead. Mrs. Knight fed it with an eye-dropper and restored it to health.

"It's very rare to have a tame owl, but this one knows me," she said. "It will fly across the room to me."

She has set broken legs, cured paralyzed birds and other ailments.

She and her husband love birds and have been breeding bidgerigars for 20 years. Fanciers say they own the best budgie collection on the west coast.

Dressy Suits Are Fine Black Wool

PARIS—Dressy suits are black and made in fine woollen material, or in faille, or again in prints. Black suits remain comparatively conventional, with a marked waist line, small or non-existent lapels, wide coat-skirts, and sometimes three-quarter length sleeves. Some dressmakers have fixed a satin scarf diagonally across the front of the jacket.

A light organza or lawn blouse, or a pique front, or a yellow suran blouse, goes with them. Sometimes, especially when the suit is in silk, the skirt is in fact a complete dress with a spangled corselet.

DOROTHY DIX

Serious Work Plus Fun Best Aim For University

DEAR MISS DIX: What is more important in college? (1) Getting by on rather low grades and being able to keep up with the gang or 2) getting much out of the studies and not being considered one of the group.

DAISY

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: Now I'll ask you a question! Just what are you trying to get out of college? Are you studying for a profession, for the business world or are you just out to waste four years—and your parents'.

Dorothy Dix

Of couse, the ideal solution is a middle course — get good grades and have fun! While I have tremendous admiration for scholars and those who work to get the most out of every opportunity, I can also see the need for relaxation and recreation.

Books First

If you are incapable of handling both ends of the candle, I suggest the books. Good times will come later but the time for learning is now. Plugging away at your books for four years may seem a dreary prospect, but you'll be able to sandwich in some fun. If the group you want to emulate seek nothing but a good time at the expense of all the knowledge college can give them, they really aren't worth your regard. If you just want gaity, why make your parents spend their good money on a college education?

Learning itself can be fun, and will give you an appreciation of life that will enhance all your days to come. Surey that's worth sacrificing the gang for, isn't it? Education can only be acquired at a cost—of money, time and pleasure, but like all worthwhile things, it's worth all expenditures!

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I am in love with a boy and we were planning to be married this summer. He is 19 and I am 18. His father is very much opposed to our marriage. Will you please tell me how I can win his father's friendship?

RED

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: Your boy friend's father probably thinks, and rightly so, that his son is too young for marriage. He probably regards you as a semi-siren who is pushing the boy into wedlock. If you suggest postponing the wedding for at least a year, your future father-in-law may realize that you have his son's interest at heart. Small attentions, such as birthday greetings and remembrances on special occasions, together with considerate attention when you're with the older man, will soon convince him that you are a sensible girl, worthy to be welcomed into the family.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: My husband and I have been divorced for three months. He is married again but still tries to tell me what to do. He says he still loves me, but won't tell his wife. I love him, but do you think I should step aside and not see him?

MARY

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: Why again go through all the agony and heartbreak that you must have endured once with this man. He obviously wants to have his cake, eat it, and use the crumbs for pudding. This is all leading up to unhappiness for his wife and more misery for you. Be firm and stop seeing him.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: I am 25, my husband is 29, and we have been married less than a year. We have done everything possible for my widowed mother, yet nothing seems to satisfy her. I have two sisters and a brother at home with her and we have done without things to give her assistance. We have paid a hospital bill and I have bought the younger children shoes and clothing to spare her expense.

She has a nice home, chickens, cow and an income, and she works hard around the house. But she whines and quarrels all the time and doesn't appreciate anything. My husband works in the coal mines and his work is very irregular. I can't leave him and go back to my mother. Though I love my mother and family very much I feel my place is with my husband.

MARY.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: Trying to please a mother like yours is like pouring water into a leaky pail; the more you put in, the more is required. Apparently you were the first of her children to marry, and she is so resentful of the fact that no sacrifice you could make—short of leaving your husband—would be pleasing.

Time Will Help

In time, she will get over her bitterness and realize you are still a loving daughter despite your mafriage. Since she is not alone at home, is not in want, is receiving so much care and attention from you, her attitude is entirely unwarranted. You have no alternative but to let things take their course and ignore her complaints as much as possible.

Don't neglect your obligations, but on the other hand don't take over more than you can handle. If you can harden your heart to it, you might even announce a curtailment of your visits unless a warmer welcome is extended—with no whines or quarrels.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: I am a young man and I go with a widow five years older than I. I am very much in love with her but hesitate to tell her so. I'd like to ask her to marry me but am afraid she will get mad and tell me to leave.

PETER.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: While you're going over all these arguments in your mind, the widow is probably biting her nails wondering how long it will take you to come to the point and propose.

Seriously, no woman gets mad at a proposal from a man she admires. I take it this lady does admire you or she wouldn't be going with you. If she doesn't want to carry, she'll tell you so, and you can continue being friends. Take a chance, anyway, Peter. Don't be faint hearted.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: I am almost 16 and my problem comes with the season of bathing suits and shorts. I am very thin and feel terribly conscious of it. Can you give me any advise?

DOT.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: A consultation with your doctor will probably show you how to add a few pounds. In the meantime, concentrate on the more frilly type of bathing suit rather than the strictly form-fitting affair That will at least camouflage some of your thinness. If you feel conspicuous in shorts, why not shun them entirely and wear sundresses or jeans? Most girls your age are on the thin side, so don't feel too badly about it

Whole Family Flies Or Wants To Fly

VANCOUVER (CP)—The Kent family here are usually "Up in the air". Four of them are pilots, and three others are just waiting until they're old enough.

Of the present pilots, two fly commercially. When the next three get their wings, there will be two more commercial licences. Only Mrs. Kent, the mother, doesn't fly.

A. M. Kent, affiliated with an engineering company, got his private pilot's licence back in 1929. The next year he bought his first plane. The first of a series until he sold his last in 1946.

Between 1941 and 1945, while he was attached to the air observer schools flying student navigators, he logged over 3,000 hours. Yet, he still flew privately.

Mr. Kent finds it hard to realize some persons regard flying as dangerous. His children don't get automobile driver's licenses until they're 21, but they have their private pilot's licences by the time they're 17.

"They might bump somebody with a car," said Mr. Kent.

Mother Approves

Mrs. Kent is a good-natured sport with a great love for flying. The fact she doesn't hold a pilot's licence is probably self-sacrifice.

Betty and Geery both work for Canadian Pacific Airlines on the North Pacific run. Betty is a stewardess and Gerry is a second officer. Gerry has his commercial and Betty her private pilot's licence.

Ken, 18, private pilot, practically swoons when he thinks of the big planes Gerry flies. But it won't be long before Ken will be doing the same thing.

Enviously and impatiently, Edith, 16, and Donald, 15, and 10-year-old Joyce wait for their chance to fly. The girls plan to take nursing courses and then become stewardesses like big-sister Betty. Donald intends to be a commercial pilot.

There are no juvenile delinquents or zoot-suiters in the Kent family.

LITTLE IODINE by JIMMY HATLO

Readers' Saturday Column Conducted By Mary Moore

Question: Would you please print in your column the way to barbecue spareribs? I will be watching for this. Mrs. W.I.

Answer:

Barbecued Spareribs

(Some families like spareribs so much the cooks have to allow 1 pound per person. This recipe calls for 3 pounds and will serve from 4 to 6 people, depending on their hunger.)

Three pounds spareribs, ⅓ cup margarine, 3 large onions, 1 can consomme orm 1¼ cups water, ½ cup chopped green peppers, 1 cup tomato paste (or if you have no tomato paste available leave out the water or consomme and use 2 cups tomato juice), 2 tablespoons vinegar, 1 tablespoon paprika (this makes the sauce very red so do not leave it out), 2 tablespoons chili powder, 2 tablespoons sugar, preferably brown, tabasco sauce. Cut the spareribs into pieces with 2 bones in each piece but with 3 strips meat attached to each. Place in roasting pan in over of 450 deg. Fahr. for about 30 minutes to sear and brown while you prepare the sauce.

Barbecue Sauce

Saute the chopped onions in the margarine with the chopped peppers until they are limp and transparent and slightly golden. Add all remaining ingredients and bring to simmering point but do not boil. Pour over the ribs when they have pre-cooked about 30 minutes. Reduce heat to 350 deg. Fahr., cover. Roast about 1 hour, basting twice during this interval. These are good both hot and cold and ideal for a picnic.

Question: If wonder if you or one of your readers could supply me with a recipe for making "French Mustard." I know there is such a recipe as I once had it, but find it is mislaid, also I would like a copy of your reducing method. Mrs. M.R.

Answer: The recipes for French mustard are not all alike. In Europe controversy is common among French and German cooks about the virtues of their different versions. I will give you three short recipes and an interesting East Indian one.

French Mustard No. 1

Three tablespoons pure ground mustard, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 tablespoon sugar, 1 slightly beaten egg, 1 cup vinegar, 1 tablespoon salad oil. Mix dry ingredients, slowly beat in egg, then vinegar, mixing until smooth. Stand over boiling water and stir until it thickens slightly—about 6 minutes. Remove from heat and let cool, then beat in oil. Quite mild.

French Mustard No. 2

1 teaspoon mustard, ½ teaspoon sugar, 1 teaspoon salt, 2 tablespoons cream, 6 tablespoons salad oil, 1 teaspoon vinegar. Mix in order given. Evaporated milk may be used instead of cream.

French Mustard No. 3

2 teaspoons sugar, ¼ teaspoon salt, 2 tablespoons salad oil, ¼ cup vinegar, ¼ cup custard. Beat until smooth, adding ingredients in order.

East Indian French Mustard

One-half cup each mustard, flour, boiling water, 2 tablespoons each vinegar and walnut catsup, ½ teaspoon salt, ¾ cup boiling water (there are 2 amounts of boiling water), 2 finely chopped shallots, small green onions. Mix dry ingredients and slowly add the ¾ cup boiling water, stirring. Cook other ingredients together 10 minutes, then stir into paste. Mix well and add the remaining ½ cup water to make of desired consistency. If this is bottled and corked it keeps very well. A slice of garlic in bottom of bottle is considered an improvement.

BETHANY, Aug. 4 (ENS). — Mr. and Mrs. Ray Challice were presented with a lovely grey chrome and plastic kitchen suite on Wednesday night in the town hall, in honor of their recent marriage.

The groom is the only son of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Challice of Bethany and his bride, the former Lorraine Beatty, daughter of Mr. Norton Beatty and the late Mrs. Beatty of Garden Hill.

The address of congratulations and good wishes was read by Creighton Carry. The gifts were presented by Ronald Pomeroy, Lloyd Capstick and Verne Mulligan.

A brief program was presented which included selections by the McGill orchestra, tap dances by June Wright, a reading by Mrs. Earl Argue and a duet by Creighton and Marie Carr.

Everyone joined in community singing and Rev. James Hampson spoke briefly.

Lunch was served by the committee in charge.

Dancing was held for the remainder of the evening to music by the McGill orchestra and Miss Evelyn Mantle, Morton Davis, calling the square dances.

Of Interest to Women

Are you in the know?

Which flatters a chubby chassis?
☐ Slinky black ☐ Canary yellow
☐ Soft, cool colours

'Smagic—how a colour can fool the eye. The right hue can pare down plumpness, help deflate a "spare tire." But don't think slinky black's the answer—('taint for teens). Also, avoid dazzling shades. Wear soft, cool colours like blue, green, violet, preferably in darker tones. And never let calendar-time discomfort deflate your poise. Choose Kotex for softness that holds its shape—because Kotex is made to stay soft while you wear it.

If you're collarbone-conscious, what helps?
☐ A library card ☐ More upholstery
☐ Mermaid maneuvers

Got a lean-and-hollow-look around the collar? To add "upholstery," eat hearty. Swim like crazy. And do this: Sit very straight, with a book in each hand, shoulder-height. Keeping elbows back, slowly boost books toward ceiling, then slowly lower them—20 times daily. You can boost your confidence with the special safety-centre of Kotex. And those flat pressed ends of Kotex prevent revealing outlines — keep you blush proof.

3 ABSORBENCIES: Regular, Super, Junior

More women choose KOTEX* than all other sanitary napkins!

*T.M. Reg.

How to prepare for "certain" days?
☐ Circle your calendar
☐ Buy a new belt ☐ Perk up your wardrobe

Before "that" time, be ready! All 3 answers above can help. But to assure extra comfort, buy a new Kotex sanitary belt. Made with soft-stretch elastic—light-weight Kotex belt's non-twisting. Stays flat even after many washings. Dries pronto! So don't wait . . . buy a new Kotex belt now. (Why not buy two—for a change?)

P.S. Have you tried Delsey? Delsey* is the new bathroom tissue that's safer because it's softer. A product as superior as Kotex . . . a tissue as soft and absorbent as Kleenex*. (We think that's the nicest compliment there is.)

Treat Eye Infections With Wonder Drugs

LONDON, Ont., Aug 4 (CP)—A leading London eye specialist said Friday that about 25 cases of eye infection have been treated here with the "wonder drugs" cortisone and acth, in the past year—some with "almost miraculous results."

The specialist, who declined to be named, said that on the other hand some cases treated with the drugs have responded poorly.

"These drugs seem to be good for treatment of iritis, and closely related diseases—iridocyclitis and chorioiditis. They're also good for treating diseases of the cornea, although they are not a universal treatment. They seem to have a special value in early secondary glaucoma treatment."

But the drugs are not a cure-all, the doctor emphasized.

The couple were picked up at the CNR station in Peterborough where they were about to board a train.

Airplane Race To Cut Time To New Zealand

By J. C. GRAHAM

AUCKLAND, NZ—(CP)—Flying time between England and New Zealand may be cut to around 24 hours when the world's longest air race is held in 1953.

Hume D. Christie, president of the Canterbury international air race council which is controlling the race from London to Christchurch, says jet planes should be able to cover the distance in between 20 and 26 hours, and that does not include the possibility of development of newer and faster planes before the race is held.

In 1919, Ross and Keith Smith flew from England to Darwin, Australia, in 28 days. By 1930 Sir Charles Kingsford-Smith had cut this time to just under 10 days. In the famous London-to-Melbourne air race of 1934 the time was reduced to less than three days for a much longer distance.

Most Important

The race in 1953 will be the longest and possibly the most important in aviation history. Already several leading English aircraft manufacturers have notified their intention of entering new planes in the speed section, and several leading air lines have announced they will enter the transport section.

The transport section is a new departure in air racing. It is open to air liners carrying passengers, under a handicapping formula which takes all factors into account, including passenger comfort. Some air line operators expect they will be beseiged by passengers wishing to make the trip and think the race might even be a paying proposition quite apart from the prestige factor.

Rich Prizes Offered

Prizes will be awarded in both speed and transport sections, the first prize in each section being $30,000.

The route will in general follow that of the early pioneers along the England-Australia journey, but whereas the London-Melbourne race had 22 check points in the handicap section and 10 in the speed section, there will be only one check point on the whole route in the 1953 race. This will be in the neighborhood of Basra, Iraq.

Consequently there will be a wide variety of choice of route and method of flying. It is thought that some of the larger planes may fly the course virtually nonstop apart from the call at the check point. Various Great Circle courses will be possible, although iron curtain areas will make some of these impracticable. The question of aerial refuelling may also be involved.

Editors Ask UN To Check La Prensa

GENEVA, Aug. 4 — (AP). — International Federation of Editors and Publishers Friday asked the UN Economic and Social Council to investigate the suppression of the independent Argentine newspaper La Prensa.

The federation's executive secretary Jacques Bourqin of Switzerland, told the council committee the suppression constituted a grave violation of the UN declaration of human rights.

Bourqin said the Argentine Government's actions against La Prensa violated press freedom, the freedom of opinion, and the freedom of an individual "to defend and assert himself, to denounce excesses of the state and to seek to rid himself of tyranny if necessary."

Havelock Picnic Held In Glen Allen Park

HAVELOCK, Aug. 4 (ENS) — The Havelock United Church Sunday School picnic was held on Wednesday at Glen Allen Park on Crowe Lake, the large attendance being transported by cars supplied by members of the congregation.

Games and swimming were enjoyed by all under the supervision of James Watson, S.S. Superintendent. Everyone enjoyed a community supper of fine food topped by as much ice cream as they could eat.

The United Church WMS held their annual picnic on Thursday afternoon at the summer home of Mrs. Rae Williams at Round Lake. A very pleasant social time was spent followed by a Pot Luck supper when about 30 cottagers joined the society for this part of the program.

was hard work, too," he recalled.

"The only piece of equipment you could consider a machine was the pair of scales for weighing the dough. For the first two years I was hardly permitted to touch dough."

He laughed heartily in thinking back to what he called the menial jobs he had to do, sweeping and cleaning, greasing the pans and so on. Presumably it was a period during which his natural disposition of industry was confirmed by the routine of the business he learned thoroughly.

Work and School

Mr. Dutton's parents died when he was quite young. As a boy of ten he divided his days between work in a cotton mill and schooling. Up at 5 a.m., he walked a mile or more to the plant, starting there at 6 o'clock. Breakfast was at 8.30, and then the morning stretched on until 1 p.m., and luncheon. From there he went ot school from 1.30 p.m. until 4. There was a switch in these allotments of time, but in the main it was an introduction to work and diligence and also learning.

After serving his apprenticeship in the baking trade, he became associated in a partnership, an interlude which he prefers to forget. It turned out that his trust was misplaced, and the day came when he thought, early in his married life, of coming to Canada.

To him it was a bitterly cold morning in 1911 when he stepped off the train from Montreal at the C.P.R. station. The first man he spoke to was the late Police Constable John Meharry, who directed him to the Dominion Cafe. Its boast was that they had thrown away the keys and were open around the clock. The Dominion was located in the premises now occupied by Jim Hum, proprietor of the De Luxe.

A few hours later Mr. Dutton called at the Y.M.C.A. to enquire about a boarding place, and it was suggested that he drop into the store of the late Thomas Hooper to enquire about prospects of a job in the bakery and confectionery business.

"At 9 o'clock that morning, hardly four hours after I arrived n Peterborough, I had a job with Mr. Hooper. I found I could send a cablegram home to my wife from a telegraph office then in the Davis-Thompson and Grey-Bruce Savings and Loan building. It was just one word "successful". The next thing I did was to write a letter to my wife.

Never Lost Day

"From that day to this, I never lost a day's work, except by choice. I had always a place of employment. After four years with Thomas Hooper, I went to London,Ont., but I was there only seven weeks when I received a letter from Harry Stock. Maybe in the same mail I got a letter from Mr. Hooper asking me to come back to him.

"However, the offer from Mr. Stock was so attractive for those days that I could not turn it down. And, I came back to Peterborough.

"Previously at the Hooper shop, the electric motor burned out one day. Harry Lush was working with me. "What do we do now," he asked, and I could only say that we had to keep on making bread. So I went back to mixing dough and baking by hand. That continued for about three weeks. They didn't make electric repairs as rapidly as today.

"When the motor was set up again and ready to go, Mr. Lush clumbed up a step ladder and kissed it. The humor of it is as amusing today in memory as it was then.

"After I had been at Stock's some time I met an elderly man who told me that he used to bake for the founder of the business, H. W. Stock, the father of Harry Stock.

"The original bakery was in the basement of this house (at the southwest corner of Sherbrooke and Stewart Streets). The old furnace is still there. This old man talked about the changes he had seen in baking methods. He pointed to the electric motor in the first new shop and said: There's the man that sets the pace these days."

"The industry has been mechanized through the years I have seen, and the slavish work has been greatly eliminated. We made good break in the old days, but it is my opinion that we could not begin to make as good a quality as the machines turn out. And you have to think of the vastly increased quantity that is required today."

Mr. Dutton said that when he first came to Peterborough his aim and ambition was concentrated on getting a job, to bring his wife and young family to Peterborough and to support them.

Broadened Ambition

The first broadening of his horizon of ambition traces to a canvass of the public for funds, possibly during the first World War.

"George A. Gilespie asked me to help him, and it seems that I must have been fairly successful because I heard about it from some sources. Some time after that, the late W. R. Morris said he was going to nominate me for the Board of Education. Eventually he did, and I was elected, and was chairman of the advisory vocational committee.

"Afterwards I was defeated by a very good friend, Isaac McNabb, by 18 votes. I am sure he felt worse about it than I did.

"Then I was president of the Chamber of Commerce three years, and finally was elected to the city council.

"We all have our little successes, and I'd advise young men not to expect only for success in life. I think we learn the most from our reverses. I have had my share of setbacks, and I think they profited me most."

From the council Mr. Dutton was appointed chairman of the relief committee during the years of the depression to assist people who could not find employment. He was associated with James Hamilton, the late R. M. Glover, R. C. Braund and others.

"We had a heavy responsibility to the ratepayers and the community and especially to those in need, and I can only say that we tried to do our best in a practical way and also in sincere sympathy for those to whom the depression was an affliction."

Long Chapter

That was a long chapter in Mr. Dutton's civic service, and must have caused him and his associates many hours of worry.

He was for 15 years a member of the Board of Health, thirteen as chairman. The board greatly extended its scope in the protection of public health, particularly in the inspection of milk at its dairy farm source of production, to the stage at which Peterborough became recognized as having one of the most sanitary milk distribution systems in the country.

The board's interests extended to the handling of all food for public consumption, including restaurants and hotels, and at the same time a modern nursing service was established. If he had done nothing else in Peterborough beyond his leadership in that department, James Dutton has deserved well of the citizens.

Gradually the pace of life quickened for Mr. Dutton from the time of his coming to Peterborough with only one thought in mind, employment and his responsibility to his wife and family. He became manager of the Peterborough plant of Wonder Bakeries and probably he discovered latent capabilities which must have surprised him when he stopped to think about the undertakings outside his office which he was assuming.

Headed Children's Aid

He was president of the Children's Aid Society and of the Victorian Order of Nurses, chairman of the Family Court, and a member of the Nicholls Hospital Board.

His connection with the civic administration has been extended in the chairmanship of the Town Planning Board.

The plain philosophy of James Dutton recognizes that this freedom we know as democracy is a reciprocation of rights and duties, and that citizens must share the load and see that it works. Evidently this ideal presided in the Dutton home for Mrs. Dutton engaged in activities of her own. She was president of the Ladies' Aid of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church; president of its Women's Missionary Society, later an honorary member and finally life member; and also life member of the Local Council of Women.

He was also president of the Break and Cake Association of Canada, and was the first member to receive the honor of election for more than one year. He has been a member of the Rotary Club and a representative Elder of St. Paul's Church for 27 years.

There was many a time when Mr. Dutton used to attend meetings of the council or other body coming almost directly from the bakeshop when circumstances of temporary shortage of help required some one to pitch in to help turn aside the emergency.

Dutton Philosophy

"I think our young people should be ready to identify themselves actively with the life of the community, and bear some of the load of this democracy. There are two services which I know will bring them great satisfaction. One is public affairs and the other is the work of the church.

"What if we do fail at the polls? We can't all be elected, and the main thing is that we should be ready to do our part. Besides, there are intangible compensations of the spirit and to one's sense of citizenship.

"In the work of the church I am afraid too many people see only the local side. They have the parochial outlook, and of course it is fundamental, but they forget that the work of the church is world wide in its outreach.

"It requires men and women of vision to see the influence with the knowledge that it has no bounds.

"Nothing has yielded me more satisfaction than this phase of my life. I have no hesitation in recommending it to men and women for the good they can do and the happiness they will know.

"On this anniversary of our wedding, Mrs. Dutton and myself would like to express our gratitude to Almighty God for all the blessings He has bestowed on us during those 50 years."

Largest Sunday School

In his Stockport youth Mr. Dutton was a member of the largest Sunday School in the world. It was interdenominational with 6,000 scholars and 500 teachers. His interest in the church remained with him here. As a layman with a desire to participate in the worship and the work of the church he was associated for years with the affairs of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, and is now in his third year as chairman of the Board of Administration of the Presbyterian Church in Canada, and is also one of its trustees.

Of the many greetings and missives of good wishes Mr. and Mrs. Dutton have been receiving, one that deeply moved them was the congratulation to Mr. Dutton from the Board of Administration of the Presbyterian Church in Canada, signed by the Rev. William Barclay, MA, DD, Hamilton.

This is a quotation: "You can hardly have escaped knowing how affectionately we all regard you both, and consequently how much goodwill and gratitude are meant to be conveyed by the flowers which our secretary, the Rev. Dr. E. A. Thomson, is sending in token of all you mean to us.

"Your former period of office as our chairman was memorable; but your present tenure of office is more than coming up to our anticipation.

"Your willingness, in your retirement from the full pressure of business life, to serve the Church so devotedly is made possible in a great measure by your happiness in your family circle. Therefore, on Saturday when you are all together, we wish you all to know that the name of Dutton is very dear to our whole Presbyterian Church in Canada.

"May God richly bless the Golden Wedding couple and continue to them the joy of faithful service in the vineyard of our Lord and Saviour."

The members of the Dutton family are: Mr. Thomas Dutton, Toronto, assistant general manager of Consolidated Bakeries of Canada, with Mrs. Dutton and their two sons and daughter; and Mr. James Dutton, Jr., manager of Stocks Bakery, Peterborough, of Wonder Bread of Canada, Mrs. Dutton and their three sons.

Detroiter Lands Lunge Weighing 28 Pounds

CAMPBELLFORD, Aug. 4 — (ENS). — Bill raser, an American visitor from Detroit, Mich., has caught the largest muskie so far reported from the Bradley Bay district this season.

Mr. Fraser, with Jack Bracken of Manchester, New Hampshire, landed the fish, weighing 28 pounds ond measuring 46 inches in length, after a battle of 37 minutes. They were trolling with a spoon.

Mr. Fraser owns a cottage at Percy Boom, a few miles south of Campbellford, and is a regular summer visitor.

Red Hill Ready To Take Plunge Over Niagara

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., Aug. 4 (CP)—William (Red) Hill is set to go over Niagara Falls Sunday in a queer-loking contraption of automobile tire tubes and netting.

He said yesterday he isn't worried a bit. In fact, he's so confident he has fixed a time-table.

"I'll be turned loose at five minutes to two, and at five minutes after two they will be hauling me into the pick-up boat," he told an interviewer.

Hill's queer craft, which he calls "the thing," will be dropped into the water by boat about half a mile above the cataract. It's a cigar-shaped combination ball and barrel made of inflated inner tubes. There are 13 puncture-proof tubes coming to a taper at each end.

Air Mattress

Inside Hill will lie on an inflated air mattress. He estimated about a foot of rubber and air will protect him when he goes over the brink of the 165-foot-high Horseshoe falls, on the Canadian side.

To those who say the betting is six-to-two that he won't survive, Hill's advice is to bet everything you own ("you got a house, haven't you?") that he will.

"I'm not taking any chances," he said solemnly. "This is the safest thing in the world for a trip over the falls."

Hill, a sandy-haired fellow nearing 40, has lived with the tumultuous Niagara most of his life. He estimated that with his father, the late Red Hill, senior, he has taken more than 250 bodies from the river, working with rowboats and powerboats.

He said his riverman father told him to make sure his conveyance was light if he ever went over the falls. This was to ensure the craft would bounce away from the base of the falls and not be driven under and trapped by the weight of falling water.

"This is about the lightest thing I could get," he said. "When I'm in it, it won't weigh more than 250 pounds."

His plunge over the cataract would be the sixth attempt since 1901. Two have died trying.

US Board Approves Raise For Workers

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4—(AP) —Emil Rieve, president of the Textile Workers' Union (CIO) and a member of the Wage Stabilization Board, disclosed Friday that the Board has approved a nine-cent-hourly wage increase for 100,000 cotton-rayon textile employees in the northern United States.

The Board, Rieve said, granted a 6½-per-cent wage raise to match thec ost-of-living increases which have accrued to about 35,000 other northern textile mill workers.

Th eworkers involved now receive $1,31 an hour.

Big Wood Cut

CHARLOTTETOWN (CP)—A total of about 70,000 cords of wood, in both pulpwood and logs, has been shipped from Prince Edward Island so far this year, according to the provincial industries department.

Ex-Soldier Heads NZ Union Six Weeks After Arrival

AUCKLAND, NZ, Aug. 3 (CP). —A former Grenadier Guard, W. F. McMullen has become the president of a tough New Zealand labor union six weeks after arriving from England. As head of the Auckland Cargo Workers' Union he has also stepped into the forefront of the showdown against extremist longshoremen's leaders.

The Auckland Cargo Workers' Union was formed when the government decertified the former Waterside Workers' Union as a result of the nationwide waterfront strike which began in February. Even before that strike shipping lines imposed a 7½ per cent surcharge on freight to Auckland because of slow working and incessant port disputes.

New Union

Auckland was the first major port in New Zealand to form a new independent union. Numerous members of the new union were attacked by the strikers and several required medical treatment. Nevertheless, it grew rapidly in strength. Its members are drawn from many trades, but they have shown themselves well able to look after themselves.

McMullen joined the new union immediately on arriving from England as an immigrant with his wife and two children. He had served with the Grenadier Guards in the Second World War and later as an officer in the Berkshire Regiment. He rose to the rank of Major and went through a course at the British Army Staff College at Camberley, England. He farmed after the war until he decided to take his family to New Zealand to begin a new life.

Usually Cautious

New Zealand laborer are traditionally cautious of accepting newcomers until they have proved their worth. However, McMullen showed himself well able to hold his own in cargo handling and at meetings his practical mind made a deep impression.

There were rapid executive changes during the stormy early days when the union was struggling to get established. The first president was attacked in his home and taken to hospital with concussion. He resigned as he faced a long period of convalescence. The second president proved unsatisfactory and was deposed. McMullen was voted to the chair at a meeting which drew up conditions for the future control of the union and later he was elected president.

The new union has already speeded up cargo handling at Although comparatively inexperienced, it sent one ship away in the fastest time for that class of vessel in 15 years.

Restrictive practices by the old union resulted in incentive bonus schemes bringing very little reward to workers, but the new union is taking full advantage of the schemes. As a result members are earning big money and a full labor force has been attracted to the new union, completely displacing the strikers.

Movie Moguls Try To Recapture Lost Audiences

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 4 (AP) — The movie bigshots have dreamed up a big campaign to win back the unfaithful to the movie screens.

They're shelling out $700,000 for a big hoopla called "Movietime, USA." It will be a country-wide celebration to call attention to the notion that a good movie is worth your money.

The movie men are dead serious about this campaign, and I wish them luck. I hope they don't resort to such past slogans as "Motion pictures are your best entertainment" or "Movies are better than ever." Good movies will lure the public back, not slogans.

Yes, I was busy too, during the last weeks, although the result was perhaps not so productive. The time was spent beside the clear waters of Balboa Island, Calif. I managed to re-discover two neglected mediums, the radio and the book. The latter seemed in better shape than the former.

Rash of Crime

Summer programming on the air is a curious rash of murder, dope addiction and sundry other crimes. On one Wednesday evening I could hear such assorted sleuths as Pete Kelly, Johnny Dollar, Rex Saunders, The Falcon, The Fat Man, Rocky Jordan and Mr. District Attorney.

They uncovered an average of 2.7 corpses per program. At the end of the evening, I thought I detected a trickle of blood flowing out of the loudspeaker.

Tip-off Joke Sends Husband To Jail

BIRMINGHAM, Alta., Aug. 4—(AP)—A jealous wife tipped police that her husband was a robber, then said it was all a joke.

But by that time the joke had gone too far, Detective C. L. Pierce said Thursday—the husband had confessed to four hold-ups.

Pierce said Forrest Ford, 34, a former loan company employee, admitted the hold-ups.

The tip came in a letter from Mrs. Mable Ford, who later told officers she had written it only as a joke to "get even" with her husband.

Mrs. Ford said she was angry with her husband because he paid too much attention to another woman at a party.

British Educators Visit Canada On Good-Will Tour

LONDON (CP)—Ambassadors of closer educational ties within the Commonwealth, Brig. E. C. Pepper and Brig. C. Huxley are leaving England shortly on an extended good-will tour of Canada.

The two officials, respectively warden and deputy controller of London House are due to reach Montreal Sept. 5. They plan to visit every major city in the Dominion during their three-month tour.

London House is the centre of Dominion land Colonial student activity in Britain, and the trip is being undertaken chiefly in the interests of its expanding program to meet the growing demands for accommodation for overseas students.

While in Ottawa the visitors will be guests of Governor General Viscount Alexander, Patron-in-Chief of the London House Association of Canada. The invitation was extended when the Governor-General paid an informal visit to London House recently.

Congratulations

During his tour of the buildings Viscount Alexander stopped to chat with some of the resident students, including R. C. Stovall of Comox, B.C., and R. Melvin of Vancouver. They were congratulated when the Governor-General learned they had worked their way to England on a freighter to complete their studies.

In their coast-to-coast tour the Londoners will confer with officials of the London House Association in Canada, who have been promoting a campaign to provide financial backing for the Commonwealth project. They also plan to meet presidents of several Canadian Universities, serving as patrons of the association.

Home for Canadians

Since London House was opened by Queen Mary in 1937, more than 500 Canadian students have taken up residence there. At present about 40 are registered and nine more, winners of Lord Nuffield scholarships, are expected shortly.

The aim of the foundation has been to provide accommodation within the means of the average student, assist them in making professional contacts and generally give the man insight into the British way of life.

Additional funds, however, are required to defray operating costs. Latest budget figures show that the cost of maintaining a resident has exceeded by nearly $200 the amount charged. The deficit is made up by bequests and donations.

When the building program is completed London House will have accommodation for 300 male students. A separate building is being erected to house 100 women students as well as 24 married couples

Mail Mishandled Investigation Begun In Quebec

OTTAWA, Aug. 4—(CP)—Post office officials said Friday the department is investigating a complaint of alleged "mishandling" of mail at the post office at the town of Ste. Germaine in Northwestern Quebec.

E. J. Underwood, the department's chief executive officer, said a complaint had been made to Postmaster-General Rinfret by Rev. L. G. Barnhart of La Sarre, Que., near Ste. Germaine, that his mail had been mishandled.

He declined to indicate the precise nature of the complaint, beyond saying that it was one of "mishandling."

Mr. Underwood said the Ste. Germaine postmaster had been dismissed from the postal service in May because of mismanagement of the office. However, he stressed that the dismissal had no connection with the complaint of mishandlig and related only to the internal operations of the post office.

The postmaster since has been replaced.

N. H. MacDonald, the department's chief inspector, said an investigation is under way.

He declined to elaborate.

Injunction On Sale Of Stocks Continued

BUFFALO, N.Y., Aug. 4 — (AP)—A temporary injunction, restraining the president and a director of Nemegos Uranium from selling stock or the corporation's property Friday was continued indefinitely.

State Supreme Court Justice George H. Rowe reserved decision on an application to make the injunction permanent pending his study of all exhibits in the case.

Walter Grupp of Buffalo, president of Nemegos, and Hamlin B. Hatch of Toronto, managing director, are defendants in the case along with the corporation.

The injunction action is based on the charge that iron ore found in the mine near the hamlet of Nemegos in Northern Ontario was not of commercial quality, but that 900,000 shares of stock were issued.

SARNIA, Aug. 4—(CP)—Louis A. Babcock, manager of the National Employment Service office here, said Friday that there has been "nothing unusual" about the number of miners coming to Sarnia from Timmins and other Northern Ontario points.

Mr. Babcock said there has been a "steady trickle" of miners from the north seeking employment in construction work.

His comment followed that of A. W. Key, another NES official here, who was quoted Wednesday as saying that his office had been swamped with applications from miners "looking for any kind of work—even odd jobs."

DISASTROUS TRIP—William (Red) Hill, Jr., is shown entering the rubber inner tube and netting contraption he christened "The Thing" before starting his ill-fated trip over Niagara Falls Sunday afternoon. Others had made the trip in stout barrels but Hill was confident the yielding fabric would survive the force of the falls. His body was recovered from the rocks below the falls on Monday.

Friendliness Marks Start Of Oil Talks

Chief UK Negotiator Inspecting Abadan Refinery

TEHRAN, Iran, Aug. 7. (AP) —Britain's chief oil negotiator Richard Stokes, flew to Abadan today to inspect personally conditions at the shutdown refinery.

President Truman's trouble-shooter, W. Averill Harriman, followed in another plane which landed at Abadan later.

Britain had demanded assurances that Iran would refrain from petty annoyances against British employees at Abadan—site of the world's largest refinery—before opening talks.

Mossa Sarabandy, governor-general of the oil-producing province of Khuzistan, greeted the visitors at Abadan airport as guests of the Iranian government.

Meanwhile, talks over nationalization of the Anglo-Iranian Oil Company's vast properties — the Abadan refinery is the most valuable—continued in Tehran.

Disucess Facts

Donald Ferguson, one of Stokes' team, met in the Iranian capital with the Iranian Nationalization Committee to present what he called "cold facts."

Ferguson is one of the British government's crack nationalization experts and worked out many of the details involved when Britain took over her own iron and steel industry.

Harriman is staying out of the talks, but has been keeping close to the scene.

The talks opened Monday in a friendly atmosphere which was in sharp contrast to the first negotiation effort six weeks ago. At that time the two sides appeared so far apart that no agreement semed possible.

Since then Premier Mohammed Mossadegh has modified his position that Iran could take over Anglo-Iranian without consulting with the British government, and Britain has agreed to accept the principle of nationalization.

West Point Inquiry

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7. — (AP) — Congress began checking into the West Point cribbing scandal today as individual lawmakers denounced the military academy faculty but disagreed over the abolition of service football. Senator Clyde Hoey (Dem. NC) sent representatives of the Senate expenditures investigating subcommittee into action for a check of complaints that 90 cadets threatened with dismissal for cheating on examinations got what some of them called a "raw deal."

Royal Visit Will Last At Least Month

OTTAWA, Aug. 7. (CP)—The Canadian tour by Princess Elizabeth and her husband, the Duke of Edinburgh, will run "at least a full month," Maj. Martin Charteris, private secretary to the Princess, said today.

Maj. Charteris arrived by air from London Monday night to confer with Canadian officials on the tour.

The Princess and the duke are "both in good spirits and excited about their forthcoming trip," he said in an interview.

The Royal couple will sail for Canada aboard the Empress of France Sept. 25, and will break their Canadian tour for two days —Oct. 24-25—to be guests of President Truman at Washington.

"There is some talk of extending the United States tour to other American cities, but there is nothing definite yet," Maj. Charteris said.

The Royal pair will return to Canada after visiting the United States.

Second Tour Unlikely

He did not believe it likely that a similar tour may be made by Princess Margaret.

External Affairs Minister Pearson said today he hopes the itinerary for the October visit of Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh will be issued "within a day or so."

He told a press conference the general outline of the Royal visit has been agreed upon.

Say Proposal Propaganda Trap By Reds

Russians Advised To Honor Other Treaties First

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7. — (AP)—The United States today rejected Russia's proposal for a five-power peace pact as "a propaganda trap." The the State Department said.

"The Kremlin has violated obligations to such an extent that the world has lost confidence in the Soviet's respect for treaties."

Russia's President Nikolai Shvernik renewed Russia's offer—first advanced two years ago—in a letter to President Truman Monday night. Its rejection had been expected since US officials described it even then as "the same old chestnut tied with a new ribbon."

The proposal was that the US, Britain and France Join Russia and Communist China in a disarmament program aimed at guaranteeing world peace.

Carry Out Old Promises

In the first formal American reaction a State Department official today challenged Russia to live up to existing obligations before taking on new promises.

Press Officer Michael J. McDermott told a press conference:

"There is no sense in the Soviet government's assuming new treaty obligations until they have restored the confidence of the world by honoring existing obligations."

The United Nations charter which Russia has signed, "constitutes a solemn peace pact," McDermott emphasized and added:

"Need exists for the fulfilment of the United Nations Charter and other obligations which the Kremlin attempts to sabotage rather than for a new pact of the great powers."

Shvernik's message, bristling with denunciations of Western "war-mongering," was accom-

Keep Troops Away Or No Parley Ultimatum To Reds

TOKYO, Aug. 7. (AP)—Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway told the Communists today they must insure complete compliance with their guarantees to keep armed troops out of the Kaesong neutral zone if they want to talk peace in Korea. The supreme Allied commander radioed the Red commanders demanding positive assurances there would be no more violations of the neutral zone. Only then, he said, will be send his negotiators back to cease-fire conferences in Kaesong.

Ridgway said he doubted the joint statement of Gen. Kim Il Sung, North Korean Premier, and Gen. Pen Teh-huai, Chinese commander, that the appearance of Red troops in battle array near the armistice site last Saturday was an accident."

He said he considered the incident neither minor nor trivial.

He told the Red generals:

"It must be clearly understood that my acceptance of a resumption of the armistice talks is conditional on complete compliance with your guarantees of neutralization of the Kaesong area. Any further failure in this regard will be interpreted as a deliberate move on your part to terminate the armistice negotiations.

"I await your acceptance of this condition."

A company of armed Red soldiers had marched through the Kaesong neutral zone while the armistice conference was under way Saturday. Because of this, Ridgway abruptly broke off the conferences Sunday.

Just An Accident

General Kim and Peng replied Monday that the presence of the troops was "a mistake and an accident."

Their joint statement, as broadcast by the Chinese Peiping radio, referred to it as "a small incident" and accepted Gen. Ridgway's conditions for resumption of the talks.

Ridgway's conditions were a "satisfactory explanation of this violation and assurance of non-recurrence."

After receiving the Red reply, Ridgway summoned four of his negotiators to Tokyo, instead of sending them back to Kaesong.

Ridgway conferred Monday night and again this morning with his chief delegate, Vice Admiral C. Turner Joy, before issuing his latest ultimatum.

Clear Ultimatum

His firmly-worded message to the two top Communists noted:

236 UN Planes Hammer At Red Lines

US EIGHTH ARMY HEADQUARTERS, Korea, Aug. 7 (AP) —A lone Communist plane bombed allied lines in Korea today while 236 United Nations planes hammered back at the Reds in combat sorties

Ground action quieted so much the US Eighth Army omitted its customary evening communique.

The single Red air raider struck shortly after midnight. Five bombs were dropped. There was no immediate announcement of casualties or damage.

Low-flying fighter pilots reported they killed or wounded at least 200 Reds. The Fifth Air Force kept up a continuous attack on Red supplies and supply lines, mounting 107 sorties from sunset to dawn.

Moderate Traffic

Night fliers lighting Red roadways, with flares, reported "moderately heavy traffic" moving toward the front. Strikes before Monday midnight knocked out 80 vehicles in this movement, pilots reported.

The night strikes topped off a day of 775 sorties flown by Far East air forces.

Sixteen B-29 Superforts, convedging from Okinawa and Japan kept the air war going today with strikes at a Red air field, rail marshalling yards and supply centres.

US Marine planes patrolling the coast Monday reported destroying 22 boats used by the Reds to transport supplies. One Marine F-9F Panther jet was shot down by ground fire but the pilot was rescued.

Pearson Plans More Globe-Trotting

OTTAWA, Aug. 7 (CP).—External Affairs Minister Pearson, just home from a trip to Britain and northern Europe, will be on his way again in about four weeks.

This time, he told a press conference today, he is going to San Francisco to sign the Japanese peace treaty for Canada. The ceremony is expected to take place Sept. 4.

Mr. Pearson said Canada has found the treaty "reasonably satisfactory." The final draft will be made public Aug. 12 and he suspected it would not be "completely satisfactory" to all countries going to the San Francisco ceremony.

The treaty would be submitted to the fall session of parliament for ratification.

Different Pact

On another phase of Pacific problems, Mr. Pearson said the defensive arrangement announcted recently by the United States, New Zealand and Australia was not a Pacific pact or a collective security pact in the same sense as the North Atlantic Treaty.

It was a defensive arrangement between three Pacific countries. As such, there was no question of Canada considering participation in the arrangement.

However, if a Pacific pact embracing other nations developed out of the existing three-cornered arrangement, that was another question and Canada would have to give the matter some consideration. Up to now, Canada hasn't been asked to join the group.

Car On Track Derails Flyer

MALVERN, Ark., Aug. 7 (AP). —The first section of the Texas-bound Missouri Pacific streamliner, "Texas Eagle," turned up here early today when it plowed into a stalled automobile. Eight persons were hurt, none critically.

Police said that a motorist, obviously drunk, caused the wreck by mistaking the railroad's main line for a road and driving his car 234 feet down the tracks. The driver escaped injury.

The motorist was jailed, without charge, pending further inveseigation. His name wasn't disclosed.

The two-unit Diesel engine overturned after reversing its direction and tearing up about a quarter-mile of track. At least 10 cars, most of them pullmans, remained on the tracks.

Seeks Confirmation As French Premier

PARIS, Aug. 7 (AP). — Rene Pleven will go before the National Assembly Wednesday to seek confirmation as Premier of France.

Pleven, who was Premier for seven months last year, today accepted the role of Premier-designate from President Vincent Auriol in a 20-minute conference at the presidential palace.

He has spent the last four days talking with party leaders and is believed to have obtained assurances of a majority vote from the centre parties.

$33,000 Post Office Loot Recovered Near Windsor

BELLEVILLE, Aug. 7. (CP)—Money orders and postage stamps valued at nearly $33,000 believed to be the loot of a post office safecracking ring, have been recovered by Provincial Police, Inspector A. MacDougall announced here Monday. The cache was uncovered in a garbage can under a bush in a field near Wheatly, a small Essex county village near Windsor.

The discovery followed police investigation of a series of district post office robberies in which money orders, stamps and cash were taken from blown or forced safes.

In Belleville Area

Recently post offices at Wellington and Frankford, both within a 20-mile radius of Belleville, and a mill office at Tweed, 30 miles north, were entered and safes opened and robbed.

Investigation of the robberies led Provincial Police Cpl. Jack Hatch, of Madoc, and Constable J. A. Fullerton, of Belleville, to the village where the loot was located.

Following their return post office authorities at Ottawa were notified and Inspector K. C. MacDonald of the Post Office Department was sent here. He took over the stolen property and returned to Ottawa.

Three persons, two men and a woman, are being held here by police in connnection with the mill office break-in at Tweed. They were arrested by Cpl. Hatch the day following the robbery. Police said they had been in the village and had acted suspiciously a day or so prior to the break-in.

Belief the robberies are the work of an organized ring is strengthened by the fact the post office at Havelock, 50 miles northwest of here, was entered, and the safe blown and robbed a day or so following the arrest of the three suspects.

Further investigation is being carried out by Cpl. Hatch, assisted by Inspector J. C. Hayes, of the Belleville Police Department and former police chief of Tweed.

Find Hill's Body Near Landing

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., Aug. 7 (CP) — William (Red) Hill is dead—crushed and battered by the mighty torrent of Niagara near which he spent his 38 years and which he challenged once too often.

His body was recovered from the river Monday, 16 hours after he made a stunt plunge over the 165-foot Horseshoe Falls in a barrel fashioned from 13 inflated truck tire inner tubes held together by canvas webbing and fish netting.

The strange craft broke open along one side when it crashed on the jagged rocks at the mist-shrouded base of the cataract and pitched Hill to his death in the swirling water. The barrel was recovered a few minutes later a short distance downriver.

When the river finally gave up its victim, Hill's body was found to have a deep gash on the forehead and the right leg mangled.

Recovery of the body, which floated close to the Maid of the Mist steamship landing on the Canadian side of the river, stilled whispers that Hill had not been in the barrel when it swirled over the brink with upwards of 100,000 persons watching. Hill, who had twice shot the rapids of the lower river in barrels, died like two other stunters in the last 50 years in trying to make the "big drop."

But three persons have plunged over the crest and lived to tell about it. Red Hill's younger brother, Major, announced after Red's ill-fated attempt that he would go over he falls next Sunday in a short steel barrel so that it could be said that a Hill had conquered Niagara. Monday, however, his mother persuaded Major to give up the venture.

Egypt Planning To Cancel UK Treaty By September

CAIRO, Egypt, Aug. 7 (AP) — Egypt has warned Britain that she intends to cancel the Anglo-Egyptian mutual defence treaty by the end of this month. The treaty, which permits Britain to keep troops at the Suez Canal, has been a sore spot between the two countries since the end of the Second World War.

Egypt's foreign minister, Mohammed Salah Eddin, told a cheering parliament Britain had closed the door to further negotiations on the disputed treaty and it would be cancelled "before the end of this session of parliament." The session is expected to end late in August.

Eddin's statement was a formal reply to charges by British Foreign Secretary Herbert Morrison in the House of Commons July 30 that Egypt is taking an 'uncompromising" and "irresponsible" attitude toward the major problems in the Middle East.

Since negotiations started in 1946 to renew and revise the treaty, Egypt has demanded that Britain withdraw her troops from the vital Suez—main supply route during the Second World War. Egypt also wants to incorporate the Anglo-Egyptian Sudan under King Farouk's rule. Britain has declared world tensions—and particularly those in the Middle East —make it necessary that she keep her troops in the Suez to protect Egypt's as well as Britain's interests. She also opposes turning the Sudan over to Egypt.

(Although British troops are stationed at the vital shipping link between Europe and the east, Egypt has full control over shipping through the Suez. Supporting the Arab blockade of Israel, she has imposed rigid restrictions on shipping and has stopped several ships carrying goods to the Jewish state. The United States, France and Britain Monday served notice they would introduce a resolution in the UN security council demanding that Egypt lift the blockade.)

Handwriting Decides Heirs

DETROIT, Aug. 7 (AP)—Handwriting on a 50-year-old school textbook established two Massachusetts men as heirs to a $14,000 estate left by John J. Sinclair, 74, who died last November.

Authorities located two brothers, Frank L., 76, and James L., 70, at Sinclair's old family home at Brookline, Mass. The brothers submitted a textbook which had been preserved and in which was pencilled: "John James Sinclair."

A handwriting expert testified the signature in the book was the same as that of John J. Sinclair found on documents here. The judge ruled yesterday that was sufficient evidence to establish the brothers as heirs.

May Include Greece, Turkey

OTTAWA, Aug. 7. (AP)—External Affairs Minister Pearson said today the Cabinet will consider this week Canada's stand on the possible inclusion of Greece and Turkey in the 12-nation North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

At his first press conference since returning from a six-week tour of Europe, Mr. Pearson made these other points:

1. He hopes the Greece-Turkey question will be settled at the pact council meeting opening here on Sept. 15 and expected to end by Sept. 21. But, like certain other important questions, it may have to wait for a final decision at a subsequent pact meeting in Rome in late October.

2. A representative of Gen. Eisenhower's European headquarters will be at the meeting here. He couldn't say yet whether it would be Eisenhower himself.

3. The pact meeting here will be far larger than any in the past because the 12 nations can send three Cabinet minister each. The government is hoping the number of official delegates can be held to somewhere between 200 and 300.

Gang Warfare Takes Lives Of Two Thugs

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 7 (AP) — Gang warfare Monday night took the lives of two former Kansas City thugs.

One of them was on the Federal Bureau of Investigation's list of 10 most-wanted men.

New Clue Spurs Plane Search

VANCOUVER, Aug. 7 (CP). — The United States coast guard said today that a human leg and a piece of green whipcord trousers were found on an Alaskan beach, spurring the search for a missing Korean airlift DC-4 and a Norseman craft.

A coastguard seaman said he made the grisly find on the beach near Yakutat in Alaska, where search has been combined for the DC-4 and the private Norseman.

The clothing, with a laundry mark on it, was sent to Juneau for possible identification and the leg was rushed to Anchorage to see if it could be connected with either crash.

Searchers said the leg had not been in the water "too long a time."

The airlift plane, operated by Canadian Pacific Airlines, disappeared July 21 over the Alaska Panhandle after taking off from Vancouver with 33 persons aboard most of them US military personnel.

Criticize Mayor, Council For Not Inviting Princess

SARNIA, Aug. 7 (CP)—Mayor W. C. Nelson and members of Sarnia council were accused of "apathy and indifference," Monday night for not extending an invitation to Princess Elizabeth and Prince Philip to visit here on their forthcoming tour of Canada and the United States.

J. W. Murphy, Progressive Conservative member of parliament for Lambton West, in a statement in which civic officials were urged to "get busy" and see if Sarnia can be included on the royal itinerary, said:

"There are those in this country who would sever the ties that bind us to the British Commonwealth. I do not belong to this group. Neither do thousands of my constituents. We are shocked that the city has done so little to extend a welcome to the Princess and her husband. This would have been an opportunity before the world of showing our loyalty. We let cities like London and Brantford beat us to the punch."

Mr. Murphy also said that Sarnia should have been included on the tour because of the great role "chemical valley" played in the Allied Second World War effort.

Mr. Murphy said that any financial outlay on the part of the city would be repaid "a thousand fold" by a large influx of visitors who would benefit every merchant.

Mayor Nelson was not available for comment but Alderman Harry Turnbull said he did not think the statement "fair."

"It's purely a problem of keeping the civic expenses down," he said. "Our taxes are high enough now, in my opinion, and as a council member I must do all within my power to see there is no unnecessary spending. The royal visit would be a wonderful thing, but it would be a big burden on the already burdened Sarnia taxpayers."

Locate Body Of Berry Picker

KILLARNEY, Ont. Aug. 7 (CP) —The body of Kate Tyson was found in bush country near here Monday. Beside it were Miss Tyson's hat and shoes as if the 64-year-old woman had lain down to rest.

Some 70 persons took part in the search. During the weekend an RCAF para-rescue squad from Trenton, tried unsuccessfully to spot her from the air as had the private air searches earlier in the week.

Among those heading the search was Miss Tyson's nephew Andy Tyson, 1950 champion wolf hunter and a well-known guide.

Mother Gives Life To Save Son In Crash

UXBRIDGE, Ont., Aug. 7 (CP) —Mrs. Dorothy Angliss, 23-year-old expectant mother, apparently gave her life to save her four-year-old son in an automobile accident near here Sunday.

Throwing her self in front of her child, Mrs. Angliss, mother of two children, protected her son from the full shock of the collision, police said. She died from a broken neck.

Mrs. Angliss was riding with her husband, William, 24, of Goodwood, Ont., and their son Robert when their car collided with one driven by Kenneth Holstead, of Ringwood, Ont.

Chalk River Scientist Held In Mental Hospital

CHALK RIVER, Ont., Aug. 7—(CP)—Security-conscious officials of Canada's atomic energy project said Monday no atomic secrets were placed in jeopardy by a young Chalk River chemist who was detained in Quebec and taken to a mental institution duroing the weekend.

They confirmed that the man, in his late twenties, was taken into protective custody at a Quebec convalescent home by Quebec provincial police, but said neither espionage nor crime were involved. The man is in a mental hospital at Kingston.

A doctor said the chemist, on the staff of this secret project for a year, was suffering from a nervous breakdown and was d etained for his own protection. He had been under medical attention for several weeks and some colleagues reported that they felt he had been a bit unusual for the past year.

Chalk River even though it is not doing any work on warlike developments such as the A-bomb, became more security-conscious than ever last year when Dr. Bruno Pontecorvo, a native of Italy, vanished from Britain and apparently vanished behind the Iron Curtain.

In months of secret work here before going to Britain, he became a popular, recognized and trusted scientist. His disappearance was Chalk River's first brush with atomic spying.

No Spying ngle

But officials stressed Monday that the chemist's case had nothing to do with spying. He has had a junior position and been doing routine laboratory work. He took documents with him, but they concerned certain writings of his own and not connected either with his work or with the project.

He left here last week to see a psychiatrist in Ottawa fled from the psychiatrist's office and made his own way to a rest home at South Stukely, Que., south of Montreal. The owner of the home called Chalk River officials.

Authorities said they would rather not make the man's name public. He was taken into custody, at Chalk River's request, by Quebec police and a doctor went down from here and took him to Kingston. The doctor later told a reporter he thinks the chemist will be all right after treatment.

Part of his trouble was that he thought insufficient use was being made of his talents. His illness had nothing to do with political views, but concerned his own version of his work, his position and his abilities.

St. Laurent Ending Tour

VEGREVILLE, Alta., Aug. 7—(CP)—Prime Minister St. Laurent travelled to North Battleford, Sask., today on the final leg of a fast-paced, four-day, tour of towns and villages in western Canada.

The Prime Minister will officially open the annual North Battleford fair before boarding a plane for Ottawa. He is scheduled to stop at Saskatoon on his way back to the capital.

Mr. St. Laurent spoke Monday at Two Hills and St. Paul, northeast of Edmonton and discussed the North Atlantic Treaty and Canadian government. He was also made an honorary Indian chief.

In the rain at the French-Canadian community of St. Paul, 100 miles northeast of Edmonton, the Prime Minister said the North Atlantic Treaty was causing high taxes and inflation in Canada. But he said it was necessary to offset the disruptive effect of the veto in the United National organization.

Oppose Aggression

He said the North Atlantic Pact allows 12 countries to stand together against aggression.

"No aggressor will venture to attack any of us," he said.

At Two Hills, 75 miles northeast of Edmonton, the Prime Minister said Canada was a "great cooperative" where the government is not always "pushing people around."

He told an Ukranian-Canadian crowd of 1,200 that in Canada there is "room for all of us and room for lots more."

Before leaving St Paul, Mr. St. Laurent was made a member of the Athabascan branch of the Cree Indians. He was christened "Sweet Gras"—Wekaskokesein—the name of the chief who saw the first white men in the west.

With his chieftainship, the Prime Minister was given a beaded caribou vest.

"You state that orders have again been issued to your Kaesong area guards to adhere strictly to the regulation that no armed guards would enter the conference area, in order that incidents similar to that of August 4 will not occur again.

"I have also noted that you describe such incidents as minor, accidental and trivial. Such incidents are of fundamental importance, as I have before pointed out. The incidents are neither minor or trivial. Their accidental nature is in doubt..."

Ridgway had let the Reds ponder his next move for more than 24 hours. Red radios at Peiping and the North Korean capital of Pyongyang kept up a stream of propaganda blaming the United States for the deadlock in negotiations.

Up to the cessation of talks, negotiators had argued for nine days without progress on where to create a buffer zone between the opposing armies.

Say Proposal

panied by a 2,500-word resolution proclaiming Russia's alleged "dedication to world peace."

This appeared to be Moscow's answer to a resolution Congress passed last June. The American document expressed friendship and goodwill toward the Russian people.

President Truman sent it along to Shvernik, technically Russia's chief of state, July 7. And he called on Russia's leaders to make it public so the Russian people can learn the "peace aims of the American people and government."

Russia's replying resolution came from the president of the Supreme Soviet (parliament), a small group which acts when the Russian legislature is not in session.

Suggests Agreement

In his accompanying letter, Shvernik called for an agreement by the United States, Russia, Britain, France and Communist China to disarm and prohibit manufacture of atomic weapons. He reiterated Russia's willingness to agree to some form of inspection as a guarantee of her good faith.

The United Nations Assembly overwhelmingly rejected an identical Soviet offer in November, 1949, American officials recalled. It was made by Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Vishinsky.

Other countries did not trust Russia to live up to its word, these officials said, especially after Vishinsky made it clear Moscow would not agree to United Nations conditions for continuous inspection and international control of atomic energy plants.

Moscow's move in reviving its proposal was viewed by officials here as "a pure propaganda gesture" designed to persuade the world the United States and not Russia is blocking world peace.

It is obviously timed, they said, to capitalize on the world peace sentiment fanned by the Korean cease-fire negotiations now in progress. Communist leaders throughout the world can be expected to ballyhoo it as part of Russia's current peace offensive.

$100,000 Fire Sweeps Odessa

ODESSA, Ont., Aug. 7— (CP) — The worst fire in this Eastern Ontario town's history swept through half a business block Sunday, causing damage estimated at $100,000 and leaving a family of five homeless.

Mr. and Mrs. Brendan Savage and their three children, the eldest 12, escaped safetly after hearing the alarm in their apartment over a two-storey, frame general store, one of the buildings destroyed. Mr. Savage estimated his loss at $60,000.

The blaze, of undetermined origin, destroyed a service station and garage, a grist mill and grain storage shed and the store, reducing the buildings to a blackened mass of twisted rubble.

For a time the fire threatened the village. Great sheets of flames fed by explosions from ammunition and inflamable goods inside the buildings, set off nearby structures.

Five fire-fighting units combatted the blaze, apparatus coming here from Kingston, Yarker and Newburg and villagers from Large joining the 12-man volunteer brigade here.

Dickens' Dinner Victorian Feast

LONDON (CP)—Rationed England returned fleetingly to the abundance of Victorian feast days at a dinner here.

Actors representing characters from the novels of Charles Dickens—Mrs. Cratchit, Pickwick, the Fat boy and Micawber—drove from the author's old home in Camberwell to a restaurant on the south bank of the Thames Diver, where an annual Dickens dinner was inaugurated.

Menus were printed on cambric edged with lace. But the real wonder was the food itself—cold roast ducks, crabs, turkeys, lobster, crayfish game pies, a boar's head, barons of beef and saddles of lamb, hams in chaudfroid sauce and river trout.

Those were just supplementaries. The 130 guests, including members of the Dickens fellowship, ate as much as they could of such other delicacies as mushroom patties, chicken fricassees, Yorkshire tripe, braised sweetbreads, Scotch woodcock, milk punch, hock, ales and punch bowls.

The rationed foods came largely from the United States.

Mrs. Phena Stephens Talks To Harwood WI

HARWOOD, Aug. 7—(ENS)—The August meeting of the Harwood branch of the Women's Institute was held Thursday at the home of Mrs. Thomas Chadwick, Lake Shore Road. The president, Mrs. R. E. Drope presided.

Committees were named to help with the park board field day September 3. Ladies were asked by the park board to operate the outside booth, and the inside tea table, in the community hall.

Two new members joined the Institute.

Mrs. Everett Harris was in charge of the program, and the highlight of the meeting was the address by Mrs. Phena Stephens, entitled "Mothers".

Mrs. L. Harris of Gore's Landing gave a recitation, followed by singing by a trio of Betty Isaac and Phyllis Isaac and Pauline Drope. Pauline also played for the trio. Mrs. A. Lawton gave a reading. The contest was a tie, won by Mrs. Crick and Mrs. Ellis Isaac. Then Mrs. R. E. Drope auctioned off the 25-cent bazaar articles, and all were readily sold. The auction was most entertaining.

The year was 1832

. . . Canadians, with the war of 1812 fresh in their minds, built a grim fortress on the St. Lawrence, near Kingston. Its name: Fort Henry. Its avowed purpose: to "keep out the Yankees."

But never a shot was fired from Fort Henry. Its limestone walls crumbled into ruin . . . until a century later, when it was restored as an historic site where thousands of "Yankees" are welcomed as friendly visitors, every year.

Fort Henry is fort in name only because two great nations live side by side, in peace, in friendship, in mutual help.

Can it be coincidence that both these nations are ruled by the will of the majority?

Between nations where the people speak freely, peace will be maintained. So Fort Henry is an historic reminder that . . .

When YOU cast your secret ballot at every election—municipal, provincial, federal—you exercise a duty and privilege planned, worked and fought for by your forefathers. Your vote protects the future of your children. To fail in this duty is to be less than a good citizen.

U.E. Money To Bail Communists

The United Electrical Workers Union ("U.E.") is the chief union in Peterborough; that is, it is the bargaining agent and voice of the majority of Peterborough industrial workers. Local 524 U.E. (Peterborough) is also U.E.'s second largest local in Canada, and the largest in the C.G.E. chain. Thus U.E. is important for better or for worse to Peterborough and Peterborough is important to U.E. What happens in and to Local 524 is of major financial and strategic significance to U.E. in Canada and to a less extent to U.E. in the States; what U.E. leadership in Canada and the United States says, does and is, has consequence to Local 524 and importance to all Peterborough.

* * *

U.E. leadership in both Canada and the United States is known to be Communist or Communist-tinged. Some of its chief organizers are outright and confessed Communists. These are facts which nobody can doubt. There is a tendency among many Peterborough U.E. supporters to believe that the "politics" of their organizers do not matter to the Peterborough union. They say: "Well, so-and-so may be a Communist, but that does not influence what Local 524 does. Our Local elected leaders are not Communist, even if organizers may be. The organizers' 'politics' are their own affair." They forget that Communism is more than a political creed; more than being Liberal, Conservative or C.C.F. A leader's Communism enters into and moulds his every thought, word and action. A Communist who is a U.E. man will infect U.E. A Communist who is a U.E. leader or organizer is in a position to bend a Local or the national U.E. organization to Communist ways and support. He does.

* * *

In the current issue of Newsweek, an American magazine with a wide circulation in the United States and Canada, is a statement of peculiar interest to U.E. in Peterborough and to Peterborough. The Newsweek regular feature page about trends and events, called "The Periscope," says that a major donor of the bail money posted for the Communist leaders now facing jail or trial in the U.S.A. was the U.E.

* * *

An organization in the United States known as the Civil Rights Congress has been furnishing bail in tens of thousands of dollars for Communists under arrest. It provided $23,500 bail for the leading U.S. Communist Gerhart Eisler, who fled the country. It has also stood surety recently for eleven other convicted Communist leaders, four of whom have since jumped bail. American courts have been investigating the Civil Rights Congress. They want to know where the money is coming from. Several leading trustees of the Civil Rights Congress are in jail now for refusing to tell what they know of the organization's real identity and the source of its money. Now "Periscope" in Newsweek states that U.E. is a principal donor and that that was discovered when the I.U.E. (International Union of Electrical Workers) locals took over the files of certain U.E. locals. I.U.E. is the union set up to replace U.E. Communist leaders and control when U.E. was expelled from C.I.O. in 1949. In many plants I.U.E. gained the bargaining right over U.E. and thus took over from U.E. Thus I.U.E.-C.I.O. has been able to find in the U.E. files hundreds of cancelled checks made out to the Civil Rights Congress, which posted the U.S. Communist's official bail which the American courts are now concerned about.

* * *

In Peterborough, U.E. was able to hang on to control and I.U.E. in Peterborough failed to obtain enough votes to oust U.E. as the bargaining agent in the C.G.E. plant. The secrets in U.E. Local 524 files have not been discovered and, in fact, Peterborough C.G.E. workers are paying dues every week to support U.E. in Canada and the parent U.E. in the United States. It is rather an awful and unhappy situation that Peterborough C.G.E. workers, through the check-off, and contributions of the Local to national and international U.E. funds, may be helping to provide money to bail Communists in the United States and to allow notorious Communists like Gerhart Eisler to escape the penalties of the law and to run off to Communist Europe, there to continue his subversive work. Are Peterborough workers paying their money for such purposes? Certainly the notion is blind, foolish and stupid that it doesn't matter to Peterborough workers that U.E. leadership is Communists, that Communism in their organizational leaders is merely a quiff of their own politics and of no consequence to the rank and file of Local 524 U.E. The rank and file of U.E. are putting up the money and paying U.E. dues to the organization which is supporting Communists.

Republican Fumbling Strengthens Democrats

The section of the United States Democratic Party that is loyal to the Truman Administration has been comforted considerably this Summer by the tactics of the opposition Republican Party. It is only too true that the Administration Democrats have also been thwarted by the Republicans and Southern Democrats in coalition, yet there is some reason to believe that Republican policy fumbles may help to keep the Administration in power—as such fumbles did in 1948.

The latest of these was the approach to a bill of attainder against U.S. Secretary of State Dean Acheson, long a target for Republicans and a considerable number of Democrats as well. This was in the form of an amendment to the Appropriations Bill, which would have banned payment of salary to any head of an Executive Department who within five years before his appointment belonged to a "professional firm" which obtained a fee as the representative of a foreign government, unless such head was reappointed by the President and reconfirmed by the Senate. This could have applied to several U.S. Cabinet members, but Mr. Acheson was obviously the sole objective.

The amendment was approved by a poorly attended and unenthusiastic Republican caucus, but when it appeared on the floor of the House of Representatives, Republican opposition immediately developed and the magnitude of the blunder became apparent. A Republican pointed out that the reappointment clause intruded legislation in an appropriation bill, which is flatly contrary to the rules of the House; another attacked it as altogether wrong in principle, adding that he would vote to impeach Mr. Acheson, but not for a measure "which says, in effect, that no man with a moustache can serve in public office."

The fumble was compounded by the fact that one of the things the wiser Republican strategists are hoping fervently for is the presence of Mr. Acheson in office when the Presidential election is held next year. They think this would be a campaign asset, since they could concentrate much of their fire on his record in the State Department. As a result of the fumble, this hope was revealed and widely discussed. And the Republican leaders now fear that a situation may arise in which Mr. Acheson could retire in an atmosphere of public favour, even approval, thus depriving them of a desired election target. Recalling similar Republican fumbling of the farm issue in 1948, these leaders are now said to be wondering if some of their colleagues are congenitally unable to profit by experience.

Canoeing Britons

We in Canada, especially in this Peterborough area, have long known the joys, rigours, hazards and uses of canoes. A canoe is, after all, an indigenous Canadian means of locomotion and the first manufactured local product to put Peterborough on the maps of the world. "Canadian" canoes—which means, principally, Peterborough canoes—can be found on the Volga, the Danube, the Nile, and the Thames. (They are even found in novels, although we have yet to discover a thriller where a Peterborough canoe was the blunt instrument of murderous despatch.) This district must therefore greet with satisfaction a phenomenon of the post-war sporting scene in Britain: the emergence of the canoe as a popular pastime and instrument for competition.

New canoe clubs have sprung up in all parts of Britain. It is estimated that there are now 10,000 canoeists using U.K. waters. One of the most strenuous races in the British sporting season is a 124-mile marathon for two-seater canoes. The course is from Devizes in Wiltshire to Westminster Bridge in London. Crews must carry full camping equipment and food for the journey. There are 77 locks to be circumnavigated during the 124-mile course. Such a race would exhaust most Canadian canoeists who are content to paddle around a lake or river for an hour or so of a summer's evening. The major British canoe race is fatiguing even to think on. The record time for the course is 24 hours. That means the contestants must eat on the run, and run with the gear and canoe around every one of the 77 locks.

Although we may claim the canoe to be especially a Peterborough preserve, we willingly rent the privilege of transporting it, full of camping equipment, around 77 locks for a distance of 124 miles, in one full day of 24 hours.

Persian Women Fight A Losing Battle Against The Veil

By
FLORA LEWIS
(In Teheran)

DR. MOHAMMED MOSSADEGH, the Persian Prime Minister, has received a telegram signed by fifty women of Shiraz, in Southern Persia, protesting against the growing campaign to force them back into the veil. The women said that hooligans have been set on them in the street, taunting them and even throwing stones and molesting them, and that more and more shopkeepers are refusing to serve them if they are unveiled.

✧ ✧ ✧

THIS unofficial campaign against the emancipation of Persian women is led by the Mohammedan mullahs. It has intensified just lately, but it has been going on throughout the country during the past three years, and has already succeeded in pushing them backwards.

✧ ✧ ✧

THE only permanent organization in Persia striving in the opposite direction is the Women's Council, a moderate group of about 400 predominantly upper class women in Teheran. After years of effort it has only been able to set up one branch office—in Shiraz. It is led by Princess Safieyh Firouz, wife of the leader of the Qajar family, the previous Persian dynasty deposed in 1923.

✧ ✧ ✧

RETURN to the veil, as the symbol of woman's inferior status, is the main objective of the back-to-tradition campaign—but not the only one. Gradually, by sham excuses, girls are being shut out of the higher schools. It is much harder for them to enter Teheran University now than it was three years ago, and the considerable facilities given by the government to students going abroad are seldom granted to women.

✧ ✧ ✧

THE Women's Council is running into more and more obstacles. Although it has the professed backing of a number of wealthy men, it cannot scrape together enough money to start a newspaper. None of the regular newspapers will print information about it nor will they give space for such innocuous subjects as the achievements of women in other countries. For a time, the radio allowed Princess Firouz to give little talks on women abroad, and to urge awareness of women's duties as citizens in their own country. Her talks were censored and there was never a suggestion of anything inflammatory, but she has recently been refused any more radio time.

✧ ✧ ✧

IN an effort to get a better hearing by showing the government it could find feminine support helpful, the Women's Council recently issued a lengthy statement supporting Mossadegh's oil nationalization programme. That was published in all the papers without difficulty, but it failed to produce the slightest reward. Nor have they won any official encouragement in their attempt to obtain the vote for literate women. A government-backed election reform is before parliament that would restrict the vote in cities to literates only, and the women have besought Mossadegh to amend it by removing the old phrase that "women, children and madmen may not vote." Mossadegh told them he agreed but would do nothing whatever to help them.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANTI-FEMINISM has foundations in law as well as in religion and social tradition in Persia. For example, a woman may inherit, but her share is always one-half that of male co-heirs. From her husband, she can inherit only movable property, not land, and then, only one-eighth of the total. Marriage and divorce laws, of course, vastly favour the man. He can divorce, at no cost, simply by telling a notary he wishes to void the marriage contract. She can only divorce on grounds of insanity, impotence or adultery, provided four witnesses can prove they actually caught the husband in the act. In other words, almost the only way in which a woman can obtain a divorce is to buy her husband's consent with her own property, if she has any, and that is accepted practice. There is no community property law so that what a woman has inherited in her own name remains hers, but she also owns no share of her husband's goods, nor has she any control of her children after the age of two. They belong to the man, unless he wishes to abandon them.

✧ ✧ ✧

THE widespread system of temporary marriages—in reality a form of legalized prostitution—offers some protection to children who would otherwise be illegitimate, but assures the mother nothing. All marriages are based on contracts and the temporary type specify a week, a month or a year, after which the union is automatically dissolved. These are commonest in the holy towns such as Meshed and Qum where men come on pilgrimages, leaving their regular wives at home. They take a temporary spouse for the duration of their stay and have no obligations when they leave—a handy but hardly stable arrangement.

✧ ✧ ✧

ONLY the Communists have taken any aggressive stand on the liberation of women, and as a result, their ranks are packed with girls in their twenties who feel they are fighting a personal as well as an ideological battle. Other demonstrations are all male, but the Communists, although they seldom refer directly to the status of women, always parade a fairly even balance of the sexes.

Unemployment Insurance

(Regina Leader-Post)

Organized labour in Canada is currently pressing for increased payments and wider coverage under the Unemployment Insurance Act. Representations have been made to the unemployment insurance advisory committee and in some instances regional advisory committees have also advocated important changes.

The unemployment insurance fund does not differ from other insurance schemes in this respect. The large amount now in the fund undoubtedly looks tempting to labor; but if it is taken out now when conditions are buoyant, how will the situation be met when contributions drop sharply off and benefit demands at the same time rise precipitously?

The Unemployment Insurance Commission should weigh with extreme caution any proposals which might upset the present health of the fund. This is true with respect to agitation for widening the application to include groups not now covered as well as in dealing with representations for enlarged benefits.

LADY IN WAITING

Oil Pipeline Along Lakeshore

(CORNWALL STANDARD-FREEHOLDER)

THE prospect of a 10-inch petroleum products pipeline with a terminal in Cornwall is fascinating. It will be part of a 400-mile line that will run from Montreal to Hamilton, and there will be a branch running from Cornwall to Ottawa to supply requirements there.

When the pipeline will be built is a matter for conjecture, although it is understood that options have been taken on property here. The steel situation no doubt will be a controlling factor, but despite the short supply of steel it may not delay the project indefinitely. A. N. Horne, president of the company which plans to build it, points out that it would take less steel than constructing new tankers needed to keep up with the growing demand for oil in Ontario.

We know only enough about the project to whet our curiosity. How is it possible, for instance, to send petroleum products like gasoline, fuel oil, kerosene and so on through the same pipe, without getting one polluted with the other?

The petroleum products which travel along the line will come from the Montreal refineries of three oil companies, who receive their crude oil from another pipeline coming from Portland, Maine. Despite the fact that Canada has some 2,000 oil wells, she still doesn't produce enough to meet all her needs.

The trend to pipelines to transport oil is developing quickly in Canada. It is the answer to the problem of getting gasoline, fuel oil and so on to the market in a widespread country, where water transport is impossible for several months of the year. It is also the answer to those who say the value of Canada's Western oilfields are marred by their distance from the market.

The pipeline is expensive to build, but upkeep should not be high and the service is not dependent on the weather. In an economy that is becoming more and more dependent on petroleum products, a delivery system that provides a continuous supply, is immune to weather and comparatively safe from sabotage or enemy attack in time of war is important.

The Good Old Days?

(OTTAWA JOURNAL)

THE Lethbridge Herald notes that the Dominion Government gets 26 per cent. of its revenues from corporation taxes and 24 per cent. from individual income taxes, remarks that 40 years ago corporation and individual income taxes didn't exist, then sighs: "Oh, for the good old days!"

Were the "good old days" so good? Forty years ago (actually 35 years ago) we didn't have corporation taxes nor individual income taxes, and we didn't have the sales tax, but there were a lot of other things we didn't have. We didn't have, for example, health services, which mean a lot to many of us, and didn't have old age pensions, which mean a tremendous lot to our aged, and we didn't have unemployment insurance, which means a great deal to our workers, and we didn't have family allowances, which, on the whole, mean much to hundreds of thousands of our children.

All well and good to be nostalgic about the "good old days". But those good old days were all too often only good for a few, their absence of corporation and income taxes enabling some to build up family or private fortunes but not meaning so much for the majority, whose standards of living were far lower than today.

Taxes can be a nuisance; can, under certain circumstances, be a tyranny. But there is another side to the taxation coin, and we should never overlook it. That side is the one which tells that a nation that does not distribute its wealth (the true aim of taxes) must be a poor sort of nation, and also that a nation without taxes would almost necessarily be a nation without civilization.

If It's Not One Thing

(St. John's, Nfld., News)

If it's not one thing in the salt cod industry, it's another. This year it's salt.

Some parts of the coast are having a phenomenal trap voyage and the fish are all but literally eating the rocks but many fishermen can't get enough salt to take care of their large catches. That means they must either stop fishing until salt arrives or take a long chance on slack-salting part of their catch. Either way it's bad.

From a private importer's or supplier's standpoint, it may not be surprising that there is a shortage of salt because conditions were so uncertain right up to the start of this year's fishing that nobody knew what the requirements would be.

It may be important for the ministry of fisheries to have salt reserves held at strategic storage points in the same way that bait is held.

God hath spoken once; twice have I heard this; that power belongeth unto God. (Ps. 11.)

✧ ✧ ✧

The Lord reigneth, he is clothed with majesty; the Lord is clothed with strength, wherewith he hath girded himself: the world also is stablished, that it cannot be moved. Thy throne is established of old: thou art from everlasting. (Ps. 93: 1, 2.)

✧ ✧ ✧

The Lord is slow to anger, and great in power, and will not at all acquit the wicked ....Who can stand before his indignation? and who can abide in the fierceness of his anger? his fury is poured out like fire, and the rocks are thrown down by him.

The Lord is good, a strong hold in the day of trouble; and he knoweth them that trust in him. (Nah. 1: 3, 6, 7.)

✧ ✧ ✧

Thou wilt keep him in perfect peace, whose mind is stayed on thee: because he trusteth in thee. Trust ye in the Lord for ever: for in the Lord JEHOVAH is everlasting strength. (Isa. 26: 3, 4.)

Liquor Advertising

(Financial Post)

Laws that don't achieve their purpose, which are discriminatory and unfair should be wiped off the statute books.

Ontario has one that should go. It is the blanket ban on liquor advertising in all periodicals and newspapers published in Ontario.

If the law effectively "protected" the reading public against seeing the advertising of beer and whisky brands, and if it was generally agreed that such "protection" is desirable, the Ontario government might have some argument in defence of its law.

But such is not the case, not by any means. Canadian homes are flooded with periodicals from Quebec and especially from the United States, most of them carrying liquor advertising.

Now there are growing thousands of television sets in Ontario homes hour by hour advertising these beverages.

The only result of the Ontario law is that the publishing industry, traditionally based in that province, is gradually shifting out of the province and workers here are losing wages.

PLENTY OF ROOM

A certain bishop was being patronized by a millionaire.

"I never go to church," the millionaire said. "Perhaps you have noticed that?"

"Yes, I have noticed it," said the bishop gravely.

"Well, the reason I don't go to church is that there are so many hypocrites there."

"Oh, don't let that keep you away," said the bishop, smiling. "There's always room for one more, you know."

Indo-China Determined To Resist Red Uprising

HANOI, Indo-China, Aug. 5—(REUTERS)—Indo-China is determined to show Communist China any adventure into this country would be as costly to them as Korea.

Viet Nam, Indo-China's main state, is mobilizing to complete its 120,000-man army to bolster the French union forces. Police measures are being taken to produce a more stable political atmosphere in which the country will be better able to sit through an uneasy peace in the event of a settlement in Korea.

The obstacles for any invader from the north are mainly geographic in both Burma and Indo-China.

Natural Barriers

Army observers here say the mighty Mekong and the treacherous Irrawaddy rives would force any invader from Yunan Province in China to accept at least a 25-per cent loss of heavy equipment before encountering any real resistance. But the prize of a successful invasion on this left flank of the South-East Asian front would be a path to Malaya.

Many think, too, that Thailand would then fall an easy prey.

Two invasion routes exist in Indo-China. One is down four important winding jugle tracks through Tonkin's high mountains. The other is across the Tonkin Gulf from China's Hainan Island.

Army observers say land routes in both Burma and Indo-China are in bad shape.

Observers believe that the first phase of any Southeast Asia invasion would have to be fought in the air.

In addition to the possibility of offensive air cover, the invader would also have available the Vietminh rebel army to try to pin down the French and Indo-China defence forces.

Brought to Canada by an R.C.A.F. transport aircraft, the majority of the cadets are from England, but the group includes youths from Holland, Sweden, Norway and Denmark. A similar group of Canadian air cadets is presently on a tour of Europe.

Farmer Raises Welsh Ponies

EDMONTON (CP). — Adam Berreth raises a rare kind of livestock—cute little Welsh ponies.

The Southern Alberta farmer began raising the four-foot-high animals in the 1930s as a hobby.

But now he says he couldn't begin to fill all the calls for them and is building his herd up to selling point.

Berreth may be keeping the friendly little horses from extinction. Native to the mountains of Wales, many of them were killed during the war so that grazing land could be used for cattle which were more necessary.

They don't kick, won't bite and can be easily taught to do tricks on the stage. They made wonderful family pets, too.

Welsh ponies are about as high as Shetland ponies but are better looking and easier to handle, says Mr. Berreth.

Today he has 11 registered ponies and a couple of grades. At present he isn't so concerned with sales as he is with breeding Welsh ponies that will be the color of palominos. He has a stallion in his herd which he believes is the only palomino Welsh pony in Canada.

BALLOT BOX for patriotic Canadians

TODAY, our first duty as Canadians is to back up our country's efforts to meet all threats to our freedom.

To do this, we must be strong not only in arms but also in our economy. And to keep our economy strong, we must do everything possible to fight rising prices!

How can you help fight this inflation?

One important way: by saving money! Nowadays, every dollar you spend for things you don't need helps to boost prices. But the money you save — in bank deposits, savings bonds or life insurance — "votes" against the menace of inflation.

Remember too — savings help you. And your life insurance savings help protect your family.

So . . . to support Canada's defense efforts . . . to help yourself . . . save money every way you can right now!

Some Sport Views

By DON GRANT

Every year new records in speed are broken by people flying, running, throwing, driving cars and boats, skiing, tobogganning and in many other ways. But in Peterborough attention is drawn in district sports to speed records only in swimming.

Years ago when track and field, including basketball, was he rage, world records were the main topics several times a year along the main street.

✦ ✦ ✦

With baseball, golf and football speed records to turn to (no accurate lacrosse records have been registered), they will be the main subjects today.

✦ ✦ ✦

In baseball various hits by major league stars have been timed for the different points in the field. A fly ball to the outfield has been timed for about 300 feet at 4.3 seconds while a high fly to the shortstop takes slightly longer, five seconds.

A hot line drive has been clocked into the outfield by the experts as taking four seconds, slightly less than half the time for the record by track stars for the 100-yard dash.

Most Peterborough and district players will have to lose weight if they expect to near the bunt and run record set by a member of the St. Louis Browns in the 1911 season at 3.2 seconds.

Other hit ball records are: in billiards, an average of 34 miles an hour; hockey, a hard-hit puck depending largely upon the distance it travels, from 60 to 95 miles an hour; in tennis, speeds from 100 miles an hour to 150.

✦ ✦ ✦

Gerry Gesselring, Nick Weslock and Moe Norman were likely nearing the golf marks over the weekend at the Kawartha Lakes Open, especially Norman's and Weslock's drives Monday off the third tee. Golf balls have been timed as high as 120 miles an hour.

✦ ✦ ✦

Baseball players have managed to develop a throw, especially pitchers, which breezes across the plate at speeds up to 98 miles an hour. Best known is Cleveland Indians' Bob Feller's mark of 98.6 miles an hour in 1946.

With a larger and more awkward ball, the recently much-publicized Bob Waterfield (rumors had the All-American slated this year for Canadian football) threw a football for a record of 68 miles an hour.

✦ ✦ ✦

Over the weekend the Peterborough swimmers kicked their heels strenuously at Watertown, New York, and came home with the Minnow Trophy from the International meet. Congrats are in order for swimmer Alec Baptie and the relay team, which included Ross Dobbin, Wilton Tranter, Terry Reid and Baptie.

✦ ✦ ✦

Peterborough golfers saw a preview of the latest styles in golfing apparel Monday aftenoon when the threesome, Moe Norman of Kitchener, Nick Weslock of Essex and Bernie Johnston of Hamilton Chedoke, paraded to the first tee. They were a sight for sore eyes.

Johnston topped the clothes for the three with a plaid suit, cap to match with a large yellow zinnia on the peak. Weslock calmly placed his first ball for action donned in olive-colored trousers and a flowered sports shirt. Last year's open champion, Norman, had a blue T-shirt and worsted trousers but his antics on the tee outshone either Weslock's or Johnston's clothes.

Weslock's superior golfing was noted by the 250 fans in the gallery following the trio, on the first fairway and minutes later on the second.

His first clout at the ball placed him in the rough, under a low-boughed cedar. After several minutes of surveying the territory, Weslock took two practice swings and then whacked the ball neatly to the green. In its travel the ball missed four other trees. This play thoroughly deserved the round of applause.

Going down the second he placed the ball one foot away from the small creek. He neatly dropped it with another stroke on the green three feet away from the cup.

The gallery was thrilled when the trio each drove well up the fourth, matching each other's strokes.

Mounties Down Brampton 16-6, Tigers Victors

By The Canadian Press.

Peterborough Petes increased their lead to 12 points in the Ontario Senior Lacrosse League during the holiday weekend while Mimico Mountaineers and St Catharines Athletics each won one to stay tied in second place.

Mimico Mounties downed Brampton Excelsiors 11-6 Saturday night at Brampton while Hamilton Tigers, playing at home, defeated St. Catharines 13-8.

In their Saturday match St. Catharines bowed to a sparkling Hamilton team led by Jack Piett. Piett, sub-goalie for Dundas intermediates, replaced the Tigers' regular goalie, Doug Favelle. Five Hamilton players scored two goals apiece—Merv. McKenzie, Barney Welch, Jack Dormey, Jack Gair and Tommy Glove. Singles went to Les Digby, Red Howell and Al Doyle.

Pat Smith scored twice for St. Catharines, while Tony D'Amico, Steve Oneschuk, Doug Smith, Wooley. Hank Teather and Don Finch each scored one.

Mimico led Brampton from the start in their Saturday game. The quarter scores read: 3-2, 7-2 and 12-4. Scorers for Mimico were Don McPhail and Denny Peterson with three goals each, Al Chard, Archie and Ken Dixon with two apiece and Ben Pritchard, Ed Sanford, Vince Gilkinson and Buddy Stocks with singles.

For Brampton, Nick Ferri scored twice, Clark Lyons, Don Beatty, Bob Sutherland, and Al Garbutt one each.

Legion Edges Juniors In 12-11 Hastings Tilt

HASTINGS, Aug. 7 (ENS). — Legion pulled off a hard earned win in the first game of the finals as they pushed across three runs in the bottom half of the 9th inning to down Juniors 12-11.

It was a real battle all the way, with the Juniors leading most of the time, only to falter in the ninth.

Juniors took the lead in the top of the first as they scored two runs on an error, and a long homer by Wilson, but Legion got back in the game, adding three runs to this total, and then tied it up in the seventh.

The Juniors again went in front in the eighth, when they drove in another pair, but Legion took the lead for the first time in their half when they crossed the plate three times.

In the top of the ninth, Juniors looked like sure winners, scoring three times for an 11-9 lead, but West on the mound for Juniors put himself on the spot by walking Crowley and Elmhirst. Brown dropped Radford's fly to right to score. Crowley and Elmhirst went home on Bond's hit.

L. Scriver drove out a long fly and Radford went home after the catch to sew up the game.

Timbermen Ontario Champs Win Senior "A" First Place Trim Athletics Monday 16-9

Hushed, remembering a similar accident five years ago, 2,200 Peterborough lacrosse fans waited 20 minutes Monday night at Miller Bowl to hear a doctor's announcement on the condition of the St. Catharines goalie, Whitey Frick. With 52 seconds of play left, Frick, a Peterborough boy and a former Peterborough lacrosse player, was hit in the face by a hot 30-foot drive from the stick of Russ Slater. The ball ripped the steel mask off, throwing it 15 feet. Frick slumped sideways to the goal post and sank to the ground.

Fearing the worst, a doctor was rushed to the injured goalie and after 10 minutes was carried semi-conscious into the dressingroom. The fans then waited until the announcement said that Frick had only a slight concussion.

Until then rumors varied from a broken neck to a few teeth knocked out but the fans left the bowl remembering not the Timbermen's struggle to win 16-9 but Orillia's Bun Hill accident five years ago at Miller Bowl. Hill, then in the Orillia nets, was hit in the face during the Ontario senior "B" finals and nearly lost an eye.

Minutes before, in the third quarter, Frick had thrown his mask clear and played for a minute without it. He was hit then in the face for the first time but rose unhurt.

All this excitement was mixed with tripping, highsticking, elbowing and kneeing and poor refereeing. For the first three-quarters the teams battled and quarters the teams battled. Don Crowe's Timbermen were held to a three-all tie in the first quarter and then moved ahead 8-5 in the second. The Athletics rallied in the third to pull within one goal, 10-9, but failed to respond in the fourth as the Timbermen knocked six times.

Bob Thorpe and Max Woolley, a former St. Catharines junior, tangled in the fourth quarter to add to the affair. Thorpe went behind the Athletics' goal with Woolley trailing. They drew back when through the space and squared off with the sticks for several seconds and then dropped them. They romped on the ground for five minutes before separated by referees Lou Vipond and Jim Davidson.

Both players received majors while Emil Uryhnuk received a minor penalty for slashing during the fight.

A number of players received minor injuries in the game. Arn Dugan and Nit O'Hearn were forced to leave the game temporarily while the Atheltics' Jim McMahon had his shoulder hurt in a tumble near the Timbermen's net.

Stocky Curly Mason topped the scoring with a total of four goals while pairs were scored by Russ Slater, Gerry Fitzgerald, Nit O'Hearn, Ike Hildebrand and Harry Wipper. Singles were added by Arn Dugan and Dootch Vitarelli.

Ham Nelson caused himself to be Peterborough's public enemy for several hours but during that time performed the hat-trick for the Athletics. Max Woolley, Frank Bird, Tank Teathers, B. Melville, Tony D'Amico and Doug Smith each scored once.

Peterborough's lead is still 12 points in the senior OLA race and the win assures them the Ontario senior "A" championship for the first time in Peterborough's history. They still have three games to play, two away with Toronto and Mimico and a game at home with Brampton.

Petes Score 6-1 Exhibition Win

Peterborough defeated Lindsay Merchants 6-1 Saturday in a spirited exhibition baseball game at Riverside before a fair-sized crowd. Doug. Loucks, Lindsay ace, opposed lefty Bill McIntosh, whom the locals are looking over as a possible addition to the pitching corps for 1952. Bill is pitching for Bowmanville this year.

McIntosh allowed but four hits, one a double, struck out four and walked but three in a fine display. Loucks, erstwhile local slinger, gave up six safeties, fanned seven and issued six passes. It was a close pitcher's battle with the locals holding a 2-1 edge until the eighth when walks to Edger and Dadson, McIntosh's fielders choice, Garvey's fumbled rap to Tamblyn and Golden's triple put four across and wrapped up the ball game. On the basis of earned runs the score was 2-1 as Loucks pitched a fine ball game. It was a good crowd-pleasing exhibition.

Port Hope Lashes Cobourg Team 8-1

COBOURG, Aug. 7—Sonny Beckstead's ninth-inning single scoring Stu Lingard from second, foiled Roger Lees' bid for a shutout here Monday as Port Hope defeated Cobourg 8-1, in a Lakeshore Intermediate "B" game.

Lees moved up from the Port Hope juveniles for the game, gave the Cobourg crew nine hits but kept them well scattered. He was never in trouble after his teammates had given him a four-run lead in the first inning. He fanned three and walked the same number.

Jackie Campbell and Jim Gilmore starred afield for the winners.

Jim Hart started for Cobourg but went out in the fifth, after being tagged for six runs on the same number of hits. Bryan Hart, second half of the brother act, finished it up.

UK Cricket Team Batters Ottawa Club

OTTAWA, Aug. 7 (CP).—England 's touring Marylebone cricket club eleven put on its greatest show of its Canadian tour so far Monday dismissing an Ottawa valley team for 69 runs and going on to amass a total of 429.

The visitors won their opening game in Montreal against a Quebec team 44 to 33 Saturday and played to a draw with an Ottawa Valley Cricket Council team here Sunday. The Sunday scores were MCC 203 for seven declared and OVCC 114 for six.

Today it was another OVCC team which took on the visitors. The result was that MCC officially won by nine wickets. But for the benefit of spectators, the innings was continued until stumps were drawn by which time MCC gathered a total of 429.

Ottawa batted in the morning and were out at lunch time for 69 runs.

Petes Win 9-2 Over Crofton's For Season's 23rd Victory

Ed Whitehill's leading seniors in the Viaduct Major Baseball League won their 23rd victory of the season Monday night at Riverside as they defeated Croftons of Toronto 9-2, behind the four-hit pitching of undefeated Lefty Bill Dadson. They have but four losses.

Jerry O'Donnell, diminutive right-hander, opposed Dadson and though he allowed but six hits, he walked 10 and made three costly wild pitches. His mates were shaky afield in spots, and not too potent with the bat.

The men of Whitehill scored one in the first as Huntley walked, Garvey popped to Gray, Golden walked and Huntley scored on a wild peg to third by Hortop to Wood. Menzies scored on a wild pitch in the second. The locals added four in the fourth to make victory sure as Milne got a lift on Williams' bobble, advanced on Dadson's sacrifice, Huntley and Garvey singled, Milne scored on an error, Golden and Brabin walked; Huntley scored on a passed ball and Golden and Brabin followed on O'Donnell's next wild pitch as an otherwise fairly well pitched game to this point, fizzled.

Croftons tallied their two runs in the fifth and sixth as Jack Williams nicked Dadson for a double with Fitzhenry aboard (Crofton's only extra-base hit) for the first, and Gray scored Wood in the sixth with a timely single.

Petes added a pair in the seventh and a single in the eighth to wind up the scoring. Despite the one-sided score, the game featured some fine plays including a remarkable running catch in deep centre by Fitzhenry off Lowrey in the fourth, to rob the local speedster of a possible homer; and another by Bill Gleed in right off Brabin, in the eighth. Dadson twirled a fine game and walked none. The locals play New York Bengals tonight here in an exhibition at 8 p.m., under the arcs.

Leafs Divide Twin Bill With Buffalo

By The Associated Press.

Ernie Shore, veteran right-hander with Toronto Maple Leafs is a leading candidate for the International League's most valuable player award.

Shore, former St. Louis Brownie has toiled in 44 of the Leafs' 117 games. The hefty vet's relief work has highlighted the Leafs' drive for a first-division berth.

Shore appeared in both ends of a doubleheader Monday which the fifth-place Leafs split with Buffalo Bisons. The Bisons won the opener 4-1 behind the eight-hit pitching of Lynn Lovenguth. The Leafs captured the nightcap 2-1.

George Moscovich and Hank Biasatti drove in all of Buffalo's runs in the opener. Lew Morton homered for Toronto's run.

Shore relieved Hal Hudson in the seventh inning of the nightcap and allowed one hit the rest of the way to bag his ninth victory. The Leafs won the game in the ninth when Charlie White bunted safely with the bases loaded. Morton poled his 17th home run for the other Leaf counter.

Divide Doubleheader

Baltimore Orioles and Ottawa Giants also split a doubleheader. The Orioles won the opener 2-0 behind the one-hit pitching of Jack Brittin. The Giants took the nightcap 10-5. Mike Vulmire spoiled Brittin's not-hit bid with a single in the third inning. Harvey Gentry drove home four runs on a homer and three singles to lead the Giants to victory in the nightcap.

Montreal's league-leading Royals smeared Rochester Red Wings 12-4. The Royals pounded out 16 hits, including home runs by Bobby Morgan and Tobey Atwell. Hamp Coleman limited the Wings to eight hits, including a home run by Jay Van Noy.

Syracuse Chiefs tied the Red Wings for third place by beating Frank Marino and the Springfield Cubs 8-3. Chuck Eisenmann pitched three-hit ball after relieving Jack Griffore in the fifth to gain credit for the victory.

Bowmanville Whips Lindsay Team 11-4

LINDSAY Aug. 7—Bowmanville Roses moved into a first-place tie with Lindsay Merchants by humiliating the locals, 11-4, in a Lakeshore Intermediate Baseball League game here Monday afternoon.

The Roses picked on three Lindsay hurlers, Junior West, Doug Loucks and Bill Shill, banging out 13 hits for the decisive victory.

Bob Williams smashed out three successive hits for the winners while Lindsay's Hank Debois hit three for four, and Dean Tompkins clouted a double and triple.

Weslock Wins Open With 216 Gross

Windsor's Nick Weslock, playing slow, cautious golf, won the Calvert trophy at the seventh annual Kawartha Lakes amateur golf tournament Monday with a 216 score—seven strokes ahead of his nearest rival, Moe Norman, Kitchener Rockway. From early dawn to sunset, more than 291 golfers teed-off Saturday, Sunday and Monday, at the Kawartha Golf and Country Club, making this by far the largest amateur tournament in Canada. A total of 117 applicants were refused entry in the 54-hole tournament.

Starting off with a sizzling two under par 69, on Saturday, Weslock shot a 73 Sunday and a 74 Monday.

Norman, 1950 Kawartha open champ, shooting a 75, Saturday, and a 70 Sunday, threatened Weslock's lead until the 16th hole Monday when he dropped out of the running to come in with a day's total of 78. He took second prize with a total score of 223.

Bernie Johnson, Hamilton Chedoke, edged in for third with a 224 and Sonny Adams, Scarboro, shot fourth with a 226.

A gallery of 600 followed the top three tournament golfers on Monday, first watching Weslock pull away from Norman. Then it was touch and go as Johnson threatened but failed to take second spot from Kitchener's colorful golfer.

Murray Wilson presented Weslock with the tournament trophy and baggage valued at $100 Monday night. He also presented Norman with $100 worth of baggage. A total of $1,500 worth of tournament prizes were presented.

Hamilton Chedoke came through for the fourth straight winning of the team trophy. Last year this team took the trophy home permanently and a new trophy was presented Monday night. This trophy goes to the team with the lowest four gross scores. Golfers on the winning team were: B.

Peterborough Downs Cobourg

COBOURG, Aug. 7.—Peterborough Revoy Motors had enough left to hold off Cobourg Orphans here in a holiday weekend feature that was part of the Civic Holiday celebration.

Playing good softball, the clubs ended with a 3-2 verdict in favor of the Peterborough Senior B team. Don Platt went the route for the losers, and stayed on fairly even terms with Dalton, the Liftlocker hurler, each of them giving up six hits. Both fanned five.

The ninth-inning stand of the Orphans saw the tying run left on second base as Jimmy Medhurst grounded out, third to first. Bob Cooper and Art Jones had scored runs on a fielder's choice and an infield hit to start the rally rolling. A huge holiday crowd watched the fast-moving tilt.

Morgan Blanks Senators Yankees Win

By JOE REICHLER,
Associated Press Sports Writer.

New York Yankees appeared to have come up with a worthy replacement for 21-year-old Eddie Ford. He is 21-year-old Tom Morgan.

One of the reasons some were predicting the fall of the Yankee empire last spring was because of Ford's call to the army.

"Where will the Yankees get a replacement for Ford?" they asked. "Who among Casey Stengel's newcomers is going to win those nine games that Ford copped after the fourth of July?"

Early hopes that Morgan might do it faded when the young right-hander was shipped to Kansas City last May after losing his first start. But Morgan came back after a month of seasoning and showed his stuff.

Stengel started him against Washington June 28 and he responded by shutting out the Senators 3-0. Since then he has racked up seven more triumphs without a defeat. His eighth straight came Monday night—a 4-0 whitewash job against the Senators. It was his third shutout. He won a 1-0 hurling duel from Ned Garver of St. Louis July 20.

The victory stretched the Yankees' American League lead over second-place Cleveland to one game and over third-place Boston to four games. Both clubs were idle.

Morgan surrendered only five hits, all singles.

Ninth Homer

Gil McDougald accounted for the first two runs off righthander Don Johnson with his ninth home run to score Yogi Berra in front of him. McDougald drove in the third run with a long fly and Gene Woodling's triple followed by Bobby Brown's single closed out the scoring in the seventh.

In the only other big league activity, Chicago's fourth place White Sox whipped the Tigers in Detroit, 10-1. First-sacker Eddie Robinson cracked two home runs, a double and single to lead the Sox attack while righthander Joe Dobson shackled the Bengals with five hits for his seventh victory.

The White Sox swatted the loser Hal White and two reliefers for 15 hits to remain seven games behind the Yankees. It was Dobson's first victory since the all-star game July 10. Joe Ginsberg's eighth home run in the sixth was the only run off the 34-year-old hurler.

Say Legislature May Investigate Race-Fixing

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., Aug. 7 (CP)—The investigation of suspected race-fixing on Ontario tracks may become a matter for the Legislature's Crime Committee.

W. L. Houck, Liberal member of the Legislature for Niagara Falls and a member of the committee, said Monday he will ask that the four-man Ontario Racing Commission be summoned to a Toronto hearing to tell what it has learned.

The Racing Commission met last week in Fort Erie to interview jockeys and trainers in connection with attempts by gamblers to fix races by bribing riders.

Two jockeys were ruled off Ontario tracks for life and four others were suspended indefinitely as a result of the inquiry.

However, the Racing Commission has given no details of the events which led up to the suspensions.

The Racing Commission investigation, meanwhile, is scheduled to resume at Hamilton Wednesday morning. The Hamilton racing meet began Saturday.

Asks Stronger Laws Against Traitors

TORONTO, Aug. 7 — (CP) — George Drew Monday demanded laws which would treat as traitors persons who strive to destroy freedom in Canada.

The National Progressive Conservative leader said that if the laws were not passed by the present government, his party would put them into force as soon as it gained power.

Mr. Drew addressed a political picnic held by the Spadina-St. Andrew - Bellwoods Progressive Conservative Association.

Two of the constituencies—Bellwoods and St. Andrews—are represented in the Ontario legislature by Communists, the object of fire in Mr. Drew's speech. The federal Spadina riding, which includes the territory of the two provincial constituencies, is represented by Liberal David Croll.

Mayor's Efforts Fail End Timmins Strike

TIMMINS, Aug. 7 — (CP) — Mayor Philip Fay said Monday he can do nothing more to end the strike of 1,500 workers at the Hollinger Gold Mine. Referring to his efforts to settle the strike called almost a month ago by the United Steelworkers of America (CIO) to back the demands for a dues checkoff and higher wages, the mayor said: "I am at the end of my rope."

He said he had suggested that the union and the company consider having Prof. C. A. Curtis, of Queen's University, act as mediator. Both said they are considering the suggestion.

50 Missionaries Vanish In Korea

VATICAN CITY, Aug. 7 (CP)—Fifty Roman Catholic missionaries and native priests have vanished in Korea since the outbreak of war.

This was reported Saturday by Msgr. Celso Constantini, secretary of the Vatican's Congregation for Propagation of the Faith, in an appeal printed in Observatore Romano urging Catholics to aid their missions.

Pilot Injured

AYLMER, Aug. 7 (CP) — A light crop-dusting plane crashed into a tree here Monday, critically injuring the pilot, Philip Paquet, 32, of Souris, PEI. Paquet is in hospital at St. Thomas. The plane, a Piper Cub 'G3,' crashed on the farm of John Fazekas, Aylmer. Paquet was dusting tobacco crops, in company with two other aircraft.

Bishop Dies

TORONTO, Aug. 7 (CP)—The Most Rev. Platon Artemiuk, 59, died Sunday on the eve of his formal appointment as Bishop of Eastern Canada of the Ukrainian Greek Orthodox Church of Canada. In Canada since February, he had planned to go to Winnipeg this week to assume the newly-created office at a special conference of the church.

Youths Injured

RIDGEWAY, Aug. 7 — (CP) — Several Toronto youths were injured Monday night when a truck in which they were returning home from a holiday outing overturned near this community 14 miles south of Niagara Falls. Police said the vehicle skidded on wet pavement.

Profitable Weekend

WINDSOR, Aug. 7 (CP)—Two breakins netted burglars some $11,000 in watches and cash during the weekend. Some 200 watches were stolen from the Minden jewelry store show cases. A safe weighing several hundred pounds and containing approximately $1,000 was taken from Reitman's Ladies' Wear Shop.

To Build School

NAPANEE, Aug. 7—(CP)—The first load of material for construction of the $780,000 Napanee and district collegiate institute arrived Monday. It is expected that part of the school, which ultimately will accommodate 650 students, will be ready for use in September.

INTERNATIONAL CHAMPIONS, Peterborough swimmers captured the Minnow trophy at the annual Canadian-American invitation meet at Watertown, New York, Sunday. (Left to Right) Ross Dobbin, Alec Baptie, Wilton Tranter and Terry Reid won 14 of the final 28 points in the class with a win in the relay race. Baptie also captured an individual championship, winning the 50-yard free style. They competed against swimmers from cities throughout northeastern United States and from Canada.—(Parks Studio Photo)

City Lads Win Swim Trophy In Watertown

Edge Watertown By Point To Bring Home Minnow Trophy

Peterborough boys, Terry Reid, Ross Dobbin, Alec Baptie and Wilton Tranter, won international distinction over the weekend in Watertown, New York. Swimming in the annual Canadian-American invitation meet at Watertown, sponsored by the Amateur Athletic Union of the United States, the boys captured the Minnow class trophy for boys under 14 years.

The Peterborough team edged the Watertown swimmers by one point, 28-27, for the trophy. First place in the relay race actually gave the swimmers the edge in points. Reid, Dobbin, Baptie and Tranter outdistanced Watertown, Albany and several other teams for the 14-point first place in the relay.

Alec Baptie earned another seven points for the team when he won the final heat and the international championship in the 50 yards free style. He bettered the efforts of Peter Hughes, of Toronto Lakeshore, who placed second, and Wilton Tranter, also of Peterborough was placed third.

Baptie earned further points with a fourth-place in the final heat of the 50-yard backstroke.

In the junior class Peterborough's medley relay team placed fourth, Don Wood, Jim Starr and John Boorman swimming.

The two-day meet featured swimmers from Detroit, Washington, Chicago, Toronto, Ottawa, Montreal and other cities from the northeastern states of the United States. The trials were held on Saturday and the finals on Sunday.

Last year the Peterborough team did equally well but just missed out on the trophy. John Boorman was the Peterborough star with two championships, Don Wood finishing second in a final heat.

A RACE WITH DEATH was lost early Monday morning by Alvin Snowden, 25-year-old Peterborough husband and father. He is the first polio fatality in the city this year. Despite a high-speed trip to Toronto, and an emergency oxygen supply, he died before he got there. ➳

Midnight Dash To Toronto Fails As Polio Victim Dies In Speeding Ambulance

One Ambulance Breaks Down, Oxygen Runs Out As 25-Year-Old Optical Worker Rushed To Toronto Hospital In Early Morning

Alvin Snowden, 25, of 605 Stewart St., died early Monday morning of poliomyelitis while on his way to Toronto by ambulance. He was the city's first polio fatality of the year and the third case reported within a week to hospital authorities. Failure of an oxygen supply was believed a factor in the death of Snowden, an employee of Imperial Optical Co., and father of a three-year-old daughter. Accompanying him on the 90-mile dash to Toronto were Capt. Garnet Brown and Fireman William Bloom who used a portable inhalator to keep him breathing.

Two miles east of Bowmanville the ambulance broke down and an emergency call had to be made to the Oshawa Fire Department for a second inhalator. Another ambulance was obtained and this took the stricken man and the two firemen through to the isolation hospital, Toronto.

Oxygen Ran Out

On the eastern outskirts of Toronto the second supply of oxygen ran out and during the last few minutes Captain Brown and Fireman Bloom used artificial respiration.

Snowden was declared dead on admittance.

The whole trip took an hour and 45 minutes. Provincial and city police cleared the way through the post-midnight traffic.

Snowden first complained of an abdominal pain Thursday night after working all day at the Imperial Optical plant where he has been employed for the last 3½ years. He went to work Friday and was sick when he got home.

He was in bed all day Saturday and on Sunday morning he was only able to get to his feet when assisted by a subtenant, Wilson Plumpton. He was partially paralyzed in the upper trunk of his body and collapsed when he tried to walk.

Ordered to Hospital

Sunday afternoon he was ordered to Civic hospital by Dr. Leslie J. Calvert. And shortly before midnight it was decided to send him to Riverdale Isolation hospital.

He was unconscious throughout the trip.

This weekend his holidays began and he was looking forward to a couple of week's fishing on Deer Lake.

Snowden was born in Detroit, Mich., but at an early age moved to Toronto where he was raised and educated. His foster parents were Mr. and Mrs. Adam McWilliams, Toronto.

For the last 4½ years he has been a resident of Peterborough and most of that time an employee of Imperial Optical. He was an ex-serviceman.

Besides his widow, the former Bernice Morgan, he leaves a three-year-old daughter, Audrey.

Pallbearers at the funeral Monday afternoon, held at the Nesbitt funeral home, were William and Ireneaus Morgan, Hermie Castle, and James Huggins. The Rev. Henry Cotton, St. Andrew's United Church, officiated.

Burial was in Little Lake cemetery.

Barn, Hay Crop Destroyed In $12,000 Fire

CAMPBELLFORD, Aug. 7 — (ENS)—A spark from a threshing machine is blamed for a fire Saturday morning that destroyed a large barn and hen house on the farm of Eugene Mahoney about four miles north of Campbellford. Damage was unofficially estimated at $12,000.

The season's crop of hay was stored in the barn, and this along with a milking machine and a considerable amount of harness was totally destroyed. When the fire first broke out the alarm was telephoned to Campbellford the alarm was sounded, but the local fire fighting equipment could not respond to the call.

A number of men were despatched to the scene and with the efforts of a hastily organized bucket brigade, neighbours succeeded in saving the farm home and a pig pen.

It was at first feared the house would burn, and much of the furnishings were removed. Equipment was also removed from a drive shed near the house. Workmen backed a tractor up to the threshing machine near the barn and some trouble was experienced in connecting the two, but this was finally done and the machine was hauled to safety.

Did Wonderful Work

In an interview Monday night, Mrs. Mahoney paid tribute to the efforts of friends and neighbours in saving the house and limiting the spread of the fire as much as they did. "They did wonderful work," said Mrs. Mahoney, "and I am very thankful the house was saved. I watched the barn burn in 1914 when it was struck by lightning and we were very proud of the building as it stood a few days ago. We had taken every precaution against fire, and had air ventilators and lighting rods installed. When you have to stand by and watch the barn burn again, it is pretty hard to take."

The barn was a building about 60 feet by 30 feet. All of the farm machinery was saved as was the stock in the barn at the time. A steel hen house burned but the drive shed and pig pen were saved by the bucket brigade. The loss is only partly covered by insurance.

Holiday Traffic Heaviest Monday Night

Traffic on highways, back roads and rail lines was heavy during the Civic holiday weekend but no heavier than provincial police, rail and bus officials expected.

The biggest rush was Monday night when all the people who had come home Friday night and Saturday started to return to their work and the people who had been on vacation headed home.

The Colonial Coach Lines sent 11 buses crowded with men, women and children with their bulky gear out of the city about seven p.m. Buses of other local bus lines were pressed into service for the crowd.

Busy Buses

It was a busier weekend for the bus depot than the July 1 holiday had been. But a big weekend had been anticipated.

The CPR ran one special train, the second section of their regular Havelock to Toronto evening train. Officials of the railroad said it was a good holiday crowd, but no larger than was expected.

For provincial police, it was the best weekend of the summer. Accidents were fewer than on any other weekend so far this year. The highways were "not overly-crowded", said Corporal Joe Hanson.

Heaviest car traffic was in the northern section of the county. People about to leave, people just arriving and people up for the long weekend crowded around the lakes. On roads into Jacks Lake there wasn't a parking spot to be seen.

Service stations and tourist resorts appeared to be busy all along Highway 28 up through Burleigh Falls as far as Bancroft.

'Man To Dinner' Best Comedy Of Summer Plays

Limp and aching with belly-laughter, your reviewer sped home to write of his impressions of this week's play. If you laughed at the other comedies this season, you will split your sides at this one. There is an unusually large cast—the largest, I should imagine, that the Summer Theatre has ever had in a play, but at no time was there any sensation of overcrowding on the small stage of the Queen Mary auditorium. Considerable use has been made this week of local talent, and our own amateur actors acquitted themselves well in minor roles.

A personal triumph was scored by Gerry Sarracini, who as the Man who came to dinner (and stayed a month) dominated the stage from start to finish. This is a performance that will surely add to his growing reputation. He was ably helped by Kate Reid as Maggie Cutler, his secretary. Space will not permit mention to be made of all the numerous cast, but the following are worthy of special mention. Peter Mews displayed infectious verve and startling versatility in his two roles of Beverly Carlton (Noel Coward?) and Banjo (Groucho Marx?). Ron Bailey's gift of sly humor showed to great advantage in his exquisite portrayal of a seedy little country doctor with "literary" leanings, and Ann Murray positively oozed glamour as Lorraine Sheldon.

Brilliant Production

The production was handled with brilliance and ease by Michael Sadlier from the opening pandemonium, through all the preposterous situations and intrigues down to the surprise ending (which I am not allowed to divulge to those who have not already seen the play or movie).

It is an interesting and heartening experience to see these talented actors and actresses, all of them young, growing in artistict stature each season. This production marks a new standard of excellence and fills one with confidence in the future of the Canadian theatre.—Christopher Gledhill.

New Record Set In Delivery Of the 1951 Fall Wheat Crop

Volume of district wheat deliveries rolled up new records for one day at Quaker Oats and Dewart Milling on Civic Holiday. Farmers and threshers and truckers toiled away the day of vacation and its grand weather. Yield reports are not easy to determine and are ranging from 25 to 35 bus. an acre.

Mel McIntyre of Dewarts volunteered 25 bus. as an estimate and Stewart Lockington at Quaker suggested the average up to 35.

"I think the average yield is about half last year's from the reports we have been getting," Mr. McIntyre said. "Quality is good. Some of the grain was a little high in moisture, but we had only a couple of lots showing smut."

Peak Day At Mill

To Mr. McIntyre "it was a peak day at our mill for all time."

"Some farmers have had pretty fair returns, up to 40 or thereabouts. But, they are not numerous, we hear, and then there has been quite a lot of grain down around 20 bus. to the acre," Mr. McIntyre said.

67 Trucks Hauling

"It was a record in our local business," Stewart Lockington, grain department manager, told the Examiner today.

"We had 67 trucks hauling the new fall wheat crop from all parts of the district, and there were times when we had eight and ten trucks in line."

The area visualized by Mr. Lockington is of about 40 miles radius . . . Bowmanville to Stirling; and from Lake Ontario back into Victoria county.

"We took in a lot of wheat on the holiday. Farmers were too busy in that ideal weather to waste it on a holiday."

The crop in that district is averaging 35 to 38 bushels to the acre. That's what we learn, and the same yield appears to be general throughout the province.

"The quality of the top grade is good, but there is quite a lot of smut in some deliveries. In fact we are starting today to see what we can do in getting farmers generally to treat the seed grain for this cereal disease."

Farmers are now getting ready to sow fall wheat seed for the harvest of 1952.

"Some of them have been telling us they are getting up to 40 bushels and others are down to 35 bushels, so that would put the average at 38 bushels, as compared with 40 to 42 a year ago."

Matthews of George St. United Church in the absence of Rev. Ivan Morgan. Burial was at Little Lake cemetery.

Accidents Few As City Has Quiet Weekend

Peterborough just pulled in its sidewalks and went to sleep or to the cottage during the Civic holiday weekend—at least as far as city accidents were concerned.

Police reported one accident Friday afternoon and one Monday evening. Nothing in between.

Witnesses said the Monday evening accident was caused by a car going through a red light at Hunter and George Sts.

Andrew Strachan, 533 Chamberlain St., was driving south on George St. when his car and one driven east by Garry M. Chambers, 182A Hunter St. W., collided about the centre of the intersection.

Witnesses

Two witnesses, Bill McDonald, 534 Concession Mt., Hamilton; and Bruce Bell, 18 Sandford Ave, Toronto, said Chambers drove through a red light.

The left front fender and door of the Chambers car were damaged. The right front fender and wheel and radiator of the Strachan car were damaged.

Constable Grant Gillespie investigated.

In the Friday afternoon accident, a truck driven by Muriel Ray, RR 2, Warsaw, behind a Kawartha Bus Lines bus, ran into the tail end of the bus as it slowed up for the CNR railway tracks on Water St. north. The bus was driven by Norman Wells, 287 Stewart St. No damage was done to the bus. The truck suffered a broken front bumper, a dented hood, dents on both front fenders and a damaged grill.

Constable Donald Mackay investigated.

'Cycle Crashes Youth Injured

Thrown from the tandem-seat of a motorcycle early Sunday morning, Donald Record, 16, of East York, is in Lindsay hospital with internal injuries, cuts and bruises.

He crashed into a highway sign on Highway 35, 10 miles north of Minden.

The accident occurred when a motorcycle, driven by Alexander Anderson, 18, Bedford Ave., Toronto, went out of control on a curve after striking the soft shoulder of the road. The cycle flew through the air, catapulting Record into the sign, and it stopped some distance away pinning Anderson to the ground.

Anderson received a couple of deep facial cuts, a split lip and an injured ankle. He was released from Lindsay hospital Sunday after treatment.

OPP Constable Al Edwards, Minden, investigated.

Helping To Load Truck Keene Man Hurts Back

William Joiner, RR 3, Keene, received an injured back while helping his brother load a tractor on a truck Monday night.

The accident occurred on Jim Joiner's farm, on the Chemong Road, 2½ miles from Peterborough. Joiner was caught between the tractor and the truck and was taken to hospital where he received treatment for a bruised and scraped back. He was discharged today.

Cars Collide Head-on One Woman Injured

CAMPBELLFORD, Aug. 7 — (ENS)—Two cars collided head-on at an intersection at Stanwood about eight miles north of Campbellford, Sunday, at 4.30 p.m.

Wife of one of the drivers, Mrs. Murray Petherick, Campbellford, received a cut on her knee and was badly shaken up. Her small daughter and Petherick were not hurt.

Driver of the other car, Walter Elliott, 24, of Campbellford, also escaped unhurt. Both cars were badly damaged.

Provincial Constable Donald W. Erskine, of Campbellford, investigated. No charges have been laid.

OPP Charge 34 At Haliburton Hall

Dancers who insist on nipping away at a liquor supply between numbers had a rough time Saturday night at the Golden Slipper, near Haliburton village.

Provincial Police from Minden swooped down and laid 34 charges under the Liquor Control Act. Most of the charges were illegal possession of liquor.

The crackdown followed several reports of rowdyism recently at the dance hall. The payoff came when somebody slashed one of the tires of Chief Constable Dovell's car.

Opposition Story

Unheard By Textile Workers—Baron

Peterborough and district textile workers have not heard the opposition side of the story in the present interhal dispute between the administration of the Textile Workers Union of America (CIO-CCL) and the opposition faction led in Canada by Sam Baron of Toronto. That was the statement made Monday by Baron in an interview with the Examiner.

Baron, fired May 9 by International President Emile Rieve as Canadian director, said he and his associates were trying to "democratize" the union.

He said this could be achieved by clipping some of the present powers of the international president and giving the Canadian membership the right to elect all their representatives.

The TWUA claims the third largest membership among the CCL union. The 400,000-member international union has some 20,000 in Canada; about 1,000 in the Trent Valley area that includes Peterborough.

85 Per Cent Support

Baron stated that the anti-administation forces had the support 85 per cent of the membership in Canada. But one of the pro-administration centres had been the Trent Valley area.

"There is no intention on my part or on the part of any of my associates to foster dual unionism," said Baron, who denied flatly any desire to head another organization.

At present Canadian members are not getting a square deal, he charged.

"The workers pay the salary of the Canadian director and they should be able to elect the man of their choice. The director should be elected, not appointed by the administration."

An open break appeared between Baron and Rieve at the convention in May, 1950. At that time Baron supported Executive Vice-President George W. Baldanzi in the face of an opposition candidate backed by President Rieve.

Claims "Purge" Attempt

Baron claims that it was an attempt to "purge" Mr. Baldanzi and since then a dozen union members who opposed President Rieve have been fired.

Mr. Baron was himself fired on May 9 and thus automatically stripped of his salary. He retains the office of vice-president to which he was elected at the last election.

J. Harold D'Aoust is the administration appointee as Canadian director.

The executive council rather than the international president should be the supreme governing power, the Baron-Baldanzi forces say. At present they contend the president has economic control over the exeeutive council. He is able to appoint council members of his choice to salaried positions.

A convention was called by the Baron forces in April and he was re-elected Canadian director. The administration called it a "rump" assembly.

At that time A. R. Mosher, president of the CCL, came out in support of Baron.

In a carefully-worded statement Mosher said he was not entering the internal dispute but he had high praise for Baron and he plumped hard for Canadian autonomy.

15 Fatalities Occur Over Holiday

By The Canadian Press

The three-day Civic Holiday weekend in Ontario brought violent death to 15 persons.

A Canadian Press compilation today showed nine persons killed in traffic accidents, compared with 12 during the same weekend last year and 11 in that period in 1949. There were three drownings and three deaths from miscellaneous causes.

William (Red) Hill, 38, Niagara river daredevil, died in a stunt plunge in a flimsy rubber-inner-tube barrel over Niagara Falls.

Samuel DeMacio, 30, of Toronto, was electrocuted at Stayner when a copper wire kite he was holding brushed against a high-tension wire.

A bullet from a rifle in the hands of a playmate killed 12-year-old Larry Fleming at Shelburne. Police said Larry put a shell in the rifle without his chum's knowledge and the gun discharged when the chum started to clean it.

isherman Thomas Manahan, 35,

Fisherman Thomas Manahan, 35, Beardmore, , were drowned in Lake Nipigon and two companions escaped after the propellor of their motorboat became entangled in fishing nets and the craft overturned 80 miles northeast of the Lakehead.

An automobile collision near Bracebridge killed Edward Beadle 21, and William Reeve, 22, both of Toronto, and injured three other persons.

Mrs. William Angless, 24, passenger in a car police said was driven by her huband, died in another collision in the Uxbridge area.

Joseph Belaire, 39, of Alexandria, was killed when his truck crashed into a ditch.

In a car-truck crash near Windsor, Mrs. Louise Bully, 75, died and four others were injured.

Also near Windsor, Mrs. Donelda Toutant was killed when a car she was driving smashed into a hydro pole.

Street mishaps took the lives of Darlene Haughie, 2, who darted in front of a bus in Toronto, and of Samuel Shuttler, struck down in Hamilton.

THESE OIL-SOAKED SWANS in the Pool of London on the Thames River are being rounded up for a shampoo by the young son of Swan Master R. H. Turk. The swans became covered with thick, black oil which was discharged illegally into the pool from a ship. The swans were cornered against a wharf and removed to a clinic to have the oil washed off.

Nickel Firm Goes Underground

SUDBURY, Aug. 7 (CP)—Inco is going completely underground.

With its great open pit operations scheduled to be completed about 1953, International Nickel Company is extending its underground operations. The major expansion means the creation of a new town to house its workers.

On a rolling plain about 12 miles from Sudbury this new community is in the making. It will have neat modern homes, a large public school, stores and other facilities. It's the town of Lively, named after a veteran employee of the company who rose from miner to mine superintendent.

During the past 10 years Inco has extended its regular underground operations at nearby Creighton Mines, Garson, Levack and Frood Mines. In addition new underground mines are being brought into production at Stobie, Murray and Creighton.

Since 1941 the company has allocated more than $9,000,000 for construction of homes and other facilities for its employees.

Six Anglican Bishops At Special Ceremony

MOOSE FACTORY, Ont., Aug. 7 (CP) — Six Anglican bishops participated Sunday in celebrations marking the centenary of the far northern diocese of Moosonee.

Diseases Carried By Airplanes

WELLINGTON, NZ (CP)—The great danger of diseases and pests being carried by aircraft has been proved by research by the Royal New Zealand Air Force since the war. Scientists policing all aircraft arriving from abroad have identified 550 types of insects carried by the planes.

These insects belong to 60 families and include 28 types of mosquitoes, some of which are known to transmit the organisms causing dengue fever and filariasis in tropical islands of the Pacific.

On five occasions egg batches of a moth belonging to a family which includes many serious agricultural pests, were recovered from the outside of aircraft fuselages. Such occurrences have been noted only twice before in world reports of accidental carriages of insects by aircraft.

All the insects collected were either dead or dying from the effects of insecticidal spray. Control involves the use of hand-operated insecticidal bombs. Orderlies spray all aircraft, military and civilian, arriving from abroad and later examine them to check that control measures have been effective."

6 US Golfers Make Grade In Ladies' Open

LAVAL-SUR-LE-LAC, Que., Aug. 7 (CP).—The American invaders gunning for the Canadian ladies open golf championship took on added significance today on the basis of performance alone.

Out of more than 100 entries in Monday's 36 - hole qualifying round for the 32 places open, all six girls from the United States made the grade with ease. Four led the way into the championship round, headed by Mae Murray of Rutland, Vt., with a smashing four-under-par 73. It will take an upset to halt them in today's opening round of medal play.

Marlene Stewart, 17-year-old Fonthill, Ont., girl who won the ladies close championship here last week, and two other Canadian girls cut into the American ranks to break up the solid parade. Miss Stewart came through with an 80 but that was seven strokes off the hot pace set by Miss Murray.

Going Strong.

The Rutland girl started out as if she would rip this none-too-easy Laval course wide open.

She walloped it for an eagle and three birdies at the first four holes before a prosaic par brought the onslaught to a halt.

She lost strokes to par at the seventh and ninth to make the turn at 36, three under. Then she romped home in a one-under-par 37.

Back of her with a pair of 38s for a 76 came Mary Lena Faulk of Thomasville, Ga.

Bracketed at 78 were Grace Lenczyk of Hartford, Conn., twice holder of the Canadian title, and Marjorie Row, an American girl who plays her golf at Windsor, Ont., Tecumseh.

Pat O'Sullivan of Orange, Conn. was only one stroke away at 81.

Two Montreal girls, Daintry Chisholm and Mrs. Peter Patch, then took over with 82s.

Brawl Breaks Up Toronto Soccer Match

TORONTO, Aug. 7 (CP). — A brawl at half time involving some of the 3,000 fans and most of the players broke up a Consols Cup semi-final soccer match Monday night between St. Andrew's and Ukrainians.

Six members of the St. Andrew's team required hospital treatment and it took 30 policemen to quell the disturbance.

Tempers had been building up among the fans, most of whom were supporters of the Ukrainians. The final spark came when the referee awarded a penalty kick against the Ukrainian goalie.

The Prince Edward Yacht Club's gold cup for the featured 225 class, division 1, competition, went to Jack Langmuir of Brockville.

Winner of the both divisions of the free for all pace on Saturday, with a purse of $1,000, was won by Royal Man, owned by Eddie Cobb of Washington Court House, Ohio. Royal Man beat Royal Princess in the first dash and then lasted to beat Canada Direct in the second heat.

Canadian Squad Makes Good Showing

MONTREAL, Aug. 7 (CP)—Although Canada's three-man Davis Cup squad swept through Cuba in five matches in the North American zone tie, Captain Frank Shields of the United States team gives them little chance of advancing further.

Little Henri Rochon trounced the stubborn Orlando Garrido, 6-1, 6-3, 6-2 in the final two singles matches of the competition which started Saturday after rain washed out Friday's scheduled play.

DUNDAS, Ont., Aug. 7 (CP).—Walter Fedorick of Dundas Monday won the 15-mile international road race with a stretch drive that made the marathon almost a walkaway in the final two miles.

The gruelling hilly course of the race was held under the sponsorship of the local branch of the Canadian Legion.

Graziano Given Fight Verdict

BOSTON, Aug. 7 (AP).—Rocky Graziano, who hopes to regain the world middleweight championship, won another fight Monday night—from Chuck Hunter of Cleveland—but there was considerable confusion before the verdict was announced finally.

Massachusetts boxing commissioners announced, belatedly, "Graziano wins. Hunter is disqualified and his purse forfeited to the commonwealth."

Graziano, who had a similar experience four weeks ago in Kansas City with Cecil Hudson of Milwaukee, appeared to have knocked out Hunter late in the second round.

Referee Ed McDonald began counting when Hunter went down after being hit on the chin by a Graziano right cross.

McDonald appeared to have counted Hunter out, but the fighters began mixing again and McDonald stopped them.

The fight was announced "no contest."

McDonald explained only, "the whole thing stunk from the start, Hunter was slapping," before commission chairman Peter Norton pulled him aside.

The bride's dress of ivory embossed slipper satin was designed and made by herself. It had a full cathedral train and the moulded bodice was finished with a sweetheart neckline and the fingertip sleeves trimmed with buttons. Her three quarter length veil was edged with lace and caught to a coronet of seed pearls. She carried a cascade of Johanna Hill roses.

Matron of honor Mrs. Robert Groombridge wore a frock of nile green nylon marquisette and a bandeau of the same material. The bridesmaids, Misses Dianne and Florence Miller, sisters of the groom, were in similar frocks of pastel pink and blue and wore headdresses of flowers in matching color. Couple Repair Broken China

VICTORIA, B.C. (CP)—Aubrey Walker and his wife Hilda specialize in mending rare broken China and their fame is spreading.

After wartime imprisonment in Japan they came to Victoria two years ago and started the business in their home. Walker says some mysterious grapevine has carried word of their skill and they get broken pieces of Dresden, Sevre or other fine China from many parts of Canada.

When he finishes a piece there is nothing to show it was ever broken. He uses stainless steel instead of the former copper rivets, by a method which he has perfected and will not disclose.

To one delicate figurine of a curt lady, an old Meiseen piece dating from about 1700, he gave new fingers and a new fan, casting the items as a sculptor would. His wife paints in the missing pieces that he restores.

The walkers were in China when the Japanese imprisoned them. In those days Walker had a furniture factory in Shanghai, designing most of his own furniture. His wife owned and operated a large dairy. The businesses were confiscated but now they're well on the way with their new venture.

Woman Directs Life Saving

EDINBURGH—(CP)— Britain's only woman "lifeboat secretary" is Miss Minnie Sutherland of Longhope, on the Orkney Island of Hoy. By day she is the keeper of the general store, and at night she is the guardian of the men at sea, on the alert for distress calls.

She took over the lifeboat duties five years ago from her father, and has a telephone by her bedside to direct life-saving efforts.

When 40 men were rescued from the Swedish tanker Oljaren, aground on the Pentland Skerries, it was Miss Sutherland who handled messages to and from the lifeboats by radio-telephone. Direction of the rescue from one of the worst barriers of rock in the world was only one of the many jobs she has handled.

DOROTHY DIX

Biased Grandmother Favors Older Child, Spoiling Both

DEAR MISS DIX: I have two little girls, aged 6 and 4. My mother-in-law is always buying gifts for the 6-year-old but never gets anything for the younger child. It breaks my heart to see the 4-year-old stand by and watch while her sister looks at her gifts. I never have a cent to call my own, so can't buy things like that. My husband has noticed it too, but is afraid to say anything. I have asked my mother-in-law if she would buy either for both or none, but she still continues this practice.

Dorothy Dix

M. B.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: Your mother-in-law exhibits a spiteful type of favoritism that is one of the lowest human traits, and she is also going out of her way to spoil both children for you.

If this practice is allowed to continue unchecked, the sweet dispositions of the little girls will suffer, and their entire mental attitude may be warped The older and favored child will regard herself as the queen who can do no wrong, while the younger one will soon feel completely unloved and unwanted.

Husband Should Act

Your husband should definitely step in and have a serious talk with his mother. It's much, much better to hurt her feelings than to hurt his daughters' lives. If he lacks the gumption to take a stand in the matter, you'll have to insist on equal rights for both children. If your girls are of the right temperament, and sensible, you might enlist their aid and have the older one refuse her gift unless her sister also shares grandma's beneficence. This is the only way the sisters will grow up to share things, both with themselves and others.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: We are a childless couple, married three years and very devoted to each other. A year ago I lost a premature baby, and have been ill and nervous since. My husband and I both work, and I try to keep going because we need the money. Sometimes, however, I am too sick to work, and that's where the trouble comes in. My husband gets very annoyed if I have to stay home and insists I'm lazy.

I am under doctor's care. My husband is very good in other ways; he says he loves me, doesn't drink, and doesn't leave me at night, but I can't make him understand when I am sick and cannot be on the go.

BLUE.

ANSWER: It's an odd quirk of human nature, and one of the most prevalent, that a well person simply cannot understand ill health Apparently only one who has experienced illness can realize its existence.

Though it's treading on delicate ground to inquire into a family's financial standing, I can't see why you have to work at all Your husband apparently has a steady job, and even though his income isn't large it should certainly be sufficient to support two young people. The best person to talk to your husband and bring him to a realization of your condition is a doctor. Since you are under the care of a physician, arrange for a talk between the two men and see if friend husband can't be convinced of the facts in the case.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: A few weeks ago, my boy friend Dick and I had an argument and broke up. He is 19, and I am a year younger. He hasn't talked to me since, and I have discovered that the argument was all my fault. I want to go back with him. How can I get him back?

GLORIA.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: A sincere apology is your only recourse. If he won't speak to you, write him. If he doesn't accept the apology, there's nothing further you can do except bide your time. However, since you acknowledge the fault was yours, he is probably nursing a bad cast of hurt feelings and will be only too happy to grab a chance at reconciliation.

FUNNY BUSINESS -- By Hershberger

"His grandparents had him for a week and this is one of their ideas!"

MARY MOORE SAYS:

Deep Dish Apple Pie Found Most Delectable Dessert

Dandelion Mary has housemaid's knee, so is glad to sit down on a desk chair.

I'm a weed fiend. You might think that meant that I like them. I don't. I hat them. They make me see red streaked with green. Don't misunderstand me. I still have plenty of them. For, by the time I have 2-4d'd and dug with my best paring knife, starting at the front south corner of the lawn and creeping at an old snail's pace right through to the back, it is a week later,—and the front weeds are out in all their pesky glory again.

I had to come into the house and start getting the food ready for our barbecue party to night —which is going to be easy, for Kathryn is bringing two cherry pies. Slices of peamealed cottage roll are going to be the ham part of ham 'n egss. Marble-sized new potatoes are going to be left whole and fried in my 18-inch campfire frying pan. We will toast thick-sliced French bread on our long stainless stell skewers. Then a big green salad with slices of tiny tomatoes through it will top off that course. After slaving over Kathryn's cherry pies we will roast peanuts in the shell, if any of our male guests will keep us a nice bed of coals.

Originally I had planned to serve Deep Dish Apple pies using the new transparent apples, but when Kathryn offered to bring dessert I was delighted to postpone that idea.

Since it is still a good one here is the routine:

✧ ✧ ✧

Deep Dish Transparent Apple Pie

One quart sliced apples—about 4 or 5 cups, preferably yellow transparents, 1¼ cups sugar, 2 tablespoons butter, 2 teaspoons cinnamon or less if preferred, ¼ cup water, 1 teaspoon salt, ½ teaspoon baking powder and enough ice water to moisten.

Line the sides and bottom of a square or rectangular baking dish (about 7x10) with pastry. Pour in the sliced early apples which you have mixed with the sugar and cinnamon. Dot over with the butter. Add the water. Fit a top crust over, sealing edges but gashing centre. Bake at 450 deg. Fahr. for 15 minutes, then reduce heat to 375 and continue baking for about 35 minutes. This is served cut in 3 or 4-inch squares and sweetened warm rich milk is passed—anyway that is how it is served in Southern Missouri.

(Some of the folks down there run slightly on the stout side.)

✧ ✧ ✧

Eleanor's Apple Custard Pie

(This comes highly recommended. Gil says it is the pie that Eleanor made on the night he proposed.)

Six tart apples, large size, 1 cup each flour and sugar, 2 tablespoons butter, 1 tablespoon cinnamon 1½ cups rich milk, pastry for 1 crust. Line pie pan with pastry. Mix together the sugar and flour and sprinkle them in the crust. Fit apples tightly into shell after paring and quartering them. Sprinkle with the cinnamon and dot with the butter. Carefully pour the milk over. Bake at 375 degs. Fahr. for 50 minutes. If your pie plate is deep enough to handle without spilling the custard—it is just as well to start baking this on the bottom shelf of the oven to bake the crust quickly—then raise to centre shelf to finish baking.

Peaches Play Big Role In Household

By MARY MOORE

Peaches play an important role in our household. I need more peaches than any other fruit on my canned fruit shelves. I use them as the beginning ingredient in many a fruit cup during the winter months. Their syrup provides all the sweetener needed regardless of what tart fruit I add, like grapefruit.

But when they arrive market fresh I can be happy with one peach pie per summer, and from then on they need no dressing up. Most of our family, including me, eat them sliced for breakfast every morning until the snow falls. (As I write this the temperature is 92 deg. F. and a little snow would be quite welcome for a few hours.)

The fresh peach pie I have for you today has some new little touches that are worth your investigation.

✧ ✧ ✧

Fresh Peach Pie

Two lbs. fresh peaches, 1 cup sugar, ¾ cup water, 3 tablespoons cornstarch, ¼ cup water, ⅛ teaspoon salt, 3 tablespoons sifted breadcrumbs. Scald peaches, peel and slice. A little lemon juice on them while you are slicing will prevent browning. Mix together the sugar, cornstarch and water and stir until thick, then stir for 5 minutes over low heat. Add salt. Pour this thick syrup syrup over the peaches and let stand until cold. Pour into pastry-lined deep pie plate that has been sprinkled with the crumbs to prevent crust from "soaking". Seal on top crust which has been generously gashed. Brush top with milk. Bake at 400 deg. Fahr. about 45 minutes. The hot syrup cooks the peaches somewhat and reduces baking time.

✧ ✧ ✧

Frozen Peach Custard

(This calls for no cream, but does call for 3 eggs. We serve this without cake or cookies because it is so nourishing without being especially fattening.)

Two and one-half cups milk, ½ cup sugar, 3 eggs, 1 tablespoon flour, ¼ teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 1½ to 2 cups sliced ripe peaches. Scald 2 cups of the milk in top of double boiler. Mix together the sugar, salt and flour and add the remaining ½ cup cold milk. Stir this flour paste into the hot milk until thickened and then let cook covered for 5 minutes. Stir some of it into the beaten yolks, then return this to double boiler and cook 2 minutes longer. Cool. Add vanilla and sliced peaches and turn into freezing tray to freeze, stirring 3 or 4 times during the freezing process.

✧ ✧ ✧

Dutch Peach and Currant Cake

This is beautiful.

Batter: Mix and sift together 2 cups sifted flour, 3 tablespoons sugar, 2½ teaspoons baking powder and ⅛ teaspoon salt. Work into this with the finger tips 1/3 cup butter or margarine. Beat 1 egg and addto it ¾ cup milk and stir this quickly into the flour mixture. Spread batter on well-greased shallow baking dish. Press the thin edges of sliced peaches into batter, using about 2½ to 3 cups in all. Sprinkle ½ cup stemmed red currants over. Sprinkle over the fruit ½ cup sugar mixed with 1 teaspoon cinnamon and ¼ teaspoon nutmeg. Bake at 375 degs. Fahr. for about 25 minutes. This is best served hot, but is often served cold. Use your own judgment about pouring or whipped cream or ice cream. Pete has been known to use all three.

Girl Chartmaker First At Tracks

TORONTO—(CP)—Mary Crosby got herself a job this summer as chart-maker for the "Trots" at Thorncliffe Raceway. Pert, 19-year-old Mary wasn't thinking about precedents.

Then reporters discovered her to be the first girl to sit in a Toronto race-track press-box and record the performances of the horses.

They dug further into records and found she may be the first in North America.

"Now they believe I'm the only one in the world," gasped pretty Mary.

There have been photographs and interviews. Mary fluttered long black eyelashes. Interviews terrify her, she said.

Research as well as chart-making is involved in this job. The "Trots" are six weeks of harness-racing at Thorncliffe, sponsored by the Canadian Trotting Association. Mary must keep charts of each horse's history and performance in the race.

Plans To Be A Nurse

Next fall she hopes to be keeping a different kind of chart—temperature charts. Because Mary is going to train to be a nurse.

"I would like eventually to work in Toronto's Sick Children's Hospital," she said. "You see. I like nursing."

Outside activities? Mary likes "sports especially." Basketball and volleyball are her favorites. She also is fond of music.

Boy friends? She's not "considering them now."

"I've got a career ahead of me, you see," she said.

Meanwhile she's learning all about race-tracks—including the language.

For instance: "When a horse makes a break that means it has got to get back into step," she explained.

However, races don't excite her as they do most people.

"I suppose if I bet on them they might," she conceded.

German Widow Seeks Husband

JOHANNESBURG — (CP)— About 20 bachelors and widowers in South Africa are seriously interested in an enterprising German widow, Mrs. Elly Trumper, who wrote to Prime Minister Malan recently asking him to find her a South African husband.

The widow Trumper's letter to Dr. Malan was given wide publicity in the press here. In it she disclosed that she is 28 years old, five feet, three inches tall and has a figure that is "all right" and a four-year-old daughter.

Four written applications reached Dr. Malan the day the letter was published. Other gallant and eager Romeos phoned the prime minister's office.

At least two, even more impatient, offered to advance Frau Trumper's air fare to the Union. The youngest suitor was 32 and the oldest in the 50s.

All the applications have been passed on by Dr. Malan to the department of the interior.

Kiss, Make Up Vicar Advises

BRISTOL, England—(CP)—At a reunion of more than 200 couples at whose weddings he had officiated within recent years, Rev. B. Vaughan Parry, of St. Anne's Church here, offered the following golden rules for enduring marriage:

For the husband—Give your wife the morning cup of tea. Take over housekeeping for a week. Learn to cook and help to wash up. Assist with the children. And give the wife a reasonable allowance of pocket money.

For the wife—Keep feminine, husbands love it. But remember good looks are not adequate compensation for poor cooking. It's fatal to discuss your husband's faults with the woman next door. Don't expect a perfect husband, he would be a perfect nuisance if he existed.

For both—Kiss and make up after a quarrel, it pays big dividends.

PLUMED QUEEN — Wearing a plumed toque-style hat, Dowager Queen Mary drives from her London home, Marlborough House, London, to the railroad station where she entrained for Sandringham.

COSTLY INITIATION

PORT ELIZABETH, South Africa—(CP)—The high price of woollen blankets is making things difficult for young Africans entering the manhood initiation ceremony. A black-striped white blanket is needed by each entrant but, say the youths, a blanket now costs the price of "a whole herd of cattle."

Here And There In Sports

By The Canadian Press

Joe Herbert, steady gaited trotting colt, from Bill Herbert's London stable captured the $3,500 three-year-old Supertest trot at Stratford Monday before close to 7,000 fans.

The Herbert colt and Dr. Riddell, owned by Hon. Earl Rowe, topped the qualifying divisions. In the first heat of the main event Dr. Riddell beat Joe Herbert to the wire but was placed second for breaking in the stretch. In the second and deciding trip, Joe Herbert went to the front early and stayed there, despite a driving finish by the Rowe colt.

The free-for-all, worth $1,500 for the two heats, was won by Malcolm Hanover owned by Ken MacKinnon of Owen Sound.

At Seattle, officials of the Gold Cup speedboat classic chalked up a lap record Monday for Lou Fageol, and the Slo-Mo-Shun V.

In checking the times in the Seattle boat's cup-winning performance Saturday, referee Mel Crook discovered Fageol had broken his own three-mile lap record by an even wider margin than originally credited to him.

Crook said Fageol's time of 99.4 seconds for the three-mile course was a 108.663-mile-an-hour clip. He had been credited earlier with a lap record of a mere 97.8 miles an hour.

At Glasgow, Dumbarton Monday night won Scottish Festival of Britain soccer tournament final, defeating Ayr United 2-1 in overtime.

The International Amateur Hockey League will operate with five clubs and a 48-game schedule this season.

A league meeting here Saturday set the last week in October for the start of play with the season ending about March 10.

Teams continuing from last season are Toledo, O., Grand Rapids, Mich.; Detroit Hetthche and Chatham. Detroit Auto Club and Sarnia, Ont., are dropping out of the league. Troy, O., a new member of the league, is the fifth member.

Frank Gallagher of Detroit was elected president of the league to succeed the late Ferald L. McHugh of Windsor.

At Hamburg, NY, Sam Hy, US Litt's pacer from Stratford, Sunday night won both dashes of the $5,000 Erie county fair invitation pace, feature of the closing card at the Buffalo raceway.

The Maritime Major Hockey League, with five teams in competition, will start the 1951-52 season at Sydney and Charlottetown, October 15.

The five clubs—all of which have posted bonds of $1,000 are Charlottetown, Sydney, Halifax, Moncton and Saint John.

At the completion of league playoffs, the winning team will meet the Quebec League winner in a series for the Alexander Trophy.

The Canadian Ladies' Golf Union at a meeting Saturday night decided on Edmonton Mayfair as the venue for the 1952 Canadian ladies close and open championships.

The 1953 tournament, it also was decided, will be held at the London, Ont., Hunt Club.

Korea Lacks Organization To Aid Civilians

By WILLIAM BOSS

SEOUL, Aug. 7 (CP).—War is a disaster. It calls for disaster remedies.

After more than a year in the business of war the western countries—loosely tied together under the banner of the UN, with all its ramifications — still have organized no disaster setup to carry prompt relief and treatment to the wretched civilian.

In South Korea, 13 months after launching the police action to repel the aggressor, the UN still has no agency combining the materials, the personnel, the transport and the authority to move in and do an effective job for the refugee, the evacuee, the civilian wounded and sick.

The unfortunate civilian casualty is left to the responsibility of an inexpert civilian government into whose hands the UN funnels inadequate food and medicine and ludicrous relief clothing, and then lends professional advisers to guide it.

Too Many Dreams

There is talk about building modern, well-equipped hospitals, improving the medical curricula of still-closed colleges, installing sewage and waterworks systems, constructing well-planned orphanages.

Very good for tomorrow.

But today people need food, medicine, surgical care, clothing, shelter.

There is no disastser organization such as the Canadian and the American Red Cross maintain to do an effective on-the-spot job until planning can take hold.

The civilian government, within its limitations, does fairly well. But it comprises officials with a 45-year background of having other people (the Japanese) do their thinking for them, two generations of having had their initiative blasted.

Before being receptive to advice, Koreans first have to be shown.

They lack the trained men who can beneficially be advised in an emergency.

Even such trained workers as there are must be shown.

They must also be supplemented. By themselves they are grossly inadequate numerically to the need. There isn't a skilled plastic surgeon, for instance, in the whole of Korea—yet there are children and adults here doomed to warped lives, mutilated and horribly burned, through lack of remedial and plastic surgery.

No western medical authority even looks at the emergency hospitals desperate welfare officers improvise, woefully short of dressings, medicine and attendants.

Pope Asks Schools To Teach Religion

VATICAN CITY, Aug. 7 — (Reuters)—Roman Catholic school teachers Monday were urged by the Pope to emphasize religious instruction in their classes to make up for the waning religious background offered children at home.

In a radio address Monday the Pope said a "deplorable decadence of family education is a sad fact"

"The first, most serious task" of the Catholic educationist is to make up for "the deficiency of home education," the Pope said.

He said Catholic education must tear youth from the pursuit of "material interests of the fleeting moment," and teach them to think of their "eternal interests."

The address was broadcast to an inter-American congress on Catholic education in Rio de Janeiro Brazil.

Suspend 3 Jockeys

CHICAGO, Aug. 7 (AP).—The Illinois Racing Board said Monday discovery of a battery (horse-shocking device) in the possession of a jockey at Fairmont Park, Collinsville, Ill., Saturday resulted in the Illinois suspension of three persons. They are jockey William A. Miller, 20, Converse, Wyo.; owner A. H. Schierer, Chicago; and George W. Bohlander, trainer of the horse, Riot. Miller was to have been aboard Riot in the seventh race at Fairmont on Saturday.

Carter, George Kennedy, Jack Prest, George Cooper, Dr. F. A. Brockenshire and son, John, Ruth Barrie, Olive Cooper, Dick Kennedy and Don Harris.

Centre Instructs Children Who Have Cerebral Palsy

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Reporter

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 6 (AP). — Some parents refused to admit defeat over cerebral palsy....

So children are learning to speak, watching in mirrors as they form their mouths as if to blow bubbles, eat an ice-cream cone or dress themselves.

The cerebral palsy training centre was established last February in Firmin Desloce Hospital by St. Louis University. Cerebral palsy is not a disease, but a condition. Damage to the brain before birth, during birth, or in young childhood, destroys normal control over muscles and other parts of the body. Yet their minds often are as bright and receptive as those of most children.

A medical advisory board at the centre selects those most likely to benefit. The parents council assists many families who cannot pay the $2 or $3 a lesson at the centre.

Nursery School

The centre runs a small nursery school from 9 a.m. to noon, and from 1 to 4 p.m., to give youngsters experiences in creative activities, and also how to get along with other children before they go to regular or special schools. Other children come one to three times a week for speech, physical, and occupational therapy. The Psychology Department of St. Louis University provides consultation and assists in evaluating the child's mental and social development..

The centre cannot do all the training. A main premise is that parents learn the fundamentals and the methods that can be carried out at home to bring these children all the way or a long way back toward normal actions.

PRIMITIVE WEAPON

The ballista was a sort of catapult used by the Roman to propel heavy beams and large stones against enemy forts.

Mobile Eateries Back On Road

LONDON—(CP)—The Queen's Messengers, mobile emergency feeding service which operated during the last war, is to be revived by the Food Ministry as part of the country's civil defence program.

F. Willey, parliamentary secretary to the Ministry of Food announced that orders had already been placed for 11 complete convoys. Delivery of the first unit is expected by the end of August.

The Queen's Messengers were first organized in 1941, to alleviate the plight of air-raid victims. Eight units of these flying squads were presented by Queen Elizabeth and 10 more by the British War Relief Society of America. Each convoy consisted of eight food-distributing vehicles and five motor-cycles.

A convoy included a water-carrier, two kitchen lorries capable of providing 2,000 meals an hour, two food store trucks, with sufficient supplies to feed 4,500 people, and three mobile canteens equipped to cater for 500 more.

The motor-cycles were used by despatch riders to maintain lines of communication.

9 Men Killed On Navy Plane

SEATTLE, Aug. 7—(AP)—A four-engined navy patrol plane carried nine men to death Monday at the mouth of Puget Sound.

A few minutes after the PB4-Y Privateer crashed during a low-altitude training run there was only wreckage and scattered fires licking across the oil-slick water to mark the scene of disaster.

Two bodies were recovered within an hour of the crash. Search continued by air and sea for the others.

It was the fourth plane being sought along the rim of the North Pacific. The other three, missing with a total of 48 persons aboard, vanished on flights along the British Columbia and Alaska coasts within the last two weeks.

They were the Korea airlift plane of the Canadian Pacific Airlines, lost July 21 with 38 aboard; a Queen Charlotte Airlines plane which vanished Saturday in British Columbia with seven aboard, and a private plane lost July 27 near Yakutat, Alaska, with a pilot and two women aboard.

Motion Picture Industry 25 Years Old Faces Crisis

By JAMES R. BACON

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 5 (AP) — The multi-billion-dollar motion picture industry will celebrate the 25th anniversary of its greatest revolution Monday in the midst of another shattering upheaval.

The anniversary marks the night of Aug. 6, 1926, when a New York movie audience watched the late John Barrymore in "Don Juan," the first sound film.

The musically-scored movie had no spoken dialogue, but the accompanying bill had some talking skits, musical numbers and a dry speech by movie czar Will Hays.

That New York premiere touched off two years of violent revolution that has been called the most devastating ever to hit a single industry.

Millions were made—and lost. Some big box-office stars faded because of squeaky voices.

The Warner brothers, who gambled all in pioneering the talkies, had a $16,000,000 corporation in 1928. Within two years, the studio was worth $230,000,000.

That revolution, shattering as it was, came from within the industry itself. That softened the jolt.

The 1951 revolution stems from the baby giant—television.

Television is by far the greatest single menace to the movie industry. Movie attendance is at its lowest point since the depression years.

Some movie people still eye TV with a "watch-and-wait" attitude. But others—notably Paramount—are already in the television business.

The recent quote of L. B. Mayer to the effect that the movie industry can provide the product and television the medium may indicate the trend.

Technically, the movies have the know-how for movies or television.

Third-dimensional films, kicking around for years, may be the next big technical advance in the movies.

These processes, which give greater depth and perspective to objects, are now past the experimental stage.

Already, television producers are moving in on the movie know-how. Camermen, lighting experts, sound engineers and others are gobbled up eagerly by TV.

At any rate, movie bigwigs are convinced of one thing—two revolutions in 25 years is one revolution too many.

Movie Actors 50 Or More Are Mostly All Men; Why?

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 6 (AP)—The people who make movies—and the people who go to see them—apparently consider old men much more entertaining than old women.

Of the nearly 70 players who are 50 or older, more than 60 are males. The women are outnumbered 10 to one.

Why? One rather obvious answer is that in pictures the emphasis is on flesh. Youth, beauty and sex appeal are the things that sell movies. These are perishable commodities.

Perhaps another reason for the dearth of "mature" women stars is that most movies are action affairs—horse operas, crime melodramas, adventure thrillers. The only important actress in the cast is a heroine for the hero to rescue. She invariably is a cute chick.

Young Women

Even when they bring a mature glamor boy like Ezio Pinza, 58, to Hollywood, do they pair him with a woman of similar years? Nope. He gets Lana Turner and Janet Leigh.

Romance on the screen is seldom for women with grey hair.

For the over-50 male actors it's another story. Among the big names still pitching screen woo are Ronald Colman, 60; William Powell, 58; Frederick March, 53; Walter Pidgeon, 52; Fred Astaire, Spencer Tracy and Charler Boyer, all 51, and Clark Gable, Gary Cooper and Humphrey Bogart, all 50.

The older women stars are Ethel Barrymore, still the queen at 71; Billie Burke, 65; Gloria Swanson and Judith Anderson, both 53; Spring Byington, 52; and possibly Marjorie Main, whose age is her own secret.

There are literally dozens of male veterans in the same age group. Most keep pretty busy the year around in a variety of roles.

Reds Remain Silent On UN Demand For Real Neutrality

TOKYO, Aug. 8. (AP)—Communist radios remained silent tonight on the United Nations demand for fresh guarantees of neutrality at the site of Korean armistice talks. Allied negotiators returned to Korea during the day, ready to resume cease-fire talks if and when Communist commanders pledge the Kaesong neutral zone will be kept inviolable. But neither the Peiping nor Pyongyang radios mentioned tonight the new demand of Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, UN commander, first broadcast at 1:30 p.m. Tuesday (11:30 p.m. EDT Monday).

Instead—32 hours later—the Chinese Red radio at Peiping featured a report the Red commanders still were waiting for Ridgway's reply to a Communist message dispatched on Monday morning.

Nothing New

The Peiping broadcast said the letter, entrusted to an American liaison officer, contained assurances from North Korean Gen. Jim Il Sung and Gen. Teng Teh-Huai that the Kaesong neutrality pledge would be observed.

This apparently was the Red message which Ridgway acknowledged Tuesday in his demand for a new Red pledge they would really keep their word.

The Peiping broadcasts said the Chinese and North Korean cease-fire delegation waited at Kaesong Tuesday for the UN negotiators, "but the latter failed to arrive."

Vice-Admiral C. Turner Joy led the four American delegates back to the United Nations advance headquarters from conferences with the UN commander in Tokyo. On his arrival in Korea, Joy said:

"I have no idea when the talks will be resumed. I will wait until the Communists answer Gen. Ridgway's last message."

Brig.-Gen. William P. Nuckols, delegation spokesman, said the order to resume the interrupted negotiations would have to come from Gen. Ridgway.

The UN commander broke off talks after a company of armed Reds marched through the neutral zone. Top Red commanders said it was an accident.

In his Tuesday message Ridgway demanded that the Communists promise not to permit any more of their armed soldiers to enter the neutral area. This zone extends in a five-mile radius from the Kaesong site of armistice negotiations.

New Indian Law Effective September 4

OTTAWA, Aug. 8 (CP)—New legislation to help Canada's 136,000 Indians on the road to self-government goes into force Sept. 4, Citizenship Minister Harris announced today.

The new Indian Act, first major overhaul of Indian legislation in 71 years, was passed at the last session of parliament.

Charges of the state, the Indians now will have greater powers over their own property and their own affairs, Mr. Harris said.

"The aim of the new act is to bring the Indians, by progressive steps, into a position of social, political and economic equality with other Canadians," the minister added.

Some of the changes:

1. Indian bands now can be authorized to have complete control over the spending of band and land revenue money.

2. The right to vote in band council elections is extended to Indian women.

Loans Extended

3. Loans, previously restricted to the purchase of farming and fishing equipment and kindred needs, now can be granted for the purchase of motor cars, fencing materials, gas and oil, repairs and for the payment of wages.

4. Special schools will be established in some cases for the instruction of Indian children living off reserves. In other cases, arrangements will be made to have Indian children trained in regular municipal schools.

Of major importance, said Mr. Harris, is that a new registration will be made of full-blooded Indians. Those of quarter-Indian blood or less will be barred from from registering.

Steel Workers Threaten Strike

MONTREAL, Aug. 8 (CP)—The powerful United Steelworkers of America Tuesday night threatened a strike of 1,159 members in two Dominion Bridge Company plants here unless they get wage increases on a par with those offered the company's employees in Ontario.

The union also hinted that about 1,170 members in the Toronto, Sault Ste. Marie, and Winnipeg plants will strike in sympathy, tying up all but the big engineering firm's Vancouver plant.

Employees of the Montreal plants voted to strike Tuesday night to supoprt demands for a 20-cent hourly wage boost, or at least the 15-cent increase offered by the company to its Toronto employees.

No date was set for the strike and the Quebec Labor Department said it will name a conciliator as soon as it is officially informed of the strike vote.

The vote was taken after a Quebec arbitration board recommended increases of six cents an hour for unskilled labor, seven for semi-skilled and eight for skilled. The company offered 11 cents [illegible]

Find Boy's Body In Lake Timagami

TIMAGAMI, Aug. 8 (CP)—The body of an 11-year-old Pennsylvania boy, drowned when he jumped from a burning motorboat Saturday, was recovered Tuesday.

He was identified as Tommy Schivley, of Scottdale, Penn., and had been holidaying at a Lake Timagami summer camp in Southwest Bay, about 25 miles from here.

Young Shivley and a 15-year-old companion left the camp Saturday to catch minnows. On their return, the motorboat ran out of gas. While they were stopped to fill it the motor suddenly erupted in flames.

Panic-stricken, the younger boy jumped from the boat. By the time his companion jumped after him he had disappeared under the surface.

The fire lasted only a brief time and extinguished itself with only minor damage to the boat. If Shivley had stayed in the boat, he would probably not have been hurt.

See Chance Of Success In Oil Talks

Believe Iran Anxious For Agreement, UK Delegate Hopeful

TEHRAN, Iran, Aug. 8. (AP)—Britain's chief negotiator, Richard Stokes, said today he is convinced the Iranians want to reach a settlement with Britain on oil nationalization as soon as possible.

He said the outcome depends largely on the attitude the Iranians take at today's bargaining session. Premier Mohammed Mossadegh's representative is expected to put forward his country's future intentions toward the Anglo-Iranian Oil Company in a formal statement then.

Stokes made the statement — the most optimistic one in months from a direct participant in the talks—upon his return this morning from a one-day inspection trip of the shut-down Abadan refinery.

Hopes For Broad Pact

Stokes, Lord Privy Seal in the British Cabinet, said he hopes to get a broad general statement as soon as possible so tankers can begin moving oil out of the jammed Abadan storage tanks and the refinery can be opened for business.

The refinery — largest in the world—closed down two weeks ago when its storage tanks were filled. Tankers belonging to the Anglo-Iranian Oil Company refused to haul off any oil because the Iranian National Oil Company demanded receipts acknowledging its claim to the oil.

Stokes told reporters on his return from Abadan that ". . . There is every evidence of good will and I believe the Persians (Iranians) genuinely want a solution as soon as possible."

He said, however, that "if I find the Persians do not want to do anything reasonable and fair, I will go home."

Stokes toured Abadan Tuesday with President Truman's troubleshooter, W. Averell Harriman.

Strike Threatens Copper Supply

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, Aug. 8 (AP)—A strike which could cut off an estimated 95 per cent of United States copper production was voted today for not later than Aug. 20.

The Metal Trades Council, representing all AFL unions in the copper industry, took the action at meeting here.

Council spokesmen said the walkout would hit the big four of copper — Kennecott Copper Corporation, Anaconda Copper Mining Company, Phelps-Dodge Copper Company and American Smelting and Refining Company.

Raging BC Forest Fires Spreading To United States

GRAND FORKS, BC, Aug. 8. (CP)—Forest fires which swept over an estimated 5,000 acres after bursting out in south-central British Columbia have spread into woodlands in the United States. So far the penetration has been slight. But American foresters said Tuesday night the fires present the biggest danger in years to Washington state's Colville National Forest.

The danger was still great today in BC. Harold Holmberg, chief ranger for the Nelson Forest district, said the two biggest fires were threatening to combine into one blaze.

These fires were in the McRae Creek and Santa Rosa Creek areas near this community of 4,000, stripped of all able-bodied men for the battle.

The fires were threatening the community of Fife on the Canadian Pacific Railway's Kettle Valley line. Flames already have stopped traffic on the trans-provincial highway. Fife has a population of between 25 and 30.

1,000 Battle Flames

In BC alone, the fires were being fought by 1,000 loggers, volunteers and conscripts.

BC telephone transcontinental lines run through a 50-yard cut through the heart of the Santa Rosa blaze. So far, however, the lines have remained open.

The West Kootenay Power and Light Corporation line, serving Rossland, Penticton, Grand Forks, Greenwood, Oliver, Osoyoos and parts of Kelowna, also cuts through the fire area.

The fire invaded the US between Northport and the boundary town of Laurier in northeastern Washington. Flames advanced about a half mile.

2,000 Army Huts To Be Stored

OTTAWA, August 8 (CP)—The army is taking no chances on undergoing a housing crisis in the event of a Third World War.

Defence production officials disclose that 2,000 prefabricated huts will be built, at a cost of some $15,000,000, and stored at army ordnance depots at strategic points across Canada.

Contracts are understood to have been awarded, though no announcement has yet been made. Officials said that six construction companies in Nova Scotia, Quebec, Saskatchewan and Alberta will share in the contracts.

One of the firms is Deslauriers et Fils of Quebec City who will produce some $3,500,000 worth of the pre-fabs.

Foreign Aid Bill Used To Push Plan

Believe Proposal May Get By Committee Members

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8. (AP)—New strategy developed today to get the controversial St. Lawrence Seaway proposal before the House of Representatives.

Representatives Clement Zablocki (Dem. Wis.) and Franklin Roosevelt (Dem. Lib.-NY) planned to plop it into the middle of the $8,500,000,000 foreign aid bill now before the house foreign affairs committee. Both are members of the committee.

A similar plan in the Senate is being considered by Senators Blair Moody (Dem. Mich.) and George Aiken (Rep. Vt.)

Zablocki and Roosevelt were ready with a rider which would authorize construction of the $818,000,000 water and power project, which was turned down two weeks ago by the house public works committee.

Plan Amendment

Zablocki told a reporter they expect to offer their proposal today, or at the latest Thursday, as an amendment to the foreign aid bill.

"I have done some nose counting in the committee and I believe it has fair chance of acceptance," Zablocki said.

One possible stumbling block is whether the seaway amendment will be considered "germaine" to a foreign aid authorization bill. It could be turned down on the technical point that it is not pertinent to the main legislation.

"I believe the entire house membership should have the right to vote on the St. Lawrence seaway," Zablocki said. "I do not like to offer it as a rider on another bill. But there is no other way to get it before the house."

War Tension Worse In India

CALCUTTA, Aug. 8 (AP) — War tension between India and Pakistan increased today with reports that cities in East Pakistan staged effective blackouts Tuesday night and with claims by the local Indian press that Pakistan plans joint attacks on Kashmir and India's East Bengal area.

Reports reaching here said sirens wailed and streets were quickly cleared in two-hour test alerts in the East Pakistan capital of Dacca, and at Narayangung, nerve centre of Pakistan's vital jute industry.

Calcutta's Hindustani Standard claimed to have information from the most reliable sources that Pakistan plans to stage "aggression" against the disputed princely state of Kashmir, over which India and Pakistan are feuding.

Prime Minister Nehru said last week he had information that Pakistan was preparing for an invasion of Kashmir coming Indian [illegible]

Korean War Costs US $5 Billion During First Year

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8. (AP)—A Congressional military expert today told the House of Representatives "there is only a minimum hope" that the United States can avert an all-out war that might last 10 years. Opening debate on a $56,000,000,000 military appropriation bill, Representative George H. Mahon (Dem. Tex.) cautioned against "complacency" and sounded this warning: "In my judgment, there is only a minimum hope that our difficulties with Russia can and will be resolved short of war. Trends from cold to hot war, from little wars to big wars, do not have a tendency to reverse themselves short of an all-out explosion.

"We are not so blind that we fail to realize that an all-out shooting war might last for a decade, and might very well destroy much of civilization as we know it on this planet."

Time Of Decision

He said the world picture should be "somewhat clearer this fall," which he referred to as "the time of decision."

Mahon in an earlier interview estimated that the Korean campaign cost the US $5,000,000,000 during its first year—up to last June 30—and predicted that it would cost almost that much more up to next June 30 unless conditions change.

Mahon told a reporter that while his estimates were "not authentic," they are based on the best information available to Congress.

Mahon's statement was interpreted generally as a bid to Congress not to make any major reductions in the bill because of the gravity of the international situation and the necessity of building up American defences. The Appropriations Committee already has cut $1,542,608,500 from the amount requested by President Truman. A Senate appropriations sub-committee is holding hearings on a similar bill.

Stephen T. Early In Serious Condition

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8 (AP)—Stephen T. Early, former White House press secretary, was reported in serious condition today following a heart attack.

Early was stricken Tuesday at his desk in the office of the Pullman-Standard Car Manufacturing Company, of which he is vice-president.

In addition to serving as press secretary to Presidents Roosevelt and Truman, Early also was deputy-secretary of defence for a time.

New US Rocket Sets Record, Soars 135 Miles

WHITE SANDS, NM, Aug. 8—(AP)— Jubilant rocket experts, flushed with Tuesday's soaring success, talked today of new assaults on the rocket altitude record.

They sent the seventh American Viking rocket ever fired swooshing 135 miles up into a hazy New Mexico sky Tuesday for a world record.

Milton Rosen, head of the rocket project for the Naval Research Laboratory, put it this way: "We have worked a long time for this and we're awfully happy. But we're never satisfied with any altitude."

He said that Viking No. 8—the eighth in a series of 10 rockets—already is being constructed. Firing is expected early next year.

Tuesday's flight almost straight up was breathtaking to watch, but no more so than the figures on what the rocket did:

4,100 m.p.h. Speed

It reached a top speed of 4,100 miles an hour—more than a mile a second.

It took only four minutes, 23 seconds to set the record. You could get to the moon in less than 60 hours at that speed.

The 135 miles cracked by 21 miles the previous single-stage rocket record set Dec. 17, 1946, by a rebuilt German V-2, also fired here.

Rosen credited Dr. Ralph Havens, 41-year-old physicist in charge of atmospheric physics and measuring instruments here, with the bit of extra oomph needed to

Celestial Fireworks

Meteors Put On Grand Show During Next Four Days

NEW YORK, Aug. 8—(AP)—Watch for meteors right overhead on the five nights starting Thursday, Aug. 9 through Aug. 13. There should be about 50 each hour.

If you really want to see the celestial fireworks, go looking after midnight Aug. 11 and 12. The sky will be moonless then and these meteors will be at their greatest.

The meteors are the perseids, which have been returning faithfully in mid-August for more than 1,000 years. They have never missed putting on a good show.

They are dust-grain size, travelling around 40 miles a second. At this speed they burn hot and fast as they hit the atmosphere 60 to 70 miles overhead. Their great burning heat gives them blue-white color. Many show little trains of sparks, and that makes them look like firecracker squibs.

The origin of these perseids is unknown. They get their name from the constellation eta persei, the area in the sky where they appear to come from. Actually, looking any place right overhead will get them within range of your eyes.

Occasionally the perseids have presented true showers in mid-August, a veritable rain of fire, which never reached the earth. During the Aug. 11-12 period it is not unusual for a watch to see 60 to 100 in an hour.

These perseids circle the sun in a long orbit which is more elliptical than the orbit of the earth. This orbit is at about right angles to the earth's. That means the perseids have an orbit standing on its head in comparison to the plane of the earth's orbit.

Fear French Senator Eaten By Constituents

PARIS, Aug. 8 (Reuters).—Suspicion is mounting that a pro-Communist French senator has been eaten by his constituents.

Victor Biakaboda, Senate member from the Ivory Coast, failed to take his seat after the June Senate recess. Reports circulating here said he disappeared after an automobile drive through the jungle.

Mamadou-Konate, president of the pro-Communist African Democratic Party to which Biokaboda belonged told a reporter that Biakaboda's two wives demanded an inquiry after the discovery of human remains in the Ivory Coast jungle.

"I understand," he said, "experts decided that remains of a skull found corresponded with a photograph of Biakaboa, but there is no absolute proof."

An official West African administrator said he was convinced that the senator had been eaten.

Gambler Runs Out Of Luck On 12th Try Hidden Mine At Mail Box Kills "The Cat"

DALLAS, Tex., Aug. 8 (AP).—Gambler Herbert Noble, who cheated death eleven times, died in a thunderous explosion Tuesday. On a 12th attempt "The Cat" ran out of luck.

The silver-haired, self-styled retired gambler was killed as he stopped his car at a rural mail box near his fortress-like ranch.

The killer—or killers—hid in a scrub oak thicket 75 yards away, then touched off a hidden land mine.

The blast underneath Noble's automobile left it a crumbled wreckage and scattered bits of the 42-year-old gambler's body over a wide area.

At least 11 times Noble had escaped death and this earned him the nickname "The Cat."

He blamed "hired killers" for the attempts and said there was an underworld price of $50,000 on his head.

There were few clues. Police sought three men in Fort Worth. One was once arrested for assault to murder Noble. He was never tried.

The blast that killed Noble was carefully planned. Wires ran from the hidden mine, through a concrete culvert, and to the thicket where the killer hid. The explosive was hidden in a spot that was directly under Noble's automobile when it stopped at the mail box.

It was at least the fourth attempt to kill Noble by explosion. The first, in 1949, killed his wife by mistake when she stepped on the starter of the family automobile. A bomb exploded.

2 Scientists Alive

PARIS, Aug. 8—(AP)—Headquarters of the French Polar expedition in Greenland said Tuesday night there apparently is no hope that the two men who fell into an ice crevice Sunday will be found alive.

Jens Jarl of Denmark and Alain Josel of France disappeared in the crevice when their "weasel" fell over the edge. The vehicle lodged at a depth of about 75 feet.

Other members of the expedition worked their way down as far as the vehicle and were preparing to continue to the bottom. Additional rescue equipment was parachuted to them Tuesday night.

Ottawa Misses Boat

City No. 1 Military Target Ignores Civil Defence Plan

OTTAWA, Aug. 8 (CP) — It became plain today that federal authorities, busy mapping broad civil defence plans for all Canada, have encountered one of their biggest headaches right on their own doorstep.

The root of it is the split personality that makes Ottawa both a city and a national capital whose government buildings take up much of the city's space and employ many of the city's people—and make the city a military target which some experts consider No. 1 in Canada.

The problem was underlined Tuesday when Health Minister Martin told a press conference that Ottawa is the only Canadian city of more than 50,000 persons which has not named a CD coordinator and announced that the government has decided to go ahead and appoint one of its own for federal buildings and employees here.

A few hours later he disclosed that the man is Lt.-Col. W. J. MacCallum, who will assume the new duties in addition to those he has as senior training officer of the federal CD staff for all Canada.

Once the city acts, Mr. Martin said, the federal plan for Ottawa will be integrated with and made subordinate to the city framework. Asked if the government is displeased with Ottawa, the minister said Ottawa is an Ontario city and thus the Ontario government must deal with it. It was not his place to express displeasure.

400 Million Bushel Wheat Crop Likely In Canada

OTTAWA, Aug. 8. (CP)—Grain authorities Tuesday painted a glowing picture of wheat possibilities on the Canadian prairies and said that signs point to a bumper crop this year. A bumper crop would place the total harvest at more than 387,000,000 bushels—the annual average during the last 10 years. Canada reaped 462,000,000 bushels last year, but preseasonal frost marred the quality. About one-half the crop was considered below par.

This year, said officials, the outlook is better and barring weather upsets, Canada may harvest more than 400,000,000 bushels. An official estimate is expected in about 10 days.

In addition, Canada enters the new crop year, which started Aug. 1, with a carry-over of farm and storage supplies unofficially estimated at about 175,000,000 bushels.

This is above last year's carry-over of 113,000,000 bushels, but the unusual feature is that most of the current carry-over is low grade, non-millable wheat suitable only for feed.

Other Comparisons

The 175,000,000 bushel carry-over would compare with such wartime carry-overs as 300,000,000 bushels in 1940, 480,000,000 in 1941, 424,000,000 in 1942 and 595,000,000 in 1943.

Usually, about 10,000,000 bushels is considered a safe carry-over margin to handle wheat requirements in the period between the beginning of the new crop year and when crops come off the fields about six weeks later.

Authorities said advance reports of high yields in some parts of Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba indicate that Canada, this year, should have sufficient supplies to meet domestic and export requirements.

Canada's quota under the multination International Wheat Agreement jumps to 233,000,000 bushels, up from last year's 221,000,000.

She needs, in addition, about 155,000,000 bushels for Canadian millers for seed and feed, and about another 100,000,000 bushels for carry-over into the new crop year, beginning Aug. 1 next.

That would bring her total needs to about 488,000,000 bushels. A crop of more than 400,000,000 bushels, plus a carry-over of 175,000,000, would bring total available supplies to at least 575,000,000.

4 Being Held In Gang Slaying

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 8—(AP)—Moving swiftly in an effort to solve the gangland slaying of mobsters Tony Brancato and Tony Trombino, police Tuesday night booked four men on suspicion of murder.

Chief of Police William J. Parker, promising a "big break" in the case, identified the suspects as James Fratianno, 37, of Encino, Calif., his brother Warren, 35; Sam London, 38, in front of whose Hollywood home the men were shot to death, and Sam Lazes, 36, Los Angeles.

Parker declined to say which, if any, of the four he considered to be the "trigger man" who fired at Trombino and Brancato from the rear seat of their automobile.

Parker said, however, that "one or all four had direct knowledge of the shootings and the criminal who perpetrated them.

Capt. James E. Hamilton, head of the police intelligence unit, told newspapermen that a witness saw the slayer and can identify him, but he declined to name the witness "for obvious reasons."

Six More Communists Arrested By FBI

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8 (AP)—The Federal Bureau of Investigation snared another batch of alleged American Communists Tuesday, promised more arrests, but said there would be "no hysteria, no mass raids, no roundup of thousands."

The latest roundup netted five more Communist leaders in New York, Baltimore and Cleveland. A sixth person, described by the FBI as a lawyer for the party, was arrested in Baltimore. All six were charged with plotting to advocate violent overthrow of the United States government.

Those arrested early today and Tuesday were: In Baltimore—George A. Meyers, 38, chairman and organizer in the party's district 4 (Baltimore) headquarters; Roy Wood, 36, Washington, DC, party chairman; and the lawyer, Maurice Louis Braverman, 35, of Baltimore.

In Cleveland — Regina Frankfeld, 41, of Cleveland, a former organizer in Baltimore.

In New York — Dorothy Rose Blumberg, 47, of Brooklyn, former treasurer of the party's 4th district, and Philip Frankfeld, 44, party organizer in Cleveland.

Dairy Farmers Get Pay Boost

TORONTO, Aug. 8 —(CP)—Farmers who supply the Toronto area with milk will get more money under an order signed Tuesday by the Ontario Milk Control Board.

At the same time, prospects of lower milk prices for the city faded when the board decided to leave prices at present levels.

The Board, over the objections of Mayor Hiran McCallum of Toronto, consumer representative, signed an order to give farmers an increase of 35 cents a hundredweight, from $4.20 to $4.55.

It also announced that for the present at least there will be no reduction to 19 cents a quart in the store price of milk. The cash and carry price will remain at 20 cents and the delivered price at 21 cents. It was suggested that any reduction would have to await economies in distribution such as restricted deliveries.

$1,000 In Guns Stolen At Port Hope

PORT HOPE, Aug. 8—Antique guns worth about $1,000 were stolen Tuesday night from Jacobs' Gun shop on a Port Hope side street.

The owner, Walter Jacobs, saw the guns missing from one of his showcases when he opened his shop this morning. He said some of the guns were irreplaceable. It is believed the thieves didn't know too much about antique guns, because two of the guns taken were of no great value while others much more valuable were left behind.

Mr. Jacobs lives in a house beside the cement block shop, but apparently heard nothing as the thieves broke a small window in the rear and climbed through.

In all, 21 revolvers and pistols were taken. Seventeen of them were collectors items.

Port Hope Police Chief Charles W. Graham and Constable Lyle Erskine of the provincial police are investigating.

Crowds File Past Red Hill's Casket

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., Aug. 8 (CP)—A 12-foot twin-hulled metal cylinder and a polished wooden casket drew curious crowds today. The latter contained the battered body of William (Red) Hill who died Sunday in trying to get over Niagara Falls. The cylinder was to have carried Leslie Sander, New York City interior decorator, in a similar stunt plunge.

However Sander may have to give up his yearning to lunge over the falls. Premier Leslie Frost took action Tuesday, giving Ontario Provincial Police authority to lay criminal charges against anyone attempting any more such stunts.

Meanwhile, hundreds of friends filed past Red Hill's casket and a local radio station has made preparations to broadcast his funeral service here Thursday. At the Rapids Tavern, Hill's headquarters for his trip, a box has been set up to receive donations for the purchase of a wreath for his funeral. Excess money will be donated to his mother to pay burial expenses.

Two Gamblers Plead Innocent

NEW YORK, Aug. 8.—(AP)—Big-time gamblers Joe Adonis and Frank Erickson pleaded innocent today to charges of contempt of the United States Senate. They are scheduled to go to trial next month.

They were accused of refusing to answer key questions at the televised Senate Crime Committee hearing in New York last March.

Judge Edward J. Dimock gave then until Sept. 10 to file pretrial motions. The trial date then will be set.

US Attorney Irving H. Saypol said he expected their trials and that of gambler Krank Costello, who previously pleaded innocent on a Senate contempt charge, would take place "before October."

Adonis presently is serving two to three years in Trenton, NJ, on charges of operating high-stake dice games in northern New Jersey.

Erickson, reputed chief of a $12,000,000-a-year bookmaking empire, is serving a two-year sentence on bookmaking charges.

between the United States and the Soviet Union expressing friendship between the two peoples.

Now Moscow can be expected to press its proposal for a five-power peace pact, and to interpret any rejection by the United States as turning down of the whole idea of friendship.

The Moscow proposal calls for a pact among Britain, France, the USSR, the United States and Communist China. For a long time the Soviet Union has been plumping for this as a means of lessening international tension. The United States does not recognize the Communist government of the Peoples Republic of China.

The press and radio of the USSR now have given almost the entire Soviet population of 200,000,0000 an opportunity to become acquainted with the exchange of messages—(1) President Truman's letter commending a Congressional resolution of friendship for the Soviet peoples and (2) the reply of Nikolai M. Shvernik, president of the Supreme Soviet, the USSR's legislature. The texts were broadcast and given wide display in the newspapers.

of "international re[illegible] were striving to "confuse peoples with lies and to deceive them."

Every newspaper in Moscow—even the Teachers' Gazette—gave over its whole second page to the full texts of the letter President Truman sent to Soviet President Nikolai Shvernik a month ago, the accompanying US Congressional "friendship resolution," along with Shvernik's reply two days ago proposing a five-power peace pact. The second page of Soviet papers is reserved for foreign news.

"International reaction, thirsting for new war, strives to use reactionary governments in order to confuse peoples with lies and deceive them," Izvestia commented in a separate editorial.

"They seek to present their aggressive policy as peaceful," said Izvestia, "and the peaceful policy of the USSR and other peace-loving countries as aggressive."

Publication of the exchange of messages followed broadcasts of their texts over Moscow radio Tuesday night. They were handled in much the same manner as were the critical comments by Britain's Foreign Secretary, Herbert Morrison, and Pravda's less than a week ago.

West Berlin Plans Hold Mammoth Rally

BERLIN, Aug. 8—(AP)—The west, in counter-offensive against the Communist "World Youth Peace Festival" meeting in East Berlin, announced today a rally dedicated to "Freedom for East Europe."

Sponsors of the rally, to be held Thursday night in West Berlin's biggest theatre, extended special invitations to the Iron Curtain youth at the Communist festival across the sector border.

Tens of thousands of these youths have been defying Red police road blockades and the threat of arrest, and have been visiting West Berlin. The Red festival opened Sunday.

West Berlin authorities reported that 177 had formally asked for asylum in the west. Of these, 23 have been tentatively accepted. The western policy is to turn them back unless they can prove it is dangerous for them to return home.

Egyptian Cabinet Surprised By Move

CAIRO, Egypt., Aug. 8. (Reuters)—Foreign Minister Salah El Din Pasha's recent statement that Egypt would abrogate the Anglo-Egyptian treaty "astounded Premier Nashas Pasha and surprised most of his cabinet colleagues," an Egyptian newspaper said today.

The July 28 statement conflicted with the cabinet's suggestion that his speech to the senate should merely include a mention that Egypt would reconsider her attitude towards Britain in the event of a war.

But the forceful statement had created a cabinet crisis, several papers said.

The pro-government Al Misri wrote: "Diplomatic observers are wondering whether Salah El Din has reached a secret agreement with the United States to fill the vacuum that might be caused by

Plan To Rotate Troops In Korea

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8 (AP)—Senator Joseph McCarthy (Rep. Wis.) said today he will name in a Senate speech Thursday 29 present or past state department employees who have come under loyalty investigations.

He said the list includes "some very high officials."

On a television program Tuesday night McCarthy said he would give out the names from his office this morning "if any one of the three major press services will... give me the assurance in writing ....they will make those names public without my having named them on the Senate floor."

The services declined. A spokesman for the Associated Press said: "The AP will make no commitment of any kind....the AP's responsibility is to report the news if and when it happens."

McCarthy said he had suspected no such assurances would be given. He said he recognizes the danger of libel suits if names were used without the privilege of Congressional immunity.

A member of Congress cannot be sued for anything he says on the floor of the Senate or House. Also newspapers are entirely free to report what is said there.

Frost Outlaws Leaps Over Niagara

TORONTO, Aug. 8 —(CP)—An attempt to go over Niagara Falls or through the river's rapids in future may be regarded as an attempt to commit suicide.

Premier Frost announced Tuesday instructions were being issued to the Welland County Crown Attorney to lay charges under the Criminal Code against any one who would attempt to ride the falls or rapids.

Although the Premier did not specify what the charges might be, two sections of the code were suggested as likely of application. The first is that covering an attempt to commit suicide.

The second, which carries stiff penalties, deals with the use of an instrument or apparatus likely to endanger human life. A barrel might be so regarded when it was to be used in a drop over the 165-foot falls.

Will Be Chargeable

In future, as well, any one who aids or abets another in an attempt to go over the falls will be chargeable.

To the Ontario Provincial Police the Premier issued instructions to use all powers available to them to stop anyone from making the attempt.

Mr. Frost pointed out that the Niagara is an international river and Ontario authorities have limited jurisdiction.

Stock Market Prices Moderately Weaker

TORONTO, Aug. 8 —(CP)—Stock market prices continued a moderately weaker trend today in early afternoon dealings.

Slow trading was relieved by spotty activity in a scattered list of base metals and western oils. Volume for the first three hours was 827,000 shares.

Foods were up and steels remained firm in the industrial section. Utilities, agricultures, liquors, refining oils and textiles were mixed. Constructions, banks, manufacturing companies, retail stores and miscellaneous industrials drifted a little lower.

Base metals continued weak. East Rim, Mackeno and Quebec Labridor eased in heavy trading. Ascot, Callinan, Flin Flon, Golden Manitou, International Nickel, Minda-Scotia and Steep Rock eased. United Asbestos, Yukeno and Ankeno climbed pennies as they traded extensively. Reeves and Sherritt-Gordon also edged ahead.

Western Oils showed a majority of losses.

In the mixed senior golds, McIntrye and Wright-Hargreaves climbed moderately while Giant Yellowknife eased. Secondary golds were irregular with penny changes.

Riel Rebellion Just Uprising PM Declares

OTTAWA, Aug. 8. (CP)—Prime Minister St. Laurent flew into Ottawa early today, completing a four-day tour of the west by plane and train.

Accompanied by Defence Minister Claxton, Mr. St. Laurent landed at Rockcliffe air station at 12:22 a.m. EDT, after a flight from North Battleford, Sask. He toured part of Battleford, the old capital of the North West Territories on Tuesday, and then went to North Battleford to open a fair.

Mr. Claxton joined him there after a visit to the army's big training centre at Wainwright, Alta.

The Prime Minister now will plunge into a busy round of duties, including completion of arrangements for the visit of Princess Elizabeth and Prince Philip to Canada in October.

During his western swing, made primarily to attend ceremonies celebrating the 60th anniversary of the arrival of the first Ukrainian immigrants in the west, he made a number of impromptu speeches and became an honorary chief of the Cree Indian tribe.

At historic Battleford Tuesday he said he intends to take official steps to have the halfbreed actions on the prairies late in the last century referred to as an uprising rather than a rebellion.

The halfbreds who were led by Louis Riel, said the prime minister, were not fighting against law and order but only seeking responsible government. They were fighting for what they believed to be right.

Earlier during visits to Two Hills and St. Paul, little communities northeast of Edmonton — the latter predominently French-Canadian — the prime minister spoke more of current things.

He said the west's NorthAtlantic defensive alliance is the cause of high taxes and inflation in Canada. But it is necessary to offset the disruptive effect of the veto, extensively used by Russia in the United Nations organization.

He told a Two Hills audience that Canada is a great co-operative where the government is not always pushing people around. In Canada there was room for "all of us and room for lots more."

Cold Shoulder Given Advice To Arm Chiang

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8 (AP)—A University of Washington professor testified Tuesday he received a cold shoulder from an aide to President Roosevelt after proposing that anti-Communist forces in China be given substantial military aid in 1943. He said the aide was Lauchlin Currie, White House adviser who was born at Dublin, NS.

Dr. George T. Taylor said he suggested that enough arms be sent to Chinese Nationalist forces to "shoot up the Communists." But, he told the Senate's internal security sub-committee, Currie broke off relations with him after that.

Taylor said that at that time he was with the office of war information in charge of the China section. Currie, he said, organized some meetings with various persons in the government connected with China matters and they held "somewhat desultory discussions" every two or three weeks.

Taylor said he had been a trustee of the Institute of Pacific Relations since 1946. The sub-committee has been investigating operations of the institute, whose officers say it is engaged in objective study of far eastern problems.

Asked if he had received complaints that the IPR was "Communist influenced or Communist-controlled," Taylor replied he had been told there were some Communists in the institute, that some thought it Communist-controlled and some thought it not.

100,000 Pounds Of Meat, Ping Pong Balls Accompany Magnificent To Mediterranean

HALIFAX, Aug. 7 (CP)—The aircraft carrier, Magnificent, left port Tuesday carrying supplies ranging from ping-pong balls to 100,000 pounds of meat.

Transport trucks and barges shuttled back and forth to her berth for almost a week before all the needs of the 1,100-man crew of Canada's only aircraft carrier were filled.

The Maggie is on a 2½-month cruise to the Mediterranean, where she will engage in exercises with ships of the British and United States Navies.

Outfitting the 18,000-ton carrier for such a cruise is by no means a last-minute spree. It takes weeks of ordering, checking and delivering before the galley cupboards are filled.

A must on the shopping list is 80,000 gallons of high octane gasoline. Loading the fuel is a day-long job.

Lubricants and spare propellers and other aircraft parts also are carried to service the Maggie's planes.

LONDON — (CP)—During the past year the United Kingdom's post office staff collected, sorted, transported and delivered about 8,450,000,000 letters and 243,000,000 parcels.

Resort Operator Fined $100

Tourist resort operator Walter Crowe of Harvey township was fined $100 and costs when he pleaded guilty in police court Tuesday to a charge of having liquor in his possession not acquired on his permit.

A second charge of bootlegging was dismissed when Crown Attorney John A. Bradshaw, KC, offered no evidence.

Mr. Bradshaw said the accused had always been a responsible citizen but that the quantity of liquor seized by provincial police was considerable.

Free Operator Of Killing

OTTAWA, Aug 8— (CP) — The RCMP disclosed Tuesday the hitherto unpublished story of a Transport Department wireless operator who was acquitted on a charge of shooting and killing a co-worker on lonely Resolution Island, 1,100 miles north of Montreal.

The slaying took place last December at a Transport Department weather station on the island at the entrance to Hudson Strait. The trial and eventual acquittal took place last month aboard a Transport Department vessel.

The man killed was Thomas Saunders of Pictou, N.S., cook at the weather station. The man charged with his murder was Harold Benedict Pollard, an operator, whose address is listed in Transport Department records as Gander, Nfld.

Details of the shooting are sketchy, but an RCMP spokesman said it occurred during a fight between the two men. The weapon was a .303 calibre rifle. Several other Transport Department workers were on the station at the time.

Pollard was tried aboard the C. D. Howe, July 5, and was acquitted by a six-man jury after 31 minutes of deliberation. The jury was drawn from persons aboard the vessel.

Saunders' body since has been taken to the Manitoba port of Churchill by the C. D. Howe and Pollard is returning to his home.

Firemen With Polio Victim

The season for the annual intrusion of poliomyelitis is at hand, and various places in southern Ontario have reported cases. Peterborough has had three. One man aged 25 died from the disease on Monday, Civic Holiday, while an ambulance was speeding him from the Peterborough hospital to Riverdale Isolation hospital in Toronto. The man was very ill when placed in the ambulance and an inhalator went with him, to give him oxygen en route. A series of mechanical mishaps delayed his arrival in Toronto, and even before reaching that city the patient was dead. Two Peterborough firemen attended the man in the ambulance, operating the inhalator and giving artificial respiration when the oxygen supply ran out. They did all that they could do. We ask this question: why did neither a doctor or a nurse accompany the very sick victim in the ambulance? Perhaps they could have done no more than the firemen. But surely the presence of a doctor or nurse, preferably both, would have been a consolation, if not an added safeguard? Is it the proper task of our city firemen to look after a desperately sick victim of polio in an ambulance transferring him from one hospital to another ninety miles away? Are we not placing unwarranted responsibility on their shoulders? Is it their duty, as laid down by the City Council?

On The Way To 200?

Beef is the chief culprit in pushing the cost of living index up to a new peak—187.6 as of July 1st. There was an almost unprecedented increase during the month of June of 3.5 points. Most of this was caused by food prices. Other elements which go into index calculations—rents, fuel, hospital care, clothing and so on—rose only very slightly or not at all. The principal factor in the food index, which rose 9.9 points in June to 249.7, was the high price of beef. This caused a sympathetic move upwards in all meat prices and also in the price of meat substitutes—eggs, for instance. Even vegetables felt the pressure.

Why did beef prices go so high? There were local conditions, but by far the most important were the price controls in the United States.

There the Office of Price Stabilization controlled the price which packing houses could pay for beef on the hoof, the price distributors could charge retailers, and the retail price itself. But it did not control the price at which carcasses could be bought from Canada, and the retailing of these carcasses. Thus Canadian beef went into the American market at high prices. This put the price up in Canada.

It is remarkable that price controls in the United States had this effect on Canadian prices. Last February Mr. Howe, Minister of Trade and Commerce, told the Commons that "We earnestly hope that our American neighbours will succeed in attaining a reasonable measure of stability, for only if this happens can we in Canada hope to avoid serious trouble." The American attempt to stabilize beef prices has caused trouble in this country. However, U.S. price controls are breaking down; the Defence Production Act which President Truman reluctantly signed last week indicates this. The new Act permits prices to rise. With the breakdown in price control of beef in the U.S. Canada and the United States will have to slaughter. This will put more beef into the market. (During June and July U.S. farmers boycotted slaughter-houses, because they would not sell their cattle at the controlled prices.)

Although beef was the principal cause of the large increase in the cost of living in Canada during June, a lower price will not automatically prevent further increases. The economy has already been inflated by June's food prices; other prices will rise to meet them. It may even be that before the end of the year an index of 200 will be reached. We are on the precipice of inflation. Something must be done except to hope.

Actually, something has been done, as we have pointed out already in these columns. The Government has tightened credit, increased interest rates, crimped capital spending and increased taxes. The anti-inflationary results of these are slow but cumulative. They may be effective and tide the Canadian economy over until the international situation and American prices are in better control than they are now. If this should happen before the end of the year—even if the index rises two or three times before then—no cumbersome system of direct price controls in Canada may be necessary. The auguries are not very good. A real breakdown in American controls, and even more rapid inflation across the border will force Canada to take further action than she has done. The Government may be impelled to try to do successfully what the United States has done unsuccessfully: begin a comprehensive system of price and wage controls.

Canadian Space For Air Training

One reason that Canada is a great school of aviation is that she has enough space free for training. The Commonwealth Air Training program of the last war was based on Canada as much because of her open spaces as because of her being the nearest Dominion to the chief area of battle; she was also sufficiently far away for the training to take place free of hostile interference. Again Canada is being considered as a great air training base; this time for the North Atlantic Treaty Organization countries.

Canada is not, however, as ideal a place for immense air force grooming as a map of her great open spaces would indicate. Most of the uninhabited land—in the prairies and the north—is winterbound. Airmen in training in the West spend as much time shovelling snow or waiting for blizzards to subside as they do in the air. On the prairies there is level, treeless land, virtually uninhabited, big enough and empty enough to take the fastest jet planes requiring long runs and the newest weapons with terrifying ranges and explosive power. But the climate is wrong.

Other N.A.T.O. countries have suitable climates but not enough space—Britain, Holland, France, for instance. Others have vast space—principally the United States—but that space is inhabited and farmed or industrialized. One of the most pressing problems of training for air defence is to find territory on which an airborne division and squadrons of planes with their new fire-power can manoeuvre. The United States in particular, with the most numerous squadrons and the largest fire-power, is now hard-pressed for training room. The interior of Australia, suitable in many ways, is remote. Canada still seems to be the West's best area for air training—despite her winters.

Although prairie airdromes and wartime training centres are again being opened, it is likely that in the new scheme of things most of the proving ground will have to be found near the two coasts. A village or two may have to be evacuated; some valleys and hills levelled, and some forests cut down. In coastal areas so made ready, year-round training can take place, with enough seasonal variety for experience in varying climates but enough temperance in the weather not to ground planes for weeks on end nor to occupy troops with keeping warm and clearing snow.

It is an anomaly that land-rich Canada should be puzzled to find space to train airborne divisions. The problem is, however, both real and urgent.

Civil Defence Direction

Sudbury is taking civil defence seriously. It is an example to other municipalities, although we wonder if Sudbury is not taking itself a little too seriously in relation to the possibility of enemy attack on it. Sudbury has wanted to appoint a full-time, salaried Civil Defence Director, but has been unable to find the money to pay his salary and at the same time meet other costs incidental to the organization of the defence of Sudbury. Perhaps this shows that Sudburians are talking louder than they mean. If they took the matter as seriously as their plans indicate they would be quite willing to pay for it. A solution has been found. A part-time Director has been proposed, at a salary of $2,400 a year. The rest of the $5,000 appropriation will be used for other expenses. The Sudbury Star remarks that a full-time director is still possible and the civil defence committee now has time to go back to the Sud... Defence in o... tary workers and ... has set up the organization, and we are not agitated by a need for a salaried director, full or part time, even though we pride ourselves on believing that Peterborough is just as important an enemy target as Sudbury. Perhaps more: what is Sudbury but a series of streets, shops and offices around holes in the ground?

SCHOOL TRAGEDY

Sturdy Baptists Built Woodstock College

(G.V.F. in The MONTREAL STAR)

THE tenacity of affection and tradition received a tribute almost startling in the publication the other day of a volume entitled "Woodstock College Memorial Book." To most Canadians, the name of Woodstock College became long since a dim memory. It closed its doors in 1926 which means that its youngest alumnus is now nearing, if he ha not reached, middle years.

✧ ✧ ✧

YET what is to be said of the strength of affection and tradition when we learn tha an Alumni Association came into being in 1947—21 years after the death of the school. A Memorial Committee was formed; the Committee raised funds to expand a sister institution, Moulton College, Toronto; to raise a memorial plaque at McMaster University, and to publish the memorial volume now to hand.

✧ ✧ ✧

HERE surely is a striking manifestation of the love and honour in which Woodstock College was held by its old boys. It is proved in many other ways as well. The volume, containing as complete a record as possible of the pupils who went to Woodstock to school, shows again and again that son followed father at the worn and beaten desks of the classrooms. "Honour thy father and thy mother that thy days may be long in the land the Lord thy God giveth ye." The sturdy old Baptists who built Woodstock College built character as well. Witness the comments of the late Rev. Andrew Joseph Vining who, when asked if the school should be closed, dipped his pen in flame for his reply.

THE history of the school, ably set forth by Charles A. McL. Vining of Montreal (a son, be it noted, of the man mentioned in the paragraph above) is a sad one. There was every reason for the founding of Woodstock College. There was none at all for its death, none, that is, which could not have been avoided if the men responsible had acted with foresight and wisdom.

But the reasoning which founded McMaster University—another Baptist institution—in Toronto ultimately brought ruin to Woodstock; and the fact that they erred is proved by the removal of McMaster in 1930 from Toronto to Hamilton. Had McMaster been built at Woodstock, had it indeed grown from what was really parent stock, Woodstock College, all would have been saved. Woodstock College would today be flourishing primus inter pares with such schools as Trinity College School, Ridley and St. Andrew's.

✧ ✧ ✧

MR. VINING'S analysis is devastating and, to our reader at least, unanswerable. There were various reasons. One was sectarianism. Woodstock College, known originally as the Canadian Literary Institute was founded by a Baptist minister, Robert Alexander Fyfe, in 1860. Fyfe had much to do with the founding of the University of Toronto, and his views were imaginative and broad.

"We ought to look upon ourselves as Canadians," he said at that time, "and earnestly inquire by what means we can advance the interest of the country.... Nor is Canada unsettled simply on the score of national preferences; there are contracted denominational views also. One cries I am a Baptist, or I am a Presbyterian, or a Congregationalist, or Methodist; and can see no good in any measure which does not directly benefit his particular sect; so wretchedly little are the views of men. Now the great provincial institution which my resolution contemplates would tend to remove both these evils. It would form a nucleus for a national feeling in Canada.... Further, the Episcopalian, coming in contact with the Presbyterian would find that a man may be a Presbyterian and not be a blockhead; or he may be a Congregationalist and not be a firebrand; or a Baptist, and not be a monster...."

The same ambitions moved him in the founding of the Canadian Literary Institute, and his successors as head of the school, by and large, were of the same stamp. Other views, however, prevailed; and besides them, there was muddling, and, besides muddling, there were policies which sacrificed the long view for what looked like an immediate advantage.

✧ ✧ ✧

MR. VINING'S history, which throws vivid light on the customs, controversies and education of the Onta..io of 70, 80 and 90 years ago, should be read by others who plan similar ventures in the future. Its penetration is equalled by its lucidity and simplicity of style, and the amount of work done both by himself and such colleagues on the Memorial Committee as J. C. MacLaurin and Gordon A. McEachern is obviously impressive.

✧ ✧ ✧

HERE will be found in brief form the stories of such men as Newton Wolverton, wagon-master and sharp-shooter in the U.S. civil war, later master and head of the school, and Joe Boyle, King of the Klondyke and Uncrowned King of Rumania. Here are sketches of many of the great Baptists of his test... doors; any school, forgotten or not, continues to live through generations affected by it."

The Memorial Volume is not for sale. It is available only to Memorial subscribers. Enquiries should be made to the secretary of the Memorial Committee, P. J. Harwood, 62 Balsam Avenue, Toronto.

"Look Homeward, Angel"

(Le Droit, Ottawa)

If the canal system (St. Lawrence) is truly an asset for our country, if it means for Canadians a better communication system by water and a considerable increase in electric energy, why does the country not concentrate its efforts upon it? For more than 10 years Canada has been at the top of the western nations in spending without counting for collective security, the triumph of peace and the defence of the victims of aggression. That is all very well, but if now it should spend its money on itself,—that would not be too much!

TURNABOUT

Danish Mystery Toy

(NEWS FROM COPENHAGEN)

A DANISH engineer's simple and ingenious toy for children has become a mystery for kings and statesmen. "What,"—they ask — "makes the tippe-top turn over?"

The tippe-top is a spherical top about the size of a small apple with a strong stem. It is set spinning with a snap of the fingers and begins to rotate with the stem pointing vertically into the air.

Then comes the mystery. The oscillations change so that the stem of the top describes larger and larger circles until, with a little jerk, the top turns upside down and continues to rotate balancing on its stem.

When Mr. Winston Churchill visited Copenhagen last year he was introduced to the tippe-top by the Danish atomic physicist, Prof. Niels Bohr during a dinner given by King Frederick. After the top had been spun three times the inevitable question came from Mr. Churchill: "How does it happen?" And the man who at one time in his brilliant career rescued atomic physics from the doldrums with his sensational theories replied: "I have tried to fathom it out but I cannot find the solution."

The solution of the tippe-top enigma has become a matter of conscience for the professor. When he was at a graduation ceremony at a Swedish university, attended by King Gustav Adolf of Sweden, Prof. Bohr had the puzzling toy in his pocket. It nearly spoiled the festivities when the professor produced it. Soon the assembled company were amazed to see a king, a cabinet minister and a Nobel prizewinner engrossed in playing with the top on the floor!

Prof. Bohr is determined to find the mathematical solution to the puzzle of the tippe-top.

If he succeeds he has promised to send a report to Mr. Churchill.

The Creator of "Nanook"

(WINNIPEG FREE PRESS)

MR. ROBERT FLAHERTY, who died the other day, may well be remembered as a rare genius of the documentary film. His imagination, refusing the safe mediocrity of conventional films, always was seeking new forms of expression. With his mastery of photography, he could put his ideas on the screen with a touch no one could match, though his imitators were many.

He will be remembered, among other films, for "Nanook of the North," his picture of Eskimo life; for "Moana," a picture of the South Seas; for the bleak grandeur of "Man of Aran," the story of how a handful of men struggled to shape their lives with dignity and hope against the unpredictable menace of the sea; and more recently for "Louisiana Story," with its tale of the oil industry against the background of a man's love for his young son and once again, as the antagonist, pitiless nature, this time in the form of swamp and reptile.

Lonely and dangerous places called to his heart and he spent his power trying to make what was incredibly remote or totally unknown as familiar as a grandfather's tale over the family fire. For it was the mark of his greatness to achieve the most complex effects by simple means, often using the natives as his players and almost always employing his technical gifts with a simplicity that resembled one of nature's own gestures.

Born in the United States, he came as a boy to Kenora and Port Arthur. But his real training was found neither in public school nor in Upper Canada College; in both places he is said to have left a smudge of vagrant behaviour. It is an abuse of language to talk of self-education since no other education is possible; but his mind was shaded, pre-eminently, by the discipline of the camera, the pageant of the changing seasons, and the brooding introspection of the creative imagination.

His discovery of Sabu to play the part of the "Elephant Boy" is well known. Less well known is his exploration of the Hudson Bay country in the far north. In 1914 he discovered the Belcher Islands, in Hudson Bay, and prepared detailed maps of these islands whose area covers 5,000 square miles. Nor did this achievement exhaust his knowledge of the north on which he was a recognized master. An original, impetuous, creative spirit has done its work among men and gone now to rest.

Letter To The Editor

MUST CONSOLIDATE ACCOUNTS

Sir: In a recent issue of your widely-read and highly regarded paper there appeared a rather sarcastic letter signed by a Mr. Matchett, who inferred that during a conversation with His Worship Mayor Swanston, he had been informed that revenue from the parking meters would be ultimately used to purchase parking lots and other suitable off-street accommodation, for motorists and the correspondent inferred this money was being used for other purposes and consequently questioned the veracity of the information he received from the mayor.

For the benefit of the afore-mentioned critic it might be pointed out that according to the Municipal Act, embodied in the Revised Statutes of the Province of Ontario, the taxation powers of all municipal bodies is strictly limited and the local and all other local governing bodies are empowered to levy annually only sufficient taxes to meet the needs of the current year, after deduction of all other revenues; no provision is made for and it is otherwise illegal for the City Council to set-up or open an account wherein parking meter or other revenues might be deposited.

These receipts and similar monies must be deposited in the consolidated account from which all disbursements are made for municipal purposes but of course a very concise record is maintained in the city treasurer's office and as opportunities occur to purchase properties for parking purposes the same will undoubtedly be made and the appropriate parking meter account credited with the necessary expenditure.

It is indeed unfortunate that this venerable but ill-informed gentleman should raise an issue, in the columns of your paper on a subject on which he knows not whereof he speaks, which might in some manner be falsely interpreted by innocent ratepayers and cast some reflection on our highly-esteemed City Council. In future we might suggest that he consult the city solicitor or other legal authority before making utterances, quite contrary to municipal statutes.

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

No man can serve two masters: for either he will hate the one, and love the other; or else he will hold to the one, and despise the other. Ye cannot serve God and mammon. (Matt. 6:24.)

✧ ✧ ✧

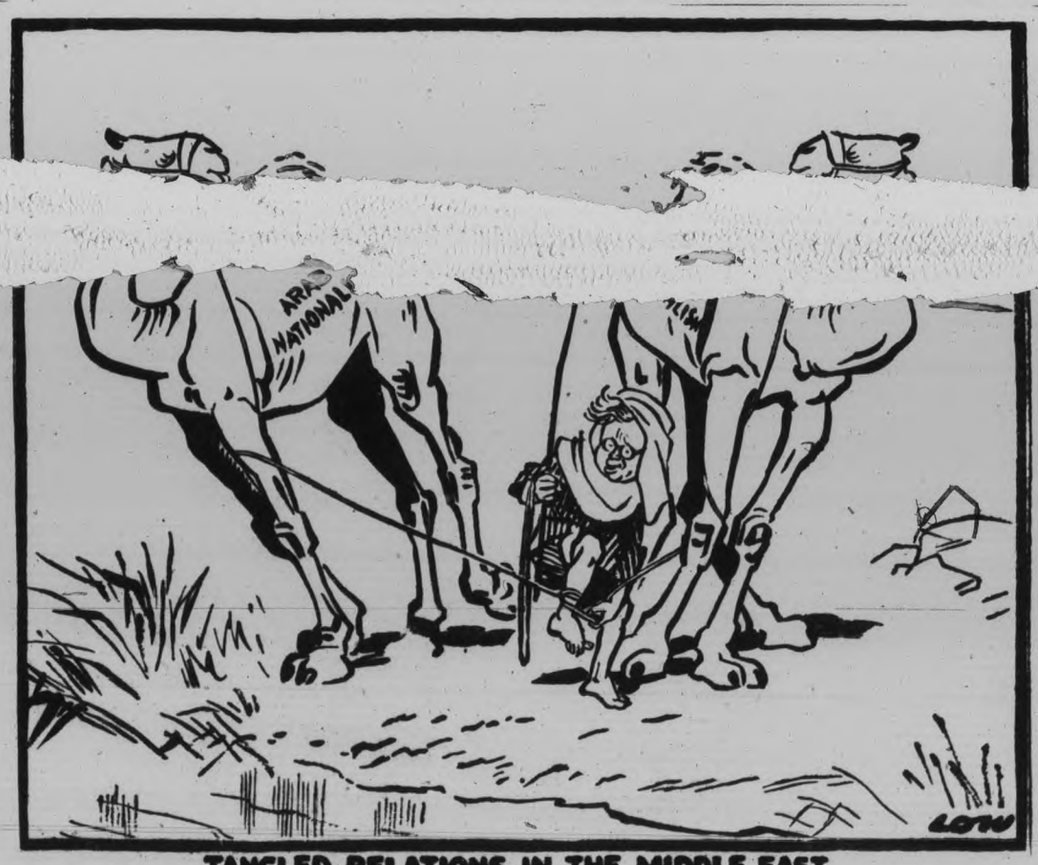
For they that are after the flesh do mind the things of the flesh; but they that are after the Spirit the things of the Spirit . . . .

So then they that are in the flesh cannot please God. But ye are not in the flesh, but in the Spirit, if so be that the Spirit of God dwell in you. Now if any man have not the Spirit of Christ, he is none of his. (Rom. 8:5,8,9.)

This I say then, Walk is the Spirit, and ye shall not fulfil the lust of the flesh. For the flesh lusteth against the Spirit, and the Spirit against the flesh: and these are contrary the one to the other: so that ye cannot do the things that ye would. (Gal. 5:16,17.)

✧ ✧ ✧

Teach me to do thy will; for thou are my God: thy spirit is good; lead me into the land of uprightness. Ps. 143:10.)



TANGLED RELATIONS IN THE MIDDLE EAST

Travelling Vienna Museum Shows Many Rare Treasures

By LESLIE WILSON

TORONTO—(CP)—The largest emerald in the world—big as a clenched fist—is at the Toronto Art Gallery this month.

It was hollowed out in the 17th century to make a perfume jar for a queen's dressing table.

In an upstairs room stands the cradle of the King of Rome—son of the Emperor Napoleon. Crusted with gold and inlaid with mother-of-pearl, it was presented to Napoleon on the birth of his son by the citizens of Paris.

The two items are part of a travelling collection of European art treasures loaned to the gallery by the Vienna-Austrian State Museum.

Worth $80 Million

Valued at $80,000,000, the collection consists of paintings, armor, tapestries and sculpture and work in gold, silver, ivory, bronze and precious stones. There are 131 paintings—many world-famous — mostly by Flemish, Italian and Spanish artists of the 16th and 17th centuries.

Sidney Key, curator of the gallery, says the $80,000,000 is merely an insurance estimate.

"Every item in the collection is unique and irreplaceable," he says. "One painting, 'The Artist In His Studio,' by the Dutch master Jan Vermeer, is valued at $2,000,000. But it can no more be replaced than can Westminster Abbey."

Work Of Centuries

The collection was assembled over a period of four centuries by members of the Hapsburg family who at one time ruled Europe from the Mediterranean to the Baltic and whose dominion extended to the East Indies and to America.

Parts of the portrait collection constitute a cross-section of the aristocracy of Europe for the last 400 years.

From the walls of the gallery, princes and kings, knights in gold-embossed armor, royal striplings in satin and brocade and here and there a gentleman unknown, stare haughtily to the visitor.

In one corner a life-size bust of King Philip II of Spain—cast in silver and painted in natural colors—frowns moodily across the centuries. King Philip launched the Spanish Armada against England.

The Italian painter Titian — counted with Michaelangelo one of the two greatest painters of the Renaissance—was a shrewd judge of character.

His portrait of Pope Paul III—the pope who sponsored the Jesuit Order at the time of the Protestant Reformation—shows an aging but able man, amply suited to guide the church through those troubled times.

To look at the paintings in the gallery is to recall famous names —Rubens, Valasquez, Van Dyck, Tintoretto and Rembrandt Van Rijn.

Under Heavy Guard

Armed guards patrol the corridors of the gallery and policemen wait outside. They keep a special eye on the star of the show.

Dynamite In Raindrops Unless Foliage Covers Land

By ROBERT E. GEIGER.

WASHINGTON (AP).—A navy engineer says raindrops pack the punch of an atomic bomb.

Drop by drop, he says, they are blasting North America into the seas.

W. D. Ellison says floods occur and farm land is damaged by rain because most soil conservation is aimed at preventing damage from running water, with dams, terraces and contour plowing.

Ellison says the emphasis should be placed on preventing rain from striking earth with full force.

Even in a gentle rain, he said, the millions of drops in one storm strike earth with the combined force of a bomb.

The remedy, according to Ellison, is a simple one. It is to keep the land covered heavily with grass, crops, brush, trees, even weeds.

He has close-up, slow-motion moving pictures showing how blades of plant life break rain's full force. Each drop is scattered into many tiny droplets. They trickle gently downward to the roots of plants and thence into the soil. Eventually they reach nature's great underground storage reservoirs and may be held there for us in a day of drought, Ellison says.

Like Giant Sponge

The navy engineer, who worked more than 20 years on soil conservation investigations for the United States Department of Agriculture, says that when land is covered with plants it is like a giant sponge that can absorb many storms.

But when it is denuded of vegetation, he says, land is like a great concrete cover. When rain strikes it rolls off, forms sheets of water rushing downhill into rivers that swell to flood crest.

But while flood damage to houses and bridges is spectacular, even more costly damage is done to the land itself, Ellison says—valuable humus and minerals are churned up into mud and float away, with the heavier parts, like sand, remaining behind.

Ellison acknowledges many soil conservation methods now in use, such as contour farming and terracing, are good as far as they go, but he says:

Prevent Gullies

"They are of little value as water savers in heavy rainstorms. About all they do is to prevent runoff water from carving gullies. The valuable, light parts of the soil float away with flood waters that roll on and on.

"The trouble with my theory, from the viewpoint of many conservationists, is that it involves nothing spectacular or dramatic, like the construction of great dams and contours—only a drop of rain and a blade of grass."

Ellison doesn't say that the farming methods he champions would have prevented all of the high water that has occurred in Missouri and other midwestern river basins this summer.

Need Fewer Dams

He believes dams and contour farming are necessary. But he says the dams wouldn't have to be so large or so numerous if more water was held back on the soil by vegetation.

He estimates that in the great plains country it takes from 2,000 to 3,000 pounds of grass on each acre to protect range lands from raindrop damage. A great deal of this land has less than 1,000 pounds of grass per acre today.

His experiments indicate that after land is covered with from 2,000 to 3,000 pounds of grass per acre it has reached almost maximum protection from rain.

Ellison believes the grass cover on pastures could be increased sufficiently if fewer livestock were allowed on them for a season or two, providing moisture conditions meanwhile were good.

On other lands, where crops are raised, Ellison says if more care were taken to keep the ground covered at all times of the year it would make a great difference in water run-off during storms.

If crops can't be kept on land at all times of the year he says the trash from previous crops, such as stubble from wheat and stalks from corn, should be left on the surface and not plowed under.

Bancroft Celebrates Civic With Day Of Sports Events

BANCROFT, Aug. 8 (ENS) — Civic holiday here was a full day when Bancroft Lions Club provided an entertainment program with morning, afternoon and evening sessions. There was everything from races at the swimming pool to a triple-header baseball and Softball game to a dance in the community hall, along with the Havelock Pipe Band and Peter, a professional clown from Toronto.

Miss Brenda Joyce, swimming instructor at the Lions playground on the York river, had a varied program of aquatic events that included water baseball, mounted wrestling, marine baseball, tug-of-wag by two swimming teams, under water swimming along with the regular races and dives. In the feature race, the open half-mile, Jack Watson outspurted Wayne Miller to win by three and a half strokes, with George Hough coming third.

The girls' quarter mile was won by Marlene Labarge, with Marilyn Hayton second and Betty Lou Ellerbeck third.

John Hawkins was the co-ordinator for the day, assisted by the members of the local Lions club. Helping Miss Joyce in the morning were Jack Follis at the microphone and Harold Watson acting as safety man. Judges were Ernie Thomas and Clarence Marston. In the afternoon the three ball games were handled by Ross Foster, Cecil McAlpine, and Neil Martin.

With their stirring marches and slow melodies, interspersed with lively renditions of the highland fling and Scottish reels, the Havelock Pipe Band stole the show every time they went into action. "The Campbells Are Coming," "The Road To The Isle" or any other regimental marches would bring throngs from the ball games and games of chance to the large platform back of the grandstand.

The three ball games provided quite a contrast. Maybe it was their new uniforms for the Bancroft girls went all out to win the curtain-raiser from Fort Stewart by a landslide score of 24 to 0. In the second game Coe Hill and Bancroft juveniles played with Co Hill winning by a score of 4 to 2. The third game finished with Barry's Bay ahead of Bancroft-Hermon in a 7-2 score.

A dance in the community hall completed the day.

WESTERLAND, Germany, Aug 7 (Reuters)—A man with a secret camera was mobbed here Tuesday night by 300 nude men and women who caught him filming a bevy of nude girls who were dancing and prancing to the hot tunes from his radio. The camera was hidden in the radio.

The man, unidentified, picked a spot on the beach which is set aside for officially - sanctioned nudism and turned up his portable set. He was surrounded with dancing maidens and then switched on the concealed camera.

One young sylph let out a scream and pointed to the set. Within minutes he was surrounded by nudes screaming for his blood and their male companions along the beach.

The male companions got there fast, took 800 feet of film from the hidden camera and expelled him from the paradise.

Rifle Range Found Safe Spot

By RON EVANS

LONG BRANCH, Ont., Aug. 8—(CP)—A rifle range where more than 25,000 rounds of ammunition are fired in a four-day period may not sound like a safe place but the chances of a fatal accident are slim.

In the 70 years the Ontario Rifle Association has been holding its annual matches at the ranges here there has been one fatal accident.

Every year some 200 marksmen from all parts of Canada travel to the ranges here on the shores of Lake Ontario. On arrival each competitor's rifle is examined for defects by two Canadian Army armourers. Worst accidents at the matches have amounted to bleeding noses suffered in rifle "blow-backs."

All shooting is done on four ranges running in length from 200 to 900 yards. The marksmen lie on a grass-covered mound known as the "butt" while another mound of earth backs the targets. The targets are operated by "markers" in trenches hidden from the butts. The marker lowers the target for inspection and raises a colored wooden disc to indicate the position of the hit to score-keepers behind the shooters.

When they have finished firing, shooters check their guns to make sure they are empty. In matches when a certain number of rounds are to be fired rapidly in a certain time the range officers check all rifles to make sure they are empty before the contestant leaves the range.

Labor Government Agrees To Doctors' Pay Arbitration

LONDON, Aug. 8 (Reuters).—The government gave way Tuesday night to an ultimatum by 20,000 family doctors who threatened mass resignations from the State Health Service, July 19.

They agreed to the physicians' demand that pay claims should go for arbitration by an independent third party.

The announcement was made by Health Minister Hilary Marquand and Hector McNeil, Secretary of State for Scotland, in a letter to the general medical services committee.

The letter also suggested that government and doctors should be represented on a working committee to revise distribution of general practitioners' incomes.

The ministers hoped a revised plan would help low-paid doctors and discourage other doctors from having too many patients on their lists.

Family doctors in the National Health Service received a fixed amount for each patient registered with them, whether he is ill or not.

Some general practitioners have complained they have to take so many patients on their lists to make a decent living that they are unable to give sufficient attention to any of them.

The doctors' committee has not yet replied to the government's offer.

Some Sport Views

By DON GRANT

Don Crowe's Timbermen were assured the Ontario Senior "A" lacrosse championship Monday night with that 16-9 win over St. Catharines Athletics. Yet not a word or cheer could be heard from either team or the fans. History in Peterborough's sporting circles was made and no one realized it.

No playoff is required by the Timbermen to win the championship; all they had to do was to place first, a semi-climax to plans made five years ago when lacrosse returned to Peterborough.

Only one team has a possible chance of tieing the Timbermen, Mimico Mountaineers with only six games left to play must win every one, while the Timbermen must lose their three remaining games.

✦ ✦ ✦

The playoffs which the Petes expect will begin about August 17 are for the Eastern Canada championship and the right to enter the Mann Cup finals. At present the Timbermen may be playing Brampton, Fergus or Toronto, only four points separating these teams. The Peterborough team's series will be best-of-five, the winner entering the Mann finals.

In the playoffs, the second and fifth teams meet and the third and fourth teams. The winners of these meet in the semi-final series.

✦ ✦ ✦

Peterborough may have the opportunity not only to make further lacrosse history for the district, by playing for the Mann Cup, but may have the chance to make Canadian lacrosse history for if they win out, they will be the first lacrosse team to fly west to take part in the Mann Cup finals at Vancouver.

Western teams have flown east to the Mann Cup games but the eastern teams have always taken the long train ride.

✦ ✦ ✦

In making the announcement Ontario secretary Chuck Rowen said that most of the clubs were in favor of flying west. He added that by flying this year the Ontario teams will have more time for playoffs. The Mann Cup games will not start until September 24.

A spokesman for the Timbermen said that the club "feels that's what they want to do this year." He added that the players remembered the long car trips during the schedule. With those behind them they wanted no long train ride west. Then why worry about expenses, the Canadian Lacrosse Association pays.

✦ ✦ ✦

But back to the Timbermen and the Ontario championship.

Monday night few spectators or club directors remembered a night in 1947 when the lacrosse players and supporters met in the YMCA to decide whether a lacrosse club could be formed. At the same time the decision was made to build the present Miller Bowl and a five-year plan devised to reach the Ontario championship and Mann Cup in 1951.

That season, fans will recall, saw the largest crowds ever packed into the wooden stands, approximately 4,500 for the final games with Fergus for the Ontario senior "B" championship. The happy mob finally paraded up George Street with the title.

In 1948 the opposition was poor and another championship in the senior "B" ranks came much easier than the first.

✦ ✦ ✦

The second major step in the five-year program was taken in 1949, the decision to enter the Senior "A." The team battled down to the final game that season and managed to squeeze into the playoffs. Hamilton Tigers ended the Petes' chances in the playoffs.

Last season the Petes with the fans still supporting the best of any on the circuit again were low in the standing and lost out to Owen Sound Crescents.

✦ ✦ ✦

This year the final step was taken, the accumulation of the finest lacrosse players in eastern Canada. Players like Ike Hildebrand, Moon Wootton and others strengthened the already bolstered 1950 club. The results are apparent in the league standing.

✦ ✦ ✦

But the final page in the program has yet to be written, the winning of the Mann Cup. Money and championship-hungry teams like Hamilton, Mimico and St. Catharines will be gunning for the Timbermen in the playoffs with their sights on the trip west.

Peterborough's H. Wipper Rated Second As Goal Scorer

By The Canadian Press.

Don McPhail of Mimico Mountaineers has a six-point lead in the scoring race of the Ontario Lacrosse Association Senior League, secretary Chuck Rowan said Tuesday night.

McPhail, rated top centre in the loop, has 38 goals and 44 assists for an 82-point total. Peterborough's Harry Wipper holds down second spot with 76 points earned with 56 goals and 20 assists. Wipper is top goal-getter but is low on assists.

In third place is Hamilton Tigers' Jack Dorney with 73 points while Al Garbutt of Brampton is fourth with 63.

Heading the penalty parade is Hamilton's Elmer Lee who has sat 61 minutes in the penalty box. Next to him for sit-outs is Toronto West Yorks Frank King with 55 minutes in penalties.

There was no scoring in the league Tuesday night as Brampton Excelsiors' meeting with West Yorks at Toronto was postponed by rain. Tonight Mimico's McPhail will get a chance to add to his lead as the Mounties play St. Catharines Athletics at Mimico.

Toronto West Yorks will make a bid for a play-off spot, tackling the league-leading Peterborough Petes in Toronto.

Marlene Stewart In 2nd Round

LAVAL - SUR - LE - LAC, Qce., Aug. 8 (CP)—Those among the 16 survivors who figure they can provide a tournament-shaking upset in the Canadian ladies' open golf championship had better get right down to business today.

So far no one has sucessfully essayed the role of Giant Killer. Time, opportunities and contestants are running short.

The six American girls entered came through Tuesday's first round with a great show of solidity at the expense of Canadian girls.

Marlene Stewart, the little 17-year-old ladies' close champion, won her match after a wobbly start and entered the second round along with nine other Canadians.

Mrs. J. C. Whitelaw, of Laval, had a tough assignment today, drawn against Grace Lenczyk, of Hartford, Conn.

The American girl, winner of the Canadian open in 1947 and 1948, won easily six and five over Mrs. J. McDougald, of Toronto. Mrs. Whitelaw breezed through to a one-up win over Mrs. M. M. Nadler, of Montreal Elm Ridge.

Mrs. J. B. Seawright, who won two and one over Mrs. N. J. Carlson, a fellow-Torontonian, was drawn against Mae Murray, of Rutland, Vt. Miss Murray was medalist in the qualifying round and a seven and five winner Tuesday over Cairine Wilson, of St. Andrews, NB.

Pt. Credit Cadet Match Winner

LONG BRANCH, Ont., Aug. 8 (CP)—A 17-year-old high school cadet was one of the winners in the second day of the Ontario Rifle Association's 70th annual matches here Tuesday.

CSM. D. P. D. Jacobson, of Port Credit, won the ORA silver medal when he placed first in the bankers match.

He was tied with Cpl. Wilson, of Kingston, at the end of the match. Each had five bulls eyes for a score of 50. The winner was decided in a shoot-off in which CSM. Jacobson scored 25 out of 25 to claim the medal.

Sgt. F. H. Wallace, of Toronto, won the silver medal for the president's match by default, when Lieut. James Boa of Toronto failed to appear for a shoot-off after a public reception in Toronto for his son, Bisley King's Medal winner Lieut. Gilmour Boa. Both Sgt. Wallace and Lieut. Boa had finished the match with perfect scores of 50.

Highlight of Tuesday's shooting was the Gibson match. The 216 entries took their places on the "butt"—a grass-covered mound of earth 300 yards from the targets—but instead of firing slowly and carefully as in other matches, each marksman ripped off 10 rounds in the allotted time of 45 seconds.

Lt.-Col. Steve Johnson, of Calgary, won the match with a score of 47 out of 50 with Sgt. R. S. Potter, of Hamilton, runner-up with 46.

Heath Would Like To Rejoin Hamilton

HAMILTON, Aug. 8 (CU). — Stan Heath, the quarterback who was released by Cleveland Browns a few days ago, has expressed interest in returning to Hamilton Tiger-Cats.

Heath played with Tiger-Cats of the Eastern Canada Big Four League last year. Before the start of the present season he accepted an offer to try out with the professional Browns.

Hamilton coach Carl Voyles said Tuesday night he would decide next week whether he wants Heath, a former US college player to come back.

"I told him I would let him know Monday," said Voyles. "By then I will know what the players I have now can do."

Four US imports are still trying for the quarterback job. They are Zeke Martin, Bernie Oustis, Al Tabor and Boots Erb.

Canadian Football No Gold Mine Jones Says But Tiger-Cats Charge He Muffed Chances

HAMILTON, Aug. 8 (CP).—The vice-president of Hamilton Tiger-Cats Tuesday night scoffed at complaints made by Edgar (Special Delivery) Jones about treatment he received when he played football in Canada last season.

Denny Whitaker was commenting on a report in The Pittsburgh Post Gazette quoting Jones as saying "Any idea that Canadian football is a gold mine for Yankee players is a lot of malarkey."

"They promise jobs as they did to me and then don't produce them. I'm afraid some of those American gridders going up there are going to be out of luck."

Whitaker said "we got him a good job with a starting salary of $75 a week. He couldn't hold it. Then we had an offer of another job for him but he didn't bother even to go for an interview."

Jones, who set a Big Four scoring record last season with the Big Four League club and who played baseball in the Western Ontario Intercounty League this summer, has returned to the United States to take up a coaching position with his old alma mater.

Macken Victory Hope

MONTREAL, Aug. 8 (CP). — Canada's hopes of an upset victory in a singles match against the United States in the North American zone final Davis Cup tie matches this week rest with Brendan Macken, a crafty customer on a tennis court.

That is the feeling among observers here as the Canadians and Americans continue to brush up on their strokes in practice sessions for the opening singles matches Friday.

The powerful American foursome, Dick Savitt, Art Larsen, Tony Trabert and Budge Patty said Tuesday they expect to make a clean sweep of the matches.

Macken himself remained noncommittal on his chances against the Americans.

"They're good, very good," said the 28-year-old veteran of seven cup teams, who is certain to draw a starting singles assignment for Canada.

LAWN BOWLING

By HERB MARTIN

The only report we have from any of our bowlers who were playing in tournaments during the weekend comes from Belleville. Our club was represented at the tournament with five men's rinks, and when we left the Belleville greens around 9:15 o'clock last evening it looked as if all of the five local rinks were out of the money.

Bill Jeffries won two, lost one; Bert Jeffries had won one, lost two; R. Downey had won one, lost two; E. Wall had won one and lost one; A. Mauder had lost two.

The main attraction on our own greens this week is the playing for the Review Printing Co. Trophy, Friday evening, seven o'clock. Men's trebles, choose your own rink. Three 10-end games, $4.50 per rink. Give your entry to Bert Jeffries, C. Mowry or B. Jones.

Tonight we continue with the regular schedule games.

All bowling games were postponed last night. The weather man was responsible.

Bowlers who intend to play in the open trebles tournament on Friday night are requested to be at the greens by 7:00 sharp o'clock.

There was a nice crowd out on Civic Holiday at our own games. It was an afternoon mixed rink tournament. The winning skips were: W. Jolly, F. Dearborn, W. Ashby, C. Jay, P. Bartley and C. Mowry.

Saturday night winning skips were: R. Payne, J. Detcher and C. Mowry.

Other weekend winners were: At Brighton, Saturday—2nd for three wins: Mrs. J. Cullen and J. Cullen. High, one winner, Mrs. C. B[illegible] Cullen.

Towed To Sea By Fish

TRURO, Mass., Aug. 8. — (AP) — The United States Coast Guard reported Tuesday the rescue of a fisherman who was towed to sea Monday night by a tuna he hooked. The tuna pulled Alfred Darmetko, his rubber life raft and outboard motor sea. Darmetko cut the line and lost the fish. Then his motor refused to start. Darmetko rowed shoreward all night. Later a Coast Guard plane sighted him.

Ex-Cleveland Pitcher Seeks Disability Pay

CLEVELAND, Aug. 8 (AP).—Don Black, former Cleveland Indian pitcher, has petitioned the Ohio Industrial Commission to require the Cleveland Baseball Corp. to pay him disability compensation, his lawyer said Tuesday night.

Black's baseball career ended Sept. 13, 1948, when he suffered a ruptured blood vessel at the back of his brain as he batted in a game against St. Louis Browns.

Lawyer Forrest Wilson said Black's claim was for partial disability, under which he could receive as much as $25 weekly.

Bill Veeck, then president of the Indians, promoted a benefit game with Boston, raising about $40,000 for the injured hurler.

The former pitcher is now employed in an industrial plant.

Storey Horse Captures Heat

STRATFORD, Aug. 8 (CP).—Joe Herbert, steady-gaited trotting colt from Bill Herbert's London Stable, captured the $3,500 three-year-old Supertest trot here Tuesday before close to 7,000 fans.

The Herbert Colt and Dr. Riddell, owned by Hon. Earl Rowe, topped the qualifying divisions. In the first heat of the main event Dr. Riddell beat Joe Herbert to the wire but was placed second for running in the stretch. In the second and deciding trip, Joe Herbert went to the front early and stayed there, despite a driving finish by the Rowe colt.

Aprilway, owned by M. Storey of Peterborough, won one heat and placed fifth in a second.

More than 50 horses entered the meet. The track was heavy and times were slow. The best mark was the 2:10 paced by Malcolm Hanover in the first heat of the free-for-all.

Three-year-old race — Purse $1,000; two mile heats:

Merrywood Twinkle (W. Eric McIlroy)	2	1

Head List For Baseball Post

By JOE REICHLER

NEW YORK, Aug. 8—(AP)—Four top-ranking generals head the list of 11 mystery candidates still under the club owners' consideration for the $75,000-per-year job as commissioner of baseball, The Associated Press learned today.

High on the list, although not necessarily available, are Generals Dwight D. Eisenhower, Douglas A. MacArthur, Maxwell D. Taylor and Hoyt S. Vandenberg.

Ford C. Frick, president of the National League, and Warner Giles, president of the Cincinnati Reds, are the only baseball men still on the pared-down list — from 40 to 11.

The other five are industrialists whose identities cannot now be divulged.

Among Eliminations

Business man James A. Farley and George Trautman, head of the minor leagues, rated among the "Big Five" in the fore of the speculation, were among the 29 eliminated at Tuesday's day-long meeting of the 16 big league executives here.

Chief Justice Fred M. Vinson and the chief of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, J. Edgar Hoover, "regretfully" declined to have their names placed for nomination.

Eisenhower is Supreme Commander of the North Atlantic forces in Europe. MacArthur recently commanded the United Nations armies in Korea. Taylor is Deputy Chief of Staff for operations and administration in Washington. Vandenberg is Air Force Chief of Staff.

One of the 11 may be named the new commissioner to succeed A. B. (Happy) Chandler when the owners meet again Aug. 21 in New York. Since Chandler's resignation July 15, baseball has been governed by the executive council.

BULLETIN

GOSHEN, NY — (AP) — The 26th running of the Hambletonian, scheduled for today, was postponed until tomorrow because of an all-night rain. Twenty-one thoroughbreds are entered.

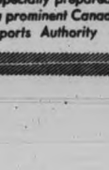
O'Keefe's CANADIAN SPORTS PARADE

FOR over two decades the modest backbone of the Argonaut Football Club has been a slim, iron-grey haired trainer named George Aspinal Stockwell. Riding the fortunes of the Double Blue through feast and famine, Stockwell has likely tended more football immortals than any man in Canada. An expert physiotherapist, George Stockwell, nevertheless, learned his training methods through actual, on-the-spot experience. Although he has specialized solely in football during the last fifteen years, he trained a varied collection of athletes in his earlier years. In 1924 George bandaged the celebrated Maitlands' lacrosse team with Lionel Conacher, Livingston and company; he trained sculler Johnny Coulson and the great Australian oarsman H. B. (Bobby) Pearce in their prime, and in the early thirties tended the aches and pains of the West Toronto Memorial Cup hockey winners.

The Best Argos



Having served the Argonaut teams almost consecutively from 1929 to the present time, George Stockwell took time out during World War II to serve with a field ambulance unit and was discharged with the rank of Regimental Sergeant-Major in 1945. That year, too, he read his name on the King's list, awarding him an M.B.E.

George Aspinal Stockwell has two favourite Argonaut teams which he elevates above all others. First, he chooses the great 1933 squad with Asked about the greatest American and Canadian Argo players to go through his hands, George picked two of the 1950 Americans as the best, respectively, on defense and offense . . . Buckets Hirsch and Uly Curtis. And, of the dozens of great Canadian players, Stockwell mentioned two as the outstanding exponents of the game . . . Art West and Teddy Morris.

"That Morris was a terrific team player," said Stockwell. "He never weighed more than 160 pounds at any time, but if he could find even a twelve-inch hole in the enemy line he'd be through like a miniature battering ram. And, in all the games Ted Morris played he never once bothered to come to my rubbing table although sometimes, after a game, he was so shaken up he could hardly find his street clothes in the dressing room!"

The Iron Mask

In 1933, George Stockwell worked with several Toronto doctors in perfecting a playing-mask to enable the great Argo kicker, Ab Box, to continue playing although Box had sustained a broken jaw against Montreal.

"Designing that mask was quite a task," stated Stockwell. "It had to be stationary during play. It had to be made in such a way that it didn't hinder vision or hearing and yet Ab's face had to be protected and supported. We made several before the famous Iron Mask emerged. We must have been successful for it helped Ab Box and was then loaned out to many teams in Canada and even found it [illegible] to the States

Argonaut training scene is young 17-year-old Bill Stockwell who was made assistant to his Dad this year. Originally, this plan had called for the appointment of Stockwell's eldest son, George Jr., but he was killed while serving with the RCAF over Singapore in 1943.

Now, with his son in tow, George Sr. presides over the 1951 Argonauts as the RSM in charge of training and injury, and the team abides by the stern rulings of this regimental gentleman.

While he turns over the parade to "Colonel" Frank Clair, Stockwell's unspoken command rings across the Dominion Champions' training field.

Cleveland Turns Back St. Louis Browns 5-1, Athletics Nip Bo-Sox 7-4

By RALPH RODEN, Associated Press Sports Writer

Cleveland Indians, favorites in many quarters to end the two-year reign of New York Yankees as American League champions, are nearing the make-or-break phase of the pennant race. Following their current brief home stand the Indians embark on a short trip and then return home Aug. 20 for an 18-game stay that is likely to decide their fate. The Indians, trailing the pace-setting New York Yankees by a half game today, must make hay on their long home stand. After that they take off on a 16-game swing, that takes in every other American League ball park.

Mike Garcia, husky righthander pitched the Indians to victory on Tuesday night as he turned back St. Louis Browns 5-1 on a four-hitter. The Yanks were idle.

In other American League games, the third-place Boston Red Sox bowed 7-4 to Philadelphia Athletics and Chicago White Sox nipped Detroit Tigers 2-1 in 13 innings. The Red Sox now trail by 4½ games and the White Sox by 6½.

Take Doubleheader

In the National League, Philadelphia Phillies took a twi-night doubleheader from Boston Braves 3-1 and 1-0 in 15 innings, Chicago Cubs downed Cincinnati Reds 4-1, and St. Louis Cardinals swamped Pittsburgh Pirates 16-7. New York Giants and Brooklyn Dodgers were rained out.

Garcia blanked the Browns on two scratch hits until the ninth when he lost his shutout. Garcia helped his own cause with a three-run homer in the sixth.

The A's came from behind to beat the Red Sox. They scored twice in the sixth on triples by Elmer Valo, Hank Majeski and a single by Wally Moses to take a 5-4 lead. The A's added single runs in the eighth and ninth to clinch it.

Rookie Jim Busby singled home Ed Robinson from second base with Chicago's winning run in the 13th at Detroit. Robinson homered for the other Chicago run in the second. Billy Pierce went all the way for Chicago to post his 11th victory.

Gets 15th Victory

Robin Roberts posted his 15th victory for the Phils in the opener against Boston. He allowed the Braves five hits. Dick Sisler singled home Richie Ashburn from second base with two out with the Phils' winning run in the 15th inning of the nightcap.

Bob Rush checked the Reds on four hits at Chicago. The Cubs tucked it away with three runs in the first inning off Willie Ramsdell. Hank Sauer featured the rally with a two-run homer.

The Cards pounded six Pirate pitchers for 21 hits with Peanuts Lowrey leading the attack with five safeties.

NOBILITY IN GOLF

A French countess and golf champion, Vicomtesse de Saint Sauveur of Paris, will play in the United States women's amateur tournament at St. Paul, Minn., Aug. 20-25, it was announced. The Countess won both the French and British championships last year.
